DEAR SIR,—I wish, in the interests of the public, to make the following facts somewhat widely known through your kindness: An industrious family, residing twenty-five miles from town, had house, bedding and clothing destroyed by fire last summer, in consequence, nearly half a dozen children, ranging in ages from four to thirteen years, were, despite the diligence of an affectionate mother, poorly prepared for the rigours of our winter. It was my privilege to report this case to Miss Clark, secretary of the Children's Aid Society of this town. In a surprisingly short time, a large box of warm bedding and fitting clothing was sent, much, I assure you, to the relief of the appreciative and thankful family referred to. I can only add that, if this response to a deserving appeal which came under my own cognizance, is, as I believe it is, a fair sample of the noble work of the Children's Aid Society, this institution is eminently deserving of the moral and tangible support of every philanthropist in the county.

Yours sincerely,
R. MACKNIGHT.

ELECTORS---STAND FOR STRATTON

SUNDAY VOTE SOLICITING.

The morning organ of Mr. Garvin affects to make light of Mr. Garvin's visit to Ennismore last Sunday, and gives a number of would-be humourous reasons accounting for his presence. But Mr. Garvin's Sunday campaigning is too serious a matter to be lightly laughed off. The thinking portion of the community, the reasoning portion of the electors, will place the proper estimate upon such campaign tactics. A candidate and party that have been making such loud boasts of sweeping everything before them, must feel at heart far less confident than they claim, when they feel compelled to work on Sundays in the cause of what they call pure and honest government. It will take a better defence than laughing off the serious offence of Sunday campaigning, to justify it to a Christian community.

EFFICIENT SERVICE SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED.

The electors of a riding send a representative to parliament to look after their interests and it is therefore natural that the best qualified man for the position should be selected and, where possible, preference should be given to a candidate who has effectively and willingly used his representative position for the benefit of the people; no good citizen will undervalue such services nor act in sympathy with those who do so to promote the success of an aspirant, who is a stranger to to the riding and its needs, and only ambitious to replace such a representative.

Attempts have and are being made to extract political capital out of the position Mr. Stratton occupied in relation to the difficulties that arose between the town of Peterborough and the township of North Monaghan in regard to the outfall sewer, and in the interests of fair play and justice it is necessary to place the matter in its proper light.

It is a well known fact that the town had let the contract for the sewer, and that work had progressed a considerable distance from the river to the town boundary when North Monaghan took decided action with a view of preventing the town of Peterborough from having an outfall for its system of sewerage through that township, which would have proved a most serious complication, aside from the expensive and vexatious litigation which threatened to ensue.

Under these circumstances it was plainly in the interest of the town to prevent, if possible, such expensive litigation, and to protect the rights of both parties to the misunderstanding. If on this occasion Mr. Stratton as representative had taken a different, or indifferent, attitude, and if the Government had not listened to the appeals made on behalf of the town by him the town itself would have been placed in a most difficult and embarrassing position. It was then demonstrated very clearly what benefit it was to the town to have a representative who had an interest in the town, and actively worked for its benefit, and who was a supporter of and had the good will of the government.

Mr. Stratton on that occasion did his full share towards saving the town thousands of dollars of loss in law costs and great expense in connection with the sewerage system, for the contract was let and if the town had been compelled to cancel the contract, additional law proceedings, with their great attendant expense, would have resulted, besides the risk of losing our sewerage system.

As remarked above the benefit of having a representative with the confidence of the government, was never before so practically demonstrated to the people of the town, and if the mayor and town council of that day, and also the town solicitor, will only express their candid opinion apart from other considerations, they cannot but say that the course pursued by Mr. Stratton in the matter was in the best interests of the town and township, and was largely instrumental in settling a question of dispute, that, unless settled, promised to be a source of endless litigation that would have cost the town thousands of dollars in law costs, besides involving the risk of destroying the prospects of a system of sewerage.

As the matter was settled the town has its out-fall through the township and the township has its remedy in the matter. Every elector in Peterborough has reason to thank the representative of the riding and the Government for the legislation that put an end to costly law proceedings, that would have placed at hostile variance the town and township that should exist side by side on the most friendly terms. It is to the last degree unfair that the position Mr. Stratton took on the occasion in question should be used, as it is being used, against him in the township, and tactics like that will only recoil on the heads of those who use them. Fair play and justice is all that he desires, and broad-minded citizens will be generous enough to recognize services that represent substantial benefits to the town and township.

WHY LABOUR MEN SHOULD SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT.

Because, affirms the Toronto Star, Ontario is in advance of all countries in promoting the interests of the working classes.

Because labouring men are in a better position in Ontario than in any other province.

Because the Liberals have made Ontario a pleasant spot to live in, with its free libraries and excellent public schools.

Because the Liberals have passed the Mechanics' Lien Act, Employers' Liability Act, the Factory Act, the Railway Accident Act, Creditors' Relief Act, Masters and Servants' Act, and many others.

Because the Government has regulated the closing of shops, and the hours of labour for children.

Because the Government has made possible the incorporation and registering of labour organizations and trades unions.

Bakers know the benefit of the Bake Shop Act.

Because union wages are paid by the government in all contracts.

The government insisted on the vestibule for the motorman, and in every way has protected the workingman where it could.

The government passed a law that the boards of police commissioners in cities shall pass bylaws for regulating the hours of labour of persons employed in livery or boarding stables, or as drivers of cabs, carriages or sleighs kept for hire within said cities, and may also pass bylaws for regulating the hours of labour of persons employed by the owners of horses, carts, trucks, omnibuses, and other vehicles kept for hire within said cities, and for licensing drivers of cabs within said cities.

Because the government has made possible an arbitration board to settle strikes.

Because the government has always listened attentively to all representations made to them by labouring men.

THE Review speaks of "Mr. Hardy and his gang," and of "Mr. Whitney and the able men associated with him." Hard words better no parsnips, and hard words bunco no ballots.

Every commercial traveller that comes to Peterborough, who is not prejudiced and take an independent view of the situation, says that Hon. Mr. Hardy will sweep the province of Ontario.

THE Review publishes an assorted lot of twenty reasons why the cause it champions should win, and in hardly one of them which involves a statement of fact, are the facts correctly given. But the electors are well informed these days and an appeal, to be effective, must not ignore palpable and commonly known truths.

THE Province of Ontario has received from the once-disputed territory the large sum of one million and a half of dollars. If the Conservatives had had their way, this territory would have been handed over to the Dominion, to be Rykerted for the benefit of the supporters of the Conservative party.

Mr. Andrew McNeil, speaking at Mr. Garvin's meeting at Young's Point, pathetically inquired, "are we to have slavery in Canada or are we to be free?" What does he mean? Everbody is free now and when some persons get so much rope, the suffering public sometimes wonder if we haven't rather too much freedom.

BY the Engledue agreement the Liberal Government has succeeded in having the mineral wealth of Newer Ontario tested to the amount of $120,000, without the cost of a single cent to the Province. The arrangement so far has not proved a very profitable one for the syndicate, but the experiment has been a wise one in the interests of the Province.

THE Review says that at Bridgenorth Mr. Gilchrist did not refer to the cost of inmates in the Penetanguishene Reformatory. The Review should not play upon words. What Mr. Gilchrist, as reported in the Review, did say was "that the cost of keeping boys had increased from $123 per year to $245 per year. The Review, as well as Mr. Gilchrist are both dishonest in this, that they make statements that, without explanation, are misleading. There is as much difference in the treatment of boys at the Reformatory in 1871 and the present time as there is between slavery and freedom. In 1871 the boys were hired out to hard task-masters and the money they earned went to defray the cost of their maintenance. Now the boys are educated and reformed—given trades and made useful members of society, so far as the efforts of the Government can avail.

BIG RALLY IN EAST PETERBOROUGH.

ROUSING MEETING AT WARSAW.

Mr. Thos. Blezard and Mr. J. R. Stratton Address the Electors of Dummer.

The town hall, Warsaw, was crowded to the doors last night with electors to listen to an address by Mr. Thos. Blezard on the political questions of the day.

Mr. Edwards, of Dummer, presided.

Mr. Blezard delivered a most forcible address, dealing with the Opposition platform generally and the fallacious arguments and misstatements advanced by Dr. Ford and Mr. Burnham. He also vigorously defended the policy of the Government and the course he, himself, had pursued since being a member of the Legislature.

In conclusion Mr. J. R. Stratton dealt convincingly with the political issues of the day and the meeting, which was a very enthusiastic one and sympathetic for the interests of Mr. Blezard, was brought to a close by cheers for the Queen, the candidate and the chairman.

Dummer will give Mr. Blezard one of its old time majorities.

In an interview with Mr. Blezard he stated that wherever he has gone out in the riding he has found the electors working for him with more apparent success than in any previous campaign, and he is confident that if his friends continue the good fight, his majority will astonish his opponents on March 1st.

He also states that many Conservatives are supporting him, as a policy of shreds and patches is not attractive to them.

THAT YOUNG'S POINT MEETING.

Not the Roseate Result the Review Report Reveals.

To judge from the reports of Mr. Garvin's meetings as published in the Review, one would think that the people were thirsting for the eloquence poured out by himself and his associate stump orators, and that the electors were merely waiting a chance to bow down in adoration. The EXAMINER has received a report from a Young's Point source, as reliable as a bank president, which puts quite a different view from the rosy report supplied the Review. The convincing eloquence which we were led to believe revolutionized the sentiments of the electors, consisted of petty fault finding and appeals to sympathy. An eloquent "forty-minute address" resolved itself into a song singing, yarn spinning appeal to the small boy element, while the wind up of the candidate was largely narrative and nonsense, with very little common sense discussion of the questions of the day. Evidently the last state of the man was worse than the first, that is, Mr. Garvin's second meeting at Young's Point was more disappointing than the first.

THE CAMPAIGN IN THE EAST.

The Meetings in the North Country.

Mr. Stone returned to-day from attending in Mr. Blezard's behalf a series of meetings held by Dr. Ford in Apsley, at the town hall, Caswell's school house, Chandos; Leeswade, in Anstruther, and at Healtain, in Burleigh. The meetings were well attended, but the evidence was quite apparent that the great mass of the electorate in those townships are in Mr. Blezard's favour, which will give him the hearty support they have given him in the past, and contribute largely to the big majority by which he will be returned on March 1st.

THE ONTARIO SURPLUS.

Misunderstandings in the public mind over the financial condition of Ontario are due largely to the confusion of two entirely different questions. A surplus is referred to sometimes as the balance of assets after deducting all debts, sometimes as savings, the balance of receipts over expenditures. The Sandfield Macdonald surplus was of the latter character largely. Nobody denies that he saved money for the Province. The question is, for what purposes? There could be only two: (1) To free the people of the Province from taxation; (2) to give the people certain services which they would otherwise have had to pay for, such as the maintenance of lunatics and other afflicted persons, the education of children, the building of railways and colonization roads, the administration of justice, the encouragement of agriculture. It would be doing a great injustice to the memory of Sandfield Macdonald to suppose that he had not these ends in view, that he was saving money merely out of the passion for hoarding. At all events these two objects have been carried out by his successors. They handled $3,500,000 to the municipalities, who expended the money for roads, bridges, schools, town halls, harbours, drainage, cemeteries, parks, etc. They aided railways to the extent of $8,414,787, of which $6,418,000 has been already paid. This was in pursuance of a policy which Sandfield Macdonald had approved of, but which he he retired too soon to carry into effect. The successors of Sandfield Macdonald have also done what we must presume he, as an intelligent man, would have done if he had remained in power, increased all those expenditures which represent direct returns of money to the people.

Education	$ 351,306	$ 719,816
Agriculture and arts	76,381	180,064
Hospital and charities	40,260	192,604
Public asylums, etc.	171,423	806,131
Administration of justice	104,049	427,886
Colonization roads	55,409	99,379
Total	$798,828	$2,425,980

Total increase under these heads, $1,627,122.

In the Conservative campaign document we are informed that Sandfield Macdonald in the year 1871 saved a little over $500,000. The increased expenditures on services going direct to the people represent more than three times that amount. The total expenditure under these heads at the rate of 1871 would have been $20,766,850. The actual expenditure has been $43,068,666, a difference of $22,301,816. It is safe to say that neither the present Government nor any other Government will seek to accumulate a surplus by diminishing the educational grants or by turning insane people at large. The business of the Administration is to maintain these services at a high standard of efficiency and at the same time to avoid taxation. That is the present policy, and that is the policy that will be continued, unless we should some day be saddled with a corrupt or extravagant Government. If there is a surplus in any year no better use can be made of it than to return it to the people. We may therefore dismiss from our minds the idea that any Government, representing any political party, has it in view to accumulate a surplus out of savings, such a surplus as the Conservatives say was left by Sandfield Macdonald.

The question which is of more immediate interest, is whether the Province has a surplus of assets over liabilities, and if so, what is the amount? Here it is very difficult, almost impossible, to make comparisons between the conditions of affairs now and in 1871, because under the Macdonald Administration the accounts between the Dominion and the Province, involving several millions of dollars, were not settled. The Treasurer in those days, by his own admission, simply guessed at the amount due from the Province to the Dominion. But he and his colleagues always claimed the trust funds as the property and assets of Ontario. A statute passed under the Sandfield Macdonald Administration in 1869 declares that the Upper Canada School fund and all moneys arising from investments thereof, the building fund, marriage licenses and all moneys appertaining thereto for the Common School fund and Common School lands, shall form part of the consolidated revenue fund of the Province of Ontario. The total amount of the trust funds then due from the Dominion to the Province was $2,699,407. It is claimed that these funds were not taken into account in his surplus. Why? Because his Treasurer supposed that they were about equal to the debt of the Province to the Dominion, and set off the one against the other. He claimed the trust funds as assets; but he underestimated the debt on the other side of the ledger by about one-half; and the excess, as has been pointed out, would have wiped out more than one-half of the supposed surplus of $3,800,000. Mr. Wood, the Treasurer in the Sandfield Macdonald Government, always treated these trust funds as assets. In his budget speech on December 10, 1869, Mr. Wood dealt with the subject of these funds and said:—"This may be looked upon as a permanent source of revenue, for if the Dominion does not choose to pay us the interest they must pay us the principal, and I think we shall be able to invest the money at 5 per cent." The last budget speech which the Hon. Mr. Wood delivered was on December 31, 1871, and in making up his statement he gives the cash in hand and investments at $3,095,000, and says:—"The special funds bearing interest which may be considered as surplus are as follows:—Upper Canada Grammar School Fund, Upper Canada Common School Fund, Hamilton debentures and arrears of interest, and some other items, making a total of $3,082,769, which made the amount of the surplus no less than $6,748,415." In counting the trust funds as assets he set the precedent which has been followed ever since. Where he was in error was in underestimating the debt due to the Dominion, which was then between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, enough to wipe out the whole of the assets which he claimed.

How was the debt incurred? At Confederation the Dominion assumed the debt of old Canada to the extent of $62,500,000. The excess over $62,500,000 was debt due from Ontario and Quebec, representing old Canada, to the Dominion. In 1873 the Dominion virtually wiped out this debt by assuming $10,000,000 more of the debt of old Canada. Then the Province became entitled to claim as a clear asset the funds held by the Dominion for its benefit. Mr. Crooks said in his budget of 1874: "The legislation of 1873 has relieved us from this annual burden for interest upon the debt, and these funds are now perfectly free from all incumbrances, and are just as free as if we held the amount in Dominion debentures." It will hardly be disputed in the light of this history that these funds, amounting to-day to $3,351,723, are assets of the Province of Ontario.

In 1893 there was a further adjustment of accounts between the Dominion and the Province, the net result of which was an award of $2,848,289 to Ontario, with a deduction of $2,000,000. It is not necessary to dwell on this part of the case. The Act ratifying the award declares that the sum named "should be deemed capital owing to the said Provinces respectively, bearing interest at 5 per cent." The Conservative Government at Ottawa credit the Province of Ontario with this sum of $2,248,289.53, and debit themselves with it as a liability. The $2,000,000 deducted from this is the debt which the Opposition declares to be due to the Dominion. The balance due to the Province is $848,289. The whole of the Dominion assets in the hands of the Dominion amount, therefore, to $4,200,018. The Dominion pays us interest on this sum at 5 per cent. It is therefore, not only an asset, but an exceptionally profitable asset. It is idle to ask whether we could collect the money from the Dominion. The Dominion has offered us the principal. It can borrow money at 2½ per cent., not much below par; it is quite clear, therefore, that it is not anxious to go on paying Ontario 5 per cent. It is fairly contended that the fund is worth at least $2,000,000 more to us than if we drew out the principal and invested it at current rates. We have therefore the following statement of assets:

Trust funds	$3,351,723
Balance of capital under act of 1894 and award of 1893	848,289
Cash and direct investments	598,290
	$5,158,307

Now, as to liabilities, there is an admitted sum of liabilities presently payable of $30,902. It is claimed that the present value of the annuities should be added, $2,787,604. The other claim, that $2,000,000 is due to the Dominion, is obviously wrong. The $2,000,000 is deducted from the $2,848,289, leaving the balance above stated. If, therefore, we allow the present value of the annuities as a liability, we have the following result:

Assets as per statement	$5,158,308
Deduct liabilities presently liable	36,962
	$5,121,346
Deduct annuities	2,787,604
	$2,333,742

To this ought to be added, in all fairness, $785,000 balances due on Crown Land, and the value of property on Queen and Yonge streets, and of the grounds on which the Parliament buildings stood. This would bring the surplus up to fully $3,300,000. But what the electors ought to bear in mind is that facts and authorities show conclusively that all the assets claimed by the Government are rightly claimed, that the only question is as to the charging of the present worth of the annuities, $2,787,604. The existence of a substantial surplus of assets over all possible liabilities is established beyond question.—Globe.

STRATTON STANDS FOR PETERBOROUGH.

Relations of a Representative to His Constituents.

EXTRACTS FROM A SPEECH OF LAST NOVEMBER.

Dealing With the Relations Between a Representative, Constituents and the Powers That Be—How the Public Interests Can be Subserved.

The following extract from a speech delivered in November last by Mr. J. R. Stratton, is doubtless pertinent to the present circumstances:

"Continuing, Mr. Stratton said that West Peterborough was represented in the Dominion, where a Liberal Government was in power, by a Conservative. The people were supreme and he had been their choice. But constituencies had other interests than the success of this or that party. The people had their own interests to look after and it seemed to him that it would not be disadvantageous to Peterborough, should some prominent Liberal, possessing the confidence of the people, be placed in the position of being able to exert an influence and make the wants and needs of this constituency effectively felt by the 'powers that be', and it would be no detriment to the interests concerned where circumstances might arise requiring the co-operation of the respective representative influences. After the Liberal Government came into power at Ottawa the interests of the constituency and the interests of Peterborough made it necessary that prominent and active local Liberals should act in a common spirit of patriotism in seeing that the interests of Peterborough had full consideration, and the speaker was bound to say that in the position he occupied as representing the constituency, he was in a more favourable position, as was also Hon. Mr. Cox, as Senator, to render important services to the town and county. In the past he had not been backward in advancing those interests to the best of his ability, and there was evidence to show that his efforts were appreciated.

It was well known and recognized that all governments gave more ready attention to a representative possessing the confidence of an important constituency than to the representations of, perhaps, a more personally important individual elector, and the public have a legitimate claim upon the services of a representative that they cannot enforce upon a private individual, who is justified in giving a preference to the demands of his own business.

While he (Mr. Stratton) had no doubt Mr. Hardy would be returned at the elections, and while some might differ from him in that opinion, he had no doubt that, whether himself or another was representative, it was desirable that the riding should be represented by a person who had the familiarity with public matters, the political experience, and withal, the inclination to advance the interests of the constituency, and of any projects that were substantially associated with those interests. No doubt there were many who realised all this, and were expressing themselves favourably to an election by acclamation, but there were of course others, whose personal interests and ambitions, irrespective of the best interests of the riding, led them to prefer an election. Whatever course would be pursued, if he (Mr. Stratton) should be chosen as a candidate, and were returned, with or without a contest, he was still prepared to pursue the same policy that had governed his course in the past, namely, that of working for and promoting with all his power the best interests of West Peterborough and of every individual elector, irrespective of party affiliation or regardless of whether an application for his services was represented by a political supporter or political opponent. (Applause.)

Thoroughly healthy girlhood means happy wifehood and capable motherhood. A new fangled prudery prevents many girls from learning things that they ought to know before they assume the duties of matrimony and maternity. Athletics alone will not make a young woman thoroughly healthy. The wise counsels of a good mother or some older woman are indispensable.

The best and noblest mission of a woman is to bear and rear healthy, intelligent children. In order to do this, she must be healthy and strong in a womanly way. Both the intellectual and physical future of her children depend largely upon the mother. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for maids, wives and mothers. It is intended to do but one thing and does that one thing thoroughly. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood and makes them strong, healthy, virile, vigorous and elastic. Taken during the time of preparation, it banishes the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well being of the mother and the robust health of the child. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and nerve builders. Thousands of women have told the story of its marvelous accomplishments. Good medicine dealers sell it and will not advise a substitute in place of it.

In a letter to Dr. Pierce, Mr. C. A. McDonald, of No. 123 N. Chestnut Street, Los Angeles, Cal., says: "At Junction City I became acquainted with W. C. Lee, M. D., an old practitioner. He said he was a college chum of yours, but that you went to Europe to the best hospitals, while he commenced practice; that for thirty years you were considered one of the leading physicians in New York State, and he considered your remedies better than all others, and prescribed them daily in his practice. On the strength of this commendation I tried your 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pellets.' The 'Favorite Prescription' has acted like magic in cases of irregular and painful monthly periods, a few doses only being necessary to restore the natural function. The 'Pellets' have proven an infallible cure for sick and bilious headache."

In paper covers, 21 one-cent stamps; for cloth binding, 50 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Street preaching in business hours has been prohibited in Toronto.

A friendly suit will take place to determine the meaning of a portion of Sir David Macpherson's will.

The snowfall of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week was in Ottawa 25 inches, Montreal 26 inches, Quebec 26 inches.

The new municipal buildings of Toronto are burdened with a lien filed by Pilkington Bros., an English firm, for the supply of glass to the value of $4,-728.16, and they are asking, in the event of the city refusing to pay that sum, that the buildings, completed or uncompleted, be sold to satisfy the lien. The glass supplied was rejected by Architect Lennox shortly after its arrival as not having been up to the standard called for by the specifications.

Hunters for San Jose Scale.

Hamilton, Feb. 24.—Government Inspector W. Orr was in town yesterday arranging for the expedition of his 50 hunters for the San Jose scale in the Niagara district. The force will be composed of experienced fruit growers, who will turn their magnifying glasses on orchards planted less than five years and on districts known to have been planted by infected nurseries of the United States. Asked as to the expense of the summer's investigation, Mr. Orr remarked: "I consider that we shall be well rid of the pest if it costs $50,000."

A NAME TO CONJURE BY.

Dodds Kidney Pills Cured T. Johnston of Diabetes.

Osborne, Feb. 14—Throughout the western peninsula of Ontario the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills is a name to conjure by. The people with the very best of reason have pinned their faith to this grand medicine, and it is used in every house.

The result of this is that kidney diseases, such as diabetes, Bright's disease, etc., are rapidly disappearing from this district.

Mr. Thomas Johnston, of Osborne, is the latest cure. He suffered all the agonies of diabetes for six years, his physicians failing to help him and all medicines failing to give him relief.

Finally he began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. His cure began at once. He has used four boxes, and is now strong, healthy and robust.

Robert Simpson Company Reorganized.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Since the death of the late Robert Simpson negotiations have been going on which culminated yesterday in the purchase of the business by a company composed of Messrs. H. H Fudger, the Yonge street wholesale merchant, president; J. W. Flavelle, manager of the William Davies Co.; A. E. Ames, broker, and A. R. Parsons and J. B. Campbell of the old Simpson Company. On completion of stock taking on March 1 the new company will take charge and the capital stock will be increased.

Occupation of Port Arthur.

London, Feb. 24.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: An Imperial decree having replaced the Taotai of Yenchau, dismissed on Germany's demand for the murder of missionaries, by the Taotai who was dismissed at Germany's instance in 1895 for the outrage on Bishop Anser, Germany now demands the immediate cancelling of the appointment. China will be compelled to accede in order to avoid giving Germany a pretext for the permanent occupation of Kiao-Chou.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The Nomination in Russell County—What May Be Done—North York Contest.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—A great deal of interest is manifested in the outcome of the case in Russell, where the returning officer endeavored to reach the place of nomination on snowshoes and was obliged to return.

The section of the Act which makes allowances for unforeseen delays and accidents gives the returning officer power to fix new dates for the nomination and polling. Section 36, sub-section 2, of the Election Act, however, provides for the emergency by holding that unforeseen delay shall not invalidate a nomination if the delay did not affect the result of the election. This "if," however, would appear to give an opportunity for the defeated candidate to claim that the delay and uncertainty did affect the result, and litigation might follow. However, the candidates for Russell and the returning officer will in all probability come to a mutually satisfactory understanding, and some seem to think that if they do the election can still be held on March 1.

The North York Contest.

Mr. Stillwell has withdrawn from the contest in North York, and the Provincial Secretary will be opposed only by the Conservative nominee, Mr. Wayling.

BUTTER AND CHEESE MAKERS.

The Opening of the First Annual Convention at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Feb. 24.—The first annual convention of the Ontario Butter and Cheese Makers' Association opened in the Town Hall yesterday afternoon, about 100 delegates being in attendance. The association was formed at the convention of the Western Dairymen's Association held recently in London and has for its objects the guarding of the makers' interests as well as to promote an educative influence amongst dairymen generally. By to-morrow it is expected that upwards of 300 delegates, from Western Ontario chiefly, will register, while already Quebec is represented by a couple of delegates.

At the afternoon's session President J. T. Henderson of Pine River delivered his opening address, dealing with the objects of the association and pointing out where the makers' interests could be best served. Mr. Andrew Pattullo, ex-M.P.P., and Mr. T. B. Miller, instructor in the Dairy School at Guelph, gave addresses, the latter dealing chiefly with the objects of the association. At the evening session Mayor Mackay gave an address of welcome, and Mr. A. F. MacLaren, M.P., of Stratford, spoke on "Practical Dairying."

THE RAILWAY RATE WAR.

No Retaliatory Measures Against the C.P.R. Yet Taken by the Grand Trunk.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—The Grand Trunk have not yet taken any retaliatory measures against the C.P.R., and the officials here state that the blow struck by their great rival has not done them much hurt. They point out the fact that the Canadian Pacific cut rates do not affect the Northern and Midland divisions of the Grand Trunk, and their Southern division between Windsor and Fort Erie is approached only at Windsor, Chatham and Simcoe, having traffic between intermediate points entirely in their hands. In the middle division, too, they say they still control the bulk of the traffic; they do not anticipate the cut will decrease their receipts and say that at this season passenger traffic is very light and the cut rates will invite but few of the home-staying community to board the trains.

GIRL BURNED TO DEATH.

Pullman Hotel at Canmore, B. C., Destroyed—Proprietor's Daughter Lost.

Canmore, B.C., Feb. 24.—At 11 o'clock last night fire broke out in the Pullman Hotel here. The Pullman Hotel, Holmes & Caret's stores, the Waverly Hotel and Alexander's dwelling and jewelery store were burned to the ground, and nothing whatever was saved from the Pullman. Forty inmates lost all their personal effects, barely escaping in their night clothing.

Clara Christensen, aged 10, daughter of the proprietor of the Pullman Hotel, was burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown. The estimated loss is $15,000; very little insurance.

Was He From Toronto?

Caledonia, Ont., Feb. 24.—Yesterday a young man about 21 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighing about 130 pounds, clean shaven, light hair, respectably dressed and slightly crippled in the left leg, causing him to use a crutch, attempted to board a moving train which pulled out of here at 12.40 this afternoon. He missed his hold and fell under the car, the wheels badly mangling his right leg. His wounds were dressed and arrangements made for his transfer to the hospital at Hamilton to night, but, while waiting for the train to pull out he expired from the shock and loss of blood. A companion with him said his name was James Richardson, and it is thought that his parents reside on Gratiot or Grassett street, in Toronto. Nothing in the way of identification was found on his person. He had one Canadian copper in his pocket. An inquest will be held.

Negotiations With France Are Friendly.

London, Feb. 24.—The Marquis of Salisbury, replying yesterday to a deputation from the Chambers of Commerce, regarding the French customs tariffs in West Africa, assured the deputation that the negotiations proceeding were of a perfectly friendly nature, adding that he did not see any reason why they should not be ended amicably.

Health is Better.

"I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and I was so tired that I could hardly walk. I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and procured four bottles. My health is now better than it has ever been since I was a child, and I have not been sick for a long time." Miss Jessie Turnbull, Cranbrook, Ont.

A CUSTOMS CHANGE.

An Important Regulation Just Issued to Give Uncle Sam Food for Thought.

An important change has been made in the Dominion customs regulations recently promulgated, requiring that goods purchased in Canada and destined for the Yukon must be carried in British bottoms, otherwise full duties will be charged at the frontier port. A number of companies, as, for instance, the Alaska Commercial Company, are purchasing supplies in Canada, and intend sending them to Dawson by way of St. Michael's and the Yukon River. It is altogether unlikely that there will be any British vessels plying on the long water-stretch between St. Michael's and Dawson for this year. It has therefore been considered unfair to purchasers of Canadian goods that they should be compelled to pay duty on supplies sent in by this route. An Order-in-Council has accordingly been passed, which provides that during the season of 1898 only goods for the Yukon district purchased in the Dominion, upon being properly certified, may enter the district free, even if carried in foreign bottoms, whether from a port in the United States or Canada.

Speculators Are on Deck.

According to William Ogilvie there are about 1,600 miles of water stretches in the far Northwest of Canada in which gold could be found in quantities sufficient to pay for dredging. Just now there is feverish anxiety to secure dredging leases from the Government. Applications for over 3,000 miles have been filed, and in many cases some rivers, notably the Stewart, are applied for ten times over. Few applications are of a bona fide character, most of the leases being secured for speculative purposes. Thus one gentleman, it is said, has a cinch on 400 miles, provided he can put up the first year's rent by March 1, and it is said most of these leases will be absolutely valueless.

CASH IN THE TILL

Owing to the very small margin of profit in the Tobacco trade, especially since the Duty was increased, we are compelled to adopt STRICTLY CASH Methods in future.

To continue to give Credit means doing business "blindfold" as others have done—incurring bad debts and losses,—instead of having a DEAD SURE THING and knowing just where we stand by the Cash in our Till.

Therefore, on and after MONDAY, FEB. 7th, SPOT CASH will be the invariable rule in this store. Tobacco manufacturers demand Cash for their goods, and as Cash is the Power in Buying we must make it the Power in selling, in order to keep business on the jump.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

QUICK WITTED PATSY

HOW HE SAVED THE DAY FOR HIMSELF AND HIS LAWYER.

Thoughtlessly Signed an Affidavit With a Name He Swore Was Not His Own—But He Won the Judge and His Point by His Explanation.

My first case came at Florence, Ala., a few months after I was licensed, writes Attorney B. M. Jackson. The sheriff there, Captain W. T. White, now dead, a gallant Confederate soldier and one of nature's noblemen, met me on the street and told me there was a man confined in the county jail who wished to see me.

I was then 21 years old, but would readily have passed for 17. The client's name was Patrick Donovan, but he was commonly called Patsy Donovan. Going to the jail, I found a man from 30 to 35 years old, an intelligent, nice looking, devil may care Irishman. When I entered, he greeted me with "Good evening, miss." Pretending not to have heard him address me as "miss" and assuming much dignity, I told him I was the lawyer whom the sheriff had promised to send him. For answer he exclaimed, "Well, I'll be d——d," and burst out laughing—laughing uproariously. I was irritated to a degree by this reception. "I beg pardon, judge, it's a go. You do look pretty young, but Tom (the sheriff) says you are a daisy. Get me out of here, and my folks, who've got plenty, will pay you well for your trouble."

He told me his story. He was a skilled mechanic from Keokuk, Ia., and had been employed by the government in constructing a lock on the Muscle Shoals canal, near Florence. He had shot the physician in charge of those works. This physician was a brother of the United States engineer in control of the canal construction, and it was evident that the prosecution would be bitter, sparing no pains or expense to secure a conviction, entailing a long penitentiary sentence. The doctor and my client were both men of reckless courage and overbearing temper, both sometimes looked on the wine when it was red, and both, I inferred, were striving for the favor of the same woman. A clash between them soon came. They had a savage quarrel at their boarding house at dinner. The doctor being armed and my client unarmed, the latter had to submit to unlimited abuse and would have been shot but for the interference of several men who were present. Soon after nightfall of the same day my client went to the doctor's office and sleeping room, about a mile distant and in a secluded place, and, knocking on the door, was bidden by the doctor to come in. Entering, he found the doctor putting on a shirt, and thus for the moment disabled, and, remarking, "You had the drop on me this morning, but I've got it on you now," fired, striking the doctor in the neck and inflicting a dangerous but not fatal wound.

The case soon came on for trial. While the defendant's version of the occurrence as he had given it to me was very different from the one in the foregoing, yet it was so improbable in itself and so inconsistent with the attendant circumstances that it looked as if a sentence of ten years was inevitable if the case was then tried. To gain a postponement an objection was interposed to the competency of the court on the ground that he was related by affinity to the prosecutor. This failed. Next an earnest effort was made for a continuance. The state fought this aggressively, thus giving warning of what was to come, and it, too, failed.

In sheer desperation I then whispered to my client, "Your real name is Patrick, not Patsy, isn't it?" The indictment named him Patsy Donevan. Then, moving to quash the indictment for the misnomer, I wrote out the defendant's affidavit in support. The affidavit stated that the defendant's name was Patrick and that he was commonly known and called by this name and not by the name of Patsy Donevan. He took the affidavit and read, or seemed to read, it carefully and, going to the clerk's desk, swore to it and signed it "Patsy Donevan." This, of course, was the way he usually signed his name, but he never reflected that to sign it Patsy this time was to afford the strongest evidence of the falsity of the affidavit.

Arguing the case without looking at the affidavit, I didn't see how he had signed it, but the state attorney had noticed the signature and in his reply called the court's attention to it. This disclosure raised a storm of laughter and jeering in the courtroom. I was confounded and at the end of my resources. Not so was Patsy. Realizing his peril, that the slip was his own and that he alone could retrieve it, he spoke out, not a whit abashed: "I signed it Patsy out of pure respect for your honor. It's not for me to give the lie to your honor's court papers. Your honor's court paper says I'm Patsy, and I'll sign it Patsy until your honor gives me leave to write my own true name."

The court sustained the motion from pure admiration for Patsy. We now had time to look about us. A few months later the case was tried, the jury failing to agree. The bail bond, which had been fixed at a high figure, was then reduced to a reasonable sum. He gave the bond, saying he had "lost by a nose," but he never returned to stand another trial, although his bondsmen were promptly reimbursed, and the writer was generously remembered, receiving, as I now remember, $300. I have often been curious to know what became of the game, rollicking, imperturbable Patsy.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Knew Him by the Color of His Eyes.

Colonel Ford generally judged of a man's military qualities by his eye. A young man who had graduated from Oberlin college, actuated by a spirit of adventure, drifted to Brownsville and found himself stranded. In the latter condition he walked to Colonel Ford's camp, about six miles south of the city, and, addressing himself to the commander, said:

"Colonel, I have nothing to do and want to join the rangers."

"I like the color of your eyes and will give you an opportunity to distinguish yourself," the colonel replied, after gazing intently into the eyes of the young man, which were steel gray.

The next day the young ranger was sent to Brownsville with dispatches. Returning he captured a noted Mexican desperado, who had slain several Americans and for a long time had eluded the rangers. The Oberlin boy brought the desperado to the colonel, who said:

"I don't care to see him."

"Come along," said the ranger, addressing his prisoner, whom he forced to go in front of him until they entered a small patch of chaparral, in which they disappeared. A moment later a shot was heard. It was the deathknell of the Mexican criminal. The classical young ranger returned to the colonel's camp and reported:

"Escaped."

"'Tis well," was the colonel's reply.

In those days, when the road to civilization had to be blazed with the six shooter or carved with the sword, the trial of desperadoes was deemed impracticable, unwise and without good results.—Dallas News.

Time Is Also Cruel.

Mrs. Biffkin was dissolved in tears.

"You have changed," she sobbed; "you have changed most cruelly. You love me no more. You no longer sit with your arm encircling my waist, as was your custom before we were married."

"Good heavens, Antoinette!" exclaimed Mr. Biffkin. "You should have married an india rubber man."

Alas! It was but too true. Mrs. Biffkin had also changed.—London Tit-Bits.

I spent $200 in doctoring but received very little benefit until I began using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Before I had finished the first box I gained flesh, appetite and sound sleep, and three boxes entirely cured me. I have had no kidney trouble since.

The Child at the Play.

The 6-year-old son of a newspaper man occasionally goes to the matinee with his mother, but the trouble with him is that he becomes greatly excited and is apt to express his feelings in words, to the amusement of the audience, but somewhat to the annoyance of the actors. At a recent play one of the actors was in the act of choking another whom he suspected of being guilty of a crime. As the actor went toward the supposed villain with his hands outstretched the boy became greatly excited, and as the men clinched the boy stood up and called out, "Say, let him alone, he didn't do it." There was a laugh from the audience and a surprised look from the stage.

At another time, in a play where a husband suspected his wife, and she was pleading to be taken home and given an opportunity to prove her innocence, the boy could not stand the woman's pleas and the husband's cold reception of her entreaties, and he called out, "Please, mister, take her back."

The boy has not been taken to the theater recently.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Ship Struck by a Sandstorm.

Plymouth, Feb. 24. — The steamer Roslyn Castle, from Table Bay, arrived here yesterday two days overdue. She reports that on Feb. 14 she encountered what seemed to be a fog, but which proved to be a sandstorm. The air was permeated with red sand, and for 900 miles the sun and stars were invisible. Observations were impossible until the ship reached Madeira and for the entire distance the vessel worked her way by dead reckoning.

Old Lady Burned in Her Home.

St. Thomas, Feb. 24.—By the burning of a house on the farm of Alex. Mitchell in Bay Township, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, mother of Alex. was burned to a crisp. Mrs. Mitchell lived in the house about 20 rods from her son's residence, and it was not known till the next morning that the fire had occurred. Mrs. Mitchell's charred remains were found in the ashes.

The dyspeptic carries a dreadful load on his back. It seems as if he were really made up of two men. One of them ambitious, brainy and energetic; the other sick, listless, peevish and without force. The weak man weighs the other one down. The dyspeptic may be able to do pretty good work one day, and the next day because of some little indiscretion in eating he may be able to do nothing at all. Most cases of dyspepsia start with constipation. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all human sickness. Some of the symptoms are sick and bilious headaches, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, windy belchings, heartburn, pain and distress after eating. All these are indicative of derangements of the liver stomach and bowels, and are all caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the quickest, easiest and most certain cure for this condition. They are not violent in action.

The Printers and the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. teams play at the rink to-morrow evening at seven o'clock.

The Juniors go to Lindsay on March 4th to play the Collegiate team of that town.

The Druggists and Hardware men played off their annual game last night, when the Pills won by 5 goals to 3 from their old-time opponents. The game was a simier from the time the referee's whistle blew till the finish. Everything went. No man was called down for offside or any other style of play which he chose to accept. This made the game fast from start to finish, as the boys were able to keep fresh through not having as much skating to do as would have been necessary if offsides had been called.

The teams were composed as follows:—

Pills		Putty
W Crossley	goal	H Higgins
F O'Connor	point	J Brown
D Davidson	cover point	Geo Dickson
J Gervais	forwards	Burnham
G Riley		Comstock
Thompson		H Dumble
W Alexander		A Stethem

Referee—Robb. Thorne.

A return match will be played for an oyster supper on Monday night.

The Druggists have now issued a challenge to the Printers, which the latter accept, leaving it to the druggists to arrange for the ice.

The Lakefield team comes down to-morrow afternoon to try conclusions with the Colts. The game will start at 4 30 p.m.

Dr. Brady says he is willing to wager an oyster supper for both teams that the Colts' team can defeat the Druggists. Maybe the Doctor would be willing to pit them against the Printers.

For three long and weary years the Osgoode team has been wandering in the O. H. A. wilderness searching for the championship which they lost to Queen's in 1894, and for three long years they hunted in vain. But there is nothing like perseverance, and and last night Osgoode got their eyes on champions, and, though Queen's tried hard to retain their hold on it, they had to relinquish their title to a swifter and better team.

"Why they were running all the time," said Guy Curtis, the veteran of veterans, after the game. "They were simply too fast for us."

That is the story in a nutshell. Queen's had to play four games in less than eight days, and even they, hard and rugged as they are, couldn't stand the strain. But even so, Osgoode played in such a fashion that the chances are that they would have won in any case. It was a great victory for the Carruthers family. Mr. James Carruthers fairly bubbled over with joy when the game was over. Both George and Edgar displayed sterling form and there wasn't a minute they weren't in it. Merrill is considered the equal of Randy McLennan in his palmiest days, but he was simply out-classed by Osgoode's cover-point. George ripped Queen's combination fairly up the seams, and it was seldom that they got away from him. Jack McMurrich didn't play his game in goal, letting two easy shots get past him.

Lorne Cosby was pressed into service at the last minute to take McLennan's place, having to be sent for at his home, delaying the start some time. He put up a fine article of hockey all the way. All the Osgoode forwards were lightning fast and their combination was better worked out than at any time this season. Johnson played like a little iron man on wheels, while "Peck" Morrison was in every mix-up. The latter put up the game of his life. Ed Carruthers' dashes were simply irresistible, and was well backed up by Lillie, who checked and shot in great style. Every forward stuck to their checks like glue, and frequently broke up Queen's combination. For Queen's, Carmichael in goal and Curtis at point were immense. The G. O. M. of hockey and football thinks that every man in the country has it in for him because he couldn't get away with any of his sallies down the ice. Curtis played his position as it should be played, and was always on the spot. Merrill, at cover, handled his stick finely and lifted well. Of the forwards Dalton was the best, while Adams, Harris and Newlands all showed good form. There was very little rough work and Referee L. King didn't have to send anybody off. There were about 1,200 people in the Caledonian rink, the largest crowd of the season, and they were wildly enthusiastic. The teams

Osgoode—McMurrich, goal; Cosby, point; Geo Carruthers, cover point; Johnson, Morrison, Lillie and E Carruthers, forwards.

Queen's—Carmichael, goal; Curtis, point; Merrill, cover point; Adams, Newlands, Harris and Dalton, forwards.

Osgoode started with a rush, and Adams got away when Curtis cleared, but G Carruthers stopped him, passed to E Carruthers, who handed it to Morrison, the latter scoring in 30 seconds.

The second was longer, and there was much lifting by the defence players. G. Carruthers blocked several hot shots and then Johnson got away, passed to Lillie, who drew the puck from behind the goal and put it back again in 3 55.

The third was the longest game, Queen's being on the defensive most of the time. From a scramble Adams scored for Queen's in 11.55.

The next was lightning fast. Morrison passed to E Carruthers, who tilted the puck to Lillie, and he scored in six seconds.

This was the last score of the half, the remainder of the time producing play of the see-saw order. Dalton broke his skate and L. Crosby was dropped to even up. Once Osgoode scored, but Umpire Lexis Martin didn't see it.

In the second half the hockey was much faster. Osgoode missed three or four chances in the first few minutes. Queen's scared McMurrich several times, Johnson got in a run after eight minutes play and shot. Carmichael cleared, but Morrison was on the spot and scored.

Queen's then got two in quick succession. Newlands and Harris doing the scoring. Both were easy shots.

After that it was nearly all Osgoode, three games being added to their tally before time was called, Edgar Carruthers getting one and Johnston two. How the points were scored:—

First half—1, Osgoode, Morrison, .39; 2, Osgoode, Lillie, 3.55; 3, Queen's, Adams, 11.55; 4, Osgoode, Lillie, 6.

Second half—5, Osgoode, Morrison, 8.07; 7, Queen's, Newlands, 6.50; 7, Queen's, Harris, 3.00; 7, Osgoode, E. Carruther's, .49; 8, Osgoode, Johnston, 7.53; 10, Osgoode, Johnston, 6.17.

OLD ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Historically It Is Among the Most Interesting Churches In the Country.

Historically and in the relics of the past which it contains few if any churches in America are more interesting than old St. John's at Portsmouth, N. H. The founding of the parish dates from 1638, but the present edifice is modern. It was built in 1806, and the good man who preached the dedication sermon described it as a work of stupendous magnitude. It is not, however, the building which attracts us, but its belongings. Here we see the old prayer book, with the prayer for the president pasted over that for the king; the "Vinegar" Bible, of which only 40 copies were printed, and but five of which are in the United States. The bell which calls the parish to prayers is a capture from Louisburg, and, although twice recast, once by Paul Revere, since its voice was heard in its foreign home, it is yet the same old bell. An arm-chair, which stands behind the altar rail was a gift from Queen Caroline, but is now known as the Washington chair, having been occupied by the first president of the United States when he attended service in the old church.

Admiral Farragut was buried from St. John's, and the reading table is made of wood from his flagship. A strange bit of treasure trove is the heavy porphyry font taken from an old church in Portsmouth and captured by the English from the French off the coast of Africa. Every Sunday 12 loaves of bread are placed upon this font and distributed to 12 old women, in accordance with the terms of one Theodore Eccleston's last will and testament, and because of a gift by will the church is still heated by wood fires.—Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph.

THE EDMONTON ROUTE.

Its Claims Advocated by Board of Trade Delegates—The Premier Says Exploration Will Be Made

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The advantages of an overland route to the Yukon from some point in the Northwest Territories, preferably from Edmonton, was strongly pressed upon the Government yesterday by representatives of the Toronto, Winnipeg, Ottawa and Montreal Boards of Trade. The Ministers present were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Dobell and Mr. Sifton, and the deputation included Elias Rogers and Edward Wills, Toronto Board of Trade; D. W. Bole, Mayor Andrews, C. N. Bell of Winnipeg; C. Ross, John Coates, G. F. Henderson and P. Whelan of Ottawa and others. There were also present a large contingent of members of Parliament.

Addresses were delivered by several members of the deputation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said this important subject had already been engaging the attention of the Government. He was not disclosing any Government secret in saying that for some time their mind had been made up to have an exploration of all the proposed routes made this summer, to ascertain the most feasible one. With 1,500 miles of practically unknown country, all would agree that it was essential to have some knowledge of the country and its resources before putting in a road or a trail. One objection to the route was the possibility of lack of fodder, but if this was obtainable the problem would be largely solved. There should be no antagonism between the overland and water routes. The Government was strongly alive to the advisability, if not necessity, of having a route from the interior to the Yukon. There was no antagonism between this and the Stikine route, which was a matter of immediate urgency, and the shortest on Canadian soil, but at the same time the Government recognized its great advantages. One reason which would induce them to open an inland route was that a good farming section would be opened up, in which disappointed gold-seekers would settle, and another reason was the strong probability of another Klondike in the Rocky Mountains, or along the northern rivers being discovered. All the Government could say at present was that the best way to proceed was to make an exploration of the routes, and if the means of the country permitted a trail or wagon road, they would then be built.

Death of Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry, M.P for West Prince, P.E. I., died here yesterday morning. The flag is flying at half-mast on the Parliament buildings in respect to his memory. Mr. Perry came here two or three weeks before Parliament opened and was taken sick and has gradually grown weaker since then. The remains will be conveyed to Prince Edward Island for interment. He was in his 75th year, and was one of the old Liberal guard.

A TALK ON TEA, YES, EVERYBODY READ IT.

A lady from a village near Peterborough called on us last week and said that she wanted to get some of that fine tea that she had seen advertised in the "DAILY EXAMINER" and sold at the People's Prize Tea Store, 328 George street. After critically examining the tea she made a purchase of a quantity and promised to send her friends to buy from us, as she said our tea was clean, beautiful and bright—no dust, no mixing or doctoring—the grades are the very best. Another lady in town says that her mother will not have tea from any other store than ours. She buys the very best Ceylon Tea which cannot be excelled in strength and purity. Another gentleman says what on earth do you do with the large quantity of teas that I see at your establishment. Some of the large chests of Ceylons must be valuable and come up to money; yes, they do but the people soon buy them up. You have a large stock of Canned Goods which would be a credit to any store in town; yes we have, and we are selling 3 for 25c. A prominent party in town offered to take the lot and give us a cheque for the amount, but we promised to give the working people the benefit of this bargain and we are doing it. We have a fine assorted stock of choice Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Spices, Canned Goods, Butter, Lard, and our own raising of Pickled, Smoked, Salted Hams and Bacon, completely eclipsing anything on the market. We do not destroy the meat with salt or saltpetre, but cure them on the very best methods which are a secret to ourselves. Our own home made Pickles at 10c per bottle, our own Jams, Jellies—pure articles and at prices to suit all. Come to the best, get the best and save your money by buying at the PEOPLE'S GROCERY, 328 George Street.

THE MAINE REPORTS.

The U. S. Court of Inquiry Says "External Explosion."

THE SPANISH SAYS "INTERNAL."

Delivery of the Report and Its Consideration by the U. S. President and Cabinet—War Preparations Continue—How Spain Regards the American Report—A Serious Situation.

Washington, March 26.—The Court of Inquiry appointed to investigate the cause of the Maine disaster has reported that the loss of the battleship was due to an outside explosion. The State Department, by direction of the President, has cabled United States Minister Woodford at Madrid to notify the Spanish Government of this conclusion.

The President and his Cabinet advisers held two extended sessions yesterday, one at 10.30 a.m., and another at 3.30 p.m., at which the report was considered in detail. Members of the Cabinet stated after the meeting that the discussion was of a grave character, and that never since the wrecking of the Maine has the situation seemed so critical.

The Spanish Government has cabled officially to Washington that the Spanish naval commission holds the disaster to the Maine to be of internal origin. The Government of Spain, it can be stated positively, is not disposed to turn back the torpedo flotilla now proceeding from the Canaries, and would be disinclined to consider a suggestion from this Government tending to interfere with the disposition by Spain of her own forces. War preparations on an extended scale are being hurried to completion by the War and Navy Departments, and the country practically is on a war footing.

Delivery of the Report.

Viewed in detail, the finding of the Court of Inquiry was the most vital feature. Commander Marix, Judge Advocate of the Court of Inquiry, delivered the report to Secretary Long early yesterday morning, and shortly after it was carried to the White House and placed in the hands of the President. At 10.30 the Cabinet assembled, half an hour earlier than usual, and began the consideration of the momentous document. The results of the court, briefly stated, are that the loss of the Maine was due to an explosion from the outside, the court being unable to fix the responsibility for the explosion. The court does not express an opinion as to the character of the explosion, but the testimony goes to show that it was a powerful submarine mine, the exact character of which is not determined by the testimony, though the belief was expressed that it was a floating submarine mine.

There were two explosions, the court finds, the first was from the outside and that set off one of the smaller magazines. It was this result expressed in detail and with the precision of a court deeply conscious of its responsibility, together with the evidence on which it was based, that occupied the attention of the Cabinet throughout its extended sessions of the morning and afternoon.

The Navy Department gave out the following list of vessels as showing the exact character of each fleet as it stands to-day:

"The following vessels compose the North Atlantic squadron: New York, Iowa, Indiana, Massachusetts, Fern, Puritan, Terror, Marblehead, Montgomery, Delaware, Castine, Nashville, Helena, Wilmington, Vesuvius, torpedo boats Foote, Dupont, Ericson, Cushing, Porter, Winslow, tugs Leyden and Samoset.

"The following vessels compose the flying squadron: The Brooklyn, Massachusetts, Texas, Minneapolis and Columbus."

Orders were issued yesterday to have all the warships painted black, a color that is better adapted to hostilities, because the vessels will not afford as good a target.

The Navy Department was informed by cablegram from London that agents of the Government had purchased a torpedo boat that had been constructed for the German Government. The new acquisition is now ready for sea.

General Doyle Receives Orders.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 26.—General Peter C. Doyle of this city, commanding the Fourth Brigade, New York State National Guard, received orders late yesterday afternoon from Adjutant-General Tillinghast, Albany, to hold the officers of his brigade within call, and to allow none to absent themselves. The Fourth Brigade comprises the 65th and 74th Regiments of Buffalo, and separate companies at Niagara Falls, Oswego, Rochester, Syracuse and other cities. All of these companies have been wired similar instructions. The receipt of these orders has created intense excitement in this city.

THE SPANISH REPORT.

Has Been Handed to the Government at Madrid—Waiting for the U. S.

Madrid, March 26.—The Spanish Government have received their official report on the Maine disaster.

The Correspondencia says the Spanish Government will request that both reports be sent to the Governments at the same time.

Another Cabinet meeting was hastily summoned yesterday afternoon, presumably to consider the grave situation.

The report of the Spanish Board of Inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine says emphatically that the explosion was of internal origin.

What Spanish People Think.

London, March 26.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

The tenor of the comments of the Spanish press is that the American commission of inquiry into the Maine disaster is afraid of an international investigation.

The general belief in Madrid is that America does not consider the Maine question a sound basis for conflict and is seeking to provoke Spain by sending help, nominally to the reconcentrados, but really to the rebels. The Spanish press is unanimous in treating as an insult America's suspicion that Spain is guilty of having exploded the Maine.

El Imparcial says: The United States are brutally forcing Spain into a conflict. To send the Maine report to Congress is equivalent to throwing a torch into a barrel of gunpowder.

THE TOWN STREETS.

Their Condition and the Improvements Suggested This Year.

At the meeting of the Street and Bridge last night the matter of the agreement with the Grand Trunk concerning the new footbridge at Auburn came up. It was decided to pay the $150 which the company asked to cover the expense for the next fifteen years.

Mr. James English brought in a sample basket of twigs with caterpillar egg nests on them. He stated that he had burned three bushels in the morning. The police had examined them and found all the twigs had "bracelets" on.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for tenders for street watering.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman asked that the Dalhousie street bridge be repaired as soon as possible, and Street Inspector Rasney was instructed to attend the matter.

Mr. John Carnegie invited the members of the council to inspect a system of fire-protection which was being put in at the Auburn Mills. He thought the company should be allowed some compensation, as the protection should be attended to by the town. If it was thought advisable to protect the residents at Auburn the company would furnish the water free if the corporation would put in the pipes and hydrants. The council will inspect the system on Monday.

The town engineer will be instructed to draw the attention of Kennedy & Wade, sewer contractors, to the condition in which they have left Stewart street. If it is not repaired the corporation will do the work and charge it to the firm. The Gas Company will be notified to remove some old pipes from the corner of Stewart and Townsend streets, on account of the disagreeable odour emanating from them.

The mayor stated that $4,748 was all that was left of the Street and Bridge Committee's appropriation. The Street Inspector was instructed to have men scrape George street from the C. P. R. station to McDonel street, Water street from Charlotte to McDonel street, Charlotte and Simcoe street from Aylmer to Water street and have Hunter street rolled at a cost of $300.

Mayor Davis inquired as to the committee's intention regarding the permanent pavement on George street.

Councillor Best stated that the cost could not be defrayed out of the current expenditure account, unless a two thirds vote of the council was received in support of it. Quite an argument ensued as to the correctness of this statement and Councillor Best offered to back his opinion with money.

The mayor thought that debentures might be issued for the raising of money to rebuild the bridges which needed to be renewed and money could be raised at the same time for the paving.

Specifications will be prepared for the paving of a portion of George street and tenders will be asked for the paving of one and three blocks.

MISS RUDKIN'S MILLINERY.

Great Expectations Realised — The Styles for Spring Well Represented.

The millinery parlours of Miss Rudkins are enjoying a larger amount of praise from the ladies this season than ever. The enterprising proprietress has every reason to be satisfied not only with the report of the jury of ladies, but also with the numerous substantial orders placed so early in the season.

The store is vocal with springtime novelties, which have been witnessed by scores of welcome visitors from both town and county during the three festal days of the opening. Miss Rudkins was ably assisted this year by Miss Home, the new head of the department, who enjoys the benefit of a valuable city experience with Messrs. Simpson & Co., of Toronto. The decorations around the showrooms were evidence of the excellent taste displayed. Greater skill than usual was shown in the arrangement of the tables and show cases and exclamations of sheer delight at the smartly trimmed headgear, the banks of blooming flowers and the pretty silk and ribbon effects, were heard on every hand.

The trimmed hats and bonnets in this advance spring display embraced faithful ideas of the latest styles for the season. An exquisite showing of sailors, walking hats, turbans, etc., caught the fancy, in which the popular colours were cleverly interwoven. New, bright and varied flowers, ribbons, tips, ospreys and plumes are present in bewildering quantity. White Leghorn picture hats were quickly picked up, and the numerous sales effected during the last three days was the best compliment to the establishment. Music was blended with the attractions of the show rooms—Miss Butler presiding at a handsome cabinet grand, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. G. W. Mulligan.

Klondyke Mission Funds.

The Klondyke mission funds of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches are meeting with encouraging responses. The Presbyterian fund has reached $5,868, and the Methodist $1,700, of which $100 was received in one sum yesterday from an anonymous giver.—Toronto Globe.

The White Mouse.

The many who were delighted with the "Man in the Iron Mask" will be pleased to know that wherever Mr. Donald Robertson and Miss Brandon Douglas have appeared, the notices of their comedy, "The White Mouse," have been even more complimentary than those of the delightful romance, "The Man in the Iron Mask." "The White Mouse" is an adaptation of a successful French comedy. It abounds in mirth provoking situations, and the dialogue is bright and breezy throughout. There is not a dry moment from the rise till the fall of the curtain. Mr. Robertson and Miss Douglas are both fitted with fine parts. The theatre-going public will do well to see Wednesday evening's play. Seats are now on sale.

Spring Humors

During the colder season impure humors accumulate in the blood.

The surface of the body being chilled, the pores are closed and clogged, and impurities which might pass off in perspiration are forced back into the blood. Besides this, winter's hearty food, fats and sweets, contribute more impurities.

This briefly explains the existence of Spring Humors—those unsightly eruptions, painful boils, annoying pimples and other affections, which make the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla absolutely necessary at this season.

But with some people, impurities in the blood cause very different symptoms. The kidneys, liver and bowels are overmatched in their efforts to relieve the clogged system. Dizzy headaches, bilious attacks, failure of appetite, coated tongue, lame back, indigestion or that tired feeling are some of the results.

From the same cause may also come scrofula, neuralgia sciatica or rheumatism.

All these troubles and more may properly be called "Spring Humors," and just as there is one cause, a cure is found in just one remedy, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the impure blood.
Hood's Sarsaparilla enriches that which is weak and thin.
Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes that which lacks vitality.
Hood's Sarsaparilla leads in Merit, Sales and Cures.

CHEEK.

We don't object to the Opposition, either in the House or Senate holding their opinions and trying to give them effect in regard to the Government's policy in regard to reaching the Klondyke and endeavouring to secure to Canada the advantage of such conditions; but we decidedly object to the Yankee lobbyist plying his iniquitous trade at the Dominion Capital; and the objection is all the stronger when the Conservative Opposition welcomes the Yankee lobbyist, and as an ally joins hands with him in attempting to defeat a measure calculated to give Canada the benefit of the existence of gold in immense paying quantities in the Klondyke region, and instead devote them to the benefit of the United States. A Mr. Livernash—who, by the way, is an instance of the possibility of their being more "gall" than liver—is playing into the hands of the Opposition at a great rate, and the Opposition journals of the baser sort record in scare lines the way in which he and his "crowd" are carrying dismay and confusion into the Government ranks and facilitating the movers of turning over the Yukon gold fields to the United States. Mr. Livernash is circulating a book containing his peculiar designs among the members. In this, of course, he condemns the Yukon railway scheme simply because he wants the entry to the Klondyke to be through American territory. He wants the Yukon river improved and a railway, of course built with Canadian capital, alongside the Yukon to be used when that stream is closed to navigation. Mr. Livernash, the Yankee lobbyist, demands on behalf of the Yankee miners who have grabbed up the mining lands in the Klondyke that Mackenzie and Mann shall not get any land grants to help build a railway. Then the Yankee lobbyist demands that Canada shall not collect royalty on gold mined from her own soil and generously gives the pointer that a per capita tax of $15 or $20 would be about the right thing. Under this modest poll tax plan a miner going out of the Klondyke with $200,000 worth of gold would be taxed $15 or $20, while under a royalty the Government would realize as many thousand.

Now all this is nonsense, and we don't think it necessary to get excited over it. Bus what is seriously to be objected to is the fact of the pestilent foreign lobbyist being at Ottawa at all, and to the fact that the Opposition extend him so many courtesies. It is all right for Canadians to lobby all they like; this is their country. But for a citizen of a narrow gauge country, which will not allow a Canadian to own a placer mine without foreswearing his country, to ply his iniquitous traffic at the Dominion Capital, argues a cheek like the face of nature. This is a free country, but we can't allow foreigners to be "too fresh." And the Yankee lobbyist working wires to swindle this country and to debase and corrupt the people's representatives, is drawing it rather strong. He should be run out. He has no locus standi. Make him scarce.

THE NEW FRANCHISE BILL.

The Provincial Franchises are the basis of the amended Dominion Franchise Bill now before the House of Commons, therefore a summary of the franchise qualifications in the several provinces will be of interest:

British Columbia—Manhood suffrage; Indians and Chinese have no votes.

Manitoba—Manhood suffrage; Indians have no votes.

Ontario—Manhood suffrage; enfranchised voters can vote on the same conditions as other voters; unenfranchised Indians, not residing on an Indian reserve, or among Indians, can vote on a property qualification.

Quebec—Owners or occupants of real estate, value in cities at $300, or $200 in other municipalities, or which yields a value of $30 a year. Tenants paying an annual rental of at least $30 in a city, and $20 in any other municipal division. Also teachers under the control of school commisioners or trustees; rentiers or retired farmers with a rental of at least $100 yearly; farmers' sons, working on their parents farms, if divided equally between them as co-proprietors; sons of owners of real property, residing with parents, on same conditions as last; fishermen, owners or occupants of real property or boats, fishing gear, or of shares in a ship of actual value of at least $150.

New Brunswick—Persons assessed for the year on real estate to the value of $100, or on personal and real property together to the amount of $400, whether residents or not. Priests, or other Christian ministers, or school teachers, or professors in colleges.

Nova Scotia—Persons assessed on real property, valued at $150, or personal, or on personal or real together, valued at $300. Persons exempted from taxation, who are in possession of the property just stated. Tenants, yearly, of similar property. Sons of foregoing persons, or of widows, in possession of enough property to qualify as stated above, and actually residing on such property. Persons having an annual income of $250. Fishermen, with fishing gear, boats and real estate, assessed at an actual value of $150, provided that such property is within the county where the vote is given.

Prince Edward Island—Manhood Suffrage to all intents and purposes.

It will be seen that the franchise is very low in all the provinces, and there is little doubt that manhood suffrage will soon prevail where it has not already been adopted.

THE Toronto World points out that the weakness of the American Navy is in the matter of men to man ships, and after detailing alleged reasons for this state of things, remarks: "A much simpler explanation is, however, available. Seamen cannot be obtained because the supply is not what it should be. With the decay of the American marine the American sailor has been gradually becoming well-nigh extinct." Exactly; and the reason for this decay of the merchant marine of the United States is the system of high protection which the World so persistently advocates in season and out of season. Free Trade England has an unlimited supply of mariners to draw upon, for she always has tens of thousands of seamen in training in her merchant marine, whose sails "whiten every sea," whose masts forest every port in the world.

SOUTH PERTH ELECTION.

Appeal in the Recount Will Be Heard To-day—The Ballots in Dispute.

Toronto, March 26.—The appeal in the South Perth election recount will be heard by Mr. Justice Maclennan at 10 o'clock this morning. The recount before Judge Barron gave the seat to Mr. Monteith, the Conservative candidate, by a majority of 10.

Twenty ballots are in dispute. Of these 12 arise from misprints. There were three candidates: George Frame (Independent), N. Monteith (Conservative), W. C. Moscrip (Liberal), and their names appeared on the ballot in that order. In the misprinted ballot Mr. Monteith's name was shoved up into Mr. Frame's compartment, or onto the dividing line. In the disputed ballot, the cross is close up to Monteith's name, and Judge Barron held these ballots good for Monteith.

The other ballots are for the most part such as have come up in the other appeals. Mr. Wallace Nesbitt will appear for Mr. Monteith and Mr. Idington of Stratford for Mr. Moscrip.

Brockville and North Essex Protested.

Two more election protests were filed yesterday by Conservatives.

The election of George P. Graham in Brockville by a majority of 188 is appealed against on the usual grounds. J. Culbert was the Conservative candidate.

The other seat attacked was North Essex, where W. F. McKee of Windsor was elected by a majority of 95. G. A. Wintermute was the defeated candidate.

In neither of these cases is personal corruption alleged on the part of the candidates.

South Toronto Protested.

One election protest was filed by the Liberals yesterday. It was against the return of Mr. Foy in South Toronto. The protest is especially interesting, as it contains particulars of a charge that an election fund was raised by the Conservative party for use in the provincial elections, and that this fund was under the management and was apportioned among the various constituencies by Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Frank Smith, Mr. J. P. Whitney and Mr. G. F. Marter. The petitioner is Mr. John Joseph Mackie of Toronto, and his solicitors are Messrs. Kerr, Macdonald, Davidson & Paterson. The allegations are those of personal bribery and bribery by agents.

BRITISHERS ON THE WATCH.

North American Squadron Concentrated at Bermuda Awaiting Events.

Halifax, N.S., March 26.—The whole of the British North American naval squadron, under command of Vice-Admiral Sir John Arbuthnot Fisher, has during the past week or two been concentrated at Bermuda, and will remain there until further orders. The fleet consists of 14 ships, with the first-class battleship Renown as Sir John Fisher's flagship. The only ship of the squadron not now at Bermuda is the Cordelia, which is cruising near Key West.

"WISHED MYSELF DEAD."

How Many a Poor Dyspeptic Has the Same Wail?—But South American Nervine Gives a new Lease of Life.

Mrs. Mary A. Sinnott, of Pesetangnishene, writes:—"I was a great sufferer for over four years from nervous indigestion and dyspepsia; often wishing myself dead; was attended by best physicians; tried many remedies, but found very little relief. I was attracted to South American Nervine by reading of the wonderful cures wrought by it. I had about lost all faith in medicine, but I concluded to try it. One bottle wonderfully relieved me. I gained strength right away, my appetite returned and in a very short while I was completely cured. I cheerfully recommend it." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 30 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET,
OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) JAMES CARROLL,

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Franchise Bill Debate Advanced a Step.

IT IS NOT LIKELY TO LAST LONG.

Some Rather Interesting and Gossipy Routine Business French in the Northwest Territories The Steamboat Inspection Act Amended and Read a Third Time The Franchise Debate.

Ottawa, March 26.—Since the development of the fact that there is really very little difference of opinion between the two parties on the franchise question, and that they are united in condemning the old Act, the debate on the Government's proposal to adopt the provincial franchises has lost much of its interest. Speeches were made on both sides of the House yesterday, but the number of empty seats was in excess of the number of members who listened to what was said. It seems improbable that the debate can be sustained for any great length of time, for, having in its infancy fallen flat in the House, it is not reasonable to suppose that the country will be disposed to pay much attention to it.

Mr. Lariviere complained that he had not yet received a certain return moved for by him last session.

Dr. Montague drew the attention of the Minister of Railways and Canals to the necessity of preventing floods along the Trent River.

Asked for a suggestion of the remedy required, he said the waste weir ought to be enlarged or the banks heightened, or perhaps both.

To a question by Mr. Foster, the Minister of Public Works said that a partition of the front wall at the basement of the west block was being repaired because the chief architect had reported it to be necessary to strengthen the building.

"Who is Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest at present?" inquired Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper.

"Mr. Macintosh," was the Premier's prompt reply.

Mr. Monk drew attention to the report that the publication of the Government's reports of proceedings in the Northwest Legislature were not being printed in French, as required by the Territorial Act and its amendments.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the Territories had been granted, practically, autonomous government, and it was doubtful if the Federal Government could interfere in the matter. He would, however, refer the question of jurisdiction to the Minister of Justice.

The Steamboat Inspection Act amendment bill was amended in the matter of not permitting inspectors of steamboats to engage in other pursuits.

The bill as amended was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Mills (Con., Annapolis, N.S.) renewed debate on Franchise bill. He de of its uniformity and fairness, while he "faulted" it on the ground of expense.

At the evening session private bills were considered for the first hour. Dr. Sproule took occasion, on the Ontario and Rainy River bill, to once more emphasize the importance of running powers being granted to all railways over this road, so as to prevent the C.P.R. from acquiring a monopoly.

The bill went over until Monday.

The debate on the second reading of the Franchise Act was resumed by Mr. McNeill. Messrs. McClure, Roche, Heyd, Rutherford and Moore also took part in the discussion.

Mr. Bourassa moved the adjournment of debate, and the House adjourned at 11.30.

Not a Dollar for the Yukon.

The debate on the Yukon Railway bill was resumed in the Senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Dever. He criticized Senator Perley for condemning the proposition of the Government for a railway into the Yukon without suggesting how any other railway could be constructed without immense cost to the country. Other lines and routes had also been proposed by Senator Wood as an improvement on the one chosen by the Government, but he had failed to point out where the money for their construction was to come from. The construction by the Government of a railway from Pyramid Harbor to Rink Rapids, as was proposed, would cost the country if undertaken from thirty to forty millions of dollars. The Intercolonial had cost Canada thirty millions, and had been a constant charge on the revenues every since, and he was utterly opposed to any more such railways. He had yet to hear a single argument or tittle of evidence to show him that the Senate was justified in its evident intention of throwing out this bill.

Senator Bolduc said when he first saw the announcement that the Government had entered into a contract for the construction of an all-Canadian railway, which was not going to cost the country one dollar, he was prepared to support it. Since that time, however, he had discerned that in making that statement the Government had made an effort to mislead the public. If the Government could not see its way clear to immediately construct a railway from the main line of the C.P.R., in the Northwest Territories, into Dawson City, by way of Edmonton, it could at least construct a wagon road from Edmonton for the present, making that the poor man's route to the gold fields. Later, if the circumstances warranted, a line of railway could be constructed, besides the wagon road.

Speaking of the visit of the Yukon miners' delegates, Messrs. Livernash, Landreville and Wills, to Ottawa, he protested against the refusal of Mr. Sifton to give the delegation a hearing. For four or five weeks before anyone knew of their presence here, the delegates had, over and over again, waited on the Minister of the Interior, after presenting their credentials in the shape of petition signed by 2,500 Klondike miners, to secure a hearing, but they had been unable to see him.

Senator Prowse wanted to know if it was a fact that this delegation had been kept waiting six weeks after presenting their credentials before they could secure a hearing.

Senator Bolduc—They have not yet had a hearing from the Minister. On Monday last, after having been kept waiting for weeks and weeks, they had an interview with the Premier and some of the Ministers, but no opportunity had been given them to lay their views before the Ministers, as there was not time to do so.

Hon. R. W. Scott—That statement is unfair. The delegation was with the Ministers several hours, and discussed the grievances of the miners they purported to represent.

Senator McCallum challenged the Hon. David Mills to show him any precedent in history for this monstrous proposition. Government had begun by threatening the Senate with all sorts of punishment if it dared to throw out this bill. Finding that that course was working the wrong way, they tried to coax the Senators over, but he could tell them that the Senate would neither be bullied nor coaxed into doing what it believed to be wrong. He believed the Senate would kill the bill and that the people from Vancouver to Halifax would congratulate themselves upon having a Senate which regarded only the interests of the country in its decisions. He could not imagine why the Government had made this bargain with Messrs. McKenzie and Mann, for it looked flaky from beginning to end. All his life he had acted in what he thought the interests of the country on public questions, and he was going to do so now by voting against this bill.

Senator McCallum had not finished when 6 o'clock arrived, so he moved the adjournment of the Senate and the Senate adjourned.

THE LADIES APPRECIATE THE BLESSING.

A Great Discovery Peculiar to Diamond Dyes.

As stated in previous newspaper articles it is an impossibility to dye cotton or any mixed goods a fast and durable colour with a dye prepared for wool goods.

Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton and Mixed Goods are amongst the most important discoveries of the day. These special dyes for cotton and mixed goods have been given to the ladies only after the most severe and crucial tests which proved them to be ahead of all other cotton dyes. These cotton dyes are perfectly fast to light and soap and water; of no other dyes is this true.

Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton and Mixed Goods should be used by all carpet makers, and by those who dye rags for mats and rugs. At the country fairs all prize winners for rugs, mats and carpets owe their success to Diamond Dyes. When you buy dyes take no substitutes from any dealer; ask for and insist upon having the "Diamond" every time.

ABOUT THE G. O. M.

He Is Afflicted With Cancer of the Throat an Operation Is Impossible and Opiates Afford the Only Relief.

New York, March 26.—The Sun publishes the following from its London correspondent yesterday:

"Mr. Gladstone is dying of a cancerous growth involving the bone tissues back of the nasal passages. The melancholy truth is now admitted privately by his son, Mr. Herbert Gladstone, and other members of his family.

"The unanimous verdict of several specialists who have been consulting regarding the case is that an operation is impossible, owing to the age and enfeebled condition of the patient.

"It would be possible to afford considerable relief and also to prolong life by surgical means if Mr. Gladstone were younger, but his heart already threatens failure to perform its functions, and the surgeons are of the opinion that the administration of anesthetics would result in immediate death.

"The only relief possible is that afforded by opiates and other palliatives. These will be used freely as the disease progresses, for, although they tend to shorten life, it is the wise judgment of the physicians and the family alike that they would not be justified in seeking to prolong the agony which has already led the aged sufferer to express a pitiful longing for death.

"The pain has now continued for six months, and, although it is somewhat less acute than it was a few weeks ago, the strength and vitality of the patient's wonderful constitution are sadly drained.

"The end, when it comes, will be from failure of the heart's action, rather than from the direct ravages of the terrible malady. It is hardly possible that it will be long delayed."

AN ASTONISHING AND MARVELLOUS CURE.

Paine's Celery Compound Saves a Life After Doctors and Hospitals Fail.

The Man's Limbs Were Lifeless and Useless and He Could Not Stand Alone—A Most Critical Case of Nervous Prostration and Extreme Weakness—Had Little Hope of Being Cured.

Mr. Deschamps Says: "After the Use of Six Bottles of Paine's Celery Compound I Am a Cured Man."

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE MAKES PEOPLE WELL.

At the present time there are many thousands of men and women in Canada who are suffering much the same as did Mr. T. Deschamps, of 248 Atwater Avenue, Point St. Charles, Montreal. Such sufferers may now rest assured that the same medicine that made Mr. Deschamps a well man will bestow the same gift—good health—to others.

Mr. Deschamps's marvellous cure by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, after failures of doctors and hospitals is already well known to many hundreds in St. Gabriel ward, Montreal, for the cured man has never ceased to sing the praises of the remedy that restored him to health. Mr. Deschamps writes as follows:

"Having been a great sufferer for four years from nervousness and weakness, and having been completely cured by Paine's Celery Compound after failures with all other means, I desire to make the following statement:

"I became so bad from nervousness and nervous prostration that I was unable to sleep or assist myself in any way. My limbs were numb and useless, and for a long time I was not able to stand alone. I was under the care of several doctors in Ottawa city, but their treatment did not better my condition. After coming to Montreal I was a patient in the Western Hospital, but after three months' treatment I left there no better. I thank heaven that I was advised to use Paine's Celery Compound. This great medicine commenced to do its good work from the time I used the first bottle, and now, after having used six bottles, I am a cured man."

A Compromise.

"I don't suppose," said the wife, "that you mailed those letters I gave you today, John."

"No," said John cheerfully, "but I did those you gave me last week, my dear."

Sometimes policy and honesty go ad in hand.—Cincinnati Commercial Appeal.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

HOW A SCARE OCCURRED.

The Little Word "Ice" Was Left Out, Then the Report Went "Free Port" Instead of "Ice Free Port."

London, March 26.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times explains that his statement of Thursday as to the concession to Russia of a 25-year lease of Ta-Lien-Wan as an open port should have read as an ice-free port. He adds:

"At the Tsung-Li-Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office) yesterday (Thursday) further conditions were agreed upon respecting the Ta-Lien-Wan lease. Russia agrees that the port shall be open to ships and the commerce of the whole world, with a customs tariff similar to that of a Chinese treaty port, although its administration and collection will be the same as at any other Russian port."

PETERBOROUGH PARTY OFF FOR KLONDYKE.

Leave on Tuesday for the Gold Fields.

WHAT IS BEING TAKEN.

A Description of the Outfit Which is to Last the Party for the Next Two Years—The Route Which Will be Taken and the Field Which They Propose to Explore in the Klondyke Region.

On Tuesday afternoon next a Peterborough party starts for the golden Yukon country on the C.P.R. Klondyke flier. There are nine members all told in the local contingent, viz., Mr. C. Gladman, who is already out at the coast; Messrs. P. M. Clark, S. Munro and E. S. Neill, of town; Mr. F. Harston, Warkworth; Dr. Douglas, Chatham; a friend of Mr. Gladman's in the West and Messrs. W. T. P. and H. C. Eyres, sons of Mr. Wm. Eyres, of town, who have been in North Dakota for some time, but are at present visiting their sister at Moosejaw and waiting there to join the party.

The route will be to Vancouver by the C. P. R. and to Dyea by C. P. R. steamer. From there the party cross the Chilcoot Pass on the new aerial railway and start off down Lake Bennett, with the intentions of exploring the Stewart River, which runs into the Yukon about two hundred miles this side of Dawson City.

The canoes are six in number and were manufactured by the local firms. They are varied in size to suit the needs of the party, some of them being the big Klondyke twenty-footers capable of carrying a ton of freight.

Enough provisions are being taken along to last for over two years, consisting, of course, largely of canned goods, although the Geo. Matthews Company have packed a couple of tons of bacon for the party, and guaranteed it to keep wholesome for three or four years.

Arrangements have been made for the transportation of one of Best & Matheral's little portable boilers and with it the party expects to do great execution in the way of thawing out the frozen ground through the medium of steam. The boiler can be taken apart and none of the pieces weigh over a hundred pounds, so it can be easily handled and should be worth its weight in gold up in the north country.

A complete armament of revolvers, Winchester rifles, etc., is being taken along, and the outfit in the way of clothing is as perfect as the advice of that experienced Klondyker, Charlie Gladman, could make it. Mercer & Co.

LOOKED AFTER THE CLOTHING

and it is certainly a credit to the firm to look over the contents of the large packing cases, and see the minuteness with which the directions had been followed. The furs needed were purchased from the local firms of Wm. Loch & Sons and J. W. T. Fairweather & Co.

The Klondyke brand of underclothing was chosen. It is very closely woven and very thick, though of the finest texture. There are Irish freise and whipcord suits for all, as well as coats and trousers of leather lined with fur. Some of the party also have short fur coats in addition, and each has taken a couple of suits of heavy blue denim. Then there are lumbermen's shoe packs made in Parry Sound, reindeer moccasins, Slater's mining boots, lumbermen's harvest wool socks and every possible kind of footgear needed for a country in which the requirements are to be so varied.

Every member has a waterproof canvas sleeping bag lined with homespun and made in such a manner that they can be easily turned inside out and dried if they become damp, this being the great trouble at present. The idea of lining them with homespun is also original and will facilitate the drying process as the bags are generally lined with fur. In addition all have heavy waterproof canvas sleeping robes lined with fur. The tents, waterproof bags and boat covers were all furnished by Mr. A. Kingscotte.

The Peterborough members of the party are so well and favourably known here that their movements and the results of their venture into the gold fields, will be awaited with unusual interest.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothe the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

OUT OF THE WHOLE CLOTH.

Efforts are being made to create the impression that the Liberals of Peterborough are contemplating making a raid upon the Dominion Government offices in Peterborough. Such attempts to suggest this course are without foundation. There is no crusade like that alleged, in course or in contemplation. No applications for office have been made, no changes asked and no changes suggested. So far as Mr. Stratton is concerned no mention of office or changes in office was made during the last campaign. Rumours like that mentioned have a disquieting and disturbing effect on those concerned which, in the absence of any reason, are gratuitously cruel. It is natural that in case of a vacancy in any office under the Dominion Government, created by retirement or other cause, that Liberals, who are in sympathy with the government in power should consider that they have first claim upon such office. But local Liberals are organizing no crusade upon government offices. It may suit sensation mongers to invent and circulate yarns to that effect, but the public know that Liberals do not hold that the sole object of existence is the possession of office. This is the age of the mendacity-monger. The Voix de Peuple" mentioned in Zola's new book, "Paris," is not the only newspaper in the world that invents sensations to make sales of its sheets.

THE COTTAGERS IN CONFERENCE.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION.

A Large and Representative Attendance—Lively Interest Manifested—Financial Statement—Cash in the Bank—Officers Elected—Pertinent Subjects Discussed.

The first annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association was held at the skating rink parlours last night. There were present the President, D. W. Dumble, and Messrs. W. Donel, B. Shortly, J. H. Davidson, Norwood, C. J. Blomfield, Lakefield, Wm. Lesh, R. McWhinnie, J. D. Collins, T. W. Robinson, J. W. Butcher, J. P. Strickland, Lakefield, T. E. Bradburn, E. B. Edwards, E. H. D. Hall, D. Breese, A. McCallum and J. R. Stratton.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Dumble, president, occupied the chair and in the course of a brief address stated that this was the first annual meeting since organization last year. He had no written report but mentioned that through the efforts of the Association a pavilion had been erected on Juniper Island which was a great convenience to the dwellers of the lake. Mention was also made of the success attending the efforts to induce the adjacent municipalities to pass bylaws to prevent horn blowing and other hideous noises. He instanced his correspondence with the fishery department, Ottawa, and his failure to bring the official in charge to see that salmon would not take the bait, that they fed upon the small fish of the lake, to their great destruction. The destruction of the salmon was therefore important, but he had failed to bring the official to his way of thinking. He (Mr. Dumble) felt that he would have had better success in dealing with the Ontario Government whose jurisdiction over fisheries was practically decided. He hoped by the assistance of the member for West Peterborough, Mr. Stratton, to put into action the salmon matter and also a scheme for the establishment of a hatchery for bass at Buckhorn and Burleigh to supply the whole chain of lakes. Bass were very easily hatched, the fry appearing after three or four days' incubation A Mr. Green, brother of the noted pisciculturist, Seth Green, when negotiating for the purchase of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, stated that if he came into possession of the hotel he would establish a bass hatchery, for he knew of no waters anywhere which were better suited for the propogation of bass. Mr. Dumble also referred to the success of his efforts to equalize the taxation of the islands in Stony Lake with the taxation of the main land in Burleigh. He also stated that he had advertised in the papers soliciting the owners of islands to report to him the numbers and names of their islands and the post office address of the owners, in order that, when necessity arose, communication with them might be facilitated. The President stated that every owner of a cottage should be a member of the Association in order that the influence of concerted action might be brought to bear upon matters that might concern the general welfare of those interested.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, in the absence of the secretary, Mr. Brownscombe, acted as secretary pro tem.

Mr. Dumble read the report of the secretary-treasurer, giving a statement of the moneys received and expended as follows:

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

resulted as follows:

President (re-elected)—D. W. Dumble.
Vice-Presidents—J. H. Davidson, J. P. Strickland.
Secretary-Treasurer—J. D. Collins.

The Regatta Committee was appointed as follows: Messrs. B. Shortly, A. L. Davis, E. B. Edwards, J. P. Strickland, Geo. Cochrane, H. G. Buck and J. D. Collins.

The President called attention to the necessity of having a Sunday service committee. He suggested that one of the most pleasant features of residence at the lakes was the delight of a paddle in the fresh stillness of the Sabbath morning to the central place of worship.

The Sunday Committee is as follows: Messrs. Sheriff Hall, T. W. Robinson, J. P. Strickland, Geo. Cochrane and W. E. Roxburgh, (Norwood.)

The officers of the Association and Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, E. B. Edwards and J. R. Stratton compose the executive.

CLOSE SEASON FOR FISH.

Mr. Blomfield, who joined the Association that evening, was pleased to be present, and referred to the interest with which he had listened to the remarks of the president. He was very glad that the nuisance of unseemly noises was done away with. Referring to the matter of the fishing he said that the increasing scarcity of fish was due to the export of fish by the Americans. We do not wish to prevent them from fishing, for they were entitled to the sport, but they should not be allowed to export them. He thought that by the efforts of Mr. Stratton the Dominion Government might be moved to give a hint to the railway agent to cease shipping fish. Mr. Blomfield also pointed out that the close season for bass should begin earlier.

Mr. D. Breese, fishery inspector, said that last year a meeting of inspectors had been held at Port Hope and it was agreed that the close season for bass and maskinonge should begin March 1st. He pointed out that tremendous shipments of bass and maskinonge were made by local dealers in the early part of the season, and when he had reported the quantity to the Department it seemed so large that he had received a private letter inquiring if he had not made a mistake.

A resolution was moved by Mr. McWhinnie, seconded by Mr. Donel, that the Dominion Government be petitioned by the Association to change the close season for bass and maskinonge from the first of March to the 15th of June.

CHANGING NAME OF "STONY LAKE" POSTOFFICE.

Mr. Dumble called the attention of the meeting to the confusion and miscarriage of mail matter that resulted from having "Stony Lake" postoffice in the vicinity. Outsiders having friends on Stony Lake naturally addressed their letters "Stony Lake," and, instead of going to Juniper Island, the proper address, they went to "Stony Lake" P.O., on the mainland, and great delay and inconvenience resulted.

Moved by Mr. Blomfield, seconded by Mr. J. P. Strickland, that the Postmaster-General be requested to change the name of "Stony Lake" P.O. to some other name, as the present name conflicts with Juniper Island P. O., Stony Lake.—Carried.

Several names were suggested, "Robb" among others, but it was finally decided to leave the matter of a new name to the P. O. Department.

MUSIC.

On motion of Mr. Robinson, seconded by Mr. McCallum, Messrs. A. L. Davis, B. Shortly, W. G. Ferguson and J. J. McBain were appointed a committee to arrange for procuring a pianoforte for the pavilion at the lake.

NEW WHARF AT JUNIPER.

The matter of a better wharf at Juniper Island was discussed and an understanding arrived at as to the best means of securing this desirable convenience.

A RESIGNATION.

Mr. Davidson said he had been appointed vice-president, but he begged to suggest that as Mr. W. E. Roxburgh was in one sense the father of Stony Lake as a summer resort, and had taken a great interest in the promotion of its interests, his name should be substituted for that of himself (Mr. Davidson).

The suggestion was adopted and Mr. W. E. Roxburgh appointed one of the vice-presidents in place of Mr. Davidson.

A LAKE PARK.

Mr. J. P. Strickland brought up the matter of the purchase of a park and general rendezvous for the cottagers. He was empowered to make an offer of about fifty acres lying between the Devil's Elbow and Hurricane Point, upon which was situated that beautiful little sheet of water, "Fairy Lake," in order that it might be retained for the general use of the lake population for a picnic ground and general rendezvous. If it passed into private hands the public would be excluded. The property could be got for $1,100.

The proposal was informally discussed, but while the desirability of having this place for the public was admitted, it was agreed that the Association was not in a position to raise the funds for that purpose.

The meeting then adjourned, or rather drifted from its moorings, the members gradually withdrawing, but many remaining to talk over the interests of the Association and to anticipate the pleasures of next summer's sojourn at the lakes.

Care of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact that a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion. You need not expect a clear, beautiful complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly perform its functions of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills is a invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver and blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

BURLEIGH HOTEL.

It has been Purchased by a Rochester Syndicate and will be Completely Modernized.

A Rochester syndicate has purchased the Burleigh Falls Hotel from Mr. John Holmes for the sum of $6,000, and will take possession on April 1st.

The negotiations were completed last fall when $250 was paid down to bind the bargain. The syndicate proposes to completely modernize the structure by introducing electricity, hot and cold water, etc., and building an addition to the hotel sufficient to furnish accommodation for a large number of additional guests. It is also proposed to provide a steam launch for the pleasure of the guests and to secure the services of a number of additional guides.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will spend the summer anyway, at Lakefield.

ANGRY WATERS.

The Ohio River on a Rampage—Most Destructive Flood Since 1884—A Train Wrecked.

Buffalo, March 25.—Reports from towns situated upon the Ohio River and its branches state that there has been great damage caused by floods. At Pittsburg, Pa., the rise in the Allegheny River registered 30 feet by the Government gauge yesterday. The flood is the most destructive known since the memorable one of 1884. The lowlands of the cities are flooded and it will be a week at least before business can recover in these sections. All the railroads entering in Pittsburg and Allegheny have been crippled and traffic is suspended. No loss of life has been reported, but the damage will amount to $100,000 in the Allegheny region alone.

At Columbus, Ind., a C., C. & St. L. train was wrecked by a washout. Eight persons were injured, and the engineer and two brakemen are missing. The scene of the wreck is surrounded by water and cannot be reached except by boats. Shurodsville, O., is completely flooded and cut off from railroad communication, the tracks having been washed away.

The decided fall in temperature has checked the flood and at Pittsburg the water has declined a foot in the past 12 hours.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts man's capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run-down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of a way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

A Trade Secret.

"Oh, Mr. Seannerton," she exclaimed effusively, "I have been waiting to see you! I wanted to tell you how much I appreciate that poem you had in the latest issue of The Cerebrum Magazine."

"You mean the one that begins:

"Through the turgid depths we pied and plow
And clamber on, we know not how,
To find the goals that promised rest
But weary starting points at best."

"Yes," she answered, with dreamy, downcast eyes. "I like that. And it gets better as you go on. It gets very much better. There were parts of it that I could hardly understand at all."

"Oh, you flatter me!"

"No, indeed. You ought to do more things like that. You ought to write in a more dignified measure and be profound, you know. I like that so much better than these little things that sound as if they were done offhand. Yet I know there must be a great temptation to do that kind of work."

"There is," was the answer. "I very narrowly escaped making this one sound so."

"Tell me how."

"I had to send the thing away in a hurry. I didn't have time to make it sound offhand."—Washington Star.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife suffered for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

This accords fully with popular feeling.

WHEAT STILL WEAK.

A Busy Live Stock Market at Toronto—Holding Back Canadian Seed and Its Effect—Local Prices.

Friday Evening, March 25.

At Chicago May opened at $1.03, but closed at $1.04, Thursday's final figures. July sold down to 81¼c, but partially recovered, closing ⅝c below yesterday's windup. September and December figures also declined a fraction for the day. At other American centres cash and May wheat fell from 1c to 2c. In Liverpool wheat opened from 1d to 1¼d lower than Thursday's closing, but regained all but from ½d to ⅝d.

Of Canada's exports of maple sugar and syrup 95 per cent. goes to the United States. In 1893 the value of the sugar exported was $50,151; 1894, $29,844; 1895, $9,040; 1896, $31,455; 1897, $31,387. Last year only $511 worth of syrup was sold abroad.

Owing to the low prices prevailing for timothy, clover and alsike, Canadian holders refuse to sell, and quantities are being brought in from the United States to meet requirements. Big dealers say holders are making a mistake as there is in this country to-day 50 per cent. more seed than is needed for seeding purposes.

METHODISTS ON THE PLEBISCITE

Deputation of the Former Meet the Premier and Colleagues—What Sir Wilfrid Said to Them.

Ottawa, March 25.—An important conference was held yesterday between Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding, and Hon. Sidney Fisher, on one hand, and Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. Potts, Rev. Dr. Saunders and J. T. Moore, of Toronto, representing the Methodist Church of Canada. The visitors represented that it would not do to include any consideration on the plebiscite ballot aside from the single issue as to whether the prohibition of the liquor traffic shall or shall not become the law of the land. They asked for no snap verdict, but a fair and honest expression of opinion by all classes of the community. It was pointed out that the Methodist Church represents the largest Protestant community in Canada. It is independent as to politics, and if there is any one thing that would tend to unite it, that thing would be the fight for prohibition. They are prepared to take any consequence which the passage of a prohibitory law may involve in the matter of revenue. Whatever the Government may devise, even to the extent of direct taxation, will be concurred in. If the consequences of prohibition are to be considered, let them be put forward in a subsequent plebiscite.

Sir Wilfrid Respects Methodism.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply, said there was no organization, so far as he was concerned, whose opinions would carry more weight than the Methodist Church. While he might not agree with all the views expressed, yet he was certain that no snap verdict should be given. All in the Methodist Church may not be agreed, in the Liberal party all are not agreed, on the question of prohibition; but he was in favor of getting a free expression of opinion, and the party was unanimous in its desire to secure an honest expression and to stand by the plebiscite. "There is a difference of opinion," he said, "as to what an honest opinion on this question may be." The delegation thought a straight "yes" and "no" vote would be getting an honest expression. Others may think it would be more fair to ask the electors if they are prepared to take the consequences. Sir Wilfrid doubted that direct taxation would result from the prohibition of the liquor traffic, but he knew it would remove six or seven millions of revenue. This would have to be provided from some source and at once. When stating his ideas on the prohibition question, Sir Wilfrid said he had declared that the prohibition question shall be separated from the questions of the day, such as protection and free trade, the franchise, the Gerrymander Act, the school question, and other such questions. Everything incident to prohibition should be presented to the people. Sir Wilfrid promised that the Privy Council would carefully consider it. He has not made up his mind. Sir Wilfrid said that although a temperance man, he was not a prohibitionist.

Hon. Mr. Fielding pointed out that the temperance people must not be afraid of a free consideration of the question, and that, leaving aside debatable questions, the electors should be asked to vote on the question as it will effect them. He did not want to see a snap vote, but wanted the people to understand that they would have to face increased taxation.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

"GOOD OLD TIMES."

My grandsire tells of the good old times
And stops now and then to sigh,
For he says that this era of frauds and crimes
Makes him yearn for the days gone by.
And he makes me feel, while the teardrops steal
To my eyes as I mourn my fate,
That my ill starred birth brought me on to this earth
A decade or so too late.

He tells of the actors who trod the stage—
They didn't need scenery then—
And it does him good to recall the rage
Of some eminent public men.
"People didn't neglect to display respect
Deliberate and profound,
And they'd never waste in unseemly haste
Their energies getting round."

Yet the world is moving and toiling still,
And loving and laughing, too,
And honest purpose bends with a will
To the work that it finds to do.
And mighty men wield the sword and pen,
And the lightning leaps forth to bear
Each truth in turn that the world may learn
Its lessons from everywhere.

And so, as I think, it occurs to me
That some day my turn will come,
When on bygone glories with comments free
I'll make my posterity glum.
I'll tell him some day when my grandsire gray
O'er those "good old times" may moan,
That these we'll find when they're left behind
Are the best old times yet known.

SHE MISSED IT.

Because What the Congressman Said Did Not Apply to Her.

"I know what I am talking about," remarked a member of congress, "when I say that a congressman has trouble of his own. It's a fine thing to be a statesman and show up in the national parade of greatness at the capital, but there's a good deal more to it than that. And one of the things that is hardest to bear is what they say about us. Why, a lady can't come up here and ask to see a member that there aren't a half dozen people to wink and shake the head and a lot more of the same to make him wish all the women were in hades. Of course there is some ground among us for remarks, just as there is among preachers and doctors and hod carriers and everybody else human, and I know a woman or two who find their chief delight in trying to involve congressmen and other officials in any kind of a flirtation that comes handy. They are pretty and persuasive, and before a man knows what he is about he is down in the senate restaurant paying for a lunch and listening to some kind of a tale of woe.

"But they miss it now and then, and I am glad to note an instance. A member from a northern state had been invited to call at the lady's hotel the next day, and she had asked him to let her know if he could come. He wrote, saying among other things, 'Tomorrow, madam, I hope to see the loveliest woman in the whole world.' Naturally she was pleased and told all the people around the hotel about it. The next day he did not appear, and the next she saw him at the capitol and asked him what he meant by treating her so.

"'What did I do?' he asked innocently.

"'You said you were coming to see me,' she said, blushing at the remembrance of his words.

"'I think not.'

"'Indeed you did,' she insisted. 'You said you would see the loveliest woman in the world,' and she blushed again.

"'Oh, I beg your pardon,' he said, smiling. 'I meant my wife. She just arrived yesterday.'"—Washington Star.

Marrying For Love and For Money.

In the marriages of the present day young men marry for love, but sentiment would appear to enter less into the calculation of a man of mature years, and yet no union based upon anything but love can be a permanently happy one. In this degenerate age men frequently marry for money, position or in order to add to personal comfort or convenience. As regards women, a dreadful old cynic once observed that at 16 a woman marries for love, at 20 for position, at 25 for money and at 30 neither money, love nor position enters into the matter, the only question then being, Where is the man? This cynic evidently saw with jaundiced eyes the world of today, and understood society as it is, with all its artificiality, hypocrisy and selfishness. In olden times parents were only too glad to have their daughters marry the man they loved, and money, show and position were quite secondary considerations. It is a sad and regrettable condition of affairs when marriage becomes a mere contract in which the man seeks for wealth, position or advancement, and in which the woman recognizes her helpless and dependent condition, accepts the situation, marries for love when she can, but marries for anything else sooner than become an old maid.—New York Ledger.

GLEN EDEN REJOICES.

Over the Recovery of Mr. James Paddon of Mt. Forest.

His Case Was a Severe one of Kidney Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him Thoroughly—Glen Eden People Rely on Dodd's Kidney Pills and Their Faith is Justified.

GLEN EDEN, March 25—The report of the recovery of Mr. James Paddon, of Mt. Forest, from a severe attack of Kidney Disease, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills has caused great rejoicing here, where Mr. Paddon is well known.

Mr. Paddon's case was a very severe one. It was well known that he was a constant sufferer, and he had the sympathy of all his friends. Consequently it gives unbounded pleasure to all to know that he has at last conquered his bitter enemy.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that the people of this district will use for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Paralysis, Heart Failure, Urinary Diseases, Blood Impurities, and all other forms of Kidney Disease. They have cured hundreds of cases of these complaints in this neighbourhood and the people have the fullest confidence in the medicine.

There is only one way of curing Kidney Diseases. That is by curing the kidneys. The only way of doing this is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They set the Kidneys in proper condition, thus ensuring a supply of pure, fresh blood and thoroughly healthy organs.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

SPRAINS.

Why They Are So Severe and How They Should Be Treated.

It is commonly said that a sprained joint is worse than a broken bone, and this is often true, for in a severe sprain the injury is really greater than in a simple fracture. The ankle is perhaps the most frequently sprained of all the joints, though the knee, elbow and wrist are also very liable to be injured, in falls especially.

A sprain of a joint varies greatly in severity. It may consist of a simple wrench, without the tearing of any of the ligaments, or it may be a more extensive injury, stopping just short of a dislocation.

In a moderately severe case one or more of the ligaments of the joint will be torn slightly, or possibly completely across. The membrane beneath the ligaments, which retains the lubricating fluid of the joint, will be ruptured, permitting the escape of more or less of this fluid into the parts about, and giving rise sometimes to a considerable swelling. This swelling may be increased also by an effusion of fluid into the joint, especially if inflammation sets in, and finally there is usually a slight or even sometimes a quite pronounced escape of blood into the tissues, and this, gradually working to the surface, appears as a black and blue stain.

In more severe cases the tendons passing over the joint and attaching the muscles which move it to the bones may suffer considerable damage, or one of them may be broken or torn from its attachment, bringing with it a sliver of bone. Where so much harm has been done to all the parts—bones, ligaments, tendons and muscles—it is easy to understand that much pain will result and that the cure will be tedious.

In the treatment of a sprain the first thing to be aimed at is to relieve pain and prevent inflammation, then to favor healing of the torn structures, and after that to restore the use of the limb.

Men as Nurses.

There isn't one man in fifty thousand who is a good nurse. The average man feels as much out of place in a sick-room as a bull must in a china-store. His heart may be ever so full of sympathy, but his feet are heavy and his fingers clumsy.

In most cases when a woman's general health breaks down the original cause is weakness or disease of the distinctly feminine organism. The only permanent cure lies in the correction of all these disorders. Husbands should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine that invariably cures all ailments of this nature without "local treatment" and "examinations." It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals all internal ulceration and stops debilitating drains. It soothes and tones the nerves. Found at all medicine stores. An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

"I had female trouble for many years," writes Mrs. A. Lingelbach, of Granger, Sweetwater Co. Wyoming, "and tried many physicians until I was completely discouraged. Finally I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for six months, and I soon found that I was completely cured. I had been so bad I could hardly walk across the floor, but I am now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

No family should be without Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50; now it is free. Paper-covered copy, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only; cloth binding 50 stamps. Over 1,200,000 American homes now contain copies of this great work. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The first of these objects is accomplished by absolute rest of the injured part, the limb being raised, and by lead and opium wash, a spirit lotion, or such other local applications as the physician may prescribe. Swelling is prevented in a measure and pain is sometimes relieved by firm bandaging with a flannel bandage.

When the swelling, heat and pain are gone, the limb should not be used too soon, but should be brought gradually back to health by cold douching, dry rubbing in a direction toward the body and passive motion. It is sometimes necessary in very severe cases to treat the sprain by means of splints, exactly as if it were a fracture or dislocation.—Youth's Companion.

THE STEAMER'S CHIMNEY.

Some Details of Interest Regarding Its Construction and Use.

The stroller along the wharfs who should see rising from the smokestack of a big steamer a small and at the start perfectly defined column of smoke which seemed to come from a small smoke-pipe within the big one might wonder if the great smokestack was filled with smaller stacks, one for each boiler. As a matter of fact it is not so filled, but there is within it a smaller smoke pipe called the donkey stack, which is the chimney for the boiler of the donkey engine, which is used when the vessel is in port in hoisting cargo in and out. It is from this pipe that the small column of smoke is seen to issue.

The donkey stack is placed sometimes against the forward inner side of the big stack, sometimes against the after inner side. It may be a complete pipe, or it may be formed of iron in the shape of half a pipe, with flanges riveted to the main pipe.

If a single one of the large boilers were used, as it might be when the ship is in port, it might be connected with the donkey stack, but in their regular and common arrangement and use the uptakes of all these boilers run into the great chimney, whose whole interior is open, except for the braces running across it to strengthen and support it.

The chimneys of all large steamships, however, and of many other steam vessels as well are built double, with an inner and an outer shell, with a space between varying according to the size of the vessel. It may be from five to ten inches. The primary purpose of this chamber around the smokestack is to afford ventilation for the engine room and the stokehole. In at least one modern passenger ship ventilating pipes from the passenger quarters have been carried to these chambers. Incidentally the space between the shells helps to keep the stack sightly, for thus constructed the chimney is cooler on the outside than it would otherwise be, and so it holds paint the better.—New York Sun.

Impure Blood in Spring.

This is the almost universal experience. Diminished prespiration during winter, rich foods and close confinement indoors are some of the causes. A good Spring Medicine, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, is absolutely necessary to purify the blood and put the system in a healthy condition at this season.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic. Gentle, reliable, sure.

A PRACTICAL VIEW OF IT.

The folks that write of fields of green where birds and daisies rule,
I'll bet you, never struck them fields and plowed a Georgy mule,
And them that write of tinkling bells in dells
where cattle roam,
I'll bet you, never had to drive the scampering cattle home!

And them that sing of woodlands sweet and softly sighing pines,
I'll bet you, never had to tramp through prickly briers and vines
And cut a cord of wood or two! No matter what they say,
The country ain't as purty as it looks from far away!

Just let 'em come and try it—where people have to rise
Before the sun has blazed a way along the chilly skies
And work from then until the stars look from the darkening dome—
I'll bet you, 'fore the day was done they'd all make tracks for home!

And yet they keep on singing of country life
"so sweet"
And leave out all the mortgages and notes we have to meet!
We thank 'em for their compliments, for all the words they say,
But still we ain't as purty as we look from far away!

WOMAN'S WAY.

Gert's Gossip on Timely Topics.

"Oh, my!" panted Mrs. Streete Waulker, as she rushed into the house, breathless, the other day—"What's things comin' to!" Mrs. Waulker isn't very particular about her grammar when she's excited.

"What now?" I asked.

"Why there's going to be another change in the fashions, and I'm out of breath, and money, too, trying to keep up with them. I read in the papers that in England they are going to bring in King Alfred fashions in millinery! King Alfred's the man we read something about in Scriptures, getting his ears boxed by his boarding house keeper for letting the cakes burn. Can you tell me, Gert, dear, what the King Alfred millinery means anyway?"

I told her I hadn't had time to read the papers since baby got the croup, but I said I'd enquire of my husband, who would be sure to know. My husband, you know, belongs to the Public Library, and spends a good many of his evenings there, and brings books home, instead of loafing around bar rooms or sitting on biscuit boxes in corner groceries. My how he did laugh when I told him about Mrs. Streete Waulker and King Alfred's millinery! He said he couldn't realise such ignorance, and he said:—

"If Mrs. Streete Waulker would spend as much time and money in improving the inside of her head as she fools away on the outside, she'd know a lot more, and her husband wouldn't tremble for fear every knock on the door was the sheriff. King Alfred's millinery! Why, the pretty frivolous idiot doesn't have an idea heavier than feathers. King Alfred's millenary is what she's got in her head. Why the thousanth anniversary—the millenary—of King Alfred the Great, who knocked out the Danes and started Britannia ruling the waves, comes in a year or so, and they are making preparations to celebrate it in England. They didn't think much about millinery in King Alfred's days. The chief look-out was to keep a head on one's shoulders without fretting as towhat to put on it. "Gert!" he broke off suddenly—"I wish you wouldn't be quite so thick with that Waulker women—she's as giddy as a goat and twice as frivolous—she hasn't got brains enough to stop a watch."

I like to do what my husband wants, but I always can't. Next day Mrs. Waulker called and spent an hour telling about the millinery openings. I know she's flighty, but she's got perfectly lovely taste in dress and what she told me about the beautiful millinery she saw this week, was like the Queen of Sheba's impression of Solomon's glory—Mrs. Waulker didn't tell half of it.

If it is only for a sightseer's tour, Peterborough's spring millinery is well worth a visit. Mrs. W———, a very intimate friend in Port Hope, who buys most of her millinery in Peterborough, arrived by appointment on Wednesday, and stayed over night to have a run through the millinery stores on Thursday. I told her I expected Mrs. C———, of Campbellford, up on the late train and we three would make a day of it. The remarkable March weather which greeted the openings this week helped to magnify the interest in our visit of inspection. Who ever remembers at this time of year such delightful sunshine, such clear sky and air, such good walking! In the shopkeepers' vernacular it was a snap—it was the banner week for the milliners.

The procession of shoppers were already in the field when we three started out Thursday forenoon. Not in years, I think, has the attendance been so large and the demand so phenomenal. No matter how far away you live it is worth a walk to George street to see even the window display of Robert Fair's store. It rarely happens that there is a more effective or more tasteful display of goods than that which one sees behind the plate glass of the Golden Lion. It was another genuine lady's day in the history of the old established and favourite store, as from early morn till dewy eve dames and damsels thronged every department.

The departments which attracted most attention were naturally the millinery, the wraps and the silks. The exposition recherche was at Fair's. Such I think was the general verdict of the ladies of the town who have been round the stores. There is no disputing the leadership of this store. One can readily recognise the greater varieties, finer qualities, better values and larger assortments in exclusive goods which appeal to tasteful dressers.

I never saw anything like the crowd of well dressed women which meet us in the millinery shown room as we get out of the elevator. "Standing room only" was the condition of things. It was then only 11 o'clock, and so we decided to put in an hour, and then take breath and dinner and get back again early before the afternoon shoppers arrived. We had seen enough to confirm us in our decision to make Fair's our headquarters. I came across many of the constant customers of this store who very properly claimed the store as a kind of personal belonging "because they know everybody" and "feel so much at home."

In the afternoon we could judge better. Mr. Fair's was a genuine millinery display—not a flower show. No one admires flowers more than I do; but, really, they have been altogether overdone in some quarters. I remarked to Miss Armstrong, the painstaking and conscientious head of the department, that I saw quite a chic American expression in most of the hats. She acquiesced and said—"Most of Mr. Fair's goods were bought in New York."

Let me try and describe some of the new hats:—

A regular little Dolly Varden of a poke shape, with burnt orange and pale green chiffon. Very becoming to a woman whose hair and head would form a satisfactory whole.

A lady's very pretty green sailor, short back, with black brim, trimmed high in front with loops of coloured shrired crepe and quille, and bunches of expensive purple and black violets at each side and under the brim, $17—sold.

Another beauty was composed of fancy green straw, rather a flat shape, turned up slightly in the back, with an immense butterfly bow of green silk ribbon and pink flowers, and two bunches of the same flowers on each side of the hat in front, $20.

Lady's hat, very odd but very stylish, in a pretty shade of grey, round flat turban slightly higher in the back, trimmed round the crown with folds of velvet the same shade, with a beautiful trailing flower, which appeared to come from underneath the brim at the back and fall over the crown. This was something very new.

During the afternoon we saw a lovely piece of head gear, one of the prettiest of the large hats that found a customer at $20. There were many medium-priced hats, tickested $4, $5.50 and $7, etc. It was clearly seen, however, that the everlasting cry of "cheapness" isn't the only way to bring trade. Miss Feanbury, the petite expert trimmer of the firm, said the staff were busy on orders for bonnets and hats to suit the special requirements of customers, each of whom had an individuality of their own. Notwithstanding the hue and cry of great extravagance in millinery styles, this season offers an opportunity for economy which was not to be thought of on previous occasions.

Capes and jackets shared the honours with the millinery. There are some very smart costumes imported from Paris and New York, but two or three visits will be necessary to take in all the beauty of the exquisite creations which Mr. Fair is showing. We waited to interview Miss Raines, the obliging overseer of the wrap department, and had an order placed on the books for early completion. We made several attempts to see Miss Neil about our spring costumes, but as it was getting near 5 o'clock we had to make another appointment.

What makes Fair's so distinctly Fair's is the generous spirit of service. How well this is done shoppers well know. Among the many pleasing decorations I noticed was that in each of the windows pretty jardinieres were stationed filled with beautiful collections of flowers. The effect was refreshing and springtime-like. The decorated mirrors were artistically hung with fancy plaids and silks of delicate shades which contributed to the bewildering variety of attractions of this store, where ladies most do congregate. It was a most propitious opening.

While it is all very nice for girls to steep their souls in millinery, and with equal ardour follow the fashions and the rules of Lenten mortification, it sometimes seems to me that the gladness of Easter springs more from the new bonnet or hat and new spring costume than the spiritual enfranchisement it celebrates. Girls naturally take to spring millinery, but I wish they would take more to mothers. The season of spring housecleaning is at hand, and mother's head is full of plans and her hands are aching in advance with the toil of the annual domestic renovation. Girls should also plan to take a big share of the burden from mother's rounded shoulders upon their own shoulders, which have not been bent from their shapely poise by long years of the burden of life. Mothers have stayed in all winter keeping the domestic machinery moving, while the girls have enjoyed skating, sleighing, dancing, concerts, parties and all forms of innocent amusement that brighten the lives of the young, and when spring comes and mother is weak, tired, languid and longing for the first breath of the outer air that throbs with the cheery pipe of the robin and the hilarious whistle of the blackbird, let her get out. Girls, throw yourself in the breach, give mother a rest, and take housecleaning duties upon yourselves. You remember last night that you and sister, after you had gone to bed, talked about how worn mother was beginning to look, and you thought, though you didn't say so—you thought with a shudder that the day might come all too soon, when you might have to lay aside your dainty bright-hued Easter hat, don the melancholy black; and hide behind the veil of crepe the tears that would start to the eyes over the memory of mother now lying still and at rest for the first time for years, under the daisy-starred turf. Oh, my dear girls, take good care of mother, your best earthly friend. Lovers may come with eloquent wooing, and stir the pulses of your fond, foolish, fluttering hearts, but till your dying day you'll never have a friend like mother. Then treat her kindly and ease her burdens. I know you don't mean to be unkind. You are young, strong and with light hearts that have never been touched with anything sadder than the sunshine of life. You don't mean to be unkind—you only don't think. Do think. You may rob yourself of many little pleasures by helping mother, but you can never place any sacrifice on the altar that will be sooner touched with the fire of divine approval, can never perform any self denial that will give you greater peace and joy than self denial for mother's sake—a joy that will shine often into your life when her big heart is stilled forever and her tired hands are folded across her pulseless breast.

Speaking of house-cleaning and interior decorating for the summer, I induced my two visitors from Port Hope and Campbellford to stay over and come with me on the following day to help make selections of wallpapers and window decorations at the Peterborough Bookstore. It was with pleasure they both consented, as it would save them another trip on the cars a week or two later. Mrs. C—— had on previous occasions made heavy purchases at Stratton's, and said she knew a traveller who told her that the newest patterns of wallpapers were always shown in Peterborough, and that the most critical and hard-to-please buyers—regular cranks on style, so to speak,—came miles to pick out their wall and window decorations at Stratton's.

In this month of "spring openings" there is no other place in the same line where one can indulge in such real satisfaction for house furnishings, and Mr. Stratton's judgment is highly valued by discriminating people. Naturally, therefore, much is expected of the stocks carried by the firm; and certainly this season the stock is not disappointing. Here is much that appeals to people of taste and refinement, with but moderate means.

In wall papers there is a choice selection from the newest productions of the foremost manufacturers. There are many rich effects in terra cotta, blue and English chintz patterns; striped papers in velvet, satin and other effects and a quantity of natural flower designs. There are also samples of plain and figured burlap wall paper hangings now becoming so much in vogue. The designs of the borderings are beautiful and the colourings exquisite. The effects they produce have been studied with intelligent sympathy and cultured taste.

The individual buyer, for a single room or a whole house, has choice of beautiful American glimmers, grounded papers and gilts of special designs to suit the most exacting tastes. Much of the stock is very moderate in price, permitting of a tasty home being refurnished at a very reasonable figure. Beauty on the wall need cost no more than ugliness.

After the long winter, when spring comes round, and the shutters are thrown back, we begin to see the need of new window blinds as well as clean paper on the walls. I don't think I ever saw a more lovely stock of window shades than the new spring styles we saw at Stratton's. Artistic dados are prettier than ever, and with fringed, applique, lace and insertion, more elaborate. We found these would be indispensable accompaniments to our newly-papered rooms, but one should be sure and bring the exact widths and measurements. I saw some especially fine designs of cornice poles in ivory and gold, with trimmings to match, which I took for my best room. Mrs. W—— gave her order for two sets finely-polished antique oak, and enough gilt room moulding to go round two rooms. As we were going out we noticed a lot of artistically-framed pictures, and on enquiry from Miss Dunne found the price so very moderate that each of us made several choice selections. I also arranged to send in a number of valuable pictures I had rolled up at home, and made selections of mouldings from the sample table how they were to be framed.

With such a varied source to draw from, it need not be said that we spent considerable time and money at the Peterborough Bookstore. Mr. Stratton told my two visitors that any time they could not make it convenient to make their purchases personally, direct from the store, he would forward excellent sample books of well paper by mail or express, free of charge.

YUKON BILL DOOMED.

Yankee Lobbyists Have Captured the Senate.

BUSINESS MEN NOW AROUSED.

They Are Too Late, However, to Save the Measure—The Methods Employed to Accomplish This Disastrous Result for Canada—An Interesting Bill for Sir John Thompson's Funeral Flowers.

Ottawa, March 28.—(Globe Special.)—Evidence accumulates to prove that business men throughout the country are at last awakening to the meaning of the debate in the Senate and to the consequences that must follow the rejection of the Yukon Railway bill on Tuesday, when it is understood a vote will be taken. The Board of Trade of Montreal has sent the Prime Minister a resolution strongly favoring the construction of the all-Canadian route by Fort Simpson and Teslin Lake. Other commercial organizations are getting in line and using their influence in the same direction, but they have entered the field too late to be of service. The Yankee lobbyists, who have been at Ottawa since the session opened, have done their work thoroughly and there is no longer any possibility of the passage of the bill. Not only so, but they have poisoned the minds of the Senators against the all-Canadian route to an extent that the public can have no appreciation of. At the recent meeting with the Senators, Mr. Livernash, the most skillful of the lobbyists representing American interests, was asked what he thought of the Teslin Lake route. He was too astute to condemn it off his own bat, because he had never been over it, but he replied that on the way out from Dawson City he met a man going in who had come by the Lake Teslin route, and who said: "If I had the man who told me to come that way by —— I'd harpoon him." The Senators listened open-mouthed, and no one thought of the fact that it was mid-winter when the traveller referred to was encountered, and that whenever spring opens the rivers and lakes over which he had toiled so painfully on the ice will be traversed by steamers now en route to the Stikine, or in process of construction on Tealin Lake. The Senators have fallen completely under the influence of men to whom the construction of an all-Canadian route would mean the destruction of great interests at Dyea, St. Michael's, and at various other American ports that now participate in the Yukon trade. They are marching in step with the chartermongers who are attempting to force the people of Canada to make their only entrance to the Yukon over railways entering at those American ports. The first speech made in the Senate against the bill, that of Senator Kirchhoffer, gave evidence of this. He praised Pyramid Harbor at the head of the Lynn Canal, said it was according to our interpretation of the treaty in Canadian territory, was open all the year round, and a far better terminus than that of the all-Canadian route. The Americans are in possession of Pyramid Harbor, whatever the treaty may say; their customs officers exercise authority at Dyea; their bonding laws must be obeyed, and if we were to build a railway having its terminus there we should be absolutely at the mercy of the slightest whim of Washington. Yet day after day this route is held up as the best for Canadian trade. The thing is so transparent that the country yokel who loses his money on the pea trick at a fair would not be deceived by the ruse practised on the Senate by the American lobbyists. The Yukon bill will be defeated, and to that extent the lobbyists may triumph; but of one thing they may rest assured, the Government of Canada will not permit them to carry out the second part of their programme. If there is to be no railway into the Yukon over the all-Canadian route there will be none over the Dalton Trail or any other route terminating at an American port. And with the passes from these American ports blocked, as they will be within a very short time, thousands of Yukoners will go up the Stikine and over the all-Canadian route this year by the steamers soon to be in operation, even without the railway, which in any case would not have been completed till the fall. When the tide of traffic by Tealin Lake shows great increases with those imperfect facilities the Senators will begin to understand better the motives of the lobbyists who for the past two months have sought in every possible way to discredit the Canadian route. The defeat of the bill will, however, unquestionably reduce the volume of traffic upon the route and will handicap Canadian merchants in getting goods in. The only thing that might have saved the bill from the partisan spirit invoked in the Senate against it would have been overwhelming pressure from the mercantile and manufacturing interests. That pressure has not been applied, and it is only now that business men are beginning to understand that the defeat of the bill means a triumph for American traders and a serious setback to the efforts of the Liberal party to give the Yukon trade to the people of Canada, to whom it belongs. When the business men of the country fully realize the situation they will make remarks about the Senate quite unfit for publication. Then, perhaps, they will join in a movement to punish the upper chamber for what is little short of treason to Canada.

A BILL FOR FLOWERS.

Conservative Ministers Sued for Those Furnished for the Funeral of the Late Rt. Hon. Sir John Thompson.

Ottawa, March 28.—A writ was issued Saturday on behalf of Ann Davidson against Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. George E. Foster, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. John Costigan, Sir C. H. Tupper, Hon. John G. Haggart, Hon. W. B. Ives, Sir John Carling, Sir Frank Smith, Hon. J. F. Wood, Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, Hon. J. C. Patterson, Hon. T. M. Daly, Hon. A. R. Angers and Hon. J. J. Curran, members of the late Conservative Cabinet, for $1,041, being the amount of an account for flowers furnished for the funeral of the late Right Honorable Sir John Thompson, by the late W. R. Davidson of Montreal. The flowers were ordered, it is alleged, by the then Conservative Cabinet, and Mr. Justice Ouimet, who was then Minister of Public Works, was the only one who paid his share, being credited with paying $75. Further particulars alleged in the writ are that officers of the Department of Public Works were instructed to order this floral tribute, with the inscription, "A tribute of affection from his devoted colleagues," with the names of the defendants engrossed thereon. Mr. Davidson filled the order, having to import some of the flowers. The action is entered by his widow as executrix of the estate.

Gold in Peace River Country.

Mr. Haultain, Premier of the Northwest Territories, and Mr. Ross, Territorial Secretary, arrived in the city Saturday. They are here for the purpose of interviewing the Government on matters affecting the Northwest, especially in regard to the jurisdiction over the Yukon district, which the Territorial Government claims is its prerogative. Mr. Haultain says that the Peace River country is going to develop rapidly as a result of the Klondike excitement. Hundreds of people, who do not care to face the rigors of the sub-Arctic country on the Yukon, will try the region north of Edmonton, and will prospect for gold along the Peace and Liard Rivers, where it has been discovered in paying quantities.

Customs Regulation of Tourists.

The Customs Department has felt it necessary to make a new ruling regarding the admission of tourist outfits. The outfits are held to comprise: Guns, fishing rods, canoes, tents, camp equipment, cooking utensils, kodacks, musical instruments, etc. The money deposited by the tourist may be refunded if the articles are exported outwards at the customs port where reported inwards or at another port within six months from time of entry: Provided the articles are produced and their identity attested to before a Canadian customs officer at the place of export or before a customs officer at a place outside of Canada. The tourist is required to furnish the customs officer at the port of entry with a report or invoice of his outfit, in duplicate, one copy of which is to be returned to the tourist when signed by the customs officer, with the amount deposited marked thereon. When a certificate of exportation to the satisfaction of the customs officer at the port of entry is delivered to him personally or by mail the amount deposited may be paid to the party entitled thereto, personally or by mail, or otherwise as he shall direct. It is suggested that post-office orders (at tourist's expense for charges) be used for safety in forwarding remittances on above account through the mails.

The Rainy River Railroad.

Thos. Marks, Col. Ray and other Port Arthur citizens saw the Government Saturday and urged that the maximum bonus of $6,400 per mile should be granted to the Ontario and Rainy River Railway. It will be remembered that last session an Act was passed providing that this amount might be given to any railway costing over a certain sum per mile, which had previously been voted the minimum subsidy of $3,200 per mile.

Britain Putting Herself Into War Shape at Hong Kong—The Battleships Coaling—Tragic End of Mrs. Delia Parnell, the Aged Mother of the Famous Irish Agitator.

Pekin, March 28.—M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affaires, signed yesterday the agreement regarding the lease of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan and the railway concession. Port Arthur will be given over to-day. Chin-Chow will remain Chinese; but the Russians will establish a small station in the environs. China will retain sovereign rights generally and Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan will be open to the warships of all nations.

Regarding the customs, the Russians reserve themselves the collection of the duties, but nothing is divulged as to their eventual destination. The Russians will probably take the forts at Port Arthur. The Chinese have decided to open Fuh-Ming, Province of Fo-Kien, as a treaty port.

MOBILIZATION ORDERED.

The Naval Establishment at Hong Kong to Be Put on a War Footing.

London, March 28.—A despatch to the Times from Hong-Kong says orders were issued to the naval establishment there to make urgent preparations to place itself on a war footing. The staff, it is added, was augmented and mobilization was ordered. The despatch further announces that 99 French cruisers have gone north, avoiding Hong-Kong.

The British battleship Barfleur has gone to Nagasaki, Japan.

Warships Ready for Sea.

Hong-Kong, March 28.—All the British warships are coaling and provisioning, having been ordered to prepare for immediate readiness to go to sea. The navy yard here is working day and night.

Despatches Tampered With.

London, March 28.—When events in the far East began to assume a serious aspect, the British Foreign Office made the unpleasant discovery that its despatches were being tampered with. It became necessary to discard the old cipher code and devise a special one. Proceeding upon the assumption that the operators in the service of the Eastern Telegraph Company were all British born and might be trusted, the Foreign Office concluded that the tampering occurred in China and that the probability was that the wires between Pekin and Shanghai had been tapped, but discovery, so far, has gone no further.

A week ago an important despatch addressed to the British Minister at Pekin disappeared on the way, and efforts are now being made to find it. The disappearance was probably accidental, but the Foreign Office is much perturbed.

A Nest of Spies.

Sebastopol, March 28.—As a result of the discovery of serious and wholesale bribery and corruption 100 dockyard officials and officers of the Russian Black Sea fleet have been arrested. Admiral Kopyloff, commander of the fleet, has been dismissed. Five officers have committed suicide since their arrest.

Dublin, March 28.—Mrs. Delia T. Stewart Parnell, mother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, leader of the Irish Home Rule party, was fatally injured at the Parnell homestead, Avondale, County Wicklow, Saturday. She was sitting by the fire, when her clothing was caught by the flames, and in an instant her garments were ablaze. Assistance was near at hand, but before the flames could be extinguished the venerable lady was so badly burned that she died Sunday evening.

The University Boat Race.

Putney, March 28.—Oxford won the fifty-sixth annual boat race between crews representing Oxford and Cambridge, which was rowed on Saturday over the usual course, from Putney to Mortlake, four and one-quarter miles. Oxford won the toss, and it was generally declared that this practically assured the race for her, as her crew, of course, took advantage of the brisk wind that was blowing. Oxford has now won thirty-two out of the fifty-five races rowed, and has been the winner nine years in succession. The time was 23 mins. 15 secs.

Maidstone Remains Conservative.

London, March 28.—In the polling at the election Saturday for the seat in the House of Commons for Maidstone, formerly held by Sir Frederick Seager Hunt, Conservative, F. S. W. Cornwallis, the Conservative candidate, defeated his Radical opponent, John Barker, by a majority of 178 votes. Sir Frederick Hunt was returned without opposition at the last election.

A vacancy has been caused in the House of Commons by the acceptance of the Chiltern Hundreds by Henry Seton-Karr, Conservative, who had occupied the seat for St. Helens since 1885. Mr. Seton-Karr's resignation is due to ill health.

SIR FRANK SMITH ON THE YUKON BILL.

A CONSERVATIVE SENATOR'S SENTIMENT.

Sir Frank Supports the Bill for Public Reasons—He Speaks as a Merchant—In Favour of the Immediate Construction of the Railway.

In the Senate on Thursday in the debate upon the second reading of the Yukon Railway bill, Senator Sir Frank Smith, of Toronto, spoke. He is a prominent and able Conservative, so prominent and able that His Excellency the Governor-General regarded him as the most prominent member of the Conservative party, and on the death of Sir John Thompson, called upon him to form a government, but on his declining, Sir Mackenzie Bowell was called in. Sir Frank's remarks in the Senate were not long, but they were pregnant with common sense practicality, and coming from so prominent a Conservative, and an opponent of the Government, has special weight, for it cannot be urged that any other motive could influence him than a desire to promote the best interests of the country. Sir Frank Smith in the remarks in question spoke to this effect in favour of the Yukon bill:

"Sir Frank regarded it as his duty on this important occasion to explain the reasons why he was in favour of the Government measure. He was not acting as a partizan but in what he considered to be the interests of the country. He had no friends in the Government, nor was he interested in the contractors securing this railway, except for public reasons. Speaking as a merchant he wanted to see the gold fields of the Yukon developed, and, in order to secure that, rapid transportation facilities were urgently required. The immediate construction of the railway he regarded as a necessity to the development of that country in the interests of Canada. It was urged in reply to the plea of urgency for this railway that it could not be finished in time to be of any use this fall before the close of navigation. If that was true it was simply an argument against further postponing the work of construction, which, if left over until next session, would preclude the completion of a railway into that country for three years. He wished to raise his voice in favour of the immediate construction of this railway, because it meant that Canada would be enabled to take advantage of the rush of miners to that country in search of gold, to secure a class of settlers and a mining population of a plucky and sturdy character, which would not only develop the resources of the Yukon, but whose presence there would contribute to the wealth and prosperity of the whole of the Dominion.

AN INDEPENDENT ENDORSEMENT.

In this connection it will be interesting to print the remarks of the Montreal Witness (evidently a fuller report) upon Sir Frank's speech—a journal that has shown no special partiality towards the government:

Sir Frank Smith's powerful appeal to the Senate to pass the Yukon Railway bill is full of common sense and wisdom which made Sir Frank one of the most valued counsellors of the late Sir John Macdonald. Apparently upon every ground he is strongly opposed to the rejection of the measure. He declares the urgent necessity of opening up and developing the Canadian Yukon by a Canadian route which determined the Government's prompt undertaking. He defends the route chosen, declaring that the Edmonton route cannot be opened up rapidly enough, and is, therefore, impracticable. The bargain did not seem to him an extravagant one, as there was no knowing what the land was worth, and "if the bargain was not the best that could be made, it was the best for the time being." It would be a great mistake to block the project, as immigration might be unfavourably affected. From a political point of view Sir Frank was equally or even more emphatic in his disapproval of the course which the majority of the Senate have evidently decided upon. He was in favour of allowing the Government to bear the responsibility. If it was a bad thing the Government would be blamed; if it was good the country would get the benefit. Sir Frank protested against the spirit which, consciously or unconsciously, dominated the course of the majority of the Senate, which at the present time is throwing itself across the pathway of the Government, not in one matter, but in two at least. "I have no other object in view," declared the honourable Senator, "than the interests of Canada. Therefore, although we have power in this House, I say we should not use our power just to block the Administration that happens to be another party," and he concluded by declaring that "he intended to consider all the measures brought before the Senate aside from politics, and that after the Liberals had been eighteen years in Opposition they ought to be allowed now to govern the country until they were replaced by others." That is the true constitutional attitude of a Senator, and the wise one, too, from the point of view of party as well as of the country. But some of our Senators seem envious of the reputation of those at Washington. There is little or no hope of the majority of them listening to or following their wisest leader in this matter.—Montreal Witness.

WHILE we in Peterboraugh open our windows to listen to the carol of the birds and delight our eves with the grass growing green, and the flowers bursting into bloom on the elm and soft maple, less favoured countries sitting further south, in a land which sneers at us as "little frozen Canada," are shivering and shaking with blizzards and below zero temperature. Last Thursday in Kansas the worst blizzard of the year "showed up" and the thermometer dropped 42 degrees in two hours. "Our Lady of the Sunshine" is basking in serene airs, and at this minute it looks as if the lawn mower would have to be used before we get a chance to use the lawn roller.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts man's capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run-down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of a way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OUT TO SEA ON THE ICE

Fifty Sealers Caught in a Blizzard While on Ice Floes.

DIED SUFFERING TERRIBLY.

Many of Those Who Were Not Frozen to Death Will Have to Go Maimed Through Life—The Gruesome Story of the Greenland—A Heart-rending Sight at St. John's, Nfld.

St. John's, Nfld., March 28.—The Greenland, sailing from Bay de Verde, Sunday morning, arrived here Sunday afternoon. The ship's deck, deck-house and small cabin presented the grim appearance of a charnel house. The corpses were disposed of in all the available space, covered with canvas and cloths. There were 25 of them on board, while there are 23 others somewhere on the waste ice, drifting on the Atlantic or at the bottom of the sea, few of which will ever likely be recovered.

Pitiful scenes, which rent the hearts of the onlookers, were enacted on the wharf as the Greenland steamed into dock.

THE FIRST ACCOUNT.

The Terrible Disaster as Reported From the Bay de Verde.

St. John's, Nfld., March 28.—The steamer Greenland, returning from the seal fishery, put into Bay de Verde Saturday night and reported a terrible disaster. On Wednesday last, when among the ice floes, while her crew were traveling about the floes in search of seals, a terrible storm arose, accompanied by a blinding snow, which drifted rapidly, and a severe frost. The members of the crew who were on the ice could not regain the vessel and were exposed to the terrible weather throughout the night and all of the next day. Forty-eight men perished and between 50 and 60 were so badly frost-bitten that the amputation of one or more of their limbs will have to be undergone by all of them. The Greenland succeeded in recovering the bodies of 25 of the victims, but the remaining 23 were buried beneath the snowdrifts.

All of the frost-bitten men now aboard the steamer are suffering terribly, having been without proper medical attendance.

From the circumstances of the disaster it is feared that other steamers have suffered in a similar manner. The city is in a terrible state of excitement. The disaster is the worst recorded in the history of the sealing industry. Most of the victims were married men.

The Greenland was among the fleet of sealing steamers which sailed for the sealing grounds on March 1st. Her crew consisted of about 300 men, most of them trained seal hunters, who had for years gone to the ice fields, and who depended largely on the result of their annual voyage for the subsistence of themselves and their families. The seals were scarce and the crew began to fear it would be forced to return home with empty holds, but last Tuesday the luck changed. The Greenland, skirting the edge of a vast field of hack ice, came upon a section on which immense fields of seals were disporting themselves.

The crew at once threw itself on the ice and the work of killing and securing its prey began and continued all through the day. Suddenly, several men out of nearly 150 who had been devoting their efforts to killing seals on one piece of ice, a mile or more in extent, discovered that they were adrift. The alarm spread quickly, but the danger had been realized too late.

The ice floe on which they worked had broken away from the main field which stretched for miles behind them. Darkness was shutting down and they were hardly able to discern the outlines of the Greenland, which was some distance away, picking up men from other sections of ice. The officers of the Greenland also failed to discover the danger that had befallen part of her crew until it was too late to render them assistance.

The Greenland failed to find the helpless men, though a search was continued unceasingly until morning. Piercing cold added its horrors to the open sea and rain came in a pitiless downpour; their clothing froze to their bodies and they cast themselves on the ice in despair. As night advanced the storm became worse and then the ice floe began to separate into small sections on which were from a score to half a hundred men, who by this time were perishing from the frightful exposure. They kept up their calls for help till their numb lips almost refused to utter a sound and their words came like whispers. Those who managed to keep their feet, wandered helplessly over the ice in the vain hope of reaching help and sending succor to more whom they feared were dying. Their freezing limbs and ice-incased clothes prevented them from moving freely, but some of those who survived owe their lives to the efforts they made to keep in motion and prevent the blood from freezing in their bodies.

Now and then one would stumble and fall, endeavor to rise, then sink back on the wet, hard ice, with a dying prayer or a groan of agony. No pen can picture the awful sufferings of those on the drifting floes, the night seemed without end, when morning came it found corpses strewn over the face of the ice, while half-unconscious men were lying around in scores, and those still able to move were struggling aimlessly hither and thither, seeking to keep life in their bodies.

The Greenland was not long in sighting the drifting ice and hurried to the rescue. Then the sad work of picking up the dead and half-dead victims began. It was a task that occupied several hours, but eventually all the bodies of the dead and the scarcely alive bodies of the living were picked off the ice. The steamer made all haste for land, reaching Bay de Verde Saturday.

The latest reports state that no less than 40 lost their lives, while 70 more of the sailors are terribly injured by the effects of the exposure. The limbs of the larger number of these have been so fearfully frozen that amputation of scores of legs and arms will be necessary. Some of the men were frozen in all parts of the body and in the face.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No clash is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

Young Men.

Rev. Mr. Dykeman of the Murray street Baptist church, addressed a meeting of the young men at the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon at 4.15 p. m. His subject was "Looking Unto Jesus," which was presented in a masterly manner under five different heads. Several historic references from sacred and profane history were introduced to illustrate his subject The Spirit's power was felt in the meeting and at its close several testified to having seen Jesus and found in Him their living personal Saviour. It is to be hoped that more of the young men of the town will in future avail themselves of these excellent opportunities of hearing interesting and instructive addresses prepared especially for them by local clergy. They are not aware of what they are missing until they have heard them.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

Mr. J. D. Baptie Secures them at an Advance of $20 Over Last Year.

The market tolls were auctioned off this morning in the council chamber by Mr. John Haggart. The price realized was thirty dollars in advance of that of last year.

Before the bidding started Mr. H. Nesbitt and Mr. W. H. Green objected to certain clauses in the by-law which they thought threw too much responsibility on the market clerk. The Town Solicitor pointed out that there had been no change in this respect for ten years. The bidding then commenced by Mr. J. D. Baptie making an offer of $1000. It looked as though he was to secure the market privileges at this figure as it was not until the last call that Mr. —. McIlmoyle raised to $1,100. The price then advanced by jumps of $100 to $1,600, which was offered by Mr. Baptie. The advance in offers then dropped to $50 and was bid in turn by Mr. Baptie and Mr. McIlmoyle until $1,800 was reached, when, Mr. Green offered $1,810. The contest now became a three-cornered one and the bids advanced $10 at a time until Mr. Green reached his limit at $1,970. The bidding was lively between Messrs. Baptie and McIlmoyle, but the former stopped Mr. McIlmoyle at $2,020 and secured the privileges.

Last year the tolls brought $1,990, but they are much more valuable this season on account of the greater privileges given the market clerk.

HAS ESTHER YOUNG COMMITTED SUICIDE?

Peculiar Circumstances of Her Disappearance.

SHE WRITES A STRANGE LETTER.

A Note Which She Leaves States that She has gone to the Country But There are Traces of a Woman's Footsteps Leading to the River from Mr. H. Newton's Residence.

The friends of Miss Esther Young, in town are gravely apprehensive that she has in a moment of despondency taken her own life.

The young woman has been rooming in Mr. Henry Newton's residence Hunter street, for the last five weeks. Last night at about twelve o'clock he heard her open the door and go out and coming in again, he again heard her leave the house at about half past two. He thought no more of the matter until his daughter stated that there had been no stir in Miss Young's room since morning, and that she was afraid she was dead. On going in Mr. Newton found a note on the bed stating that the writer (Miss Young) had gone by an early chance, and directing that some butter and grain in her room be taken and applied on her room rent. Her trunks were all packed and as she had frequently expressed a desire to spend the summer in the country nothing was thought of the circumstance until Mr. Newton received a letter from the young lady through the post office a little later in the day, which was so incoherent as to lead him to believe that the girl must have been out of her mind when it was written. She recommended the family to try a milk diet and, having faith, this would be more nutritious than anything else which could be partaken of. The letter concluded by stating that the writer would not die a natural death.

On reading this Mr. Newton's fears were aroused that Miss Young had done away with herself and on going down to the river bank he could trace the imprints of a woman's boots in the mud to the water's edge. As Miss Young had been down to the river quite frequently of late, he concluded that she had been meditating on for some time, and communicated his opinion on the matter to the police.

Miss Young came to Peterborough in January from the vicinity of Havelock, and boarded for a time with Mrs. Dobbin, Jas. Burn's mother-in-law. Afterwards she took a room at Mr. Newton's. She was always very quiet, and was in delicate health. Her object in coming to Peterborough was to obtain music pupils, but in this she was not successful, and it is thought that this fact inclined her to despondency, which on account of her feeble health she found it unable to throw off.

The young woman was about thirty years of age, tall and fair, wore dark clothing, black coat and black fur cape, large black velvet hat with a white bird in it. She has a brother by the name of William E. Young, residing in Rockdale, and a telegram has been sent to him apprising him of the circumstances of the case.

Mr. Newton was not the only one who received a letter this morning from Miss Young, as Mrs. Dobbin and Miss Lendrum received fac-simile copies of the same epistle.

Miss Young was a regular attendant at the George street Methodist church, and also at times attended service at the Christian Alliance Hall. Last evening she was at the George street church.

As far as is known she had no friends in Peterborough. No one was ever known to call upon her or be seen with her on the street.

THE WAY IT GROWS.

The result of the appeal against the recount in West Huron was the decision of Mr. Justice Osler that Mr. Garrow, the Liberal candidate, gets the seat upon the casting vote of the returning officer. This makes the standing of the parties in the Legislature as below:

Liberal	51
Conservatives	42
Patron	1
Liberal majority over all	8

On Saturday protests were filed in the case of South Brant, Monck, East Hastings, West Hamilton and East York. The protests entered so far amount to ten, of which eight are on behalf of Conservatives; but it is probable that many of these, as in the case of South Brant, Premier Hardy's constituency, will amount to a mere formality. The pending appeals against recounts in West Elgin and South Perth, if they are in favour of the Opposition, will not affect the Government majority, for they are still counted in the Conservative column. If both are in favour of the Government, the majority will be increased to ten, a fairly comfortable figure, which will be sure to grow when the final result of the protested elections begin to be rounded up.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Nellie Stewart, of Otonabee, and Mr. Archie Stewart.

On Thursday evening, March 24th, about forty friends and relatives assembled at Riverview, the home of Mrs. Wm. Stewart, to witness the marriage of her second daughter, Miss Nellie, to Mr. Archie Stewart of Vancouver, B.C.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance of Peterborough.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Ormiston Stewart, and she was assisted by her sister, Miss Eva, while Mr. Alex. Laing, of Springville, acted the part of groomsman.

After the usual congratulations, all sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The bride was the recipient of numerous costly presents.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Richard Clegg, of Ingersoll, is in town for a day or two visiting relatives.

Mr. Hugh O'Leary, Q.C., of Lindsay, is in town to-day on his way to Toronto.

Rev. S. J. Shorey will deliver his lecture "Watch and Wait," at Selwyn on April 5th.

Mr. Wm. Quinn was over from Lindsay to spend Sunday, and states that it is almost as difficult to secure a house there as in Peterborough.

The wedding took place last week of Mr. R. Collinge, of Madoc, to Miss Kate McLean of the same town. The groom is well known to all the lacrosse boys.

Mrs. W. Carscallen (Miss Mina Easpey), of New Westminster, B.C., stayed off over Sunday, en route for Napanee. She spent a pleasant couple of days calling upon her former Napanee friends, now in town.

Dr. P. D. Goldsmith, of Belleville, spent Sunday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis. He returns home in the morning. Mrs. Goldsmith who has been visiting here during the last week leaves for a trip to Toronto in a few days.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. Wm. Quinn, of Peterborough, for the past five years inspector of instruments for the Bell Telephone Co. in this district, has been promoted to succeed Mr. M. E. Quirk as manager of the Lindsay exchange, and arrived here Saturday, to enter upon his duties. During the afternoon he called upon many of the company's patrons and made a most favorable impression. We understand that he will remove his family to Lindsay next month.

RICHARD HALL & SON, 130 and 134 SIMCOE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

A CREDITABLE CATHOLIC SOCIETY

The Members of the Catholic Association Attend Holy Communion in St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday.

At 8 o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday (Passion Sunday) the members of the Catholic Literary Association received Holy Communion.

The members of the Society, who presented a fine appearance with their white badges, mustered in the convent hall and marched to the church, Mr. P. Doris acting as marshal. The mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and at its conclusion the Society marched back to the convent, where a vote of thanks was passed to the Sisters for the use of the hall.

At Vespers His Lordship stated that he was overjoyed to see so many members of the Catholic Literary Association turn out to receive Holy Communion. It was a source of happiness to him as well as to the clergy to know that the society was progressing. Whilst the members during the week benefitted themselves both from a literary and moral standpoint, they showed by the turn out that morning of both the young and more advanced members, that they were not indifferent Catholics, but sound, practical members of the church. He was proud of that fact and of the good work the C.L.A. was doing in elevating the young men, and in providing them with means whereby they can resist the temptations which surround them in dangerous places of amusement. He was sure that the parents were also proud of the fact that their children were members of the Literary Association. He would pray that God's blessing would in future be with the Society.

DEATH OF WM. WAND.

He Passed Away Sunday Morning at the Toronto General Hospital.

The death of one of Ashburnham's most highly respected residents occurred at two o'clock yesterday morning at the Toronto General Hospital where Mr. Wand passed away at the age of 69 years.

Mr. Wand has been a sufferer from Bright's disease for some time, and last week an operation was performed on him at the Toronto General Hospital. He never rallied from the effects, and appeared to sink steadily until his demise on Sunday, his family being with him from Saturday morning.

The remains were brought from Toronto on the midnight C.P.R. express last night, and the funeral will take place from the family residence, Ashburnham, at 2 30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The deceased was a native of Wiltshire, England, and came to Peterborough in 1851 to work for his uncle, the late Henry Collins, father of Mr. Wm. Collins, lockmaster.

So steadily did he apply himself to his work as carpenter that he speedily rose to the top of the ladder and became one of the competent building contractors of the district, his integrity and straightforward business methods gaining for him many friends. He built the Bible Christian churches in both Ashburnham and Peterborough. He was converted in 1852 and became a member of the Bible Christian church, of which he was an official until the time of the union, when he was elected to a position on the Quarterly Board of the Mark street church, which position he held continuously ever since.

Deceased was married twice, first in 1853 or '4 to Miss Jane Sturdy, his second wife being Mrs. Robert Patterson, to which latter union were born two daughters who both reside at home.

Mr. Wand was a gentleman of unbending integrity and praise of his upright character could hardly be exaggerated.

OBITUARY.

The Late Robert Weir.

Yesterday Mr. Robert Weir, one of the oldest residents of Otonabee township, passed away at his residence, about two miles from Keene, at the venerable age of 90 years. The deceased was a native of Scotland, and came to this country in an early stage of its settlement.

Death of a Descendant of Old U. E. Loyalists Stock.

Hugh McIlmoyle, Sr., who died on the 21st March, who born on the 29th of Sept. 1812, on a farm, opposite the light house, between Cobourg and Port Hope. His father and grandfather were U. E. Loyalists. His father was a Sergeant in the Loyal Rangers, and his services were given to the British during the whole time of the American Revolution. Their property at Saratoga, after the war was over, was confiscated and they removed to Canada, settling first at Prescott. His father subsequently took a farm near Cobourg where his family of four children were born, and in 1833 removed to lot 21, concession 10, of the township of Smith. He lived 66 years on the same farm. He was twice married and had 13 children 8 of whom are living, four by his first marriage, and four by the second. His life as a farmer was uneventful. Throughout his whole life he always voted reform. In religion he was Episcopal. He was buried in the Lakefield cemetry.

Demise of A. W. Dafoe, of Belmont Township, on Tuesday.

Death has taken from Belmont township one of the most prominent residents, in the person of the late A. W. Dafoe, of Victoria, who leaves behind a wife and three children to mourn his loss. The deceased had only been ill about ten days and though everything that medical skill could do was done for him, the grim monster, death, claimed him on Tuesday morning at about 11 o'clock. Mr. Dafoe was born in the township of Sidney, Sept. 24th, 1839, being at his death 68 years, 5 months and 26 days old. The deceased has been a resident of Belmont for over forty years, and during that space of time he had been an active official member of the Methodist church. He served in the municipal council of Belmont and Methuen for a number of years, and a member of the Victoria school board for many years. Mr. Dafoe was married to Margaret McTaggart in 1857, by whom he had one son (Brydan Dafoe, now of Dakota.) The deceased's wife died a few years later, and he was married to Kathleen Doupe, of Belmont, on May 15th, 1879, who with Annie and Howard Dafoe survive him. Mr. Dafoe assisted at the organization of the Victoria Epworth League a couple of weeks ago, and he went home to return no more to worship God in this lower congregation, but he has gone to join that church above, where he will be forever with the Lord. The funeral took place Thursday from his late residence to the church, where a funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Sanderson, of Rialrton, after which interment took place in the Victoria cemetery.

MISS RUDKIN'S MILLINERY.

Great Expectations Realised — The Styles for Spring Well Represented.

The millinery parlours of Miss Rudkins are enjoying a larger amount of praise from the ladies this season than ever. The enterprising proprietess has every reason to be satisfied not only with the report of the jury of ladies, but also with the numerous substantial orders placed so early in the season.

The store is vocal with springtime novelties, which have been witnessed by scores of welcome visitors from both town and county during the three festal days of the opening. Miss Rudkins was ably assisted this year by Miss Home, the new head of the department, who enjoys the benefit of a valuable city experience with Messrs. Simpson & Co., of Toronto. The decorations around the showrooms were evidence of the excellent taste displayed. Greater skill than usual was shown in the arrangement of the tables and show cases and exclamations of sheer delight at the smartly trimmed headgear, the banks of blooming flowers and the pretty silk and ribbon effects, were heard on every hand.

The trimmed hats and bonnets in this advance spring display embraced faithful ideas of the latest styles for the season. An exquisite showing of sailors, walking hats, turbans, etc., caught the fancy, in which the popular colours were cleverly interwoven. Now, bright and varied flowers, ribbons, tips, ospreys and plumes are present in bewildering quantity. White Leghorn picture hats were quickly picked up, and the numerous sales effected during the last three days was the best compliment to the establishment. Music was blended with the [illegible] of the show rooms—Miss Butler [illegible] at a handsome cabinet grand, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. G. W. Mallligan.

CLOSING DEBATE.

The Last Meeting of the Season for the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club.

The Y.M.C.A. debating club held its closing meeting in the Bible class room, Friday evening. Mr. Williamson presided as Mr. Dixon the President was unavoidably absent.

The Chairman expressed ratification at the measure of success that had attended the sessions of the society, although the late elections had caused several meetings to be cancelled.

The society had been late in organising last year, but altogether ten sessions had been held, two of which were public.

An early beginning this autumn would ensure a successful society a good foundation having been laid in the season just closed.

The subject for debate was "Resolved that a constitutional monarchy as it is in England is preferable to a Republic as it is in the United States."

All the speakers made good addresses. Affirmative—Messrs. W. H. Hill and G. S. Bell. Negative—Messrs. C. H. Bradburn and Fred. Ray.

The decision was left to the audience and it was very graciously given to the negative.

TEACHERS' TROUBLES.

Teaching School a Severe Tax on the Nervous System.

How Teachers may Prevent the Breakdowns and Collapse which often Threaten.

The worry and work, the strain and anxiety of a teacher's life are such as to tell severely on the nervous system. Time and again teachers have had to give up good positions on account of run down health and shattered nerves. To such we confidently recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and in doing so we are supported by the testimony of Mrs. Reilly, Colborne Street, Chatham, Ont., who made the following statement:—"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are, beyond question, the best remedy for nervousness and all exhausted conditions of the system I know of. My daughter, as a result of over study and close application to her duties as school teacher, became much run down and debilitated and was very nervous. Two months ago she began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They acted quickly and effectually in her case, making her strong and building up her entire system." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure Palpitation, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Anaemia, Female Troubles, After Effects of Grippe, Debility, or any condition arising from Disordered Nerves, Weak Heart, or Watery Blood. Price 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

DRUMMOND RAILWAY

Investigation Continued by the House Committee.

GOVERNMENT'S GOOD BARGAIN

Was Testified to by Mr. William Wainwright, Assistant General Manager of the Grand Trunk—Engineer Archibald's Observations From the Rear End of a Passenger Train.

Ottawa, March 26.—The Drummond County Railway Committee's meeting yesterday was less interesting than had been expected. Mr. Farwell and Mr. Newton, whose evidence was expected to be of importance, were not present. Mr. Wainwright of the Grand Trunk, however, gave important evidence as to the value of the road and of the terminal facilities at Montreal. He said the Drummond County line was in his opinion the shortest, easiest and cheapest run line to St. Lambert that could have been acquired, and now that the Grand Trunk were out of the competition he would admit that it was the cheapest means for the Intercolonial to reach Montreal. Twelve thousand dollars, the rate paid, was a very cheap rate for a railway.

Mr. Blair brought out the fact that in the negotiations between the Government and the Grand Trunk the Grand Trunk refused to sell the line between Ste. Rosalie and Richmond, as it is part of the main line, and put a value of from two to two and one-half millions on the line between Levis and Richmond.

Engineer Archibald.

The evidence of Mr. Peter S. Archibald, late Chief Engineer on the Intercolonial, who was summoned at the request of the Opposition, was almost farcical. His examination was conducted by Mr. Haggart, as follows:

Q—Did you ever go over the Drummond County Railway? A—No, I did not, except in the train coming here the other day.

Q—Did you ever examine part of it at any time? A—No, no more than a mile or so of it.

Q—You were never requested by Mr. Schreiber to make an examination of it? A—No, I was not.

Q—Were you by anyone else? A—No.

Q—You went over the road, did you, the other day? A—Yes.

Q—What is your opinion of the road? How does it compare with the Intercolonial?

Mr. Blair—Did you say you examined it?

Mr. Haggart—He said he came over the road the other day. I want to know if he can pass an opinion on it from passing over the road.

The witness—I stood on the tail end of the train for the first forty miles west of Chaudiere. I saw a good deal of it; the snow had pretty well disappeared. I would not call it a road up to the standard of the Intercolonial at the present stage.

By Mr. Morrison—You were a passenger on the train? A—Yes.

By the Chairman—This forty miles is the western portion next to Montreal? A—No, the other part, the new part.

By Mr. Haggart—Is it nearly finished? A—There is a great deal of work to be done on it to bring it up to the standard of the Intercolonial.

Q—Were they working on it? A—No, there was nothing doing at it.

Q—What about the part of it next to Montreal? A—I did not see very much of it. I am not in a position to give any opinion just now. I noticed the right of way was very narrow.

Q—Did you notice the roadbed? A—It is crooked in places.

Q—Has a road at all units the standard of the Intercolonial? A—No. I should not think so in its present condition.

Q—You know nothing as to the details of the road as you did not examine it. I understand you examined it? A—No, I did not.

By the Chairman—How much are your fees to come here? A—I do not know.

Q—How far did you come? A—About 900 miles.

Mr. Lister—What will become of all our surplus?

By Mr. Blair—You have volunteered the statement that this 43 miles of road are not up to the standard of the Intercolonial? A—I did not volunteer it; I was asked the question.

Q—Will you swear that you were asked a question by anybody here on this examination? A—I was asked, I think, what kind of a road it was.

Q—Will you swear that you were asked what kind of a road it was? A—I will not swear; it is down in evidence.

Q—Will you swear that you did not volunteer the statement? A—It is a very simple matter to look up the question.

Q—Will you swear? A—You can tell by looking up.

Q—What do you say? A—I swear I did not volunteer the statement.

Q—You say you stood on the back of the rear car of the train? A—Yes.

Q—How long did you stand there? A—Until I got to Moose Park.

Q—How long? A—About an hour and a half.

Q—You say the snow had disappeared along the track? A—Yes, all but the drifts.

Q—Do you know Mr. H. A. McLeod? A—Yes.

Q—If Mr. McLeod should go on the stand to verify a report made to the Government that with certain expenditure, which he included in his report and which was reserved by the Government for the purpose, the road would be brought up to the standard of the Intercolonial, would you venture to contradict him? A—I might, because I know more about the standard of the Intercolonial than he does.

Q—And from standing on the platform for an hour and a half you would undertake to contradict an engineer of his experience? A—If I saw fit. If I saw sand ballast on the road I would know, as an engineer of twenty years' experience on the Intercolonial Railway, that it would have to be removed or covered up.

Q—Is there any sand ballast on the Intercolonial Railway? A—No.

Q—Are there not miles on which there is nothing but sand ballast? A—Yes, but not hundreds of miles.

Q—I did not ask you about 50 miles or 100 miles, but is there a mile? A—No.

Q—Do you say there are 50 miles of sand ballast on the Drummond County? A—I say there are twenty miles.

By Mr. McIsaac—Mr. Archibald, were you in the employ of the Intercolonial Railway? A—Yes.

Q—Up to what time? A—Last year.

Q—Are you now in the employ of a company of which Sir Charles Tupper is President? A—No.

Q—Have you had any offer from them? A—I cannot say I have.

Mr. Lister suggested that if the witness was not going back to the east his fare should be paid only one way, and asked, Are you going west? A—No.

By Mr. McIsaac—Are you going there now? A—No.

Mr. Blair suggested that if the Conservatives had any more friends who would care for a free trip to Ottawa they should summon them to appear before the committee.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY CO.

The Annual Report Shows Increasing Earnings—Terms of the Wabash Agreement—The Management Is Praised.

London, March 26.—The report of the Grand Trunk shows the net revenue surplus for the half year ending December to be £275,268, being an increase of £236,177 over the corresponding period last year.

Passenger earnings decreased £151,728, compared with 1896.

The tons of freight and live stock have increased 410,960.

The Chicago Grand Trunk shows a deficit of £49,467, being £17,900 better than in 1896.

The Detroit, Grand Haven shows an increase in net revenue of £21,378, leaving a net deficit of £2,174 on revenue charges.

The directors report the agreement granting the Wabash Company joint use for 21 years of that portion of the Grand Trunk between Windsor and Black Rock station.

The Grand Trunk, in the Buffalo agreement, provides that the Wabash pay the Grand Trunk a rental commencing at $275,000 per annum, and increased at the end of every five years $25,000 a year until it reaches a maximum of $350,000 per annum, at which it will continue the remaining six years of the agreement. The directors regret to report that amicable relations with Canadian Pacific have been interrupted, in consequence of the unwillingness of the Canadian Pacific to agree with their American competitors and Grand Trunk on equal passenger fares to and from Western points. Negotiations are in progress which, it is hoped, will result in a satisfactory adjustment of the disputed matters. The directors record their high appreciation of the great ability displayed by Manager Hays in promoting the interests of the company and the exertions manifested by himself and staff towards the achievement of the remarkable results attending the working of the past half year.

VERDICT FOR DODD'S.

Mrs. Hooper Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NORWICH, March 14.—The evidence of J. Stanley Hooper, farmer, living near Norwich, in the case of Dodd's vs. Disease, was as follows:—

"My wife smarted for twelve years with Female weakness. The best doctors attended her. She used many remedies, but neither doctors nor remedies did her the least good.

"Finally I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box worked wonders. Four boxes cured her. She is as well now as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her."

The judge charged in favour of Dodd's. Verdict was unanimous—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for diseases of women."

Yours truly, (Signed) MRS. ANNIE MARSHALL.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

AMMONIA SAVED HIM.

A PENNSYLVANIA DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE WITH WOLVES.

Lost In a Wilderness, He Had to Abandon His Horse and For Forty-eight Hours Carried on a Contest With His Life as the Stake.

The following is a true wolf story written from data furnished by Dr. Thornton of Lewisburg, Pa., whose father figures as the hero:

"About the year 1845 wolves were abundant in Tomhickon valley, between Catawissa and Hazleton. When the Catawissa railroad, a part of the Philadelphia and Reading, was being built, Dr. Thomas A. H. Thornton, a practicing physician, one cold autumn night was called out of bed to visit a patient about 20 miles from his home. At that time there were no regular roads as we now have. In their place the traveler used narrow paths or trails. Dr. Thornton in his anxiety to reach the bedside of the sufferer attempted to make a short cut. He lost his way and for a week wandered through the wilderness and, having no gun, was obliged to subsist on roots and herbs. The doctor was on horseback and after wandering aimlessly about the pathless forests for four or five days got into a large swamp, where the horse stepped into a quagmire, from which his owner was unable to extricate him, and the animal had to be abandoned, imbedded as he was almost to his belly in the soft and boggy bed. The doctor removed the saddle bags containing his supply of medicine, etc., threw them over his shoulders and started off.

"Several hours after the doctor got out of the swamp where he had abandoned his horse he was horrified to see that he was being followed by a band of five or six wolves. At first they kept at a respectful distance when stones were thrown at them, but finally, as if they appreciated the helpless condition of their intended victim, and as darkness came on, the hungry, bloodthirsty band became bolder and bolder. They circled around the terrified and jaded man and, closing in, started to attack him on all sides. One more vicious and impulsive than the others made a spring at the doctor's throat, but a well directed blow from a club temporarily disabled the animal and caused his ravenous companions to discontinue at that time their premeditated and combined attack.

"The doctor, by this thrilling episode and the frightened condition of the wolves, succeeded in going perhaps a mile unmolested when, to his great horror, he found the whole pack, led by the vicious brute he believed he had maimed with his club, hot on his trail. The stunning blow administered to the leader of the howling band seemed to have only intensified the brute's courage and thirst for blood. The man, weakened by long exposure and loss of food, realized that he would soon be torn to pieces if he did not adopt some new means of defense.

"Fortunately, as the animals began closing around him for another onslaught, he reached a high rock and mounted on its top, where a giant tree served to protect him from falling backward. He reached this eminence in time to provide himself with some stones and two or three good clubs before his pursuers started to attack him. He stood back to the tree, and as the animals attempted to come up he drove them back with his primitive weapons. A large stone hurled with great force and accuracy broke the head of one of the assailants, and this gave the doctor a breathing spell.

"The man, however, realized that he must soon quit his refuge, and, remembering that he had in his saddlebags a large bottle full of ammonia, he determined to employ it as a final resort to save his life. He quickly removed one of his green baize leggings, tied it securely to a stick, and after saturating the legging with ammonia he boldly started down the rocky promontory toward the wolves. The cunning animals, apparently aware that he could be more easily overpowered on level ground, separated, slunk off and permitted him to proceed several hundred yards before they renewed the pursuit. They did not, however, allow much time to elapse before they took the trail of the man who had thus far so successfully baffled their powers.

"The doctor stood still and waited until one of the brutes rushed within an arm's length, when he struck him in the face with the cloth saturated with ammonia. This reception was a most novel and unique one for the wolf, who ran off howling with pain. Two more of the band were slapped across the mouths with the saturated baize, and they also left. After this experience the wolves followed the doctor till daylight next morning, when they gave up the chase, which they had continued for 48 hours and which unquestionably would have resulted in a most horrible death if it had not been for the contents of the ammonia bottle.

"Dr. Thornton succeeded in finding a shanty occupied by the men constructing the Catawissa railroad, where he was carefully cared for, and in the course of four or five days was taken to his home, where he was ill for fully a month."—Philadelphia Record.

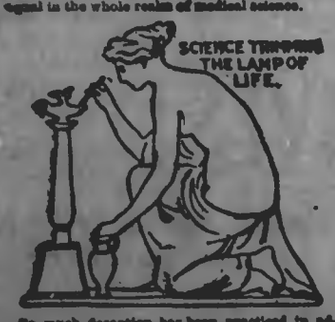
Free Trial To Any Honest Man

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.



So much deception has been practised in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliances and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliances and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy organs and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

When death comes to the door of a strong, rugged, healthy constitution he finds it closed. He is always sneaking around looking for openings through which he can invade happy homes and leave them forlorn and desolate. He looks for weak places and broken doors which can be easily battered down. When a man's vigor and energy begin to weaken and become uncertain, then the door to his vitality grows shaky and there is an opening for the grim visitor to enter.

It is commonly said that people die of this or that particular disease. The truth is they die of constitutional weakness. If more people realized this they would understand why the great "Golden Medical Discovery" invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., cures so many cases of lingering coughs, throat, bronchial, and kindred affections of the air passages. It gives thorough abundant constitutional vitality. It gives the digestive and blood-making organs, where consumption usually begins, power to do their work completely so that no poisonous dregs can get into the circulation to fasten on the lungs and vital tissues.

"I have been troubled with bronchitis for several years," writes Mrs. Orlin O'Hara, of Fergus Falls, Minn. (Box 114). "In the first place I had sore throat; doctored with different doctors and took various medicines, but got no lasting relief. We made up our minds to try the medicine advertised as Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After I had taken one bottle we thought we could see a little change. We sent and got another bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and also one of 'Favorite Prescription.' I took them alternately, and in a few days I began to see that I was better for certain. I took eight bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two of 'Favorite Prescription,' and, really, I have not felt as well in years. I sleep better than I have in twenty years."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1000 page illustrated book, will be sent free by the World's Dispensary Medical Association for 31 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of customs and mailing only, or a cloth-bound volume for 50 stamps.

Was Wasting Away.

"I could not eat, sleep, walk or sit down for any length of time. I was always in pain and was wasting away. I grew very weak and had a bad cough. I tried many different remedies, but did not get relief. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla however, I am able to attend to my business." Mamie Jaques, Ont.

HE HAD HIM THERE.

How a Passenger Got Even With a Street Car Conductor.

He was intent upon his newspaper when the conductor came along and stopped in front of him.

The conductor stooped down to get a better look at his face and said, "Fare, please."

The man with the paper paid no attention, and finally the conductor tapped him gently on the arm.

"Did I get your fare?" asked the conductor as the man with the paper looked up.

Now, if there is anything in this world that has a tendency to make a man who has paid his fare get angry it is to have the agent of the corporation to whom such fare was paid come along and ask him if he has paid it. It may be all right, but it always seems as if there was an inference that some one is trying to beat the road. Thus it happened that the man with the paper replied rather sharply:

"You ought to know."

"Oh, it's all right, sir!" explained the conductor hastily. "No intention to offend, you know. I merely wanted to make sure."

Then he returned to the platform, while the man with the paper returned to his reading.

A few minutes later the man with the paper went out on the platform himself, and just before reaching his corner he gently tapped the conductor on the arm, even as the conductor had tapped him.

"Did you ring up my fare?" he asked.

There were immediate indications that the conductor was getting mad. He tried to say something, but only spluttered.

"Oh, it's all right!" the man with the paper hastened to explain. "No intention to offend, you know. I only wanted to make sure."

Then he swung off the car, and when he reached home his wife detected traces of a faint smile on his face.—Philadelphia Times.

Bullets Point to Point.

A correspondent relates the following remarkable personal reminiscence of an incident which occurred during the Franco-German war: "A perfect stranger (an Englishman)," said he, "called upon me and handed to me a chassepot rifle, which he related he had picked up on the field of battle after Gravelotte, which had a bullet or two stuck in about the middle of the barrel and which he requested me to get removed. This was done, and upon examination two bullets were found to have met point to point. A German bullet must have entered the muzzle of the French rifle barrel just as the French rifle had been fired, and the two bullets had met together without bursting the barrel. I inclose my card."—London Telegraph.

Appendixless Appendicitis.

The staff of a medical institution in this city were nonplused a day or two since when they undertook to perform an operation for appendicitis. After a careful and minute search among the contents of the abdominal cavity no appendix could be found. There was inflammation and adhesions and all sorts of trouble with other organs, but appendix there was none, and so no appendicitis. This, however, is not likely to interfere with the appendicitis business, for there were lots of other superfluous things which, in the absence of an appendix, were removed, and the desired result was obtained.—Portland Oregonian.

The Game Law.

There are more objections to the game law this year than ever before. It is not an attack on the Government in any sense, for the Opposition is divided among itself on the subject. Mr. Kidd, of Carleton, has asked that deer may be killed in water. Mr. Carnegie has asked that settlers be allowed to kill deer a few days before the season opens. Mr. Langford has now placed on the order paper a notice asking that settlers be allowed to shoot the deer all through November.

Starving in Hamilton.

Hamilton, March 26.—It is a melancholy thing that a city of 50,000, full of churches, culture and wealth, should know anything of misery and starvation. Only last night two such cases were brought to light. One was that of an ex-hackman, who has been too ill to leave the house, and has with his wife lived for the past five days, until good friends came to the rescue, on one loaf of bread soaked in water.

The other was the case of an elderly charwoman, who, while scrubbing the floor of a store for a few coppers, fainted twice, and on being driven home it was discovered that she had lately given birth to a child and had had nothing to eat for nearly two days.

Orillia Postmaster Convicted.

Barrie, March 26.—Postmaster Goffatt of Orillia was last night found guilty of the minor offence of procuring and supplying the instruments to the late Fanny Young. The maximum penalty is two years in the penitentiary.

To Protect the Birds.

Toronto, March 26.—The Provincial Game Warden is taking steps to put a stop to the killing of insectivorous birds for the purpose of house decoration. At present permits may be obtained for killing birds for scientific purposes, and these permits have been abused. The only birds not protected are crows, English sparrows, hawks and blackbirds.

Pest on Cherry Trees.

Toronto, March 26.—The Department of Agriculture has been notified that a new pest, resembling a scale, has attacked cherry trees in Western Ontario. So far cherry trees are the only class affected, and the pest has not spread far. The department will take active measures to stamp it out.

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Robert Graham Receives a Chair and Purse from Lakefield Presbyterians.

Last Wednesday evening a social was held in the Lakefield Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavour Society.

A programme consisting of readings, solos, etc., was rendered after which a purse and easy chair, accompanied by the following address, was presented to Mr. Robert Graham on behalf the church and choir:

To Mr. Robert Graham:—

DEAR SIR,—The members and adherents of the Presbyterian church, Lakefield, take this opportunity of expressing to you their appreciation of your long and valuable services as leader of the choir. Your term of service extends beyond the recollection of the majority in the congregation to-day. For many years you have faithfully and ungrudgingly led the service of praise in this church.

We realise that in so doing you have only obeyed the will of the Master, who has enjoined us to devote all our talents and time and energy to His service and for His glory.

Nevertheless we are not unmindful of the assistance we have received from you in our service of praise during the past years, and we therefore ask you to accept this chair and purse as a small token of our appreciation of your work.

Our prayer is that you and your partner in life may be long spared to labour in this portion of the Master's vineyard and that we all may do our utmost to build up Zion and to hasten the coming of the Kingdom.

Signed on behalf of the session,
A. C. REEVES, Pastor.

Signed on behalf of the B. of M.,
A. FAIRBAIRN, Secretary.

Signed on behalf of the choir,
D. SMITH.

Lakefield, March 23rd, 1898.

Mr. Graham was completely taken by surprise, and in reply thanked the congregation for their expression of appreciation of him as leader of the choir, and for the handsome gifts accompanying it. He felt that he had been using the talent God had given him in the service of praise, and hoped that as long as health and strength would permit that he would use it in God's service.

At the close of the presentation the ladies served refreshments, after which the meeting was closed by singing and the pronouncing of the benediction.

Mr. Graham has been leader of the choir for the past 38 years and the congregation took this manner of showing their appreciation of his faithful service.

THE CATERPILLAR.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Your former correspondent views with considerable satisfaction, as you must also, the attack made on the caterpillar pest, and this in the right time when the work will be most effectual. There is one matter that may be overlooked that is still of very great importance in the fight with this scourge. It is the fact that the great breeding ground of the past has not been the fruit and shade trees of the town, for until the foliage of the fruit trees became too small in quantity to feed the increasing millions of the pest, the shade and forest trees were untouched by them, and the writer never saw them feeding upon maples, elms or basswood trees until the past year or two in this town. In other countries, where fruit growing is more of an industry than it is in Peterborough county, the farmers destroy the pests in the orchards yearly, and I never saw them so plentiful as they were here last season anywhere else. In fact it is a surprise to the writer that the orchards of this district produce as much and as good fruit as they do because of the little attention paid them in this particular as well as in others. The great reservoir where they accumulate to the great detriment of the public has been, until the last year or two, in the wild choke cherry and plum trees that infest the corners of fences and vacant lots in and around the town and the surrounding country, particularly along the roadways.

There should be a general effort to destroy this noxious shrubbery on the part of the town and the neighbouring municipalities. There are a few trees on vacant lots around town that the town should take steps to destroy at once. Less than half-a-dozen trees on a vacant lot east of George street and north of London street bred more caterpillars than would be required to re-establish the nuisance if every other cocoon about town had been destroyed last year.

Yours truly,
ARBOR.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

Christian Science.

The usual weekly meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, was held on Thursday, taking the place of the Friday night meeting. Rev. I. M. Stewart, principal of the Toronto Christian Science Institute was present. After being introduced by the reader of the above church, Mrs. Stewart gave a very instructive and interesting discourse, taking for her subject St. John 9th chapter, showing that we must be washed of materiality, which is not sight and not light, before we can know that sight is spiritual and not material. After holding the audience of intent listeners for half an hour, Mrs. Stewart gave a sketch of the history of the Toronto church, which is now being remodeled and enlarged—how that but 10 years ago the services were held in their own parlour, then outgrowing this moved from hall to hall until last year buying a church, which after being refitted will have a seating capacity of from six to eight hundred. Then for a few minutes before closing the opportunity was given for testimonials of healing. The first to respond were Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connor, of Toronto, giving their experience of being raised from darkness and disease to that understanding which makes men free, while the Peterborough people added their expression of joy for what Christian Science and "Science and health with key to the Scriptures" had done for them. The meeting closed at half past nine.—[COM.]

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigley, 20 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and ran down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

HOCKEY.

The Kingston Whig says: The Ontario Hockey Association is indebted to the Frontenacs to the extent of eight dollars. Three dollars of this sum was sent up as entrance fee for a senior team, which request was refused. The balance represents the sum deposited as a guarantee in the matter of the Lifton protest, which Frontenacs won. So far all attempt to collect the eight dollars has proved fruitless.

EX-CABINET MINISTERS SUED.

Floral Offerings at Sir John Thompson's Funeral Still Unpaid For—The Claim is Over $1,000.

Mr. W. H. Barry, of Ottawa, issued a writ on Saturday morning on behalf of Ann Davidson against Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Geo. E. Foster, Sir Adolphe Caron, John Costigan, Sir C. H. Tupper, John G. Ives, Sir John Carling, Sir Frank Smith, J. F. Wood, N. Clarke Wallace, J. C. Patterson, T. M. Daly, A. R. Angers and J. J. Curran, members of the late Conservative Cabinet, for $1,041, being the amount of an account for flowers furnished for the funeral of the late Right Hon. Sir John Thompson by the late W. R. Davidson, of Montreal.

The flowers were ordered, it is alleged, by the then Conservative Cabinet, and Judge Ouimet, who was then Minister of Public Works, was the only one who had paid his share, being credited with paying $75. Further particulars alleged in the writ are that Sir Mackenzie Bowell instructed officers of the Department of Public Works to order on personal account as well as those of the other defendants, a floral tribute, with the inscription, "A tribute of affection from his devoted colleagues," with the names of the defendants engrossed thereon.

Mr. Davidson filled the order, having to import some of the flowers. The action is entered by his widow as executor of the estate.

Skipping.

The merry season of skipping is in again. Children with their skipping lines twirling over their heads skip from foot to foot in blithesome glee, happy as the day is long. Then there is the gentleman whose landlord gets troublesome. He skips. And the gentleman who sees distant pastures and is struck with their peculiar greenness. He skips. And the young ladies whose gallants come to time, with the spring sun warming their blood. They skip. And the budding poets who come to this office, and find the sporting editor charging his six-shooter. They skip, and sakes, how nimbly they do it. Yes, skipping season is on once more, and life begins anew.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist Minister, 192 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Cured of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

THE PRESIDENT TO CONGRESS.

Spain Will Deal With the Reports as Honor Dictates.

SPAIN HAS NOW GROWN DEFIANT

Her Ministers Believe That They Have Reached as a Government the Extreme Limit of Concession Compatible With Honor—Mediation Will Be Difficult From This Time Out.

Washington, March 29.—The galleries and corridors of the House were crowded yesterday when the report of the Maine Court of Inquiry was handed in.

Message From the President.

The report of the Court of Inquiry was accompanied by a message from President McKinley, addressed to Congress.

The message concludes as follows: "I have directed that the findings of the Court of Inquiry and the views of this Government thereon be communicated to the Government of Her Majesty the Queen-Regent and I do not permit myself to doubt that the sense of justice of the Spanish nation will dictate a course of action suggested by honor and the friendly relations of the two Governments.

"It will be the duty of the executive to advise the Congress of the result, and in the meantime deliberate consideration is invoked. (Signed), William McKinley."

Both Referred.

Both in the House and Senate the report of the Maine Court of Inquiry and the President's accompanying message were referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs without debate or comment of any kind. The House immediately adjourned.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

Succinct Statement of their Real Course in the Unpleasantness Between Spain and the United States.

London, March 29.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: "I am able to state that the following is the real course of the negotiations: During the past week, on Wednesday, United States Minister Woodford had an official interview with the Ministers of Foreign Affairs and the Colonies, Senors Gullon and Moret, at the private residence of the former. It lasted two hours. General Woodford left with them an official note, explaining fully the views and intentions of the American Government.

"In this document no commentary intimation was made nor any date fixed, but it was clearly and finally stated that the United States Government could not longer withhold from Congress the correspondence and Consular reports, which not only put in full light the condition of the distressed rural population of Cuba, the inadequate relief and the persistence of the disaffection, but also showed that the new colonial policy and other efforts of Spain had not produced the results that would justify holding out the prospect of early pacification.

"Consequently the American note lays stress upon the fact that contingencies are now fast approaching for the action which was foreshadowed in Presidential messages and diplomatic correspondence so frequently, and clearly during the last three years.

"The American note and the language of General Woodford in his conferences with Senor Gullon leave no doubt that it is the intention of the Washington Government to act very soon, beginning with the communication of the above documents and the Maine report to Congress, and sending relief officially to the distressed Cubans.

"On Friday," continues the correspondent, "General Woodford had by appointment another official interview with Senor Gullon, in which he received the official reply of the Spanish Government to the American memorandum of March 23. The Spanish reply, couched in firm language, says that the Spanish Government cannot agree with the conclusions the American Government has drawn from inaccurate information that does not tally with the recent activity and progress of the military operations in Cuba, and the visible popularity and progress of the new colonial institutions which have been loyally accepted and are supported by even the old adversaries of home rule in the colony.

"'Spain,' the reply continues, 'cannot naturally admit the interference which is foreshadowed in the American note, and deprecates the sending of official relief and war vessels to Cuba as being the very elements that have retarded the pacification of the colony. Spain reminds the American Government of all the concessions she has made to preserve peaceful relations and to conciliate the United States, the last proof being her willingness to submit the conflicting commission reports as to the Maine to arbitration.'

"In conclusion, the Spanish reply shows that the Government believes it has reached the extreme limit of concession compatible with the honor and dignity of Spain, and will not admit encroachments on her rights of sovereignty in the west."

Mediation Will Be Difficult.

Madrid, March 29.—The Imparcial and the Liberal to-day agree in saying that the mediation of the European powers will be difficult, in view of the crisis in the far East, adding: "Anyway, Spain is able herself to resent insults and repudiate unjust pretensions."

Spain Owes the U. S. Reparation

London, March 29.—The St. James' Gazette, commenting yesterday afternoon on the report of the United States Naval Court of Inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine, says: "There can be no doubt Spain owes reparation to the American Government, to say nothing of the most humble apologies and the most extreme considerations for the feelings of the nation which has lost a fine cruiser, lying in peace in a presumably friendly harbor. The outlook is as threatening as could be, but Spain is in the wrong, and it is for Spain to walk warily."

MORE ELECTION PROTESTS.

Four More Filed With Registrar Grant at Osgoode Hall.

Toronto, March 29.—The election protests continue to come in as they fall due, four more having been filed with Registrar Grant at Osgoode Hall yesterday. They were: West Kent, East Hamilton, Dufferin and Prince Edward.

George Coleman, painter, is the petitioner against the return of Henry Carscallen, Q.C., in East Hamilton. Mr. Carscallen's majority over James T. Middleton, the Liberal candidate, was 880.

The accuser of William R. Dempsey of Prince Edward is J. D. Gilbert of Picton. Mr. Dempsey, Conservative, had 487 majority over John Caven, the Patron candidate.

In Dufferin, H. H. Walker, agent, claims the seat for the Patron candidate, Mr. Dynes. Dr. Barr, the Conservative member elect, won by a majority of 569.

The fourth petition filed was against the return of T. L. Pardo, Liberal, in West Kent. The petitioner is David Miller of Chatham. Mr. Pardo's majority was 983 over Dr. W. R. Hall.

In all four cases the usual grounds of corruption and illegality are alleged. Thus far the Conservatives have filed 9 protests, the Liberals 3 and the Patrons 3.

An Old Lake Captain Dead.

Chatham, March 29.—Captain Bernard King died here after a few days' illness of pneumonia. Deceased was born in Ireland in 1816, and came to Canada in the early twenties. He resided in St. Catharines for over half a century and has followed the lakes since 1837.

THE ESTIMATES BROUGHT DOWN.

A Decrease of a Million for This Year.

RAINY RIVER R. R. IN THE HOUSE

The Third Reading Carried—The Debate on the Yukon Bill in the Senate—Whiskey in the Yukon—Speeches by Senators McCallum, Power and Lougheed.

Ottawa, March 29.—When the House rose last night Mr. Fielding laid on the table the estimates for the public service during the year beginning on July 1st next. The total amount voted for the purpose during the current year was $45,980,733, of which $6,698,575 was for capital expenditures chiefly in canal deepening and extension of the Intercolonial. The total asked for this year is $44,912,571, or slightly over a million less than last year. The decrease is almost entirely in capital expenditure, the amount estimated to be required out of current revenue being $39,125,879 for 1898-99, as compared with $39,982,147 for the year 197-98.

The total amount for 1898-99 is $44,912,571, a decrease of $1,068,152. On consolidated fund account the decrease is only $150,000. The canals appropriation is $4,000,000, a decrease of half a million; $4000 appears for surveys and inspections of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway and $40,000 to defray the expense of an exploration survey from Edmonton, and $35,000 to a survey for a railway from the Stikine River to an ocean port in British Columbia. There is a $5000 increase in the St. Lawrence ship channel appropriation; $50,000 more is required for the Western Departmental Building.

RAINY RIVER ROAD.

Amendments to the Bill Rejected by the House—The Third Reading Carried.

Ottawa, March 29.—From the opening of the House yesterday afternoon until midnight the House was occupied with the discussion of the Rainy River Railway bill. Mr. Maclean's proposal to limit the toll for passenger traffic to two cents per mile and to reserve running powers over the line for other railways was the bone of contention and, after experiencing many adventures in the way of rules of order, was finally defeated by a vote of 65 to 16, and the bill passed a third time. The measure is regarded as so important by the Ontario and Western members that the discussion was followed closely

OUR MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE.

The Liberal Governments in both the Dominion and Ontario, are conspicuous for the practical character of their administrative capacity in the matter of agriculture. Hon. Mr. Fisher, as Minister of Agriculture in the Laurier Cabinet has shown many evidences of the practical manner in which the interests of the farming community are dealt with. The prompt manner in which the San Jose scale was collered, and the quietus put upon the butter bonus project, are recent evidences added to the complete arrangements in regard to cold storage facilities for shipment of butter and prints, which show that a practical farmer is the best fitted for the position of head of a department dealing with the interests of those who get their living directly from the soil. Ontario spends liberally to promote agricultural interests, and these interests have been especially fortunate in having so capable a minister as Hon. Jno. Dryden. His defeat at the last general election is a matter of great regret, but it was not due to lack of appreciation of his work by the Province, but to local causes and over confidence. That Mr. Dryden was highly esteemed for his work's sake is shown by independent authority. "Farming," a high class agricultural paper, thus refers to the subject in its last issue :

> Now that the result of the election in Russell county has made it certain that the present government will remain power for the next four years, there can be no two opinions as to who shall be Minister of Agriculture. We believe that we are voicing the wishes of the large majority of the farmers of this province when we state that the present incumbent of that office, the Hon. John Dryden, should be retained. It is a matter of deep regret that an element of doubt has arisen in regard to the matter as a result of the uncertainties of a general election, but the Government has it within its power to open up a constituency for him, and we believe that it is due to the important agricultural interests of this province that it should do so if Mr. Dryden is willing to remain in office.
> * * * The Hon. John Dryden has served his native province faithfully and well, and we have no hesitation in stating that no one in Ontario has done more for the advancement of our agricultural interests than he. Being a practical and successful farmer, as well as a thorough business man, he has combined liberality and an intimate knowledge of every branch of the work in his management of the Department of Agriculture. This has enabled him to deal generously with the various branches, and at the same time to expend wisely and effectively the moneys allotted to his Department.

In the interests of the farmers, and consequently in the interests of the whole Province, which depends so much upon the prosperity of the agricultural community, it is very desirable that the services of Mr. Dryden should not be lost to the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The "whirligig of time brings it's revenges." During the late lamented election contest a favourite bit of ammunition for little as well as big guns, was that the promise of the Government to build the western Normal School at London was mere bribery without any intention to "deliver the goods." A few days ago Hon Mr. Ross visited the city to select the site of the new building which is to be built and ready for occupancy by next August. The Ontario Government is not addicted to wholesale bribery by public buildings. The new Normal School is placed in London because it is a necessity for the western part of the province, the two other schools in the central and eastern portion of the province at Toronto and Ottawa, not being able to admit those who desire and are entitled to admission.

THE local W.C.T.U. are circulating for signatures a petition praying for the prohibition of the importation of intoxicating liquor into the Klondyke. The petition would seem to be unnecessary. The Dominion Senate in its threatened action to throw out the Yukon railway bill, is practically prohibiting the importation of anything into this region. Their rejection of the bill will cause the withdrawal of 2,000 men, whom Mackenzie and Mann have at work on the railway, shut off the great purchase of supplies incident to such employment. and besides affect the travelling and outfitting trade to the extent of millions of dollars. The Senate's prohibition will be drastic enough.

PHILIPS THOMPSON'S fund for the defense of Mrs. Sternaman, who is about to face a new trial penniless, grows slowly, only $22.50 having yet been forwarded. It is probable that the Crown may be called upon to pay the expenses of the defence.—Hamilton Times.

Do you know of any good reason why the Crown should not pay the expenses of the defense, not only of Mrs. Sternaman, but of any accused person? We do not.—London News.

[The law holds the accused innocent till guilt is proven. The aim of court trials is justice and, since justice consists as much as clearing the innocent, as in convicting the guilty, it would seem to be no more than reasonable that the state should pay the costs of the defence, as well as prosecution in criminal trials. Theoretically this seems proper on the face of it; how it would come out in practice is another thing. If the principle is right, however, details may be left to look out for themselves in connection with the operation of the machinery of British justice.

THE Toronto World says :

Mr. J. P. Whitney arrived in the city last evening and registered at the Queen's. When seen by The World, he said he knew of nothing interestingly new in the political situation. He is confident that the bye-elections will return him a majority in the next Assembly.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast." Mr. Whitney's thoracic cavity must be a bubbling fountain of this cheap commodity. He was cock-sure last fall that he was to be returned in triumph at the general elections. Hope fooled him that time. He was confident that the official returns would put his conquering heel on Mr. Hardy's neck. He was again out in his reckoning. Then the recounts were to give him a leg into the saddle of supremacy. They have made his case more hopeless. Now he falls back on the bye-elections. When the bottom falls out of this hope what will Mr. Whitney drop back upon next?

FAIR PLAY IN POLITICAL CONTESTS.

So far as legislative enactments go, the Liberal party has always stood for perfect fairness in election contests, while their opponents have stood for the very reverse. The Conservatives have been the apologists of open voting, of elections strung along so as to best suit the interests of the party in power, of the gerrymander and the Franchise act. The Liberals condemned all these iniquities, and so far as they have had opportunity have wiped them out. In 1874, in advance of legislation, they carried into effect the principle of simultaneous voting, which they had advocated while in opposition, although they might have benefitted by continuing the tactics of their opponents. To-day they are found seeking the removal of the Dominion Franchise Act, a piece of partizan machinery, which had been successfully employed against them for many years, and of which they might have taken advantage for their own purposes had they been so disposed. By their fruits ye shall know them.—Brantford Expositor.

A POOR PIECE OF BLUFF.

In the petition against the return of Hon. A. S. Hardy for South Brant it is charged that the Premier and the members of the Cabinet "did with intent to obtain a fund to be expended in bribery and corrupt practices enter into an understanding with certain lumbermen, directors and railway capitalists of the United States and Canada, by which in return for divers benefits, large sums were to be given to a central fund controlled by the members of the Council."

This is a sad blunder from the standpoint of the Whitney managers. If they had not been so foolish and ill-advised as to put this miserable libel into a legal document they could have gone on iterating and reiterating the falsehood for years to come. Now they must either establish or abandon the charge. And we know what will happen. No witness will ever be called to establish the slander. Not one bit of evidence will be adduced to show that Mr. Hardy and his Ministers got money from the Michigan lumbermen. No member of the Government will ever be asked to get into the box and

DENY THE CHARGE.

Mr. Whitney and his advisers will take care not to use the courts to have themselves convicted of deliberate slander.

A few years ago a wild cry was raised by the Tory managers over the alleged use of "Yankee money" in a Federal election by Sir Richard Cartwright. That charge was also put into an election petition, and the petition was quietly dropped, and there was an end of it. The lie had served its political purpose and so was thrown out of service. So the charges of corruption in connection with the Crow's Nest Railway and the Yukon bargain will meet a speedy death if anyone is ever rash enough to take them before the courts or before a Parliamentary committee. That kind of free-tongue lying can be employed in the press and on the platform, but it is never used in circumstances where the truth can be indubitably established.

Our own opinion is that the recent Provincial contest was upon the whole a clean and straightforward election on both sides. Not for twenty years have the Liberals of Ontario had even a reasonable fund for legitimate purposes in any election, Federal or Provincial. It may be that in a few constituencies wealthy candidates on both sides, or candidates who had, say, a distillery to draw upon, spent money more or less freely. But these were isolated instances. In the great bulk of the constituencies the contests were singularly free of corruption.

THE WAR OF PROTESTS

now in progress is a game of children or of fools, according to your point of vision. The lawyers may make something out of the business, although it is fair to say that it is the politicians and not the lawyers who are responsible for the proceeding. In a few ridings, where there is reasonable ground to suspect corruption, and in a few where the majorities for the successful candidates were small, it was expected that protest proceedings would be taken. But in the main nothing but a crop of sawoffs will result from what is now going on, and so far as seats may be voided, it is pretty certain that Mr. Whitney, who is clearly the aggressor in this policy of protests, will not benefit. He is tempting fate, and he will find that the bye elections will not improve his position. The protests will prove at least one thing—that there is no general corruption in elections in Ontario, and that the talk about a Michigan corruption fund was cant, lying and humbug.—Globe.

The man or woman who does not use Paine's Celery Compound to banish the tortures and miseries of dyspepsia and indigestion at this season is certainly destined to go into the summer months a nervous, weakened, despondent and miserable wreck.

The galling bonds of dyspepsia reduce nerve force and power, promote heart difficulties, and the blood becomes stagnant and impure. Paine's Celery Compound works speedily a sure and permanent cure, builds up the body, and gives a store of health and strength that makes living a pleasure. Miss Lizzie Muir says :

DEAR SIRS,—For the benefit of sufferers I gladly give my experience with Paine's Celery Compound. After suffering from dyspepsia for fifteen years, and meeting with many failures with other medicines, I decided to use Paine's Celery Compound, having heard of so many cures by its use. The Compound, after I had used it for a time, produced miraculous results and banished all my troubles. From a condition of helplessness—being unable to sleep or eat—I now feel well and strong. I am astonished at the result, as my trouble was an old and chronic one.

THE ESTIMATES BROUGHT DOWN.

all day. At the close of the night's session Mr. Fielding brought down the estimates and announced that the budget speech will likely be delivered on Tuesday next.

Mr. Gillies (Richmond, N.S.) asked the Premier if a despatch in the newspapers stating that six Senators at large were to be appointed to help on the Yukon deal were true.

"I must tell my hon. friend," replied Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "that if my hon. friend believes all he sees in the newspapers I cannot help it."

Rainy River Railway Bill.

After a preliminary discussion, the motion of Mr. Henderson to refer the Rainy River Railway bill to committee of the whole, carried.

In the fourth clause defining the power of Parliament as to future legislation, Mr. Lariviere objected to Mr. Maclean's proposal to grant running rights over this railway to all other roads. The people of the Northwest wanted to see this line built.

Mr. Oliver declared that this was the last chance for Manitoba and the Northwest to secure relief from railway monopoly.

Mr. Jamieson thought this question should be dealt with under the subsidy bill, and not by special measure. He reminded the House that Mr. Greenway would declare his railway policy affecting this very section of the country next session.

Mr. Maclean said, why not, then, allow this bill to stand until Thursday? He would not wait until the end of the session for a bonus bill. He had been jollied enough on railway matters in the House, and he did not propose to be jollied any more.

Mr. Wood moved that the committee rise and report progress, so that a delay could take place for a few days to see what Mr. Greenway was going to do.

Mr. Sutherland pleaded, in the interests of the capitalists, that the bill be allowed to pass without change. The opposition to the measure was designed to destroy the bill.

Mr. Woods' amendment was declared lost.

Mr. Maclean then asked leave to withdraw his amendment, so that he could move it on the third reading. This was accordingly passed and the committee rose and reported the bill without amendment.

The Speaker then put the question, When shall the bill be read a third time?

Sir Wilfrid and others cried "Now!" and the Speaker decided that those in favor of reading the bill a third time now were in the majority.

Mr. Maclean protested. He thought the third reading should go over until another day, as several members wanted to speak on the bill.

The vote was taken, with the result that by 56 to 35 it was declared that the bill be read the third time now. All the Liberal members from the Northwest voted to defer the third reading. Six o'clock had arrived, but the Speaker, before leaving the chair, said he did not wish any misunderstanding to exist. He read bill 47 as follows:

"All amendments made in committee shall be reported by the chairman to the House, which shall receive the same forthwith. After report the bill shall be open to debate and amendment, before it is ordered for a third reading. But when a bill is reported without amendment, it is forthwith ordered to be read a third time at such time as may be appointed by the House." The House had now decided what should be done.

After some further discussion, in which Mr. Haggart, Sir Louis Davies and others took part, Col. Hughes moved the third reading of the bill, and to this motion Mr. Maclean spoke at length, concluding by moving in amendment that the Grand Trunk, C.P.R. and other roads be given running powers over the line, that the Government retain control of the rates, that two cents a mile be the maximum passenger rate, and that the rates on grain and other commodities be fixed at certain figures.

Mr. Blair Answers Mr. Maclean.

Mr. Blair criticised Mr. Maclean for on every possible occasion bringing up the same arguments and demanding the same explanations in regard to the railway question. He had pointed out to Mr. Maclean in committee that his amendment would not bring us one step farther than the law now on the statute book and the amendment added as the fourth clause of the bill. Mr. Maclean was anxious to pose before the country as the only champion of the people's interests in this regard, and Mr. Blair said that that gentleman's conduct was the outcome of pretence. He knew perfectly well that if any questions arose in the House touching excessive rates imposed by any railway company, almost as a unit the members of the House would act not in the interests of the railway companies but of the people of the country as large. The Minister pointed out the entire difference between this proposed line and the Crow's Nest, where the Government had to put themselves on a contract footing with a company which had the right, absolute and uncontrolled, to charge what they liked until their profits exceeded 10 per cent. on the money invested. Mr. Maclean's proposal to grant running rights to the Grand Trunk over a line which had not and might never be constructed was characterized as ridiculous. Mr. Blair said that when the road was built, so far as he was concerned, and he might say so far as the Government were concerned, the moment the Grand Trunk asked for running rights over the road they would get them. The reason he had not inserted a clause in the bill to prevent the road from falling into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Railway was that he did not know how a clause could be framed that would attain that object. He was as anxious as Mr. Maclean not to have this road fall into the hands of the Canadian Pacific, and was as much averse to that company securing control of this country as anyone, but Mr. Maclean desired to rush into rash legislation without consulting anyone.

The vote on the amendment resulted in its defeat by 56 to 16, those who supported the amendment being: Messrs. Richardson, Wallace, Maclean, Taylor, Marcotte, Monk, Earle, Davin, Cochrane, Bennett, Kaulbach, Guillet, Clarke, Quinn, Bell (Addington) and Kloepfer.

The bill was then read a third time and passed, and the House adjourned at a quarter after midnight.

THE SENATE.

Senator Perley Has Something to Say About Whisky, and Other Senators Talk on the Yukon Bill.

Ottawa, March 29.—Hon. David Mills, speaking yesterday, said it was scarcely possible to believe that the Senate will commit the folly of rejecting the railway bill. So high-handed a course is without precedent in the history of the United Kingdom for 100 years. The Government has come down to Parliament with this measure, to enable them to carry on the business of the Administration in the Yukon district. It is eminently a measure connected with the exercise of executive authority. Without it it is impossible that executive authority can with any degree of certainty be upheld. In case of defeat, the Government are not called upon to do anything. They have submitted their measure, and if the Senate choose to wrench the authority which it has out of the hands of the Government, the consequences of the act must abide with them.

Senator Perley said from returns brought down in the Commons it appeared that 11,000 gallons of whiskey had been taken into the Yukon country during the past year under Federal permit. This was a disgrace to a Government which professed to be favorable to prohibition. These 11,000 gallons of whiskey would no doubt have been increased to thirty thousand gallons by adulteration, and for a country insufficiently policed, as the Yukon was, this was nothing more than placing a premium upon lawlessness.

Discussion on the railway bill was resumed by Senator McCallum, who said if the Senate passed the bill he would regard it as nothing short of treason to the people of Canada.

Mr. Power strongly supported the bill. He said the Government had just been advised that the American authorities had again begun to insist upon charging a duty or assessment of 5 per cent. on all supplies going over the passes, in lieu of the escort charge abolished some time ago. They had refused to recognize the Canadian Mounted Police stationed at the summits of the passes and insisted upon levying the 5 per cent. assessment.

In the past the policy of the Conservative party had been to spend millions to keep trade in Canadian channels, and it was a sight for gods and men to see members of the Senate listening to the speeches of an alien miner in opposition to the Government's proposal for an all-Canadian route. The deputation for the miners of the Yukon district had exceeded their instructions, and the latest advices from that country were that the delegation would receive a warm reception when it became known that they had assisted in blocking the construction of the Stikine-Teslin Railway. The Senate, in his opinion, had a legal right to throw out any bill sent up to it from the Lower House.

Senator Loughead spoke against the bill. In his opinion the only way to secure the trade of the Yukon for Canada was the construction of a railway over the Edmonton route, which the Government had attempted to handicap in every possible way.

Senator Dandurand spoke for the bill and Mr. Bellerose against it, after which the Senate adjourned.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 30 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:— "Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

BECOMING APPARENT.

The Full Extent of the Mischief Done by the Yankees Who Have Worked Upon the Senate.

Ottawa, March 29.—The full extent of the mischief done to Canadian interests in the Yukon by the American lobbyists, who have worked upon the Senate until they have compassed the defeat of the Yukon Railway bill, is becoming more apparent every day. Two old-time residents of the Yukon who have reached the capital within the last few days interviewed yesterday threw a flood of light upon the Livernash mission and its probable results. From the story told by these men it would appear that the Alaska Commercial Company and the North American Transportation Company have the best of reasons for seeking to prevent railroad building into the Yukon, especially from Canadian territory, and that if Mr. Livernash were the agent of these companies he could not do better service than he is now doing. It would appear also that the miners' delegates are flying in the face of opinion on the Klondike in opposing the construction of a railway of any sort and upon any terms.

The Ottawa Society Scandal.

Ottawa, March 29.—The recent scandal in social circles arising out of a number of robberies committed at high and fashionable functions promises to give rise to a most interesting libel suit. Almost simultaneously with the announcement that robberies had been committed, the name of a prominent society lady was most freely mentioned as being the guilty party. The report, which in some cases was given credence, was circulated broadcast through the city, with the result that the lady in question, formerly one of the "Four Hundred," is to-day ostracised from fashionable society, and unjustly regarded as being guilty of an offence of a most grave and embarrassing nature.

It is understood that an action for libel will be instituted against a Montreal paper, which, when referring to the affair, not only stated that the suspected party was the wife of a prominent civil servant of Ottawa, but even went so far as to give the department in which the gentleman was employed, and almost the particular position he occupied. The lady in question emphatically declares her innocence, and denies the faintest knowledge concerning the case. She has decided to retain counsel, who will be instructed to institute an action for libel against the paper referred to, and developments of a most interesting character may be expected to follow. The Chief of Police here says there is no evidence to accuse the lady in question, who was not even present at some of the social functions when the robberies took place.

Chemong Lake Open.

Mr. Fobert, of the Chemong Park Hotel, informs the EXAMINER that the ice broke up in Chemong Lake on Sunday night under an east wind—the same kind of a wind that dried up the Red Sea in Pharaoh's time—and the lake is clear of ice. COMPLIMENTARY BANQUET.

Mr. Robert Thorne's Friends Give him a Send-off at the Oriental Hotel.

The Oriental Hotel never prepared a neater or more comprehensive menu card than that of last evening, the occasion being a complimentary dinner extended to Mr. Robert Thorne by "the boys" ere his departure for Bay City, for which point he left to take up his residence, by the early morning train.

About thirty of his friends from the diamond, the gridiron and the hockey arena assembled to do him honour, and the complimentary remarks addressed to him during the evening were certainly of a nature to cause him to entertain very pleasant recollections of his last evening in Peterborough.

In the last few years "Bob" has taken a prominent position on the baseball and football fields and on the hockey ice, and his presence there has done much to elevate sport, as he was an athlete who was never known to stoop to take an advantage of an adversary by any play which was not strictly "according to Hoyle."

The menu card was as follows:

MENU.

Raw Oysters—New York Counts.

Consomme a la Printemps Royal.

Boiled Sea Salmon, Sauce Hollandaise, Pomme Chatre.

Haunch of Venison, Red Currant Jelly.

When the different courses had received full justice at the hands of those present, Mr. W. A. Buchanan, secretary of the Hockey Club, who occupied the chair, proposed the health of "the Queen," which was duly honoured, after which the chairman referred in pleasing terms to the relations existing between the guest of the evening, and the different athletic organizations of the town and called on the boys to drink the health of Mr. Thorne.

The toast was suitably acknowledged by Mr. Thorne, after which Mr. Dickson Hall proposed the health of the Lacrosse and Baseball Clubs, to which Mr. Alf. Terrill and Mr. Bert Dolan responded.

The toast of the "Junior Hockey Club," proposed by Mr. Walter Stocker, called for speeches from Messrs. Wilfrid Crossley, R. M. Glover and Bert Balleghem.

Mr. Alf. Terrill called upon Messrs. R. Ross, A. Thompson and H. Thompson to the toast of "The Ladies," and after they had complied, the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and the National Anthem, brought the exceedingly pleasant evening to a close.

The toast list was enlivened with songs from Messrs. Bert Dolan, W. Lang and Walter Stocker.

There was a large congregation present.

THE LETTER LEFT BY ESTHER YOUNG.

Its Incoherency Bears Out the Belief as to Her Insanity.

QUOTATIONS FROM SCRIPTURES.

The Last Reference Plainly Points out that the Deceased Intended to Take her Own Life—Her Brothers are Well-to-do Farmers Living in the East Riding.

No further traces have yet been found of Esther Young, whose footprints it was thought were traced to the riverside yesterday.

The poor girl was undoubtedly beside herself when the rash act was committed by which is assumed she took her life.

It has been learned that her case aroused the interest of the Y. W. C. A., and that she boarded with them for a time, and was afterwards taken in at the Peterborough Protestant Home. Her family was communicated with, as the girl was entirely out of money, and one of her brothers came up to town. A few days afterwards she went to Havelock but it was not long before she was back in Peterborough again. Her relatives are well-to-do farmers and why she should have to come to try and earn a livelihood is not at present known. Her brother will arrive in town to-night when he may have some explanations to offer in the matter. It appears that when taken into the Y.W.C.A. the young woman was reduced to such a state as to be on the verge of committing suicide even then.

Appended will be found a copy of the letter which she addressed to three of her friends in town, and which was received by them yesterday. Its incoherence lends weight to the statement that the girl's mind was unhinged. The letter is printed in the large type enclosed in quotation marks.

"DEAR FRIEND,"

"God's time having come for physical death to be overcome—Romans viii. ch., 20-23 ver.:"

"For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope:

"Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

"For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

"And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body."

"God has given me to comprehend through the Holy Ghost, also through His word—Matt. iv. ch., 2nd ver.:"

"And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights he was afterward an hungered."

Also St. Matt. i. ch., 13th ver.:

"And He was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered with Him."

"With the wild beasts—Luke iv. ch., 2nd ver.:"

"Being forty days tempted of the devil, And in those days He did eat nothing: and when they were ended He afterward hungered."

"That our Saviour was in the wilderness to renew His physical life as well as spiritual (getting the milk from the wild beasts) for forty days which did the work. Physical lives are controlled by worms to a similar extent as the steam of an engine is by the driver, fuel, water, etc. If all be right it does good work until worn out. But we are of Divine workmanship and we will be controlled by God's laws, Leviticus vii ch., 3rd ver.:"

"And he shall offer of it all the fat thereof; the rump and the fat that covereth the inwards."

Leviticus vii ch., 23rd ver.:

"Speak unto the children of Israel, saying ye shall eat no manner of fat of ox, of sheep or of goat."

"The fats having no nourishment for our bodies (being more spiritual) simply destroy the machinery. Keep all God's laws as given to Moses relative to the physical life, and renew the physical life every thirty years. We may live until Christ comes.—Isaiah lv ch, 20-25 ver; Acts ii ch, 35 v."

"Until I make thy foes thy footstool."

"I Cor xv ch, 51-58 v.:"

"Behold, I shew you a mystery; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed.

"In a moment, in a twinkling of an eye, at the last trump, for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

"For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

"So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory."

"God's creation or machinery requires no assistance if run according to directions. Wrong and overeating causes all sickness. Fasting is God's only remedy.—St. Matt. xv ch, 32-39 v:"

"Then Jesus called His disciples unto Him and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat; and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

"And His disciples say unto Him, whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness as to fill so great a multitude?

"And Jesus saith unto them, how many loaves have ye? And they said, seven and a few little fishes.

"And He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

"And He took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to His disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

"And they did all eat, and were filled; and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

"And they that did eat were four thousand men, besides women and children.

"And He sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala."

"St. Matthew xiv.ch., 13th to 21st verses."

"When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart; and when the people heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

"And Jesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and He healed their sick.

"And when it was evening, His disciples came to Him, saying, this is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy victuals.

"But Jesus said unto them, they need not depart; give ye them to eat.

"And they say unto him, we have here but five loaves and two fishes.

"He said, bring them hither to me.

"And He commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and he took the five loaves and two fishes, and, looking up to heaven, He blessed and brake, and gave the loaves to His disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

"And they did all eat, and were filled; and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

"And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children."

"If you take the fresh milk as God made it, without drugs, etc. Water changes the nutritious element or value. Take it slowly from a small tea-spoon. Not more than the system can many (which is a sin against the body) say a quart more or less per day. I tried a quart, but found it too much, so I came down to a pint. You can do as much work, or more, as on any other diet, but you will require help from God to control your appetite. Keep all God's laws as given to Moses relating to the body, if not the sinner shall be accursed Isaiah lv chap., 20th verse."

"Don't eat animal food after a real fast, as it sickens, except fish, as Christ fed the multitude."

"Please give that a practical test before publishing."

P. S.—"I will not die a natural death." I Corinthians xv chap., 26th verse:

"The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death."

"Brown bread and beef is the best to tone up the system on. I also learned the system demanded the animal food to re-assert the animal life."

The letter was unsigned, but the handwriting was known.

The references in the letter have been looked up and added to the contents, but in some cases the chapter or verse were evidently mistaken, as they had no bearing on the point. In instances there were not as many verses in the chapter as the reference called for.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

$600,000 to be Voted for Construction.

The Dominion estimates were brought down yesterday, and it will be good news to the people of this section to note that $600,000 is to be voted for construction work on the Trent Valley Canal. This is an indication of the bona fides of the Government in prosecuting the work. Since 1880 the largest expenditure made on construction on the canal, in any one year, was $486,575, in 1897, the year after the present Government came into power. The average annual expenditure since 1880, under the late Government, was $81,929. Of course, no details as to the work upon which the vote of 1898 is to be expended are at present available.

A RUNAWAY.

Mr. W. H. Taylor's Horse is Badly Cut on the Front Leg.

The black horse belonging to W. H. Taylor, piano agent, broke away from its fastening yesterday and made a dash for liberty. It was caught on Charlotte street near the White House, when it was found that so bad a cut had been sustained on one of the front legs above the fetlock that Dr. Johnston was summoned to sew it up.

The horse belonging to Mr. David Mason which broke its leg by falling on it some four weeks ago, is now able to walk around on the injured member, and Dr. Johnston reports that it will soon be as sound as ever, the leg having knitted perfectly true.

Without burning or injuring the mouth. In use over 25 years. Ask your druggist for J. O'Donnell's TOOTHACHE REMEDY and see that his signature is written on each bottle. TAKE NO OTHER. THERE CAN'T BE ANY SUBSTITUTE. Prepared by J. O'Donnel, L.D.S., Peterborough, Ont. Price 25 cents.

I have used NEUROLINE, the remedy for toothache and neuralgia prepared by Dr. O'Donnel, for a number of years, for myself and family and have no hesitation in pronouncing it the greatest remedy for the immediate relief of toothache I ever came across or heard of and cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. I always keep a supply on hand. I also gave a lady up the back lakes a bottle, who said it relieved her instantly.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

Over $5,000 Subscribed to Pay the Debt of $12,000.

During the service Sunday morning in the Charlotte street Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. D. O. Crossley, announced with pleasure that over $5,000 of the $6,000 that he expected to have subscribed towards liquidating the debt on the church property, had been volunteered, and that he hoped to have in a very short time the balance of $1,000.

These subscribed amounts are payable in instalments, extending over six years which, with the pew rents and the reduction of interest upon the decreased indebtedness from year to year, will wipe out the total indebtedness of $12,000 in seven years, the first two notes of $500 coming due on April 1st will be retired.

The friends of the church and the congregation have sympathized with the pastor in his endeavour to reduce the church indebtedness, and it is to be hoped that the anticipation of the pastor and congregation will be fully realized.

Rev. F. B. Stratton, ex-President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, preached eloquent sermons in the church Sunday, and in the afternoon addressed the Sunday school children. Mr. Stratton has occupied the pulpit of the church on previous occasions with great satisfaction to the congregation, and his words yesterday commanded the closest attention.

Next Monday evening the pastor will hold the usual monthly song service.

The Promise of Sun and Summer.

And a longing for more out door life, are associated with our Easter thoughts. Spring dons her new bonnet, and the more general use of the veil reminds us that sun and winds have a tanning influence on the complexion. Photographs are best when taken early in the Easter season, before the face is marred by the bleaching influence of the hot sun. Now, you can get the perfection of the platino process finish which is so much appreciated by visitors to our ground floor studio 170 Charlotte street. CUNNINGHAM & Co.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

To Mrs. and Miss Syer by the Members of Grace Sunday School.

On Sunday last, after a pleasant service of review and song, Grace church Sunday school were again called to say good-bye to two of its faithful teachers, about to leave. Mr. D. W. Dumble, after a few appropriate remarks, read the following address, accompanied by a Morocco bound Methodist Hymn and Tune Book to Miss Syer, who also acted as organist since the school was organized:—

DEAR MRS. AND MISS SYER,—About to be separated after two years of pleasant association in Sabbath school work, the teachers and officers of the Grace church Sunday school cannot withhold an expression of their regret. You, both mother and daughter, have ever been most willing workers in the church and school. We will greatly miss your hearty co-operation and we would deem our loss the greater did we not feel assured that you will in another field continue to work for the Master. We unite in wishing you much happiness in you beautiful country home.

Please accept this assurance of our sympathy, and our prayers for long life and happiness for you and yours.

THE FIRE RECORD.

North Seguin Rectory Burned—Narrow Escape of the Rector, Wife and Child—Fires at Delhi and Harrow.

Magnetawan, Ont., March 28.—St. John's Rectory, barn and stables at North Seguin were totally destroyed by fire Saturday at 6 p.m. The fire originated from a stovepipe in the attic, and in half an hour the house was burned to the ground. Little or nothing was saved. Two hundred volumes of a valuable library were destroyed. Total loss about $2,000; no insurance.

The rector, Rev. A. J. Cobb, and his wife were seriously injured. On going upstairs Mrs. Cobb found the little three-year-old boy in flames, and in trying to rescue the child was severely burned about the head, face and hands, and being overcome by the smoke fell downstairs, receiving a severe scalp wound about five inches long, which required a number of stitches. The child was badly burned about the head, hands and body. Mr. Cobb was also overcome by the smoke and fell downstairs, severely injuring his back. His family were taken to Mr. Vickers' house near by, and the wounds carefully dressed by Dr. Freeborn of this place, who was sent for at once, and who thinks their injuries, though very serious, will not prove fatal.

Hotel Burned at Delhi.

Delhi, Ont., March 28.—About 1 o'clock yesterday morning the American Hotel was discovered to be on fire. The proprietor, Mr. J. B. Walsh, accompanied by his wife, left the hotel about 9.30 p.m. and drove out of town to visit friends. The building was looked up, and on forcing an entrance the fire appears to have started upstairs, and had made such progress that it was impossible to save the building or contents.

H. A. Bell's grocery and dwelling, about 15 feet from the hotel, caught fire several times, also the roofs of R. J. Pedlow's tin shop, the Vindicator printing office and Public Library across the street. The hotel was built of white brick, valued at about $5,000 and owned by D. E. Gibson of Brantford. Insured for $2,000. The contents were insured for $1,000. Origin of fire unknown.

Methodist Parsonage Scorched.

Harrow, Ont., March 28.—Fire broke out Sunday morning shortly after 6 o'clock in the Methodist parsonage. The alarm was promptly given and the flames were checked before the house was completely ruined. Nearly all the contents were destroyed by fire or water. Origin of fire not known. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Our Natural Gas.

Leamington, Ont., March 28.—A delegation of nearly 250 farmers will leave here Tuesday for Ottawa to interview the Government with a view of procuring legislation to prohibit the export of natural gas from the wells in Essex County, to Detroit, Toledo and other American cities. Canadian gas for Canadian consumers, is their motto.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts man's capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of a way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

8 SECTIONS OF NOTHING

Makes Up the Maine Report to the U. S. Secretary of War—A Complete Abstract—War Talk.

Washington, March 28.—The Associated Press presents herewith a complete abstract of the Court of Inquiry which investigated the wrecking of the battleship Maine. This abstract is made from the report itself, access to which was obtained yesterday, despite official secrecy unparalleled in the handling of official papers. The report is made up of eight parts, as follows:

First—The court finds that at the time of the explosion the battleship Maine was lying in five and one-half to six fathoms of water.

Second—The discipline aboard the ship was excellent; everything stowed according to orders—ammunition, guns, stores, etc. The temperature of the magazines at 8 p.m. was normal, except in the after ten-inch magazine, and that did not explode.

Third—The explosion occurred at 9.40 o'clock on the evening of February 15. There were two explosions, with a very short interval between them; the ship lifted on the first explosion.

Fourth—The court can form no definite opinion of the condition of the wreck from the divers' evidence.

Fifth—Technical details of wreckage from which court deduces that a mine was exploded under the ship on the port side.

Sixth—The explosion was due to no fault of those on board.

Seventh—Opinion of the court stating that the explosion of the mine caused the explosion of two magazines.

Eighth—The court declares that it cannot find evidence to fix responsibility.

The report is unanimous and is signed by all the members of the court.

SPANISH-AMERICAN STRAWS.

Paragraphs From All Quarters, But Chiefly From Washington and Madrid, Which Show Way War Wind Blows.

Washington, March 28.—The President will on Wednesday send to Congress a message, asking that an appropriation of $500,000 be made for the relief of the destitute Cubans.

Berlin, March 28.—The Madrid correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt says: "Spain will not only refuse to allow American interference in assisting the suffering Cubans, but will decline to pay an indemnity unless it is shown unmistakably that the Spanish authorities were responsible for the Maine explosion. If President McKinley demands these two things war is unavoidable."

Washington, March 28.—When the President asks for money to buy food for starving Cubans, he will get money. The supplies will be sent. If Spain acquiesces, all well and good. If Spain objects, the supplies will be sent anyway, and that's the way the war will begin.

Madrid, March 28.—The Duke of Veragua, who knows President McKinley personally, is reported as saying: "President McKinley does not insure me with confidence. He thinks himself the first statesman in the world. He is proud and vain; and his great vanity makes him believe himself a Napolean, when in reality he is an ignorant sutler."

Rome, March 28.—The Marquis Visconti Venosta, the Italian Foreign Minister, says the Cuban situation has grown worse, but that outside of Austria, which morally supports Spain, for dynastic reasons, no European power is inclined to show practical sympathy for Spain.

Ricciotti Garibaldi says that if the United States will defray their exponses he will engage to send 40,000 Garibaldians to Cuba.

Madrid, March 28.—The elections for the popular branch of the Cortes have passed off, on the whole, quietly. The indications are that the Government of Senor Sagasta will have an enormous majority, estimated at 300 of the 432 seats in the Congress.

Washington, March 28. — There are mutterings of discontent here now. Spain will ask McKinley what he has to say about its report that the explosion of the Maine was due to accident. The President has said publicly that he will consider the disaster an accident in any event. One Senator, discussing the Cuban side of the situation, said yesterday, with more force of expression than eloquence of diction: "If it is not free Cuba d——d quick, it will be free silver next fall." And those facts have been told Mr. McKinley more than once to his great distress of mind and to the further acceleration of the mental teeter-totter that prevails within his devoted head.

Madrid, March 28.—The latest intelligence from the United States has occasioned a great patriotic movement through Spain.

El Imparcial says: "It is indispensable to get ready all the elements we possess for a naval fight, and it is urgent that they should go to Cuba."

"The United States will maintain the advantage if they can place seven ironclads in front of the Viscaya and the Almirante Oquendo; but when our two ships actually have to fight, this disadvantage will disappear before the skill and courage of our sailors."

ELECTION TRIALS.

The West Huron and the South Perth Election Cases Argued on Saturday—Mr. Beck Loses West Huron.

Toronto, March 28.—On Saturday the South Perth election appeal was argued before Mr. Justice Maclennan. The appellant was Mr. W. C. Moscrip against Mr. Monteith, Con., who was declared on a recount to have a majority of 10. Judgment was reserved.

Beck Loses West Huron.

Mr. Justice Osler on Saturday gave judgment in the West Huron election appeal. On the two ballots in question his decision was in favor of Mr. Garrow, the Liberal candidate, and wiped out Mr. Beck's majority of two.

The first ballot had on the back the initials of the poll clerk, "C. S.," instead of the deputy returning officer's. It was marked for Garrow, but had been disallowed by the County Judge. His Lordship Justice Osler held it to be a good ballot.

The other was properly marked for Beck, but had the number torn off, and had been held good in the recount. Mr. Justice Osler held that an integral part of the ballot had been removed, presumably by the voter himself, and, therefore, declared the ballot void.

The vote of the returning officer will give the seat to Mr. Garrow.

Elections Protested.

The following protests were filed at Osgoode Hall on Saturday:

Against Mr. Richardson, who had a majority of 428, in East York, and seat claimed for the Conservative candidate, Mr. Moyes. Corruption and bribery are alleged.

Against Premier Hardy, who had a majority of 580, in South Brant. Usual general grounds.

Against Hon. Richard Harcourt, who had a majority of 398, in Monk. Corrupt methods are alleged.

Against S. Russell, who had a majority of 128, in East Hastings. Seat is claimed for John Stokes. Usual grounds.

Against E. A. Colquhoun, who had a majority of 278 votes over Hon. G. M. Gibson, in West Hamilton. Usual grounds.

These make ten protests to date.

SAVE THE MOTHERS

Dodd's Kidney Pills Their Only Safety in Female Diseases.

You have seen a flower nipped by frost, fade and die in the flush of its beauty. That is how women die when attacked by any of the diseases peculiar to their sex.

Woman's burdens are woefully heavy. Her sufferings are agonizing. Her patience is grand. Disease preys upon her. The light dies out of her eyes, her steps become slow and dragging; she loses flesh; grows sallow, listless, droops like a flower. Then she dies. Her family is left to the cold mercy of the world.

"Mother's dead!" What a piteous phrase. What sufferings have been endured before it was used. Why should mothers, wives, sisters suffer so? They need not. Dodd's Kidney Pills will quickly and thoroughly cure all cases of Female Weakness. They never fail. They give health, strength, courage: a new lease of life.

HIS MOSQUITO CURE.

WHY COLONEL BENSON SOURED ON HUMANITARIAN SCHEMES.

He Aimed to Perform a Great Service For Mankind and to Elevate the Standard of Mosquitohood, but the Beasts Didn't Appreciate His Gold Cure.

Colonel Benson shifted his feet on the table. "Yes," he said, "I have had my share of unusual experiences. About a year ago I was glancing through a scientific journal when a little item tucked away in the corner of a page caught my eye. It was headed like this:

"'Intoxication Among Insects—The Mosquito Follows Man's Example.' The paragraph went on to say that the natural food of the mosquito consists of various vegetable substances found in bark, mosses, etc. The habit of consuming human blood, it was said, is an acquired taste of the mosquito, similar to the taste for alcoholic drinks among men. The mosquito gets intoxicated with blood, and after he has thoroughly gorged himself death ensues. Thus the parallel between the insects and the human race is carried out.

"You may be surprised to know, gentlemen, that I saw the possibilities of a great enterprise in that little statement. My reasoning was as follows: It is a well known fact that the appetite for liquor can be entirely overcome in the average human being by the use of certain preparations of bichloride of gold. We have then two facts—first, the appetite of the drunkard for liquor and the thirst of the mosquito for blood are practically identical; second, the desire for liquor can be cured by a simple hypodermic treatment. Ergo, you have only to discover a preparation which will produce a similar result in the mosquito and you have freed the human race from one of its chief sources of annoyance.

"You can imagine my joy when this grand idea first flashed upon me. I saw myself hailed as a universal benefactor. Banquets would be spread in my honor, medals would decorate my breast, my position in life would be assured. I figured that summer hotel proprietors alone would yield me an independent income.

"There were many difficulties to be surmounted, however. My first step was to gather a fine collection of the insects. They were in all stages of the blood drinking habit, from those who had but tasted their first drop to the old rounders who were tottering to a besotted end. An expert chemist and a well known naturalist whom I had interested in my scheme, then began experiments upon these sample mosquitoes. It seemed a long time to me, impatient as I was, but in reality less than a month passed before my assistants had discovered a solution which produced the desired effect. Indeed, the cure brought about such a complete change in the character of the insects that they would eat their natural food from the palms of our hands, without ever attempting to molest us.

"Then came the practical application of the cure on a large scale. While my scientific friends had been searching for the cure which was to work such wonders I had carefully evolved a plan for putting it in operation. My idea was to establish mosquito asylums, as I may call them for want of a better name, in various swampy regions where the insects are bred in large numbers. Large platforms were to be erected on which the vegetable food of the mosquito could be spread in great quantities. Fortunately it was not necessary to administer our cure by hypodermic injections. By merely saturating the food with the solution the same result was produced. If I did not succeed in attracting enough mosquitoes by this means, I had in reserve the idea of erecting a small hotel in close proximity to my platforms. The verandas would be provided with hammocks, and the windows with mosquito netting. I could easily get a few people to spend a few weeks in the place by offering them free entertainment. I also planned to put up my mosquito chloride in small bottles for home use, placing it on sale at all drug stores. These were the first steps of my enterprise. Of course I built my hopes largely on the belief that the mosquitoes that had been cured would bring forth offspring in whom the blood drinking habit would be entirely wanting. Having thus obliterated the hereditary tendency to intemperance, I counted on the speedy regeneration of the mosquito race.

"I can see by your expression, gentlemen, that you have been interested in the recital of my hopes and aspirations. You will undoubtedly sympathize with me when I tell you of their downfall. I began operations on a small scale in a lonely part of New Jersey, where I could be safe from intrusion. For a few days all went well. Mosquitoes came in swarms, attracted by my bait. The effect of the cure was at once apparent. The future seemed very bright. But alas for my hopes! When success seemed almost within my grasp, a slight error in our calculations served to ruin the entire scheme. We had simply failed to consider the infernal cleverness of the mosquitoes. The little beasts didn't want to be cured. Like too many of their human prototypes, they actually preferred to continue in the barbarous customs of their ancestors rather than accept the blessings of a sober and temperate life. Those who had been cured told their friends about it, and the swarms that had surrounded our 'asylum' dwindled to a beggarly number. To add to our discomfiture, the people who had come out from the city and were getting their board free at our hotel began to kick about the butter, the lack of scenery and the bad water. Many departed in as much indignation as if they had been paying a gilt edged price for their rooms. Then our financial backing began to weaken, and it was not long before the whole enterprise from which we had expected such great results was as dead as the proverbial doornail. For my part, I have concluded to give humanitarian schemes the cold shoulder in the future."

The colonel gazed gloomily at an electric button near by. Some one pushed it, and a bright ray shot athwart the gloom. —New York Sun.

What mother does not wish to be proud of her children? What mother does not want them to be healthy, happy, laughter-loving and able to withstand the ordinary illnesses of childhood?

Any woman may insure the health of her children who will take proper care of her health in a womanly way. The health of her children depends almost entirely upon her general health, and particularly upon the health and strength of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. A woman has no right to disregard her own health, comfort, ease and happiness, she certainly has less right to condemn her children to a life of suffering or an early death. That is what she does if she neglects the health of her special womanly organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It strengthens and invigorates the sensitive organs concerned, and is the best preparation for the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well being of the mother and the health of the child. Its use is a guarantee of a bountiful supply of nourishment for the little new-comer. Many women who once bore children only to speedily lose them, are now mothers of healthy, robust children as the result of the use of this medicine.

Barbra A. Mudd, of Indian Creek, Mo., writes: "I am very thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did for me. I was all broken down from nervous prostration, but since taking your medicine I have had more relief than from all the doctors. Your 'Favorite Prescription' did me a world of good."

Many women have told their experiences, and given their names, addresses and photographs in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is free, and will be sent to any address upon receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all dealers and no honest man will urge a substitute.

Beyond Claret, the Window opening on Winander mere, I should not feel, or rather my Happiness would not be so fine, as my Solitude is sublime. Then, instead of what I have described, there is a sublimity to welcome me home. The roaring of the wind is my wife and the Stars through the window pane are my Children. The mighty abstract Idea I have of Beauty in all things stifles the more divided and minute domestic happiness—an amiable wife and sweet Children I contemplate as a part of that Beauty, but I must have a thousand of those beautiful particles to fill up my heart.

I feel more and more every day as my imagination strengthens that I do not live in this world alone, but in a thousand worlds. No sooner am I alone than shapes of epic greatness are stationed around me and serve my Spirit the office which is equivalent to a King's bodyguard—then "Tragedy with sceptered pall comes sweeping by." According to my state of mind I am with Achilles shouting in the Trenches, or with Theocritus in the Vales of Sicily. Or I throw my whole being into Troilus, and repeating those lines, "I wander like a lost Soul upon the Stygian Banks staying for waftage," I melt into the air with a voluptuousness so delicate that I am content to be alone. These things, combined with the opinion I have of the generality of women, who appear to me as children to whom I would rather give a sugar Plum than my time, form a barrier against Matrimony which I rejoice in.—"Poems of John Keats," by Walter Raleigh.

Arab Weapons.

Here in Muscat I saw the pure bred Arab man, sinewy, but not tall, a domineering, swaggering nobleness in his glance and a brace of daggers in his waist. When I recognized a beautiful haft or noticed a slender inlaid native gun or singular shield, I offered to buy. But nothing would induce them to sell. "Sahib," said one man, "I killed my deadliest foe with this blade, right through his black heart. You see this dint in my shield? Ah, that dint was caused by a spear! The shield saved my life. Shall I, then, sell it for money? My gun? No, sahib. I am an Arab, and my gun is my other self. How could I be an Arab if I had no gun? This sword—it belonged to my grandfather. It has killed 40 men. By Mohammed, it is true! These marks, sahib, you see these marks? Only one of these marks is put there when a man is killed." I offered three times the value. The answer always was: "No, sahib, I will not. I cannot."

Everybody, from the frolicsome boy of 8 to the tottering imbecile of 80, carried a weapon. The old men had rusty swords that reminded me of the unwieldly double bladed monsters that Richard Cœur de Lion and his knights swung in the face of the Saracens. These Muscat swords are 4 feet 6 inches long, the blades 3 inches wide, and the handles provide room for both fists to grasp. Law is an unknown quantity in eastern Arabia.—Chambers' Journal.

WORKERS OF ANTIQUITY.

The Use of the Inclined Plane In the Building of the Pyramids.

At a meeting of the Philosophical society of Washington J. E. Watkins presented a paper on "The Transportation and Lifting of Heavy Bodies by the Ancient Engineers." The purpose of the paper was to show how many of the structures regarded as remarkable by expert engineers of the present day, and which some archaeologists declare must have required in their erection the use of immense machines, could have been constructed by primitive tools and simple methods.

By means of diagrams the speaker explained how inclined planes of earth could be used in placing in position stone blocks or slabs of enormous weight, levels and pry bars being employed in setting them up. He then demonstrated how easily, comparatively speaking, the pyramids could have been constructed by these simple methods, and when completed the earth around them which had been used for the inclined planes filled into the pits from which it was taken, leaving the ground as level as before.

As an illustration the pyramid of Gizeh was cited, some of the stones of which were transported a distance of 500 miles. In this case the highest embankment necessary when the workmen reached the top course, assuming that a 20 per cent grade was adopted, would have been 750 yards long, containing, as it did, some 7,500,000 cubic yards, provided the sides of the embankment would stand at an angle of 30 degrees, which is not at all improbable. A force of 10,000 men could have built such an embankment in a single twelvemonth, a very small part of the total labor, which it is stated called for the services of 100,000 men for 20 years.

In the solution of the problem of putting in place huge monoliths it was suggested that the modern engineer could well consider the utilization of inclined planes before adopting a more complex method.—Science.

Inadequate Identification.

A woman who is newly come to town went into one of the banks one day last week to have a check cashed. The paying teller examined the check with that air of suspicion a paying teller never loses.

"You'll have to be identified, madam," he said politely,

The woman was in a great hurry.

"Identified!" she said. "Why, I haven't time to go and get anybody to identify me! Besides, I don't know three people in town."

"I'm sorry," said the teller, "but the rule is invariable."

"But," protested the woman, "I really am the Mary L. Brown named on the check. You don't doubt that, do you?"

The teller looked embarrassed.

"It's only a form, madam," he said, "but we must insist on some identification."

A happy thought struck the woman. Her name was on her handkerchief.

"Would the name on my handkerchief be any identification?" she asked. The teller replied that it would.

"Well, then," said she majestically, handing over the square of linen, "perhaps you'll be good enough to give me the money now!"

The teller examined the handkerchief and handed it back without a word. In one corner was daintily written in indelible ink, "Sarah Jones."

The check was not cashed till next day, and the newly arrived woman has discharged her laundress.—Washington Post.

PROHIBITION IN THE YUKON.

A Petition in Circulation by the Local W. C. T. U.

The following is a copy of a petition which is being circulated in town:

Whereas large quantities of intoxicating liquors are being imported into the Yukon District the Government having thus far taken no action, and

Whereas, a mining population in an Arctic climate presents conditions, moral and physical, that even avowed opponents of prohibition agree, renders the use of alcoholic liquors a terrible menace to the moral and social well being of the inhabitants, and

Whereas, Canada has an enviable name amongst the nations for the wise government of her territories and its continuance can only be secured by judicious legislation in the Yukon (upon which the eyes of the world are now turned), therefore be it resolved, that we earnestly petition the Government, through the Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of liquor in the Yukon Territory, and on all the routes leading thereto; and that the execution of such enactments be delegated to some man of proved ability and integrity like Major Walsh, noted for his fearless administration of prohibition in the Northwest.

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior and the Dominion member for this constituency.

LIGHT WANTED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I believe there are about fifty teachers, high and public, in town, and there should be little difficulty in my being satisfied in my quest for light. I should like to have some grammarian tell me which is grammatically correct—"I feel as if I were frozen," or "I feel as though I were frozen." I often see it both ways. Which is right?

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist Minister, 192 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Cured of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

NEW METHODIST ISSUE.

Permanent Pastorates to be Fought for at the Coming Conference.

A prominent officer of the Methodist General Conference is, according to the Toronto Star, authority for the statement that the coming meeting of the great Methodist parliament will be asked to legalise permanent pastorates.

During the past eight years considerable progress has been made in this direction. Eight years ago, at the Montreal meeting of the General Conference, the extension of the three years' term was voted down. One of its chief lay opponents was Mr. Warring Kennedy, who declared that the adoption of fixed pastorates in the place of the itinerancy would be changing from Methodist to Presbyterianism.

Four years ago a five years' pastorate, under various legislative restrictions, was legalized, with the result that in Toronto Conference alone a large number of pastors have, this quarter, received and accepted invitations to remain for a fifth year.

The advocates of permanent pastorates point out that where pastors secure a firm hold upon their congregations, all kinds of efforts are made to get their ministers back after the shortest legal interval, to the great inconvenience and loss of the charges so affected. The discussion upon it will be coloured by those likely to have the ministerial "plums" kept further out of their reach by the adoption of the proposals.

EASY? YES, VERY EASY!

Any Inexperienced Person Can Dye Successfully With Diamond Dyes.

There are no mysteries about the use and handling of Diamond Dyes. The directions given on each package are so concise and simple that the dyeing of a dress, costume, blouse, jacket or suit of clothes is made easy and pleasant work.

We are aware of the fact that some ladies are badly disappointed after a trial of dyeing work. The reason is obvious; they unfortunately have used some make of worthless dyes foisted on them by some unscrupulous dealer.

A child that can read can dye any article successfully with Diamond Dyes. These world-famed dyes are put up by experienced chemists, which accounts for their uniformity in quality, strength and brilliancy. When you buy Diamond Dyes you get the world's best dyes.

Greenhouse Plants Exempt.

The Government have issued an interpretation of the new regulations prohibiting the importation of nursery stock. This prohibition applies to the United States, Australia, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands. The plants exempt by the regulation are all greenhouse plants, except roses, such as palms, ferns, orchids, cacti, chrysanthemums, azaleas, begonias and carnations; herbaceous perennials, the tips of which die in the winter, such as perennial phlox, dielytra, peonies, perennial sunflowers; herbaceous bedding plants, such as geraniums, coleuses, verbenas, pansies; all conifers; bulbs and tubers, such as lillies, hyacinths, narcissi, gladiolus, caladium, irises, cannas and dahlias.

GODEY'S MAGAZINE FOR APRIL.

The April issue of Godey's Magazine opens with a critical paper on the life and work of the great painter, Velasquez, by Mary E. J. Kelley, who treats her subject in a terse and vigourous manner that is very interesting. This being the centennial anniversary of the birth of the famous Spanish painter adds to the pertinence of the subject. Photographs of the best work of Velasques illustrate the article.

Another striking contribution to this issue is an article on "Diamonds," by Geo. E. Walsh, who tells many things worth remembering and gives important statistics.

Under the quaint head "Genus Carex," is an article by Charles F. Saunders, that will interest all lovers of nature, and that treats of the ways of the wild sedges. This article is charmingly illustrated by Elizabeth Moore Hallowell.

"Triumphs in Amateur Photography," the series that now interests the whole world of camera-users, deals with the exquisite work of Mrs. N. Gray, Bartlett, of Chicago, who has brought a special line of photography to a perfection almost ideal. The pictures that accompany this paper are very beautiful.

The leading fiction-piece of the number is by the well-known Martha McCulloch-Williams, whose tales grow in popularity with each advancing year, and is entitled "A Field of Poppies." The story is intense in feeling and vigourous in action.

There is a humourous tale by Henry E. Harris, entitled "The Four Co-Kings of Hofbrauenstein," that tells of the mischief that ensued from an attempt to manage a supposititious kingdom by joint government. It is a droll bit and will please.

There are several other bright stories and some choice poems in the issue and a humourous skit, "Charity Up to Date," by Sidney Sharp.

A novelty appears in a contribution by Joanna R. Nicholls Kyle on "The Army Medical Museum and Library." This subject has not before received magazine treatment. It is full of information and will be read with much interest by all Americans, many of whom will realize for the first time how important is this department of the Government's work, especially in time of war.

Reviews of new books, editorial notes on live topics, and the popular Scrap Book finish the number.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

MASON'S WAR SPEECH

A Terrific Broadside for Spain by the Illinois Senator.

WAR RESOLUTION INTRODUCED.

Members of Congress Want to Fight Spain—Mason's Puzzling Question of American Equality—There Would Have Been War Before This Mad Senators Been Blown Up.

Washington, March 30.—Interest in the Cuban situation—the interest might also be termed excitement, so intense was it—reached a climax in the proceedings of the Senate yesterday. As on previous days of discussion of the Cuban question, thousands of people flocked to the Capitol, only a few of whom, comparatively, could gain admission to the galleries.

Within five minutes after the Senate convened Mr. Allen of Nebraska introduced a resolution recognising the independence of the Cuban republic. This was followed by a resolution proposed by Mr. Rawlins of Utah, declaring war against the Kingdom of Spain. Mr. Forsaker of Ohio then introduced a resolution declaring for such intervention in the Cuban war as would bring about the independence of the Cubans. Following this came a resolution by Mr. Frye of Maine, demanding that Cuba be made free. The resolutions followed one another rapidly, the galleries were in a commotion, and the people were prepared for anything.

This was the condition when the Vice-President recognized Mr. Mason of Illinois for his announced speech on the President's message transmitting to Congress the findings of the Maine Court of Inquiry. Mr. Mason read his speech from manuscript, but it was delivered with all the vigor and fire of which he is capable.

The intensity of feeling of those in the galleries was evinced by the storm of applause which was elicited by his declaration that he was for war. Vice-President Hobart had real difficulty in suppressing the demonstration.

Describing the destruction of the Maine in Havana Harbor, the Illinois Senator said:

"The night came on—a dark, gloomy night, natural and proper time for Spanish bravery. Our men were asleep in a friendly harbor. They were never challenged to try their courage.

"They were not whipped in honorable battle, but choked, burned, strangled and drowned without a chance to die fighting for life, without a moment to say a prayer. In the twinkling of an eye they stood in the presence of their Maker. Suppose ninety of them had been United States Senators, suppose the balance had been members of Congress or made up of judges and leading professional and business men, would forty days have elapsed before war began? Or suppose each Senator had a son or a father there. Do we tell our children the truth when we say that the life of every American is of equal value before the law? They were not Senators, they were sailors. Their widows and orphans cry aloud to us, the silent appeal of 253 seamen comes to us again and again, saying we are flesh of your flesh, bone of your bone and blood of your blood; we loved and died for the flag that shields you. What is to be our answer? Shall we answer with money?

"Mr. President, I speak only for myself, and I am for war." (Great applause in the galleries.)

Mr. Mason does not approve of the line of action taken by President McKinley. Here is what he had to say on that subject:

"We can hide no longer under the Executive wing. He can neither declare war nor refuse it. Congress alone can declare war. I for one am ready to vote now. You may continue to cry 'peace,' 'peace,' but there can be no peace while Europeans own and butcher their slaves on the same continents where our flag floats.

"But there are those who say that the court does not fix the responsibility. It was not necessary. The 'peace at any price' man cannot escape so. The law fixes the responsibility. We were in Spanish waters and over Spanish soil. The harbor is owned and controlled by Spain. The explosives in that harbor were owned and controlled by Spain. If it was a torpedo it was a Spanish torpedo; if it was a mine, it was a Spanish mine. No explosives have been on sale in Havana for over a year to private citizens; if it was guncotton, it was Spanish guncotton; and if it was dynamite, it was Spanish dynamite. The power to explode it was controlled by Spain. A Government acts only through its agents and officers, and they control the discharge of their cannon. It was owned, located and exploded by Spain, and Spain must answer." (Great excitement in the galleries.)

The concluding remarks of the warlike Senator from Chicago fairly electrified his upstair hearers. Here they are:

"Let us awake. Shake off the Chinese narcotic that locks us in drowsy indolence, murmuring 'peace at any price.' Awake as our forefathers did at Concord and Bunker Hill—awake to glorious war against a nation that burns homes and murders women and children—awake to glorious war that seeks no gain for us in treasure or territory, but a war to drive the oppressor from the continent, to wave the Cuban flag in the sky forever, and a war that will help us for generations to come, by giving notice that the honor of our flag and the lives of our citizens must be respected among the nations of the world." (Long continued applause in the galleries.)

A War Resolution.

Washington, March 30.—Representative Marsh of Illinois, chairman of the House Committee on Militia, yesterday introduced the following joint resolution, declaring war between the Government of Spain and its dependencies and the United States and her territories:

"That war be, and the same is hereby declared to exist between the Government of Spain and her dependencies and the United States and her territories, and that the President of the United States is hereby authorized to use the whole land and naval force of the United States, including the militia and the naval militia thereof to carry the same into effect."

A Certain Class of Americans.

Washington, March 30.—Captain-General Blanco has sent a communication to Washington, in which he says he believes that a demonstration may be precipitated at any moment by an element made up of certain Americans of strong anti-Spanish tendency now at Havana.

Gives Spain a Way of Escape.

London, March 30.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon voices the general tone of the afternoon papers of this city, in saying that President McKinley's message to Congress "gives Spain a broad way to escape," adding, "it does not contain a word which need ruffle a feather of Castillian punctilio. Events are evidently moving toward a peaceful settlement."

Spain's Dignity Must Be Upheld.

Madrid, March 30.—The semi-official El Liberal says: The report of the Maine contains no grave statement. Therefore, President McKinley will not use that pretext for declaring war, but will use the relief of the Cubans.

We believe the Spanish Government will never tolerate a foreign nation, in the guise of philanthropy, invading our territory, for it would be followed by the unanimous protest of the Spanish people.

The same paper then counsels Spain to prepare to repel every kind of intervention, to be uncompromising, and to "accept nothing affecting the dignity of sovereignty of Spain."

Most Encouraging Report.

Toronto, March 28.—The tenth annual report of the Provincial Inspectors of Factories was issued on Saturday by the Department of Agriculture. It comments upon the revival of business among the manufacturers, following upon the bountiful harvest of last year, and high price of wheat. Many factories, it states, have been working overtime, and twice as many factories employing women had been granted permission to lengthen the hours of labor, as during the same period last year. No infringements of the law regarding the employment of children had been found.

Was Faithful Unto Death.

Windsor, Ont., March 30.—The burial of Miss Margaret Mears, who died at the residence of her nephew in Detroit Sunday, took place yesterday afternoon at St. John's Cemetery, Sandwich. Her remains were laid beside those of Adam Hogarth, to whom she was engaged to be married 60 years ago, but who died on the eve of the wedding. She remained faithful to the end and always wore the engagement ring he had given her.

A Bad Dundas Boy.

Hamilton, March 30.—Norman Tunis of Dundas was charged before Judge Snider with committing an indecent assault on a 15-year-old Dundas girl named Lilian Wilson. Tunis denied being the boy referred to, but the girl stuck to her story and said that he followed her home and assaulted her in her own yard. Tunis was found guilty and remanded a week for sentence.

THE SLAVES SET FREE

Anglo-Egyptian Troops Destroy Two Forts at Shendy.

RUSSIA'S OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

The Conditions Upon Which She Says She Occupies Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan—Lord Selborne on the British Diplomatic Position in the Far East—Cable News.

Cairo, March 30.—It is officially announced that the gunboats and Anglo-Egyptian troops attacked Shendy on Saturday, destroyed the forts, captured quantities of grain, cattle and ammunition, and liberated over 600 slaves, mostly Jaalins. The Dervishes lost 160 men. There were no casualties on the Anglo-Egyptian side.

Was Taken by Surprise.

Shendy was taken by surprise. The gunboats, with a battalion of Egyptians on board, ascended the Nile from the mouth of the Atbara River, and arrived at Shendy by dawn on Saturday. The gunboats shelled the forts and then the battalion was landed and attacked the town. The attack was made by a flank movement, and the Dervish garrison was completely routed, the Egyptians pursuing them for 20 miles.

The capture of Shendy was a brilliant manoeuvre, as the main body of the Dervishes, who advanced against the Anglo-Egyptian forces from Shendy, is now cut off from its base and its reserve depot is destroyed. The Dervishes who advanced against the Anglo-Egyptian army are entrenched at El Hilgi, on the Atbara River. They are suffering severely from lack of food and are subsisting on palm nuts. The destruction of their supplies at Shendy will compel them to give battle, for which the Anglo-Egyptian expedition has been eagerly awaiting. News of a crushing defeat of the Dervishes is expected here hourly.

LORD SELBORNE.

The Under Secretary of State Makes an Important Speech—Warlike Preparations Continue in Britain.

London, March 30.—Warlike preparations continue here. Considerable importance is attached to a speech of Lord Selborne, Under Secretary for the Colonies, yesterday, in which, although he disavowed speaking as a responsible member of the Government, it is believed he expressed the Government's views.

"We should receive from any power carving out a sphere of influence in China," he said, "a confirmation and reassertion of the rights we now enjoy, and any Government should make the infringement of these rights a casus belli.

"England has lost nothing in China which ought to have been kept. The policy of an open door is intact. We have already obtained valuable compensation and are in a position to obtain more if we require them."

Press Comments.

The Times, commenting editorially on Lord Selborne's speech yesterday, says: "The language of Lord Selborne is not calculated to dispel the dangerous illusion expressed by the Russian newspapers that Great Britain will not go to a greater length than protests."

The Morning Post says: "Lord Selborne's speech appears to indicate that the Government is conscious of having lost the game against Russia."

Russians Show Contempt.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says: "The greatest indifference, amounting almost to contempt, is shown here for any possible British protests against the Russo-Chinese agreement."

The Novoe Vremya declares: "England will never go beyond a protest. Her predominance in the far East is gone forever and it will be worse for her if she fails to come to a timely agreement with Russia, France and Germany."

TROOPS AT PORT ARTHUR.

Two Thousand Russian Soldiers Have Landed, and Artillery Is En Route.

Pekin, March 30.—Two thousand Russian troops, including cavalry, have been landed at Port Arthur, and it is said that 170 guns are en route to fortify Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan. There are nine Russian warships now at Port Arthur.

TAKING OVER OF PORT ARTHUR.

The Russian Government's Announcement of the Fact to Its Consuls.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—The official messenger publishes a circular, which has been telegraphed by Count Muravieff, the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, to the representatives of Russia abroad. It is as follows: "By virtue of a convention signed at Pekin on March 27, Port Arthur and the port of Ta-Lien-Wan, and the territories adjacent, have been ceded to Russia in Usufruct by China. You are requested to notify the foregoing government whereto you are accredited, adding that the above-mentioned ports and territories will be immediately occupied by Russian troops and that the Russian flag will be hoisted by the side of the Chinese flag.

"You may at the same time inform the Foreign Minister that the port of Ta-Lien-Wan will be open to foreign trade, and that the largest measure of hospitality will be extended to the ships of all friendly nations."

An official communication issued to the press adds: "The cessions are for 25

Spring Medicine

Experience teaches the importance of special care of the health.

And fixed among the important principles of hygiene and health is the acknowledged necessity of a good Spring Medicine.

Just as firmly established by the experiences of millions of people, is the positive fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is "far and away" the best blood purifier and spring medicine ever produced.

The necessity is found in the impure condition of the blood at this season, owing to the close confinement and breathing vitiated air in office, store, shop, house, schoolroom or factory; excessive eating and drinking too rich and hearty food; late hours and social indulgences. With the blood thus thick and impure, the machinery of life grinds hard.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, builds up and strengthens the nerves and tones the stomach. It oils up the machinery of the whole body; the liver takes up its work anew, the kidneys resume activity, the ache goes out of the back, the bowels are regulated, the appetite restored, the food is relished and assimilated.

Don't wait till you are thoroughly sick before you begin to take a Spring Medicine.

Lock the door before the horse is stolen.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now as a preventive and it will pay you a thousand fold in health and strength through the coming summer.

"We always take several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family every spring as a tonic and blood purifier and we find that it overcomes that tired feeling gives new life, and keeps us well all summer." WM. RINGEL, 613 5th Ave., Peoria, Illinois.

Excellent Spring Medicine.

"For a number of years I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring, not for any particular ailment, but on general principle, that the system needs a tonic at this time, and I have always found Hood's Sarsaparilla a most excellent spring medicine." HAKON HAMMER, Engineer, Pottstown, Pennsylvania.

That Tired Feeling.

"I was troubled with that tired feeling all the spring. I purchased three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken about half of it I was feeling well again. I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic." MISS ORA E. MORGAN, Busey, Illinois.

Builds up the Health.

"We take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic in the spring. Two of our children had tonsilitis and their blood was in a bad condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla built them up, and we have taken it again this spring with much benefit." MRS. P. H. CANOON, Pleasant Lake, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. There is no substitute for Hood's.

CAN SPAIN FIGHT?

Is Spain in a position to carry on a war with the United States? Hardly. In these days, when a shot from a big gun costs the price of a farm, and when a warship represents the assessed value of a township, it is true that the real sinews of war is money. And Spain is in a bad financial shape. Her efforts to oppress Cuba have cost her some three hundred millions of dollars. Her public debt is sixteen hundred million dollars. And this is getting worse every year. The annual deficits for the past few years have amounted to twenty millions per year. Spain has exhausted all her resources for raising money, and without money she cannot fight. Her credit is gone, and her demands on the money market for loans fall upon deaf ears. Will she be able to induce her army and navy to fall into fighting line when she owes army and navy officers and men something like sixty millions of dollars arrears of pay? An empty purse is a powerful argument for peace.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

DOES Mr. Livernash represent the Klondyke in the Dominion Senate?

THE town of Hull has voted a $30,000 bonus to the Toronto Rubber Shoe Company. Only eighteen ratepayers voted against Hull paying dividends for this manufacturing concern.

THE Dominion Senators seem to put a fancy value upon the lands in the Klondyke to be given as subsidy to the Yukon Railway. How many acres would the average senator require in commutation of his sessional indemnity? If that were proposed the value of the lands would drop sharply in value; but for partisan purposes every acre is a Golconda.

SINGLE TAX ON THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE.

The Board of Trade Taxation Committee must be composed of the disciples of Henry George—believers in the single tax theory—judging from their report on the taxation of personal property. Their deliverance on the philosophy of taxation reads like an extract from one of the text books of the land tax school of economists. Take following paragraph, for example:—

"As a matter of policy the levying of penalties upon productions or the powers of production is totally bad. As a matter of principle justice is altogether disregarded in our methods of taxation. There can be no denial of the doctrine that what a man produces belongs to himself. The powers which abide in man enabling him to produce things, tangible and intangible, belong to him alone. What has been honestly earned or acquired, which has the impress of labour in or upon it, is sacredly the property of the person who so possesses it. To take, by the process of force, law, or through means of taxation, any part of that product which labour has given a clear title to without some just equivalent in cash, personal services or public benefits is manifestly a robbery of the individual. The only justifiable law of taxation that can be upheld and maintained is that which makes a true distinction in levying taxes, apportioning them in accordance with the value of public benefits conferred."

If these views had been promulgated by the Henry George Club, there would have been nothing startling in the sentiments expressed, but coming from representative capitalists, for the consideration and guidance of capital, there is a significance in these utterances that must arrest the attention of every intelligent observer, and lead to the conclusion that the leaven of single tax is much more active than the surface indications would lead one to suppose.—News.

SOUTH BRANT PROTEST.

Rather unexpectedly, so far as the politicians are concerned, a protest has been entered against the return of Hon. A. S. Hardy, a member for the South Riding of Brant in the Provincial Assembly.

Considering the fact that Mr. Hardy's majority was 527, and that a bye-election, if one should be held, would almost certainly increase it, it is reasonably safe to assume that this action has not been seriously taken. Indeed, if we are not misinformed, the members of the Conservative party hereabout knew nothing of any such intention, and Mr. George Elliott, for whom, despite the 527 of an adverse majority, the seat is claimed, is said to have had nothing to do with the petition.

The charges made against Mr. Hardy are of the omnibus character common to all petitions, and also embrace a silly accusation against the Premier and his associates in the Cabinet, that an election fund was raised for them by Michigan lumbermen. If a newspaper editor ventured to make such a sweeping accusation without having, as we are certain the Whitneyites have not, a scintilla of evidence with which to back it up, he would be mulcted in heavy damages in a court of law, but politicians, it seems, may slander without limit and with perfect impunity. We venture to predict here and now that no evidence will ever be offered in support of this accusation, and that, like a similar charge once made against Sir Richard Cartwright, it will only be remembered as a bit of political guff.

We do not think there is one chance in a hundred that the South Brant protest will ever go to trial, but should it do so the Reformers of this riding can afford to await the issue with perfect complacency. What seems most apparent just now as the extremity to which the Whitneyites must be driven when they resort to such desperate tactics.

FIVE YEARS IN ONE.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CROWN LANDS FOR 1897.

Anticipations Realized—Astonishing Increase in the Disposal of Mining Lands—The Aggregate for 1897 is Greater Than the Total for the Five Previous Years.

The annual report of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, published on Monday, gives the area of Crown Lands sold during the year at 60,147½ acres, aggregating in value $94,409.66. The collections on account of these and former sales amounted to $93,045.93. There were leased as mining land 86,014 acres, on which, and on lands previously leased, rent amounting to $168,356.54 was collected. Anticipations as to mining activity were fully realized. One hundred and forty mining companies were incorporated, with an authorised capital of $101,531,000, as against twenty-six in 1896, with a capital of $15,600,000. The area of mining land lands disposed of by the Crown in 1897 by sale and lease, and the sums received therefor exceeded the total transactions of the five previous years, as follows: 1892-'96, 98,821½ acres, $151,518 38; 1897, 115,809 acres, $144,299.06. The interest centered largely in gold mining, and the bulk of the lands disposed of were in the gold districts of Lake of the Woods, Seine River, Manitou and Wabigoon. The Michipicoten discoveries were referred to in the report, and 5,000 square miles in this division have been set apart to be held as mining claims.

The copper-nickel mines of the Sudbury district smelted a greater quantity of ore in 1897 than in any previous year. The Canadian Copper Company was the principal producer.

Crown lands, aggregating 676 acres, and valued at $670.60, were sold during the year and $3,165.21 collected on these and former sales. One and one-half acres of common school lands were sold and brought $5. There was collected on former sales the sum of $10,751.55. Three hundred and twenty-nine acres of grammar school lands were sold, bringing $395 15. Collections amounted to $2,414 12. Ninety six and one-half acres of railway lands were sold, aggregating $193. The collections were $176 58. University lands aggregating 5,913 acres, and valued at $2,957.50, were sold, and collections amounted to $895.04.

The total collections from all sources of revenue were $1,609,285.90, and the disbursements were $329,417 14. The latter is considerably in excess of last year, owing to the large sum spent under the vote for for mining development and other special services. The following may be mentioned as abnormal expenditures:—Mining roads, $32,986 05; mining schools, $9 553.70; Rat Portage mining agency, $1,646.23; Michipicoten mining division, $2,898.72; payment out of iron mining fund, under the mines act of 1897, $4,000. These items represent an expenditure of $51,088.70. There was also paid as compensation to Ontario timber licensees for timber limits within the Whitefish Indian Reserve, as claimed by the Federal Government, $12,905. The refund expenditure was also considerably larger than was estimated, owing to parties failing to complete their purchases within the time required by the mines act, and withdrawing their money. The refunds exceeded those of last year by $15,685.62. Extra clerks employed in the Survey's branch, incident to the mining excitement, caused an expenditure of $3,199.70.

The total revenue from woods and forests amounts to $1,327,140.09. Of this $190,-913.90 was on account of bonus, and $54,166.62 on account of ground rent, leaving the net revenue from timber dues $1,082,054.56. This amount is larger than was expected at the beginning of the year.

In speaking of the fire ranges, the report says: Fortunately the summer was more than ordinarily wet, and consequently although there was an immense number of men in the woods prospecting for gold, no serious fires occurred, and no pine timber was destroyed.

One hundred and sixty-one townships were opened for location, under the free grants and homesteads act. During the year 668 locations were made on 11,910 acres of land, and 49 locatees purchased 2,197 acres; 268 patents were issued to locatees.

The work in the Colonization Roads Department during the year was as follows: Miles constructed 106½; repaired, 608½ miles; bridges constructed, 24, aggregating 3,082 feet. Fifty-one and three-fourths miles of mining roads were opened, and three miles improved, besides the erection of two large dams.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

THE COMING CHEESE SEASON.

It is too early to give any positive indication as to the course of the cheese market during the coming season, as we question if ever there was a time in the history of the trade when the situation was more unsettled than at present, in view of the auction sales in England and the large stocks of 1897 cheese still to be worked off on both sides of the Atlantic. Still, at present, a largely increased consumption has been induced in the British markets, and it is to be hoped that by the time the grass cheese is ready for sale the market will be pretty well cleared of the old make. But in the present condition of affairs it seems to us that it would be decidedly against the interests of factorymen to turn out fodder cheese, for if these goods are put on the market to any extent before the old make is worked off, the chances are that they may adversely affect the price of the grass make.

We say this in the interests of factory men, for with finest old stock quoted at 7½c to 7¾c, factorymen can be their own judges as to what they may expect for their fodders. Our advices from the west, however, state that a few factories will commence making on April 1st, and that 7c had been bid for all they can turn out.

The makers of cheese are certainly to be congratulated upon the results of last season's business, as statements forwarded to us from our subscribers, some of which were only recently published, show that the average prices received for their cheese was 8⅝c to 8.85c, and the net prices paid to patrons was 7½c to 7¾c per lb., or $14.45 to $14.86 per ton for the milk, and we regret that we cannot report such a good showing for those who took the goods off the hands of factorymen last fall. Last season started well and ended well for makers, and despite the present bad state of the market, we trust the clouds will disperse between now and May. But from present appearances we cannot hold out hopes of high prices in the immediate future, but our subscribers may rely upon us keeping them thoroughly posted as the season progresses.—Trade Bulletin.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattress; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

NO SENATE VOTE YET

Another Day's Debate on the Yukon Bill.

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL SPEAKS

Able Speeches in Support of the Bill—Mr. Dandurand and Mr. Templeman Argue Strongly for a Canadian Policy—The Ex-Premier Helping American Interests—Other Speakers.

Ottawa, March 30.—The Senate is still pounding away at the Yukon bill. The division was not reached last night. The supporters of the Government may be seriously outnumbered numerically in the Upper House, but they are a good match in debating ability. Senator Mills is a host in himself, and last night at a late hour Mr. Dandurand, lately appointed from Quebec, made a speech that even in the Commons would place him in the front rank. Last night Senator Templeman, the representative of British Columbia Liberalism, made a vigorous argumentative speech in favor of the bill, following Sir Mackenzie Bowell who, in closing his speech, made the following suggestive reference to the schemes for building railways into the Yukon from ports controlled by the United States: "I have no fear of the dire consequences predicted in that country—rebellion and all that sort of thing—if this measure is not passed. If there is anything that would lead to that more than another it would be the restrictions placed upon the miners by giving a monopoly to one company of half the gold area of the country, and preventing other roads from being built in order to take in supplies of food and other necessaries. I believe that this House will reject this measure, and I am equally convinced that if a well-devised plan is submitted to Parliament the Senate will be willing to go a long way toward assisting the Government in opening up that country, providing that they are not asked to surrender the whole territory to one monopoly." Sir Mackenzie could not have more plainly asked his supporters to throw out the bill in the interests of Hamilton Smith and the others who are looking for Yukon charters.

Senator Dandurand.

Senator Dandurand, discussing the Yukon Railway bill, said the leaders of the Liberal party had been taken to task in the Senate for having subscribed to the platform adopted by the Liberal Convention of 1893, one of the planks of which was the reform of the Senate. The Senate was, in his opinion, now showing the wisdom of that proposed change by going back on all the precedents which governed its action for the past eighteen years. He had studied the history of the Senate, and during all the time the Conservative Government was in power he had not seen the Senate once interpose to prevent the large additions to the national debt of the country, nor had he heard the Senate raise its voice in protest when no less than sixty-seven million acres of lands in the Northwest had been given away to railway corporations. Neither had the Senate, when that farcical comedy was enacted in the House of Commons a few sessions ago, when a Liberal member had made a solemn charge against Sir Adolphe Caron of misappropriating subsidies granted to the Temiscouata Railway, and the Government with its majority whitewashed him, insisted upon an investigation of the serious charges made. Again, when the Conservative Government entered into a contract for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, involving millions of money and millions of acres of land, without calling for tenders, he did not read that the Senate raised its voice in protest. All through the eighteen years when the Conservative Government was in power the Senate had simply endorsed the acts of the Lower House, perfectly content to let the responsibility for these acts rest where it properly belonged, upon the Government and the representatives of the people in the popular chamber. Even the Montreal Star admitted that the Senate was traveling out of its usual orbit of action with regard to this bill.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, before beginning his remarks on the merits of the bill, read from the official records regarding the acquirement of the Northwest Territories from the Hudson Bay Company, the terms on which the Indian title to these lands was extinguished before Canada took possession, and asked if any settlement had been made of the Indian titles in the Yukon country.

Mr. Mills replied that when the Indians of the Yukon made claims for a settlement of their titles the Government would consider the question.

Sir Mackenzie expressed surprise to hear a former Minister of the Interior take the position that, because the Indian population, small as it might be, did not make claims for settlement of their title rights, the Government had the right to dispose of the lands without consulting them. This sort of conduct might give Sir Wilfrid Laurier an opportunity of shouldering his musket and going to the Yukon, instead of the Saskatchewan. He warned the Government that responsibility for the trouble or bloodshed which might arise from that cause would rest upon them.

Coming to the merits of the question, he said the Senate had been subjected to much abuse from the newspapers supporting the Administration for its attitude towards this bill. The Minister of Justice had insinuated that parties acting on behalf of the Conservative members of the Senate had been instrumental in having passed at Washington the Senate bill which was opposed to the interest of Canada. With the record the Liberal party had on this subject it was amusing to hear the Minister of Justice attempt to impute disloyalty to the Conservative party by inuendo and insinuation. He quoted from the records of the Senate to show that ever since Confederation the Senate had pursued an independent course with regard to all public questions. He gave numberless instances which bore out his claim in the Senate's behalf. He denounced the plea of urgency as a farce, and then he dealt with the all-Canadian claim for this road.

After recess Sir Mackenzie Bowell said Mr. Sifton appeared to have made this arrangement with Messrs. McKenzie and Mann substantially, if not in all its details, immediately on his return from Alaska, although it was concealed from everyone until it was given to the country through the columns of the Toronto Globe. Why had the Government forced on the contractors a monopoly clause? If the contractors had insisted upon such a clause it would be comprehensible, but why should the Government insist upon a monopoly? The excuse offered was that it was desired to force trade into Canadian hands; but trade would find its own channels, and it was idle to suppose that the contractors would be able to refuse freight from American ports.

Sir Mackenzie, in closing, said: "I have no fear of the dire consequences predicted in that country—rebellion and all that sort of thing—if this measure is not passed. If there is anything that would lead to that more than another it would be the restrictions placed upon the miners by giving a monopoly to one company of half the gold area of the country, and preventing other roads from being built in order to take in supplies of food and other necessaries. I believe that this House will reject this measure, and I am equally convinced that if a well-devised plan is submitted to Parliament, the Senate will be willing to go a long way towards assisting the Government in opening up that country, providing that they are not asked to surrender the whole territory to one monopoly."

Other Members' Speeches.

Senator Templeman said that public opinion on the Pacific coast was practically unanimous in favor of the Stikine-Teslin route. He read telegrams from Mr. Shaughnessy, stating that in six weeks, Feb. 1 to March 15, C.P.R. shipments to Victoria had increased 100 per cent., and to Vancouver 140 per cent.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Poirier and Clemow, both of whom opposed the bill.

Mr. Primrose moved the adjournment of the debate and the Senate adjourned at midnight.

THE FRANCHISE DEBATE.

House of Commons Lost Interest in the Matter Before the Vote—Some Questions and Answers.

Ottawa, March 30.—It was in silent protest that the House listened to the speeches that were made during the last day of the Franchise bill debate. An air of lassitude pervaded the chamber, and the seats that were vacant far outnumbered those that had occupants. Members, principally on the Opposition side, got up one after the other and addressed themselves to the Hansard reporters. After the day upon which the measure was introduced there was very little serious discussion, for the reason that there was such a thin line of divergence between the parties as to leave little or nothing to fight for. Almost every member of the House was willing to acknowledge the failure of the Franchise Act of 1885, and the adoption of the provincial lists was regarded as the inevitable consequence of the repeal of the old law. The Conservatives stood out for Federal control of the franchise, but they were unable to submit any practical scheme whereby the provincial franchises could be made subject to the direct control of the central authority. Mr. Powell offered an amendment to that effect in general terms, and the House divided, with the result that the motion for the second reading of the bill was carried, the Government majority being 49 on a vote of 97 to 48.

Replies to Questions.

Sir Charles Tupper enquired what truth there was in the statement that Mr. M. C. Cameron, M.P., was to be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest.

"If it were well founded at all," was the Premier's reply, "the matter would be made official, and, as it has not been made official, it is not well founded."

Mr. Foster observed that the statement had been made in the Senate that a wagon road by an all-Canadian route would be made into the Yukon for the mounted police and military, and he would like to know what was the Government's policy in this regard.

Sir Wilfrid would state nothing further than that it had been announced in the House that the Government would ask Parliament for an appropriation for the survey of the route from Observatory Inlet and Glenora, or Telegraph Creek, on the Stikine River. He intimated, however, that he could not make any statement of the Government's policy, in the event of the rejection of the Yukon Railway bill by the Senate.

The Minister of Railways and Canals promised Mr. Quinn that the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals should be opened for navigation as soon as possible.

Franchise Bill Debate.

The debate on the bill to abolish the Franchise Act was resumed by Mr. Bourassa (Lib., Labelle), who spoke strongly in favor of the bill, after whom the speakers were Messrs. Clancy, Casey, Rogers, Stenson and Powell. The latter moved the following amendment:

"That the bill be not now read a second time, but that it be resolved that this House, while desirous of reducing the expense of preparation of lists, as far as may be practicable, considers that no system of franchise would be satisfactory which does not preserve Federal control, both on the basis of suffrage and voters' lists.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Martin, Britton, Hughes, McCleary, Henderson, Gillies, Robertson, Davin, Moore, Legris, Chauvin and Fielding. At 12.15 the division was recorded and Mr. Powell's amendment defeated by 97 to 48.

The division was a strictly party one, except that Mr. Poupore voted with the Government.

The bill was then read the second time. The House adjourned at 12.35 o'clock.

Kettle Valley Railroad Bill.

Ottawa, March 30.—In the Railway Committee yesterday morning Minister Blair swung the whole of his influence in favor of the Kettle Valley Railway bill, and wound up his speech by saying that if Canadian smelting interests were likely to be endangered an export duty would afford the necessary relief.

Previous to the Minister's speech Mr. Bostock spoke in favor of the measure and Mr. Maxwell against.

John Ross Robertson, who followed, said he for one was not prepared to sit at the feet of Sir William Van Horne and learn patriotism. "I don't want to place," said Mr. Robertson, "the control of our trade in the hands of a railway autocrat."

One o'clock arrived, and the bill went over until Thursday.

ESTHER YOUNG IS FOUND AT SPRINGVILLE.

SHE DID NOT COMMIT SUICIDE BUT WANDERED AWAY.

Her Brothers Ascertain Her Whereabouts and Persuade Her to Return Home to Belmont—They Left at Noon To-day.

Through the instrumentality of the newspapers, which announced the mysterious disappearance of Miss Esther Young on Monday morning last, her brothers, who came to town yesterday, were enabled to trace the missing girl, and to ascertain that she did not take her life, as was at first supposed, but that she was wandering in the country. She was followed down through North Monaghan and found at Springville, from where where she was brought this morning to Peterborough. Her trunks were taken to the noon train upon which she left for Havelock, with her two brothers. Mr. Wm. Young, of Rockdale, and Mr. Daniel Young, of Rush Point. The family are unwilling to say anything at present concerning the young lady's mental condition.

But for Mr. Newton's forethought in giving the full particulars to the newspapers, Miss Young might yet be wandering through the country, as by the enquiries which were set on foot through the publicity given the affair, it was comparatively easy to ascertain he whereabouts.

FUNERAL OF MR. WAND.

The Large Attendance Was Indicative of the Estimation in Which the Deceased Was Held.

The funeral of the late William Wand yesterday was one of the largest which ever proceeded to the Little Lake Cemetery, testifying the esteem in which the deceased was held by the entire community.

At the family residence, Lake street, Ashburnham, a short address was made by Rev. J. E. Moore from the text "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like His." Rev. S. J. Shorey also made a few remarks highly eugolistic of the deceased, with whom he had been associated for many years in the concerns of the church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. H. Symonds, of St. Luke's church, after which the officers of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, stepped forward and draped the coffin in the folds of the Union Jack. At the grave the burial service was conducted by the members of Lansdowne Lodge, who turned out in a body to pay their last respects to the deceased who was one of the most highly esteemed members of the lodge.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Jos. Yelland, T. Joy, John Agnew, Jas. Armstrong, John Dormer and John Mowry.

Through arrangements of local ministers the presence of the great British evangelist, Henry Varley, will add strength and power to the work of the conference. MR. J. FRED. DAVIDSON GOES NORTHWEST.

Peterborough Loses a Live Progressive Young Farmer.

This afternoon at four o'clock Mr. J. Fred Davidson left by Grand Trunk for Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, N. W. T., which will be his future home. Mr. Davidson intends entering into the ranching business and with this end in view he takes with him two cars of thoroughbred pedigreed Shorthorns—bulls and heifers. Anyone who knows him knows that he would be satisfied with only the best. The animals he takes with him were purchased from Birdsall & Son, Asphodel, Wm. Rutherford, South Monaghan, Holdsworth & Son, Port Hope, McNeil, of Cavan, Campbell, of Woodville and Martyn, of Port Hope. These gentlemen are well known as among the best breeders of Shorthorns in Ontario or for that matter in Canada. Mr. Davidson's own experience as a successful stockbreeder and his interest in stock-raising, qualified him to select the cream of the herds he visited, and the Northwest farmers and ranchers who are fortunate enough to come into possession of the animals Mr. Davidson takes with him will have reason to be proud of their purchases. Mr. Davidson has not yet secured a site for his ranch and will pass the summer in prospecting in order to get the best possible location. That he will succeed in his undertaking is not only the wish but the expectation of his many friends here. He will be much missed in the counsels of progressive farmers. Young as he is he has taken a foremost part among them. He has always taken an active and intelligent interest in dairying, agricultural exhibitions and Farmers Institutes. He was for two terms the president of the West Riding Farmers' Institute, and satisfactorily fulfilled the duties of that position, and was also president of the Poultry and Pet Stock Association. Personally, he is highly respected, and hundreds of his friends will wish him the greatest success in his new home, while they regret the circumstance that deprives Smith township of so well esteemed and progressive a citizen.

Mr. Davidson will be accompanied as far as Maple Creek, by Mr. J. E. Fitzgerald, of Smith, who intends making a tour of the Northwest.

"ANOTHER CONVERT."

The Mail and Empire and Port Hope Guide Exchange Editorial Amenities—Mail Makes a Hit and Bro'r Wilson a Hit Counter.

The Mail and Empire made the following jocular reference: "The Liberals of Port Hope have made another convert. He is solid and substantial, one who has great weight in the constituency, and one who will attract attention wherever he goes. Moreover, he knows how to preserve a discreet silence on party matters that are shady, and will reveal no secrets that have been entrusted to him. The Port Hope Guide, the leading Liberal paper in the locality, makes the following joyful announcement: 'Don't fail to see the greatest scientific curiosity of the nineteenth century—the Petrified Man, once a human being, now a solid mass of stone, weighing 350 pounds, on exhibition here in the Liberal committee rooms.'"

To this the Guide responds thus:—"The Mail gloats over the fact that we have gained another convert here in Port Hope. We hasten to put our metropolitan cotemporary right—as we can assure the Mail that 'the convert' is only a fossil—petrified—an exact counterpart of the old fossil Tories, preserved and exhibited in the Senate. 'Only that and nothing more!' These 'mummies' have periodical spasms of independence, and, by a singular coincidence, never exhibit any of those 'fits' when a Conservative government is in power. It is only when they can grill a Grit that these 'old ladies' flutter their feathers and wag their jaws, and the leading old hen of the party was, only a few moons since, forcibly ejected from sitting 'on a nest of traitors.'

"We have almost forgotten the late Horace Greeley's remark about a good Indian, but as far as our memory serves us, it would be extremely apt in regard to a Tory senator."

LACROSSE CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING.

Dr. McGrath is Re-Elected President For the Third Time.

THE CLUB WILL JOIN THE C.L.A.

A Meeting Which Surpassed Anything of the Kind Ever Held Before to Promote the Interests of Athletics in the Town—Officers' Reports.

The re-organization meeting of the Peterborough lacrosse club last evening in the Oriental Hotel parlours was not only the largest ever held in connection with the club, but outclassed in attendance any held under the auspices of any other athletic sport in the town.

Besides the presence of a large number of the supporters of the game and last year's players, the enthusiasm was increased by the interest taken in the proceedings by a score or more of aspirants for positions on the junior team, which promises to be very strong this year, and for which a large number of games will be arranged early in the season.

The chair was occupied by Dr. McGrath, who has been the club's president for the last two years. He opened the meeting by welcoming those present and thanking the supporters of the game for their attendance at the various matches during the season. In closing he spoke most enthusiastically of the club's prospects during the incoming season.

Mr. Alf. Terrill, secretary, was then called on for the report of the Executive Committee, which was presented as appended:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the President, Members and Supporters of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club:

GENTLEMEN,—We feel sure that all present have followed the fortunes of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club with sufficient interest during the past year to know that only once were they beaten on the home grounds in 1897. On that occasion they succumbed to the Tecumsehs, of Toronto, who won from them by the close score of 4 goals to 3. In this connection it is interesting to note that the Tecumsehs were successful in winning all their games last season, including two against the Torontos.

The Peterboroughs were almost as successful when playing away from home, as they were only beaten by one goal in matches played respectively in Port Hope and Orillia. Markham was the only club which administered a decisive defeat to them, being able to win out the Eastern Ontario championship series by three goals. Although the Peterboroughs were beaten in Port Hope and Orillia, yet they won the series against these two clubs by five and four goals respectively, also winning from Orillia earlier in the season in an exhibition game by the score of 7—2. The Rosedales and Elms, of Toronto, were amongst the teams which were defeated on the home grounds.

Your committee takes especial pleasure in drawing attention to the fact that during the entire season no Peterborough player was ever warned for rough play.

As the management is of the opinion that the local players showed themselves superior to any which appeared against them in Peterborough last year, with the exception of the Tecumsehs, an endeavour will be made to arrange exhibition matches with a number of western clubs during the coming season if the citizens will show their appreciation by patronizing the game in such a manner as to guarantee the additional expenditure involved.

Encouraging letters have been received from the Montreal Shamrocks and the Ottawa Capitals, which clubs definitely promise to give Peterborough at least one game each during the season. While the local team may be overmatched when they try consolidations with these teams, still, as on all other occasions, they will certainly give a good account of themselves, and the management hopes that in arranging such matches it will have your support. It is proposed to put on a junior team and arrange as many matches for them as for the seniors and we will welcome all young players to the ranks.

One matter to which we wish to draw your attention in particular is that of deciding whether the club shall or shall not identify itself with the Canadian Lacrosse Association this season. We ask your advice on this subject and hope that all supporters of the club will give the matter their earnest consideration and not be backward in expressing their views.

Signed on behalf of the Executive Committee.
ALF. TERRILL,
Secretary.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. M. Halpin and Mr. R. M. Glover.

The Treasurer, Mr. R. M. Glover, then presented the following report from the Finance Committee, which was adopted on motion of Mr. B. Rickey and W. Lewis:

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Officers and Members of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club:

GENTLEMEN,—On behalf of the Finance Committee of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club I beg leave to present my report. I am sorry that it is necessary to show a deficit of about $75 (this includes several outstanding claims) on last season's undertakings. A detailed statement can be seen on application.

The officers of the club, while they regret a deficit, are not so very desirous of showing a surplus, merely aiming that each year should pay for itself, without any extraordinary demands on any particular member or members and from past experience they believe that this can be done.

When we started out last year we paid some bills of the previous season. We also had to expend something over $40 to put the grounds in a fit state of repair; a dozen McBrierty sticks were brought at $3; and several other payments of this character had to be made which are not necessary this year. The McBrierty sticks can be used this season by the expenditure of a few dollars in putting them in shape.

The receipts at the games were very good until the latter part of the season, caused no doubt by unfavourable weather. The expense entailed in bringing teams here was also very great, it being hard to get a first class team here whose railway fares do not amount to quite a sum.

The committee in presenting their report desire to thank all those who have contributed to the support of the club. They believe it is one of the best advertising mediums the town has, and while not complaining of the support they have received in the past, feel that the club is deserving of a more general appreciation by the citizens at large, and lovers of the game especially. The members of the club would thus become more encouraged to make a good record for themselves, and the citizens would take a more lively interest in keeping up Peterborough's reputation for clean, first-class sport.

The officers of the club are officers for the interest they take in the game; the players are players just out of pure love for the sport, and for no financial benefit that can be derived thereof.

The members of the club are enthusiastic as ever, and only require a little additional encouragement to enter upon the season of 1898 with a clean sheet and a hearty send-off from the citizens.

On behalf of the Finance Committee,
R. M. GLOVER,
Treasurer.

Great interest was taken in the election of officers and the contests in some of the cases were remarkably close and exciting. Messrs. Glover and Terrill were appointed scrutineers and the result was as follows:

THE OFFICERS.

Patron and Patronesses—Mr. James Kendry, M. P., and Mrs. Kendry, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., and Mrs. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, Dr. and Mrs. Burnham, Dr. and Mrs. Bradd.

Honorary President—Mayor Davis.
President—Dr. McGrath.
1st Vice-President—R. J. Fife.
2nd Vice-President—M. Halpin.
Secretary—Alf. Terrill.
Treasurer—R. M. Glover.

Executive Committee—The officers, captain, and Messrs. Bert Dolan, Fred Sullivan, W. S. Anderson and W. E. Lech.

Finance Committee—Officers and players.

Grounds Committee—Messrs. Alf. Terrill, Geo. Lipsett and R. M. Glover.

Reception Committee—Messrs. W. Sailsbury, J. J. Howden, L. B. Fetcher, Wm. Rudkins, W. J. Green, F. White and Chris Graham.

The selection of a captain and field captain for both senior and junior teams was left in the hands of the players to be decided at a subsequent meeting.

On motion of Messrs. Terrill and Halpin, the Executive Committee was authorized to draft the officers and players into pairs, with the object of soliciting subscriptions from the citizens and disposing of season tickets.

The Grounds Committee was empowered to make arrangements for the securing of suitable accommodation for the players for the year.

The question of the club affiliating with the Canadian Lacrosse Association was discussed at length. The fact that for years the East had no representative on the Executive body was urged as a strong factor against the club being identified with the league, but it was finally decided that both junior and senior teams be entered in the Association and that a strong effort be made to have a representative from the East elected to a position on the Executive.

On motion of Messrs. R. M. Glover and Dickson Davidson, the Secretary was instructed to arrange for four delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Association in Toronto on Good Friday, the delegates to go unpledged as to which candidates for office should be given Peterborough's support.

The secretary was also authorized to open up communication with the best teams in the Province with the object of arranging an exhibition game for the Queen's Birthday.

Before adjournment a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. L. B. Fetcher for the financial assistance which he so kindly afforded the club on different occasions during the season.

Mr. Geo. Graham was also the recipient of a vote of thanks for the cordial invitation which he extended to the club to use his parlours for the purpose of meetings.

THE CHAINLESS WHEEL.

Encouraging reports come to hand anent the chainless machines. Buyers are tardy in their purchases, but wheels of this type already used are filling all requirements, and it may be confidentially stated that another month will find this make-up in extremely active demand. A rider who has had the experience gained by century runs on a chainless wheel is enthusiastic on the subject of its easy running qualities. Converts in the bicycle field are quickly made, and chainless-bicycle buyers this month will not be without company by the time the Summer season opens.

Spring Purification.

The clogged-up machinery of the system requires cleaning out after the wear and tear of the winter's work. Nothing will do this so thoroughly and perfectly as the old reliable Burdock Blood Bitters.

It cures Constipation, Sick Headaches, Feeling of Tiredness, and all the evidences of Sluggish Liver and Impure Blood, which are so prevalent in the spring.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Makes rich, red blood and gives buoyancy and strength to the entire system.

Mr. Alex. Miller, Ardoch, Ont., writes:—

"I have taken Burdock Blood Bitters every spring and fall for some years, and as a blood purifier it is unequalled. It always strengthens me and does me good."

WHEAT FIRMER.

This Was Because of Generally Improved Conditions - Toronto and Montreal Live Stock Markets - Prices.

Monday Evening, March 28.

Wheat opened weak in Chicago this morning, but later firmed up and closed at a nice gain over Saturday's final figures. The advance in May was 1¼c, in July ⅞c, and in September 1¼c, December closing at Saturday's close. The improvement was due to the big decrease in the visible supply, buying by shorts, reports of damage to crop in the South, and sympathy with stocks. In Liverpool May and July futures each gained ½d, and September ⅝d. Corn and provisions were strong to-day, Oats showing some weakness.

Visible Afloat.

Below is a statement showing the visible supply of grain in Canada and the United States to-day. The figures are in bushels:

	Mar. 28.	Mar. 21.
Wheat	30,061,000	31,417,000
Corn	43,982,000	43,388,000
Oats	11,936,000	12,304,000
Barley	1,517,000	1,508,000
Rye	3,265,000	3,201,000

The decrease in the wheat visible is 1,356,000 bush for the past week, as against a decrease of 1,407,000 bush for the corresponding week of last year.

There is afloat to Europe to-day 38,040,000 bush of wheat, as compared with 38,320,000 bush a week ago, and 18,500,000 a year ago. The quantity of corn afloat for Europe is 160,000 bush more than a week ago, and 1,300,000 less than a year ago.

INTENTIONS OF GREAT BRITAIN

A New Departure in the Chinese Question Mooted.

IS SHE GRABBING TERRITORY?

Mr. Gladstone Is Happy Awaiting for the Coming of the Grim Monster—Russia Has Hoisted Her Flag at Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan—Cable News.

London, March 29.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader in the House, promised a Ministerial statement on the situation in the far East before Easter.

The Globe (Con.) says the progress of affairs in the far East is becoming more acute. Unless it is found that the Government has secured some tangible advantage, riot will set in among its supporters. It is reported, however, from the best quarters that the apparent diplomatic defeat of Great Britain masks a move of the greatest importance, which will give Great Britain a favorable position.

Britain's Intentions.

A statement has been obtained in a competent quarter respecting British intentions in China, in view of the naval movements in the far East. It is stated that Great Britain is to obtain equal advantages with the other powers and secure adequate compensation in her own interests. This explains the British naval activity at Hong-Kong and elsewhere. Therefore, a movement upon the part of Great Britain may be anticipated in the future.

The Daily Chronicle says this morning it has reason to believe that an area of 10,000 square miles in the Province of Shan-Si has been conceded by China to a syndicate of English capitalists. If this be true, says the Daily Chronicle, it is obvious that Lord Salisbury has approved the scheme.

THE RUSSIAN FLAG HOISTED.

The Chinese Withdraw From Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan With Above Result.

Pekin, March 29.—The Chinese garrisons were withdrawn yesterday from Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan, the Russians landed, and the Russian flag was hoisted at both places.

Where England Stands.

London, March 29.—The Daily News says it understands that after Friday's Cabinet Council orders were despatched to the British fleet in Chinese waters to rendezvous in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, with a view of strengthening the diplomacy of Sir Claude Macdonald, the British Minister in China.

The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "Sir Claude Macdonald has advised China to refuse to lease Port Arthur, as it is unnecessary since Ta-Lien-Wan has been conceded, but China replied that she is powerless to resist the Russian demands."

The Times, commenting editorially on the extremely serious situation in the far East, where it assumes the British fleet will now resume the attitude in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li which should never have been abandoned, says: "England at the present moment possesses practically neither a Prime Minister nor a Foreign Minister. Mr. Arthur Balfour would make a capital Foreign Minister, if appointed permanently; but he cannot be spared from the leadership of the House of Commons. We hope, therefore, that Lord Salisbury will ere long devolve the Foreign Secretaryship upon one of his colleagues.

DEATH HAS NO TERRORS.

Mr. Gladstone Is Not Afraid of the Grim Monster - He Is Happy.

London, March 29.—The Westminster Gazette yesterday, referring to the health of Mr. Gladstone, says:

It is no news, we fear, to say, that Mr. Gladstone's illness must necessarily be fatal in a comparatively short time. Mr. Gladstone is fully informed as to his own condition. He asked the doctors to tell him the truth, and he was thankful when informed that he had no chance of recovery.

His state of mind is one of complete happiness. His life goes on quietly and evenly. Music is his chief solace. It soothes the pain.

The death of a black Pomeranian pets, which for nine years had been a constant companion of Mr. Gladstone, has been an additional pang to the whole family. When Mr. Gladstone went to Cannes, the pets was left with the Drews, but he pined, would not eat and was returned to Hawarden the day Mr. Gladstone returned, and he died on Friday.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts man's capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of a way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

A Boon to Cyclists.

A bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil should be in every cyclist's kit as it is the most effective remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Cuts, Stiff Joints, Contraction of the Muscles, Cramps in the legs, etc.

First Passenger Killed on the C.P.R.

Toronto, March 29.—The body of Frank Mardian, who was killed in an accident on the C.P.R., near Rat Portage, on Friday last, passed through Toronto yesterday.

As far as can be learned, Mr. Mardian is the first passenger ever killed on a C.P.R. train. There have been numerous fatalities among the employes and many persons have been killed on the tracks, but the Canadian Pacific officials do not remember a precedent to the accident which occurred last week. Messrs. Tiffin and T. Williams both stated that, in their recollection, Mr. Mardian was the first passenger to meet death aboard a Canadian Pacific train.

After a Canadian Cruiser.

Halifax, N.S., March 29.—A report is in circulation here, though not apparently well founded, that the United States is anxious to purchase the fast Dominion fishery cruiser Acadia, and is negotiating with the Canadian authorities. The Acadia is a 17-knot steamer, and would make a splendid despatch boat.

Captain Levita of the Royal Artillery left here last night for Washington. He is the third British officer to go from Halifax to the American capital within the past ten days.

Essex to Have a New Town Hall.

Essex, Ont., March 28.—The I.O.O.F. will build a new Town Hall here, one flat of which is to be leased by the town at $300 per year for 15 years.

Killed While Felling a Tree.

Chatham, March 29.—William Miller, the 18-year-old son of a well-known farmer of Chatham, was killed yesterday while felling trees.

The greater includes the less. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scorfula, and may be depended upon to cure boils and pimples.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, March 28.—There were about 600 head of butchers' cattle, 200 calves, 25 sheep and 5 spring lambs offered for sale at the East End market to-day. The wind and rain together with the abundance of mud made it rather disagreeable around the yards and lanes, and trade was rather dull. Prime beeves are held at firm rates, but common and inferior stock, including a good many lenten bulls, brought lower prices than on last week's market. Prime beeves sold at from 4¼c to 4½c per lb. and a few choice animals were held for higher figures; pretty good stock sold at from 3½c to 4c, and the common rough beasts at from 2¼c to 3½c per lb., while the leaner animals sold at from 2c to 2¼c per lb. Slab-sided bulls sold at from 2½c to 3½c and good bulls at from 3½c to nearly 4c per lb. Calves sold at from $1 to $7 each; good sheep sell at from 4c to 4½c per lb.; yearlings at 5c to 5½c per lb., and spring lambs at from $2.50 to $4.50 each. Fat hogs are rather plentiful and lower in price, ranging from 4¼c to 5c per lb.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

WHIMS OF BULLETS.

One Can Never Tell Where They Will Lodge In the Body.

Within the past two years Dr. Samuel H. Garvin, the jail physician, has been keeping the bullets extracted from the bodies of prisoners whose wounds were dressed before the men were placed behind the bars, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. The collection rapidly increased, but recently Dr. Garvin found a number of the bullets missing from the little tin box in which he keeps them and has never been able to trace them. Strolling into his office in the jail, a reporter found the doctor closely examining the bullets which were scattered about the table.

"It is something remarkable," he said, picking up one of the small slugs that was battered and twisted out of shape, "how the human body will deflect a bullet. Now, this one recalls the time when a negro was sent here who was shot in the left shoulder. I probed for some time without being able to locate the ball and was about to give the search up as hopeless when I found it lodged securely under the man's tongue. He never felt it there and was greatly surprised when I put it out. The operation never interfered with his speech afterward.

"Now, this one reminds me of another peculiar case," continued the doctor, picking up a piece of metal that was curved on one side and flat on the other. "A man named King was brought here recently, who was shot in the lower part of the left jaw. I probed for the ball and succeeded in finding half of the bullet above the ear, under the scalp. I was never able to find the other half."

The ball looked as if it had been cut with a sharp knife, so smooth was the surface. So many persons submit themselves to the doctor's knife and thin, steel probe that he remembers but few of the names of the persons upon whom he has operated. He cited an instance where a man was shot between the toes and the ball was taken out at the ankle.

One bullet had been flattened from the broad end almost down to the middle. It had turned in its flight. It had struck a negro squarely on the forehead, but such was the resistance of the thick frontal bone that, instead of penetrating into the head, its course was abruptly stopped, and the ball was cut from the skin. Had it been a white man, Dr. Garvin said, the bullet would have pierced the forehead and entered the brain.

Lying about the table were about 30 of the little pieces of lead, bent and flattened into every conceivable shape, caused by striking or grazing the bone. Each has its history, but a shooting bee is an ordinary occurrence, and the jail physician seldom bothers about the history or the details of the case.

In speaking of probing for bullets and peculiar incidents in regard to shooting scrapes Dr. Garvin recalled the day in 1855 when General Lovell H. Rousseau was shot by Dr. Standiford in the courthouse yard, the provocation being a political dispute. General Rousseau was carried into an office on Court place, where it was found that he had been shot in the center of the abdomen. When the location of the wound was discovered, the physicians immediately gave up hope of General Rousseau's recovery. On examination, however, they found that the ball had struck the linea alba, the dense, fibrous tissue, about an inch wide, that extends around the abdomen. This saved the general's life. The ball circled around and lodged somewhere near the spinal column and was never removed.

One Cool Head.

"Going clear up?"

"Yes; sixteenth floor."

The man who had asked the question opened a small valise he carried by means of a strap slung over one shoulder and took out a book.

"There's no need of letting any time go to waste," he said. "I've got a work here I'd like to show you. This is no humbug. It's no cheap fake got up to fool the people. It's"—

"I haven't any time to look at it."

"You have all the time there is. This is a lightning calculator, my friend, got up on a new plan. Shows you how to compute the interest on any sum from a cent to $1,000,000, how to change dollars to pounds or pounds to dollars, gives simple rules for multiplication by any number of figures, shortens every operation in arithmetic, will pay for itself the first time you use it, and all"—

The wire cables, which were supposed to be securely fastened to the elevator, broke or gave way at this moment, and the elevator fell from the twelfth story.

It shot down like a meteor. By some unheard of accident the elevator shaft in that particular building had been constructed with an air cushion at the bottom, and this broke the fall. No lives were lost, but the passengers were badly shaken up and were hysterical with fright—all but one. His voice rose above the din in brisk businesslike tones:

"And all I ask for the book is half a dollar. Can't I sell you a copy?"—Chicago Tribune.

ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

UNCONSCIOUSLY HUMOROUS.

Some of the Amusing Stories In Which John Stetson Figured.

It was Stetson who on landing from the steamer after a stormy voyage exclaimed, "Thank God, I am once more on vice versa!"

Mrs. Billington on her return from America brought home many Stetson stories. One of the best had reference to the sudden necessity of enlarging the programme of a variety entertainment. His manager had, as he believed, successfully filled the bill. Stetson arrived on the scene in the midst of the opening numbers. "What is on now?" he asked. "Well, it's just a pretty, sentimental duet by the brothers So-and-so." "Sentimental, eh!" said Stetson. "That's good." It was one of those duets that have supplied George Grossmith and other entertainers with some of their best burlesques of part singing. The tenor asks a vocal question, the baritone replies—a kind of litany, with variations. In this case the tenor was a feeble looking youth of 50, with one of those voices that may be music or an escape of gas.

Stetson stood at the wing and contemplated the duetists—youthful tenor of 50, aged baritone with the manners of 20 and such a wig!

"Where are the friends of my youth?" began the tenor in pathetic tones that hardly reached the orchestra.

"Where are the loved ones gone?" responded the baritone in a gloomy gurgle. "Further back," said Stetson from the wing. "They'll hear you better lower down the stage." Having thus got them well out of the way of the curtain, "Ring down," he said to the prompter at his elbow, and the drop fell. "On with the next number in the programme," he said, "and send those two gentlemen to my room. How long are you engaged for?" he asked them. "Two weeks, Mr. Stetson," they answered with deferential humility. "How much?" "Fifteen dollars a week."

"Very well, my poor fellows. There's your money," he said. "I won't detain you. Go and find the friends of your youth." When you tell this story, it is necessary that you should sing the lines to their right tune and with characteristic imitation of two played out voices, and bear in mind how cynically courteous Stetson would be in commending the faded duetists to go straightway in quest of those friends of their youth.—Newcastle Chronicle.

The Spelling Lesson.

The following illustration of a child's spelling lesson and her apt conclusion in regard to the orthography of the English language is taken from the New York Times:

"Spell toes," said the mother, who was teaching her little daughter, 7 years old, to spell.

"T-o-e," answered the child.

"No, dear, that's not right. T-o-e-s spells toes."

"But it sounds like t-o-e-s."

"I know it, but you cannot go by the sound."

Then, in order to enforce the proposition, the mother called upon her daughter to spell frost.

"F-r-o-s-t," said the child.

"No; you're wrong again. This time we do use the s and spell the word f-r-o-s-t."

"Huh!" exclaimed the child.

Strike Quickly.

"On the instant when a lion shows his temper" said a famous lion tamer "cut him quickly over the face. Don't wait until he springs at you." This is equally good advice for treating the lion of disease. Many an attack of dangerous illness would be headed off if at the first premonitory symptoms the victim would strike quickly.

Those severe coughs, bronchial affections and wasting diseases which merge into consumption would never get their savage teeth into the constitution if their early signs were headed off by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It provides such an abundance of rich nourishing blood that tuberculosis germs have no chance to get any lodgment in the lungs. It clears the skin and purges all the impurities from every organ. It invigorates the liver to expel all bilious poisons from the circulation. It creates healthy tissue, vitalized nerve fiber and gives solid strength.

"I have thought for a long time," writes Mrs. Rose Petty, of Lockville, Chatham Co., N. C., "that I would not do you justice if I did not write and tell you how I was cured of that dreadful disease called consumption, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had measles and pneumonia both at the same time, and came near dying, and as soon as I was able to go out I was taken with grip, and then followed consumption. My physician did all he could for my relief but I received none. I tried everything that I could hear of that was good for a cough but grew worse, and would have died soon had I not commenced using the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I felt improved before the first bottle was finished. I took six bottles, and after that I felt better and stronger than in ten years before. That was six years ago, and to-day do not feel any symptoms of a return of the disease. I remain cured, and I think I am the cause of a friend being cured by using the same medicine. He was afflicted as I was, and after every thing failed to cure him he took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was cured."

"Now spell rose," said the mother.

The child hesitated. Finally she said, "I don't know whether to say r-o-z-e or r-o-s-e."

"Spell it r-o-s-e," said the mother, "though there is another word pronounced just like it that's spelled r-o-e-s. That word is the name of the spawn of fishes."

The child looked perplexed.

"Just one word more," said the mother. "Tell me how you spell blows."

"Well," said the little girl, who had had quite enough nonsense, as she viewed it, from her mother and had suddenly made up her mind to pay back in kind, "I spell it three ways. I spell it b-l-o-s-e for breakfast, b-l-o-e-s for dinner and b-l-o-z-e for supper."

"I spell it b-l-o-w-s," said the mother.

The child was silent for a minute as if wrapped in thought; then, looking up, she solemnly remarked, "I think, mamma, that the English language was made for persons very, very well educated."

Wawling, Wowling, Caterwauling.

The word "wawling" and its variants "wewling" and "wowling" are fairly common in modern folk speech. Up here in Northumberland we have it "wowling;" in Bucks and Oxon I have heard both "wawling" and "wewling" applied to the plaintive or wailing cry of little children. When the "English Dialect Dictionary" extends to "W," Professor Wright will no doubt show the range and nuances of the term, as he has already done with "bell" and "belling." Shakespeare makes use of "wawl" once at least. See "Lear," IV., vi., in which the aged king tells Gloster:

Thou know'st the first time that we smell the air
We wawl and cry.

Some Descriptive Writing.

They were beaten, hopelessly beaten. Fate, cruel fate, had decreed for them a death as early as it was ignominious. Without so much as a word, a sigh, a whisper of agony or a breath of resistance they had been consigned to their doom. Even now, naught left of them but the pale white of despair, were they being poured over the lemon meringue pie. They were beaten, hopelessly beaten. COULDN'T GO NEAR THE STOVE.

Treated by Different Doctors.

CURED BY DR. CHASE.

The most intractable and distressing skin diseases which defy all manner of treatment—even the best medical skill—are readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

MRS. JOS. QUERIN, hotelkeeper's wife, at Ethel, Ont., was troubled with Eczema of the Head and Face for about 9 years, and was so bad at times she could not go near the hot stove to do her cooking. Her head was one mass of scabs, and although she treated with doctors it kept getting worse. On hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment, she got some, and was delighted to find the first application do her good. She used two more boxes of the Ointment, is now free from disease, can do her own cooking, and would not begrudge $200 for the good it has done her.

Prussian Streets.

The German emperor as king of Prussia has the sole right to name streets, and he has just refused his consent to the proposal to call two streets after the names of Dr. Bertram and Dr. Langerhans, two popular members of the municipal council. His majesty disapproves of such a course during the lifetime of the godfathers. This apparently refers to men of official standing only, whose political opinions might change after the streets had been named, for the Mommsenstrasse in Charlottenburg was recently passed with approval. Some new German streets have a tendency to long names. "Prince August von Wurtembergstrasse" is today a name and nothing more. The houses have still to be built.

INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT.

LOSS OF FLESH A SIGN OF DECLINING HEALTH.

GAIN IN FLESH A SURE INDICATION OF RETURNING STRENGTH AND VIGOR.

DO YOU feel yourself getting weak and languid—health and strength slipping away from you—hollows showing that used to be filled with flesh—cheeks getting pinched and pale, muscles flabby, nerves unstrung, heart weak, appetite poor.

Do the scales tell you—does the fit of your clothes tell you—you're losing flesh? You need Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They so vitalize the nerves, improve the digestive powers, increase the appetite, strengthen the heart and enrich the blood, that the angularities of your body fill out with healthy flesh, your muscles become firm, your spirits revive. The scales tell you you're gaining in weight. You feel your old buoyant, vigorous health returning—Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done their work well. Here's what Mrs. D. N. Ostrander, of Trenton, Ont., has to say about them:—

"I have been a great sufferer for many years with my heart and nerves. When going around the house I would get so bad that I had to lie down on the lounge until I could recover my breath. At night I could hardly sleep at all, and when I would drop off to sleep would wake up with a start, followed by a suffocating feeling as if my heart had stopped beating forever. I got very languid and weak, had no ambition, and thought that everything was going wrong with me. I grew morbid in mind, lost my appetite, and had to force myself to eat what I did. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, weighing only 90 pounds at the time I started to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I can tell you that I would have given but little for my chances of living much longer. Several doctors attended me, and I have taken al. kinds of proprietary medicines, but without avail. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thought I would try them as a last resort. The results were simply marvellous. I began to improve from the first few doses, and noticed a big difference before I had taken one box. Now I sleep well, the suffocating feeling is completely gone. I have splendid strength and my appetite is such that I have to restrain myself for fear I eat too much. I can eat anything that is set before me and am better that I have been for years. Am increasing in weight right along, and feel that life is worth living, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cost 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all drug stores, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. T. MILBURN & CO., Toronto, Ont.

A CANADIAN MARBLE CITY.

A Boom Town Built of White Marble—The Only One in the World.

I was assistant engineer on the Ontario and Quebec Railroad, a branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, writes an old engineer, and in running one of our preliminary lines one of them touched Bridgewater, Ontario, a deserted town that was the personification of Oliver Goldsmith's 'Deserted Village.' Bridgewater was brought into existence by one of the strangest gold finds and crazes in the history of this continent.

Nearly twenty-five years ago a farmer's wife was searching the woods surrounding their farm for a sow that had strayed and, becoming thirsty, stooped to get a drink from a spring. Slipping she fell against a small, loose rock, which rolled to her feet, and which proved to be a twenty pound nugget of almost pure gold. Bridgewater at that time was nearly forty miles from the nearest railroad, and the present site of the town was nothing but a wilderness, but the effect of that accidental find of the farmer's wife was such that inside of six months what had been a burned-over barren wilderness was converted into a substantial city of nearly 5,000 people.

"In digging a shaft about a mile south of the town site, on the claim of Billa Flint, a life senator of Canada, an immense quarry of the purest white marble ever found on this continent was discovered, and at the suggestion of the Senator the town of Bridgewater was practically built of marble, for it has to-day the only hotel, church, school, court-house and private dwellings constructed entirely of white marble in the world, and a mile north of the town are an abandoned axe factory and grist mill, whose foundations are built of the same material.

"One rancher, whose farm adjoined "Aladdin's Cave," the place where the original nugget was found, sold five acres to an English syndicate for $100,000, and it is an established fact that the syndicate spent as much more developing their claim, as everything was very costly, all material having to be hauled nearly fifty miles, over rough roads; and they did not get a single ounce of the free gold out of their purchase but they mined some quarts—about 100 tons—shipped it to the States, and in return got a bill from the smelting company for $300 smelting charges over and above the gold in the quarts. This was the first, and I believe the last, shipment of quarts ever made, as the cost of hauling, shipping and smelting was $150 a ton more than the rock produced.

TERRIBLE HUMOR

A Little Boy's Sufferings. Covered with Sores and Raw from Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

About eighteen months ago my baby boy (now three years old) broke out with horrible sores all over his body, which tortured him night and day. He would scratch to such an extent, that his face and such parts of his body that he could reach with his hands were almost raw from scratching. After being under treatment by doctors for three months the child got worse, and there seemed nothing that would relieve him.

He had wasted away to a mere skeleton, from want of sleep. A Mr. J. G. Ahern, of the Gate City Loan Co., who happened to call at our residence, was attracted by the fearful screams of the child, and asked if he might see him. He was brought in, and upon seeing him, Mr. Ahern said, that "while it was the worst case he had ever seen, he felt satisfied that it could be speedily cured by the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES." I finally consented to try them, purchasing the CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA ointment, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and used them according to directions. Before we had been using them three weeks, we noticed a decided change for the better, the itching began to subside and a healing process had set in. In seven weeks from the time we began with CUTICURA REMEDIES, my little one was completely cured, and without a sign of the trouble left. It is over a year since he has been cured; there has been no return of the trouble, and the little man is now fat and hearty, with a beautiful, clear skin.

As we are very modest we do not wish to discuss this matter at any length But it reminds us forcibly of a little dialogue that we once heard. A little girl and her mother were seated at a window looking out into one of our crowded thoroughfares. Suddenly the child looked up and said: "Say, mother, look at that beautiful angel with wings coming down the street!" The mother replied—"No! no! child, that's only a Lakefield girl, with her ears spread!"

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

"Further, China has conceded the right of constructing a railroad to connect the ports with the trans-Siberian main line."

After stating that the arrangement is the direct and natural consequence of the amicable relations between two neighboring states anxious to advance the interests of their peoples, the official communication continues: "While safeguarding the integrity and sovereignty of China and satisfying the essential needs of Russia, the arrangement injures the interests of no foreign state. On the contrary, it affords all nations the possibility of entering in the near future into relations with the river regions of the Yellow Sea, hitherto closed to them. The opening of Ta-Lien-Wan to the merchant ships of all nations will create a new and wide market for commerce and industry, owing to the trans-Siberian line, which is henceforth destined to connect the extremities of two continents and the old world. The arrangement, therefore, is of high historical value to Russia, and should be hailed as a fortunate event by all those who have at heart the benefits of peace and the development of good relations among nations."

A Brakeman Decapitated.

Huntsville, Ont., March 30.—About 2.30 yesterday a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway named John Davalle fell between two cars of his train and was killed, his head being cut clean off. A defective plank on a load of lumber broke and let him down. His home is in Barrie, where he has a wife and one child. Coroner Reeve decided that no inquest was necessary.

Big Blaze at Tilbury.

Tilbury, Ont., March 30.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the old Stewart block, occupied by G. McLaughlin, tailor; E. Alger, shoemaker; J. Graham, implement agent; E. Cole, confectioner, and M. Middaugh. The building was an old frame one, owned by Mr. Stewart. Total loss about $4,500; insurance unknown.

Farmer Campbell Hanged Himself.

Owen Sound, Ont., March 30.—Thomas Campbell, aged about 55, a farmer living on the outskirts of the town, hanged himself yesterday. The cause was biliousness.

THE UNION JACK.

The flag of Great Britain and Ireland is made out of three different flags, combined and sewed into one, and is in three colours, red, white and blue. The three original flags were called after three national saints, St. George of England, St. Andrew of Scotland, and St. Patrick of Ireland. It ought to be saintly enough for the most pious—as well as convince the very elect with its trinity of threes. Three countries, three flags and three colours, united into one whole—"that it is, God's flag.

The English flag or Jack is a white flag with a broad red cross, this red cross runs from the centre to the middle of each of the four sides of the white flag. On this is placed the Scotch flag or Jack, which is a blue flag, with a broad white cross; this white cross runs from the centre to the four corners of the blue flag. On this is placed again another white flag, the Irish flag, with a narrow red cross; unlike the English red cross, it runs from the centre to the four corners, and can be seen on the Scotch white cross.

It is curious to observe they all have a cross, they all meet in the centre, and they also all reach to the borders or edges of the Union Jack. All the flags are treated alike, and are thus equal in honour and place. Red for courage, white for purity, blue for truth.

TEST FOR DYSPEPTICS

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Wonder of the Century.

A Proposal to Test Their Remarkable Efficacy in Stomach Diseases—Box of Health For Fifty Cents.

It used to be said "You can't buy health with money." Many people will tell you so to-day. But, to a very great extent, the saying has lost its truth and significance. Many things that used to be impossible, are to-day quite easy of accomplishment. For instance, you can talk to a friend a thousand miles away; Niagara Falls have been harnessed to the service of man; electricity is one of our servants. And you can buy health by the box.

Now, dyspeptics, and people suffering from indigestion, may not believe this. All the same, it is a fact, and they can prove it to be one, and make themselves happy for life at the same time, if they wish.

This is how to do it. Buy a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—price fifty cents. Use one or two Tablets after each meal, and they will find that their disease will soon be replaced by vigourous health.

This is another fact. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will convince you by curing you. Isn't that proof enough? Every box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is a box of health.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all diseases of the stomach except cancer. They digest the food, strengthen and restore the stomach, regulate the bowels, and make the sick well.

It is dangerous to wade unknown waters. It is equally dangerous to tamper with unknown medicines. Don't endanger your health by "trying" new "remedies." Stick to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They'll do all that can be done for you. They'll cure you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

For floors a hard-drying and hard-wearing paint, to walk on. For chairs and furniture, a bright, glossy paint—that's hard to mar or scratch. For bath tubs, a hard, bright enamel—that hot or cold water does not affect. For buildings, a durable paint—to withstand the elements.

THE ABOLITION OF THE SENATE

A Monstrous Anomaly and Blot Upon Our Institutions.

THE LOSS OF THE YUKON TRADE

Would Thus Be Partially Compensated For—Shame-Covered Second Chambers—A Great Bill of Expense for No Useful End—Senate Necessity a Superstition Without Basis.

Toronto, March 31.—The Globe says editorially this morning: The Senate has rejected the Yukon bill by the overwhelming majority of 52 to 14. As a fact, the action of the majority must be reckoned with. As an intelligent, unbiased judgment on the project, the vote is absolutely without value. The majority is composed for the most part of men whose judgment would not be accepted on the bridging of a creek, and they are led by a politician whose one year's tenure of the Premiership was notoriously weak and incompetent, and whose incapacity finally led to his being deposed by his own party. They are further incapacitated by a blind and bigoted partisanship which renders them completely subservient under Conservative rule, and factious, mischevious and obstructive when a Liberal Government is in power. The toss of a copper would be a better means of arriving at a decision than the vote of such a body.

At the same time it would be idle to deny that the Senate possesses very considerable power of doing mischief, and that in this case it has enhanced the difficulty of a difficult situation. The Government is strong, able and resourceful, and it is possible that it may find a way out of the difficulty in spite of the evil that has been wrought by the vanity, obstinacy and blind partisanship of those incompetent meddlers in the affairs of a nation. But it becomes a very serious question whether we can be said to possess responsible government while the will of the representatives of the people can be thwarted in this way.

Second chambers have not covered themselves with glory either in Great Britain, in the United States or in Canada, and the Canadian body is certainly the worst of all three. It represents no class of the people, no idea, no national interest. The politicians who created it have been rejected by the people; and yet they are able to command in the Senate a majority of nearly four to one. We have been accustomed to boast that our system of government reflects the will of the people more quickly than that of the United States; but the boast can hardly be made good while we have a legislative body that if it chose could successfully oppose the will of the people for ten years.

In the two periods of Conservative rule in this country, making together twenty-five years, the Senate was dormant and legislation was carried on virtually by one chamber. If that could be done under Conservative rule it could be done under Liberal rule, and we can see no reason why the arrangement should not be made permanent, and the country saved an annual expenditure which is worse than wasted. We sincerely trust that the agitation for the complete abolition of the Senate will not be allowed to die when the excitement over the Yukon has disappeared. It is a bad thing to risk losing the trade of the Yukon, but to get rid of this monstrous anomaly and blot upon our institutions would be at least a partial compensation for the loss of the Yukon trade. It is simply intolerable that one political party, having enjoyed and abused power to the utmost, and have worn out the patience of the people so that it suffered defeat at the polls, should be able to foist upon its successors a body of so-called legislators prejudiced in favor of the narrowest Toryism, and utterly lacking both in the will and in the ability to form a fair judgment upon an important public question. The Senators by their action have created a new issue. The Yukon difficulty must be settled in some way that will not be liable to obstruction by incapacity, childish vanity and desire to aid a reckless political faction. But the people, and especially the young men of the country, will begin to inquire whether we ought much longer to tolerate this absurd attempt to copy the British House of Lords. We have no particular love for aristocracy in this country, and we have certainly no desire for aristocracy and water. Well-meaning persons have talked of "reforming" the Senate, but we have never heard of any reform so simple, effective and inexpensive as that which can be accomplished by laying the axe to the root of the tree. As nothing has been gained by the feeble attempt to copy the British House of Lords, so nothing will be gained by an attempt to copy the American Senate. The idea of the necessity of a second chamber is a superstition, without the smallest basis either of reason or experience.

PROTESTED ELECTIONS.

Four More Added to the List—Ten Out of Twenty-Four Have Put Up the $1,000 Deposit.

Toronto, March 31.—The election protests filed yesterday with Registrar Grant of the Court of Appeal numbered four, three by Conservatives and one by the Liberals. They were Haldimand, East Lambton, East Middlesex and Halton.

William Glen, carpenter, Township of Oneida, petitions against the return of J. W. Holmes (Lib.) in Haldimand, whose majority was 103, and claims the seat for F. R. Lalor (Con.).

In East Lambton, Allan McPherson of Forest is the petitioner. A. J. Pettypiece (Lib.) carried the constituency by a majority of 40. His opponent was Dr. J. A. McLeay (Con.).

The East Middlesex petitioner is Archibald McMurphy, gentleman, of London West. T. D. Hodgens (Con.), the member-elect, had a majority of 95 over Dr. McWilliams (Lib.).

John Adams, laborer, of the Township of Trafalgar, petitions against the return of J. R. Barber (Lib.), in Halton. Lieut.-Col. Kerns (Con.), is the defeated candidate. The majority was 127.

The usual grounds of corruption are alleged in all four protests. Of the 24 protests now filed, 10 have put up their $1,000, seven Conservatives and three Liberal. They are: London, West Middlesex, South Toronto, North Essex, Brockville, South Brant, Monck, East Hastings and the two Hamiltons.

Austria Gets the War Fever.

Vienna, March 31.—The Neue Freie Presse yesterday announced that the Austrian-Hungarian Government intends to ask for 45,000,000 to 50,000,000 florins for the purpose of increasing the strength of the Austrian navy.

A CARRIER PIGEON'S MESSAGE.

News of the Rescue of the Crew of an English Ship.

Swansea, March 31.—The British steamer Challerton, from Port Nolloth for Swansea, which has just arrived here, reports that when about 250 miles south of the Scilly Islands a carrier pigeon boarded her and the following message was found attached to the bird: "March 27, 8 a.m.—An English sailing vessel has been succored by La Bretagne. Delay probable. (Signed) Capt. Renaud."

The following was also appended to the carrier pigeon: "Saved the crew of the Bothnia. Three of that crew killed."

Mr. Gladstone Took an Outing.

London, March 31.—Mr. Gladstone yesterday took a short outing in his garden. This is the first time he has left the house since he returned to Hawarden Castle from Bournemouth.

Oom Paul Shot.

London, March 31.—It is reported on the Stock Exchange yesterday that President Kruger of the Transvaal Republic has been shot and killed. The story was unconfirmed late last night.

RATE WAR GOES ON.

C. P. R. Is Standing Firmly and Buffalo Meeting Has Resulted in Nothing.

Buffalo, March 31.—The Northwest rate war is evidently no nearer a solution. Messrs. McNicoll, Caldwell, Whitney, Herford and Davis held a conference yesterday, and at lunchtime adjournment it was officially announced that nothing had been accomplished.

It was learned later that the matter of differentials was not the only bone of contention, but "that it was one of 12 questions to be solved," as the general passenger agent of one of the big Western lines expressed it. That the Canadian Pacific representatives are standing firmly for their points is conceded and it is dollars to cents the war will not be ended.

The meeting adjourned last night without being able to reach an agreement. Another meeting will be held in New York on or about April 15.

Rev. Dr. Carman leaves on Monday for Vancouver. He sails for Japan on April 18. He returns early in July. His mission is to reorganize the Methodist missions in Japan.

WITH $200,000,000

It Is Proposed to Purchase Cuban Independence.

SPAIN CONSIDERING PROPOSAL.

The Proposition Has Been Presented for Spain's Acceptance by the Government of the United States—The Momentous Answer to the Questions Is Anxiously Looked For—War Feeling.

Washington, March 31.—The vital point in the Cuban situation, independence, has shifted itself from Washington to Madrid, where the Spanish Government is now giving grave and earnest consideration to propositions presented by the Government of the United States. On the answer to these propositions probably depends the future course of the relations between Spain and the United States. It is believed that it is now but a question of an exceedingly short time before the inevitable crisis must come.

The propositions submitted by this country contemplate a complete and immediate cessation of hostilities in Cuba, the return of the reconcentrados to their avocations, and the independence of Cuba, this last feature to be secured probably on an indemnity basis by which the island would pay a substantial sum for its freedom from Spanish rule.

It has been made perfectly clear to Spain that nothing less than a close of the war and the independence of the island will suffice as an adequate settlement.

$200,000,000 for Independence.

New York, March 31.—The Herald's special correspondent at Washington wires his paper that there is an American proposal that Spain arrange to accept an offer of $200,000,000, made by Maxime Gomez for the purchase of Cuba's independence; that an armistice be declared, and the Spanish troops be withdrawn from the island; that the insurgent prisoners be released at once and allowed to return to their homes, and that the United States furnish them not only with food, but purchase them farming implements. It is said this proposal is being considered at Madrid, and that Minister Woodford believes it will be accepted.

The Mail and Express has a despatch of the same purport from Washington. This proposition was made some 10 days ago by President McKinley, but Premier Sagasta of Spain could not deal with it before the general elections, which have just taken place. Now, however, the elections are over, and, as Sagasta has been overwhelmingly sustained, it is said he is disposed to consider the offer favorably.

From Spanish sources, the reports show a spirit of defiant determination and continued preparations to fight, if forced to do so.

The War Feeling at Fever Heat.

Washington, March 31.—The war feeling remains at fever heat, and yet there is still hope of averting a conflict between the United States and Spain. Mr. Bailey, the Democratic leader in the House, yesterday presented a resolution recognizing the independence of Cuba, which was greeted by a whirlwind of applause from the galleries. Mr. Boutelle raised a point against it, and the resolution was declared out of order. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations referred the Cuban resolutions of the previous day to a sub-committee. Meanwhile, President McKinley is besieged by callers, who are urging him to vigorous action looking to the independence of Cuba. The President has, it is said, in his efforts to keep the fighting spirit in check, asked the committee of Congress not to act for 60 hours, until expected advices have been received from Madrid.

A Spanish Cabinet Council.

Madrid, March 31.—A Cabinet Council was held yesterday afternoon to consider the American proposals.

The proposition to which Spain will answer covers two points only, and its publication will be a revelation to some of those abroad who have been denouncing America's aggressive attitude. It is as follows:

"Spain to proclaim immediately an armistice in Cuba, to last until October, during which interval the United States will use its good offices with the insurgents to make this temporary peace permanent, and, second, Spain to do her best towards relieving suffering and starvation on the island, with America to be allowed to assist in this work."

The utmost efforts are being made night and day to get the first-class ironclads Pelayo and Carlos V. completed, when they will be despatched with the cruisers Maria Teresa and Cristobal Colon to join the Vizcaya and the Almirante Oquendo in Cuban waters, thus forming a squadron of six armored vessels against America's seven.

Spain Goes on Preparing.

Madrid, March 31.—The Pais says that orders have been issued to mobilize all the Spanish warships, and that a second torpedo squadron is being prepared for sea at Cadiz. The Balearic Islands, according to the Pais, are being fortified and military engineers are starting for the Canary Islands.

To Get the Cat-o'-Nine-Tails.

Kingston, March 31.—Albert Whitney, a tramp arrested at Cornwall on Monday, was yesterday sentenced by Magistrate Duff to ten years in the Penitentiary for assault, committed on a 13-year-old boy. Whitney is to receive 48 lashes during his imprisonment—24 lashes to be administered one week after entry, and 24 one month before release.

CHEESE FACTORY MEN.

The Making of Fodder Cheese Discouraged in the West.

The Ingersoll Packing Co. has issued the following circular to cheese factory men in the Ingersoll district, which may prove of interest to the local makers:

To Cheese Factory Men:

We believe the factory men in the Ingersoll section will be studying their own interests if they do not make any fodder cheese this season, especially as they are at best an undesirable article and reflect discredit on all the cheese manufactured throughout the season.

We are all aware that the conditions are not favourable in the early spring months for making cheese. If they are made they will naturally find their way to the other side and are an important factor in depressing the market when the heavier months' make is being marketed. Moreover, fodder cheese goes out of condition as soon as the weather turns warm and casts a reflection on Canadian cheese generally.

By not commencing to make before the first or middle of May it will give the importers on the other side an opportunity to clear out their old stock, and thus we will be able to commence the new season on a better basis. The importers have lost heavily on last season's purchases, for which they paid very remunerative prices (and many of them now have large stocks), and the money thus lost was received by Canadian factorymen.

Now it will undoubtedly be to the advantage of all who are conscientiously interested in Canadian cheese to do their utmost to see there are no fodder cheese made. In discussing this matter with several of our most prominent factorymen they are very emphatic in denouncing the making of any fodder cheese.

The price of both creamery and dairy butter is higher than for years past in the spring, partially owing to the drouth in Australia, and the milk can be utilized in the making of better much more profitably than in the making of fodder cheese.

Patrons, cheesemakers, salesmen and buyers as well should lay aside any personal interest, and act in harmony in serving the best interests of the trade.

Sincerely yours,
INGERSOLL PACKING COMPANY.

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist Minister, 192 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Cured of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

A Chicago woman, according to The Post of that city, had served acceptably as treasurer of the club for a little over a year, and that was an exceptional record.

"Don't you have difficulty in balancing your books?" they asked.

"Oh, dear, no," she replied. "Why, it's the easiest thing in the world. I just add up what I have received and subtract from that what I have paid out, to show what is due the club, and then I make my husband give me a check for the amount. There's really nothing hard about keeping books when you know how."

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattress; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

VOTE IN THE SENATE.

The Yukon Railway Bill Thrown Out.

CONTENTS 52, NON-CONTENTS 14

Two Conservatives Supported the Bill—Four Were Absent Without Pairs—The Hon. David Mills Makes an Able Speech in Closing the Debate for the Government—The Vote.

Ottawa, March 31.—The Senate worked its will on the Yukon bill last night. Amid the most intense excitement and in the presence of crowded galleries the Senators voted on Senator Macdonald's motion that the bill be read a second time this day six months. The result was the adoption of the motion and the defeat of the bill by a vote of 52 to 14. A number of Senators were absent from one cause or another, but the vote practically represents the strength of each party in the Upper House. All pretence of judicial and non-partisan consideration of the measure must end in the face of this vote.

Sixty-six members of the Upper House voted. Included in the majority were two Liberals—O'Donoghue and Boulton—while the minority included two Conservatives—Dobson, who voted, and Sir Frank Smith, who was paired as voting with the Government. The pairs were: Hon. D. Ferguson with Sir Frank Smith, Sir William Hingston with Alfred Thibaudeau, Hon. D. McInnes with Mr. Reesor, Hon. Mr. Kirchhoffer with Mr. Lovett.

The absentees unpaired were: Macfarlane, Rice, Sandford, Sutherland—four—with two vacancies, and the Speaker not voting. The full membership of the Senate, 81, is thus accounted for.

The concluding speeches of the Yukon debate in the Senate were characterized by ability and much earnestness.

Senator Primrose led off with a vociferous arraignment of the measure. He argued that the offer of Hamilton Smith showed how the Government could have made a saving to the country if tenders had been called for the construction of the Stikine-Teslin road.

Senator Sullivan, admitting the seriousness of the opposition to the will of the popular chamber, maintained, still, that its duty was to save the country from the consequences of a monstrous bargain.

Senator O'Donohue said the contract bore every evidence of being one of the biggest steals ever perpetrated upon the people of Canada. As a Liberal, he was utterly opposed to the measure, and would vote against it.

Senator Macdonald, P.E.I., said he intended voting against the bill, because he considered the land grant out of all proportion to the cost of the railway construction.

Senator Cox refuted the reports that he was at all interested with Messrs. McKenzie and Mann in the contract. He defended the contract, and argued that every citizen of Canada would be benefited by the development which the contractors would bring about.

Continuing, Senator Cox said he had to regret to-day that he had been one of a syndicate which opposed the construction of the C.P.R. He now knew that had the syndicate of which he had been a member succeeded in what they had failed to do, they would have done the country an incalculable injury. He warned the Senate that in killing this bill they were making the same kind of a mistake. He was in favor of some delay, which would enable the leaders of the different parties in the Senate to get together and find some means upon which the bill could become a law at once.

The Minister of Justice made the closing speech. It was an able effort. He said: "I have been for years a member of the House of Commons," he said. "I have seen many warm contests and heard many heated observations, but I must say that I have never seen so fierce a spirit of partisan exhibition as by several hon. gentlemen in this House." Continuing, he spoke of Mr. Livernash as an agent of the United States, into whose hands the Senate would be playing by rejecting the bill. There was no ground for the statement so persistently put forward during the debate that the Government had no mandate from the people on this question.

"Why don't you appeal to the people then?" suggested Senator McCallum.

Hon. Mr. Mills retorted that the Government was not going to make an appeal to the country simply to satisfy the whim of the Conservative Senator. The Government, he added, would be lacking in self-respect that would admit the right of the Senate to successfully oppose its will against the will of the Crown and the House of Commons by such action as that.

If the bill had been defeated in the Commons the Government would have appealed to the people, but the Government was not prepared to have its whole policy frustrated by the mere dictum of an irresponsible body like the Senate, which did not represent the people.

If, he continued, the Government proposal had been accepted, it was their intention to ask for an appropriation to make a wagon road for military purposes, and if the country developed, to continue the railway to the Pacific Coast. With faith in the fairness of the Houses of Parliament, Messrs. McKenzie and Mann had 2,000 men at work and had spent $500,000 in rails and other necessary appliances.

"This House, by its vote to-night," he said in conclusion, "proposes to throw all that properly upon the hands of those men without compensation. You propose to deny this country access to the Yukon during the coming season to furnish supplies to save life and to maintain order. This was the duty devolving upon the Government. If their policy had proven wise you would have shared in the credit; if unwise the Government would have borne the whole responsibility.

"You propose to take that responsibility out of the hands of the Government, and to take upon your own shoulders all responsibility for any misfortune that the miners of the country may sustain, while at the same time you have no power to do a single executive act to prevent it. The eyes of the country are upon the Senate of Canada, not with approval of the course the majority are about to pursue. Hon. gentlemen will not have long to wait before they discover that the feeling of the country is with the Government, and not with the majority in this House.

"When you undertake, under the pretense of finding fauls with the policy of the Government, to condemn a measure necessary to the work of administration, you are going very far beyond that which is the constitutional rule and usage applicable to the case I know that this Government has on this question done its duty, its whole duty, and it has acted in the public interest in submitting the second reading of this bill."

The Division.

When the Minister of Justice concluded the Senate divided on Senator Macdonald's motion for a six months' hoist as follows:

For the amendment: Adams, Aikins, Allan, Almon, Armand, Baird, Baker, Bellerose, Bernier, Bolduc, De Boucherville, Boulton, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Carling, Casgrain, Clemow, Cochrane, Deblois, Dickey, Drummond, Forget, Gowan, Landry, Lougheed, Macdonald (P.E.I.), Macdonald (Victoria), Mackeen, Masson, McCallum, McDonald (Cape Breton), McKay, McKindsey, McLaren, McMillan, Merner, Miller, Montplaisir, O'Brien, O'Donohue, Ogilvie, Owens, Perley, Perrier, Primrose, Prowse, Reid, Ross, Sullivan, Temple, Vidal, Villeneuve, Wood—total 52.

Against: Cox, Dandurand, Dever, Dobson, Fleet, King, Lewin, Mills, Power, Scott, Snowball, Templeman, Thibaudeau (Rigaud), Wark.

The motion for a second reading of the bill was then declared lost on the same division, and the Senate adjourned.

IN THE COMMONS.

The Proceedings in the Lower House Were of a Routine Character—An Early Adjournment.

Ottawa, March 31.—In the House last night, after a dull private members' day, Mr. Maclean asked a question of the Government which elicited from Sir Richard Cartwright an intimation that the budget may contain an important announcement relating to reciprocity between the United States and Canada and the West Indies in West Indian products. The full particulars of question and answer will be found in the report below.

Sir C. H. Tupper, in moving his bill to amend the Act respecting the coasting trade of Canada, explained that it was designed to save to Canadian vessels a portion of the carrying trade of the Yukon. They were prevented by the United States coasting laws, enforced by a special Act of Congress, from participating in the carrying trade to Alaskan ports, and he thought it only proper that the trade to the Stikine should be preserved to them.

The bill was then read a first time.

To a question by Mr. McMullen, the Minister of Railways explained that since the first of March three dining cars had been put on the Intercolonial. They had cost $7,821, their equipment $9,528, their operating expenses $918, and their gross earnings had been $635.

Mr. Heyd (Liberal, South Brant) asked nine questions about Statistician Johnson. The Minister of Agriculture replied that eight persons are employed in the statistical branch, and that during the past six months they had worked on the statistical year book, criminal statistics and general statistics, Mr. George Johnson, who was appointed in 1889, being the chief of the branch and his salary being $2,400. Provision for starting the next census would be made in the next estimates for 1899-1900. As to whether it will "be Mr. Johnson's duty to take charge of the next census," that would be considered when the time arrived.

"Is Mr. George Johnson the same person who was frequently denounced in Parliament and in the Liberal press for active and offensive partisanship?" was the next question.

Mr. Fisher replied that he could not state definitely, but was rather under the impression that he was the same gentleman. As to whether it was the Government's intention to re-organize the statistical branch, the matter was under consideration.

Major Beattie asked: Is it the intention of the Government to take any action towards securing the laying of a Pacific cable from British Columbia to Australia, thereby completing the Imperial circle of telegraphic communication?

Sir Richard Cartwright replied that the matter was now under the consideration of the Government.

Mr. Davin offered the following resolution: "That good faith on the part of the present Government with the farmers of the Northwest should compel them to place agricultural implements on the free list."

It was as a protectionist, he said, that he offered the motion; for protection which encouraged industries when they needed it withdrew that aid when it was no longer required.

The debate will be continued at another sitting.

Several public bills were advanced a stage, Mr. Bertram's trade mark and design bill being referred to the Committee on Banking and Commerce, and Mr. Parmalee's bill to prohibit speculation on butter and cheese was sent to the Committee on Agriculture.

On the motion to adjourn, Mr. W. F. Maclean arose and said he had a matter to which he wished to call the attention of the Minister of Trade and Commerce. There was, he said, an item in the London Times of Tuesday, March 15, which reports a debate in the House of Commons the day previous. It states that Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, made a statement in the British House of Commons to this effect: "We are engaged in negotiations with the United States and also with the Dominion of Canada, which we hope may result in reciprocity arrangements between those countries and the West Indies for West Indian products. I am unable at present to say that negotiations have made much progress."

"I should like to ask the Minister of Trade and Commerce if he will take the House and the country into his confidence as to the nature of their negotiations and indicate what is likely to be the outcome of them."

"I think," replied Sir Richard, "that my hon. friend will be able to obtain full information in a very short time, when the budget is brought down. The propositions are necessarily closely intertwined with certain proposals of the budget, and we hope then to give my hon. friend full satisfaction."

The House then adjourned at 3.25 p.m. for the day.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Where All Kissed Their Escorts.

The diversions of New Yorkers of the last century were very much milder than are those of the present day. "In winter a century ago," Mrs. Burton Harrison writes in The Ladies' Home Journal, "when not assembled for skating upon the Collect, the favorite amusement of Hans and Katrina seems to have been a sleighing frolic in Jan Derickson's four horse sledge to Harlem, where they had a dance and a supper at the hostelry of Mynheer Borsum. Ten couples ('packed close, as it suiteth young men and maidens to ride,' said the old chronicler) was the sleigh load, and after a repast of bread and hot chocolate, concluding some hours spent in capering to the fiddlers' strains, the party returned to town. Speeding by moonlight over hard frozen roads, past manor house and cottage wrapped in deep repose, the chief adventure of the return was apt to be a stop on the Kissing bridge (at Second avenue and Fiftieth street, across the rivulet flowing from Tea Water spring), at which point custom allowed the cavalier to demand of the lady he escorted the privilege of a special salutation. Unless this toll were yielded the cortege came to a halt, or else it turned in another direction."

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

Horse Sense.

If something you do not like appears in a newspaper, do not assume there is anything personal about it. A paper may not take enough interest in the person referred to to have any personal feeling. As a rule, it seeks to make friends and extend its constituency. Therefore, it would rather publish nice things about people than onesnive ones. But if items that are offensive do appear, the easiest way to have the righted is a civil request, with an explanation of wherein they err.

PROF. CAYLEY SPEAKS ON ST. AUGUSTINE.

A THOUGHTFUL DISCOURSE ELOQUENTLY DELIVERED.

The History of the Great Saint in Connection With the Teaching Church—His Boyhood and After-Life.

Professor Cayley, of Trinity University, delivered last evening the sixth of the special Historical sermons in St. John's church, taking as his subject "The Teaching Church—St. Augustine."

The lecture was a most thoughtful and scholarly one, couched in elegant English, and was delivered with a pleasing frankness and directness of address. The lecturer began by sketching the interesting life of St. Augustine, who was born in North Africa towards the end of the fourth century. He was a wayward youth and occasioned much anxiety to his saintly mother, who was reassured, however, by the well-known words of a bishop:—"The child of so many prayers cannot be lost forever."

After plunging into most of the excesses possible to youth the young African embraced the heretical doctrines of Manes, in which, however, he found

NO SATISFACTION.

As he sat in his garden one day he heard the words "Take and read," and, opening the Epistle to the Romans, his eye fell on the injunction "to forsake sin and assume the armour of righteousness." Taking the apostle at his word he began a practical Christian life. He was baptized by St. Ambrose at Milan and after desperate struggles with sin and the patient practice of religion, he became a Christian saint, philosopher, theologian and bishop.

While all the great leaders of the early Church were all great men, they were not all great writers, which St. Augustine was and the great work of his life was done through his writings, of which twelve or fourteen great folios have come down to us. Those writings dealt largely with controversies of the day. The lecturer proceeded to give a sketch of them and showed that these questions of the past had come to life again under new forms and were most interesting to us in this century. He first upheld the faith against Manicheeism, which maintained that man was composed of two elements, spirit and matter, of which matter was wholly bad, and many was thus not responsible for evil doing. St. Augustine maintained the freedom of man's will and his responsibility before God. His second battle was with the followers of the Welshman, Pelagius. Against him Agustine that man, however good he might naturally be, needed God's grace in order that he might rise to the heights which it was intended he should gain.

The lecturer here applied this to our times and remarked that there were many men who seemed to be fairly good citizens, husbands, fathers—but who were nothing more. Seeming successes were real failures from the Divine standpoint. They might be good enough for the worldly standard of some particular age or time, but they were missing the high possibilities before them. They were receiving none of the distinctive blessings imparted by definite Christianity and not being divinely sustained, were bound gradually to deteriorate from even their present position. It needed a St. Augustine to-day to show these men the spiritual heights before them and the power of God by which they might rise to these heights.

The lecturer did not deal with St. Augustine's last controversy with the Donatists on the unity of the church, but in concluding referred to the great value attached to the study of the lives of the leaders of the early church—Athenasius, Augustine, Chrysostom, Ambrose and others. These men had proved themselves great at a most critical period in the history of the world, as well as of the church. Amidst the wreck of a degenerate civilization, when men's hearts were failing them for fear, they stood up boldly and proclaimed the doctrines and the principles of the new regenerate life before the world. These principles were seen to be sound to-day and might profitably be studied by all with the added importance of the great lives behind them.

ORMSBY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Our village has been as lively during the time of bad roads as during any other season.

Mr. Richardson made another large shipment of hogs on Wednesday, some parties coming as far as twelve miles to deliver.

There were two funerals here on Monday, that of Mrs. J. Magee, formerly of this place, and Miss Lang, adjoining the village. Both were caused by lung trouble.

Farmers are in good spirits about their fall wheat and clover, and are now beginning their spring work.

Dr. J. N. Thompson has had a large practice this month at Mount Pleasant, where he attends regularly twice a week.

John Tully, sr., is sinking very fast, and owing to his advanced age no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Mr. J. D. Thornton, real estate agent, has a few choice farms at a bargain yet on his list.

Mr. W. Kennedy, agent here for the Peter Hamilton Implement Co., is moving to a more attractive show room, situated on King street, affording a better chance of showing his fine variety.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Mary Williamson and Mr. Wm. Davidson.

On Tuesday evening last the wedding took place of Miss Mary Williamson, daughter of Mr. John Williamson of McDonel street, to Mr. Wm. Davidson of the township of Otonabee.

The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's father, and was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter.

The bride was prettily gowned in fawn costume cloth, with garniture of shot silk, and pearl trimmings. She was assisted by Miss Annie Hatherly of Otonabee, who was similarly attired. Both wore orange blossoms in their hair.

The groomsman was Mr. James Davidson of Otonabee.

About thirty guests were in attendance, and all were the relatives of either the bride or groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have taken up their residence in Otonabee.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. G. W. Gobell, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jos. Hamilton, Parkdale, for the last week, has returned home.

McComb & Co's. New Store.

Since moving to our new store next to Hooper's confectionery, we have been greeted with a largely increased business. While our bankrupt stock lasts we are, of course, offering unequalled values in gloves, hosiery, underwear, men's overshirts, ties, socks and ladies and gentlemen's furnishings. This is helping to attract trade, because prices are a lot lower than the lowest. McCOMB & Co., third store door from Charlotte street. dw

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

Mr. W. Sallsbury's Stock of Stationery Badly Damaged.

The large stock of fancy goods and stationery carried by W. Sallsbury was badly damaged by fire at about three o'clock this morning.

Nightwatchman Gordon states that at about one o'clock he examined the interior of the store from both the front and rear doors, as usual, and found nothing wrong. As he was passing in front again at about three o'clock the heat from the big plate glass window struck him like the blast from a furnace, and on looking in through the doors he found the store to be filled with smoke and sent in an alarm. The fire, which originated in the region of the stove, was easily extinguished by the brigade but not before the entire stock had been damaged by the smoke and water to such an extent as to make it unsaleable. Unfortunately the books of the firm were burnt, including the ledger, in which the outstanding accounts were kept, amounting to a considerable sum.

The stock was valued at $3 000, and unfortunately the insurance carried is a good deal below its value, being only $1,000, which is placed with the Merchantile Fire Insurance Co., through Mr. W. H. Hill.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the All Saints' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary Missionary Association was held in the school room of that church on Tuesday afternoon. Nearly all the members were present, and several new members were received. A large number was also present from St. John's Branch.

The treasurer's report showed a very successful year's work. The average attendance was very good, and the total receipts were $149.

A large bale had been sent to Rev. Mr. Sinclair in Manitoulin Island, and contributions made to many other missionary stations and objects.

The Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, and Rev. Mr. Armitage were present, and spoke of the Auxiliary work, and encouraged the ladies in their noble cause.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Miss Chamberlen.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Bamford.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Evans.
Secretary—Mrs. Latimer.
Treasurer—Mrs. Buller.
Organist—Miss Bullen.

After the election of officers the meeting was closed and refreshments were served.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

The Toronto News, in a comment on C. L.A. matters, says:—"Mr. Herbert Lennox, of Aurora, apparently will get the Canadian Lacrosse Association presidency, but not without a fight. His dangerous run against President J. J. Craig last year, after announcing his candidature late in the fight, stamps him as a hard man to beat out for the most important office in Ontario lacrosse. The closeness of the last vote, which gave Mr. Craig, of Fergus, the office by only three of a majority, confirms the fact of Mr. Lennox's popularity with the C.L.A. clubs.

The Midland district and the West have had a monopoly on the presidency for years, not a single Eastern man ever being honoured with incumbency of office. On the face of things, this appears a great injustice, particularly as some of the oldest and strongest clubs in the Association for years are east of Toronto. The unwavering support of such clubs as Peterborough, Port Hope Ontarios, Cobourg, Madoc Athletics, Milbrook, Marmora, Uxbridge and Hastings, have given the C.L.A. through its most trying years deserves some recognition.

In no Canadian athletic association is the president so absolute in his rule as in the Canadian Lacrosse Association. In all championship, semi-final and final matches he selects the officials, appoints time and place for such matches and indeed is a very material factor in the championship race. It can be very easily understood with what great interest the annual presidential election of the association is conducted. Everybody wants his man in with the hope of a "good turn" from the "powers that be" when the heat and excitement of the championship race is on. It is all important who gets the office, and for the association's welfare the honour should go round.

The eastern clubs feel entitled to a representative in the president's chair and a movement is on foot to bring out an able man in opposition to Mr. Lennox. Brampton, Georgetown, Berlin, Stratford, Guelph and Seaforth would like to see Dr. Roberts of Brampton in the field, and they all could be depended upon to work tooth and nail for the election of the great old Excelsior veteran. He is said to have positively refused to be a candidate. No one in the extreme west has done more for the game than genial Bob Jackson of the ex-senior champions of 1895, the Seaforth Beavers. Mr. Jackson is popular in the west and has been asked to come in.

Orillia has lost a good man in "Mary" Curran, who has left for Victoria. Curran was a strong man on the home field of the Orillias, and was easily the star bookeyist of the northern country, playing brilliantly on the Orillia forward line during the past four years.

THE SENATE AND YUKON BILL.

The expected has come to pass. The Senate, yielding to the arguments of the representative of American interests in the Yukon, has killed the Yukon Railway bill. This is the first time in the history of the country that the hands of "Yankee" speculators have secured the co-operation of a Conservative Senate, to injure and destroy Canadian interests. Senator Primrose in the Senate yesterday boldly justified that body's action in the matter of the railway bill by the "arguments" advanced by Mr. Livernash, the champion of American interests in the Senate lobby.

The action of the Dominion Senate in regard to the bill for the building of the Yukon Railway is decidedly unpatriotic and anti-Canadian, hostile to the material and business interests of the country. If this country were subjected to, or even threatened, with hostile invasion the inhabitants, irrespective of party affiliations, would, as they have done on more than one occasion, spring to arms in defence of the common country of both. But it seems plain that the Senate has subordinated their patriotism to their party zeal. They have preferred to take a course that they think will embarrass their political opponents, the Government, regardless of what injurious results to the country are the price of their paltry and temporary party triumph. This is bad enough in all conscience but when the Senate (here the Conservative majority is meant) justifies its position and draws its arguments against the bill from hostile sources and takes counsel with a wandering and cheeky agent of Yankee transport companies, whose object is capturing the Klondyke trade for the western coast cities of the United States, the position of the Senate is utterly indefensible and bad, without one redeeming feature in the shape of interest in the welfare of the country.

The Yukon agreement may not be without its undesirable features, but it is the best that could be made under the circumstances—when time was the essence of the contract—and the railway is an actual necessity to permit Canada to capture the Yukon trade in the beginning—before it is diverted into American channels which will inevitably be the case if the road is not built, and once commerce takes a channel it is hard to change its course. It may be, and is urged, that too high a price is paid for the building of the road. In this regard the enemies of the project unduly magnify the value of the land and unduly lessen the great expense of building the road, especially within the time limit. The price of building the road is a simple grant of lands that have no determined value, and which will be of less value if the road is not built. Not a cent of cash subsidy is paid, and it seems to be just that the Yukon lands that are to benefit by the building of the road should be made to pay for its construction. The gold crop of the Klondyke may last and it may "peter out;" the contractors, Messrs. McKenzie & Mann, may make money, and may lose money. The lands given them may be useless altogether. They take the risk, and the country gets the road. In view of the possibility of the supply of gold being temporary, the road should be built at once, so that Canada shall get the lion's share of the benefit.

The building of the road does not derive its importance entirely or chiefly from giving mere facility of access to the gold fields. Its chief importance lies in the fact that an all-Canadian route will give an immense stimulus to Canadian commercial and manufacturing operations. It is estimated that the whole country will benefit more from the trade arising from what goes into the Klondyke than from what comes out of it. The fact is confirmed by the desperate efforts made by the American transportation companies to induce the senate to kill the bill. The "Yankees" knew that the Yukon road would cut off the great bulk of their supply trade and confine it to Canadian territory. This is what the Liberal Government is fighting for, and this is what the Senate has helped to kill. With the road passing through all Canadian territory, the bulk of supplies to ingoing miners, whether Canadian or American, will be bought in Canada. If the road is not built, then the Yankee coast cities will sell the bulk of supplies. With the road in operation, goods can be shipped direct from Peterborough to the Klondyke. Otherwise supplies would not be bought here, but at western points to save freight. The defeat of the bill by the Senate will involve a loss of millions of trade to the manufacturers and merchants of Canada. Even under late conditions and on the bare prospect of the road being built an immense trade has sprung up. In Montreal this has already amounted, according to statistics gathered, to about $1,300,000, and scores of firms in that city are doing a Klondyke business at the rate of from $500 to $150,000 a year, and, to show the effects of the Senate's action one firm declined to give an order it intended to give for $30,000 worth of evaporated goods on account of the Senate's expected rejection of the bill paralyzing trade.

In Peterborough, in the matter of canoes alone, the output since January has been $25,000 for the three factories, and the building of the road would immensely stimulate the trade; for canoes could be laid down at Lake Teslin, afloat for the trip to the Klondyke, if the road were built. This instance is given more as an example of the conditions throughout the country than for its extent. The rejection of the bill will mean an immense direct and indirect loss, less work for Canadian factories, less wages for Canadian workmen, less traffic for our railways and decreased earnings for employees. It is no use to elaborate this idea for anyone that thinks can easily see that millions of dollars of trade are involved in the building or failure to build the Yukon railway. Besides if Canada is to hold the Klondike and reap the advantage of it, the failure to build the road will permanently increase the cost of keeping order by many thousands of dollars per year and for failure of facilities of access, authority, such as is characteristic of British rule, may be set at defiance and conditions of lawlessness characteristic of of American mining regions be established.

The action of the Senate has struck a serious blow to the progress of Canadian commercial and industrial interests. It has set back the hands of the clock. The Senate has roused from its torpor of eighteen years, during which job after job was railroaded through parliament over its sleeping head, to sting, like the warmed viper, the country in a vital part. In the rejection of the bill, the Senate has deliberately and of malice aforethought, set empty and vain partisan triumph above the welfare of the country. A body responsible to nobody, has set itself to nullify the will of the people as expressed through its representatives. The action taken is condemned by the voice of the country expressed in connection with its material interests, through its chief commercial elements. The Liberal Government has pursued an aggressive policy in putting into effect great enterprises that have given a fresh impulse to the industrial productive energy of our citizens. One of the enterprises calculated to stimulate industrial and commercial activity to the highest tension, was the railway killed by the Senate. It will, however, not be surprising if the present energetic Liberal Government will not devise some way to mimify the serious blow the Senate has administered to our national interests. The Senate has listened to the voice of the Yankee charmer and has killed the railway bill, and there is reason to fear that the "Yankee" objection to a royalty on the products of the Klondyke, will receive the endorsation of the Senate, and thus permit Americans and foreigners to carry gold out of Canada without the country receiving a cent of benefit or substantial recognition of the costly protection that renders mining safe. After yesterday's action of the Senate nothing else it can do is confirming the impudent claim of foreigners to interfere with Canada's domestic affairs, will be a surprise. The Conservative party claims a copyright on loyalty, but we find a Conservative Senate yielding to foreign dictation in a manner little short, in criminality, of raising the standard of rebellion.

DECLINE IN WHEAT.

Futures Sagged From One to Two Cents Points—Chicago and Liverpool in Sympathy—Big Visible Supply.

Tuesday Evening, March 29.

The selling of the Chicago grain fleet for the east on Friday will be the earliest in 63 years. The total amount of grain in vessels ready to start is: 12,100,000 bushels, including 1,650,000 bushels wheat, 8,254,000 bushels of corn, and 2,232,000 bushels oats.

Wheat sagged heavily in Chicago to-day. May scored a loss of an even cent for the day, July 2 cents, September 1⅝c and December ¾c. Lack of demand from all quarters, good weather reports, and the so-called artificially high prices at which all contract wheat is held, are alleged as the chief causes for the decline. In Liverpool wheat futures closed from ¼d to 1d below Monday's final figures. Corn weakened on both sides of the Atlantic.

Deliveries of hogs were heavy, markets weak, with a downward tendency. Prices were $4.80 to $4.90 for best selections, $4.62½ for light fats, and $4.50 for heavy.

Too many thick fat hogs are coming forward, and drovers are kicking, as Mr. Harris will not pay more than $4.50 for this kind of hog.

Farmers, to obtain the best results in raising hogs, must not feed too much grain to their young pigs, but give them time to grow by feeding some roots and soft feed, and let them have plenty of room for exercise, thereby obtaining more muscle and less fat.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAU.

The Show of Gallantry Rebuked by Genuine Courtesy.

The car was crowded. It happened that only men were standing, with the exception of a colored woman, in the middle of the car. But at a corner a woman dressed in the top of the mode got on. She stood next the door, and plainly here was a chance for some masculine person to be gallant. An old beau, who was seated near the center, was obviously fascinated by the appearance of this beauteous female and bobbed his head to catch her eye. Finally succeeding he arose, beckoned to her and murmured:

"Won't you take my seat, madam?"

The colored woman, standing directly in front of him, heard this and, turning, thanked him gratefully as she made a movement toward the vacant space. With indignation wrinkling his tinted nose and spoiling for a moment the gracious air which he had assumed, he pushed her back, with both hands at her elbows, as he exclaimed:

"Oh, no; not for you, ma'am!"

His adjustment of expression was rapid as he turned once more to her of the handsome face and fashionable clothes and made way. Then, with a smile at his neighbors which plainly said, "Didn't I manage that well?" he leaned comfortably on his stick.

The favored one had not noticed the little play which had been enacted for her benefit, but a young girl who sat in the next seat was an observer and saw the warm red deeply flush under the black skin of the other woman and the tears come in the dark eyes. She saw the mouth quivering, and her own eyes snapped. With a glance at "his complacency," unmistakably expressive of her scorn and indignation, she quickly rose, touched the woman on the arm and gently said:

"Take my seat. I'm getting out at the next corner."

Then, flashing a look at the man, under which his expression of self congratulation rapidly changed to something near to sheepishness, she passed out of the car, and more than one man there would have bet that she had not intended to get off at that corner.—New York Sun.

EARLY WHALE FISHERY.

It Was Probably First Followed by the Biscayans or Norwegians.

As to who among northern nations may justly claim the honor of first daring to attack the mighty whale there is some little doubt. But the balance of probability inclines to the Biscayans or Norwegians. We have a reasonably definite account in Orosius of bay whaling having been carried on from the North cape along the shores of the White sea in the ninth century. Langebek, a Danish writer, asserts positively that the Norwegians were the pioneers of whale hunting on the coasts of their own country about the year 870. But there are many references to whale fishing in the chronicles of that period. The "Translation et les Miracles de St. Vaast" tells of a donation by William the Conqueror of a tithe of whales caught at Dives to the Convent of the Holy Trinity at Caen. A bull of Pope Eugene III gives a tithe of the tongues of whales caught at Merri to the church at Coutances. These two will probably suffice as a sample of the references to the cetacea in those early times. Historians, however, are agreed that the Basques and Biscayans first ventured far to sea from their own shores and so became the originators of the whale fishery proper.

About 1575 a combined fleet of Biscayan and Iceland vessels, numbering 50 or 60 sail, commenced whaling upon the coasts of Newfoundland, Iceland and southern Greenland. In 1594 the English appear to have awakened to the prospect of profit from the whale fishery, for we read that several ships were fitted out in that year at Bristol for a whaling voyage to Cape Breton. One of them, the Grace of Bristol, found between 700 and 800 blades or laminæ of whalebone on the shores of St. George's bay, where two large Biscayan ships had been wrecked three years before. This seems to have been the first instance of the importation of whalebone into England.—London Spectator.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

ACQUIRED TRAITS.

There Is Little or No Proof That They Are Transmitted.

A group of ladies and gentlemen who had listened to a paper on a science subject in a private parlor cornered a person addicted to science to settle a disputed question. He did not think acquired traits are ever transmitted.

"There are one legged men enough in this country to support several cork leg establishments, yet never has the child of a one legged man been born with less than two. Certain characteristics of the parent the child may have. It may be a comically exact reproduction. Always, however, it is the natural and not the acquired peculiarities of the parent or other ancestor that it shows. Hence Professor Weismann argues that acquired qualities or characteristics are never transmitted.

"The operations of the laws of heredity are strange enough. A child may not resemble either parent, but it may be an exact likeness of a remote ancestor. That has been a source of scandal at times. A Baltimore man, a man of wealth, married a beautiful sewing girl. When a black child was born to her, there was trouble. Then it was revealed that her mother was a mulatto. There is an older case exactly like it. A Greek married a fair slave girl, and when she gave birth to a black child her blood was traced back to an African.

"There are persons who think that if a man makes himself, say, a great linguist his children will be more likely to have the gift of tongues. They think the children born to a parent after he has become dissipated are more liable than the children born earlier to inherit a taste for drink. These things Weismann denies. In the first case the children may have the father's aptitude for languages, but not the stronger because he used it. In the other case the children may have the parent's disposition that led him to drink, but not the stronger because it was indulged.

"Mr. Herbert Spencer regards the question whether any acquired traits are ever inherited as a great matter, but he has not made up his opinion yet. He is not prepared to combat the new theory.

"The long accepted theory has never been quite satisfactory. It leaves so much unaccounted for. If acquired qualities are inherited, the world ought to be crowded with greatness. Yet it is notorious that few great men leave sons as great. Although education is within the reach of all and the methods of education are the product of centuries of experience, Shakespeares and Miltons and Napoleons are not common yet.

"On the other hand, we might expect a steady increase of drunkards if acquired propensities are transmitted. As a matter of fact, there is much less drunkenness than there was half a century ago, although the pressure of modern life and an irritable condition of the nerves are calculated to promote dissipation.

"The later doctrine does not deny the importance of heredity. It does not make it less important for the parent to lead an upright and careful life, since his children are influenced by his example, though they do not inherit his mental and physical acquisitions as they may his property. If acquired traits are inherited, it should be easy to prove. It has not been proved."—Washington Post.

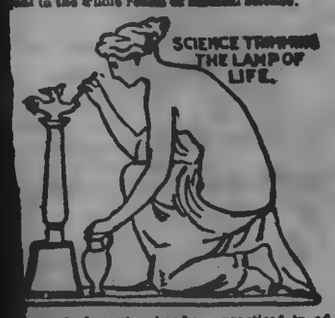
Free Trial To Any Honest Man

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famous ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.



So much deception has been practised in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective Appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny asked—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written of all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy blood and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap energy.

Nervousness, despondency and all kindred evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

The Erie "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application should be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor speculation, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the accepted offer in this paper.

A Verbal Confusion.

The hall was empty, but the door was not locked, and the citizen from the country walked in. It was late in the afternoon when he arrived, and almost dark when a brisk young man came in, and after a few desultory remarks concerning the methods of janitors, lit the gas and began to move the piano around. The countryman arose and shuffled his feet so as to attract attention.

"Did you wish to see me?" asked the young man.

"Yes, sir," was the answer. "That is to say, I think it was you as I wished to see. But not never havin seen you before, so's to be sure, I couldn't exackly say."

"Do you wish to join our organization?"

"No," was the answer in tones of increasing doubt. "I don't want to git into the stock company. All I want is to git a hired man to do chores."

"But, sir, this is not an intelligence office."

"He doesn't have to be intelligent. The trouble weth the last one was thet he knowed too much."

"I don't believe we can accommodate you," the other remarked as he turned around and resumed shoving the piano.

"Now, look here, young man. I didn't come here to rile you, an I don't want you to rile me. I'm willin to go into any arrangement you want to make fur gittin them there chores off my hands. When I seen your sign I says to myself, 'There's an institution that knows a long felt want when it sees it an orter be incouraged.' That sign of your'n, sir, may be your personal property, but it hain't got no right to mislead people."

"But, my dear sir, our sign has nothing to do with chores."

"What's the reason? There it is as plain as day—c-h-o-r-a-l society—an of a choral society ain't a society fur lookin after chores will you have the politeness to tell me whut it is fur?"—Washington Star.

ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

BEFORE THE BULLFIGHT.

A Solemn Chapel Scene When the Toreador Kneels In Prayer.

"Now," said my friend, "we will go to the chapel." "The chapel?" "Why, yes, the next room is a small chapel where every toreador goes before the fight to pray and ask God and his patron saint that his life be spared and that he be given the courage and strength to take that of the bull." We entered the small chapel, at one end of which was an altar covered with flowers and lighted candles, in the middle a crucifix, and behind a painting of the Virgin Mary. One of the toreadors came in and, kneeling at the altar, began to pray. What a contrast! This man, covered with silk and gold, kneeling in front of the Christ, asking for the protection of the kind and sweet lover of humanity and asking (in order to kill) the protection of him to whom all lives are dear and precious.

"You see the man there kneeling and praying?" said my friend. "Well, he is Manuel Garcia, generally called 'Espartero,' the greatest living toreador. He is the first espada of Spain and is celebrated for his great courage. When he sticks his sword in the bull's neck, he never jumps aside, as other toreadors do—no, he wants to stop the bull there to kill him on the spot. As it is nearly impossible, he has often been seriously wounded by dying bulls. He has saved over 100,000 pesetas. He will retire from the ring a rich man in another year."

The man had finished praying. He left the chapel, shaking hands with his friends, and I could not help thinking, "A rich man in one year—yes, provided"— But I did not dare finish my thought even to myself, and, raising my eyes to the crucifix, I murmured involuntarily, "God, spare him!"—A. B. de Guerville.

Quite the Thing.

"James, bring me some clean linen."

"Alas, sir, you have none! The laundryman refuses to hand over until he is given the money for that last batch."

"Well, why don't you give him the money?"

"There isn't a farthing in the house, sir."

"Well, well! Am I broke?"

"Yes, sir, absolutely."

"Dear me! I suppose I had better get up and see about it. Bring me my suit, James."

"Gone, sir. Everything pawned except the old frayed frock coat you were going to give the housekeeper."

"Oh, heavens! I'll stay in bed all day first! Get me something to eat, anyhow."

"There's nothing in the house, sir, and the restaurant keeper refuses to let us have anything more without cash."

"By Jove! Nothing to wear but dirty linen and a frayed frock coat, nothing to eat and no money! Good gracious! I can never look my friends in the face again!"

"Why, certainly you can, sir, and cut a greater dash than ever before," urged the faithful James. "Tell 'em you are a Bohemian and are doing this in obedience to the artistic instinct."—Strand Magazine.

Sincerity.

In life sincerity is the sure touchstone of character. The good and valuable man is he who strives to realize day by day his own sincere conceptions of true manhood.

Thousands are struggling to exhibit what some one else admires to reach the popular standard, to be or appear to be respectable and honorable, but few make it their aim to live thoroughly up to their own individual convictions of what is right and good.

Carlyle well says: "At all turns a man who will do faithfully needs to believe firmly. If he have to ask at every turn the world's suffrage, if he cannot dispense with the world's suffrage and make his own suffrage serve, he is a poor eye servant, and the work committed to him will be misdone."—New York Ledger.

No wonder some women feel as if the disease which constantly pursues them is just a malignant devil dooming them to endless misery. Thousands of women who could get no relief from any other source have written grateful letters to Doctor R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., telling him of the benefits received from his wonderful prescriptions and the careful professional advice which he sends by mail without charge.

A lady living in West Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y., Mrs. Mattie A. Walker, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "I write to inform you what your remedies have done for me; but they have helped me so much that I know not where to commence or where to leave off, as I had such a complication of ailments. For three years I had such bad spells I thought that if dying was only just a sleep I did not want to wake and suffer again; I would be glad to have death come any night. I got so discouraged it seemed as if I could never be well and happy again. I had asthmatic spells towards morning. Sometimes I felt as if I could not get breath enough to live; had dreadful pains in the top of my head, and was so nervous I felt as if something dreadful was going to happen—I could not tell why either. I could write a dozen sheets full and not tell all the dreadful things I suffered, from female weakness, constipation, asthmatic spells, and rheumatic neuralgia.

"I advise all who are suffering not only to use Dr. Pierce's medicines, but to get his advice also, for it has helped me so much I cannot say enough in praise of both the advice and the remedies. I look on your medicines as being a God-send, and will ask God to guide suffering humanity to the right relief."

For nervous troubles and ailments peculiar to women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only proprietary remedy designed by a regularly educated physician. For bronchial affections and digestive difficulties his "Golden Medical Discovery" is the one permanent cure. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most effective natural nongriping laxative for constipation.

The Dress Suit Case.

The dress suit case, originally intended for the uses implied in its name, became long ago a regular traveling bag, and it is now extensively used as such. It is made not only in various lengths and breadths, but in various depths, thus adapting it to the needs of the traveler. And it has in large measure supplanted the old style valise.

Dress suit cases may now be seen that are covered with steamer labels. These indicate as perhaps no other marks of travel could the promotion of the dress suit case to full rank as an article of equipment for travel.—New York Sun.

THE RUSSIANS HAVE PAID.

The Owners of the Sealing Vessels Willie McGowan and Ariel Receive Their Indemnity.

Ottawa, March 31.—Sir Louis Davies yesterday paid over to the owners of the sealing schooner Willie McGowan the sum allowed by the Russian Government for the illegal seizure, as damages, in the cases of the Willie McGowan and Ariel. The amount of $40,685 was forwarded by Russia to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who awarded $19,455 to the Ariel, and $20,600 to the McGowan, whose owners were represented by Mayor Bertram and Mr. W. H. Moore of North Sydney, who have been in Ottawa for the past few days. The McGowan was owned in North Sydney, B.C., and the Ariel in Victoria, B.C. Mr. Bertram will at once make the distribution among the co-owners.

Natural Gas and Tobacco.

It was quite a sight to see two hundred and fifty guests file into the House of Commons and fill to overflowing the seats of the members. They were a fine-looking, representative body of men, each wearing a badge, on which were the words "Essex Natural Gas," printed, and marshalled by Essex members, Messrs. McGregor and Cowan. They were received by Sir Richard Cartwright and Messrs. Mills, Paterson, Scott, Fielding and Mulock.

A dozen gentlemen spoke, the effect of their representations being that the supply of natural gas was confined to a section six miles long by half a mile wide, and judging by the history of the Ohio gas fields, the supply will play out.

A pipe line runs within sixty feet of a town in Essex, yet that town could not get gas, and the towns of Essex, Amherstburg and Windsor were denied a supply of gas in any quantity, yet it was piped thirty miles to Detroit, helping to build up that city. Gas is supplied locally for stoves and heaters. In Leamington there were six hundred of those contracts. They also asked for some changes in the tobacco duties and excise.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that they had presented a strong case, which the Government would consider. There was no doubt of the importance of the subject, and the Government would be found prepared to do justice. Other representations had been made which, of course, the Government would also have to consider.

RUSSIA IN CHINA.

She Will Levy Duties at Ta-Lien-Wan—Crowing Over Great Britain—Case of British Bluff.

London, March 31.—The Daily Graphic this morning says: "We understand that Russia is willing to give Great Britain assurances that, while Ta-Lien-Wan is held on the present leasehold tenure, the duties shall not exceed 7½ per cent., which will assimilate the Ta-Lien-Wan tariff to that existing at other Chinese ports, and will include the local likin dues. We believe that the object of Russia's withdrawal from Corea was not to propitiate Japan, but to deprive Great Britain of a pretext for reoccupying Port Hamilton."

Boodle Was Flying.

The Russo-Chinese Bank at Pekin, it is asserted in a special despatch from Shanghai, disbursed 28,000,000 taels just prior to the signature of the lease of Port Arthur to Russia.

Consider It a Bluff.

Yokohama, March 31.—The official organs consider the British naval display in Chinese waters a mere bluff, and not likely to be followed by action. They believe that, were England in earnest, she would not have allowed matters to reach the present pass.

Russian Press Jubilant.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—The press is jubilant over the Russian occupation of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan. It counsels Great Britain to put the best face upon the matter.

The Vidomosti says that Russia thereby assumed great responsibility. She must prevent Japan's territorial designs by every means in her power. Russia indirectly takes China under her protection, and further exploitation of the celestial empire therefore will give offence to Russia.

TO CUT THEM APART.

Sir Charles Dilke Wants to Separate Important Cabinet Offices.

London, March 31.—Sir Charles Dilke, advanced Radical, member for the Forest of Dean Division of Gloucestershire, gave notice in the House of Commons yesterday of a motion to the effect that the conduct of foreign affairs during the past twelve months has showed that it is not to the interest of the country to have the Premiership and the Foreign Secretaryship combined in one person, and asked the Government to fix a day to debate the motion.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, First Lord of the Treasury and Acting Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, replied that the Government could not do so, as the discussion would resolve itself into a direct attack upon the conduct of foreign affairs, and he explained if this was desired it would be more convenient in the form of a vote of censure.

However, continued Mr. Balfour, there would be a discussion of the foreign vote but only informal and inconclusive, owing to the absence of papers on the far Eastern question. When the latter were submitted he expected a fuller discussion.

Sir Charles Dilke reported that he desired a discussion of the whole foreign policy, and not merely the question of China.

To this Mr. Balfour answered that if the Government received a representative request for such a discussion he would arrange a date for it.

The House then adjourned.

Wheat Firmer at Liverpool. But Yet Unsettled at Chicago—The Market Quotations and Prices.

Wednesday Evening, March 30.

The wheat market looked firmer early to-day. Liverpool opened higher than yesterday, and closed at an advance of from ½d to 1d for the day. The market later, however, showed little vim, and a decline occurred. As compared with Tuesday's final figures, to-day's close exhibited a gain of ½c for the July future, a gain of ½c for September, and a loss of ½c for May. REV. H. SYMONDS ON CHARLES KINGSLEY.

ADMIRABLE LENTEN LECTURE IN ST. LUKE'S.

An Eloquent Tribute to the Man of Many Sides—Writer, Lecturer Historian and a Devoted Parish Priest.

The last of a successful series of Lenten lectures was given in St. Luke's school house last night, when Rev. H. Symonds spoke on "The Life of Charles Kingsley."

The names of but few men in our century are so widely known as that of Kingsley. He was a man of many powers—an influential and effective preacher, a man of wide knowledge on scientific subjects, the author of several novels of a high class, a skilful lecturer, one of the earliest of the many social reformers of our century, a historian of sufficient merit to be made Professor of History at Cambridge, a devoted parish priest for over thirty years; he was no mean poet and, finally, was an an excellent sportsman in the best sense of that much abused word.

Kingsley was born in 1819 in Devonshire, his favourite English county. He was a precocious child, writing little poems and miniature sermons at the age of four, and soon manifesting that love of every natural object that distinguished him through life. After a school education he went to Cambridge, whence he graduated in honours in both Classics and Mathematics. Shortly after he was ordained and became curate of the neglected parish of Eversley. A year or two later, when the rector died, and remained steadfast to this obscure and poor parish all his life. Into its work he threw himself with characteristic ardour. For years he never dined out, and never left his parish for more than a few days at a time. He visited incessantly, and had night schools and cottage lectures nearly every evening. His love of nature stood him in good stead. He was soon friendly with the farmers and labourers, and even the gipsies and poachers, who discovered that he was no mere ecclesiastic, but a man, with human blood in his veins, full of sympathy and love. The gipsies called him their priest king.

KINGSLEY RECEIVED THE APPOINTMENT

As a theologian Kingsley belonged to the Moderate School of Broad Churchmen, the school of F. D. Maurice, the foremost English theologian of this century. The Evangelicals at this time were in a somewhat decadent state, whilst the High Church or Tractarian movement was at its zenith. Kingsley, however, was never attracted to the brilliant lights of Oxford. His mind was cast in another mould, nor could he sympathize with those who seemed to see nothing good anywhere since the fifth century. Several years before Newman left the Anglican Church, Kingsley declared that his principles were Roman, not Anglican.

Kingsley's motto was neither "Justification by Faith" nor "The Church and the Sacraments," although he respected both mottoes, but "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." This foundation doctrine, made him a social reformer. The condition of the working classes was at this time deplorable. The Chartist riots brought things to a climax. Kingsley, Maurice, Tom Hughes and others started the movement, which has borne rich fruit, knowing and Kingsley publicly avowed himself a Chartist, although always on the side of order, and more than once was instrumental in averting riot. His views on social questions found expression in "Alton Locke" and in "Yeast." There can be small doubt that Kingsley's championship of the poor and the oppressed hindered his promotion in the Church, and the Bishop of London for a short time prohibited him from preaching in his diocese. The result of all this sentiment was a nervous collapse, lasting for several months. Then came the cholera and Kingsley did splendid service with both voice and pen in a crusade against dirt and bad drainage.

In a sermon preached about this time on "The message of the Church to the Labouring Man," Kingsley asserted that it was the duty of every clergyman to preach freedom, equality and brotherhood. He proceeded to explain the sense in which he used those words. There are two freedoms—the false where a man is free do what he likes, and the true, where a man is free to do what he ought.

Two Equalities—The false which reduces all interests and all character to a dead level and gives the same power to the bad as to the good, to the wise as to the foolish, uniting them in practice in the grossest inequality: the true, wherein each man has equal power to elevate and use whatever faculties God has given him.

Two Brotherhoods—The false, where a man chooses who shall be his brother, and whom he shall treat as such; the true, in which a man believes that all are his brothers, not by the will of his flesh, or the will of man, but by the will of God, whose children they all are alike.

From the time that he was about thirty-five to the end of his life Kingsley

WAS IN GREAT DEMAND.

With astonishing rapidity he poured forth sermons, poems, lectures, on all sorts of subjects, books. At the age of thirty-six came one of the very greatest books of this century—"Westward, Ho!" A book that appealed to the English love of freedom. Honest, fearless, simple, inspiring. The story of England's heroes in her most heroic age, the age of Elizabeth, the age of Shakspere and Spenser, of Hawkins, of Drake, of Frobisher and Raleigh. The age of the foundation of the English navy and one of its greatest achievements, the destruction of the Spanish Armada. It is a book withal breathing the spirit of manly religion, of faith in God and honour, and that has roused the pride and stirred the manhood of thousands of young Englishmen ever since it was written.

Kingsley was one of the very few who did not share in the panic created by the publication of Darwin's scientific theories but rather welcomed them, and corresponded with both Darwin and Huxley. To one who remarked that Darwin's view of a certain matter was hardly orthodox, he replied—"Why friend, God's orthodoxy is Truth; if Darwin speaks the truth he is orthodox. The last honours that came to Kingsley was a canonry at Westminster Abbey. But though only in middle age, the life of ceaseless activity and little or no holiday had worn him out. He lived long enough to preach several sermons to vast congregations in the Abbey and then broke down. A trip to America failed to restore him and he died in January, 1875. Dean Stanley at once offered the Abbey as the place of burial, but the offer was declined. Kingsley was laid to rest amongst the parishioners to whom he had ministered for 23 years, in Eversley churchyard. His funeral was attended by Roman Catholics and Protestants, churchmen and dissenter, Anglo-Saxons and Englishmen. Men of every rank and every profession were there, the representative of the Prince of Wales, and close by the gypsies of Eversley Common. There was the squire of his village and the labourers, young and old, to whom he had been a friend and a father. There were governors of colonies, officers and sailors, peers and members of the House of Commons, authors and publishers. "All went home feeling that life was poor, and everyone knew that he had lost a friend who had been in some peculiar sense his own."

To-morrow evening the Rev. H. Symonds will give the sixth lecture on "St. Paul's doctrines of the Church" in St. Luke's.

CARPET LOVELINESS

Robert Fair's.

We are proud of our Carpet Importations for 1898 We have outdone our very best efforts of the past in making the display of the New Season's Patterns out of reach of comparison with any Carpet consignment ever brought to Peterborough. Such a statement is full of meaning when made by this store. Shoppers who have compared Carpet stocks as they see them in other stores are astonished when they view the stocks at the Golden Lion. Not even in Toronto is there a more complete exhibition of New, Rich and Exclusive designs shown. There may be a larger but not a better display, but quantity never did stand for quality and designs.

Our contracts with the makers of these Carpets for this season's supply amount to many thousands of yards, and are very different from the ordinary run of Carpets shown this this season, many of the patterns being exclusive designs, which were personally selected and made for US ONLY. We have for years made a specialty of exclusive designs, which are owned by us, and cannot be obtained elsewhere.

With ample capital to buy these goods and ample courage to take larger quantities, we secure advantage which precludes the necessity of resorting to "seconds" in qualities or styles that are questionable. The Golden Lion goes to the fountain sources of production, and has facilities at its command which overcome all such trade technicalities, and it is impossible to buy in the ordinary way to retail at OUR prices.

Those who are refurnishing their homes at this season, either wholly or in part, will find it well worth a trip to ROBERT FAIR'S to inspect their extensive Showrooms containing Imported Carpets, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Mattings and Rugs. Unrivalled selection in the respective lines.

Customers to ROBERT FAIR'S are not limited to Peterborough citizens alone, but come to FAIR'S from all parts to buy their Carpetings. It is really a mistake for any one who has much to buy not to become acquainted with our immense stocks and our extra special prices:—

A PARTISAN SENATE.

The Liberal Government Under Disadvantages.

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL POSING

The Ex-Premier as a Head Centre—Another Bill Threatened—Reform of the Senate a Very Slow Process—The Government's Programme for Transportation in the Yukon—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, April 1.—(Globe Special.)—Shall the tail wag the dog? That is the question asked in the lobbies of Parliament to-day, and as yet no satisfactory answer has been given. The Senate for almost a generation was an exceedingly unobtrusive tail upon the watchdog of the treasury. With the advent of a Liberal Government all this has been changed. The Senate is to-day unquestionably attempting to nullify the verdict of June, 1896, and to govern the country by its enormous partisan majority in the interests of the Conservative party. It is without doubt deliberately seeking to bring about a condition of affairs amounting to political anarchy. The defeat of the measure for the extension of the Intercolonial last year and of the Yukon bill last night are regarded by those with special knowledge of the Conservative party organization as Sir Mackenzie Bowell's way of proving to the country that he is the most potent influence in the Conservative ranks, and that while Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster may rage in impotence against the measures of the Government, it is only necessary for Sir Mackenzie to nod his head and bills passed by huge majorities in the popular chamber fresh from the people will be thrown out by Senators responsible to nobody and governed by no higher motive than rage and fury against Liberalism. The condition of affairs is becoming more serious every day. The Senators are beginning to feel their power, and while formerly the passage of a bill in the Commons made its passage through the Senate almost a foregone conclusion, promoters of even ordinary private bills now dread the action of the Senate if the bill earns the hostility of influential Conservatives.

Another Bill Threatened.

Take the Kettle Valley bill as an example, which passed the Commons Railway Committee yesterday after a prolonged fight, and will, with the support of the Minister of Railways, doubtless get through the House in a day or two. By the passage of the bill the endeavor of the C.P.R. to secure a monopoly of the railway system of southern British Columbia west of the Columbia River has been defeated, and the Grand Trunk gets an entrance by means of Mr. Corbin's road, thus giving competition into the district from Eastern Canada. The bill was scarcely through committee when the cry was raised that while the influence of the Government could carry it through the Commons the Senate would throw it out, and so compass the object of Sir William Van Horne. A vigorous lobby composed of the same gentlemen who have so long worried the Commons is at work among the Senators, and hostility to the bill is hoped for in the Upper Chamber on the ground that Senators will do anything to embarrass the Government and prevent the passage of measures favored, however remotely, by the Administration. There can be but one end of this sort of thing. An agitation must spring up all over the country for the restoration of responsible government, which in the legislative department no longer exists, and which if the Senate maintains its present attitude cannot exist for a generation. The Conservative majority in the Senate is about 40. It will require the death of 25 Conservative Senators and the appointment of 25 Liberals in their place to give the Government a decent majority in the Upper House.

A Question of Longevity.

Suppose four Senators die yearly on an average, and this is about the figure. At this rate the Conservative party can control the Senate, and through it the country, until 1905, or during the life of this Parliament and the next. It must not be forgotten either, in considering the probable longevity of Senators, that a number of the Liberal Senators are quite old, some of them having been in the Senate since Confederation and others since Mr. Mackenzie's Administration. If we allow for the probability that these aged Liberal Senators will be included among those who will pass out during the next few years, it becomes apparent that the Conservative majority in the Senate cannot be overcome by death until 1907 or 1908. This upon the basis that a Liberal Government shall remain in power all that time and appoint Liberals on every Senate vacancy, all of whom continue their party allegiance. This is rather a serious outlook, and prominent Liberals within the Ministry and without, when asked what remedy can be applied, shrug their shoulders and give it up. There is no remedy at Ottawa, no remedy in the constitution. The only hope is in such an outbreak of popular indignation throughout the country as shall give the Senators to understand that their irresponsible House shall be overturned entirely if they continually thwart the will of the popular branch of Parliament. It remains with the people to apply that remedy.

The Yukon Programme.

So far the Government makes no sign as to what its action shall be in regard to Yukon transportation problems now that the Senate has wrecked the all-Canadian route. Senator Mills in the Senate has moved the six months' hoist to the bill empowering Hamilton Smith and associates to build a railway from an American port into the Yukon, which carries out the statement made in this column a few days ago that if the all Canadian route was defeated by the influence of American lobbyists these lobbyists would certainly not be allowed a charter for a road diverting Yukon trade to American railroads and ports. Although his motion was side-tracked by a motion of Sir Mackenzie Bowell's to adjourn the debate, the action of Mr. Mills foreshadows a continuance of deadlock so far as the railway question is concerned. Many supporters of the Government say the matter should be left there and the Senate held to a strict account before the country. Others take the ground that while the Government should permit no American railway to be built into the Yukon it should itself propose some other measure for opening up the country. The favorite view of those who believe the Government ought to do something is that a waggon road should be built at once along the line of the proposed Yukon Railway, and that the plants and materials sent forward by the contractors should be utilized to that end. It must be confessed, however, that this is not the view of the majority. The bulk of the Liberals in Parliament are inclined to say: "We have done our best. We wash our hands of the whole thing and place the responsibility on the Senate for any suffering and death that may follow the rejection of the Government programme."

General and Personal.

The Government is being urged to introduce the prohibition plebiscite bill into the Senate.

Mr. Tarte had so far recovered as to be able to be about the House of Commons during the day.

The Government proposes to push the Franchise Act repeal bill as speedily as possible, and hopes not only to get it through the committee stage to-morrow but the third reading as well.

A PEACE PRESIDENT.

Major McKinley Deprecates the Use of Blustering Language and Cautions Talking Congressman.

Washington, April 1. — President McKinley stated the situation yesterday to members of Congress substantially as follows: The Administration is simply awaiting definite responses from Madrid. Negotiations are in progress and all will depend on the effect of these. The Administration desires to avoid anything tending to precipitancy and undue haste in acting in a matter so fraught with the gravest consequences. It is struggling for peace, so far as national honor and dignity will permit. It is hoping that the issue will come to definite early adjustment. If it can be settled peaceably it will be gratifying, and if a satisfactory conclusion cannot be reached within a day the Administration will still hope for it to be effected before the week closes.

Meantime, he advised them that in his opinion there should be no rabid and excited talk; cool judgment should dictate action in a matter which involves national honor, and which will either bring the country out of the crisis peaceably, with credit, or plunge it into war. The President further expressed gratification that the sentiment of Congress favored giving a little longer time for the Administration to act, and he cited the necessity for awaiting the final effect of the dispatches in process of communication between the two Governments. Representative Hopkins of Illinois, one of the committee appointed at the Republican conference last night, had an early interview with the President. Mr. Hopkins said he believed those who were for Cuban intervention would await a proper time before acting in advance of the President.

SPAIN HAS REPLIED.

An Outline of the Cipher Message Sent the U. S

LEAVES MATTERS AS THEY WERE

The Jingoes of Both Countries Still Have an Opportunity to Beat the Air—Feeling Is Gloomy in Spain—President McKinley Is for Peace - Delay Granted.

Washington, D.C., April 1.—Spain's official reply to President McKinley's latest demand in the Cuban situation was received in Washington last night. An anxious party, comprising most of the Cabinet and several close friends of the Administration, waited till late in the evening in expectation of developments. About half past 10 the message began to come in cipher, and the work of translation was begun at once. It was officially stated, however, that no intimation as to the nature of the reply would be divulged last night.

An Outline of the Reply.

New York, April 1.—A special despatch from Washington to the World, timed 2 a.m., gives the following outline of Spain's reply to the note presented by Minister Woodford:

"Spain neither accedes to, nor declines President McKinley's propositions. She makes the counter-argument that Spain should herself be allowed to propose terms as to what should be done regarding her own territory; that the United States should not do so."

APPEAL TO DON CARLOS.

Spanish Newspapers Also Urge "No Surrender," Some Even Wanting to Reject the Armistice Proposal.

Madrid, April 1.—At the conference yesterday between Senor Sagasta, the Premier, and Senor Ganazo and Senor Silvela, leader of the dissident Conservatives, the Premier unfolded the terms proposed by the United States Minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, and the Opposition leaders counselled their rejection. Senor Sagasta replied that, personally, he was not disposed to accede to them. He added that he would like to submit the question of the loss of the Maine, which was not touched upon at his conference with General Woodford, to the European powers.

The feeling in Madrid to-day is pessimistic. The newspapers here are ignorant of the actual proposals of the United States and are urging no surrender. The Heraldo (Independent) and the National (Conservative) opposed even the suggested armistice and the Correo (Liberal) makes a furious appeal to Don Carlos.

The Spanish cruisers Maria Theresa and Cristobal Colon arrived at Cadiz on Wednesday, joining the second torpedo squadron, to which the Giralda is also attached.

The torpedo boat destroyer Tomo has sought refuge at Alicante from the storm.

It is reported that Cadiz is being fortified.

Sagasta for Peace, Too.

Senor Sagasta, the Premier, in an interview yesterday declared he would "do everything possible to maintain peace, but," he added, "we cannot submit to any attack on the honor or integrity of the country."

Good News From Cuba.

After the Cabinet meeting yesterday, which was presided over by the Queen Regent, the Ministers had another hour's conference, after which the following semi-official note was issued:

"Captain General Blanco telegraphs an account of a glorious combat of General Luque against the insurgents commanded by Calixto Garcia, and also makes excellent reports of the progress of the operations, setting forth that the pacifications are so advanced in the western provinces that concentration of the peasants have been revoked. Public works are also being commenced to give employment to all applicants. In view of this, new and important submissions are expected."

Near the Crisis.

El Liberal says: "The moment of the denouement (solution of crisis) has drawn much nearer. There may yet be found means to delay matters, but we doubt it."

The paper adds: "We ought to apply ourselves to obtain a gain of time, or heartily devote ourselves to the contrary. In our opinion it would be acceptable, even preferable, to accept any extreme measure which would cut the knot if we failed to untie it. The situation is such that by avoiding an external struggle we may fall into a still graver one."

Killed by Coal Gas.

Belmont, Ont., April 1.—A sad affair happened in this village yesterday, when Dr. Robert Cunningham, V.S., lost his life as the result of an escape of coal gas from a stove in his office. James S. Jenkins, who slept with Dr. Cunningham, had a narrow escape, just managing to reach the door and give the alarm. When medical aid arrived, Dr. Cunningham was beyond restoration. He was 34 years of age and much esteemed in this vicinity. His parents live at Thorndale, Ont.

Rhodes Thanks Laurier.

London, April 1.—Mr. Cecil Rhodes arrived from Madeira yesterday. In the course of a recent conversation he spoke most warmly of the service Canada rendered to the Empire by compelling the British Government to clear the German-Belgium treaties out of the way of future inter-imperial co-operation. These treaties formerly blocked his way in his tariff arrangements in South Africa. "Premier Laurier," he said, "has got rid of them for us and the whole Empire."

PETTY REVENGE.

We all know with what bad grace the Opposition in the late provincial election contest accepted the verdict of the electors, condemning the claims of the Opposition to be intrusted with the government of the country. It is natural that they should be disappointed, but it is not generous that they should be vindictive. In South Brant a protest has been entered against the return of Hon. A. S. Hardy and personal charges against him and the government have been made of so absurd a nature that it is about certain that no attempt will be made to prove them, in view of there being no evidence to sustain them. In like manner the election of Hon. Mr. Harty, of Kingston, has been protested, and personal charges are also made. It is pretty certain that these charges will not be pressed, It will be borne in mind that on a former occasion the friends of Dr. Smythe, the defeated candidate then as now, brought personal charges, but the charges were dropped at the trial of the petition. and in addition Dr. Smythe testified publicly on the election platform that Mr. Harty had been personally pure, and it gave him great pleasure to testify to it It is certain that in the present case the personal charges are equally without foundation, and the Opposition must know it. Mr. Harty has always enjoyed a reputation for a personal character above reproach, and it seems unfortunate that political chagrin and disappointment should take the form of gratuitously worrying a public man and a Minister of the Crown, with foundationless charges of personal corruption.

A FEW WORDS ON STREETS.

As our City Fathers seem to be leisurely contemplating putting down permanent pavement on a portion of George street, the following from the Kingston News, which has evidently been gathering information on the subject, may be of, at least passing, interest :

"If Princess street were paved with vitrified brick from King to Division streets, the annual saving in the repairs upon that section of the street would pay interest on the original investment, and very quickly extinguish the principal."

It refers to macadam and wood and continues : "Next comes asphalt, to which there are many objections. It becomes soft and slimy in summer and adds to the warmth of an already uncomfortable street. It accumulates a disagreeable dust which flies about continually. Cavities soon form in it which, if not promptly repaired, speedily widen and deepen. For residential streets, where something a little better than macadam is wanted, it is well enough adapted, but in a business street it is out of place.

"Next comes vitrified brick. Although not many years introduced, this form of pavement has given perfect satisfaction wherever it has been tried. The first American cities to adopt it were Columbus Ohio, and Bloomington, Illinois, where it can be seen in constant use. It is cheap, clean, almost noiseless, and very durable. For a city the size of Kingston nothing better could be recommended."

If the cheek of Mr. Livernash, the Yankee adviser of the Dominion Senate, could be utilized and sufficiently reproduced, it would make a splendid pavement so far as durability is concerned. If there is such a thing as permanent pavement it no doubt depends, whatever material is used, upon the care given it. A well laid macadam street might be called permanent if sufficient care were taken of it. Prof. Dean of Guelph, who was in town yesterday, said, in viewing the conglomeration of "muck" on Hunter street, that the best highways he had seen in Europe were in the Island of Jersey. They were macadam, and their excellence depended first on proper construction, and secondly and chiefly upon constant attention. The slightest break was instantly repaired, and the consequence was a pavement that it was a luxury to use. Some of our outside streets were fairly well laid down to macadam last year and the year before, but they are in places returning to the condition of roughness. Here and there the stone has sunken and small ruts formed, which, instead of being promptly repaired are allowed to grow worse till the road is ruined and unfit for pleasant driving. Our city fathers seem to give place to the idea that once a job of street work is done, that is all there is required. Any old woman could tell them that they are wrong; she could tell them that streets cannot be kept in useable condition without prompt repair, any more than a sock could be kept wearable without darning. Money spent in temporary make-shifts in street work is generally money as bad as wasted.

WHAT a chance, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, Sir Mackenzie Bowell has lost of showing his appreciation of the "nest of traitors," all of whom, who can, are opposing the Government's Yukon railway project. How unenviable is the position he has placed himself in by following in their dirty trail and playing second fiddle to the obstructionists in the House of Commons ! Sir Charles Tupper's ignominous cave-in was bad enough. At the bidding of a very insignificant faction he has humbly eaten his gallant words, spoken concerning the Administration's action, at the time th contract was given. But it was said it was under pain of deposition and so, perhaps, he couldn't help himself. But Sir Mackenzie Bowell was in no such position. He could have stood fast and shown himself to be, as he once said in the Senate, the statesman and not the mere politician. He has lost a great opportunity.

HON. E. J. DAVIS, in speaking at a gathering of Young Liberals in Toronto. Referring to the Opposition claims that whilst the Government was sustained it did not have a majority of the popular vote, Mr. Davis submitted that the figures disproved this claim, for where, in 1894, the Liberals had received 159,232 votes, in 1898 this had increased to 215,644, or an increase of 56,412. In 1894 it did not appear that the Reformers had the popular vote with them, but in the recent campaign the popular vote gave them 7,000 over their opponents. Another feature of the election was that in 1894 there were 48 Liberals elected while at the recent election there were 51, and yet at the last session the Government's majority was increased from 7 to between 18 and 30. The Government now started with a majority of 8, and by next February he felt sure it would be 10 or 14. He said this election had been the turning point in Ontario affairs and that the Government would introduce a policy to develop the northern portion of the province and bring in settlers.

A GOOD POKER STORY.

There is a certain well known young gentleman whose predilections for the great American game of poker are known to his better half and strenuously objected to. So strenuous has been her opposition to this somewhat exciting form of amusement that she exacted a promise not long ago from her husband that he would not succumb to the seductive wiles of the game, except for fun. She did not object to his having fun that way if he wanted to, but real gambling didn't go. So he promised, and kept the promise until one warm night about a week ago. Then the wife had an engagement to go with a little theatre party, and he took advantage of the occasion to invite half-a-dozen friends up to the house.

"But you mustn't bring any chips," he insisted. "My wife is suspicious of chips. I've a lot of coffee berries instead."

All agreed to accept the berries as a substitute for the ivories, and all turned up at the house as soon as the wife had joined the party. The chips or coffee grains, were doled out by the banker, and the game started. Owing to the warmth of the room a window near the host's seat had been raised. Luck was with the host. The game progressed very quietly, and nearly every pot found its way eventually to the stack of berries at his side until he had enough to make baverage for the crowd. By 11 o'clock two or three had dropped out and gone home, and those who remained had given all their coffee beans to their entertainer. Then the wife returned.

She noted with evident satisfaction that the game was devoid of anything as suspicious as chips, and greeted all pleasantly. Then she stood leaning on her husband's chair, chatting about the play. As she chatted she carelessly fingered the little pile of coffee beans, and at every other word would carelessly flip one or two of them out of the window, or absentmindedly put one in her mouth and bite it to pieces. The banker saw and grinned with fiendish glee. Every grain of coffee which she cast to the winds or ground up between her pretty teeth represented a quarter. At every fresh flip her husband's eyes opened wide ; his stare became more maniacal. By the time the pile had dwindled down to half its original size, he saved himself and the rest of his pile. Springing up in the middle of the story his wife was telling, he said :

"Mary, for heaven's sake stop chewing that coffee. You make me nervous."

Mary looked and wondered, and there was a gleam of suspicion in her eyes as she bade them good-night and retired. The husband sadly cashed in his diminished pile, and the game broke up.

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist Minister, 192 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Cured of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

GOD'S LITTLE GIRL.

She left her home in the starry ways
And reached our arms in the April days.
We thought to keep her and hold her here,
And our little girl we called the dear.

One pleasant eve when the sun had dipped
Out of sight, and the stars had slipped
Silently back to their wonted ways,
She turned her face with a wistful gaze

Up to the blue of the arching skies.
We knew by the look in her pretty eyes
And the smile that brightened her small face so
It was time for God's little girl to go.

A kiss we dropped on her curly head.
"Sweet little heart, goodby!" we said.
Then unafraid, though the way was dim,
God's little girl went back to him.

NOVEL CURE FOR INSOMNIA.

The Only Way One Man Can Woo Nature's Sweet Restorer.

"No, I am not through with my day's work yet," said a Seventh street barber as he turned the key in the door of his shop a few nights ago.

"Not through?" asked a bystander who had but a few minutes before left his chair.

"No, sir," the barber continued "I have a customer whom I have shaved every night for nearly three years. It's a fact, and that man wouldn't be able to sleep a wink tonight if I did not go and shave him—at least he thinks he couldn't sleep without it.

"Funny, isn't it? For several years he suffered with nervous prostration, which brought on insomnia. The doctors—and he tried not a few—did him little good. During this time he let his beard grow until he had long flowing whiskers.

"One day his wife asked him if he wouldn't feel better to have his whiskers shaved off. He assented, and I was called in. It was about 9 o'clock, after I had closed my shop for the day. I removed the whiskers and gave his head a good rubbing. That night he slept soundly—the first real sleep he had had for months.

"The next night he suffered with wakefulness. The night following he was just as bad. Finally in two or three days his wife again called me in to shave him. I did so, and that night he got a good sleep. The result is that I was called in every night.

"Finally I agreed to do the work for so much a month, and I am a regular caller at his home every night. I am the last one to see him. After I shave him and rub his head he goes directly to bed. He has had no insomnia since I began the nightly shaving.

"No, it isn't because of any particular power I have over him. Any barber could do it, I suppose; but he won't have any one but me. Yes, it is a bore sometimes when I want to go away; but he pays me enough to make it an object. I must hurry or he will be worrying."—Washington Star.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattress; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

SMITH IN THE SENATE

Another Yukon Bill Introduced and Debated.

SENATOR MILLS OPPOSES IT.

The Bill a Disloyal Proposal Against Canadian Trade—The Canadian Yukon Not Worth Holding if a Bill of This Kind, Giving Aliens Control, Were Passed.

Ottawa, April 1.—The Yukon is still a very live issue in the Senate. The Senators having thrown out the bill for the all-Canadian route, are now asked by promoters to sanction a railway from an American port, a railway that would end all hope of securing access to the Yukon exclusively through Canadian territory. Senator Mills fought the bill, and the Government intends to fight it vehemently should it ever reach the Commons, as it probably will, because there is little hope of Mr. Mills' motion for the six months' hoist being adopted. Shortly after the Senate met yesterday Senator Loughead moved the second reading of the bill to incorporate Mr. Hamilton Smith and his associates as the Pacific & Yukon Railway, Navigation & Mining Company, with power to construct a line of railway from Pyramid Harbor on the Lynn Canal to Rink Rapids on the Yukon River. Hon. David Mills said he was opposed to the second reading of this bill. More than that, he would try and fasten on the Conservative Senators who supported the motion the onus of endeavoring to promote a railway to the Yukon designed to throw the trade of that country into the hands of the United States. The bill declared that it was in the general interest of Canada. He dissented from that statement, and said it was in the interests of the United States, inasmuch as it was designed to give the control of the Yukon country to the United States. If this bill was passed it would enable the Americans to absolutely control the trade of the Yukon, from the fact that the terminus of the railway was in American territory.

A Disloyal Proposal.

The proposition was not a loyal one to the commercial interests or political advantage of Canada. The Conservative Senators had yesterday destroyed a bill which would have given Canada control of the trade of the Yukon, and now it was proposed to place under the control of the Government at Washington the trade passing from one part in Canada to another place in Canadian territory. There was nothing to prevent the United States, if this road was built, from charging duty on Canadian goods shipped over it to the Yukon country. He was not prepared that Canada should assume such a humiliating position. The Canadian Yukon was not worth holding if a bill of this kind giving an alien power control of the trade was passed. This was a scheme co-ordinate with the efforts of Mr. Hamilton Smith and Mr. Livernash to secure the trade of that country for the United States. He could not believe that the Senate would sacrifice the interests of Canada in this way, nor did he believe the Canadian people would submit to this sort of thing. He moved a six months' hoist of the bill.

Senator Macdonald (B.C.) contended this was all nonsense. Parliament last session chartered two companies to build into the Yukon from Lynn Canal.

Senator Bellerose would vote against the bill for the same reason as he voted against the Mann-McKenzie bill, namely, that no railway ought to be chartered to enter the Yukon from the west of the Rockies.

Senator Perley took the same view, but Senator Boulton thought the policy of refusing American access to Alaska through Canadian territory was an unneighborly and unstatesmanlike one.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell expressed regret at the reasons the Minister of Justice had given for moving the hoist. His objection was that the road began in American territory. Would not the opinion of the Minister of Justice and the vote of the Senate make that declaration be used by the United States against Canada's contention with regard to the Alaskan boundary? Canada claimed that she owned the territory at the head of the Lynn Canal, including Pyramid Harbor. If there was no other reason, he thought this would be sufficient to induce the Senate to refuse to adopt the motion for the hoist on these reasons.

Hon. David Mills—By constructing this railway and building up American towns at the head of Lynn Canal, we are bettering the claims of the United States.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell—Not at all. Nothing like that could affect our right. The United States collecting duty at Pyramid Harbor, instead of allowing Canadian goods to go through in bond, would be a declaration of non intercourse. He thought the Senate should look carefully into this question before coming to a decision, and he would, therefore, move the adjournment of the debate.

After some further debate Sir Mackenzie Bowell's amendment to adjourn the debate carried by 26 yeas to 24 nays.

IN THE COMMONS.

Yesterday's Proceedings Were Unimportant—An Unsavory Matter Under Discussion.

Ottawa, April 1.—The official deadbeat, who is enabled by the immunity from the process of law for the collection of debts which he enjoys to fleece as many tradesmen as will trust him, was the subject of a debatae in the House yesterday. The members were almost unanimous in expressing the belief that the continuance of such a class distinction as that which prevents a creditor from enforcing the payment of a debt by a civil servant is a scandal. But while there was an almost universal agreement on this point the lawyers in the House pointed out the technical obstacles in the way of removing the privilege that surrounds the public official.

Questions and Answers.

To a question by Mr. Bennett, the Solicitor-General said there were 14 revising officers in Ontario who were not county judges. The total amount paid revising officers in Ontario at the last revision was $71,650, and the total cost of printing voters' lists for the different ridings in the province was $34,306.

Mr. McCleary was informed by Mr. Sifton that in January last the Government had cancelled the lease of the land surrounding the ruins of Old Fort Erie, 17½ acres, and made a new lease of it to the commissioners of Victoria Park at Niagara Falls. There had been no communication on the subject with the Government of Ontario.

Mr. Sifton also informed Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper that since the 1st of January, 1897, permits to sell liquor in the Yukon had been issued under the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories.

The sub-collector of customs at Ashcroft, B.C., had been authorized by the Department of the Interior, Mr. Sifton said, to issue miners' licenses for the Yukon.

Mr. Quinn wanted to know if the Government would not take some steps to have the port of Belfast, in Ireland, opened to the importation of Canadian cattle, and was informed by Mr. Fisher that Lord Strathcona had been communicated with to that end.

Mr. Foster enquired if it were true that all the colored porters on the Intercolonial had been dismissed. If so, whether it was the policy of the general manager to draw the color line in that service.

Mr. Blair replied that certainly he had authorized no such proceeding, and he had written the general manager about it.

Mr. Maclean asked if the Government would say whether it was intended to proceed with the Insolvency bill, to which Sir Richard Cartwright replied that the bill was not a Government measure.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to discussion of a bill by Mr. Richardson (Liberal, Manitoba), to enable creditors to garnishee salaries of civil servants. The title of the Act is, "Respecting the attachment of salaries out of moneys in the hands of the Government of the Dominion of Canada."

The first clause is so amended that, according to the Solicitor-General, who was asked the question by Mr. Maclean, the salaries of the Ministers would come under the operation of the Act.

At the suggestion of Sir Louis Davies, the debate was adjourned.

The Criminal Code.

The House next took up Mr. Britton's bill to amend the Criminal Code so as to deprive the Minister of Justice of the power to order a new trial in the case of a person committed for murder. Mr. Britton contended that the proceedings in the Sternaman case justified the doing away with this clause of the statute. The bill also provides for the repeal of the section of the Criminal Code requiring corroborative evidence in cases of seduction of girls between 14 and 16 years, and in cases of illicit connection with boys.

Mr. Cameron made a pointed attack upon the bill, particularly upon the latter provision of it. Forty years' experience as a criminal lawyer, both as Crown prosecutor and counsel for defence, convinced him that fully 50 per cent. of the cases of the kind referred to were brought through resentment or for purposes of blackmail; while in nine cases out of ten the female succeeded with the jury. After some further observations in the same direction Mr. Cameron moved the six months' hoist.

Sir Louis Davies agreed that the one single case of an appeal for a new trial—the Sternaman case—did not warrant the movement for the repeal of the clause.

The motion for the six months' hoist having been carried, the House proceeded to consider Mr. Charlton's motion for the second reading of his bill to amend the Criminal Code, providing for more efficient punishment of seduction and abduction.

Mr. Charlton explained that it was proposed to raise the age of consent from 16 to 18 years in the case of the female and reduce the age of the male from 21 to 18 for responsibility for seduction, also to make it a crime to abduct a female under 21 years of age.

Sir Louis Davies expressed the hope that Mr. Charlton would not press his bill.

Mr. Britton moved the adjournment of the debate, which carried.

Mr. Reid's bill to regulate freight rates on railways was withdrawn at the request of the Minister of Railways, who promised to consider the matter during recess.

With that the House adjourned at 10.10 p.m.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE CASE.

A Point in Friendly Insurance That Is Full of Warning to Members.

Toronto, March 31.—Polices of insurance in benevolent and friendly societies must designate the person or persons to whom the policy is payable, or the money involved will be subject to the claims of creditors of the insured. Mrs. James Fawcett of Dunnville failed in Single Court yesterday to recover $2,000, the amount of her husband's policy in the Select Knights of Canada, because the policy was made payable as the will directed, and the will left her the balance after the debts were paid.

Mr. Judge Street held in dismissing the widow's application for the money under this Act, that as she was not designated as the beneficiary in the policy, the Act did not apply.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE

Says the Only Alternative Now Is to Arrange for the Chilkoot Route.

Montreal, April 1.—When asked yesterday for an expression of opinion regarding the Senate's rejection of the Yukon bill, Sir William Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific, made the following statement: "I would not on any account criticize the action of the Senate, but I am sorry the bill is rejected, and I fear its rejection will prove to be a mistake, and that Canada will lose the cream of the Yukon trade. I have never doubted that the Chilkoot was the best route, but the Teslin route seemed necessary to independence and to the saving of a whole year's trade if nothing more. If the freedom of the Chilkoot route can be secured by arrangement with the United States, that now seems to be the only alternative."

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 31—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

How People Sleep.

In England the old four poster bedstead is still the pride of the nation, but the iron or brass bedstead is beating it out of the field. The English beds are the largest beds in the world. A peculiarity of the German bed is its shortness. Besides that, it consists frequently in part of a large down pillow or upper mattress which spreads over the person and usually answers the purpose of all the other ordinary bedclothing combined. In the tropics men sleep in hammocks or upon mats or grass. The East Indian unrolls his light, portable charpoy or mattress, which in the morning is again rolled together and carried away by him. The Japanese lie upon matting with a stiff, uncomfortable, wooden neck rest. The Chinese use low bedsteads, often elaborately carved and supporting only mats or coverlids. The ancient Greeks and Romans had their beds supported on frames, but not flat like ours. The Egyptians had a couch of a peculiar shape, more like an old fashioned easy chair, with hollow back and seat.—New York Ledger.

Finding Gives Not Ownership.

In the case of an individual who had claimed a reward for the restitution of a diamond ring which he had found Judge Finletter rendered a decision to the effect that the mere fact of finding the ring gave the finder no lien upon the property. The article had been lost, its loss was advertised and to keep it was practically larceny.—Philadelphia Record.

A man asks his wife what she has been doing all day and then reads his newspaper while she is trying to tell him.—Chicago News.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Their Only Safety in Female Diseases.

You have seen a flower nipped by frost, fade and die in the flush of its beauty. That is how women die when attacked by any of the diseases peculiar to their sex.

The light dies out of her eyes, her steps become slow and dragging; she loses flesh; grows sallow, listless, droops like a flower. Then she dies. Her family is left to the cold mercy of the world.

"Mother's dead!" What a piteous phrase. What sufferings have been endured before it was used. Why should mothers, wives, sisters suffer so? They need not. Dodd's Kidney Pills will quickly and thoroughly cure all cases of Female Weakness. They never fail. They give health, strength, courage: a new lease of life.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Diver at the Bobcaygeon Locks Gets Into Trouble.

Diver W. Junkin, who has been repairing the lock gate at Bobcaygeon met with a somewhat exciting experience on Tuesday. Having been below the surface for some time he ascended the ladder till his head was above water, when the visor in the helmet was opened by one of the attendants so that he might breathe the fresh air. While inhailing great draughts of pure ozone a rung of the ladder broke, and though one foot fortunately found a resting place on the cross-brace lower down the opening in the helmet was even with the surface of the water, which began to trickle in at a lively rate. As most people know, a diver's suit is heavily weighted with lead, and the men who ran to Mr. Junkin's assistance tugged and pulled, but found it impossible to raise him beyond the danger point. Just as his position was becoming desperate some level-headed fellow shouted to the men pull up on the ladder and the problem was solved. Mr. Junkin felt somewhat unnerved and exhausted for a time, but being used to such risks he descended into the depths once more after a half-hour's rest.

THE LATE MRS. TAYLOR.

Grandmother of Mrs. W. H. Hill, of Town—An Historic Peasonage.

The Welland Tribune has the following reference to the late Mrs. Henry Taylor grandmother of Mrs. W. H. Hill, of town:

"Early on the morning of Sunday, March 20th, 1898, there passed away one of those historic personages which help to link the present with the distant past—Mrs. Henry Taylor, for 63 years a resident of this county, and for 25 years one of the respected citizens of the village of Drummondville, now Niagara Falls South. For a few years she lived with her husband, the late Henry Taylor, on a farm above the Falls, and facing Grand Island. Shortly after locating on this form they experienced the excitement of the rebellion of '37 and suffered considerable loss by fire through the action of the rebels during those exciting times. Troops from Quebec and Toronto were sent to this section and the officers of the various regiments at different times made their headquarters at this farm. Many were the interesting reminiscences she used to relate, and seemed to delight in doing so. She was a staunch supporter of the Presbyterian church, and was one of the founders and mainstays of the Presbyterian church of the village. There are very few of the friends of her early days that survive her, and though she lived to see her 81st year she could converse in a wonderfully bright way to within a short time of her death.

"Here was one of those strong constitutions which seem to be free from the ravages of disease, as understood now-a-days. It was simply the wearing out of the human mechanism that caused the wheel of time to stop, and she entered into her eternal rest at the early hours of the Sabbath day.

"The funeral took place from the residence of her daughter on Tuesday afternoon, March 22nd, to the historic Lundy's Lane burying ground, and she was buried by the tomb of her husband, who had preceded her by 51 years. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Wilson and Crawford, and the following named acted as pall-bearers: James Wilson, A. Grey, J. Soules, R. McCredie, John Law, and A. Carnochan."

ENLARGE THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Building in Connection With St. John's Church is Found to be too Small.

A congregational meeting of St. John's church members was called for last evening, in order that the question might be discussed of devoting the special Easter collection to increasing the fund for extending the Sunday school hall.

The rector presided and all present were in favour of seeing the work of enlarging the Sunday school building undertaken, although the hope was expressed that the project could be carried forward to completion without incurring a debt.

Quite an amount of funds has been collected for this purpose from various sources, during the last few years, and it thought that with the assistance of a generous contribution at Easter the work can be undertaken this year.

WE WANT THE WHEELMEN'S MEET.

For two years in succession Peterborough has made a gallant effort to capture the annual meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, and twice has it been "turned down." This year another fight is being put up and consideration of the advantages the meet brings to the town fortunate enough to secure it, should enlist the sympathy and active co-operation of every citizen and of the council as the representative of all the citizens. Local loyalty demands that every effort should be made that will tend to put into circulation the sinews of prosperity—money. The material prosperity of the town depends largely upon the amount of money in circulation; it is therefore obvious that the more money brought to the town the greater our prosperity.

We have heretofore been too lax in providing amusements on public holidays, that will keep our citizens in town. On nearly all the public holidays we have permitted other places to furnish the amusements, and we have suffered by a large outgo of our citizens, and the consequent spending of thousands of dollars outside the town. This year, on July 1st, the Batallion will go out of town, and there will be no home attractions unless we succeed in getting the Meet here.

The annual meet of the wheelmen in a central town like Peterborough means the presence in town of ten or twelve thousand outsiders from a distance, not to speak of perhaps an equal number from the surrounding country and neighbouring towns. It is well known that wheelmen at an annual meet are prodigal spenders of money, and there is no doubt that tens of thousands of dollars from outside sources will be spent in Peterborough on the first two days of the Meet. Besides, we shall keep our own people in town, and will be "in" what they would spend in visiting other places if we had no attractions to keep them at home. Business men see the advantage arising from the presence of the meet, and they are heartily in favour of the town liberally contributing to assist in bringing the meet to Peterborough.

The expense incurred in preparing for the meet is not inconsiderable. Upon local wheelmen and public spirited citizens devolves the duty of providing at a cost of between $2,700 and $3,000, the purses and prizes for the formidable programme of professional and amateur events that will be run off; and of extending suitable and creditable hospitality to the visitors. Besides, the fight to secure the meet means a large outlay.

Private citizens interested in wheeling have already spent much time and money to bring the meet to the town for the benefit of the town and will on the present occasion be subjected to similar outlay. Last year the city council of Chatham devoted three hundred dollars for this purpose, and the financial results of the meet amply justified the action. In 1895 when the town was fighting Waterloo for the meet, the town council made a grant on condition of the meet being secured for Peterborough. And it does not seem to be too much to ask the council of this year to make a grant of, say, $600 to assist the committee in meeting the expenses incidental to the gathering.

The investment will be a good one, for, at a moderate and not over-sanguine estimate, the presence of the meet here next July will mean the leaving of at least $50,000 of outside money in town, a sum which will do much to brighten trade.

It may be claimed by some that this money will not be for the general benefit of the town but that the hotels and boarding and lodging houses will be the chief gainers. But this is not the case. They will have to pay the bills of the butcher, the baker, the grocer, etc., and these in turn must pay for supplies and the wages of employees. Thus money will be available to pay the bills of dry goods and other merchants, enabling them in turn to meet their obligations—in fact there is no telling how many hundreds of dollars will be paid by the first dollar spent by a visiting wheelman in town next July—if we get the meet.

It is evident that it will pay the town much better to have eight or ten thousand persons two or three days in town, spending money liberally, than to have two or three thousand of our citizens leave town on Dominion Day and spend their good money with outsiders.

We must, if possible, have the meet, and if we get it we must, for the good name of the town, show that we are able to entertain creditably the thousands of visitors that will pour in upon us from every part of the Province. The whole mass of the townspeople will be benefitted and the people as body have their best opportunity of giving their share of help through a liberal grant by the town council. Will the town fathers think the matter over?

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy made another large shipment of stockers to-day to the American markets. This shipment will consist of between 500 and 600 head and will be sent to the Iowa and Nebraska ranches.

The majority of this stock are yearling and two year old steers, and Mr. Kennedy states that in all probability there will be a steady demand for this class of stock at firm prices, such as should encourage our Ontario farmers to raise all the good steer calves possible; but they should be careful in the breeding of their stock, as no Jerseys or Holsteins are wanted in that market at any price. Durhams and Polled Angus preferred.

Mr. Kennedy intends having another shipment ready for the latter part of April.

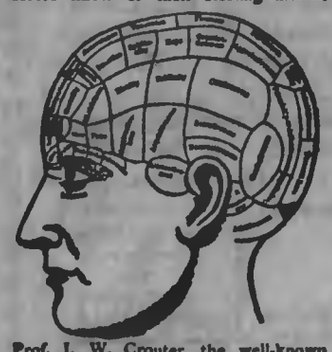
A PHRENOLOGIST'S EXPERIENCE.

Prof. J. W. Crouter Strongly Recommends Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for Severe Palpitation.

Anyone who has ever used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for such diseases as arise from Disordered Nerves, Weak Heart, or Watery Blood, is so thankful for a cure that he desires to let all sufferers know of their sterling merits.



Prof. J. W. Crouter, the well-known Phrenologist, and author of several advanced scientific works, writes from Penetanguishene, as follows:—"Last October I had an attack of palpitation of the heart, which grew so bad that I was induced to take medicine for it. Occasionally I obtained relief, but was not cured, and the beatings of my heart became more and more intermittent and violent, till I feared the valves of my heart would burst. Incidentally I read of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in the Globe, and with a feeling bordering on despair I determined to try them. I went to Mr. Nettleton's drug store and got a box. I took them regularly for about three days, when the beatings of my heart became quite regular. I continued to use them for about three day's more, and by that time my heart was beating naturally and has continued to do so since.

"You are at liberty to publish this letter as it may direct others similarly afflicted to the right remedy."

Yours truly, J. W. CROUTER.

WHENCE THE CAT?

Probably Adopted by Man Subsequent to the Hunting Age.

It is impossible to trace the origin of the domestic cat with certainty to any existing species or variety of wildcat. Indeed the time at which the cat was first domesticated and introduced to human society is simply a matter of conjecture. Professor Shaler expresses the opinion that the domestication of the cat must have been much later than that of the dog, while naturalists give reasons for believing to the contrary.

Some people agree with Professor Shaler and for this reason: That dogs were probably first domesticated in order to assist in hunting, and therefore probably in what is called the hunting age of human society; whereas the cat has nowhere been generally used as a hunting animal. The dog is essentially gregarious. He loves to hunt in packs, and when introduced to a human family he regards the family as his pack and hunts accordingly, so that he is easily made serviceable by the human hunter. The cat, on the contrary, is unsocial. It lives alone and hunts alone, so that it could not be expected to be easily trained to hunt, either with men or for men. In fact, the only member of the cat family that is known to have been trained to hunt is the cheetah, though an ancient Egyptian painting, which may be seen in the British museum, represens a cat which is apparently assisting a hunter to catch birds.

There is another reason for thinking that the cat must have been adopted by man after the hunting age—namely, the cat's wonderful attachment to localities. Animals like the wolf, with which the dog is most closely allied, follow their prey over vast tracts of country and seem to be entirely destitute of local attachment. The wildcat, on the contrary, settles down in a particular spot and waits for its prey to come. When removed from its accustomed habitat, it seems to lose its skill, and therefore would be useless to men in a hunting age, because in that age men seldom had fixed habitations, but roamed abroad wherever game was to be found. Of course much of this is conjecture. Whether the cat or the dog was first adopted by man cannot now be certainly known, but the cat was well known as a domestic animal at an early period of human history.—Boston Journal.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

THINGS THAT INTERESTED AND PUZZLED OFFICERS OR SURGEONS.

Disreputable to Be Hit by a Spent Ball. Cases of Remarkable Nerve Displayed by Wounded Men—Heading Off a Panic In a Nashville Hospital.

"Wounded men," said the colonel, "were often misunderstood. General Fuller of Toledo told me that he never expected forgiveness for one harsh judgment of his. In the midst of a battle he was trying to stop the flight of panic stricken men. One man came stumbling along, not heeding a word that was said to him. Indignant and impatient, Fuller, as he came near him, leaned from his horse and touched the man with his sword, saying sharply, 'Go back, sir!' The man looked up with a look that said as plain as words, 'I am looking for a place to die.' He opened his blouse and showed a great, gaping wound in his breast. Then he dropped to the ground. The general dismounted as soon as he could, but almost as he took the man's head in his arms the poor fellow died.

"Some men when struck showed no sign. I remember one little fellow who was struck three times in as many minutes. The first shot struck his right arm, and he proceeded to load with his left. The next shot struck him in the leg and brought him to his knees. He had his left arm up, ramming home a load, when a bullet struck that arm. Then he looked up and said quietly: 'They have a particular spite against me. I guess I'll quit.' And he dropped down."

"We had one man in our company," said the sergeant, "who was shot through the body at Shiloh. He was carried off in an ambulance, and the boys supposed they would never see him again. But three days after the battle the regiment went into camp not far from the field hospital, and that afternoon the men were surprised to see the man who had been shot through and through walk into camp, using his rifle as a cane. He announced that he had had enough of the hospital and wouldn't go back to it. The regimental surgeon swore a good deal, insisting that the wounded man should return to the hospital, but in the end agreed that the plucky fellow should be cared for in the company's quarters. The boys took great care of him. He improved rapidly, went on duty as soon as he was able to walk and was with the company to the end of the service.

"Other men who couldn't bear physical pain were greatly troubled by flesh wounds and received less sympathy than they deserved. The hardest wounds to bear were those from spent balls. These were more painful than the wounds from the hard hitters, but men struck by spent bullets received no sympathy at all. For some reason it was counted disreputable to be hit by a spent ball or a splinter from a rock, and many men worried along under the most painful wounds without going to the hospital or without even consulting the surgeon. Some of these fellows carry the marks today and say nothing about them.

"The official report of the capture of Lookout mountain," said the major, "stated that General Walter C. Whitaker was wounded, but that he didn't leave the field. That is all true, but it is only half the story. Whitaker was one of the most impetuous, driving officers in the army. He was a regular old stormer. He was pushing things in great shape in front when he was struck by a rifle ball. He became deathly sick, and it was supposed at first that he was fatally wounded. The surgeons and some of his associate officers gathered about him, anxious and nervous. A surgeon opened the general's coat and vest, looking for the wound, which seemed to be in the vicinity of the stomach. He found between the vest and the underclothing a rifle ball that had not broken the skin.

"He said quietly, 'A spent ball.' The general opened his eyes and looked up wrathful and indignant. 'What's that? What's that? Somebody hit me with a spent ball? I won't stand it. Bring me my horse.' And, fairly throwing aside all the people about him, he sprang to his feet, climbed on his horse, and, with his clothing in disarray and his hat banged on his head, started for the front, swearing at the man who had hit him with a spent ball. But the old general after that probably had more sympathy with the men who were struck by balls that seemed to fall from the air or that came with as little force as a stone thrown by a vicious boy. Sometimes these would strike a man on the foot and fairly craze him with pain. Sometimes they would drop on his back as he lay face down on the ground kicking up his heels, and he would writhe as though he were in the agonies of death."

"While I was in charge of one of the hospitals at Nashville," said the surgeon, "the most difficult cases to handle were those in which the soldiers were influenced by hallucinations or superstitions. The patients were arranged in a large hall, the cots in long rows, extending the full length of the room. One night a patient about half way down the hall died. The next night the man coming next in the row died, and the next day the third man in order died. Immediately Nos. 4, 5 and 6 insisted on being moved from the row, and they were so wild about it that they had to be moved.

"No. 7, I noticed, was a quiet, uncomplaining man of equable temper, and, feeling that I must in some way stop the panic and break the line of superstitious dread, I went to him and led up to the point by asking him if he had any superstitious notions. He said he had not. Then I asked him if he would be satisfied to remain as he was and explained that if he did not insist upon being moved I could quiet the excitement. He smiled and said he would trust himself in the unlucky row. Trifling as this circumstance was, it had the greatest influence on the patients in the row. They watched that man for two days with unflagging interest, and it was a great trial for him to see, whenever he was lifted up by the nurse, a dozen wild eyed men looking him over to see whether death was on him or not, but he stood his ground and stopped the panic. He recovered and has been as hearty as a buck ever since."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE NEW YORK YOUTH.

Story of a Promising Boy, a Schoolteacher and an Escaped Dog.

A drawing teacher in the upper regions of the borough of Manhattan tells me of a curious instance of what she calls the crescent freshness of the metropolitan youth. Tommy was the most incorrigible pupil in that particular room, making the half hour spent there daily one of mingled doubt and anguish of spirit to the drawing teacher. The other day Tommy was evidently engaged in some new form of mischief. His drawing pad lay upon the desk before him and his hands were hovering over it, now swooping down at one side of the paper, now at the other, as if corralling some unwilling ant or other insect seeking to escape.

"Tommy," said the drawing teacher suddenly and sharply, "what are you doing?"

"Nothin," was Tommy's instant reply. Then he added, "Nothin but keepin this 'ere dawg from runnin away."

"What dog?" queried the drawing teacher. "I see no dog. What do you mean?"

"Course ye don't see no dawg," said Tommy, ceasing his gymnastics under her sharp glance and straightening up. "Yer too far away." The other scholars were all attention by this time, which was precisely what Tommy wanted, and he assumed a look of unsmiling innocence as he continued, "I drored a runnin dawg, not a standin still one, an I was a-headin 'im off so's he wouldn't run off th' tablet an git on th' floor."

The other children laughed uproariously at this, whereupon Tommy surveyed them with such an assumption of surprised indignation that their mirth was redoubled. The teacher was now genuinely angry. She was a matter of fact young woman to whom normal school methods were both law and gospel, and here was a flagrant case of downright falsehood that must be exposed as an awful example to the entire grade of pupils. She walked slowly and firmly down the aisle and picked up Tommy's tablet. The white sheet was unsullied by a single mark of any kind.

"Tommy," she said sternly, exhibiting the sheet to the pupils, "there isn't a dog or anything else here."

"Course there isn't," said the unabashed Tommy. "Wha'd I tell ye? Ye made me set up, an he got away. He was a greyhound, he was."—Town Topics.

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE BLACK SHIP.

BY CHARLES B LEWIS.

What was known in marine circles as "The Black Ship Mystery" covered a space of a year in the last year of the fifties. If there was any honor in first sighting the black ship, it goes to the brig Sea Gull, bound from Boston to Liverpool. I was second mate of the brig on that voyage, and on the night of the 30th of April, 1859, we were lying almost becalmed in midocean. There was no air along the decks, but a draft aloft kept steerage way on the craft. At midnight when I came on deck to relieve the chief mate the moon was shining so brightly that it was almost like day. There was no change of weather to look out for, and a more quiet night at sea could not be imagined. I had been pacing the deck for half an hour or more when I suddenly caught sight of a vessel coming down on our windward quarter. The stranger seemed to have stolen out of some fog bank or cloud of mist, and yet the atmosphere was clear as a bell. As I stood rubbing my eyes the man at the wheel caught sight of the craft and called my attention, and just then she luffed sharp up and took a course parallel with ours.

I ran for the glass and leveled it at her, and as she was not above two cable lengths away I had every detail as plain as if I stood on her rail. She was a small, full rigged ship, and anything about her which would bear a coat of black was painted that color. This applied even to her masts. The hull was a much finer model than ours, but there was a slovenly look aloft, and her sails were not well set. To my amazement I could see only one person on her decks—the man at the wheel. There was no officer, no lookout, no sailors looking at us over the rail. It was about ten minutes after the stranger came down upon us before I called Captain Crawford. He took the glass from my hand and gave her a looking over, and there was a troubled look on his face as he turned to me with:

"This is about the queerest thing that has overtaken me in all my experience. She seems to have a dead man at the wheel, and if she has a crew aboard they are in hiding. I'll hail her and see if I can wake anybody up."

The captain had a voice like a foghorn, and his tones would have carried to a craft a full mile away. He roared out a "Ship ahoy!" and hailed again and again, but there was never a movement aboard the stranger. The black ship was holding true to her course and seemed to be as well steered as our own craft, and while things had a queer look it was only a mystery as yet. Finding that his hails were not answered, the captain took the glass and spent a full five minutes with it at his eyes. He had just lowered it when the five men of my watch came aft in a body, and one of the oldest of the men doffed his hat and respectfully said:

"Captain Crawford, if I may be so bold as to say it, that there craft is either a pirate which is going to lay us aboard very soon or it's a death ship, and we can't get away from her any too quick!"

"There are no pirates in these seas," replied the captain as he rounded on the man, "and as for a death ship, that's all nonsense. Dead men can't make sail and steer a ship."

"But look at her sails, sir!" persisted the man. "They are rusty and old, and I don't believe they have been touched for weeks. What she is carrying is only enough for a gale, and if she wasn't a racer we'd be drawing away from her in no time."

With a growl at their superstition, the captain ordered the men forward, but I could see that he was both puzzled and troubled as he ordered the man at the wheel to luff a point and bring us nearer the stranger. The wheel had scarcely been moved when the stranger also luffed. The man was then ordered to let her fall off two points, and the yards were trimmed for the new course, but the men were still pulling and hauling when the stranger fell off and thus preserved his position. Neither in luffing nor in falling off was there any pull at his yards or sheets, but as the wind was light there was no actual need of this to keep his course.

"He can't be a pirate," whispered Captain Crawford to me as we stood gazing and wondering. "If it were any one meaning us harm, he knows the size of our crew and that we are unarmed, and he would have been aboard long ago. It may be a craft which has lost everybody aboard by fever or plague, but how is it that she sticks to us as she does? Haven't seen the man at the wheel make the slightest move since we first set eyes on him."

By this time the chief mate and all the men of his watch had turned out, and for a time all discipline was forgotten in the eagerness to solve the mystery. Twice again we luffed, but the black ship was not 30 seconds behind us. Then we fell off, but she performed the same maneuver, and her course was still parallel. Of a sudden there was a long drawn wail from the south, and the light wind became a rattling breeze in a moment. We were not only off our course, but the men had to rush to stations to trim sheets and yards, and for five minutes all were so busy that no one paid any attention to the stranger. When the bustle was over, the black ship had disappeared. The moon was shining just as brightly as before; but though a man was even sent aloft with a glass and swept the sea foot by foot not a sign of our mysterious visitor could be discovered. An entry was made in the logbook, I wrote the matter out in detail, and every officer and man signed his name to the statement. It was published on our arrival in Liverpool, and while some sneered at it others were inclined to believe that we had seen what we had seen.

It would have probably gone into history as a sailor's yarn, however, had not the English merchantman Good Hope met with a queer adventure three weeks later. She had called at Fayal, in the Azores, and had made a run of 190 miles to the north and was jogging along under all sail one night at 10 o'clock when she overtook and passed an unknown craft. It was a starlight night, without the slightest sign of mist rising from the water. The unknown had no lights out and had passed within 100 feet. The chief mate had the watch and hailed her, but got no answer in return. He was still cursing her carelessness in sailing the highway without a light when the craft came sailing after him and soon took up a position to leeward and only a stone's throw away.

What happened to us of the Sea Gull now happened to those of the Good Hope. The stranger was repeatedly hailed, but made no answer. Only one single person could be seen aboard of her, and he was the man at the wheel—the figure which was without motion except such as the tossing of the ship gave him. He stood there clear enough under the naked eye, but the glass brought him so close that the hairs sticking out under his weatherbeaten sou'wester could almost be counted. For an hour the black ship ran a parallel course to that of the Good Hope, and the crew of the latter got a bad fright over it. There was no increase of the breeze, as in our case, but as the 15 men aboard stood staring at her she suddenly vanished from the face of the sea.

It was three months before the black ship was seen again. The American ship Bonny Belle, bound from New York to Bordeaux, had left the Azores to the south and behind her, when one day at noon the breeze left her and there came a dead calm. The seas soon went down until there was only a glassy ground swell, and when night came on there was not a sail in sight. At midnight the moon rose, and so bright was its light that one could have read a book on deck. Half an hour after midnight, without enough air stirring to move a feather, a strange craft suddenly came into view from the east, and when first seen was about a mile away. She was bows on at first, but coming down within half a mile of the Belle she swung around and displayed her broadside. The second mate had the watch, having come on at 12 o'clock, and after puzzling for a few minutes he called the captain. Captain and mate united their voices in a hail which was not answered, and a musket was brought up and fired three times without eliciting any reply. Captain Finch of the Belle was a hard headed fellow, with no superstition in his composition, and when his hails were unanswered he said to his mate:

"Mr. Davis, that is undoubtedly the black ship we have read and heard about, and here is our chance to solve the mystery and perhaps do a nice thing in the way of salvage. You will take a boat and pull off to her and see if she is abandoned."

The mate hesitated for a moment and then refused to go. The second mate was appealed to, but he likewise refused. The captain could have ordered them locked up in their staterooms for the rest of the voyage, but he could not sail his ship without officers, and after roundly cursing them for cowards he declared that he would go himself. For a time every man of his crew refused to obey the order to lower a boat, but when Captain Finch set about single handed and said he would pay the visit at all hazards two sailors stepped forward to accompany him. The captain said of his adventure:

"When we had approached within a few fathoms of the strange craft, I ordered the men to cease rowing that I might look her over. She had no name painted on her stern or quarter. She was sadly weather beaten aloft and there was much rust on her black sides. Her model was half clipper, and any sailor could see that she was easily handled and sailed like a witch. We rowed twice around the ship, hailing her several times, and then I ordered the men to row me under her bows, that I might climb up by her chains. They hung in the wind and would have refused had I not menaced them with the revolver I had brought in my pocket. As I climbed up the chains I ordered them to make the boat fast and one of them to follow me up. I counted ten objects lying about which I verily believe were dead men wrapped up in blankets, though for reasons shortly to be given I could not make sure of this. The decks were not otherwise littered up, though even in the moonlight I could see they had not been cleaned for months.

"I was ready to go aft and was waiting for the man when I heard the splash of oars and turned about to discover that the cowards were making off. I at once fired a shot over their heads and threatened to make targets of them, but menace them as I would the most they would do was to hold the boat at a distance of about 40 feet from the ship's side. To reach it I had to leap into the sea, and on my return to the Belle I could not induce others to row me back to the derelict. The men did not seem to fear her as a ghost ship so much as a plague ship. The entire crew were on deck and looking full at the black ship when she suddenly began moving away from us, headed to the north. There was not a breath of wind, and if there had been a current we should also have moved, but yet she slowly and gradually drew away from us, and in the course of an hour was entirely out of sight. My belief is that she was a plague ship, but at the same time I confess to being greatly mystified by her strange actions."

The black ship was seen once more and for the last time about a month later. A British man-of-war was sent out to look for her, and after a cruise of two weeks back and forth without sighting her, the government craft found herself becalmed one night about midway between the Azores and Madeira. At half past 11 o'clock the black ship was discovered. Of a sudden she appeared within half a mile of the man-of-war. Ten minutes after sighting the mysterious ship Captain Crimmins of the Grampus had two boats in the water, and the officer in command had orders to board the derelict and overhaul every foot of her. Away went the boats, but they never reached her. At a point about midway the black ship suddenly settled down, and two minutes later her topmasts were out of sight beneath the sea. Some bits of wreckage were picked up and preserved, but nothing that could identify her, and to this day her name, port of hail and the fate that made her a derelict are matters of conjecture. I have always held that she was a foreigner, and that her crew died to a man of some terrible epidemic, but as to her mysterious appearance and disappearance, and the nature of the accident that finally sent her to the bottom, I have no theory to advance. For a year or two afterward various ships reported as having seen the strange craft here or there, but these reports were not considered authentic and no further search was ever made.

Napoleon, at St. Helena, said to Antonomarchi, his physician, "Believe me, we had better leave off all these remedies; life is a fortress which neither you nor I know anything about. Why throw obstacles in the way of its defence? Its own means are superior to all the apparatus of your laboratories. Medicine is a collection of uncertain prescriptions, the results of which, taken collectively, have been harmful to mankind. Water, air and cleanliness are my chief medicines."

At the time when Napoleon said this he was largely right. Physicians in those days dealt out obnoxious and drastic drugs that did violence to every fiber in the body. Since that date medical science has made wonderful strides. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine composed of native medicinal roots that do no violence to nature. Its action is gentle and natural. It simply promotes the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It restores the lost appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, builds new and healthy flesh tissue, tones the nerves and gives sweet and refreshing sleep. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of all diseases of the air passages that lead up to consumption. It is a wonderful medicine for all diseases due to insufficient or improper nourishment of body or nerves. Do not deal with unscrupulous dealers who urge you to take worthless substitutes for the sake of a few pennies added profit.

"I have been using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' for the past three years and they have saved my life." Thus writes Mrs. Sophia Fraser, of Oakdale, Rockbridge Co., Va. "I now keep the 'Pellets' in my house all the time and use them every time I feel the need of a laxative. I am fifty-three years old and was troubled with liver complaint until I used your medicine. Now I am well."

Every sick man or woman should send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of customs and mailing only for a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser; or 50 stamps for a heavy cloth-bound copy.

During a visit to Massachusetts a distinguished author was invited by a friend to a meeting of an agricultural society, then holding its annual session in the town.

The invitation was accepted, and author and friend took seats near the door.

Nearly every farmer in the house had something to say. Finally the president, pointing toward the author, said:

"Everybody's given us a talk to-night, except the farmer down there by the door—I mean the brother with the hazel beard, the boots and the slouch hat. I can tell by his looks that he's a farmer, and nothing but a farmer, and I call upon him to take the floor and tell us how crops are in his neighborhood."

The man referred to was Hamlin Garland, but he was equal to the occasion, and rising he said:

"Yes, I'm a farmer, and I'm proud of it, but just now I'm doing a little literary work in order to get money enough to pay off my hands."—Atlanta Constitution.

A PROFITABLE EVENING WITH PROFESSOR DEAN.

HE TALKS ON DAIRY MATTERS IN CENTRAL SMITH.

A Successful Meeting of Central Smith Factory Patrons — Prof. Dean's Admirable Address — A fine Programme — A Profitable Evening Spent.

Thursday night in the Temperance Hall, Fourth Line, Smith, a highly successful meeting was held in the interests of the management and patrons of the Central Smith factory. There was a large attendance, a good proportion of the audience being ladies, and the interest shown was evidenced by some cheesemakers being present from the adjoining county of Victoria.

Mr. Andrew Young, President, occupied the chair. The proceedings consisted primarily of an address by Mr. H.H. Dean, Professor of Dairying in the Ontario Agricultural College, and the fact that he is the best informed and most practical exponent of dairying in the country lent additional interest and value to his address. In addition there was a most enjoyable musical programme presented by the young ladies and gentlemen of the neighbourhood. The first number was an instrumental trio—violins and autoharp, the former being effectively used by Messrs. Albert Archer and Herb. Scott, Miss Scott acting as autoharp accompanist.

The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to learn something that would benefit the dairying industry. The conditions of farming were constantly changing, and in no other branch was this more noticeable than in dairying. The great advance in the cheese trade was due to knowledge and experience. Experimenting was individually costly, but when it was successfully carried on at a central institution like the Agricultural College, the whole body of farmers got the benefit, and to-day the province of Ontario stood at the head of the list, furnishing the bulk of the 60 per cent. of the world's supply of the cheese supplied by Canada and sold in the world's best market, Great Britain. The speaker mentioned the high practical qualifications of Prof. Dean, who stood at the head of his calling. It was pointed out that owing to the state of the market, it devolved on the patrons and makers to devote special attention to the improvement in quality and to pay less attention to quantity. In this respect much depended upon the care with which patrons furnished milk.

A well-sung vocal solo was given by Miss Waterman, "The Cows are in the Clover." The singer possesses an excellent voice, and Miss McGregor furnished an excellent accompaniment.

PROF. DEAN SPEAKS.

Prof. Dean said he had so often visited Peterborough, that when he came here he felt like being at home. He had had two or three pleasant surprises on his present visit—to see such good roads, especially after he turned the corner in the locality, a credit to the neighbourhood. Good roads were an essential element in successful dairying.

In considering the present condition of the cheese-making industry it behooved patrons to consider what they will do in regard to the prospective low price. We shipped 60 per cent. of Great Britain's cheese supply, but we hardly supplied an appreciable proportion of the butter. It would pay, therefore, to devote six months of the year to making cheese and the balance of the year to butter-making, that is make a little less cheese and more butter. To show that Canadians can make as good or better quality of butter than the Danish Prof. Dean quoted the butter factory at Thorndale, Middlesex county, that he had visited a few days ago, which sent their product direct to the markets of Manchester and London, England, where it brought two shillings per hundred-weight more than the best Danish. He had visited Denmark in 1895 and from his observation he was convinced that Canadians could make just as good butter. The lecturer spoke strongly against the making of fodder cheese, which through its necessarily inferior quality would tend to bring down prices, besides injuring the reputation of our cheese. Emphasis was placed upon the importance of keeping a cow that would pay—that would supply such a quantity of milk as would increase the quantity of cheese from a single cow. The average product of the Canadian cow was $8 less than the average of the British cow. This showed the importance of keeping only the best cows. The average production of the cow was 6,000 lbs of milk, while it was possible, as the speaker showed, by quoting examples, to have cows that would give from 10,000 to 12,000 lbs. A poor cow should not be kept for milk. Next to having a good cow was good feed, and the best dairy feed was plenty of grass. To supplement this in a dry season farmers were urged to grow soiling crops. The best for the first part of the season was a mixture of two bushels of oats (Siberian) and one bushel of peas (Prussian blue). A small plot would give an immense amount of feed. A succession might be easily arranged by sowing at the same time an early and a late growing variety in the same field. The late would come into use as the earlier becomes exhausted. (In answer to Mr. Wm. Graham, Mr. Dean said that were Holstein and Ayrshires for cheese and Guernseys and Jerseys for butter.) The speaker said the best all-round corn for green feeding and silage was Wisconsin. Early Dent. Green feed was most profitably fed in the stable. Prof. Dean condemned the feeding of Swede turnips to cows. The flavour might not be apparent in the cheese at the factory, or at the time of shipment, but it developed by the time it reached the British markets, we got bad reports, and the reputation of our cheese was affected, which, of course, affected the price. In feeding roots it was to be remembered that the same soil that would grow Swede turnips would grow mangolds. The best variety of mangolds was the "Mammoth Sawlogs." The best general bulky feed for winter was silage corn, of course varied by other foods. Minute instructions were given as the care of the milk. Before milking the cow's udder should be carefully brushed, for the double purpose of cleanliness and stimulating the secretion of milk. Instruction in aerating milk was also given. The simplest aerator was a common milk pan, the size of the inside of the can, inverted and perforated with holes and provided with a handle. This should be thrust down the can repeatedly, with the hollow side down, of course. A certain quantity of air was carried down to the bottom and bubbled up through the milk. This should be done repeatedly. It was injurious to cool milk suddenly that had not been thoroughly aerated—it fixed bad odours. Care should be taken to keep rain water out of milk by keeping cans covered. Rain water injured the quality of cheese. The importance of extreme cleanliness was insisted upon, both in the care of milk and drivers of milk wagons. Milk should not be drawn in the same wagon that draws the whey. Cheese factories should be kept scrupulously clean and tidy; no maker can expect patrons to keep milk clean unless he sets the example. Every factory should be well drained to keep down bad smells, which taint milk and spoil cheese.

In answer to Mr. Thos. Young, Mr. Dean said that outside of the boiler and engine (say $300) the cost of connecting a cheese into a butter factory would be about $600.

A diversion was created by the singing of a spirited duet, "The Minute Gun at Sea," by Messrs. Alex. McGregor and T. H. Graham, Miss McGregor accompanist.

This was followed by an instrumental trio—violins, Messrs. Herb. Scott and Albert Archer, and Miss Scott autoharp, which was heartily encored and a response pleasingly given.

In confirmation of what had been said by Mr. Dean, the chairman said that Mr. Fitzgerald, the cheese-buyer, had told him that he had bought cheese that showed no sign of turnips on inspection at Peterborough, but had revealed such marked turnip flavour at Montreal that dealers objected so strongly that he (Mr. Fitzgerald) had decided to buy the cheese of no factory that had a patron that fed turnips to his dairy cows.

WAYS OF PAYING FOR MILK.

Prof. Dean went on to make a second address devoted to the methods of paying for milk at factories. After explaining the constituents of milk, the speaker illustrated that paying by weight was not right, because the weight was not an indication of the amount of cheese it would make. Payment according to the weight of butter fat entirely, while fairer, was not entirely fair, because the increase of fat in the milk did not yield a proportionate increase of cheese. The third system was according to weight of butter fat and casein or curd. This latter element helps to hold the butter fat from escaping into the whey, and be very lucidly explained the advantage of adding 2 per cent. to the fat reading of milk to determine its cheese producing value. Prof Dean went on to point out why in this system two per cent. was added to the percentage of butter fat indicated. The addend two is used in order to represent the casein or curd of the milk. Chemical analysis, it was explained, showed the percentage of casein to be fairly constant—about 2½ per cent. The half per cent is represented by the fat and casein lost in the whey in the process of manufacture. Therefore, when two was added to the percentage of fat and payment made accordingly, patrons were paid for the two chief and indispensable elements in cheese milk—fat and casein. Some thought that the addition of two to each patrons' test would make no difference, but it did. For instance: Suppose that one sample tests 3 per cent. fat, and another tests 4 per cent. Dividing on the fat basis alone, one patron received three-sevenths of the money and the other four-sevenths. Add two to each and the first received five-elevenths and the other six-elevenths. The difference in the first case was one-seventh, and in the second one-eleventh. As compared with the fat basis payment, the patron with the richer milk received a fraction less, and the patron with the poorer, or average, milk, a fraction more money. This system, the speaker pointed out, encouraged the production of good milk, while at the same time it did not discourage the patron with average or poor milk by placing too great a premium upon butter fat. While the fat-casein or fat + 2-system of paying for milk was not perfect, it was, the speaker insisted, the nearest to justice of any method yet brought forward.

Mr. Thomas Young, in moving a vote of thanks to Prof. Dean for his valuable advice, insisted upon the importance of carrying out the advice received. Those assisting in the programme were included.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Wm. Graham, who dwelt upon the importance of paying more attention to butter making, and was carried unanimously.

Prof. Dean in acknowledging the vote of thanks, cordially invited the audience to visit the Agricultural College.

A cordial vote of thanks was given the EXAMINER for the courtesy of sending a representative to report the meeting.

THE EXAMINER cordially returns its thanks, but submits that the reasons for gratitude are on its side. The meeting afforded an opportunity of meeting with the whole-souled residents of Central Smith, and of hearing an excellent musical programme, and of also hearing the excellent and instructive addresses of the evening. It is a pleasure to the EXAMINER to do its share in the promotion of the interests of one of the most important industries of the county, district and province and begs to acknowledge the kindly courtesy of the Central Smith officials in affording facilities for attending and reporting the meeting.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The heavy freight traffic, which the C.P R. has been enjoying for some time past, seems to have slackened off considerably, as very little has passed through here lately.—Havelock Herald.

Both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. are introducing a new code of lamp signals on their freight trains. In addition to the usual tail lamps there will be an extra large one placed on top of the van, to be known as the cupola lamp. It will be an extra safeguard against rear end accidents.

The introduction of huge freight engines upon the Canadian Pacific Railway have made the immediate strengthening of bridges necessary. Already gangs of bridge builders are upon the roads testing and bracing all doubtful structures. The move will make work for a large number of men.

CARPET SUPREMACY
CARPET LOVELINESS

- - - AT - - -

Robert Fair's.

We are proud of our Carpet Importations for 1898 We have outdone our very best efforts of the past in making the display of the New Season's Patterns out of reach of comparison with any Carpet consignment ever brought to Peterborough. Such a statement is full of meaning when made by this store. Shoppers who have compared Carpet stocks as they see them in other stores are astonished when they view the stocks at the Golden Lion. Not even in Toronto is there a more complete exhibition of New, Rich and Exclusive designs shown. There may be a larger but not a better display, but quantity never did stand for quality and designs.

Our contracts with the makers of these Carpets for this season's supply amount to many thousands of yards, and are very different from the ordinary run of Carpets shown this this season, many of the patterns being exclusive designs, which were personally selected and made for US ONLY. We have for years made a specialty of exclusive designs, which are owned by us, and cannot be obtained elsewhere.

With ample capital to buy these goods and ample courage to take larger quantities, we secure advantage which precludes the necessity of resorting to "seconds" in qualities or styles that are questionable. The Golden Lion goes to the fountain sources of production, and has facilities at its command which overcome all such trade technicalities, and it is impossible to buy in the ordinary way to retail at OUR prices.

Those who are refurnishing their homes at this season, either wholly or in part, will find it well worth a trip to ROBERT FAIR'S to inspect their extensive Showrooms containing Imported Carpets, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Mattings and Rugs. Unrivalled selection in the respective lines.

Customers to ROBERT FAIR'S are not limited to Peterborough citizens alone, but come to FAIR'S from all parts to buy their Carpetings. It is really a mistake for any one who has much to buy not to become acquainted with our immense stocks and our extra special prices:—

ONTARIO TRAGEDIES.

Murder at London and Attempted Murder at Holland Landing.

A FIREMAN KILLED IN TORONTO.

Ell Roland's Attempt to Murder His Wife and Son—A Music Hall Tragedy at London, Ont., in Which James Tuttle of Brantford Was Killed—A Fatal Fire in Toronto.

Holland Landing, Ont., April 2.—About 12 o'clock yesterday Ell Roland of this place attempted to kill his wife with an axe.

It appears Roland accused one of his boys of spoiling his axe by knocking a piece off it, and Mrs. Roland told him it was not done by the boys, and Roland in a fit of anger lifted the axe and was in the act of bringing it down on Mrs. Roland, when his son Wilmot, a young man about 20 years of age, tried to stop him, and in so doing young Roland was struck on the head with the axe, inflicting an ugly wound.

The father made another strike at him and altogether likely would have killed him, had not one of his girls come up behind him and pulled him back. Young Roland quickly escaped and had the wound dressed, which required several stitches. He had a narrow escape, but will in all probability recover. A warrant was issued for Roland's arrest, but up to a late hour they had not arrested him, as he drove the family out and had himself locked in the house.

MURDERED AT LONDON, ONT.

A Theatre Manager Killed by His Leading Man—A Salary Dispute.

London, Ont., April 2.—James Tuttle, manager of the Wesley Stock Company, was shot and instantly killed by William D. Emerson, his leading man, on the stage of the Auditorium here last night. Emerson gave himself up to the police and was lodged in the cells with a charge of murder registered against him.

Emerson, who is an ex-officer in the United States Navy, accompanied by his wife, whose stage name is Laura Wilson, joined the Wesley Company, a company playing a repertoire at popular prices, some two weeks ago, as leading man and woman. Both are well known to the profession and have held good engagements with the Frohmans and other well-known managers, but were forced by circumstances to accept the positions offered them.

Emerson became suspicious of losing his salary, and last night demanded that he be paid in full before the curtain rose upon "The Nominee," in which he had the title role. Manager Tuttle sent part of the money, but the actor was obdurate. The two men faced each other on the stage. Tuttle struck Emerson in the face, and the actor, drawing a revolver, shot Tuttle in the head, killing him instantly.

Turning to the horror-stricken group of actors, he stated that he had acted in self defence, and asked that an officer be called. When the patrol wagon drew up a mob of 2,000 surrounded the doors and Emerson was smuggled out of a back door, and, accompanied by his wife and one officer, walked through side streets to the police station.

The dead man was a native of Brantford, Ont., while Emerson comes from Chicago, although claiming New York as his home.

FIREMAN KILLED IN TORONTO.

Six Others Badly Injured at a Fire on Davenport Road.

Toronto, April 2.—At 4.30 yesterday afternoon a fierce fire broke out in the factory of George H. Hees, Sons & Co., at 276 Davenport road Owing to the strong west wind the flames rapidly spread to a row of brick houses adjoining the building, doing damage in all to the amount of $30,000, which is only partly covered by insurance.

The factory was a four-storey brick building 40 by 350 feet long, and was used by Hees & Co. for the manufacturing of window-shade cloth, poles and trimmings. About 50 hands were in the building at the time the fire broke out, but all escaped unhurt.

Shortly after the arrival of the engines a branch and six men were put at work on the west side of the burning factory. This proved a fatal spot, for a shed at the northwest corner took fire, and while working on this the west wall of the factory fell out, caving in the roof and sides of the shed, which fell over on the men, badly injuring five of them; also a street car conductor who was lending a helping hand, and killing Thomas Deacon, one of the firemen. The firemen, who are badly injured, are James Jones, Samuel McGowan, Thos. J. Scott, John McCormick and Robert Lang. D. Baillie, a street car conductor, who was assisting, was badly cut about the head.

MRS. PARNELL'S FUNERAL.

Remains of the Aged Lady Laid Beside Those of Her Distinguished Son.

Dublin, April 2.—The remains of Mrs. Delia Tudor Parnell, who died at Avondale on Saturday from burns received from the igniting of her clothing while sitting before a fire, were removed yesterday from Avondale to Glasnevin Cemetery. The body was encased in an oak coffin with brass mountings. The cortege was followed to the station by a large part of the population of Avondale. In this city a vast concourse awaited the arrival of the body and walked in procession to the cemetery. Mrs. Parnell was buried beside the grave of her distinguished son, Charles Stewart Parnell. Many wreaths were placed upon the grave. The Parnellite members of the House of Commons sent a wreath, bearing the inscription, "To the memory of his dead mother, from his faithful surviving colleagues."

Mr. Gladstone Is Better.

London, April 2.—A bulletin issued last evening as to the condition of Mr. Gladstone says that his increased comfort continues. He was out for a long time yesterday early in the day.

A despatch from Rome states that the Senate has decided to send a message of sympathy to Mr. Gladstone, whose reported condition has excited the gravest interest in that city. The President of the Senate, Signor Farini, paid a warm tribute to the Hawarden sufferer, saying that Mr. Gladstone was a great statesman, who well deserved any honor that Italy could bestow upon him, for he had always raised his voice in her behalf in times of difficulty and danger.

Russians Are Derisive.

London, April 2.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: "Russians here deride the suggestion that Port Arthur will be open to British ships and commerce, and the well-informed insist that under the present agreement Talien-Wan can be made another Vladivostock.

Bismarck 83 Years Old.

Friedrichsruhe, April 2.—Prince Otto von Bismarck yesterday celebrated the 83rd anniversary of his birth, giving a banquet to 32 guests, who had previously inspected the birthday gifts. The Prince was in excellent spirits.

Spanish Flotilla at Porto Rico.

Madrid, April 2.—The Spanish torpedo flotilla has arrived at Porto Rico.

ONLY THREE PROTESTS.

The New Ones Are North Renfrew, South Norfolk and North Middlesex.

Toronto, April 2.—Only three election protests were filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday, making 37 to date. They were: North Renfrew, South Norfolk, North Middlesex. In the first named constituency A. T. White (Con.), was returned with a majority of 153 over H. Boer. The petitioner is Albert Witt, gardener, Pembroke.

In South Norfolk A. Innes, undertaker, Port Dover, protests against the return of William A. Charlton (Lib.), who had a majority of 34 over J. L. Buck.

James Lusk, farmer, Lucan, is the petitioner against the return of W. H. Taylor (Lib.) in North Middlesex. His majority over C. C. Hodgins was 92.

The Dufferin and East York protests have gone by default, because the necessary $1,000 has not been put up within the allotted time. It is stated that the West Durham, Centre Simcoe and South Grey protests are all in the same pickle.

Mr. Johnston's Appeal Disallowed by the Judicial Committee of the P. C.

London, April 2.—The Privy Council, in the case of Johnston v. the Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto has ruled that no individual customer has the right of action against a gas company for non-compliance with the Act of 1887, and the appeal, therefore, was dismissed, and the appellant is to pay the costs.

Grain Shipping Season Opened.

Duluth, Minn., April 2.—The grain shipping season opened on Lake Superior yesterday. Charters for 2,000,000 bushels of grain have been made in this market. Half of this amount is wheat, which Armour will deliver to Leiter to apply on sales of Chicago May option. Of the 10,000,000 bushels of grain stored here only 3,300,000 bushels is wheat, as against 6,167,000 bushels last year.

TWO-CENT POSTAGE FOR CANADA

The Dead Letter Nuisance Dealt With—Also Postage on Newspapers—Hon. Mr. Mulock's Remarks—Sir Charles Tupper Does Not Favor the Imposition of Postage on Newspapers.

Ottawa, April 2.—The bill introduced by Mr. Mulock yesterday to amend the Post-Office Act contains two important provisions, one reducing the rate on letters from three to two cents per ounce and the other imposing a rate of half a cent per pound on newspapers. He spoke at some length on the expense of carrying newspapers. Sir Charles Tupper roundly denounced the imposition of the tolls on newspapers, and it is evident from the remarks of a number of members that strong opposition will be made to it. The greater part of the day was devoted to the discussion of the Franchise bill in committee.

THE POST-OFFICE ACT.

The Principal Amendments Proposed to This Act by Hon. Wm. Mulock.

Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General, introduced a most important measure. The object of the bill of which the Postmaster-General is sponsor is to amend the Post-Office Act.

Provision is made, in amendment to section 42 of the Post-Office Act, for the admission, free of Canada postage, of books designed for the use of the blind, subject to regulations made from time to time by the Postmaster-General.

Under existing conditions, all dead letters have to be transmitted from all parts of the Dominion to Ottawa, which is the central point of distribution. One of the amendments contemplates a change, by which they can be returned to the sender from such other places in the Dominion as the Postmaster-General may from time to time direct.

The new Act provides for the establishment of a uniform two-cent rate of postage. The clause provides as follows:

"On all letters transmitted by post for any distance within Canada, except in cases herein otherwise specially provided for, there shall be charged and paid one uniform rate of two cents per ounce weight, and fraction of an ounce being chargeable as an ounce, and such postage rate of two cents shall be prepaid by postage stamp or stamps at the time of posting the letter. Letters wholly unpaid shall not be forwarded by post, but letters addressed to any place in Canada, on which any postage has been prepaid by stamp, shall be forwarded to their destination, charged with double the amount of postage thereon not so prepaid, which amount shall be collected on delivery."

The clause also provides that the reduction shall only come into force upon a proclamation of the Governor-in-Council to that effect.

The present law respecting the postage rates on newspapers and periodicals is repealed with one proviso, and the following new clause submitted:

"On and after the first day of January, 1899, newspapers and periodicals printed and published in Canada, mailed by the publisher in the post-office at the place where they are published, and addressed to regular subscribers or newsdealers in Canada, resident elsewhere than in the place of publication, shall be transmitted by mail to their respective addresses at the following rates of postage, viz.: On and from the first day of January, 1899, and until and inclusive of the thirtieth day of June, 1899, at the rate of one-quarter of one cent, and thereafter at the rate of one-half of one cent for each pound weight, or any fraction of a pound weight, which shall be prepaid by postage stamps or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General from time to time directs, if,

"Such newspaper or periodical is known and recognized as a newspaper or periodical in the generally received sense of the word, and published regularly at intervals of not more than one month;

"The full title, place and date of publication, and the distinguishing number of the issue are printed at the top of the first page, and also on any paper purporting to be a supplement to it and sent with it;

"It is addressed to a bona fide subscriber, or to a known newsdealer in Canada; and,

"It is delivered into the post-office under such regulations as the Postmaster-General, from time to time, makes for that purpose;

"And the Postmaster-General may decide whether any publication, for which transmission at the rates herein mentioned is claimed, is or is not a newspaper or periodical within the meaning and intent of this section, and whether the requirements thereof have or have not been complied with in respect of it, and from time to time may make any regulations he deems necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this section, or to prevent fraudulent evasions thereof.

"For the purpose of determining the weights of such newspapers or periodicals each newspaper or periodical transmitted separately through the mails shall be held to weigh not less than one-half of one ounce.

"Provided always that the said section No. 26 shall continue in full force in respect of any of such newspapers or periodicals as shall not be required to be transmitted by mail a longer distance than ten miles from the place of publication."

Mr. Mulock went on to say that he expected the postage on newspapers would almost make up for the loss on the reduction of letter postage, and that very soon the post office would be a self sustaining service. He thought it would at least be some satisfaction to the newspaper publishers to contribute to this result. He gave some statistics to show the cost of free transportation of newspapers, which he treated as an abuse. The following is the weight in pounds of newspapers transmitted free in the years named:

Spring Medicine

Experience teaches the importance of special care of the health.

And fixed among the important principles of hygiene and health is the acknowledged necessity of a good Spring Medicine.

Just as firmly established by the experiences of millions of people, is the positive fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is "far and away" the best blood purifier and spring medicine ever produced.

The necessity is found in the impure condition of the blood at this season, owing to the close confinement and breathing vitiated air in office, store, shop, house, schoolroom or factory; excessive eating and drinking too rich and hearty food; late hours and social indulgences. With the blood thus thick and impure, the machinery of life grinds hard.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalises and enriches the blood, builds up and strengthens the nerves and tones the stomach. It oils up the machinery of the whole body; the liver takes up its work anew, the kidneys resume activity, the ache goes out of the back, the bowels are regulated, the appetite restored, the food is relished and assimilated.

Don't wait till you are thoroughly sick before you begin to take a Spring Medicine.

Lock the door before the horse is stolen.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now as a preventive and it will pay you a thousand fold in health and strength through the coming summer.

"We always take several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family every spring as a tonic and blood purifier and we find that it overcomes that tired feeling gives new life, and keeps us well all summer." WM. RUSSELL, 213 5th Ave., Peoria, Illinois.

Excellent Spring Medicine.

"For a number of years I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring, not for any particular ailment, but on general principle, that the system needs a tonic at this time, and I have always found Hood's Sarsaparilla a most excellent spring medicine." HAKON HAMMER, Engineer, Pottstown, Pennsylvania.

That Tired Feeling.

"I was troubled with that tired feeling all the spring. I purchased three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken about half of it I was feeling well again. I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic." MISS ORA E. MORGAN, Busey, Illinois.

Builds up the Health.

"We take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic in the spring. Two of our children had tonsilitis and their blood was in a bad condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla built them up, and we have taken it again this spring with much benefit." MRS. P. H. CAMOON, Pleasant Lake, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. There is no substitute for Hood's.

WHAT THEY BLOCKED.

The Stikine-Teslin route is a strategic line, the intelligent use of which would have rendered great advantages to the Yukon district and to the Canadian public. Its possibilities are now paralyzed, and the work of blocking it must take rank as a consummate example of the administrative incapacity which has marked the career of that singularly inept body, the Senate. With striking completeness the upper chamber has injured the individual miner, the Canadian business man and the taxpayers in general, helping only the outfitting and transportation interests of the United States. The individual miner will find transportation rates to the Yukon and prices for food and supplies in it remaining at the same ruinously high figures, thanks to the choking up of the channel through which freight and travel could have entered the district in a normal manner. Even the most fortunate will have to endure tedious delays and face the dreaded pass before he can return to civilization. But what of the rest? As he pays the tenfold prices which the building ing of the road would would have cut, as he hands over his heavy toll to greedy and monopolistic transportation companies, will the moderately successful miner thank the Senate? And as the unlucky one watches the inroads made upon his scanty hoard by the cost of mere existence, as he starves amid the pitiless famine prices, will he bless the partisan body which killed the project of his relief?

The taxpayer owes the Senate small thanks for its action. At best the Yukon presents great difficulties in the way of administration. To keep the Union Jack flying over these gold fields, to ensure the protection to person and property which must obtain where British law exists, to see that the Canadian people get their fair share of the wealth of the district, is a difficult and most expensive task in that inhospitable region under the most favourable circumstances. But with an obstructive bar of American territory cutting through the immediately available routes, with a painfully slow and difficult road to traverse, with prices for supplies and freight at extravagant figures, the bill of expense cannot be otherwise than enormous. Good and speedy means of communication would have cut the expenditure on the Yukon service down to a reasonable sum, and as the amount collected will be no larger, will, if anything, be smaller now that the all Canadian route is killed, the whole extra sum is so much out of the pocket of the taxpayer, so much less return from a possession which has cost us much.

The enormous and unnecessary tax upon the individual miner for his supplies will be continued; the difficulties in the way of transportation remain undiminished; the difficulty of administering the Yukon is still almost insuperable, and the taxpayer is fined the extra net revenue which would be gained were communication good and prices reasonable. Should we be grateful to the Senate?—Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If we had a few more Frank Smiths in the Senate there wouldn't be much room for Hamilton Smiths.

Spain sends her despatches in cypher, but will have some difficulty to figure out a solution for her difficulties which she must sigh for.

The killing of the Yukon Railway bill by the Senate, has practically shut out the Christian missionaries from the Klondyke.

The disappointed missionaries might try their hand in converting the Senate. They might be successful. Mr. Liversnash, the Yankee commercial missionary didn't have much trouble.

The Anglo-Egyptian troops are evidently making the Dancing Dervishes of the desert deserve their name. They have made them dance to the whistle of bullets in two or three recent engagements.

It is popularly supposed that a "frog in the throat" is fatal to singing. The only chance which some persons have of being approximately decent singers, is to get a frog in the throat literally; and the greatest blessing they can confer on their hearers, is to get a "frog in the throat" figuratively.

It is safe to say that the American jingoes who are howling for war with Spain, propose that others shall do the fighting. If those who are so anxious and responsible for war, expected, as should be the case, to be placed, as David placed Uriah, in the front of the battle, they would be deservedly killed, or if they escaped, would be men of peace ever after.

The Chatham Banner suggests that Sir Charles Tupper had better pay his share of the flowers for Sir John Thompson's funeral than spend money to help Mr. Whitney's political chances. That wouldn't help the Widow Davidson any. He only promised to put up for Mr. Whitney—he didn't put up, and therefore Mr. Robillard shut up and wouldn't say a word in Russell.

The Westminster, Independent, says: "The partizanship of the Senate majority requires no proof. The body which opposed measures approved by the Mackenzie Government and endorsed the same measures sent up by that Government's successors, which was a passive registrar of a Conservative Government's decisions, and a sharp critic of all done by a Liberal Government cannot be defended from the charge. The Liberal assert, and independent men believe they are correct in asserting, that had this measure been sent up by a Conservative Government, it would have gone through with flying colours. There is little need for the discussion of the bargain now. One fact is indisputable. There is a large western American interest which is bitterly, determinedly and unscrupulously hostile to Canada. That element will rejoice over the news. The Senate might well have hesitated before taking a step so pleasing to the enemies of Canada, as these interests for the moment are."

The late Rt. Hon. John Bright, in speaking on the British North America Act, the Confederation Act, in 1866, said of the mode of appointing the Senate: "I venture to say that the clause enabling the Governor-General and his cabinet to put seventy-two men in that Council (the Senate) for life inserts into the whole scheme the germ of a malady which will spread and which before very long will require an alteration of this act and of the constitution of this new confederation."

During the late election campaign Mr. Whitney nearly went into convulsions over his energetic denunciation of the charge that there was any Conservative connections between Provincial and Dominion politics. All this while Sir Charles Tupper was quietly engineering nominations in the interests of Mr. Whitney, ostensibly, but in reality in the interests of Sir Charles Tupper. In view of past relations, is it not possible that Sir Charles is standing sponser for the funds to enter provincial protests against Liberals?

The Montreal Witness (Independent says:—"Just at the time when immigration was at its height to the Yukon, when the tide of that immigration was turning, with its business, toward the Canadian route, which the Government had caught the attention of the world with, the Senate has destroyed the work and has deliberately and with a flourish of trumpets turned the immigration and business away to the American routes. The Government cannot undo this part of the mischief of the Senate. Last week Yukon immigration was setting in toward the Canadian route; this week it is turning wearily away to the American routes, because the Canadian route has been denounced and destroyed by the Canadian Senate as far as it could destroy it."

The fact as stated by Prof. Dean at Central Smith, that the butter sent from Thorndale creamery, Middlesex county, commands in Manchester and London two shillings more per pound than the best Danish butter, shows the folly of proposing a government bonus to butter manufacturers to enable them to ship to the old country markets. Canadians, as Thorndale's experience shows, can make good butter if they try, and those that can't will learn all the sooner if they have to depend on their own skill and the products of their factories to gain a place in the British market. Our cheese got into the British market "with both feet" because it was as good as the best and when we bring our butter up to the same standard, we shall capture the British butter market. Canadian cheese got its supremacy on its merits and without any bonus. If makers of butter were assured that by the help of a bonus they would suffer no loss they would be inclined to carlessness and we should probably have a lot of stuff palmed off on the British market that would not stand the test, and Canadian butter would risk getting a bad name and once butter gets a bad name in the British market it might be sold for axle-grease, if some way could be devised of extracting the salt. Better allow Canadian butter fight its own way. Let every tub (of butter) stand for its own bottom.

A CANADIAN HOLSTEIN HERD REPORT.

Fifty-Five Cows Make a Yearly Average of Over Ten Thousand Pounds of Milk and Four Hundred Pounds Butter.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—I send herewith a clipping from Hoard's Dairyman, which is suggestive of what a Canadian can do in dairying. This will, no doubt, compare well with anything done by any herd on the continent. I may say that I met Mr. E. D. Tillson, of Tillsonburg, Ontario, while at the Dairyman's Convention, held at Woodstock about two years ago. He is a man of about sixty years, I presume. He then gave a description of his most excellent cow stables and feeding. This report shows what may be done and about where the top of the ladder reaches, also about what wrong many of us, as dairymen have reached. Don't allow the comparison to discourage, but stimulate, as to be progressive, as the times demand it of us. Don't say this report is not true because you may not have reached it. It takes time and perseverence to prove what is true, but it is worth all the labour. Would you kindly reprint this report for the benefit of the dairymen of this district?

STEWART R PAYNE.

Warsaw, March 28th.

Editor Hoard's Dairyman:

I have just completed the milk record for the past season of my herd of fifty-five cows. I have a few more young heifers that are still milking that I have not put into the report. Thinking that it might be interesting to some of your many readers to see what some of us Canadians are doing in the dairy line I send you this report for such use as you may see fit to make of it.

The average time that the cows were milked was 11 months and 23 days. Some young heifers in their first year were milked 14 to 15 months, and some old cows that were being fed for beef were milked 14 to 15 months, which had raised the average time of the whole herd to 11 months and 23 days.

My best cow the past year gave 17,731 pounds of milk in 10 months and 20 days, testing 3 7-10 butter fat, making 765 pounds butter. The first season, as a two year-old, she gave 13,000 pounds; the next year 15,000 pounds, and the next, or last year, 17,731 pounds, and we hope to have a good increase from her this year, as she will be coming in about the 28th March, and is in splendid health and condition. Her heaviest flow last year was 80 pounds per day. When about half through her milking period she got off her feed for ten days and dropped 10 to 15 pounds of mood all at once, and we could never get her up to her full flow afterwards:

Milk and Butter record of E. D. Tillson's herd of Fifty-five Cows for the year ending March 1st, 1898:

	Pounds of milk.	Per cent. of fat.	Estimated butter, lbs.
10 best cows averaged.....	13,723	3.5	600
10 2nd best averaged	11,887	3.5	468
10 3rd best averaged.....	10,800	3.5	441
10 4th best averaged	9 438	3.5	385
10 5th best averaged	7,697	3.5	319
5 poorest averaged.....	5,743	3.5	234
The whole herd averaged..	10,243	3.5	418

I think the above is a very good showing and that there are not many herds of same size in Canada that will beat it. These cows are Holstein-Friesians and although I apprehend you are not very much in love with this breed, still, I believe, from my own experience, and from what I read, that the Holsteins are the most profitable breed of cows there are, except one wants to go exclusively into butter making, without any regard to skimmed or buttermilk for feeding pigs and raising calves and steers for beef. They make a good general purpose cow, as well as being first class buttermakers. I know you do not approve of the general purpose cow, but when you get a breed of cows that will beat all other breeds in making butter and give you double the quantity of skimmed milk for feeding your calves and pigs, and first class steers for beef and the old cows, or poor milkers, weeding out your poorest cows that you wish to turn off, will bring from $30 to $50 for beef, I think you have about the best breed. If exclusively for butter making, then the Jerseys may be as good.

E. D TILLSON,
Tilsonburg, Ont.

It would have added somewhat to the interest of the above narrative if Mr. Tilson had told us something about the care and feeding of this herd of cows, and had sent us a photograph of that "best cow," that we might have printed her picture as an accompanying object lesson. In the absence of a specific report by him, we may say, on the strength of previous communications from him, that he is a firm believer in the silo and uses ensilage freely, as well through the summer as during the winter, and in other ways is a most liberal feeder. We mention these facts in no spirit of fault-finding, but wholly in approval and in support of the frequent contention of Hoard's Dairyman, to the effect that it pays to deal generously with a good cow, no matter what breed she belongs to.

Moreover, we may say that Mr. Tilson's argument is entirely in keeping with our own teachings, in that we always advise every man to select that breed (among the distinctively dairy breeds) to which he is most inclined, and it is, therefore, wholly unnecessary to either admit or deny his surmises concerning our personal preferences, and this more particularly as we profess to be quite able to recognise dairy merit wherever it may appear.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

Gentlemen,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattress; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

Continuing, Mr Mulock said two newspapers alone recently sent in a requisition for 8,000 and 9,000 bags each, the cost of the last bag being $1.04, and it did not last very long either. Besides, the post-office carried for those two newspapers alone last year 818,000 pounds of papers.

One could go down to the Ottawa post-office any day and see the letter carriers taking out large numbers of newspapers from Montreal and Toronto for local delivery. This was costing the country a large amount of money for equipment, staff, etc., and the "evil" was one which he thought demanded a remedy.

Sir C. Tupper Favors Free Newspapers.

Sir Charles Tupper said the conclusion which he drew from the large increase in the number of newspapers transmitted through the mail was that it was attributable to the anxiety of the Canadian people for information. He regarded the newspapers as one of the most potent influences for popular education there could be. Certainly our Canadian people were generally better informed than any other people in the world. He believed the free transmission of newspapers should not be interfered with.

Mr. Ellis (Lib., N.B.) pointed out that the mail bags supplied to the newspaper offices were for the convenience of the post-office. The newspaper proprietors would just as soon tie their papers in bundles and let the post-office people do the sorting of the mail.

Tory Whip's Far-Fetched Objections.

Mr. Taylor said, looking at this bill from the farmers' point of view, it was most objectionable. Ninety per cent. of the letters passing through the mails were sent by manufacturers and business people. The average farmer would not send more than four or five letters a year, so that at the outside he would save but five cents a year. On the other hand, 90 per cent. of the newspapers were read by the farmers, and they would have to pay the increased postage on the newspapers. This was another blow at the farmer. A few years ago Mr. Mulock posed as the farmers' friend—(hear, hear)—but now he was going to give it to them in the neck. (Laughter.) This was one of the most objectionable pieces of legislation ever introduced into Parliament. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Clarke asked if it was the intention to make any change in the rate for drop letters.

Mr. Mulock replied that there was no provision in the bill dealing with drop letters.

In reply to Mr. Casey, the Postmaster-General said he did not feel warranted in suggesting that the Government should undertake the responsibility for insuring registered letters. He believed the registration fee was too high, but that objection would be met largely when the postal rate system came into existence, July 1 next

The bill was read a first time.

The Insolvency Bill.

Sir Charles Tupper said he desired to call the attention of the Government to a very important matter, viz., the Insolvency bill, introduced by Mr. Fortin. The question involved great diversity of opinion on both sides, but he had had occasion during a somewhat lengthened residence in England to learn how very important it was to the commercial interests of Canada that there should be some measure of insolvency adopted by Parliament that would relieve the commercial men of Great Britain and other countries from the impression as to the great insecurity of trade for fear of being subjected to unjustifiable and improper loss. A few years ago he had attended in London a meeting of the British Empire League, at which Mr. Dobell and he had perfected a resolution pledging themselves to endeavor to secure the adoption of an insolvency law by the Parliament of Canada. He wished to take this opportunity of redeeming that pledge by pressing on the Government what he regarded as the great importance of this measure, which had been introduced ably by Mr. Fortin. It was perfectly impossible to hope that that measure could pass this session in the hand of a private member. It was the duty, then, of the Government to take hold of this question and place the bill on the order paper under Government orders, so that it might be passed. He believed both sides of the House would be disposed to approach the consideration of this measure with a sincere desire to see a practical measure adopted, and so place the commercial community of Canada in a proper position in the eyes of the world. (Hear, hear.)

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was not disposed to underestimate the importance of such a measure as the hon. gentleman had alluded to, but it was the literal truth when he said that of all the questions which could be submitted to Parliament the question of insolvency was the one on which gentlemen of the legal profession and others were most divided in opinion, and he knew also that it was of the very greatest importance, too, that if an insolvency law for the whole Dominion was to be adopted it should be most fully and well considered.

Mr. Fortin had done a great public service in bringing this matter to the attention of the House and the public, but he was afraid he could not go the length of promising that the Government would take the bill under their charge as a Government measure.

Had they been disposed to do that they would have done it in the first instance. While it was perfectly true that there had been considerable abuses in the past in the administration of the laws regarding insolvency, or the distribution of the assets of insolvent debtors, this was being remedied in certain of the provinces. The deputation which had waited on the Government had pointed out that in Quebec especially, and also in Ontario, the local law was, on the whole, fair and reasonable. The province to which most objection had been taken was Nova Scotia, but at the present moment the Legislature of that province was passing a law to remove the abuses that had prevailed there. The Government desired as much as anyone that the laws of the various provinces should be such as to afford full redress to all creditors, whether English, Canadian or foreign, but did not feel it was in their power, particularly at this stage of the session, to undertake the charge of this bill as a Government measure.

Mr. Flint said it was the intention of Mr. Fortin, when the bill again came up, to move its reference to a select committee, in order that its principles might be thoroughly discussed.

The subject then dropped.

Sir Richard Cartwright announced that the Easter holidays would commence on Wednesday evening next, the House resuming on the following Tuesday.

Mr. Fitzpatrick moved that the House go into commitee on the Franchise Act Repeal bill.

After recess the Manufacturers' Guarantee and the Victoria Fire Insurance bills were read the third time and passed.

The Kettle River Railroad bill was reached, and, after some preliminary skirmishing, Mr. McInnes (Lib., B. C.) started in to talk the bill out, and he did it. The bill will now come up at a more opportune time.

The hour for private bills over, the House again went into committee on the Franchise bill.

Sir Richard Cartwright moved that the committee rise and report progress.

The motion carried and the House adjourned at 12.05 a.m.

REJOICED OVER VICTORY.

G. McConnell Tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Kidneys.

AYLMER, March 21—Great and sincere were the rejoicings in Aylmer, when news of the verdict in favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills, at Norwich, was received here.

It could not be otherwise. Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved so many lives here, that it would be surprising if people didn't believe in them.

When the case of Dodd's vs. Kidney Disease comes up here, G. McConnell will testify for Dodd's. He will give strong evidence.

Mr. McConnell suffered for years with diseased kidneys. After using many remedies in vain, he was completely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OLD JIM BRIDGER.

A Rocky Mountain Guide Who Thought Munchausen Was a Liar.

Sir George Gore, a wealthy Irish sportsman, began in 1855 a hunting expedition among the Rocky mountains which occupied two years and exceeded anything of the kind ever seen on this continent. The outfit consisted of 50 persons, including secretaries, a steward, cooks, flymakers, dog tenders, servants, a train of 30 wagons and numerous saddle horses and dogs.

Old Jim Bridger was Sir George's guide and interpreter, and no man on the frontier knew the glens and passes of the mountains so accurately as he did. Though illiterate and as unconventional as an Indian, Bridger was honest, kind, generous and shrewd—just the man to attract the Irish sportsman.

In his "Old Santa Fe Trail" Colonel Inman describes the companionship of the two men—one a rich, educated, whole souled Irish nobleman, the other a man who from boyhood had lived on the plains, depending on his tact and rifle for food and life.

Sir George would lie in bed until 10 o'clock in the morning; then he took a bath, ate his breakfast and set out generally alone for the day's hunt. It was not unusual for him to remain out until 10 at night, and he seldom returned without "meat." His dinner was then served, to which he extended an invitation to Bridger.

After the meal was over Sir George was in the habit of reading from some book and drawing out from Bridger his ideas about the author.

The Irishman usually read from Shakespeare, which Bridger reckin'd was too highfalutin for him.

"Thet thar big Dutchman, Mr. Fullstuff," he commented, "was a leetle too fond of lager beer."

Sir George read the "Adventures of Baron Munchausen" to Bridger, who remarked that he'd be doggoned ef he swallowed everything that thar baron said. He thought he was "a liar," yet acknowledged that some of his own adventures among the Blackfeet would be equally wonderful, "if writ down in a book."

Bridger thought Sir George a successful hunter, an opinion justified by the records of the two years' hunt—40 grizzly bears, 2,500 buffaloes, numerous antelopes and other small game.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realise it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

FORTUNES WASTED.

In Attempts to Cure Dyspepsia and Other Stomach Troubles.

If Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Were Used These Diseases Would Vanish From Canada at One Hundredth Part of the Outlay.

"Give me the money that is paid to doctors every year for their vain efforts to cure Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Wind on the Stomach, Foul Breath, Catarrh of the Stomach and other stomach troubles, and I'll clothe every ill-clad person, feed every hungry one, build houses for the homeless, and build a church or a school house at every cross road in the the Dominion. So spoke a physician a few days ago.

He did not over-estimate the enormous waste of money in this direction. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are thrown away yearly on this purpose. If all who suffer from these diseases would quit doctoring, and use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, hundreds of thousands of dollars would be saved, and these stomach diseases would be unknown in Canada. For Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure these complaints, as certainly as the sun melts the snow.

If you don't believe it—test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

The doctor who restricts himself to the treatment of one disease, can cure that disease when the physician who treats all diseases fails. Just so with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and stomach diseases. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets were made to cure these diseases only. They are not cure-alls.

But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets do cure all stomach troubles. They have never failed yet. They will not fail to cure you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

How to Banish Disease and Secure Good Health.

Paine's Celery Compound the Great Spring Cleanser and Life Giver.

IT MAKES FRESH, PURE RED BLOOD FOR PALE AND SALLOW PEOPLE.

April is now with us. The feathered songsters are here again warbling their sweetest notes in paeans of praise for a new season. Nature is throwing off her old garb. The trees are budding, the grass is showing new life, and soon the wild flowers will put on their dazzling dress of beauty and richness. All nature seems to be calling out to man, saying, "Be happy and rejoice; give thanks to Him, who makes such glorious provision for the children of earth."

Many a thankful prayer will ascend from truly grateful and healthy men and women for the bounties and beauties of the new season. On the other hand a vast multitude of half-dead, broken down, weak, debilitated and suffering men and women will not have the capacity to appreciate the mercies so bountifully bestowed. Their thoughts are centred on their afflictions and sufferings; they are moody, despondent, morose, and some are hopeless and in despair.

It is to this suffering class that we would speak words of hope and comfort. Warning would be unnecessary if you fully realized the fact that Paine's Celery Compound cures the disease that is now making such progress and havoc in your body

It matters not whether the trouble be rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, nervous prostration, agonizing dyspepsia or blood diseases, Paine's Celery Compound is able to make you whole and well.

Paine's Celery Compound, unlike other medicines, is a true and rapid banisher of disease; it makes the blood pure, so that life and energy flow quickly to every muscle, nerve and tissue. Nature's medicine promptly restores to strength, vigour, apretite and digestion; it gives sweet sleep and repose to the wearied and restless.

Will these honest and strong assurances induce you to give earth's best medicine a fair trial in this your time of danger? The experience of physicians and their kindly words in favour of Paine's Celery Compound should be a guarantee of success to you.

The marvellous results given to weak, sickly and broken down clergymen, judges, members of parliament, and to worthy and honourable citizens of every city in the Dominion, speak volumes in favour of Paine's Celery Compound.

One bottle experimented with at this season is always enough to make the most critical and skeptical continue with the medicine until they are cured.

It has been truly said by an eminent Canadian press correspondent that "No physician is ever needed in homes where Paine's Celery Compound is used."

MORE SACRILEGE.

The Havelock Roman Catholic Church Again Broken Into.

Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, states in reference to the party or parties unknown, who have been breaking into the Roman Catholic church south of the village of Havelock, that from present information it seems that it is not the work of tramps, but of several young sacrilegious rascals either of Havelock or vicinity.

Last week again the church was broken into, and the wax candles were burned, as was also part of the table on which the candles had been placed.

Father Conway asserts, and justly so, that such work is a disgrace to any community, and that steps should be taken to stop it. The fact that some three years ago a number of young boys belonging to Havelock were detected breaking the windows of the church, inclines Father Conway to believe that the present mischief comes from the same source.

MARCH WEATHER NOTES.

A Month with a Temperature Much Above the Average.

The month of March of the present year was undoubtedly one of the finest that we have been favoured with for a number of years. The most marked feature was the complete absence of any fall of snow. If any reader of this paper can remember a March without a snowfall we hope that they will send us the date of that year.

The mean daily temperature was much above the normal, being almost 10 degrees higher than usual.

The highest temperature recorded was 57 degrees; the lowest, 8 degrees above zero.

Rain fell to the depth of 2.01 inches, less than usual by ½ an inch. There was rain on 9 days.

The following figures are for March of the present year and the corresponding month of last year, and are interesting for comparison:

Women Can Reap Money at Home.

Profitable and agreeable home work is offered to women in this locality by the Swiss Darner Co., of Toronto, one of the representative, reliable industrial enterprises of the Queen City. This firm manufactures among other things a Darning Machine, costing fifty cents, which is having a wonderful sale all over Canada, and they want ladies in every town and village to act as instructors. They will pay $10 per week salary to any one in any locality who first become expert enough in the use of the Swiss Darner to make sample darnings in less than three minutes, and instruct others in doing equally quick and neat work with it. With a little practice a fresh heel or toe can be darned in a stocking in two minutes with the Swiss Darner, and it mends tablecloths, curtains, underwear, and all fabrics. Beginners can earn a few dollars weekly with the Swiss Darner by making sample darns, which the company buys and pays for. Thousands of sample darns are sent out by the firm, and every sample is offered as a piece of work done by women and girls who use the Swiss Darner. The advertisement of the Swiss Darner Co., of Toronto, in another column will interest our women folk here.

A GREAT VICTORY.

The Reds win the Boys Membership Contest—A Lively Celebration in Association Hall.

Reds, 490 points; Blues, 270 points. Representing in new members, 60, for the Boys' Department, and 7 for the Senior Department.

The interesting, yet friendly, contest which has been in progress during the month of March in the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A., was brought to a close last evening, and the final figures, as published, showed that the membership of the department had been more than doubled as a result. Every member secured counted 10 points, and a senior member 20. The arrangement was that the winning side would be entertained to a banquet, while the losers were to be content with a porridge bill of fare.

The captains were: For the Reds, Chas. Whiten, and Archie Froude, the boy president, for the Blues.

Both worked hard—the Blue captain was a working boy and had little time to put in the contest.

Unbounded and almost uncontrollable enthusiasm was exhibited last night when the grand final was held in Association Hall. It was packed to its utmost capacity and standing room was at a premium. The boys formed a good section of the audience, while there was a large attendance of parents and friends as well.

Mr. Alfred Parker presided, and in a very able manner introduced the entertainers. All joined in the opening hymn, "Hold the Fort," after which Mr. T. E. Baker sang "Have courage my boy to say no." Mrs. J. Craig played the accompaniment.

Master Holden Blackwell gave several splendid recitations, and was obliged to respond to an encore.

Mr. Pigeon rendered several pleasing selections on the Mandolin.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan gave a 15 minute recital on the gramaphone. Some of the numbers were highly amusing, and though silence was the rule, yet again and again the boys were obliged to interrupt with applause.

Mr. Williamson manipulated the magic lantern and a number of views of local interest were shown, as well as a number illustrating old London. These were interspersed with some of an amusing character, among others some eight or ten original slides illustrating features of the contest. Deafening applause greeted their production. The one which showed a steaming plate of mush, and underneath the inscription, "This is what the Blues will get!" prepared the way for the closing announcement of the score, which gave the Reds 220 majority.

Short speeches were made by the Captains, after which a pleasant evening was brought to a close.

The following is the score, showing the points received by each:

Blues—Froude, 10; Wood, 20; Cameron R, 10; Kempt C, 60; Cleves, 100; Perks, 10; Rundle, 20; Sackville, 30; Tully, 10; Total 270.

Reds—Whiten, 230; Cameron, 40; Jameson P., 30; Davidson, 10; Daly H, 20; Turner, 10; Best, 60; Armstrong, 10; Ferguson, 20; Lang J, 60. Total 490.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

THE WHEEL.

Ottawa has issued a circular in regard to the C.W.A. Meet which, by its contents, justifies the assertion that the Capital is still deserving of the name of Slab-town.

The circular begins by saying that Ottawa should have the preference over Peterborough because it asked for the meet first. That's a strong argument and it is a pity that Ottawa couldn't be given the meet at once. "Just because it asked for it first," forsooth.

The circular goes on to say, "There are three things essential to a successful bicycle meet, namely:—You must have a properly built bicycle track to race on. You must have a proper grand stand, dressing rooms and grounds, accommodation for the public and racing men. You must have hotel accommodation for your visitors. Ottawa has the track. Ottawa has the grounds. Ottawa has the hotels.

The way to test a track is to try and break records on it. What records were ever broken on the Ottawa track? None, although the wheelmen boast of having held races every two weeks during last summer. The mile and half mile Canadian records were broken by Coulter and Harley Davidson respectively on the Peterborough track a few years ago, and it will be put in better shape than ever this season.

As for grounds, those connected with the local track are large enough to easily accommodate ten times as many people as ever attend a C.W.A. meet.

Ottawa is taking big chances in bringing upon the "hotel accommodation" question. How many visitors have been to Ottawa during the season and had to sleep on a shake-down? How many wheelmen would care to sleep in any other hotel outside of the Russell, Grand Union and Cecil? Peterborough hotels are all of a class to provide accommodation at which no one could cavil, and there are 28 of them.

Ottawa claims to have seven railway systems running into the city;—Peterborough has eight.

What if Ottawa has a Lovers' Walk to boast of. Their girls can't begin to compare with Peterborough's, and no wheelman would be fool enough to care to moon around the Lovers' Walk with an Ottawa damsel if he had a chance to be with a Peterborough girl, even if the surroundings were not quite so romantic.

Ottawa invites the wheelmen to come and "see the finest scenery in Canada." Ask anyone who has been back to Stony Lake, whether any of Slabtown's scenery can begin to approach it for beauty?

Brockville and Perth are supporting Ottawa for the meet.

BASEBALL.

The Kincardine Baseball Club is holding out inducements to Mr. Dan McCabe to go there for the summer. Dan's twirling abilities make him a most desirable acquisition for any team.

LACROSSE.

Mr. W. Galley states that he leaves in a few days for Berlin, where he will play with the lacrosse team of that place during the summer.

The Athletics, of Port Hope, have organized with the following officers:

Hon. President—Chas. Stuart.
Hon. Vice-President—John Halm.
President—J. A. Woodhouse.
Vice-President—J. W. Quinlan.
Second Vice-President—H. B. McCarthy.
Treasurer—R. Hayden.
Secretary—Thos. Teer.
Field Captain—D. H. Hoey.
Captain—Thos. E. Burt.
Committee of Management—R. Ware, D. N. Hoey, Geo. Tatton, W. Crowhurst, D. Raymond.

Delegates to C.L.A.—Thos. E. Burt and Geo. Clark.

An effort will be made to have a league formed, consisting of Cobourg, Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville and Port Hope, which is similar to the Midland Hockey League. Should the lacrosse games be as lively as those of the latter organization, some interesting sport may be seen this summer. A junior club will be organized.

The Athletics of St. Catharines, organized last night, and will support an eastern man for a position on the executive.

WOMAN'S WAY.

Gert's Gossip on Timely Topics.

If I sat at an entertainment in the Opera House, wearing an obstructive scaffolding of straw, feathers, ribbons and wings called a hat, I should feel doubly guilty, and would derive as little pleasure from the performance as the person or persons sitting behind me, who, for any view of the stage, hidden by my "high hat," might as well be blind. I should be breaking two commandments, one our Lord's golden rule—to do to others as I would have other do to me, and also the eighth commandment—"Thou shalt not steal." By preventing the view of the stage I am robbing them of the price of admission. If in default, of seeing anything, these persons should take to talking and disturb the wearer of a high hat, it would be a righteous punishment. But next to the high hat, the cads, male and female, who persist in talking during an entertainment, are the greatest nuisance. If they don't want to hear they should stay at home, and not take advantage of a public hall to parade their rudeness and lack of good breeding.

Speaking of good manners and politeness, I fear the average boy—who, by the way, makes the average man—is sadly lacking in this respect. The most careful home training seems to be lost on boys who are allowed to mix freely with boys on the streets. I wonder if some of the fault isn't with our public schools—I wonder if teachers use their best efforts to instil in boys the principles of that religion of "society, good manners—politeness. I wonder if there are not some teachers who set a bad example and talk slang to pupils. It seems to me a teacher has missed his calling who can't gain the love and respect of his pupils, that is, the majority of them; for some pupils seem to be hopeless. A good general leads his soldiers and doesn't content himself with merely showing the way. So either at home or in the school we must set the example of that kindliness politeness—courteous bearing and respect for the feelings of others involved in good manners. Lack of reverence for our elders is an evil of the day. In the good old days boys and girls were taught and made to respectfully salute their elders whom they might meet on their way to school. Do we see one boy in ten nowadays guilty of such an act of good breeding? No truly religious man can be irreverent, for reverence, I take it, is at the bottom of all true religious feeling. If a man holds the Being he worships in real reverence, he will carry the same spirit into his intercourse with his fellow men, and his superiors and elders. Some may say that they acknowledge no superiors—that one man is as good as another. Sometimes. One man is as good as another if he is as good, but if he isn't as good, he is not as good, merely, by virtue of the fact that he walks on two legs instead of four. A boy should be taught reverence and respect for his superiors and elders. If he learns the lesson he has learned the first principles of true religion. St. Paul enjoined us to be "courteous to all men."

I really thought we had spring, but the little set back of the past few days was discouraging. However we shall have spring soon enough. Anyway Easter is at hand, and we must be prepared for it, no matter what the weather. In spite of the superior airs the lords of creation put on—no matter how they laugh at a woman's eagerness for an Easter hat or bonnet—a man likes to go to church on Easter Sunday with a new suit and hat if he can. I had to threaten my husband that I wouldn't go out with him if he didn't change his hat this week. Men say that women are so silly about their hats, but just the same a man would feel very uncomfortable in his old winter block if other men present have on a new spring hat. If we women had a uniform such as men have, and had to do ide for ourselves only, we should not have to think so much about it. The comfortable feeling of being as well dressed as the next one is as strong in men as in women, every bit, and I know it.

"Now, Gert, you know I can't satisfy myself with a hat, unless I have two or three shapes sent home, or you are along with me, and you haven't had a blessed minute to spare for me since the millinery openings! Meet me at Loch's this afternoon and I'll settle the hat business. Will that do?"

I knew his weakness, so to Loch's we went. He wouldn't go anywhere else. I wanted him to do a little shopping round, but no, he had always been so well satisfied at Loch's. They knew what suits him and he had no time to shop round. We found the store was overflowing with spring styles and there was a touch of beauty and excellence of finish in the English and other new shapes. They are quite aristocratic, I thought, and the range is wide enough to entice any gentleman, no matter how fastidious, with feelings that he would like to buy. It didn't take long to suit him, for he looks well in anything he wears, that is, if I have passed my verdict on it. It's really wonderful what a difference a stylish spring hat makes on a man after wearing his heavy winter hat so long. You know the story about the little boy who was saying his catechism, and the teacher asked him what was the chief end of man. He said, "The end what's got the hat on."

I got instructions to send our two boys to Loch's for their new hats, coupled with the injunction to "be sure and not go shopping around."

A MINISTER'S CASE.

Rev. W. L. Rowan's Experience with Rheumatism and Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Cured Thousands of Cases of this Disease—They Positively Cure all Kidney Diseases.

Arnprior, April 1.—"I can certify to the beneficial effect of Dodd's Kidney Pills in cases of Rheumatism, as I have been helped greatly by their use, and I feel confident that others will derive equally as much benefit from their use as I did, if they use them according to directions."—(Rev.) W. L. Rowan.

This is the testimony of a prominent and popular clergyman, stationed in Arnprior. His evidence must be accepted by all who read it, and it establishes at once the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills in cases of Rheumatism.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured more cases of Rheumatism in Canada, and cured them permanently, than any half-dozen other remedies together have cured. This claim is made emphatically, for it is true. No case of Rheumatism is so bad that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure it.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only cure on earth for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Gout, Urinary Troubles, Blood Impurities, Diseases of Women, Stone in Bladder, Heart Failure, Paralysis, and all other forms of Kidney Disease. They never fail.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A Jockey Murdered.

St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—Late last night James Street and D. D. Hennessy, two jockeys, became violently engaged in a quarrel near the Fair Grounds, which resulted in Street being murdered by a third jockey. Street had succeeded in getting the better of Hennessy, and was sitting astride of him, holding him down, when Anton McHale, alias "Chippy Cronin," a jockey from Liverpool, Eng., seized a razor that he had dropped, and with one gash cut Street's throat from ear to ear and ran. Street pulled a revolver and fired three shots at McHale and fell dead. McHale is still at liberty.

Torturing Skin Diseases

Keep you in misery during the day, disturb your rest at night. The burning, itching and smarting nearly drive you wild. Burdock Blood Bitters cures all skin diseases; drives the poisons causing them out of the system, and makes the blood pure and healthy.

Katie Ryder, Germania, Ont., says: — "Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of Salt Rheum four years ago, and I have had no return of it since. I was so bad that I could not hardly sleep with the pain it gave me."

WARLIKE SITUATION.

Spain's Non-Conceding Answer to the United States.

CANNOT DO MORE WITH HONOR.

The United States President and Cabinet Now Believe War Is Inevitable—Abstract From General Woodford's Report—The Dignity of the Don—A Decidedly Serious Situation.

Madrid, April 2.—According to the best information obtainable, Spain has definitely resolved not to make any further concessions to the United States.

Yesterday Premier Sagasta said: "We have done and will do all we can to maintain peace, but we will not tolerate anything prejudicial to the honor or territorial interests of Spain."

The newspapers, which had expected the Government to give to America yesterday a final, energetic answer, give evidence of great, though suppressed, excitement. Yet all concur in advising the nation to keep cool. All support the Government, too, but call upon it to reject the unendurable propositions from Washington. Anxiety is growing apace, with marked manifestations of patriotic enthusiasm. Everybody is conscious that the climax may come any hour.

WAR IS NOW IMMINENT.

President McKinley and His Cabinet Cannot Now Think Otherwise.

Washington, April 2.—There is little doubt that the President and the members of his Cabinet now regard a conflict with Spain as almost inevitable. In his message to Congress, which in all probability will be sent in next Monday, and certainly early next week, it is understood that the President will review at some length the record as it stands between this Government and Spain, but will not insist upon further time in which to continue negotiations looking to a peaceful solution of the Cuban problem.

The Cabinet meeting yesterday morning was unquestionably the most important held in many years. It received Spain's answer to the ultimatum of the United States Government and, finding it unsatisfactory, practically decided upon a policy which at this hour seems certain to involve hostilities.

GEN. WOODFORD'S REPORT.

Some Details Required for a Proper Understanding of the Situation.

Washington April 2.—The following is an abstract from the telegram received from Gen. Woodford last evening:

Gen. Blanco has revoked the bando relating to the reconcentrados in the western provinces of Cuba.

The Spanish Government has placed at the disposal of the Governor-General the credit of $600,000, to the end that the country people may return at once and with success to their labors.

The Spanish Government will accept whatever assistance to feed and succor the necessitous may be sent from the United States in accordance with the plan now in operation.

It proposes to confide the preparation for a honorable and stable peace to the insular parliament without whose concurrence the Spanish Government would not be able to arrive at the final result, being understood that the powers reserved by the constitution to the central government are not lessened or diminished.

May Suspend Hostilities.

As the Cuban Chambers will not meet until the fourth of May, the Spanish Government will not, on its part, object to a suspension of hostilities, if asked for by the insurgents from the General-in-Chief, to whom it will belong to determine the duration and the condition of the suspension.

The President will communicate with Congress as soon as he can prepare a message.

The Cabinet will meet again at 5 o'clock.

Members of the Cabinet regard the situation as of the very gravest and most critical character possible.

War Hangs on a Thread.

London, April 2.—A despatch to the Daily Mail says: "On receiving Spain's note, General Woodford declared he could not answer immediately, as he had to consult with Washington, and asked permission to translate the note into English forthwith, so that Senor Moret, who knows English, could revise and approve the translation. This was done.

"General Woodford's only comment was the expression of his personal wishes for conciliation and peace."

The Daily Mail correspondent says that the Correspondencia (semi-official) says: "Peace or war is hanging on a thread. The utterances of American opinion leave little room for hopes of peace. But the problem will have an immediate solution."

MILITIA CHANGES.

Four New Honorary Lieut.-Colonels Who Are Up Among Aristocrats.

Ottawa, April 2.—The militia general order issued yesterday is of unusual interest. Four more honorary lieut.-colonels are appointed: Lord Dufferin to Dufferin Rifles; Lord Aylmer, to the 54th Battalion; General Laurie, to the 63rd Halifax Rifles, and Col. Munro, to the 22nd Oxford Rifles. Lieut.-Col. William E. O'Brien of the 35th Battalion, Simcoe Foresters, resigns his commission, and is permitted to retain the rank of lieut.-colonel. Our confrere, Major J. B. MacLean, becomes colonel of 6th Fusiliers, Montreal, in succession to Major Buriand.

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist Minister, 192 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Cured of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginning of what is commonly known as eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands. During those four years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin disease treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

THE DERVISHES' POSITION.

Anglo-Egyptian Troops Discovered the Enemy in a Strongly Entrenched Position Near Atbara.

Cairo, April 1.—It is announced in a despatch from Atbara, on the Atbara River, a branch of the Nile above Berber, that an important reconnaissance was started by the Anglo-Egyptian troops on Wednesday. Eight squadrons of cavalry, four maxim guns, a battery of horse artillery, two battalions of infantry and the whole of the mounted troops reconnoitered the Dervish position, 18 miles from Atbara, yesterday and encountered 500 of the enemy's horsemen, whom they drove in, and, pressing forward, found Mahmoud's position, in the heavy bush, strongly entrenched, with his pits filled with riflemen and protected by a thick zareba. In the centre was a small hill with three tiers of entrenchments filled with spearsmen. The whole position was swarming with Dervishes, alert for the attack.

The artillery opened fire at 1,000 yards. The effect was apparently good, but it was difficult to judge to a certainty, in consequence of the thick bush. The Maxims also swept the front of the position. The Dervishes, however, did not reply, evidently awaiting an attack at close quarters. Having ascertained the enemy's position, the reconnoitering force retired, followed by the Dervish horsemen, who did not attack, but retreated under shell fire.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

The Would-Be Assassins of King George Tried and Convicted.

Athens, April 1.—At the trial of Karditza and Giorgi yesterday on the charge of an attempt to assassinate King George of Greece on Feb. 26 last, when His Majesty, accompanied by Princess Marie, was returning from Phalerum to Athens, a large number of the leading Greeks and many members of the diplomatic corps were present.

Karditza, who is ill with consumption, said he was impelled to the act by newspaper articles declaring King George responsible for the misfortunes of the country and he declared that if he had succeeded in killing the King he would have tried to kill M. Theodore Delyannis, the former Premier.

Giorgi declared that he fired into the air. The prisoners were condemned to death.

Fast Steamers for Ocean Trade.

London, April 1.—The fast mail question is exciting much interest in Canadian financial circles here. Hon. Mr. Dobell, the special Canadian commissioner, says he found on his arrival that progress in the Peterson arrangements were more satisfactory than is evidently anticipated in Canada. In other quarters it is confidently declared that the whole of the necessary capital has been underwritten. Mr. Peterson himself was too busy to make a statement, but it is noteworthy that meetings of his associates are being held daily.

SAWN TO DEATH.

Mr. Jacob Bloom of Glencoe Instantly Killed by a Sawmill Accident.

Glencoe, Ont., April 1.—About half-past four yesterday afternoon Mr. Jacob Bloom of this village was instantly killed by being thrown upon the saw in his own sawmill near the C.P.R. station at North Glencoe. He had raised up a board, the end of which caught in the fly wheel, throwing him back upon the saw. He was thrown about 30 feet, his body being badly mutilated.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

THE SITTING HEN.

DID YOU EVER THINK WHAT A MYSTERY OF MYSTERIES SHE IS?

When She Will She Will, and When She Won't That Settles It — The Impatient Minorca and Other Nonsitters—A Peaceful Man's Broilers.

The chicken that is born on or before the 1st day of March is worth dozens born in May or June, when all the hens want to sit. The trouble is to find the hen who is inclined to incubation in the month of February. Generally speaking, she must be a March chicken herself. Therefore to have March chickens you must first have March chickens. It is like the great economic proposition: To make money you must have money to make it with. However, it is not necessary to inherit March pullets. They can be acquired at reasonable rates, and every practical hen keeper—aside from those wholesale gentlemen who can devote all their time and attention to the monumental task of making incubators incubate, and who are consequently independent of the natural means of incubation—will tell you that the early born pullet, who is under a sort of natural compulsion to lay early herself, is, even when of no breed at all, of more value than the high bred fowl who declines to lay any eggs until the balmy springtime has come and eggs can be bought for 15 cents a dozen.

The eccentricities of the sitting hen are beyond all account. No power on earth or heaven can prevent certain hens from sitting half their lives. They will sit on good eggs, on bad eggs, on china eggs, on stones, on sticks, on nothing at all. Turned out of one place, they will sit in any other. By actual experiment a certain Plymouth Rock (of whose breed one of the many noble qualities is broodiness) permitted in sitting for six weeks running, though she was given no eggs at all and was treated with the greatest contumely, being moved from pillar to post and afflicted with sharp cornered cobblestones and daily driven away with violence from her pathetic attempt to convert these ignominous rocks into the noble ones of Plymouth. At the end of the six weeks she did give up further sitting, but she appeared to entertain no grudge on account of her treatment and would on occasion come and eat out of the hands of her late tormentors. It was in the autumn when she made this quixotic attempt, and she had already in this same year brought off two fine broods of chickens—one in early March and the other in June.

Other hens will never sit at all. The white Minorcas—those hens with great combs, which look exactly like roosters and are called "Catalans" by the Spanish—will lay perhaps more eggs in a year than any other sort of hen, but they will not lay them in cold weather, and it is unlikely that any one of them was ever known to hatch a brood of chickens. The Minorcas will, indeed, sometimes begin to sit, but they seem to be under the impression that three days ought to be, in all conscience, a long enough time in which to hatch out an egg, and at the expiration of about that time they will abandon the attempt with a great flutter and much denunciatory oratory. If they are fastened down on the nest with a board placed above their backs, they will stand up as high as they can under the board and let the cold air addle their eggs. It is doubtful if ever any human being, male or female, wicked or pious, Christian or pagan, ever got through without profanity an attempt to make a Minorca hen sit. There are other breeds of nonsitters, which are not merely too numerous but also too contemptible to mention. The Plymouth Rock will not lay so many eggs in a year as the Minorca, but she will lay what she does lay when you want them, and she will perpetuate her kind.

Strange to say, another kind of hen that makes a good mother is the game hen. She seems to be engaged in an attempt to prove that a certain amount of amazonianism is not inconsistent with a proper regard for the duties of motherhood. A very peaceful gentleman, not unconnected with the work of the Humane society, moved into the country three or four years ago. Having occasion to purchase two or three settings of eggs, he bought one of a good working woman, who lived on the outskirts of the town, and who happened to have male relatives of sporting proclivities, though the gentleman did not know that, and would hardly have cared if he had known. The sporting proclivities of those persons could hardly affect the hens' eggs raised on the place. The setting of eggs turned out beautifully, and in due time some exquisite little red chickens were running about with the old gray hen who had been their foster mother. The chickens were so pretty that they were admired above all others on the place. They grew apace, and before long their owner discovered that they were engaged in warfare most of the time, either with one another or with other little chickens. Redoubtable fighters they were, too, and while any one of them would easily whip any chicken of any other brood, when they fought with one another it seemed to be a fight to the death. The peaceable gentleman deprecated these contests very much, but he was powerless to prevent them. What could make them fight so?

By and by a village tradesman who happened to be at the place one day noticed the chickens, looked at the gentleman who owned them, winked broadly and remarked, "Raisin games, eh?" "Raising what?" asked the humane gentleman. "Why, game fowls," returned the other. "Game fowls? What can you be talking about?" said the gentleman, getting a little nettled. "Why, I never thought of such a thing!" "Well, them's game chickens, just the same," said the tradesman. A light dawned on the humane gentleman's mind. The proclivities of the men of the household from which he had purchased the sitting of eggs had indeed led them to a partiality for game fowls, and by innocently buying a baker's dozen of eggs from the woman of the house and putting them under a hen he had unconsciously embarked in the business of keeping fighting cocks. He sacrificed the chickens as soon as they were big enough to broil and found them most excellent eating, but it is doubtful if he will ever be able to get up a reputation in that town as a preventer of cruelty to animals.—Boston Transcript.

ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

WASN'T WORTH MORE.

Chicago Boy Told Marshall Field So and Got a Raise.

It is said that nerve and Chicago are synonymous terms. Here is a story which proves the truth of the idea, and which goes to shew that a Chicagoan develops his nerve early:

Everybody knows Marshall Field, the multimillionaire—the man who gave $1,000,000 to a library. Everybody has heard of his big store. In this store there is a cash boy who is making more money than his confreres, and the story tells how he earned the raise. The regular salary of a cashboy is $3 a week. The youngster in question thought he was worth more and hunted up the manager to tell him so.

"I would like to get a raise," said the boy. "I think I ought to have it."

"My boy," said the manager, "you are making just what is given all the cashboys, and I don't see how I can accommodate you."

The boy's assurance amused the manager, who jokingly advised him to see Mr. Field. Now, Mr. Field's visits to his store are few and far between. He is rich enough to be above the details of business, and when he entered the store an hour or so after the conversation between manager and cashboy his coming was in the nature of an event. The boy heard of his arrival and at once headed for the millionaire proprietor. Watching his chance, he slipped upon the magnate and said:

"Are you Mr. Field?"

"I am, my son. What can I do for you?"

"You can raise my salary, please. I can't work any longer for $3 a week."

"I don't attend to these matters. You will have to see the manager."

"I have already seen the manager, sir, and he referred me to you."

The boy's manner impressed the millionaire, and he said: "My boy, you are making $3 a week. That is pretty good salary for a youngster. It is more than I was making when I was your age."

"Well," said the boy, quick as a flash, "maybe you weren't worth any more."

Mr. Field laughed. Then he saw the manager. "That boy," he declared, "has too much pluck and wit to work for $3."

The next week the juvenile hero of this tale drew $4, and promotion isn't far off.—Kansas City Journal.

A DIFFERENCE IN PRICE.

The Member of the Legislature Rises to Express His Surprise.

Four or five Washington correspondents were telling stories of their experiences with statesmen, local and national, when one of them from a state in the southwest swung into line with something a little out of the ordinary.

"I was doing the legislature," he began, "for a syndicate of newspapers, with some free lance work on the side, and was making a potful of money out of it. During the course of my ministrations I discovered a case of vote selling by a rural representative that was astonishing for its smallness. I couldn't find out what the member got, but it couldn't have been much, for the whole matter at issue wasn't worth more than $4.50 or thereabout. After exhausting all my sources of information I thought I would try the member himself and see how guileless he was on a little thing like that. I didn't dare ask him his price, but I did dare to talk about it, and I went at him directly.

"'Say, young feller,' he said after I had talked awhile, 'how much do you git for a news item like that?'

"'It's a pretty big thing for me,' I replied persuasively, 'and I'll get $25 for the story if I can get it complete.'

"'How much?' he asked, with an eager air.

"'Twenty-five dollars,' I repeated.

"'Gee whiz! I'd like to have your job.'

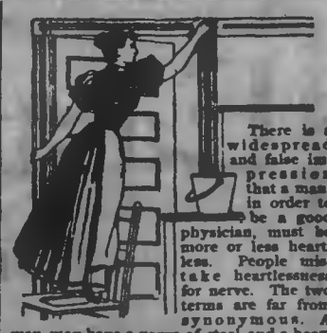
"'Why? It isn't an easy one. Not so easy as yours anyway.'

"'P'r'aps it ain't,' he said slowly, 'but it pays better.'

"'How do you mean?'

"'Why, you git $25 fer jist telling about what I done fer $5.'

"The syntax mightn't have been perfect perhaps," concluded the speaker, "but the fact was, and that was what I wanted."—Washington Star.



There is a widespread and false impression that a man, in order to be a good physician, must be more or less heartless. People mistake heartlessness for nerve. The two terms are far from synonymous. A man may have a nerve of steel and a heart as tender as a mother's.

Of all the specialists in the world, there probably are not two that have as wide an experience in the treatment of women's diseases as Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. With the assistance of his staff of able physicians, he has prescribed, in the past thirty years, for many thousands of women. Dr. Pierce is pre-eminently a sympathetic physician. Perhaps more than any other man in the profession he realizes the hardships of woman's work, and the disadvantages under which she labors because of the weak, delicate and susceptible structure of the feminine organism. His immense practice in diseases peculiar to women forced upon his recognition the fact that women would never take the proper care of their health, so long as that care required the repugnant "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by nearly all physicians. After years of study he invented a remedy now known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that is an absolute and unfailing cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of diseases peculiar to women. This wonderful medicine cures in the privacy of the home, and does away with the necessity for obnoxious "local treatment." It imparts health, strength, vigor and elasticity to the organs distinctly feminine and fits for wifehood and motherhood.

NURSE MORRIS' SECRET.

EXPLAINS HOW SHE SAVES MOTHERS' LIVES.

The Critical Time of Maternity and the Methods of a Famous Nurse to Restore the Mother's Strength.

From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

No woman is better fitted for nursing or has had more years of practical experience in that work than Mrs. Moses Morris of 340 Fourteenth street, Detroit, Mich. For twenty years she has been recognized as the best and most successful nurse in confinement cases, and over three hundred happy mothers can testify to her skilful nursing and care. Always engaged months ahead, she has had to decline hundreds of pressing and pleading applications for her services. She has made a specialty of confinement cases, and has made so high a reputation in this city that her engagement, in all cases, is taken as a sure sign of the mother's speedy recovery.

Mrs. Morris was a nurse in England before she came to America, and so was her mother and her mother's mother before her. When asked once by a leading physician the secret of her great success in treating mothers in confinement cases, she said she used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in such cases, as they build up the mother more quickly and surely than any other medicine she had ever used.

Mrs. Morris was seen at her pretty little home on Fourteenth street, and when asked regarding the use of these pills in her profession, she said: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People since they were put on the market. They built me up when I was all run down and so nervous I could not get any rest. After they had helped me I began to use them in restoring mothers in confinement cases. There is nothing that can be prescribed or given by a physician that will give health and strength to mother so quickly as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is true that in some cases where the father or parents were prejudiced against the much advertised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I gave them as "Tonic Pills," but they all came out of a Dr. Williams' Pink Pill box.

"I have given them in hundreds of cases of confinement to the mother, and it is wonderful how they build up the system. I have practically demonstrated their great worth many times and have recommended them to hundreds of mothers for their young daughters. Yes, I have been successful in confinement cases, but I must give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People a great part of the credit for the speedy recovery of mothers. They certainly have no equal as a strength and health builder. You can say for me that I strongly advise that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People be kept and used in every house."

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are also a specific for trouble peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental strain, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Not So Many.

It is not so easy to cure an obstinate cough; it won't cure itself. Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy indicated because its record shows that it always cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles.

Dr. Miles' Sterling Headache Powders are easy to take, harmless in action and sure to cure any headache in from 5 to 20 minutes.

THE NEW ENGLAND MAID WITH NO APPETITE.

Rebecca Dainty was a maid whose summers no one knew,
Though she for fifteen years had said that she was thirty-two,
And, though she never felt real smart, folks called her rather bright,
And while she had a good, kind heart, she had no appetite.

She always came to breakfast late and ne'er forgot her sigh.
First she would pass her little plate and try a piece of pie,
Next she would cast her eyes around the table left and right,
To see if something could be found to tempt her appetite.

If on the table beans were found, to eat some she would try,
And then of lamb chops spoil a pound, nor pass the codfish by.
A piece or two of hot corn bread was always her delight,
Although, poor thing, she always said she had no appetite!

She next would try a chicken's leg and then a piece of wing.
Next she would eat a soft boiled egg and then most anything.
She always wanted something light when first she started in,
But how she coaxed her appetite would make an ostrich grin.

Salty.

Grant Hamilton, associate editor on Judge, was in the days of his youth an Ohio boy. It was then that he worked in a grocery store, measured beans and corn and potatoes and such things as those. One day a crabbed old fellow with whom Hamilton was acquainted entered the store and inquired for some mackerel. In obedience to the request young Hamilton ran his arm deep down in the barrel and, holding up a fish to the gaze of the prospective purchaser, said:

"How will this one suit you, sir?"

"Well, my boy," iterated the gentleman as he touched the tip of his finger to the fish, "this tastes awfully salty."

"My dear sir," said Hamilton, "if you had been in that brine as long as that fish you'd be salty too." And when the old fellow told the proprietor of the store of Hamilton's remark the prospective successor of the lamented Bernhard Gillam was told to seek another job.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

CORNER STONE LAYING FOR THE FIRST CHURCH IN CANADA.

An Early Morning Ceremony at Simcoe and Caer Howell Streets—Mrs. Isabella M. Stewart's Address.

The Christian Scientists of this city, says the Globe of March 29th, this morning laid the corner stone of their new church on Simcoe and Caer Howell streets. Although the hour of the ceremony was early, seven o'clock being the time chosen, a very large attendance of the church members was present.

The proceedings were simple, but impressive, and consisted of readings from Scripture, and also from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health: With Key to the Scriptures." The clerk of the church also read a brief address, dealing with the growth of the cause of Christian Science in Toronto.

The service in connection with the corner stone laying was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stewart, who were the first to introduce Christian Science here, and who during the past ten years have seen their work grow until at the present time they have a Student's Association of nearly 300 members and the membership of the church is more than 200.

The laying of the corner stone in Toronto means much to the Christian Scientists all over Canada. It is the first of the denomination in the Dominion, and is the first corner stone laid under the British flag with a copy of the Christian Science text book enclosed. The books and documents placed in the stone were the Bible, Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Christian Science Journal, an address reviewing the history of Christian Science in Toronto, and an address prepared for the occasion by Mrs. Isabella M. Stewart. Mrs. Stewart's address read as follows:

BELOVED FRIENDS,—This event is one which the faithful who have apprehended the Risen Christ idea of life have been looking forward to with great anticipation. When all things should be in readiness to lay away in the heart of a great stone, the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health: with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker G. Eddy, and hence give substantial evidence to the world that in this country, as well as in the United States of America, is established the science of Christianity. By the many corner stones laid and churches dedicated in this city and other cities of our land, proof is offered that this country has not been negligent in its worship of God. And like the Areopagus on Mars' Hill in Athens, we like Paul, find these monuments erected, not to the many gods, as were they, but presumably to the one God, which all are prepared to call "the God of Israel." Yet by the inscription on each, we find they are not all called by one name, hence we are led to say, "If there be but one Shepherd and one fold, this fold should be called by one name. And wherefore so many names?" The answer is plain, "Each flock of the large Fold of God have not risen to the same sense of God, consequently they call themselves by their own name or sense of being; and like Jacob of old, as they journey from Haran to Canaan and conditions of false consciousness assail them on the way, they find if they would ever reach their land of promise they must fight the good fight of faith and lay hold on eternal life." With this recognition an angel appears, and if as faithful as Jacob, they will not let go of this evangel, "or message of truth and love," but will wrestle till the day breaks, till as Science and Health says, "The light of truth and love dawns upon them," and they find their name has been changed. They are no more Jacob (supplanter), but Israel, "Prince of God, or soldier of God," who has fought a good fight. Each and every one will, sooner or later, have to wrestle with belief, for it is not founded upon the Rock of Christ; and in their wrestling will find it has nothing substantial to give them, but a point shall be won, for they will be willing to let go of it, and endeavour to gain an understanding of what is real and what is right, in other words, gain the science of Christianity, "Christian Science."

To-day there are assembled here representatives of this church, many of whom have come out of great tribulation. They have been members of other religious denominations and have given in them as faithful discipleship as it was possible with their understanding to give. But they were unable with the knowledge gained from that association to give the signs Jesus required of those who believe, therefore, they were led to seek further, and in doing so found a religion whose adherents were giving the signs required by the Way Shower (Jesus of Nazareth.) They have embraced this religion, have been healed by it of divers diseases, and in their turn have been healing others. Jesus of Nazareth taught this blessed truth to the world, and his disciples demonstrated it; but the world rejected it and put them to death for trying to teach it. So in a great measure it was lost, and in about three hundred years after Christ's ascension the healing of the sick in Jesus' way was discontinued and the people resorted to material medicine for healing. This proved very unsatisfactory, for sickness increased under this regime.

In this century a woman, when at the portal called death, re-discovered the way of life as it is in Christ Jesus, and was healed by it. After being healed herself, she healed others for nine years, then gave to the world the text book "Science and Health: With Key to the Scriptures" in 1875, and established a college in Boston, Mass., known as the "Massachusetts Metaphysical College," chartered by the laws of that State in 1881. In 1889 she handed the charter back to the State, with thanks for its use; her college being at the height of its prosperity, scores of applications being on the files from those desiring to enter. During those years she had taught some four thousand students; many of them being instructed in how to teach the science to others. Institutes were started in the different cities, and the students instructed; in these began the preaching of the Gospel of the Kingdom by healing the sick and sinful. And so the foundation of this church was thus laid, and to-day we meet to lay the corner stone, depositing in its chamber a copy of the Bible, a copy of "Science and Health: With Key to the Scriptures," and a copy of The Christian Science Journal, the official organ of the National Christian Science Association. And as we lay these away with reverence and gratitude, we find this prayer rising like incense from the hearts of all here. May we as like the truths taught in these books, may we so impart it to others, may the grace of God so touch the hearts of all who hear it spoken that they may be ready to accept it. Thus the leaven will work till the whole is leavened, and the nation shall be brought to the place when "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess one God." "For the law of God shall be written in their hearts and in their minds." Then shall there be but "One Shepherd and one fold." "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying know the Lord; for they shall all know Me from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord; for I will forgive their iniquity and I will remember their sin no more."—Jer. 31-34.

SCALY SKIN HUMOR

Body, Head, and Arms Covered With Spots Like Drops Of Mortar.

Skin Came Off in Layers. Doctors Useless. Suffered for a Year Without Relief.

Almost Given Up Hope. Cured in 8 Weeks by CUTICURA. Skin Nice and Clear as a Baby's.

I was afflicted with an obstinate skin disease, called by some doctors Eczema and others Psoriasis. My body, head, and arms were covered with spots like drops of mortar, and which came off in layers of dry scales. I suffered for over a year without relief, and consulted several doctors but without aid, and I had almost given up hope, as my case was a bad one. I happened to see an advertisement about CUTICURA REMEDIES and got them, took them according to directions, and in eight weeks I was as well as ever. I consider myself cured, for my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have done for me.

GEO. READBURN, Hanover, Ontario, Can.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are beyond all doubt the greatest skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies of modern times. They are no longdrawn-out expensive experiments. A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure, and a full dose of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of Scaly, Pimply, Blotchy, Itching, Burning, Bleeding, Crusted, Scrofulous, Hereditary, and Contagious Blood, Skin, and Scalp Diseases with loss of hair, when all else fails.

TROOPS AND DRINK.

The Curious Statistics Showing What European Nations Pay For Them.

The friends and advocates of "universal peace" and the foes of intemperance and inebriety are pretty generally agreed that the expenses attending war and war armaments and liquid beverages of an intoxicating or exhilarating kind are unduly large. There is an old proverb—it is not a Swiss proverb, of course—to the effect that a man who drinks more than he should "drinks like a Swiss," and it is for this reason, perhaps—and residents of the republic of Switzerland say for no better one—that the fame of residents of Switzerland for sobriety is not as farreaching as the fame of the Scotch, for instance, for frugality. A recent computation which has appeared shows that the annual expenditures of the Swiss for wine, beer, cider and brandy are 175,000,000 francs, six times as much as is spent on the army. Germany expends, or, more properly, individual Germans expend, $500,000,000 a year on liquid refreshments, distilled or fermented—chiefly beer and Rhine wine—and $120,000,000 a year on the German army. France expends in a year $500,000,000 on drink, chiefly wine, and $140,000,000 a year on the maintenance of the army of the republic. The Italians expend $250,000,000 a year for liquors, wines and cordials and $55,000,000 for the Italian army, the expenditures being in about the same ratio as in other nations.

Austria-Hungary expends less upon liquor in a year than any other country of the first class in Europe, amounting to about $235,000,000, though persons who are familiar with life along the blue Danube might not unreasonably come to the conclusion that $200,000,000 of this sum was spent in the city of Vienna alone in lager beer. Such, however, is not the case. In the mountainous districts, particularly in the Tyrol, Transylvania and in Croatia, very little wine is drunk, and though Hungary produces a large and steadily increasing amount of wine a very large proportion of it is exported to other countries. Relatively not much of it is kept for home consumption.

The Austria-Hungarian army costs $70,000,000 a year, or less than one-third of the cost of the liquors consumed in a year. The Russians expend $300,000,000 a year in liquors and $150,000,000 a year, or one-half as much, for the maintenance of the army. England expends $480,000,000 a year on beer, ale, wine, porter, gin, rum and smoky whisky and $90,000,000 a year on the maintenance of the British army.

No one knows exactly how much is spent in the United States on liquor in a year, especially in prohibition states, but it is supposed that the whisky taken for medicinal purposes costs each year more than does the maintenance of the regular army.—New York Sun.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

CARPET SUPREMACY
CARPET LOVELINESS
- - - AT - - -
Robert Fair's.

We are proud of our Carpet Importations for 1898 We have outdone our very best efforts of the past in making the display of the New Season's Patterns out of reach of comparison with any Carpet consignment ever brought to Peterborough. Such a statement is full of meaning when made by this store. Shoppers who have compared Carpet stocks as they see them in other stores are astonished when they view the stocks at the Golden Lion. Not even in Toronto is there a more complete exhibition of New, Rich and Exclusive designs shown. There may be a larger but not a better display, but quantity never did stand for quality and designs.

Our contracts with the makers of these Carpets for this season's supply amount to many thousands of yards, and are very different from the ordinary run of Carpets shown this this season, many of the patterns being exclusive designs, which were personally selected and made for US ONLY. We have for years made a specialty of exclusive designs, which are owned by us, and cannot be obtained elsewhere.

With ample capital to buy these goods and ample courage to take larger quantities, we secure advantage which precludes the necessity of resorting to "seconds" in qualities or styles that are questionable. The Golden Lion goes to the fountain sources of production, and has facilities at its command which overcome all such trade technicalities, and it is impossible to buy in the ordinary way to retail at OUR prices.

Those who are refurnishing their homes at this season, either wholly or in part, will find it well worth a trip to ROBERT FAIR'S to inspect their extensive Showrooms containing Imported Carpets, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Mattings and Rugs. Unrivalled selection in the respective lines.

Customers to ROBERT FAIR'S are not limited to Peterborough citizens alone, but come to FAIR'S from all parts to buy their Carpetings. It is really a mistake for any one who has much to buy not to become acquainted with our immense stocks and our extra special prices:—

CRITICAL STATE OF AFFAIRS.

The Spanish Cabinet Realizes the Seriousness of the Situation—The U. S. Side of Affairs—The War Feeling Unabated—Cuba Must Be Free —War Preparations Continue.

Madrid, April 4.—The Spanish Cabinet has decided that the torpedo flotilla is to remain at the Cape de Verde Islands until a further order. The flotilla will be joined later by a squadron composed of the armored cruiser Emperor Charles V., of 9,235 tons; the cruiser Alfonso XIII., of 5,000 tons; the armored cruiser Infanta Maria Teresa, of 7,000 tons, and the armored cruiser, Cristobal Colon, of 6,840 tons, which will accompany the torpedo flotilla to Cuba.

It has also been decided by the Government to send the armored cruisers Viscaya and Almirante Oquendo, both of 7,000 tons, back to Havana. They will receive orders to this effect so soon as they right Porto Rico.

At the Cabinet Meeting.

The Cabinet, which met at 3 o'clock Saturday, discussed the situation until midnight. At the close of the conference it was declared that no official news had been received at that time from Washington, but it was admitted that the Ministers were filled with gloomy impressions.

A telegram from the Spanish Minister at Washington, Senor Polo y Bernabe, was read at the Cabinet meeting, in which Senor Bernabe said President McKinley will be overruled by Congress.

Prayers Ordered by Priests.

From all the pulpits Sunday the priests read a letter from the bishop of the diocese announcing that he considered war to be imminent, and ordering prayers for the success of the Spanish arms.

The majority of the newspapers here regard war as inevitable. They think Gen. Woodford has communicated a final answer to the Goverment.

The Liberal says: "It is clear that no concession will satisfy the United States excepting the independence of Cuba, and we had better immediately end the uncertainty."

The whole article of the Liberal on the subject is bellicose in tone.

The Queen Is for War.

The Queen Regent is taking a very active part in the negotiations, and has thoroughly identified herself with the war section of the Cabinet. Her attitude is much approved by the officials in the army, and has undoubtedly strengthened the dynasty for the time being. Her Majesty is reported to have told Senor Sagasta: "I received from my husband a heritage for our son, and will never agree to have that heritage curtailed."

Senor Sagasta said to a friend, after Thursday's council at the Palace: "We went in seven men to see one woman and emerged seven women, leaving a man inside." Meaning that they went in disposed to yield, but that the Queen's patriotism and firmness inspired them. At the same time it is reported that the Queen Regent is doing much to avoid a rupture.

AT WASHINGTON.

Events Which Have Transpired Discussed and Others Predicted The Temper of Congress—Armed Intervention.

Washington, April 4.—The issue between the United States and Spain remains unchanged. No communication having any bearing upon the situation has passed between the United States Government and Spain since last Thursday night, when Minister Woodford transmitted the reply of the Sagasta Ministry to the President's propositions of two weeks ago. This being the case, the view is universally entertained, even by representative men of the Administration, that Congress, upon receipt of the President's message, early this week, will take action which must result in a severance of the relations of the two countries. This was in part foreshadowed by the action of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Saturday in agreeing to a resolution favoring the independence of Cuba, and armed intervention if necessary to secure independence.

The Spanish Court Report.

The State Department has received the full report of the Spanish Commission which investigated the destruction of the battleship Maine. It proved to be a most bulky and voluminous document of far greater length than the report of the American Court of Inquiry. The text, as delivered to the State Department, is in Spanish, and it will take some time for the document to be translated. It covers at least 150 closely written pages of official paper, the double size of foolscap.

Callers at the White House.

The White House was, as usual, a centre point in the great activity of the day, and the President saw many public men. Some of them urged upon the President that the Maine incident be put forward as a casus belli, the general Cuban subject being subordinated to it.

Many Senators, including members of the Foreign Relations Committee and members of the House yesterday received telegrams from conservative business men in their States counselling pacific action in Cuba.

The Temper of Congress.

The state of feeling among Congressmen may be judged by a few expressions given as follows:

"We will not grant the delay that Spain has asked for," said Hugh Belknap. "Congress is ready to act. All the President has to do is to at once advise officially of Spain's reply, and we will take the responsibility off his hands. The Cortes will not meet until May 4, and, if the Queen wishes to refer to them, it is her business to call them together. The President has requested us to wait until Monday, and, if he does not act then, we will."

Senator McMillan of Michigan said: "I think it will be impossible to prevent Congress from recognizing the independence of Cuba if Spain does not give a satisfactory reply to the President's proposal by Monday morning."

"I am not thoroughly posted as to what preparations have been made for war by us," said Representative Graff of Illinois, "but I am opposed to acceding to the request by Spain for further delay. I do not believe Congress will be in favor of waiting until the meeting of the Spanish Cortes. Action will be taken by us not later than Tuesday."

"I don't think it a good proposition to give Spain more delay," said Representative Fletcher of Minnesota. "The Queen Regent may not be in good humor on May 4, and may ask for further delay. We cannot afford to wait, and will not."

"The Administration has, in my judgment, acted with discretion in reference to the differences between Spain and this country," said Representative Smith of Illinois.

For Armed Intervention.

Representative Pearce of Missouri—The reply is nothing but another illustration of Spanish diplomacy. The time for action has come. I am for armed intervention.

Representative James Hamilton Lewis of Washington—There is nothing left for Congress to do but declare the independence of Cuba and treat the subject as though Spain was in no wise interested.

Spain Must Get Out.

Representative Dovener of West Virginia—I don't think much of the reply. I don't believe in it. Let them take down their flag and get out. I am in favor of giving them time to do that.

Representative Kelley of South Dakota—I am opposed to this Government taking any action regarding an armistice without consulting the Cubans. I do not believe that Spain is acting in good faith.

Representative Warner of Illinois—I would not give Spain five days time. I place no reliance in Spanish promises.

Cruiser Bought in London.

London, April 4.—Lieut.-Commander Colwell, the United States naval attache here, Saturday morning purchased from the Thames Iron Works for his Government a cruiser of 1,800 tons displacement and capable of a speed of 16 knots. The vessel carries six 4.7-inch guns and ten smaller ones. She has twin screws and has a protected deck.

WAR ON THE SAN JOSE SCALE.

Government Inspector Orr Makes War on It in the Niagara Peninsula.

Hamilton, April 4.—Government Inspector Orr's San Jose scale hunters have discovered the enemy, and so far have swept all before them. Some two acres of the pest were encountered at old Niagara, famous in the war of 1812, and another section near St. Catharines. The victims were pear and plum trees. No magnifying glasses were necessary to detect the foe, as the trees presented the appearance of being covered with sand. They were at once burned, and their owners will receive one fourth of their value. Inspector Orr believes that with the destruction of these orchards the pest will be to a large extent stamped out.

Mrs. Sibbald Was Shot.

Mrs. Sibbald, mother of Mr. J. B. Sibbald, living at the corner of Cannon street and Oak avenue, was struck in the right thigh by a rifle bullet Saturday morning while gathering firewood in the yard. She dropped with a shriek. Drs White and Baugh probed for the bullet, four or five inches, but were unsuccessful in reaching it. There is a knot hole in the fence opposite the yard, and the detectives found that some boys had thoughtlessly made it a target for a pea rifle. The wounded lady will likely recover.

THE YUKON RAILWAY

The Senate's Action Regretted and Resented.

B. C. GOVERNMENT TO PREMIER

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Sternly Rebuked—The People Will Yet Make Him Understand They Rule and Not the Effete Senate—The Revenue—Great Increase in Nine Months.

Ottawa, April 4.—(Special.)—That the action of the Senate in throwing out the Yukon Railway bill is not only regretted but deeply resented by all classes of the community that have the truest interests of the country at heart and are not blinded by reckless partisanship is becoming more apparent every day. Letters and despatches voicing these sentiments are reaching the Government hourly, and few are more significant than the following telegram received by the Premier on Saturday from the Conservative Premier of British Columbia. It read:

"Victoria, B. C., 1st April, 1898.

"To the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa.

"The Government exceedingly regrets the difficulties in the way of an all-Canadian route to the Yukon, and hopes that the extreme importance of the question in relation to the interests of British Columbia and Canada may yet receive a satisfactory solution. (Signed) T. H. Turner."

Possibly Sir Mackenzie Bowell will seek to dispose of this stern rebuke from his own friends in the same airy way in which he referred to the emphatic resolution of the British Columbia Board of Trade when he declared from his place in the Senate that he understood the resolution purporting to come from that body officially was only an expression of opinion from a few political friends of the Liberal Government, but it will not be long before the people will make him realize that they are terribly in earnest in their determination to govern themselves through their elected representatives and not through the irresponsible fancies of an effete Senate.

REVENUE RETURNS.

A Net Increase of $1,198,010 for Nine Months.

In anticipation of the budget the Finance Department has collected the revenue and expenditure returns up to March 31. There is a notable increase of inland revenue returns as compared with March, 1897. In that month large quantities of liquor and tobacco were withdrawn in anticipation of tariff changes, whereas nothing of the sort took place this year. The customs revenue has held up almost to the figure of March, 1897, although it also was swelled by the importation of articles on which it was expected there would be a change of duty. Miscellaneous revenue, in which are the receipts in connection with Yukon licences, show a very large increase.

The items of revenue are: Customs, March, 1898, $3,390,844; 1897, $3,428,059; excise, March, 1898, $776,086; 1897, $1,413,457; post-office, March, 1898, $200,000; 1897, $200,000; public works, including railways, March, 1898, $305,726; 1897, $254,960; miscellaneous, March, 1898, $311,421; 1897, $88,156.

For the nine months ending March, 1898, the customs revenue was $16,111,029, an increase of $1,413,276, as compared with the same period last year; excise, $5,597 961, a reduction of $1,111,983, as compared with the nine months ending March, 1897; post-office, $2,618,451, an increase of $346,607; public works, $2,715,636, an increase of $98,575; miscellaneous, $1,611,115, an increase of $451,535.

The total revenue is $28,649,191 for the nine months, an increase of $1,198,010 over the same period of 1897.

The expenditure has been $22,987,958, a decrease of $564,907.

Deputation of Bankers.

D. R. Wilkie, B. E. Walker and D. Coulson of Toronto were here Saturday attending an adjourned meeting of the Canadian Bankers' Association. At a meeting in Toronto a fortnight ago certain questions were discussed with a view to simplifying banking methods and dealings of one bank with another. The several points brought up were further considered, and incidentally the attitude the association should assume in regard to Mr. Fortin's insolvency bill was discussed. Mr. Lash, Q.C., solicitor for the association, was present at the meeting, and it is understood he will closely watch the progress of Mr. Fortin's bill, with a view to guarding banking interests. No representations were made to the Government on the subject.

OLD LADY DIED FROM EXPOSURE.

Mrs. Milne Lost Her Way and Was Found in a Dying Condition.

Chesley, Ont., April 4.—Mrs. Milne, relict of the late George Milne of the Township of Bentwick, was found early Sunday morning lying in an unconscious state in a field some distance from her home. It is supposed she started late Saturday evening to go to a spring creek, a short distance from her home, for a pail of water, and as the evening was very dark and stormy she became confused and lost her way in the dark. The rest of the family were all away from home, and on their return they supposed she had gone to some neighbor's house, but towards midnight they became alarmed at her absence, and began searching for her all over the farm, but failed to find her till 3 o'clock in the morning.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A proposal is made for utilizing barb-wire fences for telegraphic purposes. A farmer may yet have a wire leading to his bedroom from the barbed-wire fence and his melon "patch," that will advise him of the fact of a pair of bicycle "pants" crossing the line late on a moonlight night.

SUPPOSING, suggests the Brantford Expositor, Mr. Whitney had succeeded in securing power in Ontario, how would the Conservative party like to have his measures revised or rejected by an Upper House packed with the irresponsible partizans of Mr. Hardy? That's the sort of thing the Liberals have to endure at Ottawa, and it is not surprising that it is not at all to their liking.

DEATH is inexorable, but the monster seems to hesitate as to closing the life of the Grand Old Man. Mr. Gladstone's condition is still considered dangerous, but occasional improvement furnishes evidence of the strong hold he has upon life. The world will evidently wait a little longer for the opportunity of adapting Ben Johnson's epitaph upon the Countess of Pembroke:

> Death, ere thou hast slain another,
> Learned and true, and good as he,
> Time shall throw a dart at thee.

TORONTO is surnamed "the good," yet it has the bump of one of the vices, avarice, developed the size of an ostrich egg in its fair cranium. It has pursued a steady policy of trying to steal industries from other and smaller towns. Now the Queen City of the Lakes is trying to gobble the offices of the Grand Trunk Railway and the Toronto press is trying to make the people believe that she is the hub of Canada, and one more enthusiastic and unscrupulous journal modestly asks that some of the property of the Province should be turned over to the railway as a site for the new offices. There might be some reasons for such a claim if the whole Province would be benefitted by such an arrangement. The Province includes a little more area than that between the Don and Humber. Toronto gets enough incidental advantages from the fact of its being the capital of the Province without grabbing provincial property for its special benefit. If the city wants to gain from the presence of the Grand Trunk offices, let it buy a site and make a present of it.

THE most numerous classes at Ottawa are the civil servants and the mill-men. If the mill-man runs a bill, the law compels him to pay it, if his honesty does not. Why should a civil servant be exempt from the requirement of the law that compels the citizen at large to meet his honest financial obligations? The civil servant regards himself as the mahogany of mankind, and and superciliously looks (through the "blawsted" monocle) upon the mill-man as sawdust under his feet. Yet he can fare sumptuously every day and dress in purple and fine linen, and pay for it or not as he likes. The civil servant has the reputation of being bad pay, but Sir Lewis Davies and others give them a good character for honesty. If they are honest, they do not require to be protected by special exemption from the polite attention of the bailiff; if they are dishonest they should be made to pay their debts like other men. Law is for the protection of the rights of citizens; it should not permit any class, civil servant or otherwise, to escape responsibility for his just debts, if he is inclined to evade it.

NORTH RENFREW.

SECOND PROTEST FILED AFTER A RACE AGAINST TIME.

First one went Astray—Obtained from the Post Office by False Pretences—A Special Messenger and an Opportune Special Train—A Plot that Failed.

There is an interesting story behind the filing at Osgoode Hall on Friday of the protest against the return of Mr. A. T. White, the Conservative member for North Renfrew. Mr. Colin McIntosh, a Carleton place lawyer, has been acting as agent for the Liberals in preparing some protests in the eastern part of the Province. On Tuesday he received a telegram from the Liberal headquarters in Toronto to see the leading Liberals at Pembroke and have the protest forwarded.

Word was received from Mr. McIntosh on Thursday morning to the effect that the protest had been mailed at Pembroke on Wednesday. As the petition had not been delivered a telegram was immediately sent to Mr. McIntosh, who again replied, assuring the questioner that the protest had been duly forwarded.

The Postmaster-General was then communicated with by wire and a special messenger was also despatched to Pembroke on the 12.30 C. P. R. express. This was seen on Thursday, and as the protest had to be filed by 4 p.m. on Friday, the matter had assumed the aspect of an exciting race against time.

Within an hour a reply was received from the Postmaster-General stating that the Pembroke packet had been delivered safely in Toronto. It was addressed to Mr. R. A. Grant of Karr, McDonald, Davidson & Patterson, and shortly after this Mr. Grant received a telephone message from the Toronto postoffice to the effect that the letter had been delivered to him in the morning before the regular hour for opening the postoffice. Mr. Grant denied most emphatically that he had received the parcel, and he was then told that someone, representing himself to be Mr. Grant, had called early at the postoffice and said he expected some important papers from Pembroke, as he wished to file them at Osgoode Hall. The Pembroke letter, which was not registered, was accordingly handed to him.

A JOKE ON THE JOKERS.

It was generally known on Thursday that something had happened in connection with the North Renfrew protest, as telephone inquiries were made of Liberals in every section of the city to find out if there was going to be a protest in North Renfrew. There was ill concealed mirth with many of the inquiries, and it was plain that the joke was too great to keep and it had got out. The point of the joke was that it was generally supposed that Thursday was the last day when a protest could be received from North Renfrew. But this was not the case, and, therefore, when the second protest was filed yesterday afternoon the proceedings savoured largely of a first of April joke to those who had sought to frustrate the proceedings.

However, it was by the merest good fortune that the protest was received in time, and had not the messenger been fortunate enough to catch a special train that came through from Winnipeg and so arrive at 10 o'clock yesterday morning it is altogether likely that the protest would have been received too late.

A MOST SERIOUS OFFENCE.

No reflection is cast upon the postoffice authorities, but a determined effort will be made to locate the person who obtained the letter under false pretences. The offence is a serious one and is covered by 49 Victoria, chap. 35, sec. 79, which reads as follows:—"Everyone who steal, embezzles, secretes or destroys any post letter is guilty of felony, and liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, and not less than three years; unless such post letter contains any chattel, money, or valuable security—in which case the offender shall be liable to imprisonment for life, or for a term not less than five years."

Section 89 also bears on the case, when it states: Everyone who unlawfully opens, or wilfully keeps, secretes, delays or detains, or procures, or suffers to be unlawfully opened, kept, secreted, or detained, any post letter bag, or any post letter—whether the same came into the possession of the offender by finding, or otherwise, howsoever, . . . is guilty of a misdemeanor."

SEEKING MODIFICATION.

The Presbyterians are discussing the advisability of term pastorates, while the Methodists are considering the question of permanent ones. This is only another evidence of the readiness of these great bodies to adapt their policy to the necessities of the times. It would be wrong to state that either of them think it is time for a change in the method of placing ministers everywhere. What both bodies are aiming at and what will be probably brought about in time by wise legislation, is greater freedom of choice in special cases, to take a pastorate for a settled term, with power of withdrawal or of remaining for a longer period at the end of that term. If the Presbyterians can devise a scheme whereby pastorates can be exchanged at the end of given terms (without any reflection on pastors or people) they will solve a difficulty that sometimes confronts that body. If the Methodists can arrange for lengthy pastorates where the circumstances demand them, they will do much to maintaining Methodist development at a higher ratio.—St. Thomas Journal.

NEW GERMAN TREATIES.

England's Commercial Circles Excited by Canada's Action.

London, April 4.—Unusual interest is taken in commercial circles in the negotiations in connection with the new treaties between Belgium and Germany, made necessary by Canada's action. It is understood that strong representations are being made to Hon. Mr. Balfour for the establishment of a special committee of trade experts to prevent the inclusion in the treaty of any provisions which hamper in the smallest degree a full development of the inter-provincial commerce.

SIBERIAN LINE OPENED.

The First Vestibuled Train in Russia—Luxurious Coaches.

London, April 4.—The first through train de luxe to be despatched direct to Tomak over the Siberian line, which in a few years will run to Port Arthur, is finished. It is composed of four splendid cars built at Moscow, an open saloon dining car, bathroom, library, telephones, electric lighting, refrigerators, ventilating apparatus, piano, chess and means for gymnastic exercise. Nothing like it has ever been seen on a Russian railroad.

GOING AWAY TO FIGHT.

Canada as a Recruiting Ground for the U. S. Navy.

London, April 4.—Journals here comment upon the heavy enlistment at Montreal during March of Canadians for the United States navy, and most uncomplimentary language is being used at the expense of the British Admiralty for not using the Atlantic and Pacific sections of Canada as a recruiting ground for men and boys for the British navy.

Charge of the Light Brigade.

London, April 4.—The trumpet upon which Trumper-Major Joy of the Seventeenth Lancers sounded the order for the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaclava, with Joy's four medals, was sold at auction during the week for 750 guineas.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and fearnestly thankful for my cure.

FOUND DEAD ON THE FLOOR.

A Young Man From Chicago Killed Himself in Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., April 4.—A young man, registering as J. H. Tushband, Chicago, was found dead beside his bed in his room at the Manning at 1 p.m. Saturday. At 8 in the morning he sent down an order for two whiskey "eye-balls," which were given him by William Cody, a bell-boy, who, it is said, was the last person who saw the unfortunate man alive. Young Cody says that the man looked very pale and worried when he served him. The deceased had paid up his bill and the proprietor thought at noon that he had left the house. The bell-boy, Cody, being sent upstairs, found the room locked. The clerk opened the door and beheld Tushband lying dead on the floor. His shoes and coat were off, and his vest unbuttoned. On the table were the empty whiskey glasses, and a small empty bottle was found on the floor. On a table were found three cards. One was a business card of A. A. Vantine & Company of New York, on the back of which was written: "My dear Nellie, I love you; you are too good for me, but I shall pray for you and mamma. This is from the grave. We shall meet again."

On another card, dated Windsor, Canada, 4-3, 8.30, was written: "Good bye, sweetest and dearest of mammas, forgive and forget me. My last thoughts are of you. May the Lord protect you, is the wish of your worthless son.—Julius."

An inquest will not likely be held. Tushband had evidently committed suicide, perhaps by taking poison in the whiskey. He was of medium height, clean-shaved, had black hair, and wore a fairly good black suit. A picture of a young lady, presumably that of his sweetheart, was found in the inside pocket of his vest.

The Klondike Str. Tartar.

Vancouver, April 4.—The steamer Tartar has arrived in harbor, and is the finest vessel yet to be engaged in the Klondike trade. She will be joined by the Athenian, another first-class boat, in a few days. The Tartar left Southampton on Feb. 5 and the schedule time to arrive in Vancouver was April 1. She was punctual. Before being placed on the northern service she will lay the C.P.R. Telegraph Company's new cable between here and Victoria.

After Serious Sickness

The Heart and Nerves Need Strengthening, the Blood Requires Enriching.

Nothing will do this like Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is well known that after such serious diseases as Small Pox, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid Fever, Pneumonia, Diphtheria, etc., the Heart and Nerves are left in an extremely weakened condition, and the blood is thin and watery. Nothing will so quickly and permanently impart vitality and strength to the heart and nerves, and enrich the blood as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. Leslie Faulkner, Woodstock, N. B., says:—"Our little boy contracted lung trouble during convalescence from a severe attack of Typhoid Fever, and became very pale, weak, nervous and debilitated. He had no appetite, was sleepless, and we were afraid we were going to lose him. We were recommended to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and were surprised to see the wonderful improvement in his health which they effected. They toned up his nerves, enriched his blood, and as a result he is now strong and well, has a good appetite, rosy cheeks and sleeps soundly at nights."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, or sent by mail on receipt of price. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

LEASE OF WEI-HAI-WEI

Britain Demands It of China to Even Up Disturbed Balance.

A DEMAND FOR LI HUNG'S HEAD.

A High Chinese Official Says the Tsung-Li-Yamen Was Bought by Russia for Ten Million Taels—How Russia Assumed Possession of Port Arthur—Cable News.

Pekin, April 4.—Great Britain has demanded a lease of Wei-Hai-Wei, on the Shan-Tung Peninsula, after Japanese evacuation, as a compensation for the disturbance of the balance of power in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li.

In diplomatic circles small doubt is entertained that China will concede the demand, which is believed to be favorably regarded by Japan.

LI HUNG CHANG BRIBED.

So Says a Chinaman of High Rank, Who Demands Li's Head—Will Give His Own Head if It's Not True.

Shanghai, April 4.—It is announced that a person of the highest rank has memorialized the Emperor in the most vigorous language, accusing the whole Tsung-Li-Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office) of being in the pay of Russia. He asserts that Russia expended 10,000,000 taels in bribery during the recent negotiations regarding the cession of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan, etc., and claims that Li Hung Chang's share was 1,500,000 taels. Thereupon the personage referred to demands a full investigation and asks that Li Hung Chang be beheaded if the accusations are proven, the memorializer offering to be executed himself if his charges are not sustained.

The Chinese complain bitterly of the fact that they do not possess a war port for the five warships which are being built for them abroad and which are due to arrive in Chinese waters this summer. Unless Wei-Hai-Wei, occupied by the Japanese, is evacuated, which is doubtful, the Chinese have no place in which to receive their new warships.

British Gunboats In and Out.

The Russians have permitted two British gunboats to enter and leave Port Arthur freely. The British first-class cruiser Grafton, flagship of Rear-Admiral C. P. Fitzgerald, second in command on the China station, and the first-class cruiser Powerful, the armored cruiser Narcissus, the second-class cruiser Rainbow and other vessels of the squadron left Che-Foo on Saturday. Their destination is unknown, but it is reported to be Chemulpo, the port of Seoul, capital of Corea.

The movements of warships excite the greatest interest among foreigners here. It is supposed they will make a demonstration, possibly in support of some British demands for concessions.

Has Britain Made a Grab?

London, April 4.—The Sunday Special's Berlin correspondent asserts that news has reached Berlin that Great Britain has seized Chusan Island, off the east coast of China, opposite the estuary of the Tsin-Tan-Kiang.

RUSSIA TAKES POSSESSION.

Official Description of the Occupation of Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The following official description of the occupation of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan by the Russians has been made public:

By command of the Emperor and for the purpose of fulfilling the conditions set forth in the convention with the Chinese Government, Gen. Crodekow, commanding the Amur district, dispatched from Vladivostock, on March 17, a detachment of troops with orders to join the landing parties of the Pacific squadron at Port Arthur, commanded by Rear-Admiral Dubassoff. The Chinese troops began their departure on March 27, the last column marching out at 1 a.m. on the following morning. Five hours later the Russians landed and began the occupation of the forts. By 8 o'clock the troops were in position. Russian flags were then run up on all the vessels of the fleet, and Russian and Chinese flags on the forts. Salutes were fired by the ships and forts. A similar programme was carried out at Ta-Lien-Wan.

Measures will be begun immediately for the effective occupation of the territory ceded to Russia in the Kwang-Tung Peninsula.

The Czar has thanked Rear-Admiral Dubassoff for the manner in which he has carried out his orders.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Miners' Strike in Wales.

London, April 4.—The miners in South Wales collieries have gone on strike. The strike threatens to be serious. Russia is the first sufferer. The steamer Labuan now at Cardiff, ought to have finished loading 6,000 tons of coal at mid-day for the Russian warships at Port Arthur. As yet she has not succeeded in getting any of her cargo aboard.

China's Railway Stopped.

London, April 4.—A despatch to the Times from Pekin says that as China, at Russia's bidding, has stopped the railway construction northward to the Great Wall, which was recently begun under English engineers, 3,000,000 taels worth of orders for material that were placed in Great Britain, the United States and Germany have been cancelled.

A Straight Demand on China.

Pekin, April 4.—The British Minister here, Sir Claude Macdonald, had an important conference Saturday with the Chinese Foreign Office. Great Britain demanded important compensatory concessions for the purpose of maintaining the balance of power in the far East.

GREAT BRITAIN'S FINANCES.

Enormous Total of the Gross Receipts for Imperial and Local Taxes.

London, April 4.—The aggregate gross receipts from Imperial and local taxes for the fiscal year, which ended on March 31, were £116,016,314, or £317,767 more than the receipts of 1896-97. The total amount constitutes a record. The chief increases were as follows: Customs, £548,784; excise, £900,256; estate duties, £1,864,661; stamps, £300,00; property and income tax, £600,000; telegraph and post-office, £410,000.

There were fewer applications than usual for a new capital during the month of March, but the Chinese loan brings total amount offered to the public to nearly £16,500,000. This makes the total for the first quarter of 1898 nearly £40,000,000, the biggest in many years.

The ship building boom is unprecedented, as can be gauged from the figures of the Clyde Bank, where 40,000 tons were turned out in March. Orders were booked in March for 190,000 tons, and the work now on hand and ordered totals up 625,000 tons, almost double the whole output of 1897.

M. ZOLA'S CONVICTION QUASHED.

A Technical Error in Legal Procedure Aids the Famous Author.

Paris, April 4.—The Court of Sessation has quashed the sentence of one year's imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine imposed upon M. Emile Zola on Feb. 23 as a result of the collapse of the charges made by him in the Aurore against the conduct of the Esterhazy court-martial, but the court has not ordered a trial before another assize.

The decision is based on the fact that the president of the court-martial, instead of the War Minister, should have lodged the complaint against M. Zola, and it was the court-martial that was assailed by the famous author and editor.

EIGHTEEN WERE LOST.

Str. Magnet Was the Steamer Sunk by the British Princess.

Lowestoft, April 4.—The suspicion is confirmed that it was the German steamer Magnet, from Pomaron, March 6, for Stettin, that was sunk on March 16 in collision off Gabbard Lightship with the British bark British Princess, Captain Scott, from Leith to Liverpool.

The brother of the Magnet's captain has arrived here and identified wreckage wedged in the bows of the British Princess when towed into Lowestoft harbor March 16 with her bows stove and her forepeak full of water.

The captain's brother reports also that the Magnet sank almost immediately and that 18 of her company were drowned.

WHEAT STRONG.

Better Export Demand and the Probability of War Were the Chief Factors—The Local Prices.

Saturday Evening, April 2.

After a week of comparative weakness the wheat market firmed up to-day and became strong on the possibility of war, improved export demand and large covering by shorts. In Chicago May and July wheat both gained 1½c for the day, the September and December options advancing 1½c and ⅝c respectively. Liverpool cables were very strong, wheat closing at from 1d to 1½d over Friday's last bids. Corn was strong on Liverpool cables of an advance of from ½d to 1d. Oats held firm and provisions advanced 10c in Chicago.

Western despatches say that there is a splendid outlook for wheat, and complaints are few. The estimates of increased acreage run from 20 per cent. in Kansas. About the same increase is indicated for Kentucky. There are some complaints from parts of Ohio, and the indicated acreage increase seems to be less. Liberal increases are suggested in Michigan. In Southern Indiana there has been some damage by high water. In the matter of farm supplies a variance of opinion is shown, such as might have been expected in view of the gross errors which have been made in estimating both the winter and spring wheat crops last year. Considerable wheat is moving in Chicago from Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, where there are wealthy farmers. There appear to be holdings of wheat there, while poorer neighbors have been drained of supplies.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

For Breaking a Plate Glass Window on George Street.

Magistrate Dumble this morning gave judgment as appended in the case against Lefave, charged with breaking a plate glass window on George street week before last:—

"The defendant herein is charged under the Code, Sec. 498, with having wilfully committed injury to a building by breaking glass.

The evidence shows that defendant, while walking down George street, was set on by a dog, which jumped up and seized him by the arm, tearing his coat. It appears to have been a quick, short attack, for the man at once passed on, the dog remaining with its owner.

When twenty-five yards from the dog the man stepped into the road and getting a stone slipped back to the sidewalk and threw it viciously and, apparently, with force at the dog.

The man was on the outside of the walk, the dog on the inner side. Opposite the dog and along for a considerable distance were plate glass windows. The stone missed the dog, striking the walk this side of him end, after bounding several times, struck the window and broke the window pane, worth $60. It was evident that the man was excited and angry, and in throwing the stone meant to punish the dog. The breaking of the glass was a result not intended, however probable.

The question is: Is the defendant criminally liable for wilfully injuring the property?

The defendant's counsel quotes the only case to be found of a similar character, The Queen vs. Pembleton, L. R. 2 C. C. P. 119

This is a case where a man who was fighting in a street threw a stone at an opponent, which missed its mark and broke a pane of glass. The information was laid under 24-25 Vic. Ch. 27, Sec. 51, and charging defendant with "wilfully and maliciously," etc.

And in that case the jury found that there was no malicious intent to break the glass and the court found the verdict of acquitted, right, the malice being negatived.

The case is thoroughly reviewed in the Queen vs. Latimer, 17 Q B. D., 1886, and the Queen vs. Martin 8 Q B 54, Rosco's criminal evidence, pages 22, 679 and 716.

Our criminal code drops the word "maliciously" and sec. 451 defines the word "wilfully" as follows:

"Everyone who causes any event by an act which he knew would probably cause it, being reckless whether such an event happens or not, is deemed to have caused it wilfully for the purposes of this part."

Now the defendant in this matter was no longer attacked by the dog. He was 75 feet away and could have gone on his way—but he vented his anger and like most excited angry men, he acted foolishly. All the way from where he stood and away beyond were plate glass windows. He threw a stone from the outside to inside of the sidewalk, where he could hardly fail to break a window.

Was he not utterly reckless whether he broke the window or not—or was he so filled with passion that he was blind to all possible results of his action?

A moment's consideration, or good sense, would have been sufficient to prevent him, but he did not give it.

I can make allowance for him being angry and revengeful, but is a man in that frame of mind, while desiring to destroy the dog—the property of one man—to be at liberty to destroy the property of another with impunity? It was not self-defence; the attack was over and he was at a safe distance.

The above authorities do not so hold, and I am of opinion that the defendant was so reckless that he cannot claim the damages as the result of an action for which he was not responsible.

The question is a very fine one, and as I am not trying the offender I feel that it should be sent for trial that a competent court may deal with it.

The defendant will be committed for trial at the next sitting of the next court of competent jurisdiction.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Police Magistrate.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

The Y. M. C. A. held their regular Sunday afternoon service in their hall yesterday at 4.15 with a very fair attendance. After opening with singing and prayer, Secretary Williamson read the sixth chapter of Isaiah, making some general comments on the subject of "Cleansing." He pointed out the spiritual need of every one present making a careful self examination in view of the evangelistic services to be held in the town during the ensuing week. The meeting was then thrown open and several members made some very thoughtful and practical remarks, illustrating the secret of divine power, which were received with earnest attention by all present. Everyone felt that a most interesting and profitable hour had been spent.

She, although (as the pastor explained) suffering from a severe cold, sang magnificently, and her clear and distinct enunciation, coupled with the sweetness and tenderness of her voice, quite brought down the house. Especially taking was her rendition of "La Serenata," accompanied on the violin by Miss Smith and on the piano by Mr. Morse; also one of her encore pieces, "When I'm big I'll be a Soldier."

ARSENIC IN NORTH HASTINGS.

This Important Substance Exists in Merchantable Quantities.

Arsenic is said to be found in abundance in North Hastings. A concern at work has produced white arsenic, yellow arsenic and orpiment which is red arsenic. "The red arsenic is worth twice as much as the white, and it has never before been produced in North America outside of Mr. Eame's laboratory until it was produced a few days ago in North Hastings," says one of the men interested. "The sale of red arsenic is at present solely under the control of the king of Saxony, and the Saxony government is the only producer of red arsenic for the trade; but North Hastings will now take its place in this market, as well as in all arsenical markets. The white arsenic of commerce has at present England for its chief producer, and until we are able to establish a reputation for the arsenic of this country, we will have the English market to contend with."

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The local lacrosse boys are trying to persuade Lionel King to run for the First Vice-Presidency of the Canadian Lacrosse Association. If he allows his name to go before the convention he will without doubt be returned to office, as through his connection with the Executive of the Ontario Hockey Association he has become widely known as a "sport," in the highest sense of the term, and a top-sawyer both in hockey and lacrosse, and there is a strong feeling prevalent to the effect that the East should be represented among the C. L. A. officials.

The eleventh annual convention of the Canadian Lacrosse Association will be held in Toronto on Good Friday, and there is every indication that it will be a good and satisfactory meeting, productive of much benefit for the national game. One of the provisions in the constitution, which now comes into force for the first time, requires that each club, to have a voice at the convention, must mail to the Association Secretary not later than Monday, April 4th, an application signed by the President and Secretary. The attention of lacrosse clubs is now directed to this important point.

Among the proposed amendments to be dealt with at the Good Friday meeting is one from Messrs. J. D. Bailey and Fred W. Thompson, of the Toronto Elms, strengthening the growing feeling that clubs organized for voting purposes and not existing after the convention must be suppressed. This notice provides an order of business under which new clubs are not admitted until after the officers of the association are elected.

President Craig has a large number of notices on the paper. The power to remove an umpire is abolished, and if the amendments are adopted the umpires will no longer be at the mercy of opposing field-captains or partisan spectators.

He also asks the convention to order that players' certificates must be presented to the referee an hour before the announced time of a match, and that the responsibility of the home club for keeping a clear field be strictly defined. The penalty of expulsion is provided for clubs that take their gate in the first match of a home-and-home series and then default in the second.

Another important proposition from Mr. Craig is that the Judicial Committee shall consist of the President and four members to be elected at the annual convention, thus doing away with the present happy-go lucky method of getting a Judicial Committee together.

Mr. D. A. Rose gave notice of a proposal to permit of professional players in association clubs, under restrictions to be arranged, also to have the C.L.A. deal with its own expelled players, without reference to the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada, both of which will attract attention.

Two notices deal with the residential qualification of players. Messrs. Thompson and Bailey propose to abolish it, but to retain the obligation on players to be members for thirty days of the club they represent. The Markham club would retain the residential qualification, but do away with the provision that a player must have 30 days membership in the club.

Mr. Francis Nelson proposes to equip the goal poles with nets.

Mr. T. Herbert Lennox, of Aurora, is in the field for the office of President; Mr. T. R. Glanville, of Mount Forest, for 1st Vice-President, and Messrs. P. McMillan, of Beaverton, and B. R. Kean, of Orillia, for 2nd Vice-President.

THE WHEEL.

Bobcaygeon bicycle club has re-organized with the following officers:
President—A. E. Bottum.
Sec.-Treas—M. Walsh.
Captain—R. Hurst.
Lieut—W. Fiewell.
Club colours are red, black and yellow.

When Mary went to school, you know,
As quiet as a clam,
What was it close beside did go?
'Twas Mary's little lamb.

Since Mary bought a 'cycle new
It makes the people laugh
To see beneath her skirt of blue
Dear Mary's little calf.

The Kingston Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Club is supporting Peterborough for the meet. Ed. Wetlauffer, of the Waterloo Bicycle Club, was in town to-day, and says the boys are all for Peterborough.

The Wanderers of Toronto meet to-night to decide whom they will support for the meet.

SOUNDS LIKE GUFF.

The Ottawa Journal says: If Ottawa gets the C.W.A. provincial meet, they will hang up the biggest prize list that has ever been given at a bicycle meet in Canada. The friends of the club are enthusiastic for the meet, and in one day—yesterday—$700 was subscribed for the prize list. If Ottawa gets the meet, this amount will be largely added to.

WILL BE A GREAT RACE.

The matched race which has been arranged between John R. Gentry, 2 00 1-4, and Guinette, 2.05, is exciting considerable interest already, although the race does not come off until Sept. James A. Murphy is the owner of Guinette and E. R. Brown is the trainer of Gentry. The stakes are $10,000 a side.

HAS NO GALL.

New York, April 1.—James J. Corbett writes to the World as follows:
San Francisco, March 29.

The report that I am to run for Congress is true. I have received letters from my friends in the Harlem District asking if I would accept the Democratic nomination next fall. I have written that I will accept, and, if nominated, will make personal canvass. If elected, my friends will never have cause to regret having honoured me with the high office.

If elected I will advocate all measures designed to free Cuba and speedily retrieve the sufferings of her people. I think President McKinley's course altogether too conservative. I favour prompt and aggressive action under the existing circumstances.

JAMES. J. CORBETT.

A BLAZE AT KINMOUNT.

General Store and Dwelling Destroyed in the Village.

About 1 30 Friday morning fire was discovered in a dwelling occupied by Mr. Acheson, general merchant, Kinmount, and quickly spread to his store adjoining. The citizens turned out promptly and worked with a will to save the stock, but owing to the fierce heat and the rapidity with which the flames spread very little could be removed. It was at one time feared that the fire would sweep the street but the heroic exertions of the villagers succeeded in confining it to the Acheson premises.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

They Will be Held in St. Andrews and St. Paul's Churches During the Week.

Rev. Wm. Patterson, of Cooke's church, Toronto, will conduct evangelistic services in St. Andrew's to-night and to-morrow night, and in St. Paul's Thursday and Friday nights.

The meetings are conducted under the auspices of the both congregations and are open to the public.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The Bines Bros. will assist in the Easter Song Service in St. Andrew's next Sunday evening.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was partaken of in St. Andrew's church yesterday.

Palms were distributed in St. Peter's Cathedral at the 10.30 service yesterday morning.

The Catholic Order of Foresters received corporate communion at eight o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday.

The evangelistic services under the superintendance of Rev. W. L. Patterson, of Toronto, begin this evening in St. Andrew's church.

The evening anthem in the Charlotte street Methodist church was entitled "Lead Kindly Light." Miss Flossie Hall took the solos in admirable voice.

Rev. D. O. Crossley's Song Sermon drew an exceedingly large congregation to the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening. The service was greatly appreciated by those participating.

The anthem, "Light of the World," was well rendered in the Charlotte street church Sunday morning. Miss Flossie Hall took the solos and Mr. A. L. Davis and Mr. W. J. Squires the duet parts.

Rev. J. C. Davidson explained to his congregation yesterday that $1,900 of the $2,500 needed to enlarge the school house was in hand, and that the special Easter Sunday offering would be utilized in augmenting the fund.

Mrs. Cullen of Toronto, is assisting at the special meetings at Bethany Mission, and sang several solos at the different meeting yesterday with great taste. These special meetings are being largely attended, and will be continued each evening this week.

Rev. W. L. Armitage last evening in All Saints' church, spoke on the text "O Worship the Lord in the Beauty of His Holiness." He referred in condemnatory terms to the class of citizens who attended church merely to hear a popular preacher. He urged that church be attended with the single object of worship.

Those who had the pleasure of hearing the selection "Abide with me" sung by a quartette, composed of Misses Flossie Hall and Martha Stevens and Messrs. Fred Skeltch and W. J. Squires, were greatly pleased, on Sunday evening in the Charlotte street church. The quartette is one of the best balanced which has been heard in town for some time.

In St. John's last night, Rev. E. V. Stevenson preached the last of an excellent series of sermons founded on the beautiful Gospel story of the prodigal son. These addresses have been thoughtful, scholarly and entertaining; but they were more than that. They enforced many valuable lessons which, if heeded, must tend to the development of Christian character, the strengthening of Christian faith, and the quickening of Christian practice.

The worshippers of St. Paul's derived great pleasure yesterday from the singing of Miss Ada Hanson of Oshawa, who sang at both services. Her morning selection was a solo, "My God and Father while I stray," and in the evening she took the solo in the chorus, "Guard While I sleep." Miss Hanson's singing is very satisfying. Her voice, while not powerful, is a sweet rich soprano, and true as a bell. What perfects its artistic employment is the clearness of enunciation, which permits every word to be heard. Her singing greatly pleased the audience yesterday.

ST. LUKE'S.

The churchwarden's of St. Luke's presented to the congregation a financial statement, showing that the offertories for the past year have been in excess of several previous years, and appealing for a liberal offering on Sunday next to extinguish the debt on the parsonage enlargement, and a small balance on the church renovation account.

The annual Vestry meeting of St. Luke's will be held next Monday week in the school house.

The Decoration Chapter of St. Luke's Guild make an appeal for pot and cut flowers for Easter decorations, to be sent to the church next Saturday morning.

St. Luke's choir are busily engaged in practising the special Easter music.

The men's Chapter of St. Luke's Guild will hold their next meeting at Mr. Frank Adams' house on Wednesday, April 20th. The subject of discussion will be "The Proposed Division of the Diocese," and will be introduced by the rector, Rev. H. Symonds. All men are cordially invited to attend.

Next Friday being Good Friday there will be Divine service in St. Luke's at 10.30 a.m, with a sermon, and at 8 o'clock in the evening, when the last of the lectures on St. Paul will be given—"St. Paul's Doctrine of Sacrifice."

QUEER BEQUESTS.

Odd Notions That Are Aired In Last Wills and Testaments.

Duchess Dudley, dying in 1655, left £100 ($500) per annum for the redemption of poor English Christian slaves from the hands of "the barbarous Turk," and in the year 1736 Thomas Belton of Hoxton proved his enmity toward his own kith and kin by cutting off his three sons and his brother Timothy with a shilling apiece, while he showed his sympathy for his distressed countrymen by leaving the bulk of his property, about $125,000, in trust to the Ironmongers' company. One-half of the interest of this large amount he directed should be expended in ransoming British subjects from slavery in Turkey or Barbary.

An old lady of Barton, Lincolnshire, being once benighted on the Lincolnshire wolds, was able to direct her steps by the sound of the curfew bell from St. Peter's church. In grateful remembrance she conveyed a piece of land of 13 acres to the parish clerk and his successors, on condition that they and he ring the bell from 7 to 8 p. m. daily, Sunday excepted, from the carrying of the first load of barley until Shrove Tuesday. The curfew bell is still rung in England in some places in accordance with old boquests.

Some persons had a curious predilection for their own names—a predilection which found vent occasionally in a puerile manner. Thus one Henry Green left his estates to his sister, with the proviso that she should give four green vests, lined with green galloon, to four poor men every Christmas, and his fellow townsman Gray directed that 6 "nobles" should be spent annually in providing six old women with vests of gray cloth and 40 shillings in providing three old men with coats of the same material.—Outlook.

How "Titus" Was Written.

"Of 'Titus' it must be said that it was the result of the belief of my mother in me," said Mrs. Florence Morse Kingsley, telling in The Ladies' Home Journal how she came to write "Titus, a Comrade of the Cross." "A favorite uncle wrote to me that such a book was wanted and said: 'Write it. You can do it.' I did not believe that I could, but my mother insisted. 'You can. It is in you. Write the book. It will be a success.' That year I was a very busy woman, for I had a young son, and 'Titus' was written with many interruptions. I would go off to write a chapter, be interrupted by a baby voice, drop my pen, rush down stairs to see whether there had been an accident of any sort or whether my little folk were having some special good time in which they wished me to join.

"While writing 'Titus' I forgot all about the possibility of its being a success or failure; only I grew to love the story. And yet it came to me in an odd way. The hours were so filled up that I seemed to have no time to think, but I have always been in the habit of waking early, and when the sun was just rising those lovely summer mornings it seemed as though the story of 'Titus' came to me in a dream and as if I were compelled to write it."

THE EGG TRADE.

The Importance of the Canadian Hen Shown Beyond Doubt—Other Markets and Prices.

Friday Evening, April 1.

Small Argentine shipments for the week, reported increased demand from France and Portugal, and the existence of a considerable short interest in Chicago combined to offset the bearish condition of wheat on that market to-day, and as a result prices advanced. July wheat gained ¾c for the day, May ½c and the September and December options ⅝c each. Liverpool cables were stronger, July wheat advancing ⅛.

The Egg Trade.

Messrs. D. Guan, Brothers & Co., in their annual egg circular to the trade, assert that the importance of the egg trade is not sufficiently appreciated. American statisticians place the total value of the eggs produced in the United States in excess of that of dairy products, cotton, wheat, the mineral output or other staple industries of the country. The same may be said of Canada, although the industry is here carried on without the detailed publicity which characterizes other branches of trade. In England, besides an enormous consumption of domestic-laid eggs, nearly $15,000,000 is spent each year in purchasing foreign supplies, France, Belgium and Denmark contribute more than two-thirds of this supply, and the moneys received in the trade represent a great deal to the farmers and peasants of those countries. Although the consumption of eggs in Canada is capable of vast expansion, there will always be, as there is to-day, a surplus available for exportation. In competing for the egg trade of the United Kingdom, it has always to be borne in mind that scrupulous care and pains must be exercised if the trade is to succeed. A fast steamship service and cold storage carrying facilities will do much to offset the advantage which Continental producers have over Canadians. But something more is required to win a good place for Canadian eggs in British markets, viz., the unanimous co-operation of producers, merchants and exporters in marketing the eggs in the best possible condition.

Egg experts assert that by intelligent poultry breeding the egg production of whole flocks may be raised from 150 to 250 per hen per year. The average output accomplished by the ordinary Canadian hen is said to be less than 100 per year, so she has lots of room to improve. By similar means, the size of the eggs themselves may be increased, and this is an important matter, for the export trade requires that eggs should average 1½ pounds per dozen.

THE RAILWAY.

Upon the iron highway, wreathed in smoke,
Or east or west the clanking engine rocks,
The weary dust spins onward at the stroke
Of half a hundred wheels.

It comes, the breathless driver staring straight
Through misty eyeholes, with the sudden gleam
Of burnished dome, and cranks of ponderous weight
And clouds of hissing steam.

Old countrymen that trudge from new plowed lands
And on high bridges stay their weary feet
See faces flashed beneath them, waving hands
That may not stay to greet.

Or slow, with hollow blast and wealthy din,
By wide armed signals cramps the laden train,
High vans with shuddering jolt and clinking pin
And him of clattering chain.

Wide eyed, affrighted cattle, meek and still,
And murky coal for city folk to burn,
And dusty blocks hewed from some western hill
And wreathed in twisted fern.

But, best of all, when, in the sullen night,
Along the dim embankment, hung in air,
Shoots the red streamer, linked with cheerful light,
The wide flung furnace glare

Lights the dim hedges and the rolling steam,
Then passes and, in narrowing distance, dies,
Tracked by the watchful lanterns' lessening gleam—
Two red, resentful eyes.

THE OLD CIRCUS MAN.

HIS TALK ABOUT THE FIRST SOUVENIRS GIVEN BY SHOW PEOPLE.

They Were Distributed by the Great Giraffe — A Thrilling Incident Which Attended One Performance—How the People Stood on the Giraffe's Shadow.

"The first souvenirs I ever knew of being given out in the show business," said the old circus man, "we gave away in our show at the time we had the big 18 foot giraffe. We never had an attraction that beat the big giraffe. The people were just carried away with him. There wasn't anything about him but what interested them, even the slightest little things. On clear days, when we were where we could do it and the sun was right for us, we used to get the giraffe out in front of the entrance of the main tent and have him stand there like a great sentry. People used to stop and look up at him, and then the first thing you know somebody'd discover his shadder. Anybody'd cast a long shadder at that hour of the day, of course, but the giraffe's shadder reached as far as you could see. And as soon as one man begun to look at it 40 others did, and then you'd see 'em. I've seen 1,000 people at a time line up long that shadder and just stand along the edge of it down past the main tent and the sideshow tents, just standing there lookin at it. The giraffe was great, but his shadder fairly staggered 'em. And there they'd stand till the sun dropped down under the edge of the earth, and the first thing they knew there wasn't any shadder. Then they'd stare at each other for a minute, and then all bunch up together again and look at the giraffe till we took him in.

"We used to have a line on the programme saying that at 3 o'clock and at 8 o'clock the great giraffe would hand around ice water. That's where the souvenirs come in. We used to give away the glasses the water was in. The glasses were marked, 'Souvenir of the Great Giraffe,' and whoever got 'em could keep 'em. The seats in our circus were divided into four sections. We used to give away four dozen tumblers at every performance, one in each section. When the time come, we'd march the giraffe around the edge of the ring, and in front of each section his keeper would hand him a wire holder holding a dozen glasses, which he would take by the handle in his mouth. Tall as he was, he could reach easy to the highest back seats. It's astonishing how people used to grab for those glasses. It seems as though the whole section would stand up on the seats and all grab for the holder when it come near 'em. They'd spill the water and get wet and have the greatest time you ever heard of, but nobody got hurt, and so we just let her buzz along. But finally something did happen.

"At one evening entertainment when he was serving out the souvenirs, when we come to one of the sections, there was a man sitting on the fourth tier from the top who picked up his boy, a bright looking youngster about 10 years old, who was sitting alongside of him, and sat him up on his shoulder. The giraffe lifted the holder up and swept it along the seats with the people grabbing, and when it come near this man with the boy on his shoulder the man just lifted him up so that the boy could stand on his shoulders. He was going to get one anyway, and when the holder came along the boy made a grab for it. There was only one glass left in it then, but the boy got it. He upset it lifting it out of the holder and scattered the water all over everybody, but that didn't count. He got the glass and was coming down with it when his father, instead of feeling him jounce down on his shoulder, felt his weight growing lighter, and the next minute he and everybody else saw the boy suspended in the air. When the giraffe saw the last glass go, he lifted the holder, the way he always did, to clear the people before swinging it around and down to the keeper. This time when he lifted it the buttons on the outside of the cuff of the boy's jacket got caught in the wires. They were sewed on the way mothers sew on buttons, and they held the youngster's weight easily, and when the giraffe lifted the holder up he lifted the boy with it.

"Then there was a scene. We knew the giraffe wouldn't hurt a fly, but it looked to the people as though he had the boy in his teeth and was going to sling him through the other end of nowhere. The whole audience rose up and stood leaning forrard, watchin and never sayin boo, but the giraffe swung his neck around as gentle and easy as the arm of a crane and lowered the holder and the boy hanging to it safe into the arms of the keeper in the ring. The boy hadn't even dropped the tumbler.

"Then the people did holler, and the giraffe walked off as stately as you please, the boy climbed back up to his pop, and the show went on. Nobody hurt, but when we run out of the tumblers we had on hand we adopted another style of souvenir."—New York Sun.

ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

STUDENT OF SHAKESPEARE.

The Natives Heard Him Recite and Thought Him a Lunatic.

An itinerant college "professor," as he styled himself, was stranded in a little backwoods settlement, and in order to raise cash enough to help him farther on the road he proposed a Shakespeare club for the literary diversion of the citizens.

"It's like those they have in the cities," he explained, "and if you folks want to keep up with the procession you must have one too."

About a dozen applied for membership and were in the hall early, waiting for the professor, who was late in getting there.

When he did arrive, after stating the object of the meeting, he proposed to give them samples of Shakespearean acting. He began with Hamlet, then tackled Macbeth and Richard III.

There was no applause from his audience while he was perspiring through the various acts. In fact, the audience was serious—very serious—and he noticed little groups forming here and there and engaging in whispered conversations.

Finally a man went forward, took the professor by the arm and said:

"You'd better come with me, pardner. Don't be afeared; we ain't gwine ter hurt you. It's all fer your own good, so come erlong now."

"What do you mean?" asked the frightened professor.

"That's all right, pardner. Jest come on quiet, an you'll fin' out what we're after. We ain't gwine ter tie you unless we has ter."

By this time several had hold of him, and he was hustled out of the building to a room in the rear of a grocery store, where he was guarded by several citizens until morning. Then he was taken before the ordinary of the county under full guard.

"He's one er them thar lunatics what jumped the asylum lately," explained the spokesman of the crowd. "The way he went on in the meetin las' night wuz orful—pitchin an rearin an hollerin an pullin at his hair like he wanted ter git his head off. We had ter keep him under close guard all night fer fear he'd hurt himself."

"I know all erbout it," said the ordinary. "I wus in the meetin myself, but escaped early. What have you got ter say fer yerself, sir?"

"I was only trying to form a Shakespeare club, when"—

"It's my opinion," interrupted the ordinary, "that what you needs most is a hickory club. I'm goin ter instruct this here jury ter fin' you guilty of lunacy in the fust degree, an may the Lord have mercy on your soul. You'll kill somebody of you ain't taken keer on, an now that we've got you we're gwine ter keep you."

It was in vain the prisoner protested. He was "a gone case," and if the high judge of the county court hadn't arrived just in the nick of time and given him ten minutes to leave town he would have boarded the next train for the lunatic asylum.—Atlanta Constitution.

"Those We Leave Behind."

Men are careless about their lives for their own sakes, but a kind and tender man should think of others; he should think if he should die of those he leaves behind to grieve and sorrow and struggle on without him. For this reason alone, if for no other, every man should regard his health as a precious treasure not to be thrown away or spent and scattered in vain.

If any man's health is weakened or wasted, or running down, he should take the right means to build himself up strong and well, so that he can both live and care for those he loves. He should investigate the virtues of that great remedy, the "Golden Medical Discovery" originated by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. It is a remedy that makes a man thoroughly well by giving power and capacity to the digestive and assimilative organs. It makes healthy invigorating blood out of the food he eats It gives him strength and energy to put into his daily task. It builds up hard muscular flesh and nerve fiber, revitalizes the tissues of the throat and lungs, heals inflammation, purges the blood of bilious poisons and makes a man, strong, vigorous and hardy.

"My husband had been sick a long time," writes Mrs. J. W. Brittin, of Clinton, Dewitt Co., Ills. (Box 475), "had doctored with home physicians and even went to Chicago and consulted a doctor there but without receiving any help. He went to the hospital and was operated on and after three months came home to die (as the doctors here thought), but after awhile he commenced to take your wonderful medicine, the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and now, thanks to your most welcome medicine, he can eat anything he wants and is again a well man."

No remedy relieves constipation so quickly and effectively as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never gripe.

Just His Luck.

"I'll pay no more," shouted Gimbly when the insurance agent called on him. "No more accident policy for me. Let 'er lapse. It's just the same as burning money for me. No use in argnin or jollyin now. I'm done donatin. I wouldn't give a dollar on the million to be insured against accident."

"What's the matter, man? Our company's good as gold."

"I don't care whether it is or not. I'm accident proof. When I was learnin to ride my bicycle, I fell off 200 times by actual count and never as much as sprained a finger. I was in a runaway where four other people were all jammed up, and I didn't have a scratch. Two months ago I was in that railroad wreck, and every living soul in the car but myself was hurt. I fell off the street car this morning, dropped through the open cellar door when I went home to lunch and was standing right beside my stable man when a horse kicked him clear across the barn, and I'm just as sound as the day I took out that policy. That's just my infernal luck. Not another dollar will you get out of me."

The next day Gimbly was laid up with a twisted back incurred by tossing the baby in the air.—Detroit Free Press.

Glass Mirrors of the Ancients.

M. Berthelot has from time to time unearthed a vast amount of valuable information respecting the chemistry and technology of the ancients. His latest researches have reference to some glass mirrors found near Rheims and which date from the third and fourth centuries. The glass was coated with a metallic substance and also with a layer of whitish material. The metal proved to be lead, with no trace of gold, silver, copper, tin, antimony or mercury, nor was there any organic substance present, showing that no extraneous material was used to cement the lead to the glass. The mirrors appeared to have been cut from hollow blown glass globes, and it is possible that before being cut the molten lead had been poured into the interior, adhering to the previously warmed glass. The whitish layer consisted of lead carbonate and lead oxide formed by the oxidation of the lead coating and calcium carbonate, which had been deposited from the water of the district in which the mirrors were found.—Industries and Iron.

Health is Better.

"I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and I was so tired that I could hardly walk I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and procured four bottles. My health is now better than it has ever been since I was a child, and I have not been sick for a long time" Miss Jessie Turnbull, Cranbrook, Ont.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

Grippe's Legacy

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs John Quigly, 30 Sheriff Street, St. John N. B., says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous, and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me"

BATTALION NOTES.

The First March Out of the Season Takes Place To-morrow Evening.

The 57th, with bugle and brass bands in attendance, will march out to-morrow evening. The Ambulance and Pioneer corps will also be on parade.

In the Militia General Orders the following in reference to the establishing of cadet corps appears:

High school cadet corps may be formed for instruction in military drill and training in the High schools or Collegiate Institutes, but such corps shall on no account be employed in active service. Application for permission to form a company shall be sent to the Minister of Education for Ontario and transmission to the Minister of Militia and Defence.

The following will be supplied to each company, free of charge, by the Department of Militia, on application through the Minister of Education: Breech-loading rifles of the Snider-Enfield or other approved pattern, with bayonet and scabbard complete. Accoutrements, consisting of a waist belt, with ball bag and bayonet frog.

Such a company could easily be formed in connection with the local Institute, and the matter ought to be taken up immediately.

It would be a compensation which the members of the Boy's Brigade could appreciate, if they could graduate and thus continue in training until they were of sufficient age to enlist in the 57th.

The militia of the Dominion may evidently expect an early issue to all of the Lee-Enfield rifle, but unless this is supplemented by a cheap issue of ammunition it will useless. The cartridges cost $25 per thousand, or two and a half cents a round, and unless the government intends to share a part of this expence, it cannot be expected that the ordinary rank and file will put in much practice, and without practice this rifle is of little value.

Lt.-Col. Gibson, president of the D. R. A. has presented a beautiful silver cup to the association for competition.

It may be interesting to those who are armed with the Lee Enfield rifle to know what it can do. The mean extreme range of the bullet may be taken at about 3,800 yards, although with a strongish rear wind 3,760 yards has been observed. The bullets find their way through joints of walls, unless the walls are made very fine and set in cement. About 120 rounds concentrated at nearly the same spot at 200 yards will break a 9 inch brick wall, and about 300 rounds at the same range will breach a 14-inch brick wall. Rammed earth gives less protection than loose. When fired into sand the bullet is found to be always turned aside after it has entered a little way. The following thicknesses of material in inches are usually necessary to stop the regulation .303 inch bullet:—Shingle between boards, 1; hardened steel ¼; good brickwork, 9; soak of coal, 12; hard dry sand well rammed, 14; wet earth, 60; compressed cotton waste, 22; oak, 27; elm, 33; teak, 36; fir, 40.

BIG MONEY IN IT.

Western Ontario Farmers Have a Chance to Get Rich in the Tobacco Growing Business.

Mr. J. S. Ardagh, M.P., South Essex, and Mr. Tweedie, M.P., in the city to-day, being a member of a deputation from the West which interviewed the Dominion Government regarding tobacco matters.

"We are not going to Klondyke in South Essex," said the latter, "We have a Klondyke of our own in Essex. Every person in this section of the country is making money. Last year Essex County had 11 mills in operation, and the receipts amounted to $33,000. The expenditure amounted, all in all, to $7,000, so he had $26,000 clear. That is good enough Klondyke for Essex County.

"Last year one mill on pounds of tobacco were produced in Ontario. This year 5,000,000 pounds will be produced and most of it will come from Essex, though I expect that there will be some produced in the neighboring county of Kent. It is a big thing for us, and there is a fortune in it for tobacco raisers.

All the tobacco men are enthusiastic over the question, and believe if the Canadian Government grants their request there will be a great future for the trade. It fame has already gone abroad, and some Kentucky business men last fall went for samples. These samples were satisfactory, and mills are soon to be established in the district.

Heretofore only the very common tobacco has been grown, but this year fancy grades will be planted.

The district is attracting attention, and moneyed men are investing in farms to go into the business.

A MARCH WEDDING.

The Participants are Well Known in Peterborough.

Between forty and fifty personal friends and relatives met on Wednesday evening, March 30th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Thomas, Dale, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Olive, to Mr. Joseph Adamson. The Rev. Wesley Down, Camborne, read the beautiful marriage ceremony of the Methodist church and pronounced them man and wife. Miss Euphemia Douglass was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Frank Dickson, Peterborough, a cousin, assisted the groom on the trying occasion. Bride and bridesmaid both looked lovely. The bridal gifts were numerous, costly, ornamental and useful, showing conclusively the high regard in which the young lady was held among her acquaintances. After all had partaken of a bounteous repast the young couple went to their new home near Baltimore, followed by a shower of rice and old shoes and the best wishes of all their friends.—Port Hope Guide.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. S. R. Callaway, a Canadian who began railroad work at $100 a year, will succeed Mr. Chauncy M. Depew, as president of the Vanderbilt system of railways. Mr. Callaway is quite well known in Peterborough, having relatives here. Mr. Callaway was something of a poet, too, but not enough to spoil his practical qualities.

The G.T.R. time will be absolutely correct in future all over the system, as Prof. McLeod, of McGill University observatory, has consented to take charge of the company's time service.

Jackson Duval, the Allandale brakesman, who was killed at Huntsville last Tuesday, was known to many of the employees running out of Peterborough.

The rate war between the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. lines is as keenly contested as ever. Since its commencement the representatives have met twelve times, and another conference will be held on April 15th, at New York.

By a vote of 294,000 to 176,000 the people of Switzerland have declared for the purchase and operation of railways by the federal government. Six years ago they voted against a similar measure. At that time the price asked for the railroads was believed to be too high, while the price now fixed is believed to have been fair to all interested.

HENRY GEORGE'S LATEST AND LAST BOOK.

"The Science of Political Economy."

No book of late years, of its class and character, has achieved a wider constituency of readers, nor aroused more thought than Henry George's great book, "Progress and Poverty." It is with great interest, therefore, that his last work, completed in its main essentials a short time before his death on Oct. 29th, 1897, was looked for. Mr. George N. Morang, Toronto, has just issued this great work in a most excellent typographical form—in print, paper and binding, a credit to the bookmaker's art. Henry George's latest work is in one sense complementary to his "Progress and Poverty." Mr. George has in it addressed himself to the task of putting into clear and systematic form the principles of political economy, which he thinks is the science of most practical importance to mankind to-day, "since it treats of the laws of production and distribution, of matters that absorb the larger part of the thought and effort of the vast majority of us—the getting of a living." In writing this work the author begins at the beginning. Acting on the sentiment of Aristotle that "definitions are the basis of systematic reasoning," Mr. George sets out by carefully defining the meaning of the words used as the terms of political economy. Upon this foundation he builds a superstructure in five grand divisions—the meaning of political economy; the nature of wealth; the production of wealth; the distribution of wealth; money—the medium of exchange and measure of value. Under these divisions the subject is exhaustively treated, in language and by reasoning comprehensible to the average intelligence. Yet, simple as the language is, it is apparently the expression of full consideration—every paragraph and almost every sentence represents thought in concrete form, suited to popular understanding. In the limit of reasonable space nothing like a review could be attempted. A book of over 500 pages, whose every line is of ponderable worth, must be read to have its value appreciated or even its scope comprehended. The reader who is familiar, to the smallest degree with the writings of Henry George, will be quite willing to take his "Science of Political Economy" on trust. That it is worth reading goes without saying. The publisher of the Canadian edition, Mr. Morang, has put the book in such readable shape, apart from the intrinsic merits of the treatment of the subject, that it must command a wide sale among all to whom reading is not a mere medium of entertainment, but an avenue of truth that touches every side of human conditions. Toronto: Geo. N. Morang. For sale at the Peterborough Books'ore.

McComb & Co's. New Store.

Since moving to our new store next to Hooper's confectionery, we have been greeted with a largely increased business. While our bankrupt stock lasts we are, of course, offering unequalled values in gloves, hosiery, underwear, men's overshirts, ties, socks and ladies and gentlemen's furnishings. This is helping to attract trade, because prices are a lot lower than the lowest. McComb & Co., third store door from Charlotte street. dw

CARPET SUPREMACY
CARPET LOVELINESS
--- AT ---
Robert Fair's.

We are proud of our Carpet Importations for 1898. We have outdone our very best efforts of the past in making the display of the New Season's Patterns out of reach of comparison with any Carpet consignment ever brought to Peterborough. Such a statement is full of meaning when made by this store. Shoppers who have compared Carpet stocks as they see them in other stores are astonished when they view the stocks at the Golden Lion. Not even in Toronto is there a more complete exhibition of New, Rich and Exclusive designs shown. There may be a larger but not a better display, but quantity never did stand for quality and designs.

Our contracts with the makers of these Carpets for this season's supply amount to many thousands of yards, and are very different from the ordinary run of Carpets shown this this season, many of the patterns being exclusive designs, which were personally selected and made for US ONLY. We have for years made a specialty of exclusive designs, which are owned by us, and cannot be obtained elsewhere.

With ample capital to buy these goods and ample courage to take larger quantities, we secure advantage which precludes the necessity of resorting to "seconds" in qualities or styles that are questionable. The Golden Lion goes to the fountain sources of production, and has facilities at its command which overcome all such trade technicalities, and it is impossible to buy in the ordinary way to retail at OUR prices.

Those who are refurnishing their homes at this season, either wholly or in part, will find it well worth a trip to ROBERT FAIR'S to inspect their extensive Showrooms containing Imported Carpets, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Mattings and Rugs. Unrivalled selection in the respective lines.

Customers to ROBERT FAIR'S are not limited to Peterborough citizens alone, but come to FAIR'S from all parts to buy their Carpetings. It is really a mistake for any one who has much to buy not to become acquainted with our immense stocks and our extra special prices!—

MESSAGE FINISHED.

President McKinley Will Send It to Congress Wednesday.

FAVORS CUBAN INDEPENDENCE.

The Intervention of Pope Leo Volunteered—His Holiness Would Not Act Unless Armistice in Cuba Was Granted—Sagasta's Last Chance—Was Havana Harbor Mined?

Washington, D.C., April 5.—The President has completed his Cuban message, and it will be presented to Congress on Wednesday.

Will Recognize Cuban Independence.

Washington, April 5.—A leading Administration member of Congress, after a close conference at the White House yesterday, said:

"The message will go into Congress about Wednesday. The President has taken a very firm and determined attitude, and he means to carry out that policy to the letter. The President intends to recognize Cuban independence and may go further than that and propose intervention. This is his policy, and it will be disclosed in the official action very shortly."

$16,000,000 Damages Claimed.

Washington, April 5.—Claims against Spain aggregating $16,000,00 for accident and loss incident to the war in Cuba have been filed with the State Department by citizens of the United States residing in that country. They cover claims for personal injury, imprisonment, loss of stock, burning of sugar plantations, etc.

A FREE CUBA.

Nothing Less Will Do for President McKinley and His Advisers, Say the Reports From Washington.

Washington, D.C., April 5.—The two foremost branches of the Cuban question in Washington yesterday were the President's message and European mediation, which now has taken an active form in the courts of Europe, according to advices received at foreign embassies here, though no proffer has been made to the United States. Regarding the first, it can be stated that it is fully expected by the Administration that the message will be sent to Congress on Wednesday in all probability, and certainly by Thursday.

Members of Mr. McKinley's Cabinet and his friends in Congress stated definitely yesterday that it will deal vigorously with the question, will include the Maine incident, and will make definite recommendations to Congress, one of which will be the recognition of Cuban independence. As to the mediation of Europe or the Pope, they declare that these material and moral powers must exercise their suasion on Spain, for this Government will insist on independence of Cuba as an ultimate sine quo non, unless the insurgents themselves should consent to less, and this they flatly refused to do. Speaking on this point, one of the Cabinet officers said yesterday: "You can say for me that all the power of Europe and the heads of all the churches may propose mediation to Spain if they desire, but the United States will positively not listen to mediation of any kind that does not lead to the acceptance of our condition, which is the independence of Cuba."

While there was no attempt to force consideration for a resolution regarding the Cuban situation in the House yesterday, there was a brief outbreak, in the course of which the warlike temper of the crowded galleries was so manifest that Speaker Reed threatened to clear them if it was repeated. The outbreak occurred over a bill to authorize the President to erect temporary fortifications in case of emergency on land, when the written consent of the owners was obtained, without awaiting legal formalities. This led to a demand by Mr. Bailey, the Democrat leader, for information as to the facts which warranted all these war measures. The particular statement which aroused the galleries was to the effect that, while the Democrats were willing to wait any reasonable time for the President to transmit a message that would meet the approval of the American people, they would not wait a minute for him to continue negotiations with the "butchers of Spain," when the demonstrations in the gallery were rebuked by the Speaker. He declared that the galleries were the American people in miniature.

Mr. Cannon accused Mr. Bailey of "posturing," and playing to the galleries. The bill was passed.

SUBMARINE MINES.

They Were of the Gibbons Pattern and It Is Thought That a Ground Mine Blew Up the Maine.

London, April 5.—Details have been obtained by the Associated Press of the manufacture of submarine mines in London for Spain, which was first brought to the attention of the United States Embassy and cabled to the Associated Press on March 5. A man whose cards describe him as being an electrical engineer, and whose name was forwarded at the time to Washington, then said he sold to Spanish officers in London several years ago a large number of mines, eight or ten of which were placed in Havana harbor.

Lieut.-Commander J. C. Colwell, the United States Naval Attache, has since investigated the matter, and has made a report on the subject to the United States Government. The facts learned strongly tend to show that Havana harbor was mined, and they unquestionably prove that Spain purchased mines for that purpose. The firm of Lattimer, Rhodes & Clark, electrical engineers, during 1887-1888, filled a large order for Spain of a lot of mines in which were used 14½ tons of guncotton. The work was done under the surveillance of General Fernandez and Captain Rustamento. The latter was then the head of the Spanish Torpedo School. By the order of these officers, the mines were divided into four consignments, for Havana, Ferrol, Cadiz and Carthagena. The mines were manufactured under the direction of J. P. Gibbons, after Gibbons' patents, which are described in Slamen's book on torpedoes and mines.

Gibbons, from whom a report of the Associated Press obtains the information, and who furnished Lieut.-Commander Colwell with a written statement of the above facts and outlined his theory of the explosion which wrecked the Maine, was then employed by the firm as superintendent of the torpedo department. Gibbons, who is a former sergeant of engineers and a Government inspector of torpedoes, believes the Maine's first explosion was caused by what is technically called a ground mine, containing 500 pounds of guncotton, several of which were manufactured for Spain.

POPE LEO TO MEDIATE.

Report Confirmed—Made It a Condition That Spain Grant Armistice.

London, April 5.—It is announced here that the Pope will mediate between Spain and the United States, both Governments having accepted this.

Madrid, April 5.—The Pope, in a telegram to the Queen Regent, says that "As the father of all the faithful" he could not intervene unless a stop was put to "shedding the blood of those who are God's sons." Therefore he asks for a suspension of hostilities.

London, April 5.—The Daily Mail, in its second edition, publishes a special despatch from Madrid, dated midnight, confirming the announcement of the Pope's offer to mediate.

London, April 5.—Premier Sagasta yesterday expressed the hope that "Peaceful considerations would influence the American politicians," declaring that the Pope's mediation is "practically the last chance of averting war."

Madrid, April 5.—Events are moving rapidly and the best informed people here believe an armistice between the Spaniards and Cubans will be proclaimed within two days.

The Pope sent an eloquent telegram to the Queen Regent, urging Spain to grant an armistice in Cuba, with the view of allowing negotiations to be carried on between the insurgents and the Cuban authorities for the early conclusion of a permanent peace. The Pope dwelt on the suffering in Cuba and urged that Her Majesty take action on humitarian and not on political grounds.

Prior to taking this action, it is said, the Pope, through a representative at Washington, asked President McKinley if it would be agreeable to him should the Pope advise the Queen Regent to grant an armistice, and it is understood the President expressed willingness that the Pope should do anything in his power.

Rome, April 5.—The Vatican refuses to publish the text of the communications which have passed between the Pontiff and Madrid, but the statement that His Holiness has asked Spain to arrange for a suspension of hostilities in Cuba is confirmed.

A BIG AMOUNT OF BOOTY BAGGED.

The Safe Blown Open—Narrow Escape From Fire by the Explosives—$271 and Valuable Papers and Notes Taken—Clue to the Miscreants.

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, April 5th—The postoffice and J. B. Pearce and Son's store were broken into last night. The safe was blown open and stamps to the amount of $206, and about $175 in cash were taken, together with several hundred dollars worth of notes and valuable papers. The store had a narrow escape from fire caused by explosives used. Two suspicious looking characters who were around town yesterday have been seen at Blairton this afternoon.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The treasurer was authorized to pay the assessors their salaries of $40 each.

When the question of the waterworks was brought up the reeve explained that the Water Co. have agreed to withdraw their purchasing clause in the agreement for construction of the proposed water works system, and make terms for ten years, providing that the town of Peterborough does not purchase within that time, in which case new arrangements would have to be entered into with the town.

Councillors Craig and Rutherford moved that the time for the return of Collector's roll be further extended until the 15th April, 1898—Carried

L. O. L., No. 321, was granted the use of the town hall for $4, on the evening of April 15th, on which occasion both Rev. H. Symonds and Rev. W. L. Armitage deliver addresses.

Councillors Rutherford and Craig moved that the clerk be instructed to ask for tenders for street watering for the season of 1898—from May 1st to 15th October—the same territory to be watered as last year; tenders to be received up to April 25th.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

MR. HENRY VARLEY.

The Celebrated English Evangelist Commences a Week's Services Next Monday.

The attention of the citizens of Peterborough is called to the visit of the celebrated English evangelist, Mr. Henry Varley, who commences a week's services next Sunday.

It is expected that the first meetings will be held in the St. Paul's Presbyterian church. However, full announcements will be made later in the week.

The meetings will be of a union character. A meeting of ministers, representing a number of congregations and the Young Men's Christian Association, was held yesterday to make arrangements.

This is Mr. Varley's third visit to Canada, although his first to Peterborough. He has during the past few weeks been holding meetings in London and Brantford, where in the latter place hundreds were turned away, unable to gain admission to the building. Mr. Varley might be characterized as more of a Bible teacher than an evangelist. He is a plain outspoken exponent of the Word of God. He is not a sensationalist in any sense of the word. He is a specialist with men, and will probably address a meeting for men only next Sunday.

In connection with the meetings Bible readings will be given every afternoon.

TO-DAY'S FIRE.

A Defectively Built Chimney Breaks Into Flames.

The Brigade was summoned to the residence of Mrs. McIntosh, George street, this morning, and on arrival found the roof in a blaze. The flames were quickly extinguished before much damage had been done.

The fire was occasioned through a defectively-built chimney, it being built up from a wooden shelf in the second story, which suddenly burst into flames.

As Mrs. McIntosh is an invalid the fright occasioned by the fire was such as to reduce her to a state of prostration, which seriously alarmed her friends.

THE SENATE AND THE YUKON BILL.

The Montreal Witness, in the course of an able article upon the "constitutional deadlock," caused by the action of the Senate in the matter of the Yukon railway bill, says :—"The Senate has certainly forced to the front a question of the utmost gravity. Does the ministry, with a large majority at its back in the House of Commons, directly responsible to the country, govern the country, or is it governed by a majority in the Senate responsible to nobody? Even were the Senate majority absolutely right in their action, the stand they have taken could not be acquiesced in for a moment without subverting the principle of responsible government, and handing the country over to the control of an oligarchy, whose members, however estimable they may be personally, are not endowed with the right to substitute their will for that of the ministry, who must on all occasions be held answerable to the crown and the country. It is claimed that the Senate is acting judicially. This claim might apply to its rejection of the Government's act, but certainly not to the initiation of alternative policy. For judicial purposes courts which divide on party lines are not well adapted. The only thing such a tribunal can do is to bring judgment into contempt. The claim that the Senate acts judicially may be discussed gravely as a constitutional question, but when viewed in connection with the history of the Senate as it is, can only raise a laugh. As for the Government, it cannot relinquish the responsibility of administration. The country would not support it in sulking. It must bring in the next best policy it knows of. Indeed, if time has rendered possible a better bargain than the one already made—that is, better in view of the Government's obligations to the contractors—it is plainly the Government's duty to offer that, regardless of the flouts of the obstructionists, who will shout, 'I told you so.' Whatever the consequences, it is always right to do right."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Empire says: "Now for the next rascality." Stealing another protest from the Toronto postoffice.

The chief Conservative organ, the Mail and Empire, suggests that Mr. Tarte introduce a bill to abolish the independent press. In such an event the organ would be perfectly safe. It was never guilty of an independent interval since it became a party organ.

Spain cannot expect much sympathy from the world of civilization. The country that uses its power to crush dependants, and then, when patience is exhausted and the trodden worms turn, shoots them down like cattle without hearing or trial, does not deserve to succeed. It will be a new experience for Spain, if war should come with the United States, to carry it on according to civilized methods.

The Waterloo Chronicle remarks:—"The furniture works of J. B. Snider have been running twelve hours a day for months past in order to keep up with the demand for their goods. Since the Laurier Government has gone into power at Ottawa their export trade has rapidly increased until now the firm figures among the largest exporters of furniture in Canada. Last week a large shipment of office desks was made to Buenos Ayres, South America."

Arthur Orton, the "Tichborne claimant," who made so great a stir twenty-five years ago, is dead. He will go down in history as the champion "claimant," but he will not be alone. Mr. Whitney and the Opposition newspapers made as wild claims to defeating Hon. Mr. Hardy as the wapping butcher ever did. They claimed the provincial estate and are still claiming it, but their chances are not any better than those of the celebrated Tichbourne claimant, whose death is just announced.

The Month of April a Colouring and Re-creating Time.

Diamond Dyes Make Old Things Look As Well As New.

This is the great spring month for using Diamond Dyes. Old, faded and dingy looking dresses, costumes, skirts, blouses, jackets, capes, shawls, and suits for men and boys are usually looked over with a view of fitting them for another season's wear.

The dyeing operation is an important one and demands care. The great point is to get the right dyes—colours that are pure, bright and warranted fast to washing and sunlight.

The Diamond Dyes—the only guaranteed dyes in the world—possess all the important virtues for the production of perfect colours. The popular and tested Diamond Dyes have such an immense demand all over the world that unscrupulous dealers, for the sake of large profits, sell vile imitations. If you would have your garments and goods coloured richly and permanently, avoid all such imitations.

Refuse all dyes that your dealer tells you are just as good as the "Diamond."

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and earnestly thankful for my cure.

VISIBLE WHEAT

Has Increased Since Last Week, But Encouraging European Cables Have Kept the Price Up The Prices.

Monday Evening, April 4.

At the opening to-day the Chicago wheat market looked firm in sympathy with the strength in cables, but weakened on the bearish advice that the visible had increased instead of showing a large decrease for the week, as had been expected. At the close the market firmed up. May wheat gained ¼c for the day and July 1¼c, while the September and December options lost respectively ½c and ⅝c. In Liverpool wheat was up from ½d to ⅝d to-day, while in English country markets the price showed an improvement of from 6d to 1s. Corn and oats were quiet and provisions strong.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 162,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 735,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 441,000 bushels. Following is a comparative statement for the week ending to-day, the preceding week and the corresponding week last year:

	April 4,'98	April 5,'97	April 6,'96
Wheat, bu.	30,223,000	28,612,000	60,349,000
Corn, bu	42,647,000	25,318,000	16,962,000
Oats, bu	12,047,000	12,616,000	9,034,000

There are on passage to the United Kingdom 24,960,000 bushels of wheat and 5,120,000 bushels of corn. There are on passage to the Continent 14,320,000 bushels of wheat and 8,160,000 bushels of corn. The total quantities of wheat and corn afloat to Europe, with comparative figures, are:

	April 4,'98	Mch.28,'98	April 5,'97
Wheat, bu.	39,280,000	38,640,000	19,040,000
Corn, bu	13,280,000	12,520,000	14,640,000

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, with that afloat for Europe, is to-day 69,503,000 bushels, as compared with 57,652,000 bushels the corresponding day of last year.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the execution of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

The House Passes the Kettle Valley Railway Bill.

DISCUSSION IN COMMITTEE.

A Long and Energetic Debate on the Question of Canada for the Canadians —Old Records Revived, But Mr. Blair Unclothes the Straw Man Set Up by Anti-Speakers.

Ottawa, April 5.—There was but a sprinkling of members in their places and not a Minister on the treasury benches when Mr. Speaker Edgar called for order in the House yesterday. The disposal of the preliminary orders on the paper was prolonged as much as possible to allow the belated Ministers, who had been in council, time to put in an appearance. It was plain at the outset that public business would not be materially advanced at the sitting, for private legislation had the right of way, and at the head of the list on the paper was that lion of contention the Kettle River Valley Railway bill. Opponents of the Corbin proposition disclaimed any intention of resorting to obstructionist tactics, but it is their right and privilege to talk, and they showed the House that they were not disposed to let slip any opportunity to defeat the measure.

Mr. McInnes, armed with a volume of last session's Hansard, turned to Mr. Blair's speech on the Crow's Nest Railway bill, and quoted at length his remarks to the effect that the building of the Crow's Nest Road was a necessity to keep the trade of the mining districts of British Columbia in Canada, and its construction was therefore a matter of general benefit, although it would add three millions to the public debt. After further quoting Mr. Blair, Mr. McInnes said that at the present time the trade of the Kootenay went to the south. How important was that trade, the figures would show. For instance, in 1897 the customs collections in Nelson, B.C., amounted to $481,038, as against $467,762 collected at the present sea port of Vancouver. The House could see what a large trade with the United States that made. Then there was Rossland, whose collections last year were $122,164, an increase of one thousand per cent. in two years. This was the trade that was building up Spokane, in Washington State, which had grown from a population of 8,000 to 35,000, all made up from the Kootenay trade. What we wanted were Spokanes in Canada.

Mr. Robertson (East Toronto) said he had opposed the Crow's Nest arrangement because it would establish a monopoly. For precisely the opposite reason he supported this bill. He did not want to see that country under the control of the iron hand of Van Horne and the bosses of the C.P.R. He wanted to see the Grand Trunk get access into that country. He thought Canadian interests could be better protected by the imposition of an export duty than by the imposition of a railway monopoly.

Mr. Davin pointed out the fallacy of railway competition, and then he read from the speeches of Messrs. Bostock and Oliver on the Crow's Nest Pass bill of last session, in opposition to their views on this bill.

Mr. Bostock (Liberal, British Columbia) supported the bill. He read a long letter in the newspapers by Mr. Corbin in his own defence. He thought gentlemen opposing this bill would be better employed in having our mining laws changed so Americans could not stake out claims in Canada, as Canadians were prevented from doing so just across the line in the boundary district.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper rallied the Ministry upon its silence on this important subject. The Ministers who last session uttered such strong arguments in favor of saving this trade to Canada by subsidizing the C.P.R. to build the Crow's Nest Pass, should now try and square those arguments with their present position.

Sir Adolphe Caron was in favor of the Kettle River road as a means of giving the Grand Trunk connection with the boundary district.

Dr. Sproule, while in favor of competition between the railways, would vote against the bill, because it was giving Canadian trade to the Americans.

Mr. Blair denied that it was the duty of the Government to pronounce on every private bill that came up in the House. Rather it was the duty of the Ministers to leave their supporters entirely free from Government influence, and this was the position in which this bill stood. He had never assumed to speak for the Government on the matter, and challenged anyone to prove the contrary. The Government did not regard this measure as of sufficient magnitude to take any position for or against this bill. He denied that the attitude he took on it was inconsistent with his position on the Crow's Nest bill.

After remarks from Messrs. Lariviere and Oliver a vote was taken on the motion that the committee rise. It was negatived by 50 to 30. The bill then passed.

Sir Louis Davies informed Mr. Wallace that proceedings had been taken to enforce the provisions of the Alien Labor Act. To the same member the Minister replied that the matter of export duty on saw logs, pulpwood and so forth was under consideration.

Answering Mr. Britton, the Minister of Marine stated that the Government was giving serious consideration to the question of the establishment of a naval reserve and would reach a conclusion shortly.

Mr. Davin was informed that the liquor permits issued by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Territories to parties in the Yukon territory were on the recommendation of the Interior Department.

The House adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

The Senate.

In the Senate yesterday Sir John Carling asked for a committee to enquire into the feasibility and probable cost of opening up direct communication this season with the Yukon by way of Edmonton and the Peace River. With the words "this season" stricken out the motion passed. The bill to amend the Inland Revenue Act by reducing the amount of whiskey which can be taken from bonded warehouses from 25 to 10 gallons passed the third reading after Senator Perley had denounced the Government, declaring they were working in the interest of the liquor sellers.

THE BUDGET.

Mr. Fielding Will Address a Slim House —Very Few Tariff Changes in Prospect—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, April 5.—The probability is that Mr. Fielding will have a small audience when he rises in the House this afternoon to make his budget statement. The bulk of the members have gone home for the Easter holiday, and even the budget does not tempt them back. The capital was crowded with business men last year when the perferential tariff was announced, and there was the keenest interest in the statement of the Finance Minister. To-day the city is almost empty of visitors, and tariff deputations are conspicuous by their absence. This fact is a tribute of no ordinary value to the fiscal and financial policy of the Liberal party, a policy that less than two years ago was held up before the country as something calculated to blast the business interests of the country like the breath of the Sahara. Every one awaits the budget with perfect confidence, and the pulse of business beats not a stroke quicker than it would were Parliament not in session. To those who remember the feverish scramble of manufacturers for special favors in the days of the N.P. and the anxiety with which the tariff announcements were looked for, this is perhaps one of the most satisfactory results of the Liberal Administration so far. It may be as yet too early to look forward to a condition such as exists in the motherland, where business interests are as safe and as little subject to disturbance when Parliament is in session as during recess, but there can be no doubt that we are going in that direction and away from the condition that prevails at Washington and that prevailed at Ottawa under the old Government, a condition of continual interference with the natural trend of trade in the interest of friends of the party in power. Manufacturers are beginning to understand that there is little hope of securing increases of duty on their finished product, and tariff deputations nowadays seek to secure more protection by getting reduction of duty on their raw material. The average manufacturer is a keen, shrewd man, and he always finds the point of least resistance.

The Bicycle Duties.

The best example of the working out of this principle is to be found in the recent action of the bicycle manufacturers. The bicycle industry has become a great one, quite as important as the carriage-making industry which it destroyed. In Canada there are at least 5,000 men engaged making bicycles, and the product last year was worth probably a million and a half of dollars. The imports of bicycles from the States last year was valued at a little over three-quarters of a million, 28,526 bicycles having been brought in. At the same time the Canadian manufacturers were sending wheels to Australia, France and other countries. This export trade is growing to large proportions and is conducted on a most favorable basis, the exporter getting a rebate of 99 per cent. of the duty paid on raw material imported and worked into these bicycles made for export. The home trade is not on so favorable a basis. It is asserted that the surplus of American wheels is slaughtered in our market at the end of each season. A manufacturers' agreement forbidding slaughtering in the States, and that on certain raw materials extensively used in the manufacture of wheels the duty is 35 per cent., while on wheels imported the duty is only 30 per cent. The makers, to meet this condition of affairs, first tried for a specific minimum duty of $9 on wheels imported from the States. They met with no encouragement. More recently they have been seeking for lower duties on raw materials, with no change in the duty on bicycles, which, of course, would give the home manufacturer a better profit on his output. With the exception of the bicycle makers, the clothing manufacturers and a few of the woollen mill owners, there have been few manufacturers at the capital this session, and it is safe to say that the tariff changes to day will be extremely slight.

Personal and General.

Eight young ladies made their final vows in the order of Grey Nuns, and one received the holy habit Saturday at the Water Street Convent.

There was an informal gathering of Ministers yesterday at the residence of the First Minister, attended by most of the members of the Government.

The Premier and the Minister of Public Works are not recovered yet sufficiently to attend their offices.

Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, Lieut.-Governor of the Northwest Territories, returned from England yesterday.

The Minister of Militia is reckoning upon an expenditure of $350,000 to transport the military contingent under Lieut.-Colonel Evans to the Yukon.

Mr. J. White, Press Immigration Agent of the Interior Department, has returned from the Western States, where he has been for the past few weeks. He says there are a large number of excellent settlers coming into the Northwest from the American side this spring.

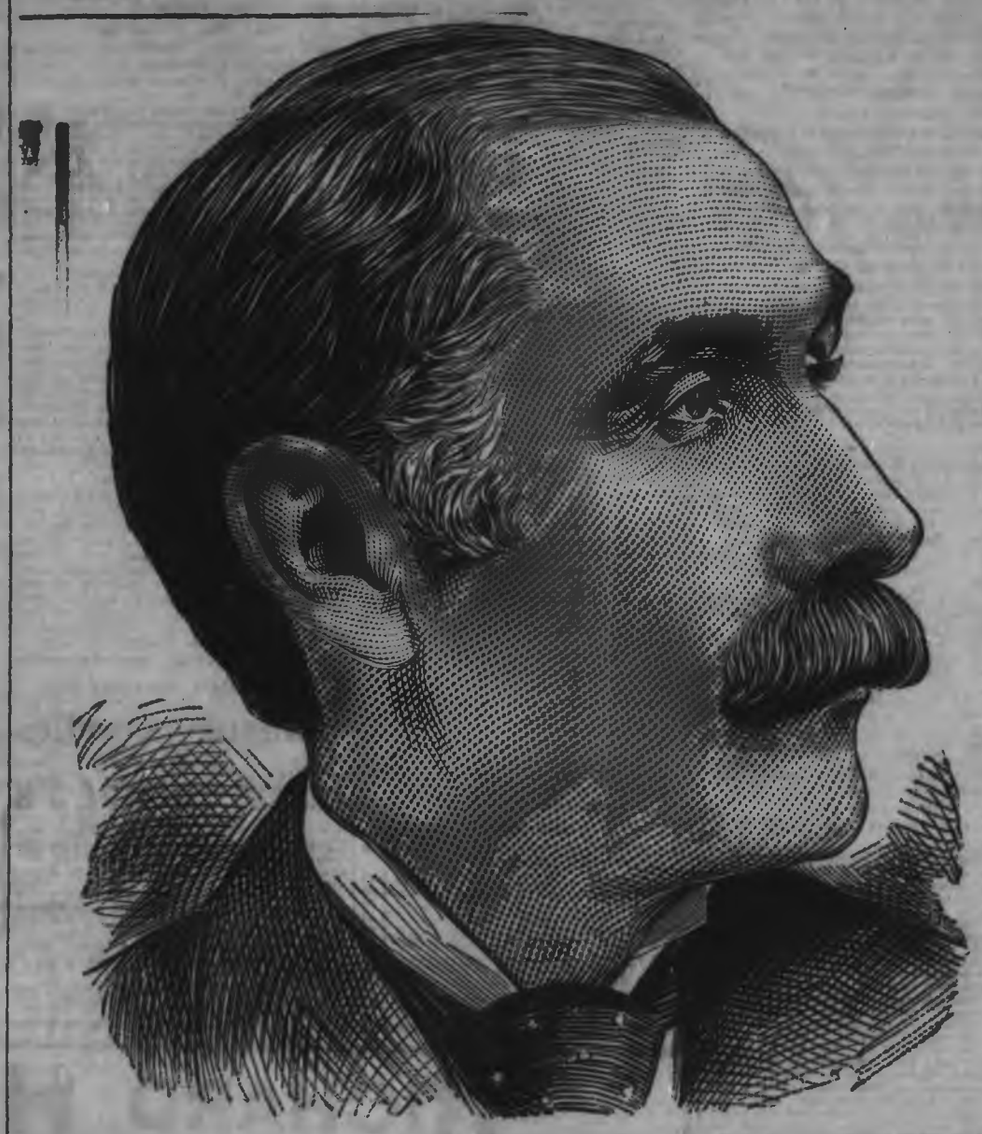
GOVERNOR OF VERMONT

Josiah Grout Sends an Open Letter to the Proprietors of

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND!



The present Governor of the Green Mountain State, though born in Canada, has lived in Vermont since he was 6 years old. His course at the St. Johnsbury Academy was interrupted in 1861 by his enlisting in Co. 1, 1st Vermont cavalry. He was mustered in as second lieutenant, promoted to captain the following year and in 1864 made major of the 26th New York cavalry.

Major Grout participated in 17 engagements, and was badly wounded in a skirmish with the celebrated confederate leader, Mosby.

At the close of the war he entered the office of his brother, Gen. Grout, and was admitted to the bar. His service in the Vermont Legislature embraced the years 1872, '73, '96 and '97. He was Speaker of the House for three years and Senator in 1892.

Gov. Grout is deeply indebted to Paine's Celery Compound for the good health which he to-day enjoys. He expresses his conviction of the value of the great remedy in the following few words:

State of Vermont, Executive Department, July 5, 1897.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

GENTLEMEN:—Having realized a benefit from the use of Paine's Celery Compound I hereby indorse the preparation as a reliable remedy that fully meets the claims made for it.

It is a pleasure also to indorse the proprietors of it as one of Montreal's largest houses whose business reputation is above reproach.

JOSIAH GROUT.

Life is too short to waste one day of it sick abed, grumpy or ailing.

Indigestion, nervousness and rheumatism make one old before one's time, take the heart out of work, and make one a burden at home and a bore to one's friends. Every one owes it to his family, to his friends, to his success and happiness to get strong and stay so.

Worn-out nerves bring on more ill health and disease than all other causes put together. In their impoverished condition they cause the blood to become thin, weaken the digestion and make the heart work with difficulty. The main factor in eradicating neuralgia, rheumatism, nervousness, headaches and sleeplessness from the system consists in making the nerves stronger. Paine's Celery Compound is the nerve invigorator par excellence. Better nerve nutrition plays the principal part in the successful treatment of liver, kidney and heart disease, as well as nervous diseases.

Every one knows that the heart does the work of a pump. From the dawn of life till death it never ceases pumping blood into the arteries, and every heart beat results from a nerve impulse. When the nerve centres become reduced there follows a gradual increasing feebleness, the heart beats irregularly, there is a loss of nervous and muscular force, the limbs refuse their support, appetite fails and sleep becomes unattainable. The progress towards a heartier appetite, sounder sleep, firmer pulse, shows the profound invigorating effect of Paine's Celery Compound upon the nerve fibres all over the body.

Progress towards health is steady and uniform when Paine's Celery Compound is employed. It stops night sweats—that sure indication of growing feebleness and of wasting diseases—and there is a noticeable freedom from those nervous twitchings of the muscles and numbness in the limbs that are precursors of paralysis and painful chorea, so common among overworked, worried people who are about to break down with some form of nervous debility.

Torpedo Boat From Germany.

Berlin, April 4.—The torpedo boat purchased at Schichau for his Government by Lieut. A. P. Niblack, the naval attache of the United States Legation here, passed through the Baltic Sunday on its way to England.

Spaniards Want an Armistice.

Washington, April 4.—The Spanish Minister has received a despatch from Havana, stating that the Autonomist Government there has addressed an appeal to the insurgents, asking to arrange an armistice for the purpose of arriving at terms for peace.

ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newmarket, March 26—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

A Good Roadmaker.

Edwin McIntyre, who lives a hermit life in the house near Warren where Dr. Pilton R. Baker was shot, has a queer hobby. One of the prettiest and best pieces of road in Maine passes in front of his retreat. It has been built by Mr. McIntyre, who for the last 23 years has been picking up the rocks and stones near his home and pounding them into pebbles, which he has put in the highway. In 23 years' time he has pounded 900,000 stones and made them ready for road use. The town authorities, recognizing the value of the work, for years have compensated the man by giving him his road tax. He estimates that he has placed on the road 30 cords of these manufactured stones. Other towns might envy Warren such a faithful roadbuilder.—Rockland (Me.) Star.

Spring Housecleaning.

While people are particular about having their house cleaned of the winter's accumulation of dirt, they're not always so particular about their system. It needs cleaning too, and there's nothing will do it so thoroughly and effectually as Burdock Blood Bitters. Alex. Miller, Ardoch, Ont., says:—"I have taken B. B. B. every spring for some years and as a blood purifier it is unequalled.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 c a.

To Assist Them in Meeting the Expenses of the Meet.

NO DEFINITE ANSWER GIVEN YET.

A Deputation From the Bicycle Clubs Addresses the Members and asks for Aid—A Committee of the Whole Council Will Discuss the Matter During the Week.

The Mayor presided at the regular monthly meeting of the council last evening, the other members in attendance being Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Denne, Allan, Cobb, McWilliams, J. H. White, Langford.

From the ex-market clerk, R. H. Green, asking that the payment of $7.50 still due by him or not collected as (1) he was deprived of the use of the arcade, (2) the cessation of half fares on the railroads, (3) the unfavourable weather during the year and (4) that he had already paid into the town over $10,000. A statement of the dues collected was submitted as follows:

Gross receipts	$2,249 45
Less running expenses	200 67
Shortage	$112 22

Referred to the Market Committee.

From Mrs. Ellen Rogers, asking for remission of taxes.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

THE BICYCLE MEET.

From the Victoria Bicycle Club as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—I am instructed on behalf of the Victoria and Peterborough Bicycle Clubs to ask your honourable body to consider the advisability of making a substantial money grant in aid of the Provincial Bicycle Meet, should they be successful in obtaining its celebration in this town on the first and second days of July next. A committee named for the purpose have made a careful canvass of the Provincial wheelmen, and feel justified in saying that they have a very fair chance of success in having Peterborough named as the city in which the meet will be held this year. Ottawa is the only rival as far as a city with considerable wealth and influence, lavish in the use of its money, and earnest in its endeavour to obtain the prize. This is Peterborough's third attempt, Waterloo and Quebec being the respective successful competitors. The former after a fair contest, succeeded by two votes only; the latter owing to its special trains and hospitable and costly entertainments, coupled with the personal interest and influence of its mayor, succeeded against Peterborough's claim. These attempts to get the meet have not cost the town any sum whatever, and the whole of the expense was shouldered by a few of the citizens of Peterborough. All towns and cities of any importance vie with one another each year in endeavouring to obtain the sanction of the Association. Owing to Peterborough's standing as a bicycle centre, the local clubs as members of the C.W.A. feel that they should not give up without once more making an effort. The records show that the promoters of these meets do not make any money, and that a very considerable sum is left in the city or town in which one is held. The expense and responsibility of entertaining and housing such a multitude for two days are enormous, and without the concurrence and financial support of the citizens obtained from the various city or town councils, committees will not attempt it. It cost the Chatham people $3,750 to carry out the plans last year. It was a most successful meeting, as far as the attendance itself went and the money spent and left in the city, the promoters, however, being short financially, Chatham gave from its town council $300 towards the expenses of obtaining the meet and $200 additional towards the entertainment of the visitors afterwards.

"The bicycle clubs here ask your honourable body to consider the advisability of making a grant of six hundred dollars towards the celebration of the meet in the town, but only in the event of the club here being successful in getting it. Without this grant the committee do not feel justified in going on with the undertaking, owing to the financial shortage in other places. The expense of endeavouring to get the meet the committee will bear of itself, as on the other two occasions. The benefit to the town will adequately recompense the citizens for the expenditure named. The only direct returns to the promoters are their entrance money to the ground and at 25 cents per head, and taking Chatham's expenditure as a basis, 15 will require 11,000 people to recoup your committee for the cost of the Meet. The meeting of the Association will be held in Toronto on Good Friday next, when delegates from all over the Province will be present, and it will then be determined at what place the Meet shall be held. There is much that remains to be done, and but a short time in which to do it.

"May I ask you on behalf of the Bicycle Clubs for an early and, I hope, favourable answer to this request? I beg to enclose herewith data from which you can judge for yourselves the expenses and probable chances of our obtaining the Meet. The committee, should you desire, will be pleased to attend at any time you may name to place the facts before you. Everything depends on an early reply. The basis—ways and means—has to be definitely settled. An expenditure of $3,000 is more than the promoters will assume without assistance."

F. H. DOBBIN.

For Victoria and Peterborough Bicycle Clubs

On motion of Councillors McWilliams and J. M. White, the representatives of the town wheelmen present were invited to address the council.

Mr. Geo. W. Hatton was the first speaker. The letter just read, he stated, covered the ground thoroughly. The local club had tried for the meet unsuccessfully twice before, but from letters received this year it would seem that success was assured this time. It had been estimated that at least $30,000 would be spent in Peterborough by the visitors. This outlay could be secured by the nominal grant from the council of $600. Ottawa was Peterborough's most dangerous rival. That city now had delegates throughout the country, canvassing the different clubs. Peterborough's friends were helping the town, as best they could. Mr. Cox, Mr. McGill and Mr. Fairweather were working hard in the town's interest in Toronto. If the necessary grant was made by the Council success was almost assured. On a former occasion a grant of $400 had been made by the council, but as the meet did not come to Peterborough the sum was not needed. In conclusion, he pointed out the the great expense which to which the promoters would be put, and asked that the council in its wisdom make a grant of $600.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin went into details regarding the expenses to which the wheelmen would be subjected in bringing the meet to Peterborough. It would strengthen the hands of the committee greatly if they knew what action the council would take by Thursday, as the delegates left that evening for Toronto.

Councillors Best and Denne moved that the matter be referred to a committee of the whole council.—Carried.

Communications were then received as follows:—

From John Montgomery, teamster, Fire Department, asking for an increase of salary.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Andrew Larocque and others, asking for the construction of a sidewalk on Bethune street, between Dalhousie and Wolfe.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From the Ontario Association of Architects re building bylaws, which they are in a position to perfect,—Received.

From Geo. McWilliams, re assessment of his property—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From the municipality of North Monaghan, enclosing assessment of powder magazine at $800.—Received.

From A. J. Cameron, re the construction of a sidewalk on Aberdeen Avenue—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee.

From F. W. Hall, re the remission of his statute labour tax.—Granted on motion of Councillors McWilliams and Denne.

From Mr. Richard Anderson, asking for remission of taxes.—Referred to Court of Revision.

From Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, re the accident to Robt. Gibbs' back through the wheels catching in the street railway rails, and asking for damages.—Referred to the Legal Committee.

From Roger & Bennet, inquiring what proposition the council had to make in reference to Mrs. Rogers' claim for damages.—Referred to the Legal Committee with power to act, but if a favourable settlement cannot be reached, the committee to report to a committee of the whole council.

From John Tangney, asking for some allowance to be made in the matter of his lands being sold for taxes.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Peterborough & Ashburnham Horticultural Society, highly commending the council for the action taken in reference to the abatement of the caterpillar pest.—Received.

From W. H. Brouse and Jas. A. Waldrum, Toronto, asking to be allowed the opportunity of bidding on town debentures.—Received.

From the Peterborough Bicycle Club asking for the passage of a bylaw allowing wheelmen to ride on the sidewalks, providing they do not pass pedestrians either standing or walking.—Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

From the Fire Underwriters' Association, stating that if the town wished to retain the "B" Classification the adoption of the "Sector" fire alarm system was necessary.—Received,

THE LEGAL COMMITTEE

reported through its chairman, Councillor McWilliams, as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN, Your Legal Committee beg leave to report that your committee arranged with the Grand Trunk Railway Company and with Thomas Bradburn regarding arrears of taxes against their properties, some of which was to be sold and same was placed on the Collectors Roll for 1897, and regarding which there was a dispute with these owners. That the owners were to pay the original amount of the taxes without any additional charges, and that the town would accept the same. Your committee recommend that this arrangement be confirmed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. S. MCWILLIAMS,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Mr. John Carnegie was heard on behalf of the Auburn Woollen Mills Co. He stated that as the Water Co. had not been compelled to afford fire protection at the mills, that the company had provided its own protection at considerable expense. He asked that the council grant the Company in recompense the same amount as would be expended if the Water Company placed pipes across the river and hydrants were contracted for by the town.

The Mayor and Councillor McWilliams both spoke of having visited the mills and examined the system of protection put in. The latter urged that recompense be given equal to the amount of the cost of two hydrants per year. He also thought that as the Water Co. were relieved of the expense of putting a pipe across the river that they should bear a portion of the

"HOW CAN A MAN BE BORN WHEN HE IS OLD?"

OUR LORD'S ANSWER TO THE QUERY OF NICODEMUS.

Rev. Mr. Patterson in St. Andrew's—First of a Series of Evangelistic Services—Plain, Practical and Pointed Address.

Last night St. Andrew's church was well filled, the occasion being the first of a series of evangelistic meetings conducted by Rev. Wm. Patterson, the popular pastor of Cooke's church, Toronto. Mr. Patterson is a preacher of intense earnestness and practical directness. He ignores worn platitudes and diffuse circumlocutions. He has a plain gospel message to deliver, and he delivers it. Rev. Mr. Patterson is an Irishman, with all an Irishman's fire and fervour. He is of medium height, strongly and compactly built, dark complexion, with a clean shaven, round face beaming with geniality. He is a forcible speaker, dealing in plain language, plain sometimes to bluntness. Many of his illustrations are clothed in quaint language provocative of smiles, but the smile is soon smoothed away by the energetic earnestness with which the lesson of his illustration is driven home.

Last night Rev. Dr. Torrance began the service by announcing the paraphrase of the 100th psalm, followed by prayer. Rev. J. U. Tanner, of Omemee, read the lesson, the third chapter of the Gospel of St. John. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Tanner was followed by the 122nd Hymn and the offertory.

THE PREACHER'S SERMON.

Rev. Mr. Patterson took as his text the third verse of the third chapter of St. John: "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." There was not, the speaker said, a more surprised man in Jerusalem than Nicodemus over the answer of our Lord. He could not see how this could be, and there were others who were in the same position. Yet the fact remained that unless a man were born again he could not see the Kingdom of God. There were three ways specified in Holy Scripture by which a man could not be saved—not by blood of sacrifice, not by mortification of the flesh, and not by the will of man. We must be born of water and of the Spirit. This did not mean the mere physical application of water as in infant baptism, but the baptism of the regenerated man. The way to be saved was through the Spirit of God working on the Word and bring it home to the heart. Nicodemus was puzzled naturally enough at the mystery of the new birth. "The wind bloweth where it listeth;" it went where it was needed and the Spirit of God was present in the time of need. If we were abroad when the wind blew we should feel it and we could not be in the presence of the Spirit without feeling its influence. The way of the new birth was pointed out to Nicodemus—"As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up" As the brazen serpent was to the bitten Israelites, so was Christ to the man corrupted with sin. The first step to salvation was for a man to be convicted of his sinfulness—of his need of a Saviour, as the Israelite must know of his hurt. Not could convince a man that he was a sinner in need of a Saviour. A bitten Israelite could not be healed unless he looked upon the serpent of brass, so a man might be bitten—convinced of sin—but, no matter how grievously he bewailed his sins, if he did not turn to Christ his contrition availed nothing. One class of convicted sinners did not turn to Christ because of the inconsistencies of professing Christians; "but," said the preacher, "you cannot be saved by the sins of others." Another class could not turn to Christ because his reason was not satisfied—he could not understand the mystery of salvation. And here the preacher, with fine sarcasm, said such persons admitted that belief in such a mystery might be possible to such intellects as Shakspere, Ruskin, or Gladstone, but it would not satisfy a great intellect like theirs. There were a great many things we could not understand, but we knew the results. The blind man could not tell how his eyes were opened—he knew that whereas he was blind, now he saw. An objector of the class mentioned might not understand the power that moved an electric car and would refuse to enter it. He might ask, "where are the mules to draw it?" But you could tell him to get aboard and he would be carried to his destination;

THAT MUCH YOU KNEW.

In discussing the question of the time occupied in the new birth, the speaker pointed out that like death it took but the "twinkling of an eye." If we had faith the saving came in a moment, like an electric shock. "We could be born into the kingdom in a moment." A man must believe for himself—salvation was an individual thing. Yet, if saved, we should not therefore separate ourselves from sinners, but should proclaim the remedy that had healed us. And in this connection Christians were urged to inquire what they had done to carry the message of the gospel to those who had not been saved by the grace of God. If a bitten Israelite refused to look upon the brazen serpent he died; so if a man did not look to Jesus Christ he was lost, for there was only one Mediator between God and man. There was not a man or woman in that church who would be lost because of the sin of Adam; they would be condemned because of the greatest of all sins—the rejection of Christ. The speaker concluded a solemn and practical address by pointing out what a blessed thing it was to know that we could be born again—to not only see the Kingdom of God but to enter into it and be with the King. How glad we should be, after the evils of a wasted life, to have a chance to live our lives over again; but Christ gave us a greater opportunity, the privilege of being born again, and of beginning a new and better life.

The meeting closed in the usual manner. To-night's meeting in the same place begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

They arrived in time to spend several hours with Mrs. Potter ere her demise. Death took place shortly after midnight last night. The bereaved sons will have the sympathy of their numerous friends in Peterborough.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. W. G. Telford, of Smith on Monday.

Hannah N. Mann, wife of Mr. W. G. Telford, of Smith, passed away on Monday, April 4th, 1898, at the age of 32 years. Her illness has been of about two years duration, the cause of death being tubercular meningitis, following upon an attack of la grippe. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late Mrs. Jane Mann, who preceded her daughter to the Better Land three weeks ago. Mrs. Telford was a Baptist in religion, a member of the Gilmour Memorial Church. She was active in church work, especially in connection with missionary matters, having been treasurer of the Ladies' Mission Circle. She leaves behind her to mourn an affectionate wife, mother and sister, a husband, two children and several sisters. The sisters are Mrs. T. H. Millburn, Mrs. Albert Turnbull, Mrs. James Turnbull and Mrs. Leonard Turnbull, of Hartney, Manitoba, and Miss Hattie E. Mann, of Peterborough. The bereaved relatives of this estimable lady will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their affliction. The funeral will take place on Wednesday, April 6th, at two o'clock p.m., from the family residence, lot 8, 5th concession of Smith, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

THE COUNCIL AND THE MEET.

If the town councillors intend, as it is expected they will do, to give a grant towards assisting the local wheelmen to entertain the visitors to the annual meet of the C. W. A. here in July, there is no time to be lost. The matter has been referred to the Committee of the Whole and to give the grant greater effect it should be announced before the Peterborough delegates go to the annual meeting in Toronto on Good Friday. The EXAMINER has heretofore placed before the council the reasons why such a grant would be both expedient and and justifiable. The deputation that waited upon the council last night and the letter of the secretary on behalf of the local bicycle clubs, placed the matter pretty fully before the town councillors. It is to be remembered that this is the third attempt of Peterborough to secure the meet and in spite of the large undoubted and substantial financial advantages that will accompany it, the considerable expense entailed upon those promoting the attempts, has been borne without any civic assistance. The third attempt is pursued upon the same lines, and with excellent prospects of success. Last year Chatham, which secured the meet, was made a grant by the city council of $500, $200 of which was need to help secure the meet. Besides private subscriptions were made by Chatham citizens, whereas the Peterborough promoters have made no canvass for subscriptions. The chief object in calling the attention of the councillors to the propriety of making a grant, is to impress upon them the necessity of prompt action. The delegates will go to Toronto on Thursday evening, and their hands will be greatly strengthened in the fight for the meet if they can take with them the proof of the practical sympathy of the representative body of the town, in the shape of a $600 grant, as they will take with them the sympathy of the citizens at large, both in the matter of a grant, and in the matter of obtaining the Wheelmen's Meet for 1898 for the good town of Peterborough.

FATHER CHIDWICK COMING.

The Maine's Chaplain is Expected to Come to Peterborough.

The New York Sun, of Thursday, says:—"The Rev. John P. Chidwick, chaplain of the ill-fated battleship Maine, was expected to arrive in this city yesterday from Jacksonville, Fla., whence, it was reported, he had departed on Monday with Capt Sigsbee, bound for Washington. At a late hour last evening he had not been heard from, and his brother, William B. Chidwick, of 943 Home street, was not sure when he would reach New York. He had received a letter from his brother on Monday, dated at Havana, in which no mention was made of his coming home. There was a chance of his going to Peterborough, Canada, where his mother is staying in the Convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph, with a daughter who is a nun.

Father Chidwick, who is one of the three Roman Catholic chaplains in the navy, was suggested for the place by Archbishop Corrigan, and received his appointment from President Cleveland in 1895. His expected arrival in this city has led the Catholic Young Men's Association of St. Stephen's Church on East Twenty-eighth street to prepare a reception in recognition of the part he took in caring for the wounded of the Maine."

Never fails to Cure.

TOO SOON.

She came—how sweet and fair the comet—
To our rude earth and staid awhile,
A tender spirit, free from blame
And lit with an angelic smile.
Ah me, that smiles so sweet should fade
From lips that in the grave are laid!

She was so young, the light intense
That seemed to guard her from her birth
Spoke but of stainless innocence
And purity too great for earth.
Ah me, that light so pure should fade
From eyes that in the grave are laid!

And then she left us, as a bark
White winged sinks dimly from our sight
Or as some sweet song burdened lark
Soars upward to the realms of light.
Ah me, that youth and hope should fade
When beauty in the grave is laid!

The Water Bottle.

It was at a dinner party in Chinatown. It was a large party, and the tables were set in festive array, with mandarins, bananas, delicious Chinese preserved pineapple, lichee nuts in the shell, canned lichee nuts, looking like small onions, roasted beech nuts and other dainties. The party had arrived a little ahead of time, and the glasses, which stood at each plate, were not filled. A pretty girl, in front of whom stood a good sized Chinese vase, reached for it and poured out water for herself and neighbors.

"Isn't this a queer Chinese idea to use a vase for a carafe?" she said, and raised her glass to her lips.

Large glass goblets were serving as bowls for sugar for the tea, which the Chinese themselves never sweeten, so it was not strange that there should be anomalies in other things. But just as the pretty girl lifted her glass, a fat Chinaman came in with a big and very American bouquet, which he carefully placed in the supposed water bottle.

"Allee clean," he said, as the pretty girl stopped drinking, with a look of displeasure on her face.

"But it isn't," she exclaimed, examining the glass more closely. "I am sure that vase has just come from the shop and has the dust of Chinese ages in it."—New York Times.

How Memory Saves Life.

"You say," said the captain as the rescued man was handed up from the lifeboat, "that you have been floating in the water for five days and nights. You must be the most remarkable swimmer in the world to have kept up so long."

"I can't swim a bit," said the rescued man as he wrung a few gallons of water from his garments and drank the glass of grog the steward brought him.

"Then why were you not drowned?"

"Well, you know, before a man drowns, his whole past life has got to rise up before him. I had only reached about my fourth year when your boat picked me up, you see!"—Strand Magazine.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fulness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

NATURE OF LIFE.

A Talk on the Interaction of the Constituents of Protoplasm.

Herbert Spencer's definition of the nature of life implies, as is well known, a continuous adjustment of internal to external relations, says the London Lancet. In other words, vitality is preserved by interactions going on between the constituents of the protoplasm. On the face of it this view must be very materially modified in the light of some exceedingly interesting experiments recently brought to the notice of the Royal society by Horace Brown, whose classic researches on that interesting class of ferments the enzymes are well known. He has found that by submitting seeds to the very low temperature of evaporating liquid air—i. e., from —183 degrees C. to 192 degrees C.—for 110 consecutive hours their power of germinating is not in any way impaired. Since the above temperature is considerably below that at which ordinary chemical reactions take place, the result is very remarkable and would appear to show that although a state of complete chemical inertness in protoplasm may be established it does not necessarily lead to a destruction of its potential activity.

Is this protoplasm thus brought to a "resting" condition to burst into activity on restoring favorable conditions? If so, what becomes of life during this "rest?" These observations are also of interest in connection with the suggestion of Lord Kelvin that the origin of life as we know it may have been extra terrestrial and due to the "moss grown fragments from the ruins of another world" which reached the earth as meteorites. That such fragments might circulate in the intense cold space for a perfectly indefinite period without prejudice to their freight of seeds or spores is, Horace Brown remarks, almost certain from the facts we know about the maintenance of life by "resting" protoplasm. The difficulties in the way of accepting such a hypothesis certainly do not lie in this direction. Here is an interesting problem for biologists, and the development of the question will be followed with the keenest interest.

TRICKS OF MEMORY.

Notable Examples of Forgetfulness That Are Supposed to Be True.

The first man to start a school for the training of memory was a Greek, Simonides, who read one of his poetic compositions to a large audience and so fascinated them that when he bowed and withdrew from the building they sat spellbound. The roof caved in and killed them all, mangling them so that the bodies were unrecognizable, but Simonides came to the rescue of the despairing relatives and said he could remember where each person in the audience sat and who he was. As there was no one to dispute his decisions his identification was satisfactory, and he profited by the enthusiasm to start a memory school.

A young woman of no education fell ill in a small German town. She could neither read nor write, yet she raved in Latin, Greek and Hebrew, and the simple villagers thought she was possessed of the devil. Investigation proved that at the age of 9 she had been taken by a charitable old Protestant pastor. It was his custom for years to walk up and down a passage of the house into which the kitchen opened and read to himself in a loud voice out of his books. These books were ransacked by the physician in charge of the curious case and who had made inquiries into the sick girl's past life, and in them were found the identical Greek and Latin passages which the girl in her delirium had repeated.

There is an authentic case of a brilliant young woman, happily married, who had a long illness, the result of which was that when she recovered she had lost every recollection of her life from the day of her marriage, inclusive of the ceremony. The rest of her life up to that point she remembered clearly. At first she pushed her husband and her child from her in alarm, but her parents and friends have convinced her she is married and has a son. She believes their word of necessity, though she has never recovered her memory of that one year which is lost to her.—Exchange.

The Servian Drum.

The men who play the big drums in the different regiments of the Servian army must have an easier lot than the drummers of other lands, for they do not have to carry their own drums.

In nearly all cases instead of being slung in front of the man who plays it the instrument is put on a small two wheel cart drawn by a large dog. Of course the drummer must play as he marches, but the dog is so well trained that there is no difficulty in doing this.

The animal keeps his place even through the longest marches, and the drummer walks behind the cart, performing on his instrument as it goes along. Each regiment is provided with two or three big drums, but very few regiments have a band.—Youth's Companion.

Life's Red Streams.

A STIRRING INTERVIEW.

The Adventure of a Yankee Lieutenant at Gibraltar In 1806.

Two noteworthy facts mark the battle of Lake Champlain and that of Lake Erie. They were the only squadron battles of the war of 1812, and the two victorious American commanders were very young. Perry was 28 and Macdonough 30.

When Macdonough was but 28 years of age, an adventure at Gibraltar, in 1806, described in Mr. Spears' "History of Our Navy," showed the character of the man. He was first lieutenant of the Yankee brig Siren, and one day while the captain was on shore at Gibraltar a Yankee merchantman came into the port and anchored near the Siren. A boat from a British frigate near by went directly to the merchantman and in a few minutes pulled away again, having one more man in it than when it left the frigate.

Macdonough noted the fact and sent Lieutenant Page to the merchantman, who returned with the information that the British had impressed one of the crew of the merchantman.

Macdonough ordered the Siren's gig away, manned with armed men, and getting into it himself overtook the British boat alongside of the frigate and took out of it by force the impressed seaman and carried him to the Siren.

Later the captain of the British man-of-war came on board the Siren and in a great rage demanded to know how Macdonough had "dared to take a man from one of his majesty's boats."

"I will," said he, "haul my ship alongside the Siren and take the man by force."

"I suppose," answered Macdonough, "your ship can sink the Siren, but as long as she can swim I shall keep the man."

"You are a very young man and very indiscreet," said the bully. "Suppose I had been in the boat. What would you have done?"

"I would have taken the man or lost my life," replied Macdonough.

"What, sir, would you attempt to stop me if I were now to try to impress men from that brig?" thundered the captain.

"I would," answered the calm Macdonough, "and to convince yourself that I would you have only to make the attempt."

At that the British captain got into his boat, rowed away to his frigate and then turned and rowed toward the merchantman. Macdonough at once manned a boat with an armed crew and rowed out to protect the brig. The Englishman rowed around the merchantman without boarding her and then put back to his frigate. He had tried to impress the Yankee sailor not because he wished to add more to his crew, but to show his contempt for the little Yankee warship.—Youth's Companion.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE CURE'S DREAM.

The Abbe Martin was cure of Cucugnan. Good as bread and true as gold, he loved his Cucugnanais paternally, for him Cucugnan would have been a paradise upon earth had his Cucugnanais given more heed to religion.

But, alas, the spiders spun their webs across the door of the confessional, and on the beautiful Easter Sundays the host remained at the bottom of the pyx. The good priest was broken hearted and always asked of God the boon of not dying before he had succeeded in bringing his scattered flock to the fold again. Well, you will see that God heard him.

One Sunday at the close of the gospel M. Martin climbed to his pulpit.

"My brethren," said he, "my brethren, believe me when I tell you the other night I found myself, I, a miserable sinner, at the gate of paradise. I knocked, and St. Peter opened to me.

"'Ah, is it you, my good M. Martin? What will you have?' he said to me. 'How can I serve you?'

"'Beautiful St. Peter, you are keeper of the great book, also of the key of the gate. Perhaps you would tell me, if I am not too inquisitive, how many Cucugnanais you have in paradise?'

"'Certainly, M. Martin. I can refuse you nothing. But seat yourself, seat yourself, till I look into it and see.' And St. Peter took up his great book, opened it, put on his spectacles and began to run down the page.

"'Cucugnan, did you say? Cu-Cu-Cucugnan. Ah, here we are! But, my good M. Martin, the page is all white—not a single soul! No more of Cucugnanais in paradise than of fishbones in turkey!'

"'What? Nobody from Cucugnan here—nobody? It is impossible! Look again, St. Peter, look again!'

"'Nobody, holy man. However, look for yourself if you think that I am jesting.'

"I looked; I stamped my feet; I wrung my hands. I cried, 'Miserioorde, misericorde!'

"'Believe me, M. Martin,' St. Peter said to me, 'believe me, it is wrong to worry yourself thus. It will give you a stroke of apoplexy. It is not your fault, after all. But your Cucugnanais, to a certainty, must be quarantined in purgatory.'

"'Then allow me, St. Peter, for charity's sake, allow me at least to see and console them.'

"'Willingly, my friend. But stay. Put on these sandals before you go. The roads are not good ones. There, that is better. Now walk straight ahead of you. Do you see below there at the end a turning? To the right of it you will find a door, a silver door, studded with stars and black crosses. Knock, and it will be opened to you. Farewell, M. Martin; farewell! Keep your health and cheerfulness.'

"And I walked and walked. What a struggle! I shudder when thinking of it, that little path all filled with briers, glowing with carbuncles and writhing with hissing serpents, that led directly to the silver door!

"Pan-pan.

"'Who knocks?' a voice cried to me—a voice hoarse and doleful.

"'The cure from Cucugnan.'

"'From where?'

"'From Cucugnan.'

"'Ah! Enter!'

"I entered. Before me a tall, beautiful angel, with wings as black as night, a robe resplendent as the day and a diamond key hanging from his girdle, was writing—scratch, scratch—in a monstrous book—a book in every way bigger than that of St. Peter.

"'Well,' he said to me—'well, what is it that has brought you here? What is it that you want?'

"'Beautiful angel of God,' I answered him, 'only to know—I am very curious perhaps—if you have here the Cucugnanais?'

"'The—the'—

"'The Cucugnanais—the people from Cucugnan. It is I who am their prior.'

"'Ah, the Abbe Martin, is it not?'

"'At your service, angel.'

"'Cucugnan, you say, Cucugnan.' And the angel, as St. Peter had done before him, spread open the leaves of his book, moistened his fingers in order that they should turn the better and hastily ran through the names.

"'M. Martin,' said he at last, uttering a deep sigh, 'we have not in purgatory a soul from Cucugnan!'

"'Jesus! Marie! Joseph! Nobody from Cucugnan in purgatory—nobody! Where are they, then? Good heavens! Where are they? Where are they?'

"'Eh, holy man, where are they? They are in paradise. Where else do you wish they should be?'

"'But I have come from paradise.'

"'You—from paradise? Well?'

"'Well, they were not there! Ah, good Mother of Angels, where are they—wh'—

"'Well, M. le Cure, if they are neither in paradise nor purgatory, there is but one place they can be. They are'—

"'Holy cross—Jesus—Son of David! Can it be possible? And how can I go to paradise if my Cucugnanais are not there? How can I—how can I go?'

"'Listen to me, M. Martin,' said the angel, checking me. 'Before you go back you must be certain of this. See, therefore, with your own eyes; follow the path to the left there and run, if you know how to run. At the end of it is a portal. Through it you can look upon all. God assist you!' And the angel closed the door upon me.

"The road before me was a broad one, but paved and scorching with glowing embers. I staggered as if I were drunk and stumbled at every step. I was all in a perspiration. Every hair on my body had its separate drop of sweat, and I strangled and panted with thirst. But, in truth, thanks to the sandals which St. Peter had given me I was able to run without blistering my feet.

"At last I saw upon my left hand a door; no, a portal, an enormous portal, red and yawning like the mouth of a great furnace. Ah, my children, what a spectacle! There they did not ask my name. There was no register, no keeper. They went in by a wide and open door, as on Sunday you enter the cabaret. I sweated still, with great drops of sweat, although I was chilled and shivering. My hair stood erect upon my head, and I smelled the burning, roasting flesh, something like the odor that spreads itself in our Cucugnan when Eloy, the marechal, burns the hoof of an old ass for the shore. I lost my breath in that atmosphere, stinking and stifling, and heard a horrible clamor of groanings, howlings and cursings.

"'Well, go in,' said a horned devil to me, prodding me with his pitchfork. 'Enter, I say. Why do you not enter?'

"'I—I am not going in!'

"'Then what do you come here for?'

"'I come—ah, but—I can scarcely hold myself on my legs—I come—from a distance—humbly—to ask you—if by a stroke of chance—you should have here—any one—from—from Cucugnan?'

"'Any one from Cu— Eternal fires, but you are playing the stupid! As if you didn't know that all Cucugnan is here! Look there, you ugly crow! Open your eyes and you will see how we handle them here, these famous Cucugnanais!'

"And there in the midst of a whirlwind of flame I saw the long Coq-Galine—you all remember him, my children—Coq-Galine, who got drunk so often and so often shook the fleas from his poor Clarion, and Catarinet, that little beggar with her nose in the air, who slept in the barn—you remember her, too, my 'droles.' But pass on, pass on. I have said enough, and Pascal, Dolght de Poix, he who made his oil with the olives of M. Julien—I saw him, too, and Babet, the gleaner, who in gleaning swelled his sheaves with handfuls from the common stack; Master Grapasi, who oiled so well the wheels of his barrow; Dauphine, who sold so dear the water from her well, and the Tortillard, who, when he encountered she upon the road carrying the blessed bread, kept on his way, his pipe in his mouth, his cap on his head, as if he had met a dog, and Goulan with his Zotte, and Jacques and Pierre and Toni!"—

Moved and white with fear, the audience groaned aloud in thus beholding in that opened hell a father, a mother, a grandmother or a sister.

"You know very well, my brethren," continued the good Abbe Martin—"you know very well that this cannot go on. I have the charge of your souls, and I wish—yes, I intend to save you from the abyss into which you are rolling headforemost. Tomorrow I begin the work, not later than tomorrow, and the work will not flag.

"Behold, how I shall take it in order that it shall be done thoroughly and with system. We shall go rank by rank, as at Jonquieres when they dance. Tomorrow, Monday, I shall confess the aged men and women of the village; Tuesday the children—I shall soon finish; Wednesday the youths and maidens—this will doubtless take me longer; Thursday the men—we shall cut it short; Friday the women—'No gossip,' I shall say to them, 'No gossip.' Saturday the miller—it is not too much of a furnace for him all alone, and Sunday, if we have finished, we should be very happy. When the grain is ripe, my children, it should be cut. When the wine is drawn, it should be drunk. Behold, enough of dirty linen—the question is to wash it, and to wash it well.

"To the mercy of God I commend you. That which was said was done, and done with lye. Since that memorable Sunday the virtues of Cucugnan have breathed themselves for ten leagues around. And the good pastor, M. Martin, happy and full of cheerfulness, dreamed the other night that, followed by all his flock in resplendent procession, he climbed the golden road that led to the city of God in the midst of lighted tapers, a cloud of perfumed incense and children of the choir chanting the "Te Deum."—From the French of Alphonse Daudet For Short Stories.

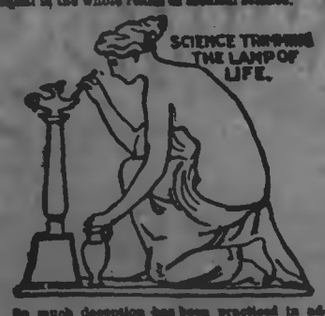
HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls cause inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.



So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without an ounce to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy tissue and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

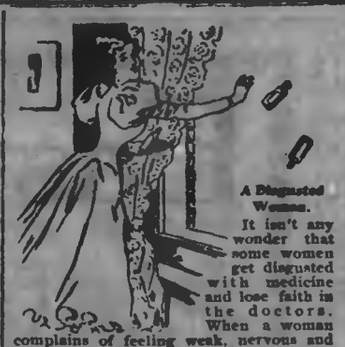
This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N. Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.



A Disgusted Woman.

It isn't any wonder that some women get disgusted with medicine and lose faith in the doctors. When a woman complains of feeling weak, nervous and despondent, and suffers from headaches, pains in the back and stitches in the sides and burning, dragging-down sensations, the average physician will attribute these feelings to heart, stomach or liver trouble. For years, possibly, she takes their prescriptions for these ailments without receiving any benefit, then, in final disgust, she throws away drugs, and hopelessly lets matters take their course. A woman who suffers in this way is almost invariably a sufferer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. There is an unfailing and inexpensive cure for all troubles of this description. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned, making them well and strong. It heals all internal ulceration and stops debilitating drains. It takes the pressure off the nerves and makes them strong and steady. Under its marvelous merits thousands of women have been made healthy, happy and robust. The "Favorite Prescription" restores weak, nervous, pain-racked women and makes strong, healthy, capable wives and mothers. With its use all pain and suffering disappear. All good medicine stores sell it and have nothing else "just as good."

Constipation and torpid liver will make the most ambitious man or woman utterly good for nothing. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure them. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic.

Dr. Pierce's illustrated book, "People's Medical Adviser" sent, paper-bound, free for cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; or, cloth-bound 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Getting Mamma Out of the Way.

In an Australian country town lived a widow named Sawyer and her pretty daughter Mary. As often happens, the daughter was in love with a young man against whom the widow entertained a most unmerited prejudice.

One morning Mary was missing, and her mother, divining the cause, rushed hatless and with a huge white apron enveloping her substantial figure, down to the place where a coach left daily for the city 60 miles distant.

The coach was upon the point of leaving, and, although Mary was not there, her luggage was. The irate parent took her seat, expecting that the girl would join the coach en route. As a matter of fact this had been the original plan, and Mary had gone to a relative's house at the opposite end of the town to wait for the coach. Her brother, however, who was in league with her, gave the driver the hint, saw his mother fairly started on her wild goose chase, and then rejoined the happy pair, who were married by a clergyman some two hours later.

Imagine the poor widow's feelings to find, on arriving at her destination, a telegram awaiting her announcing that the wedding had taken place.—Pearson's Weekly.

Snakes' Eyes.

One of the most curious facts with regard to snakes is that their eyes are never closed.

Sleeping or waking, alive or dead, they are always wide eyed. If we take a dead snake and examine it closely, we shall soon find the reason—there are no eyelids.

The eye is protected only by a strong scale, which forms a part of the epidermal envelope and is cast off in a piece with that every time the reptile molts.

The eye plate is as clear and transparent as glass and allows the most perfect vision, while at the same time, as any close observer of the habits of the snake can easily discover, it is so hard and tough as perfectly to protect the delicate organ within from the thorns and twigs among which in flight from enemies or in pursuit of prey the reptile so often hurriedly glides. —Golden Days.

Benefit For Them.

"Are you interested in this 'don't worry' movement?"

"Yes; I wish I could get all my creditors into it."—Chicago Record.

If you are ill you need a doctor in whom you have confidence.

If you need a remedy you want one that has been tested for years; not an obscure, untried thing that is urged upon you, or on which you save a few cents—that is no consideration as against health.

For wasting in children or adults, Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites has been the recognized remedy for twenty-five years.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

THE STORY OF LIFE.

Say, what is life? 'Tis to be born;
A helpless babe, to greet the light
With a sharp wail, as if the morn
Foretold a cloudy noon and night;
To weep, to sleep and weep again,
With sunny smiles between, and then?

And then apace the infant grows
To be a laughing, sprightly boy,
Happy despite his little woes,
Were he but conscious of his joys;
To be, in short, from two to ten,
A merry, moody child, and then?

And then in coat and trousers clad,
To learn to say the Decalogue,
And break it, an unthinking lad,
With mirth and mischief all agog;
A truant oft by field and fen
To capture butterflies, and then?

And then, increased in strength and size,
To be, anon, a youth full grown;
A hero in his mother's eyes,
A young Apollo in his own;
To imitate the ways of men
In fashionable sins, and then?

And then, at last, to be a man;
To fall in love, to woo and wed;
With seething brain to scheme and plan
To gather gold or toil for bread;
To sue for fame with tongue or pen
And gain or lose the prize, and then?

And then in gray and wrinkled old
To mourn the speed of life's decline;
To praise the scenes his youth beheld
And dwell in memory of lang syne;
To dream awhile with darkened ken,
Then drop into his grave, and then?

—John G. Saxe.

expense. Councillor J. M. White also spoke to the same effect.

On motion of Councillors White and McWilliams, the Water Co. will be invited to meet the Council in Committee of the Whole to discuss the question.—Carried.

Councillor Best thought that the Auburn Co. were asking for a little too much. Only last year the town had gone to the expense of building a footbridge for the Auburn people.

THE PROPERTY AND HEALTH COMMITTEE,

reported through its chairman, Councillor W. H. White, as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Property and Health Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. Tenders were asked for painting and repairing the water carts and lumber wagon and your committee awarded the contract to T. E. McGrath at $26.00, his tender being the lowest.

2. Your committee also recommend that the Rubban Company be given notice that the town will require $10 a year rent without taxes for the town lot used by that Company.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. WHITE, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE MARKET COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Councillor Robertson, reported as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Your Market Committee beg leave to report that as authorised by the council, they sold the market tolls and charges for the year, commencing April 1st, 1898, by auction, Mr. J. D. Baptie purchased them at the price of $2,060.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. B. ROBERTSON, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Councillor Best, reported as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Sewerage Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the accounts of Christopher Robinson for $75, and E. B. Edwards for $61.62 for disbursements, which were referred to this committee, be paid.

Your committee also recommend that the matter of procuring brick for the manholes of the sewers and the price of cement, be left with the chairman of this committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

reported through Councillor Langford as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1 That as the Court of Revision had not power to remit the taxes of the Young Women's Christian Association, the taxes of the Association for 1897 (except school taxes) be remitted by the council.

2 Your committee employed several men and boys to destroy caterpillars' nests, the men being paid $1 25 and the boys 50c per day. Those engaged were to be paid on the certificate of the Councillors who were given charge of the work, namely Councillors Best, Beone, Cobb and Langford. We recommend that this be confirmed.

3 That the Mayor act as Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee during the absence of the chairman.

4 Your Committee received a letter from Mr James Haverson, solicitor for Mr. William Croft, stating that he proposed applying to the Government to have the fine recently imposed on Mr. Croft remitted. Your Committee recommend that the clerk be instructed to write in reply, and annex a copy of Mr. Haverson's letter, and state that the Council believes the facts to be as stated, sympathises with Mr. Croft, and is willing that the Government should remit the fine.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. L. DAVIS, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE,

through Councillor McWilliams, reported as appended:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. Tenders were asked for the supply of lumber and nails required by the corporation, and the following tenders were received:—For 5 in. nails, Adam Hall, $2.50; George Hutchinson, $2.50, A E Micks & Co., $2.50, and Peterborough Hardware Co., $2.50; for lumber, A McDonald, pine plank, $11 50; Rathbun Co., pine plank, $12 00; Jackson Co., pine, $12, cedar scantling, $10; W B Kelly, cedar scantling and timber, $9.50, and 15,000 feet pine, 11.75. Your committee recommend that the nails be purchased from the four firms that tendered, the purchases to be divided among them, and that A McDonald's tender for pine plank and W B Kelly's for cedar's accepted.

2 Your Committee recommend that the change in the agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway, regarding the Auburn footbridge, limiting the agreement to fifteen years, which was proposed by the Railway Company, be agreed to.

3 Your Committee recommend that they be authorized to have a stand pipe put up in No. 4 Ward, and also in No. 1 Ward if it is required.

4 That tenders be asked for laying one block or three blocks of concrete pavement on George street, and that specifications be prepared by the Town Engineer and submitted to this committee

5 Your Committee Advertised for tenders for street watering and received the following tenders:

WESTERN DISTRICT.

J H Cameron	$120 00
Geo McCloskan	180 00
M Bolton	200 00
Edward Welsh	240 00
Jas A Blodgett	225 00
M O'Donnell	240 00

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

J H Cameron	$200 00
Wm Carnie	270 00
Thos McWilliams	241 00
Wm Breckenridge & Co	225 00

NORTHERN DIVISION.

J H Cameron	$120 00
Geo M. Clennan	180 00
Thos Blodgett	194 00
Richard Farnell	200 00
John G Gribbin	225 00
Michael O'Donnell	240 00

As J H Cameron, who is the lowest tenderer in two divisions has chosen the southern division, your committee recommend that the contract for the southern division be awarded to J H Cameron, for the western division, to Ed Welsh; and for the northern division to George McClennan at the prices named in their tenders.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM DAWSON, Chairman.

THE PRINTING COMMITTEE,

through Councillor J. M. White, reported as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Printing Committee beg leave to report that they asked for tenders for the printing required by the town and received a tender from the printing office of the town, which is attached to this report. They recommend that the tender be accepted, and that the work be divided among the four offices in accordance with a letter from the proprietors of the offices, which is also attached to this report.

We also recommend that the clerk be authorized to procure a copy of the Consolidated Municipal and Assessment Acts and of the Municipal Index.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. M. WHITE, Chairman pro tem.

The report was adopted.

Councillor Robertson stated that a mistake had been made in the reading of the tender, Mr. Bolton having tendered at $200 for either the western or southern divisions. Seconded by Councillor Dunne, he moved that in consideration of this fact the contract for the western district be given to Mr. Cameron and for the southern to Mr. Bolton.

The report was carried after being thus amended.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Councillors Robertson and W. H. White moved that the Market Committee be empowered to ask for tenders for two pairs of suitable scales for use on market to weigh potatoes and meat in accordance with the bylaw recently passed, and also to build suitable platform to do weighing on.—Carried.

Councillors W. H. White and Robertson moved that the Street Inspector be instructed to make out a list of all the tools belonging to the town for the Property Committee—Carried.

Councillor Dunne stated that he had a bylaw presented to him to introduce to the council, which was to provide for the raising of debentures to the amount of $30,000 to retire a part payment on $50,000 debentures, due on May 1st. Councillor Dunne stated that he understood that a sinking fund had been provided to raise money to redeem these debentures, but that the fund had been used for retiring other debentures falling due. He did not understand this and asked that the bylaw be first referred to the Finance Committee to inquire into the circumstances.

The council also took this view and the matter will be looked into, Councillor Best pointing out that if the funds had been misapplied such action was illegal.

The secretary-treasurer of the Town Commissioners will be asked to meet the committee in the matter.

Councillor McWilliams introduced a bylaw authorising the execution of the contracts for street watering. It passed its several readings and was signed.

Councillor Best brought up the Trent Valley Canal matter. He asked what action the council proposed to take in regard to petitioning the Dominion Government to make a further grant in the estimates. It was true that $600,000 had been placed in the estimates, but half of this was simply a revote for work already done and the rest was to be applied on the carrying out of the present contracts.

Mayor Davis thought the matter ought to be taken up immediately. He saw that the Erie Canal was being deepened to eight feet at an additional expenditure of $17,000,000 and in consequence thought that arrangements should be made to have the depth of the lift lock increased from six to eight feet, which he understood could be done at a very small increase in cost. It might be well for another big deputation to be arranged for of representatives from all along the line in order to urge on the Government to place an additional grant in the supplementary estimates.

The town clerk was instructed to call the sub-committee of the Joint Committee of the town and county councils together at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon to discuss this question as well as some other matters.

The council then adjourned.

Wanted to Perform an Operation.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS RENDERED IT UNNECESSARY.

Too many doctors are too ready to use the knife. Many a one is sacrificed on the altar of a surgeon's ambition to operate who could be saved by the use of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills The case of MRS. W. B. AIKEN, of Zephyr, Ont., is one in point. Her husband says that she had been doctoring with several doctors for Inflammation of the Bladder for over a year.

"The last bottle I got from the doctor he said if that did her no good she would be compelled to have an operation performed. I luckily picked up a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills in Mr. Dafoe's store, and my wife took one pill that night and one in the morning, and she has never felt the least sign of pain since. I will always keep Dr. Chase's Pills in my house for all our family complaints."

British Preference Only in the Canadian Tariff.

HELP TO BRITISH WEST INDIES.

Preference to Be Given to Sugar Coming From the Islands—Another Step in the Direction of Imperial Unity —An Able Statement by Finance Minister Fielding.

Ottawa, April 6.—The Canadian budget of 1898, while of less commanding importance than that which a year ago, by reason of its preferential tariff features, caused a sensation in the Britannic world, nevertheless will be talked of in both Europe and America to-day as marking another milestone in the march toward Imperial unity. Last year Mr. Fielding, on behalf of the Canadian people, said that in consideration of the generous fiscal system of Great Britain, a system under which the ports of that country are free to Canadian products as to those of all other lands, Canada desired to give the motherland better treatment in our ports than we were prepared to give to foreign nations that placed tariff barriers in the way of trade. There were doubt and difficulty in entering upon this course, but the treaties standing in the way have been swept aside, and on the 1st of August all imports from the motherland will come in at a duty of 25 per cent. less than that levied upon goods from foreign nations. During July—and because the treaties do not expire till the end of that month—all countries affected by the treaties will be permitted to send in goods at the preferential rate of 25 per cent. under the general tariff.

To Strengthen Imperial Ties.

The feature of the tariff of 1898 is another effort to strengthen Imperial ties by enlarging the bounds of the preferential arrangement. Our fellow-colonists in the West Indies have been struggling for many years to keep their heads above water, and to meet with cane sugar the competition of German beet sugar, for the production of which heavy bounties are paid by the German Government. In the tariff Mr. Fielding, on behalf of the Canadian people, extends a helping hand to these British colonists of the West Indies by admitting all their products at the full preferential reduction of 25 per cent.

A West Indian Preference.

The British West Indies now send but twenty-five million pounds of sugar to Canada out of three hundred and thirty million pounds imported by us annually, and it is hoped that the preference now given—which Mr. Fielding estimates will allow British West Indian cane sugars in at an average duty of 49 1-8 cents per hundred pounds, while sugars from other countries, and particularly German beet sugar, will pay an average duty of 65¾ cents per hundred pounds—will assist in the restoration of the British West Indies to a condition of hope, if not of prosperity. This concession to the colonists of the West Indies is made as a free gift, and is not dependant upon reductions of the tariff levied by the various islands upon Canadian produce. It is believed, however, that—as in the case of the reduction of duty on British goods—the result cannot but be beneficial to the Canadian export trade, because it will provoke among the people of the West Indies a lively and sympathetic interest in Canada and Canadian affairs. Mr. Fielding, at the close of his splendidly reasoned out budget speech last night, expressed the hope that under the reciprocal clause of the tariff, still maintained, the other colonies may soon earn the right to come in at preferential rates, so that ultimately imports into Canada from every corner of the Britannic Empire shall be admitted at duties 25 per cent. less than those levied upon the products of foreign nations. Up to the present time, other than in the cases above mentioned, the only British possessions that have by reason of their low scale of import duties earned a place upon the preferential schedule are New South Wales and British India, and imports from these countries will come in on the preferential schedule.

The Tariff Unchanged.

Of general tariff changes the budget was absolutely barren. The work of collecting the ten cents a pound duty on raw tobacco is transferred from the customs to the excise department, the duty in all cases to be levied on standard weight. The duty on sugar, as will be seen, is changed from a specific rate to an ad valorem, the value of the sugar imported to be determined by polariscope test. While announcing that there would be no tariff changes this year, the Minister of Finance very plainly intimated that manufacturers must not rest on their oars in the belief that the tariff would remain unchanged for ten or even for five years, but that they must do everything possible to render themselves independent of protection. The Government of Canada was, he intimated, a tariff reform Government. Of the condition of business throughout the Dominion and of the public revenues the Minister spoke with the utmost confidence.

MR. FIELDING'S SPEECH.

An Able Presentation of the Financial and Trade Affairs of Canada by the Finance Minister.

In moving the House into Committee of Ways and Means, amid cheers, Mr. Fielding said he thought he had good reason to congratulate the country on the present condition of affairs. Since he delivered the budget in April last Canada had had an eventful year—a year of marked advancement, of material progress and steadily increasing prosperity. He would first refer, he said, to the financial position of the country. The deficit on account of consolidated fund last year was $519,981, as compared with $330,551 the previous year. There had been a decrease in the customs last year, as anticipated, owing to the tariff changes.

Mr. Foster asked if the Minister could give a statement of the revenue account of the Jubilee stamp issue.

The Minister of Finance replied that he had not the statement by him, but he would furnish it later on. Continuing, he said he thought he could congratulate the Opposition on the happy failure of some of the gloomy predictions they had made last session and the previous one of the operations of the year ending on June 30 last. They had said direful things of the first year of Liberal rule. Instead of a deficit of three and a quarter millions, as Mr. Foster had predicted, he would be glad to learn it was only slightly over half a million dollars.

As the question of prohibition was likely to be a live issue, he though it well to give the details of the revenue from liquors. Ale imported last year amounted to 327,216 gallons, and the duty collected to $65,248; spirits and wines 1,196,136 gallons, duty collected $2,400,529. The excise returns from malt were 6,840,148 pounds, duty $1,026,652; spirits 27,825,148 gallons, duty $4,732,506. The revenue received from these sources, therefore, were: Customs, $2,471,775; excise, $5,759,158; or a total revenue of $8,230,933.

Turning to the current year, he estimated the customs revenue at $21,000,000, as against $19,478,347 last year; excise $8,000,000, as against $9,130,820, and miscellaneous $10,300,000, or a total revenue of $39,300,000. Against this there would be an expenditure on consolidated fund of $38,750,000, leaving a surplus of $550,000 on the 30th of June next. This would wipe out the deficit of last year and leave a small balance on the right side of the account. While, he added, we had borrowed in London only about half of our authorized credit, yet he would not have to resort to a temporary loan or borrow money in any form.

During the last fiscal year the public debt, which stood at $238,497,432 on June 30, 1896, had been increased by $3,041,168, so that on June 30, 1897, it stood at $261,738,596, and for the current year there would be, in round figures, four and one-half million dollars. For next year (1898-99) he estimated the revenue at $21,000,000, for the loss by the full 25 per cent. preferential reduction would be met by increasing the revenue in other quarters. Then, there would be $8,500,000 from excise and $11,000,000 from miscellaneous sources, a total revenue of $40,500,000. The main estimates just brought down amounted to $39,124,000, against the main estimates of $38 168,000 for the current year, so there would not be very much difference between this year and next year.

In proof of the increased prosperity of the country, he cited the deposits in the banks, chartered and Government. In 1892 the deposits amounted to $300,479,000; in 1897 to $350,076,000, and for the period of six months ending Dec. 31, $371,468,000. Another evidence of the increased business of Canada was to be found in the increased note circulation, which on Oct. 31, 1892, was $57,235,000, and at the same period last year $66,382,000.

Mr. Foster—Did you take the same date in each case?

Mr. Fielding—Yes, Oct. 31 in each year. The bank clearings had increased by $126,000,000 last year over 1896. Then the railway traffic returns were an index of the betterment in the country's condi-

M'KINLEY'S MESSAGE

Recommends Armed Intervention in Cuba.

BRITAIN WILL NOT MEDIATE.

The Pope's Kind Offices Result in Failure —The Message of the President Contains 7,000 Words and Has Been Approved by the Cabinet— What Will the Outcome Be?

Washington, April 6.—That the President's message will go to Congress today was the best information obtainable in Washington last evening, though the kaleidoscope of international events appears to be moving so rapidly at Madrid as to make possible some new and possibly remarkable change in the aspect of affairs that will prevent this statement holding good. The message is ready, makes 7,000 words and has been approved by the Cabinet. It recommends armed interference by the United States, but, so far as known, without stating that this should be immediate, to prevent hostilities and provide succor for the starving people. It makes an argument against recognition of independence at this time, and leaves it clear that, in the opinion of the Administration, it is the duty of the United States Government to supervise the affairs of the island until, in the light of fuller and later knowledge, a stable government can be established. The attitude of Congress on this policy cannot be foretold in advance of its official promulgation in the President's message.

Britain Stands Clear.

London, April 6.—The movement of the powers of Europe for a joint offer of mediation between the United States and Spain has received a severe, and probably fatal, rebuff, in the form of a definite refusal upon the part of the British Government to participate in it.

It is still uncertain whether the continental powers will finally offer mediation. Now that Great Britain has cold-shouldered the matter, the diplomats do not believe the United States would accept such an offer, the combination being so evidently based in favor of Spain that Spain would gladly submit her quarrel to such a tribunal.

The refusal will have the effect of widening the cleavage between Great Britain and other nations, and of greatly strengthening the growing sympathy and community of interests of the United States and Great Britain.

The Pope Has Failed.

London, April 6.—A despatch from Rome says a telegram received at the Vatican from the United States announced the failure of the Pope's intervention. It says that President McKinley showed himself extremely sensible of the initiative taken by the Pontiff; but it was impossible for him to overcome the prejudice, even though unjust, entertained by a majority of the American people against the Vatican's intervention in political affairs.

PROTESTED ELECTIONS.

The Crop Not Yet All Reaped—Five More Filed—The Total Amount of Money Paid Into Court.

Toronto, April 6.—Up to Monday night $33,000 had been paid into the Bank of Commerce in trust for the court on account of election protests. All deposits due to date, with the exception of those for East York and North York, had been paid.

Five more protests were filed yesterday, two by Conservatives and three by Liberals. They were: West Algoma, Nipissing, East Elgin, Lincoln and South Huron.

Mr. Conmee, member-elect for West Algoma, has had his election several times protested heretofore, so that he is now in no new predicament. His majority was 250. The petitioner, R. Craig, shipping clerk, Rat Portage, claims the seat for C. W. Chadwick, the Conservative candidate. Besides the usual charges, irregularities on behalf of Mr. Conmee are alleged against deputy returning officers, poll clerks and scrutineers.

In the way of charges the Nipissing protest is a rarity. Besides the usual charges, the petitioner, William Hewitt, laborer, Mattawa, states that deputy returning officers both opened, and closed their books ahead of time and also that at Cameron poll the deputy returning officer refused to fill in the statement made by him in the poll book, although requested to do so, and as a result this poll was not counted by the returning officer, owing to the returns not having been filled in by the deputy returning officer, and that the poll, if counted, as the petitioner now claims it should be, would show a clear "majority of 39 in favor of the said Charles Lamarch." John Loughrin's majority was 38.

In East Elgin C. A. Brown's election, by a majority of 12, is petitioned against by Matt Easton, cheesemaker, Yarmouth.

Dr. Jessop had a Conservative majority of 880 in Lincoln. Thomas Welsh, mason, Merritton, is the petitioner.

Donald Burns, farmer, Township of Hay, petitions against the return of H. Kilber in South Huron. Mr. Kilber (Con.) had a majority of 159.

There Are 23 Known Dead.

Shawnestown, Ills., April 6.—Twenty-three known dead, a possibility that the list may reach 50, 1,500 people in actual need of the necessaries of life, 700 people homeless and damage to the amount of $200,000 is the net result of the flood which swept through Shawnestown late Sunday afternoon. Not one of the bodies has been recovered.

I was without ambition or appetite. All strength had left me. One doctor said I had heart disease, another torpid liver, a third said it was lung trouble and another consumption, and so on. I have no doubt, symptoms of all these complaints and even that of rheumatism, judging from the stiffness and pains in my joints and legs at times, were manifest. I was unable to attend to business, was confined to my room and frequently lay in a comatose state for hours. I was so feeble, and so little encouragement was offered, that I began to wonder

Where I Would be Buried.

Finally, as a last effort to help myself, I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The effects of a few doses of the medicine seemed almost magical. The depressed feeling left me, and when one bottle had been taken, I had regained an appetite, and strength was coming back. After finishing the third bottle I was able to go about my commercial duties. I continued to improve, and to satisfy my mind that I had fully regained health, I submitted myself to a doctor for examination. He pronounced me 'sound as a dollar.' Three months later, I passed a rigid examination for insurance. I have since been in the best of health, notwithstanding my travels, and I give

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1898.

TORONTO AND THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The Council of the Toronto Board of Trade takes rank with the Senate as a wet blanket on national enterprise. The following report of the Council of the Board is a specimen of the unadulterated selfishness of Toronto, and of the cheerful ineptitude with which they address themselves to the task of pronouncing ex-cathedra opinions upon a subject which their report shows them to know very little of. This is the report:

The report of the Railway and Transportation Committee, dealing with the Trent Valley Canal was then read. It said:—"You referred to this committee a document furnished by the Dominion Government to the Board at the request of the President in November, 1897, in regard to the expenditure on the Trent Canal, and requested that the same be reported upon.

"The term 'Trent Canal' applies to a series of water stretches which do not form a connected system of navigation and which at present are only efficient for local use.

"It is claimed by the advocates of the Trent Canal that it is possible to connect the waters of the Georgian Bay with Lake Ontario by connecting these water stretches with various canals and deepening rivers and lakes at different points; the distance between a point on Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario, via this proposed route, it is claimed would be about 200 miles.

"It is not expected that boats of a greater draught than from five to six feet would be able to go through the canal if it should ever be completed.

"The Government have already expended upon this work on capital account up to June 30th, 1897, $2 036,255 67. On the 8th of November, 1897, there was an available appropriation still unused of $827,200 39.

AMOUNT OF FREIGHT HANDLED.

"During the last fiscal year there were 21,145 tons of freight moved which passed through this part of the canal system which has been completed. Of this amount 20,650 tons was the product of the forest, chief amongst which were the items of firewood, 9,168 tons, giving a revenue to the Government of $102.33; sawlogs, 4 017 tons, yielding a revenue of $46.43; sawn lumber, 2,175 tons, yielding a revenue of $48.45; the tonnage of these three items being 15,360, while the total traffic paying tolls was 16,487 tons. The balance, 1,127 tons, was chiefly composed of other products of the forest.

"It might be interesting to not that there were a few items not the product of the forest which should be mentioned, namely, 3 tons cattle, 39 tons hogs and 3 tons sheep.

"The total amount of passenger tolls which the Government received was $126.03. The total amount of tol on vessels, passengers and all other receipts and revenue from all other sources amounted to $962 52 for the fiscal year ending 1897.

"The cost of operation and maintenance, including repairs, but, so far as your committee are able to learn, not including the salaries of Government officials for superintending, etc., was $17,370.27.

NO USE FOR THIS WATERWAY.

"Your committee are of the opinion, so far as the local traffic on this system of rivers, lakes and canals is concerned, that, according to the returns, there is practically little or nothing to warrant the expenditure. So far as it relates to a thorough connection between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario, that it is impracticable, in view of the fact that only small boats, having a draught of from five to six feet, would be able to navigate, being of insufficient capacity to compete with the larger vessels which are able to navigate the Welland Canal and St. Lawrence system when deepened.

"From a commercial standpoint the scheme does not appear feasible. It could not be made remunerative if built. The Welland Canal, which would be its competitor, would assuredly hold the business the opportunities afforded, especially on Lake Erie, for return cargo to the west, are much greater than in any other section of the route between the water and Fort William.

"By various resolutions of this board it has been its settled conviction for many years that the best and most practical way of reaching tidewater was via the Welland and St. Lawrence canals, and they have repeatedly signified their convictions to the Government by asking that the canals on this route be deepened to 14 feet, a work which is still incomplete.

"Your committee are furthermore of the opinion that the expenditure thus far on this system of waterways, with a view of creating a through and efficient route between the Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario, has been unwarranted and unnecessary; they would therefore recommend that the council should strongly urge the Government not to grant any further sums of money for the carrying on of this work, the expenditure on which in the end can result in no practical benefit to the country."

Such a report is hardly worthy of serious consideration. The letter of "D." in another column gives an idea of the motives that underlie Toronto's brazen—no other word is so fit—attempt to sidetrack the Trent Valley Canal. Does the Toronto Board of Trade know that the Trent Valley Canal is a part and parcel of the canal system of Canada, and one of the most important links in the chain of water communication from the interior to the seaboard? Does the Toronto Board of Trade know that a Royal Commission thoroughly investigated the feasibility of this canal and made an exhaustive report endorsing the canal and justifying the Government in pushing on the work? Does it know that the late Dominion Government endorsed the work and made it as much a part of its canal policy as any of the other canals of the country? Does it know that the present Dominion Government has more practically endorsed the canal and spent more upon it in construction last year than in any year in its history? Does it know that the Government is committed to its completion both on the grounds of the real and practical utility of the canal as a national waterway, but also that the large amount of money, over two millions, already spent upon it would be wrecked, except for local purposes, if the canal were not carried to completion? It is useless to argue the utility of the canal and its feasibility—these have been settled by the report of the Royal Commission for all time. We know that Toronto very reluctantly accepts the situation; as "D." says in his letter referred to, Toronto dreads the Trent Valley Canal, and, in its narrow, parochial view of things, feels called upon to condemn any national project that does not bring grist to its mill. The Toronto Board of Trade might as well save its ink and its eloquence. The Dominion Government will not pay much attention to the growl of the dog in the manger; it will not readily go back on the policy settled upon by two administrations and justified by the deliberate report of a Royal Commission which after exhaustive investigation, pronounced decidedly and unequivocally in favour of the feasibility and desirability of the Trent Valley Canal. The dwellers by the sluggish Don must not think that Canada revolves around their city hall; they must not think that Governments will bow down to them and trumblingly hasten to obey their behests, and, on their mere indication, meekly defer to the dictum:

I am Sir Oracle
And, when I ope my lips, let no dog bark.

Discreet Silence.

An excellent piece of advice was that once given to George Gray, a young Methodist preacher, who was a mere boy when he began his work. Within a few days of the time he was 18½ years old his name was on the records of an annual conference as a traveling preacher—the youngest candidate ever received in the Methodist Episcopal church. He was sent to the Barre circuit in Vermont.

As he mounted his horse to set out for his appointed field of labor, a jaunt of more than 200 miles, his uncle, a Methodist of much shrewdness and humor, gave him a parting address which he never forgot and to which he often referred in later years.

"Never pretend that you know much, George," said he, looking up at the youthful rider from under his shaggy eyebrows, "for if you do so pretend the people will soon find out that you are sadly mistaken, but neither," he added after a moment's pause, "need you tell them how little you know, for this they will find out soon enough."—Youth's Companion.

tion. The gross receipts of the C.P.R. last year totalled $24,049,584, as against $20,681,596 the year previous.

Similarly the Grand Trunk returns amounted to $19,591,588, as against $18,731,885 in the previous year.

A reference to the trade returns for the past five months was another index of the country's strong position. The imports showed an increase of $12,000,000, and the exports of $26,451,591, the best record of exports in the history of the Dominion. Let the House be not unmindful of the chief cause of this improvement. It was because prosperity had come to the great agricultural classes of this country. (Applause.)

Dealing with the new loan, the Minister mentioned that the net rate of interest, including all charges, was 2 7-8 per cent. The loan was placed at the price of 91, and sold at £91 10s 5d.

Mr. Foster—What is the length of the loan?

Mr. Fielding—Fifty years. Between now and 1910, he said, Dominion loans to the amount of 167½ million dollars would mature. The accumulated sinking funds would amount to $66,971,000, so that the Government would have to borrow the balance of these maturing loans to the amount of $101,000,000. At the rate of interest now being paid on the loans which were to mature, the country was paying interest to the amount of $4,000,000, but assuming that the same rate of interest could be secured as last year, viz., 2.86 per cent., there would be a saving in interest to the extent of $1,140,000. He was glad to know that the result of the loan transaction of last year was not made a matter of party politics, but that its success was recognized by the public men and the press of both parties. (Applause.)

Mr. Fielding then justified the reduction in the rate of interest allowed the depositors in Government savings banks. He said that during the Tariff Commission inquiries manufacturers complained that the cost of capital was greater to them than to their rivals in other countries. While it might be thought this was a matter with which the Government had nothing to do, it was really a fact that it was owing to the banks having to pay such high rates of interests to depositors, which they are obliged to do because the Government kept up the rate of interest. For a long time the Government had been paying rather more than a fair value for money deposited in the Government banks. Originally these were merely designed as a place of safe deposit, but they had come to be regarded as affording a good investment, until now much of the money on deposit in the Government banks did not represent the savings of the working classes at all. Therefore, the Government, in the interest of the business men and manufacturers, last July reduced the rate of interest from 3½ to 3 per cent., the result of which change was beneficial in reducing the cost of capital; so now it was proposed on the 1st of July to reduce the rate another ¼ per cent.

Mr. Fielding, continuing after recess, took up the question of the denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties, and explained the effect of the most-favored-nation treaties with other countries. He stated that, as a result of the action of Canada, backed up by the other colonies and British public opinion, the denunciation of the treaties had been brought about. At the end of July these treaties will expire, and Canada would then be free to confer preferential advantages on the Mother Country, and such other British colonies as might be admitted. That was what he would propose to the House.

MISS S. J. ARMSTRONG

280 GEORGE STREET.

It was proposed to repeal altogether the section of the tariff of last session dealing with the preferential tariff, and to substitute a new one on the lines that would be found in the resolutions. The new resolution would apply at the outset to the United Kingdom, New South Wales and British India.

Mr. McNeill asked how the denunciation of the Belgian and German treaties affected the other favored countries.

Mr. Fielding replied that by the favored nation clause Canada, as a part of the Empire, was obliged to give to any country having a favored nation treaty with Great Britain any privileges which she might grant to any third power. As Belgium and Germany were third powers within the meaning of those words, the privileges had to be accorded to all other countries which had favored nation treatment.

Mr. McNeill asked if Holland had the right to come under the favored nation clause, irrespective altogether of the Belgian and German treaties?

Mr. Fielding, in reply, said that was a question on which legal gentlemen might differ. He believed there was a measure of discretion remaining in the hands of the Government on that question. However, Holland received the benefit of the doubt on her goods, which were admitted under the reciprocal tariff. Mr. Fielding proceeded to read the proposed new preferential clause, which will be found in another column.

He wished to say something in regard to changes which might be necessary in the present tariff. The Government had been exceedingly gratified by the manner in which the tariff of last session had been received by the country. That policy had given unqualified satisfaction, but the Government had not made the mistake of supposing that the tariff was perfect. There were duties in it which were higher than some people would like them to be. There were duties which he hoped would not remain in the tariff for long.

Tariff stability was desirable. Frequent changes were not desirable. Better to bear with some inequalities or injustices that might exist than fly to greater evils which might result from frequent tariff changes. He wished, therefore, to announce to the House that it was not the intention to make any numerous tariff changes this session.

So far as the rates of duty were concerned there was only one change to announce, but there were a few others which were matters of form, rather than of substance. A change would be necessary that was purely technical in a section of the law relating to prohibited goods. In respect to the duty on raw leaf tobacco, after July 1 it would be collected by the Inland Revenue Department, instead of the customs, a change for convenience. The inland revenue would collect the duty hereafter on the standard weight. Some manufacturers had made arrangements to dry the tobacco before it passed out of the warehouse, and, therefore, did not pay on the moist weight. Other manufacturers were not able to do this, and were obliged to pay on the moist weight. It seemed only fair to treat all alike, and so the inland revenue regulations respecting standard weight would be uniform.

Incidentally, he mentioned that there were doubts whether the duty imposed on tobacco last session was as wise a measure as was then supposed. He was afraid it had led to an increase in smuggling to a considerable extent. However, that law would be given a fair trial, and he had to announce no change for the present.

Continuing, Mr. Fielding remarked that it was a good thing to avoid tariff tinkering. There was a possibility of going too far. They could not be too careful not to convey the impression to the public that the tariff was a finality. So long as there were high duties the tariff would be an unsettled question. Nothing was settled until settled in accordance with right, and so long as high duties prevailed there would be an agitation for deductions. He was afraid there was no rest for the protected manufacturer. Eternal vigilance must be the price of his protection. He must be on guard all the time, and so long as there were high duties there would be consumers to protest against them. He thought that manufacturers could not too soon realize that important fact. It would be well for them, then, to employ their time and opportunities in getting their business on such a basis that it would depend as little as possible on tariff aid.

The Minister of Finance then proceeded to consider our relations with the West Indies. In view of the various considerations that presented themselves; in view of the desire to extend our trade to the West Indies, and the difficulties presented by the present situation there, with the desire to assist the Imperial Government in reaching a solution of these difficulties, and without waiting for further negotiations or seeking concessions from our somewhat hard-up neighbors in the West Indies, the Government proposed after Aug. 1 next to give full play to the policy of preferential trade by extending that policy to all the British colonies in the West Indies. (Loud cheers.)

The present sugar duty was a flat rate of one-half cent per pound, which, by reason of the low grade of West Indian raw sugars, bore heavily on those products. The United States imposed their duty by the polariscope test, which made it a graduated duty. This plan the Government proposed to adopt.

In conclusion, the Finance Minister dwelt glowingly upon the present condition of affairs and the outlook for the future.

The one question, he said, which had tended to create trouble between the different races and creeds in Canada had been so happily settled that it was now scarcely mentioned. Never were the people more hopeful; never did greater business activity prevail; never was the agricultural industry in better shape. Ships had come to our ports during the year to carry away our products, and shipyards abroad were now busy constructing ships to carry the trade of Canada. Railway enterprise had received a stimulus; fishermen were doing well; mining development was making wonderful strides, while in that despised ice house, the Yukon district, we had opened up the most famous gold mining country in the world.

He was not so foolish as to say that all this was the outcome of the Government's policy, although, if the conditions were reversed, the Government would surely be blamed for it. Still, the Government's policy had certainly inculcated the hope and confidence necessary to profit by those conditions. Never was there a tariff policy so strongly endorsed in the country as one that elicited to such a degree the sympathy of the Empire at large. It had been commended by Her Majesty in the Speech from the Throne; the press had eulogized it, and Kipling had embalmed it in poetry. Why, the Colonial Secretary, in an official despatch, expressed to the Canadian Government the deep appreciation felt by Her Majesty's Government and the gratitude entertained by them towards the Government and people of Canada, because of the preferential tariff, recognizing that it was calculated to unite still more firmly the bonds of Imperial unity. Now, the Government had enlarged the scope of that preferential tariff by including the British West India Islands. Only one step more remained and that was to bring in not alone the Mother Country and the colonies mentioned (India and New South Wales), but every colony and possession in Her Majesty's Empire. (Prolonged applause.)

The Debate Adjourned.

In the absence of Mr. Foster, through indisposition, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper moved the adjournment of the debate, which was agreed to, Sir Richard Cartwright expressing his regret at the ex-Finance Minister's illness.

The House adjourned at 9.25 p.m.

THE TARIFF CHANGES.

The Preferential Resolution—Slight Addition to the Sugar Duty—Technical Changes Regarding Tobacco.

Following are the tariff resolutions:

That it is expedient to repeal section six of "The Customs Tariff, 1897," and to substitute the following section therefor:

6. The importation into Canada of any goods enumerated, described or referred to in schedule C to this Act is prohibited, and any such goods imported shall thereby become forfeited to the Crown and may be destroyed or otherwise dealt with, as the Minister of Customs may direct; and any person importing any such prohibited goods, or causing or permitting them to be imported, shall for each offence incur a penalty not exceeding $200.

Preferential Tariff Resolution.

That it is expedient to provide that section 17 of "The Customs Tariff, 1897," shall be repealed on and after the first day of August in the present year, 1898, and that the following section shall be substituted therefor:

17. Articles which are the growth, produce or manufacture of any of the following countries may, when imported direct into Canada, from any of such countries, be entered for duty or taken out of warehouse for consumption in Canada at the reduced rate of duty provided in the British preferential tariff set forth in schedule D to this Act:

(a) The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland;

(b) The British colony of Bermuda;

(c) The British colonies commonly called the British West Indies, including the following: The Bahamas, Jamaica, Turk's Island and the Caycas Islands, the Leeward Islands, (Antigua, St. Christopher, Nevis, Dominica, Montserrat and the Virgin Islands); the Windward Islands (Grenada, St. Vincent and St. Lucia) Barbadoes, Trinidad and Tobago, British Guiana;

(d) Any other British colony or possession, the customs tariff of which, on the whole, is as favorable to Canada as the British preferential tariff herein referred to is to such colony or possession; provided, however, that manufactured articles to be admitted under such preferential tariff shall be bona fide the manufacture of a country or countries entitled to the benefits of such tariff, and that such benefits shall not extend to the importation of articles into the production of which there has not entered a substantial portion of the labor of such countries. Any question that may arise as to any article being entitled to such benefits shall be decided by the Minister of Customs, whose decision shall be final.

2. The Minister of Customs, with the approval of the Governor-in-Council, shall determine what British colonies or possessions shall be entitled to the benefits of the preferential tariff under clause D of this section.

3. The Minister of Customs may, with the approval of the Governor-in-Council, make such regulations as may be deemed necessary for carrying out the intention of this section.

Schedule D Repealed.

That it is expedient to provide that schedule D of "The Customs Tariff, 1897," shall be repealed on and after the first day of August in the present year, 1898, and that the following schedule shall be substituted therefor:

Schedule D. British preferential tariff:

On articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or of any British colony or possession entitled to the benefits of this preferential tariff under section 17, the duties mentioned in schedule A shall be reduced as follows: The reduction shall be one-fourth of the duty mentioned in schedule A, and the duty to be levied, collected and paid shall be three-fourths of the duty mentioned in schedule A.

Provided, however, that this reduction shall not apply to any of the following articles, and that such articles shall in all cases be subject to the duties mentioned in schedule A, viz.: Wines, malt liquors, spirits, spirituous liquors, liquid medicines and articles containing alcohol; tobacco, cigars and cigarets.

Sugar Tariff.

Provided further, that the reduction shall only apply to refined sugar, when evidence satisfactory to the Minister of Customs is furnished that such refined sugar has been manufactured wholly from raw sugar produced in the British colonies or possessions.

That it is expedient to repeal items 435 and 436 of schedule A, of the "Customs Tariff, 1897," and to substitute the following therefor:

435. All sugar above No. 16, Dutch standard, in color, and all refined sugars, of whatever kinds, grades or standards, testing not more than 88 degrees by the polariscope, $1.08 per 100 pounds, and for each additional degree 1½ cents per 100 pounds. Fractions of five-tenths of a degree or less not to be subject to duty, and fractions of more than five-tenths to be dutiable as a degree.

436. Sugar, n.e.s., not above No. 16, Dutch standard, in color, sugar drainings or pumpings drained in transit, maiado or concentrated maiado, tank bottoms and sugar concrete, testing not more than 75 degrees by the polariscope, 40 cents per 100 pounds, and for each additional degree 1½ cents per 100 pounds. Fractions of five-tenths of a degree or less not to be subject to duty, and fractions of more than five-tenths to be dutiable as a degree. The usual packages in which imported to be free.

That it is expedient to provide that items 445 and 446 of schedule A to the "Customs Tariff, 1897," shall be repealed on and after the 1st day of July in the present year, 1898

Easter Milinery

...AT...

Miss Delaney's

Our Easter exhibit is now complete. We have been preparing for months for this important event in Millinery, and the result is before you arranged for your judgment and preference, we have no doubt as to the nature of that judgment. So far as expert knowledge, trained taste and ample resources can reach perfection our stock reaches it. The selection of our styles has been made from the masterpieces of the world's Millinery leaders. The grades, qualities and artistic excellence are the best of the best.

Of the productions of our own designers we say little, but we could say a great deal. We allow their own beautiful effects to speak for themselves. We place them beside the picked models of the world's best designers with perfect confidence and leave the rest to your judgment.

It is not in Millinery alone that we excel. We have filled all our departments with the best of Fashionable Easter gayety and seasonable goods.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committee begs leave to report and recommend the payment of the following accounts:

Peterborough Light & Power Co	14 52
Water Co	19 68
A H Stratton & Co	61 40
Wm Buller (when certified)	1 00

Your committee received a letter from S R Armstrong, town clerk, stating that the committee of the whole council were not disposed to meet the demand of the Board for 1898 unless the amount was reduced. Your committee instructed the Secretary of the Board to write the council that before making the requisition on the council, the Board had carefully considered the estimates, and the amount fixed on was absolutely necessary. The demand this year is exactly the same as in 1897.

Your committee begs to report further that Dr. Geo. Burnham was elected chairman of the committee for the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. B. BAMFORD, Chairman pro tem.

The report was adopted.

THE SUPERVISION COMMITTEE,

reported through its chairman, Dr. Caldwell, as appended:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Supervision Committee beg leave to report that they have elected Dr. Caldwell for their chairman for 1898. They advertised for tenders for the supply of chemicals for the Collegiate Institute, also for the supply of stationery for the Institute and Public Schools, and they recommend that the tender of Ormond & Walsh for chemicals be accepted, it being the lowest tender; and that the tender of the Review Printing Co. for stationery be accepted, it being the lowest tender.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. CALDWELL, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

reported as appended, through its chairman, Mr. J. J. McBain, as follows:

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Appointments, which is the whole Board, beg leave to report that Mr J J McBain has been elected chairman of the committee for the ensuing year.

Your Committee considered the Inspector's private report in reference to the teachers, but have no report to make on his remarks at present.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. J. McBAIN, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Dr. Burnham reported verbally for the special committee which was appointed to endeavour to make such arrangements with the Educational Department, as would permit the Board to continue to offer the Nicholls scholarship prizes. He stated that he had seen the local member in regard to the matter, and that although orders had been issued prohibiting the offering of such awards, yet it was hoped an arrangement would be made by which Peterborough might continue to do so, in view of the fact that the monies set aside for this purpose could not be otherwise applied.

The report of the High School Inspector was received as follows:

I. ACCOMMODATIONS.

Water closets II.	Cap rooms I.
Water supply I.	Teachers' private rooms II
School grounds III.	Desks II.
School buildings III.	Blackboards II.
Class rooms II.	Heating I.
Halls I.	Lighting II.
Waiting rooms II.	Ventilation I.

The physical labratory is not yet fitted up for practical work by the pupils.

Ventilation is much needed in the gymnasium.

II. EQUIPMENT.

Present value: Reference library, $573.45; Library—supp., reading, English Literature, $114.20; apparatus, $221.49; maps, globes, etc., $149.00; gymnasium $200; equipment for physical education, $150.

In physics, sets for practical work by the pupils are needed—one for each form.

Some drawing models have, I understand, been ordered. At present there are none.

III. ORGANIZATION.

1. Subjects on the programme not taught—The optional subjects.

2. Previous made for teaching:

(a) Writing—as prescribed by the regulations.

(b) Reading—Insufficient in the higher forms. When he re-organizes, the Principal will make the necessary provisions.

(c) Drill and calisthenics and gymnastics not quite as prescribed, but it may be accepted as satisfactory.

(d) Other subjects, generally satisfactory.

3. Division of duties among teachers satisfactory, except in the case of reading and English composition. The Principal has agreed to make the necessary changes.

4. Ratio of pupils to teachers—satisfactory.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. Staff—All legally qualified. The commercial masters should, however, obtain the commercial certificate, as required by the statute.

2. Discipline—Satisfactory.

3. Attendance—All duly admitted.

4. Text books—All authorized.

5. Registers—Satisfactory.

6. Supplementary reading in English Literature. A good supply of books has been provided, but they seem to have been insufficiently used. The lower forms in particular should read as extensively as possible and the time for the subject should be marked upon the time table.

7. Sight work in Classics, French and German—satisfactory provision.

V. CHARACTER OF THE TEACHING.

The grading is as follows:—I, good; II, fair; III, poor; IV, bad: English History I—II, Mathematics I, Science I—II, Classics Latin I, French and German I, Commercial I—II, Drawing I—II, Reading, see below, Drill and Calisthenics I.

I add the following explanations:

1. The English Composition and supplementary Literature, as already stated, have not been in a satisfactory condition.

2. The accommodations and equipments in Physics are not first rate.

3. No stenography is taught and there are no drawing models.

4. Messrs. Jeffries and O'Brien can do good work in reading, but the time at the disposal of the former is insufficient for good work and results.

VI CHARACTER OF PUPILS' WORK.

I. Last class of entrants, of 69 examined, 14 are good, 32 fair, 23 poor and 0 bad. Other pupils, Form II and Upper I B, of 68 examined, 9 are good, 29 are fair, 30 poor and 7 bad. Book-keeping sets and drawing books—satisfactory. Drill, Calisthenics, etc., as heretofore, this work is satisfactory.

VII. GENERAL REMARKS.

The general condition of the school is, as usual, very satisfactory. The management is good and the order and tone are excellent.

I trust the time is not far distant when Peterborough will possess a Collegiate Institute building worthy of the town.

(Signed) JOHN SEATH.

In receiving the report Mr. Peter Hamilton expressed his pleasure at the satisfaction evidenced by the Inspector in the condition of the Institute. He then referred in particular to the remark in the report about stenography not being taught in the schools, and urged that some action respecting this important branch of the work be taken in the near future. Stenography, he stated, had now become one of the essentials in a young man's business career, and if taught in the schools it could be far more quickly picked up than if left until later years.

Mr. Hayes also spoke in the same strain.

On motion of Messrs. McBain and Hartley, the chairman of the Property Committee was authorized to have a galvanized ventilator placed in the gymnasium.

The Board then adjourned.

ONE OF THE NORWOOD BURGLARS CAPTURED.

THE ARREST MADE AT HAVELOCK.

The Capture Made by Mr. Warden Pearce—The Prisoner Turned Over to a Dominion Detective, Who Lodged the Prisoner in Gaol This Morning.

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, April 6th.—One of the three men who were seen in the village the night of the robbery, was captured at Havelock last night when about to board the midnight train. He had in his possession a valise containing about $8 in cash and a large quantity of stamps, together with a revolver and a complete set of burglars' tools.

Mr. Warden Pearce and a party went out to Havelock in search of the burglars. Three suspicious characters were encountered. Two made their escape, and one was personally captured by Mr. Pearce. At Norwood Mr. Pearce turned over his prisoner to a Dominion detective, who brought the prisoner, who gave the name of James McDonald, of Toronto, to town this morning, and lodged him in gaol.

Why Ram Lal's Tea Makes Fast Friends.

Ram Lal's Tea is known to the trade as "full flavored" while Ceylon teas are designated "thin". Ram Lal's does not pall on the taste and become flat as do "thin flavored" teas.

It is the district in which Ram Lal's Tea is grown and the cleanly process of manufacture that give its delightful "full flavor" while all the boquet and aroma are retained because it comes to us in six weeks from the time the tea is first plucked.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1898.

"GO THY WAY; THY FAITH HATH MADE THEE WHOLE."

THE YOUNG RULER AND AND THE SON OF TIMEUS.

Rev. Wm Patterson's Second Evangelistic Address in St. Andrew's.

Last night there was another large attendance at the special services in St. Andrew's. Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. McMillen assisted in the services.

Rev. Mr. Paterson founded a fervent address upon the incidents in the 10th chap. of St. Mark's Gospel, of the young ruler and Blind Bartimeus. In the course of an earnest address the preacher tellingly contrasted the sorrowful lack of faith of the young ruler and the living faith of the blind man. After speaking of the different ways in which faith was exercised, the preacher pointed out that the real essential was to come in contact with Christ. Personal contact was essential. Bartimeus did not ask anyone to pray for him. A man that was in earnest did not allow any obstacles to prevent his coming to Christ. Addressing the young, the preacher urged them not to be deterred by the scoffs of their associates—"Young people, your companions may laugh you out of heaven, but they can never laugh you out of hell."

An interesting after meeting was held.

There will be no special service to-night, but Rev. Mr. Patterson will speak in St. St. Paul's to-morrow night and Friday night.

MOST COMPLIMENTARY

Reference to the Musical Skill of a Young Lady Well Known in the Country.

We copy the following complimentary reference of Miss Louie MacDowall's piano recital in St. George's Hall, Toronto, from the Sunday World of March 26th:—"The name of Miss Louie McDowell is new to the musical world. This young lady went to Germany a couple of years ago to complete her musical career, and not only studied a year in Leipsic with Herr Weihmayer, but was so satisfied with the results of his method that she crossed the Atlantic about the same time that he did, and has been his pupil in Toronto ever since. The recital at St. George's Hall on Thursday night was, from a musician's point of view, an undoubted success, and Herr Wiehmayer has cause to be proud of his clever pupil, who displays brilliant technique, and gives evidence of the exceptionally fine Krause method in her tone. Miss McDowell wore a flowered organdie frock, with white satin streamers, and was the recipient of some lovely floral tributes. Mr. Bruce Bradley was the soloist of the evening. A few of the large number present were: Mrs and the Misses Matthews, Mrs and Miss Mara, Miss Susanne Mara, Miss Dallas, Miss Daisy Bolton, the Misses Clarkson Jones, Mrs Irving Cameron, Miss Evelyn Cameron, Mrs Geo Kerr, Mrs Albert Austin, Miss Fatt, Miss Lamport, Mrs. Howe, Mr W J Fleury and Mrs H W Fleury, Mr and Mrs Hirshfelder, Mr and Mrs Furnis, Mrs Parsons, Mr and Mrs Whelan and many others."

Miss MacDowall is a sister of Mrs. J. Lightfoot, of town.

THE C. W. A. MEET.

We hope the council will see that it is in the best interests of the town to make a grant of $600 towards the expenses in connection with the C. W. A. meet. The question of the advisability will be considered finally to-night—if it is a question. From a canvas of the principal business men of the town, merchants, bankers and professional men, we gather that in their opinion the members of the town council who vote for this comparatively small expenditure of money will be making no great mistake, and will not incur the censure of the ratepayers. It is too much to expect leading citizens, including the representative of the largest ratepayer in town, to give, in addition to their time and ability and solely in the interests of the town, the sum of $3,000. These men would gladly have shirked the responsibility and the expense and trouble incidental thereto for the third time, had it not been that they felt it a duty imposed upon them by reason of previous unsuccessful attempts.

Every town and city throughout the country give grants yearly for the purpose of bringing in and entertaining delegations, associations and crowds of people generally. Why should Peterborough be an exception? We hardly even have a local day here to keep people in town or bring others in. Does the council wish to put an end to enterprise of this kind? Does it wish to drive people out of town? If so, now is their opportunity by witholding this grant. Toronto gave last week $900 to bring people to that city for the horse show; $600 to the entertainment of the Association of Surgeons; $250 towards a local regatta; $600 to the National Oarsmen's Association; towards the entertainment of the American Waterworks Association $150; and towards the expense of the Bookbinders' Association. These and grants of like natures are recognized by the aldermen of the leading business centre of Canada to be in the interests of its ratepayers. All other towns, Peterborough apparently, alone excepted, have come to the same conclusion. This is an age of competition amongst corporations and individuals. Are we lacking in enterprise and progressive ideas? The mayor's address to the ratepayers when asking them for their votes led them to conclude that he at least would make every effort to improve the comatose condition of the town. Manufacturers were to be hurried in here, the population was to increase, property to rise in value. Has the mayor received the cordial co-operation of the council in these regards? What have we to show as the fruits of such a policy? No single investment that the town can make for years to come is so likely to bring so full and speedy return as this asked-for grant of $600. Prominent citizens will again champion the cause of Peterborough at at the meeting in Toronto on Good Friday next, providing Peterborough's chances are favourable and a third "throw down" unlikely. The deputation which waited on the council had no reason to complain of an embarrassingly cordial reception.

HOG TOWN AND THE TRENT CANAL.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—The Toronto Board of Trade have just discovered that this Canal does not pass through Toronto and, consequently, it has undertaken to instruct the Dominion Government that the scheme is a folly—that it should never have been undertaken, and that the revenue at present is small and that when completed it will be no good anyway. That a canal, like the Erie Canal, which brings into New York more grain than all the railways in Canada, would be a failure. We are amazed that this Board of Trade did not pronounce the Ottawa and Parry Sound railway a great mistake. We understand that new project of a railway from Toronto to the North Pole is going to be recommended by this Board of Trade as a scheme deserving of the most liberal support of the Government, with a suggestion that the appropriation for the Canal should be turned over to this North Pole scheme. The fact is that Toronto is realizing that between boomsters at home and railways that sweep the trade past her doors to the seaport by the shortest route, she is in a bad way. She dreads the Trent Canal, knowing it will do for the western trade just what the Erie is doing—hence these frantic remonstrances to the Dominion Government. We advise Toronto to keep cool and take what nature and the law of trade give her. Water won't run up hill and Toronto need not attempt by shouting to prevent it running down hill. The Trent Canal is a fact, endorsed by the last Government and the present one and by the people of Central Ontario. The politics of the Trent counties is the Trent Canal and Toronto may as well accept the situation, for the canal we will have or we will know the reason why.

Let Toronto prosper, we envy not her prosperity; but dog-in-the-manger business will not help her, and unless she lets other people alone she will find it out.

Yours truly,
D.

BURGLARY LAST NIGHT.

A Printing Office Broken Into by Parties in Search of Money.

Last night the Times office was entered through the rear door, which was broken open, as well as the door leading into Mr. W. H. Robertson's office. The stamp till was broken open and a quantity of stamps removed. The bottom was also knocked out of the gas metre, which is a patent concern into which money is placed for a return in gas on the same principle as the nickel-in-the-slot machine. From this some seven or eight dollars was taken. The police are hot on the trail of the burglars.

HOG SOCIAL.

Mark Street Methodist Church Ladies' Aid are Hustlers.

The different societies of the Mark street church are becoming proverbial for their activities in pushing the schemes and enterprises of the church for the raising of money and the payment of debts. Last evening a first-rate programme was given in the church, with Rev. Mr. Moore in the chair. Rev. D. O. Crossley and Miss Stevens sang a duet, followed by a recitation by Mr. F. H. Moore, "The Water Cure;" a duet by Mr. H. S. and Miss E. Armstrong and a recitation by Miss M. Hamilton then delighted those present. Club swinging by the Misses Kindred, a duet by Miss A. Mackenny and Miss A. M. Smith, was followed by a solo by Rev. Mr. Crossley and a recitation by Miss Sherlock. All taking part did exceedingly well.

The company then repaired to the parsonage, completely filling the house, and regaled themselves at the tables so beautifully and tastefully laden with viands of the most tempting kind. Then visiting, games, chit chat, music, etc., was enjoyed until a seasonable hour, when the company dispersed. Proceeds $20.

The Plague of Pimples.

Once pimples start how hard to get rid of them. Here and there they crop up causing discomfort and annoyance. The foul blood keeps supplying the material for their development.

A course of the blood purifying, blood enriching Burdock Blood Bitters is all that is needed to make Pimples, Rashes, Eruptions, Eczema, Shingles and all kinds of skin diseases disappear.

Mr. D. C. McRae, Kearney, Ont., writes as follows:—

"I have used B.B.B. for pimples on the face caused by bad blood. Before I had finished the third bottle the pimples disappeared entirely, and my general health was much improved. B.B.B. is certainly a great blood purifier."

GREAT BRITAIN IN CHINA.

The Lease of Wei-Hai-Wei Agreed Upon—Three Chinese Ports Opened—20,000 Russian Naval Recruits.

London, April 5.—It was semi-officially announced yesterday afternoon that Great Britain has made arrangements with China to take over the Port of Wei-Hai-Wei, on the Shan-Tung Peninsula, when the Chinese Government shall have paid the war indemnity due to Japan and the Japanese troops shall have evacuated the place. The arrangements, it is added, were made with the knowledge and approval of Japan, with which country an understanding had previously been arrived at. The latter fact was kept secret until China had actually agreed to the lease and the British fleet had assembled in the vicinity.

It is said on good authority that neither Russia nor Germany is pleased at the arrangement, and it is added that the Island of Lou-Kung-Tan, at the entrance of Wei-Hai-Wei, will be strongly fortified. It is said to be capable of being successfully defended, while the land batteries destroyed by the Japanese can be speedily reconstructed.

The Times explains that the hinterland of Wei-Hai-Wei is a portion of the Province of Shan-Tung, and, therefore, Germany's sphere. The editorials in the morning papers express satisfaction at the news, especially as implying an understanding between England and Japan.

France Will Be in It Now.

London, April 5.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: "The indications are that France will demand a coaling station at the mouth of the Min River, near Fu-Chou, Province of Foko Kien, where the French engineers control the arsenal and dock."

20,000 Russian Recruits for the East.

London, April 5.—The correspondent of the Times at Constantinople says: "At the audience at the palace Saturday M. Zenovieff, the Russian Ambassador, casually told the Sultan that 20,000 Russian recruits for the far East would shortly traverse the Dardanelles in vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet."

THE WEARING OF THE GREEN.

Get a Sailor Into a Cell and Mr. Wm. Redmond Out of the House of Commons.

London, April 5.—There was a scene in the House of Commons yesterday on the acknowledgment by the First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. George J. Goschen, that a seaman belonging to the British first-class battleship Resolution had been sentenced to a fortnight's confinement in a cellar and to be deprived of his good conduct badge, for wearing the shamrock on St. Patrick's Day in disobedience to orders. Mr. Goschen explained that it was a matter of discipline, whereupon Mr. William Redmond, Parnellite member for East Clare, hotly replied to Mr. Goschen, and although called to order by the Speaker, finally withdrew from the House on the Speaker's order, still repeating, "It is an outrage."

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be genuinely healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fulness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

LIKE A TIDAL WAVE

The Flood-Raised Ohio Descended on the People,

DROWNING 500 INHABITANTS.

Shawneetown, Ill., a Town of 2,000 People, Wiped Out—A Worse Flood Than Johnstown's—Houses Floated Away With Their Inmates—One Took Fire While Afloat.

Chicago, April 5.—A special to the Chronicle from Carmi, Illa., yesterday says: The disaster at Shawneetown, Illa., which occurred at six o'clock last evening, caused by the breaking of the Government levee situated one mile above the town, was very disastrous both as regards loss of life and destruction to property. A stream of water twelve to twenty feet deep, carrying half of the current of the flood-raised Ohio, descended on the unsuspecting people.

It came down in a great rush, like a tidal wave. There was no slow rising of the waters to give warning. The houses on the outskirts were lifted up and rolled over and over, almost all of them were torn into splinters. Their inhabitants were drowned in them.

House on Fire and Afloat.

After a few minutes the horror of the situation was added to by the catching fire of a large house that had started down the stream with the others. The people on the roofs were already in danger of being thrown off by collisions with other floating houses, but the appearance of this floating firebrand added horror. As it struck one house after another in its zig-zag course, some caught fire and the unfortunate people were compelled to trust themselves to the mercy of the swerving water on pieces of wood to avoid more terrible death by fire.

The break in the levee flooded four miles of the valley land, and cut off communication on two railroads, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Louisville & Nashville.

Swimming for Their Lives.

By means of rafts and swimming in the cold water seventy or eighty people were transferred from their garret window and roofs to the flat tops of the Gallatin County Bank, a brick and stone building, and the Court House, which is of brick.

It was hoped that these would withstand the pressure and the undermining, but when the single courier who rode for help to Cypress Junction left Shawneetown, only these two buildings showed above the broad sheet of the flood in the lower part of the town, and its full force was being thrown against them.

I was doubtful if they would not collapse and throw the refugees into the river.

A Most Fearful Struggle.

The scene in the streets at the upper end of the town, where men and women were struggling against the mud and water to high grounds, some carrying babies on their heads where water was up to their necks, others half swimming, half floating on olds and ends of lumber from houses that had gone floating down the river, many struggling in vain, sinking in the roaring waters, was one that will live in the memory of every beholder.

At one place a mother had reached a safe spot and turned to help her husband, who had followed with their child. As she reached down from a window for his hand he was thrown from his footing, and he and the child were swept away in the zig-zag current. The woman saw him the second time and then threw herself into the water.

Another family parted half way to safety on a broad plank that but half held them out of the water. A side current caught them and sent them toward the middle of the stream, where, in the rougher water, they were seen to capsize and sink.

Lost Wife and Children.

Carmi, Illa., April 5.—Another courier has just reached here from Shawneetown. He estimates the loss of life at 200. His name is Jackson Phillips, and he has lost a wife and two children by the flood.

A Town of 2,000 Inhabitants.

St. Louis, Mo., April 5.—Shawneetown, Illa., has a population of about 2,000 inhabitants, and is situated on the west bank of the Ohio River. The streets were parallel with the river, the principal business streets being but two blocks distant from the river. The level of the river is about 15 feet above the city, and the levee bank is about 20 feet thick.

Distressing in the Extreme.

Evansville, Ind., April 5.—Mayor Carney of Shawneetown appealed to Congress for aid yesterday for destitute people of his stricken city. He says the town is absolutely destroyed, and there is not enough food in town for one meal. He says three hundred people were drowned. All goods in the city are lost and the situation is distressing in the extreme. This city sent two steamboat loads of provisions.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent election and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For [illegible] year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd' Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and sincerely thankful for my cure.

A Toronto Tobacconist.

Mr J Bretz, 104 Church Street, Toronto, the popular tobacconist, says he was troubled with weak and intermittent action of the heart, was sleepless, nervous and lost flesh. Three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills completely cured him.

ALL HEADACHES

FIRE AT CENTRAL PRISON.

Another Total Loss of About $10,000—No Insurance.

Toronto, April 5.—Fire raged at the Central Prison for nearly four hours yesterday afternoon, and caused damage that will amount to the neighborhood of $10,000, all of which will be a total loss, as there is no insurance.

Yesterday's blaze originated in the roof of the blind attic over the Warden's residence.

The damage to the chapel building is about $4,500, and to its contents about $50. Warden Gilmour's loss is about $3,000, and the damage to the residence is about $1,000.

The funeral of the late James Tuttle, who was shot in London Music Hall, took place a Brantford yesterday.

THREE MORE PROTESTS.

North Waterloo and North and South Ontario Moved Against.

Toronto, April 5.—The Liberals filed three election protests yesterday, North Waterloo and North and South Ontario, the Conservatives none. In the last named constituency J. Shoemaker, fruit dealer, Berlin, petitions against the return of G. Lackner, whose majority was 65.

Charles H. Pilkey, Pickering, is the petitioner against the return of Charles Calder for Hon. John Dryden's old riding. In this case personal charges of corruption are laid.

Frozen to Death Up North.

Kincardine, Ont., April 5.—Word has been received here of the death of L. B. Hamlin, C E., formerly a resident of this town. Mr. Hamlin was County Engineer of Bruce for some years. He was engaged on Government service in the Yukon country, and was frozen to death in the Klondike.

Farmer McCabe's Sudden Death.

Klienburg, April 5.—A farmer from Bolton named Alexander McCabe died on the C.P.R. train just after boarding it yesterday morning. Mr. McCabe had hurried to get to the station in time, and it is thought that the excitement had a fatal effect upon his heart.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

A TREASURE ESCORT.

The dawn of a February morning in 1809 was breaking pale and wan, with a chill air under flying, drifting clouds, as a young girl, who had come up out of the purlieus of Westminster behind the sanctuary, approached the river. She was making for the bridge, not the beautiful modern structure, but the old one, with its arches and recesses, which were still incumbered by the waifs and strays of the great city who had sought this comfortless shelter for the night. She pressed on at a rapid pace, almost running in her eagerness to cover the ground and be at her journey's end.

Hers was a momentous—perchance a perilous—mission, accepted on the spur of the moment, without a moment's hesitation, as involving great issues—the fortunes, the fate and future of one most dear to her. She must get to Woolwich that very morning and warn them. A dark, deep plot was being hatched, and she held the clew. The mischief might be prevented, her father saved, if only she could reach Woolwich in good time. Once there, she would make a compact with them, would sell her information. The price should be the rescue of her erring but long suffering, sorely tried father, whom overwhelming trouble and misfortune had led astray.

Ines Verschoyle, this poorly clad slip of a girl, whose dark, handsome face and gracious gliding walk hinted at southern—possibly Spanish—descent, was of gentle birth. Her father was an officer of Horse artillery, who had served through the peninsula war as lieutenant in one of the most famous batteries and was as distinguished as any man who wore "the jacket." But he had been placed on half pay before the peace for a breach of military discipline he had always strenuously denied, protesting that he was the victim of grievous error. His career had been blasted. Nothing prospered with him. He could not live decently on the small pittance, a few shillings a day, all that a grateful country awarded the man who had fought and bled in its service.

How well Ines remembered the first appearance of the man who had led her father astray! He had come to their poor lodging in a court off the Horseferry road, calling himself Hiram Eldridge.

There was no surer way to poor Verschoyle's heart than to take his side against the military authorities, whom he believed had so grievously misused him. Mr. Eldridge said he knew all about it.

"I am satisfied that you should seek redress. Present a memorial; have the case reopened. They will be bound to right you, to restore you to full pay. If I can be of any use, command me. I am thought to be skillful with my pen."

The memorial was duly sent to the Horse guards, and in due course answered with the stereotyped words that "the commander in chief saw no reason to reverse the decision already arrived at in the case of Lieutenant Verschoyle, late R. H. A."

In the fresh access of rage and despair that now overtook the unhappy man, he found a very kindly echo in Eldridge. The latter swore roundly that it was the most monstrous piece of injustice ever known, that it should go before parliament, that Verschoyle was really being robbed and plundered and was entitled to revenge himself to make any sort of reprisals.

"Who could blame you if you did turn highwayman, or broke into his majesty's pay office, or laid hands upon a lump of public money wherever you found it?"

"At least I should blame myself," said the old officer with much dignity. "You forget, Mr. Eldridge, that I am a gentleman still; a pauper gentleman, perhaps, but noblesse oblige, and I have eaten the king's salt, worn the king's uniform. I bear the king's commission still."

In those days—a survival of worse, years back, when the conveyance of specie had been a hazardous business and "gentlemen of the road" infested all wild and lonely places—it was still the rule to send cash down to Woolwich under escort. Once a month a clerk from Cox's traveled from Craig's court in a post chaise bearing the money to pay the officers and men of the Royal artillery. The amount was large—sometimes between £7,000 and £8,000—and the risk at one time was undoubtedly great. The route lay across Blackheath common, a locality with a most evil reputation—as bad as that of the Hampstead Heath. Special precautions were therefore taken for the safe conduct of the treasure, and a sergeant's escort of Horse artillery was invariably detailed to meet the post chaise en route, generally at the sign of the Green Man, in Blackheath village, and escort it safely into Woolwich.

Eldridge was fully conversant with all these facts and had long desired a raid upon the post chaise and its valuable load. The main difficulty in plotting the operation was to find a confederate who could organize and command a mock escort, which would nominally protect and really carry off the treasure.

"Yes, I could do that, I think," said Verschoyle gloomily. He did not like the business into which hard necessity was driving him. "We should want men; arms, uniforms, horses. It will cost money"—

All this Eldridge promised.

"There is one point on which I am not clear," went on Verschoyle. "How do you propose to deal with the real escort? Are we to avoid it or forestall it, or to fight it, or what? Not the last, I trust. I do not care to face real horse gunners, good men and true, with my scratch pack, recruited God knows how or where"—

"No fighting, of course," nervously interrupted Eldridge. "It's not my profession. But I have a very pretty plan."

"There must be no violence, except at the last extremity," sternly observed Verschoyle.

"By no means."

After this the preparations proceeded apace. The month of February was fixed for the attempt, and Christmas was already at hand. A bare five or six weeks was little enough to get all ready, and in a way to satisfy the exacting and fastidious lieutenant.

Meanwhile there was a change for the better in the poor home of Horseferry road. Money was no longer scarce, food was on the table, port wine and comforts for the sick mother; the doctor came back, for he was now certain of his fees.

And all the time Ines Verschoyle wondered greatly what hidden mystery lay behind this unaccustomed prosperity. She suspected something wrong and was most unhappy. Her father's long absence, the coming and going of strange, rough men, the delivery of many parcels, the contents of which she sometimes saw, and with increasing uneasiness recognized as parts of an artilleryman's kit—these things filled her with great alarm. Then her father was so changed. He seldom spoke to her, only once when she gently upbraided him he kissed her and patted her hands, saying: "Wait, dear child; wait. It will soon be over. I am engaged in some important matters. When they are ended—it will be very soon now—we shall be rich and happy together."

But chance, a few words overheard, set her to find out more, and she became possessed of the whole shameful secret the very night before the attempt was to be made.

The road to Woolwich this morning as she marched along was long and full of nameless terrors. The clocks pointed to 9 as she passed through Blackheath and got upon the common. Half an hour more brought her into Charlton, the worst part of her journey, for she traversed the open heath and might be at any time observed and intercepted. From Charlton across the common it was but a couple of miles to the great artillery barracks, which she presently saw, red fronted, a long row of imposing buildings facing her, the end of her journey. It was barely half past 10 when she reached the barrack gate, and almost breathlessly asked for the commandant. The sergeant on duty, a smart horse artilleryman in skin tight uniform, and wearing the Waterloo medal, looked at her with admiring, yet suspicious, eyes and spoke briefly and abruptly.

"What might your business be? 'Tain't so easy to see the commandant."

"I have something to tell him, something most important. There is no time to lose."

She was shown at once into the adjutant's presence, but, having reached her goal, her courage suddenly failed her. She could frame no connected sentence.

"Please—please—you must send—the treasure—the escort—at once," was all she could falter out.

"Well, but what is it?" went on the colonel. "Something serious, of course. Your father? We all knew him and liked him. Is he well? No? Is that your trouble? Tell us, my child. Perhaps we may be able to help you."

It was far more painful now; it was agony, indeed, to tell the shameful story to these two brother officers of her father's, these honorable and chivalrous gentlemen such as her father once was, but to which high estate he had now forfeited all claim. Still, she took heart from her despair, goaded onward by the nearness of the danger, the need for immediate action.

"I don't understand it, not one little bit," said the colonel, when he had listened to the end. "Surely"—

"You know, sir," interrupted the adjutant, with a nod of assent, "the escort was not to go over today. It was countermanded. We had a letter from Cox & Co. this morning saying their man could not start—the cash was not ready or something."

"That is part of their scheme. Can't you see?" cried Ines, springing to her feet and speaking with hysterical eagerness. "The sham escort is to take the place of the other—of yours from here—and the money is to be stolen from the post chaise. You must send and prevent it. Turn out men, half a troop at least. Let them gallop and overtake the robbers, let them"—

At that moment a knock came at the door, and a sergeant major entered. It was Verschoyle.

"The pay clerk has arrived, sir, and something odd appears to have happened on the road," he said hurriedly.

"We have brought you in the treasure, Colonel Torrens, but not without a scrimmage. The others showed some fight—all but that gallant fellow there who fell in on the right side. They were poor rogues, though, and I think I could have accounted for the lot alone and single handed. The gentleman with the cash is inside, and another chap, Eldridge, who will be safer perhaps in the barrack guard. We have secured him, but not before he had potted the postboy."

It was thought best not to make the affair public. Eldridge was allowed to leave the country, and the rights of the story were never exactly known. There were some doubts expressed of the bona fides of Lieutenant Verschoyle, and some said that he should have given earlier information. Whether his conscience only awakened tardily, or whether he wished to let the conspiracy take its course so as to have the credit of interposing to rescue the money, was a matter of doubt. But his friends were willing to accept the result without too close inquiry into the antecedent facts. Interest was made for Verschoyle, and he was given a command under Sir De Lacy Evans, in the Spanish contingent. Later he became British consul at one of the principal ports in Spain.

Ines eventually married an artillery officer and had pleasanter experiences of Woolwich than those of her first visit.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliance and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy blood and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap vital energy.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

"No Quarter!"

There is no sense in trifling with disease. Death is a foe ready enough to overpower poor humanity at the least opportunity without our adding anything to the deadly chances by uncertainty or inaction. Death is not the sort of an enemy to dilly-dally with, nor give the slightest quarter. He should be bayoneted to the earth with a sure and vigorous thrust.

There is just one medicine which can be counted on with absolute certainty to overcome the deadly assault of wasting disease and restore the rugged, masterly power of perfect health. The "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., creates that keen digestive and nutritive capacity, which makes healthy, nourishing red blood, and keeps it pure and alive with bounding vitality. It nourishes, vitalizes and builds up every organ and tissue in the body; tones the liver; heals the lungs; strengthens the heart, and restores complete energy and cheerfulness.

"I had been troubled for several years with spells of liver complaint," writes H. N. Dransfield, Esq., of Centennial, Monroe Co., W. Va., "and about two years ago my health gave way. I tried Sarsaparilla. I was getting worse all the time. I had a weakness in my left side and limbs, palpitation of the heart at times, cramping pains in the stomach after eating; nerves weak, and no energy for anything. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and began to mend from the start. I soon felt like a new person. I am now enjoying splendid health and have a splendid appetite, good digestion, and also a peaceful, quiet mind."

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains over two hundred reliable prescriptions, with directions for self-treatment of all such diseases as are curable without a physician. Anatomy, physiology and the laws of reproduction are explained, with illustrations. One copy, paper-covered, sent absolutely free for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a handsome cloth binding send 50 stamps.

UNCLE SAM'S DOMAIN.

With All of His Extravagance He Still Owns Over 600,000,000 Acres.

The idea that Uncle Sam is at present a landless old fellow has generally taken possession of the people throughout the country. This, however, is a great mistake. He still has land enough to give each one of his 78,000,000 children a nice little homestead of eight acres each and still have a ranch of over 16,000,000 acres left. In other words, your dear old uncle still owns something over 600,000,000 acres, distributed as follows throughout the various states and territories:

Alabama, 532,389 acres; Arizona, 54,400,211 acres; Arkansas, 8,922,043 acres; California, 43,841,044 acres; Colorado, 4,087,204 acres; Florida, 1,797,662 acres; Idaho, 45,962,855 acres; Kansas, 1,046,589 acres; Louisiana, 845,020 acres; Michigan, 522,431 acres; Minnesota, 6,240,049 acres; Mississippi, 41,441,220 acres; Missouri, 497,764 acres; Montana, 71,432,917 acres; Nebraska, 10,669,353 acres; Nevada, 61,578,586 acres; New Mexico, 56,983,047 acres; North Dakota, 21,385,293 acres; Oklahoma, 8,105,238 acres; Oregon, 35,892,318 acres; South Dakota, 13,250,718 acres; Utah, 44,207,220 acres; Washington, 17,958,586 acres; Wisconsin, 454,107 acres; Wyoming, 49,341,586 acres; Alaska, 369,529,600 acres.

About one-half this vast amount of land lies, it will be seen, in Alaska, and it is very certain that this will never be available for homestead purposes, but for mining purposes its value in cold coin may prove to be even greater than though it were arable. The larger part of the balance lies in fertile and productive states and is all subject to homestead laws.

Those who want homes should avail themselves of the more liberal than homestead laws of the United States. This is the place for the surplus labor. —St. Louis Star.

TOBACCO HEART

A DISEASE BECOMING MORE PREVALENT EVERY DAY.

CAUSES PALPITATION OF THE HEART, TREMBLING OF THE HANDS AND GENERAL NERVE DERANGEMENT.

TOBACCO does not seem to affect all alike. Many men enjoy their pipe or cigar, live to a good old age and apparently suffer no ill effects from the use of the weed. There are others, though, on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, and irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, the temper irritable and the spirits depressed.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy that equals Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone to the nerves and remove the results of tobacco's evil action on the system.

Mr. W. J. Judson, 105 Curtis St., St. Thomas, Ont., says:—

"I have had trouble with my heart for two years, caused, as my physician said, by the excessive use of tobacco. He called it a Tobacco Heart. I had violent palpitation, shortness of breath and sleeplessness. Frequently I could not go to bed until midnight, and then would be unable to go to sleep for hours. I was extremely nervous and debilitated. I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised and got a box, and since taking them have not been troubled with palpitation or any of the other symptoms which formerly made life miserable to me. In addition to this I feel stronger and am in better health than I have been for months previous. I do not hesitate to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured me of a serious heart trouble, and have been instrumental in removing all the attendant evils depending upon wrong action of the heart and nerves."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure Palpitation, Dizziness, Faint Spells, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Dyspepsia, Female Troubles, General Debility, After Effects of La Grippe, or any condition arising from Disordered Nerves, Weak Heart, or Watery Blood.

Price 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all drug stores, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, by addressing T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

GONE TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. James S. Potter Passes Away—Her Death a Sad Loss to Christian Work.

The Kingston News has the following obituary notice of the late Mrs. Potter, mother of Rev. J. G. Potter:

Death's door was opened in the home of Mr. James Potter, Centre street, at 12.20 this morning, through which the spirit of his beloved wife, Elizabeth, took its flight from her earthly home of love and affection, to a far richer and an eternal abode. The grief and mourning of the devoted children and heart-stricken father as they clustered around the bedside were most profound, and would appeal to the rudest nature.

Elizabeth Stewart was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, came to Halifax, N. S., in May, 1869, and united in membership with St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church under the leadership of Rev. George M. Grant, M. A., now Principal of Queen's University. From the commencement of her Christian life till the last, she was identified with some phase of Christian work—generally amongst fallen women and in prison, hospital, and poor-asylum work, under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. of Halifax and St. John, N.B. Many young women owe their changed life, under God, to the unostentatious labours of the deceased. She was a true helpmate to her husband in his work among sailors for eighteen years in Halifax—especially in the Sailors' Home of that city. On her arrival in Toronto from the Maratime Provinces, in 1891, she lost no time in finding an avenue of usefulness for her Master, in house-to-house visitation and gaol work.

When in March, 1894, she came to reside in this city, she at once "sought out" a field to labour, and found it among the female prisoners of the Penitentiary and elsewhere. For the last twelve months her health had been failing, and three weeks ago she was compelled to take to her bed, to which she was confined till 12.20 this morning, when she was called to a higher service.

Deceased's family consisted of six sons and five daughters. Three of the girls have passed before her to the land that knows no parting. Her eldest son, Jas. G. Potter, B. A., is pastor of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough. Her second son is Alex. Potter, C. E., of New York city.

As a mother, centred in the bosom of her family, her unselfish love and that pure influence which surrounded that home were truly recognized and will never be forgotten.

The deceased was 56 years of age and will be interred in Toronto.

ITCHING ECZEMA

An Editor's Little Son Suffers Terribly. Itching Intense, Face Raw and Bleeding from Constant Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

My little boy was afflicted with Eczema in acute form for nearly a year, during which time we tried without success every known remedy. The disorder appeared on the right cheek and was of a blistery and bloody form. His pillow, mornings, would bear the bloody imprint of the side of his face, while it was impossible to prevent the little fellow from scratching his face, owing to the intensity of the itching. I was advised to try CUTICURA. The first application was made before putting the child to bed, and the appearance of the affected parts showed a noticeable improvement the next morning. As a result of the continued use of CUTICURA my child has as fair and smooth skin as can be found anywhere.

TEN HORSES DROWNED.

A Team Belonging to Thomas J. Welsh—A Cart Horse of Corry & Laverdure also Drowned.

Mr. Thos. J. Welsh lost a fine team of horses yesterday afternoon whilst loading brick for Hastings on a barge at the locks. The wagon to which the horses were attached was backed to the edge of the locks, and were left there unwatched for a few minutes. The horses started to back, and before they could be reached had gone so far as to push the rear wheels of the wagon over the edge, when the heavy waggon drew horses and all into the water. The animals immediately sank out of sight, the water being eleven feet deep. They were not recovered until this morning.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

A horse belonging to Corry & Laverdure was drowned yesterday afternoon through being backed too near the edge of a dump on the shore of the Little Lake, the animal being drawn down the embankment into the water by the cart to which it was hitched.

LACROSSE.

Lionel King has consented to run for the First Vice-Presidency of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, and the local club is already making every effort to land him in the office. Communication has been opened up with every club in the League, asking their support for a man from the East, and on Thursday Messrs. Walter Phalan and Alf. Terrill will accompany Mr. King to Toronto, and an active canvass of the delegates to the Good Friday meeting will be undertaken.

The following letter on goal-nets appears in to-day's Globe:

As a member of the Varsity lacrosse team last spring I had the pleasure of playing against the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn. In one of the matches we had with that club we used the goal nets, and in the other we did not, for some of the Canadian players thought the nets "queered" them, and so asked the Brooklynites to play with the ordinary goal posts. The first match, in which the nets were used, there were no disputes whatever about the goals, although there were several shots which the spectators thought went between the flags. The nets were there and no dispute could arise.

In the second match, without the nets, the harmony existing between the two teams was not nearly so apparent. In fact, I am of the opinion that if the two teams had been playing for the C. L. A. championship there would have been serious trouble.

On the other hand there are some disadvantages arising from the use of the nets. The goalkeeper, for instance, would not be able to run through his own goal for a ball behind the flags. Then, again, his stick would catch in the netting if he were too close to the goal, and thus prevent him from stopping a shot he otherwise would.

These objections, even if thoroughly valid, would not, I think, counterbalance the advantages in the use of the nets. In fact, the placing of a goalkeeper on an equal footing in securing the ball when behind the flags is hardly an objection, and as for the second the goalkeeper would in time learn to stop as many shots as if the nets were not there.

The nets no doubt stop the ball being played from behind and through the goal, but this is so seldom done on a lacrosse field that it need not be taken into consideration.

An objection which a great many of the clubs in the Province might raise is the cost of the nets, and here I wish to make a few suggestions. The first is: Do not enforce the use of nets during this season, but rather make it optional with the clubs to use them. Next year they will want them anyway. Again, another suggestion I would like to make is that the net be one of two shapes. The net which runs to a point on the ground behind the goal is the best, but another attached to a pole six feet feet high and six feet behind the centre of the goal, would be, I think, cheaper, and consequently allow more clubs to use it. The latter net would cost less, for the reason that it could be put together by using net of any kinds, whereas the former would have to be bought intact. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your space, I remain, yours truly,

WAR MAY BE AVERTED

President McKinley Dramatically Withholds Message.

TWO REASONS FOR HIS ACTION

Delay Was Necessary in Order to Ensure the Safety of Americans in Cuba, and Spain Was at Last in a Yielding Mood—An Intense Wait at Washington.

Washington, April 7.—Never in recent years, if ever at any time, has there been such a demand for admission to the halls of Congress as was made yesterday. The people began to arrive at the east front of the Capitol seeking admission to the House as early as six o'clock, and notwithstanding the fact that the thermometer was below the freezing point, they took their places at the doors and held them. The arrivals were scattering up to 7.30 o'clock, but after that hour they came in large groups, and by half-past eight the grounds in front of the building were well covered with struggling people, seeking ingress to the building. The large stone steps leading to the Senate and House wings and to the rotunda were literally covered. Five minutes after the doors opened all the public galleries were filled and the crowds in the corridors were dense. The stream surged on up the marble stairway to the galleries, in front of the doors of which the great mass pressed, women fainting in the press, old men and children crushed by those behind.

There was a general understanding upon the floor soon after the House assembled that the President's message would not be sent to Congress probably until three o'clock, and the members settled in their seats to await with what patience they could for it to appear.

In the Senate a memorable scene was presented. An audience that tested the full capacity of the accommodation had filled the galleries hours before the Senate convened. Members of the families of the most distinguished men in American public life were there, prominent representatives of the several foreign legations occupied the diplomatic gallery, and persons distinguished in all walks of life.

In the private gallery sat Mrs. John A. Logan, and accompanying her was Miss Cisneros, her ward, with whose rescue from a Spanish prison most people are familiar. In the diplomatic gallery was the distinguished Sir Julian Pauncefore, the Ambassador of Great Britain. It was the first time he had been in the Senate since the inauguration of McKinley, and at that time he occupied a seat on the floor of the Senate. Pending the arrival of the President's message the consideration of sundry civil bills was resumed.

ALL IS CHANGED.

The War Cloud Was Scattered as by a Lightning Flash and a Thunderbolt—The Causes.

Washington, April 7.—Swift as a cannon's flash changed the Cuban situation yesterday. The galleries of Congress were crowded; Senators and Representatives were anxious and agitated; even the diplomatic corps was in a ferment, awaiting the message from the President of the United States to the Congress of the American people that might mean war, when, with excitement at the very highest, the word passed that there would be no message. Its suddenness stunned the public, which heard the news in distorted forms, and amazed veteran members of Congress.

Ultimately it became known that not only would there be no message yesterday but no message this week, and that it was at least a possibility the message written and approved might never go to Congress at all.

The first reason for the delay was that the Administration received advices from General Lee at Havana, indicating that all Americans could not be gotten off the Island yesterday and would be in grave peril if the message preceded their departure.

The second reason, and perhaps equally potent with the others, was that the Spanish Government, after what plainly had been most exciting times in inner Spanish circles at Madrid, had decided to reopen the case closed, so far as this Government was concerned, by the refusal of Spain to make satisfactory recompense to the representations made by the United States last week, and in order to avert impending war had decided to make concessions heretofore refused. The details remain to be worked out.

LATEST FROM MADRID.

Hope of Settlement Grows Stronger Though War Feeling Is Violent.

Madrid, April 7.—The hope of reaching a peaceful settlement with the United States is growing stronger. It is reported that the basis of an armistice in Cuba has been arranged. If this be true, a royal decree will appear in the Gazette to-day or Friday announcing the conclusion of an armistice.

The official statement that affairs have taken a pacific turn has not yet become generally known, and public opinion remains much excited.

The Bourse has declined heavily, owing to the belief that there is dissension in the Cabinet, which, however, the Ministerial supporters absolutely deny.

Nevertheless, the latest information is of a more assuring character. A Cabinet council is now in session, and it is believed the deliberations are of a very important nature, but the Ministers maintain absolute reserve.

Will Be Issued To-Day.

Madrid, April 7.—It is confidently asserted at this hour that a proclamation of the Queen Regent, announcing an immediate armistice in Cuba, will be issued to-day. It is added that some of the Cabinet Ministers may resign, but, if necessary, the Ministry will be changed. The Austrian ambassador, Count Dubsky, had an interview with United States Minister Woodford yesterday. They both seemed much pleased at the situation.

Spain Will Submit.

Madrid, April 7.—The developments in the situation yesterday were confined to the important part the Queen Regent is taking in the crisis. She has practically taken matters out of the hands of her Ministers, and is dealing direct with United States Minister Woodford, through the German and Austrian ambassadors, and is working earnestly for peace. It is known beyond doubt that Spain is now prepared to give all America has asked, although the form of this concession must be gilded to suit Spanish palates, and must take into consideration the political difficulties which confront Spain.

FIRST WAR ORDER.

Preparing a Decisive Blow at the Sea Power of Spain.

New York, April 7.—A special to the Times from Washington says: The flying squadron under command of Commodore Schley will move on the Canaries within 24 or 48 hours. This is the programme of the Navy Department. It is both a reply to the dispatch of the torpedo flotilla and fleet of cruisers toward American shores and preliminary to a decisive blow at the sea power of Spain. This is the first positive war order issued.

Cruiser Cincinnati Stuck in the Mud.

Key West, Fla., April 7.—The United States cruiser Cincinnati is aground in the middle of the harbor. She returned from patrol duty yesterday morning and ran on a mud bank directly opposite the Government wharf.

The tug Leydon is trying to get her off.

How Cubans Regard It.

New York, April 7.—The Evening Post has an "official declaration" from the legal representative of the Cuban Junta, Horatio Rubens. It declares in the most unequivocal language that the Cuban Provisional Government and the Cuban army would reject absolutely intervention by the United States, unless it should be preceded by a recognition of the independence of the Cuban Republic; that if the United States persisted in intervening without recognizing Cuban independence, the Cuban Government and military forces would refuse to co-operate; and that if United States troops should be sent to Cuba upon the basis of intervention without recognition, the Cuban army would, in the last resort, turn its arms against the United States.

Drowned Off Stony Point.

Buffalo, April 7.—Angus McPhee, 22 years old, Rhody Costello, 20 years old, and Thomas Steck, aged 35, were drowned at an early hour yesterday off Stony Point on Lake Erie by the sinking of the dredge Brian Boru. A heavy gale was blowing at the time, and the dredge sprang a leak. Before she could be towed to shallow water she foundered. Four other members of the crew were rescued.

His Legs Cut Off.

Kingston, Ont., April 7.—George Bordeau, Rideau street, aged 27, unmarried, brakeman on the K. & P. R.R., was riding out to his home on a Grand Trunk freight, when he fell off a box car and was run over. His legs were cut off and his body terribly mangled.

A REMARKABLE PROPHECY.

The End of the World on Easter Day, 1898

If J. B. Dimbleby, of Wanstead, is to be believed, it will be well for people to go early to church on Easter Sunday morning return and take a more or less light breakfast and wait some interesting events. That gentleman has just published a very startling document entitled "The New Era at Hand" (Easter, 1898), in which he shows that there is approaching for that date the close of prophetic periods, and he gives what he deems to be biblical and astronomical facts and proofs relating to the Great Assize which is to be held by the Ancient of Days. On "that day," Easter Sunday, 1898, the end of the Gentile and Jewish times is to come, also the "Resurrection of the Just," "the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ and the Restoration of the Jewish Kingdoms and the Millennium." The method of calculation by which Mr. Dimbleby arrives at this startling conclusion is very ingenious, and interesting. He relies on the following prophecies:

(1) Rev. xi. 2. "The Gentiles shall tread under foot the holy city for 42 months."
Now, 42 months—1260 days, averaging each month at 30 days. Therefore 1260 years after the Conquest of Jerusalem by the Moslem, which occured 637 A.D. Therefore within twelve months of 1897 the Turk must go.

(2) Dan. vii. 25 "They" the saints, "shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time."
A time—360 years. Times—720 years. Dividing of time—180 years—1260 years x 636—1897 again.

(3) Dan. iv. 23. "Till seven times pass over him." (Nebuchadnezzar.)
Seven times—360 x 7 - 2520 years. Nebuchadnezzar's Empire began 621½ B.C. 2520—621½—1898 ½.

(4) Dan. iii. 14. "Unto 2300 days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.
2300 days—2300 lunar years—2230 solar years. Alexander began, 331 ½ B.C. 2300—331 ½—1898 ½.

By a ninefold operation, in which human and solar years are adroitly mingled, the same result is not obtained, and this leads Mr. Dimbleby to the conclusion that "the best way of dealing with it is by spheroid measurement. We then get the true end of the Gentile times at Easter, 1898. This is the point of time fixed by several passages of Scripture. Jerusalem cannot be trodden down a moment later than 1898 ½ unless we can quench the sun and stop the rotation of the earth." We are told, to sum up, that "the first thing to happen is to be the Advent in mid-heaven of the Ancient Days or the Everlasting God. All the holy dead and all the living saints are caught up into the air, where they will give judgment upon the Turks, who will be given to the flames; then will follow the Restoration of the Jews and the beginning of the Millenium."

This is not altogether new. From remotest periods the dreamings of Daniel and the seeing visions by St. John on "Patmos' lonely isle," have given students opportunities of becoming muddled on the subjects affected and plunging into the hazardous arena of interpretation. They invariably prove wrong. Nor do the would-be prophets appear to believe in their own vaticinal outbursts. Not very long ago one of this type, a certain Dr. Cumming, assured the public that the world was "to put out the light" in the year 1869. He proved his case admirably, in the Dimbleby style, and immediately after the publication of his book, in 1869, took a house on a twenty-one year lease. Which caused people to smile.

THOROUGHBRED DOGS.

Some New Ones Which Have Been Brought to Peterborough Recently.

Mr. C. B. McAllister has just added two more fine collies to his kennels. The pair are pure white, with sable heads, and are sired by Finsbury Pilot, of England, the most noted collie of the day.

Mr. Charles McCormack is sending a couple of fox terriers to the dog show in Toronto Tuesday. He owns the brother of Aldon Sequel, the wire haired puppy bitch which is in Mr. McDonald's Toronto kennels, and swept everything in the puppy classes at Brooklyn in the fall. This dog will be shown, as well as Limestone Roxie out of Warren Spruce by Warren Smuggler. Roxie is marked the same as Radiance, which was also raised by Mr. McCormack, and has never been beaten, although shown at all the principal bench shows in the United States during the winter. The owner looks upon Roxie as another of the same calibre as Radiance.

JUSTIFICATION BY RESULTS.

Events have discredited the carping criticism by Opposition journals of Finance Minister Fielding's preference in the Canadian market to Great Britain. Mr. Foster's predicted that it would lead to a deficit of two million. The deficit is only half a million, as Mr. Fielding predicted; at the end of June next there will be a surplus of half a million, and at the end of the fiscal year we shall enter upon on Dominion Day, the surplus is estimated by Mr. Fielding at a million and a quarter. Besides, the preference to Great Britain is an established condition, and, as a result we see the beginning of a movement for the consolidation and more harmonious co-operation of the different elements of the British Empire. The results of the preferential concession are visible in a better, firmer and more assertive market for Canadian produce in Great Britain. The new budget will be a further move in the direction of uniting the empire commercially. As the Montreal Herald remarks: "Last year's budget will be memorable for giving a beginning and an impetus to a new movement looking to greater cohesion and co-operation within the British Empire. This year's budget, we may well believe, will be received in Canada, in the West Indies, and possibly in Great Britain more than anywhere else, as constituting another practical move in the same direction. Last year the bonds between Canada and Great Britain were drawn closer. This year Canada stretches out a helping hand to certain sister colonies that are sore distressed. It will not be surprising if this new move is received in England with as great enthusiasm as that which greeted last year's announcement." Although the government has been assailed for not keeping its ante-official pledges, it is worth while pointing out that there is evidence that the tariff has been taken out of politics and that the Government is moving steadily in the direction of less trammelled trade. This year there has been little change—practically no change. This year tariff deputations seeking special favours have been conspicuous by their absence. Those interested in manufactories have come come to recognise, if not to accept, the policy of the Government; they know where they are at, and they know that in future the interests of the mass of the people will have a preference, and that manufacturers unduly protected are to expect to have conditions reduced to a fair basis. Mr. Fielding places the matter in no uncertain light when he says: "So long as there are high duties, there will also be consumers to protest against them, and I think that the manufacturers will best show the best understanding of their own position and best consult their own permanent interests, the permanent interests of manufacturing enterprises if they will realise that very important fact It is well if they are to-day in a position which affords them some comfort and advantage, that they should apply their time and use their opportunity to get their business upon such a basis that it will be as little as possible dependent upon tariff aid. The tendency of a high tariff policy is to lead men to look too much to the tariff and too little to the efforts they should make for the benefit of their business.

"What a world of good might have been accomplished for the true interests of manufactures in the Dominion of Canada if all the time, energy, labour and money that have been expended in the last twenty years in tariff watching and wire pulling at Ottawa had been expended in the factories, in the development of business, in the discovery of new inventions, in finding means for the use of labour-saving machinery, in learning what might be done with waste products, in dealing with all those forms of industrial progress which have to be dealt with by the manufacturer when he has keen competition. We would, therefore, say to the manufacturer that if he desires permanency until the tariff gets down to a moderate point. To-day there are duties in the tariff so high that I am sure the Government are not prepared to treat them as a part of a permanent tariff. I say this in no spirit but that of friendliness to the manufacturing interests. While the manufacturers are in a fairly good position, it would be a mistake for them to fail to realize the fact that Canada has turned her face away from the high tariff policy, and though we may proceed slowly, whatever progress we make from this time forward must and should be in the direction of greater freedom of trade."

MARVELLOUS RESULTS TO THE WEAK, SICK AND BROKEN-DOWN.

Mr. Daniel's Case a Marvellous One.

He Says: "I Feel Like a New Man, Which Condition I Owe to the Blessing of God and Your Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co,

DEAR SIRS:—I feel constrained, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to add my testimony to the wonderful effects of your Paine's Celery Compound. I was induced to try your Compound through its wonderful effects upon a Mr. Parks. I had previously used a vast quantity of patent and doctors' medicine, only to find myself growing weaker. After using your Paine's Celery Compound to the number of five bottles I gained forty-three and a half pounds, and am able to work hard all day as a mason with comfort to myself.

I feel like a new man, which condition I owe to the blessing of God and your Paine's Celery Compound.

A card on the outside of office door says, "Gone to lunch—be back in ten minutes," and the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach, and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten minute lunches condensed.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart burn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanently. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

A SOLDIER'S STORY.

MR. GEO. KINGSTON, who resides at 136 John St. North, Kingston, Ont., is a retired British soldier, who served in India, went through the Abyssinian Campaign and was present at the storming and capture of Magdala, in which King Theodore of Abyssinia lost his life.

The hardships of the Campaign brought on an attack of kidney disease. He was sent to the hospital but after a time was discharged as a hopeless invalid. Sharp piercing pains shot through his back, his urine was unnatural and he was in the greatest misery. Hearing of the wonderful cures made by he went to the drug store and got a box. The first few doses gave great relief and before two boxes were taken the pains had left his back and he felt like a new man. Doan's Kidney Pills he considers the greatest remedy in the world for all forms of kidney disease and urinary troubles.

Book telling all about these pills sent free to any address. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

MR. M'KENZIE WAITING

For the Government's Decision About Yukon Railway.

HE DENIES SEVERAL CANARDS.

Some of the Interesting Contents of the Minister of Justice's Annual Report—The Nickel Steel Company—Hart Divorce Bill Passed—Public Accounts Committee—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, April 7.—The annual report of the Minister of Justice was distributed yesterday. It shows the prison population to be 1,382, an increase of 40 over the previous year. The convicts under twenty years of age number 181, and those over sixty number 22. There are 57 life prisoners, 10 Chinese and 28 Indians. There are 839 single and 489 married men, and seven widowed. As regards social habits, 783 are put down as temperate, 475 intemperate and 124 abstainers.

Mr. Douglas Stewart, Inspector of Penitentiaries, has a report which concludes as follows: "The system vests the control of all penitentiaries in the Minister of Justice, but as a matter of fact, succeeding Ministers have been harrassed and embarrassed to such an extent by the persistent interference of local political organizations that the control of the patronage, including the selection of officials, has been virtually delegated to local and irresponsible organizations, whose chief aim has been the potency of the institution as a political factor in the constituency in which it is situated.

"It is quite apparent that so long as this 'de jure' departmental control, but 'de facto' local control, continues, the whitewash brush of departmental officials and the brush of special commissioners will be alike ineffectual in removing stains which are occasionally exhibited to public gaze. What is required is such action as will relieve the prisons from the grasp of tentacles of the local political octopus. The burden of maintaining the institutions is imposed upon the whole of Canada, and it is but reasonable that the privileges which attach to the patronage should be equally extensive."

Awaiting a Decision.

Mr. William McKenzie is at the capital again to await developments in regard to the Yukon railway. He says that he has not been advised as to the decision, if any, arrived at by the Government. He strongly refutes the statement sent out from American points that the Stikine route is not a good one. On the sleigh road constructed in fulfillment of the agreement with the Government one of the McKenzie & Mann teams traveled 54 miles in a day. Something like 5,000 men have gone in by the route, and are spread over the country from Wrangel upward. None of the rails intended for the railway have been sent up to Wrangel, but a considerable quantity has been stopped on route at Vancouver. The rails are not second-hand, as was asserted by detractors of the contract, but good 45-pound rails, which are as high grade for a narrow gauge railway as 70-pound rails are for standard gauge.

The Nickel Steel Company.

The Private Bills Committee of the Commons had under consideration the mining bill to incorporate the Nickel Steel Company of Canada. The proposed incorporators are Alex. Fraser and D. MacLaren, Ottawa; F. F. V. Vandervoort, Pittsburg; G. A. Cox, Toronto; N. Dyment, Barrie; Alex. MacLaren, Buckingham; Andrew Trow Ward, John Moodie, John Patterson, Hamilton; John MacLaren, Brockville; G. B. Douglas, New York.

The capital of the company is $20,000,000, and its object is to erect smelting works and carry on the various processes of reduction of nickel ore found in such large quantities in Canada. Some of the clauses were held over for further consideration, but the main features of the bill were endorsed. Power to acquire stock in other companies was withheld for the present. The company will have power to acquire mines and operate them, to construct tramways and telegraphs and acquire vessels for navigation, etc. The head offices will be at Hamilton. The power asked to construct a railway from the mines and furnaces of the company to existing railways, was held over.

Hart Divorce Bill Passed.

The bill granting R. A. B. Hart of Montreal a divorce from his wife, Catharine Cacouna Buntin, who, the bill sets forth, "committed adultery with one Albert Shorey, and in February, 1896, deserted her husband, and since then on divers occasions has repeated the offence with Shorey," was passed without discussion.

Public Accounts Committee.

The Public Accounts Committee met this morning. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper moved for papers relating to the expenditure of $10,964 paid Messrs. Archibald Howell, J. D. Cameron and W. E. Perdue, for legal services and expenses in connection with the prosecutions for election frauds in Manitoba. They were ordered for next meeting.

The inspector of penitentiaries was ordered to appear at the next meeting and to produce papers in connection with the sale of binder twine in Kingston Penitentiary.

Legislators Gone Home.

Easter vacation has sent the great majority of the members out of town, and last night few legislators were to be found within the precincts of the Parliament Buildings.

Mr. Bennett, M.P., intends to move that the House of Commons shall sit Saturdays as well as other week days. At present all the near-by members go home Friday, while the far Western and the Maritime Province members have to knock around doing nothing on Saturdays. The greatest objection to the motion is that the Government generally requires Saturday for Privy Council work.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and fearnestly thankful for my cure.

EDWARD LEONARD

Arrested at Fort Erie Charged With Using the Mails for Fraudulent Purposes.

Fort Erie, Ont., April 7.—Edward Leonard, representing the Canadian Specialty Co., also the International Novelty Co., was arrested yesterday by Officer Griffin of the Ontario police force for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Both companies are a myth so far as can be seen. He has been carrying on this business at different post-offices for some time. He is also a candidate for matrimony, having advertised in the newspapers for a wife, and received many endearing letters from the fair sex, which were found on him when arrested. Leonard is an Englishman by birth, about 45 or 50 years of age, of rather pleasing appearance. The police promise sensational developments to-morrow, when he will have a preliminary hearing.

BRITAIN'S POLICY.

Mr. Balfour's Statement Regarding Treatment of China.

BRITAIN'S UNSELFISH POLICY.

Wei-Hai-Wei Secured to Balance Matters With Russia China's Possible Disintegration—The Far-Reaching Results of British Policy—Sir William Harcourt's Sarcastic Criticism.

London, April 6.—The House of Commons was crowded yesterday with people anxious to hear the statement of Arthur J. Balfour, the Acting Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, on the subject of the situation in the far East. Mr. Balfour, who was loudly cheered on rising, enumerated the concessions obtained by Great Britain, namely, that the region of the Yang-Tse-Kiang should not be alienated by any foreign power; that the successor of Sir Robert Hart, as director of the Chinese Imperial maritime customs, is to be an Englishman, and that access to the inland waters is to be had by ships of all nations. The fourth concession, Mr. Balfour continued, only occurred a day or two ago, namely, the opening of three new treaty ports, Funing, Yechan and Chin-Wang. This, according to Mr. Balfour, was a considerable harvest for two months' negotiations.

Touching upon Wei-Hai-Wei, Mr. Balfour said that Russia, having secured Port Arthur, on the maritime approach to Pekin, Great Britain had secured Wei-Hai-Wei to balance matters. The speaker explained that had Russia confined herself to obtaining an ice-free commercial port as a terminus for her railroad, no complaint would have been made, but, unfortunately, Russia determined to obtain control of Port Arthur, which was not and could not be made a commercial port. So soon as Great Britain heard of the negotiations she laid her views clearly before Russia and expressed her sense of the evil they were bringing upon China.

In conclusion, Mr. Balfour said: "The balance of power in the far East may be very different when the disintegration of China has occurred. The time may come when the great powers will say that China shall not fall into the hands of any one power, and to embark upon a new difficult and costly enterprise in order to ward off a remote and doubtful danger would be political folly. Her Majesty's Government asks the country to endorse this policy with more confidence, because we know that Great Britain has the sympathy of the great commercial community throughout the world. (Cheers.) I believe the time may come when the great commercial powers will join in an alliance to prevent China falling a prey to any exclusive influence, and I am convinced that Great Britain, by continuing her present unselfish policy of opening to all what she secures for herself, will build up in Europe, and not the least in America, a body of public international opinion which will be more powerful than any hasty action Great Britain might take at the present moment."

Mr. Balfour also said the Government thought Russia had pursued an unfortunate course in taking Port Arthur, which, as Russia herself said in 1895, when Japan proposed to occupy it, would, in the hands of any foreign power, constitute a menace to the capital of China.

Russia Is Not Pleased.

Pekin, April 6.—M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affairs, had a long interview with Sir Claude Macdonald yesterday. He informed the British Minister that both Russia and Germany regard the situation as serious, England's action tending to prevent the development of their enterprises.

General Sung, who commanded at Port Arthur, is now at New Chwang, Province of Leao-Tong, near the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, with 26,000 troops.

A MOTHER SPEAKS.

Tells how Dr. Chase Saved her Boy.

His Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine a Precious Boon.

MRS. A. T. STEWART, Folgar, Ont., says: "From the 7th of January to the 30th, we were up night and day with our two little boys, employing doctors and trying every kind of patent medicine we ever heard of. At this time we did not know of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine until after the 30th, when our youngest darling died in spite of all we could do. Sometime in February the doctor told us our other boy couldn't live till spring. We were about discouraged, when I got my eye on an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Syrup.

"I tried at once to get some, but none of the dealers here had it. A neighbor who was in Kingston managed to purchase two bottles which he brought straight to us, and I believe it was the means of saving our only boy.

"One teaspoonful of the Syrup stopped the cough so he could sleep till morning. Our boy is perfectly well now, and I would not be without Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house."

THE WHEELMEN ARE TURNED DOWN.

The Council Refuses to Make Them a Grant.

A DEPUTATION TO GO TO OTTAWA.

Representatives from all along the Line of the Trent Valley Canal System Will be Invited to Co-operate with Peterborough and Interview the Government.

The members of the council met last evening in Committee of the Whole to discuss the question of granting $600 towarded the expenses entailed in holding the Provincial Wheelmen's Meet in Peterborough, if the local club should be successful in securing it.

The Mayor explained the object for which the meeting was called and stated that he had been around amongst the merchants during the day speaking of the matter. Some of them had urged that the full amount of the grant be given, and stated their willingness to bear the increased taxation next year, if there was a deficit. Others again thought that the amount asked was too much. The argument had also been advanced that Peterborough never had any attractions on holidays to keep the citizens in town and that they therefore went elsewhere to spend their money. He was of the opinion that the ratepayers on the whole were in favour of giving the wheelmen a reasonable grant.

Councillor Allen was not in favour of giving $600, but thought that $300 would be a fair amount to donate.

Councillor Best thought that the money would be better spent on a Trent Valley Canal deputation to Ottawa. He was not in favour of granting even $300.

Councillor Allen pointed out that the wheelmen were just as sure before of getting the meet and had failed. Even if the grant was made the council might not be called upon for the money.

Councillor Denne was in favour of giving a grant, but didn't know where the money was to come from.

Councillor Allen stated that the merchants in Chatham were well pleased with the outlay which had been made in getting the meet, although the wheelmen themselves had lost money in the venture, through the large amount which had to be spent to secure it. This year Peterborough was spending very little money beforehand.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin, who was present on behalf of the wheelmen, estimated that the event would bring at least 5,000 visitors to the town for the first of July.

Mr. Bamford, local agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated that the C.P.R. generally sold tickets on a holiday to the amount of the grant asked, showing that large numbers of citizens went out of town on such days and spent their money away from town.

Councillor J. M. White and W. L. Allen finally moved that a grant of $600 be made but the motion was lost, thus killing the project in committee before it reached the council.

THE MARKET BYLAW.

The members then assembled in council with the Mayor presiding. Those present being Councillors Best, Robertson, W. H. White, Denne, Allen, Dawson, Cobb, Langford and J. M. White.

A protracted discussion ensued regarding the enforcement of the new clause in the market bylaw, whereby farmers are compelled to weigh each bag of potatoes brought to the market. As it was felt that this was a handicap the bylaw was amended by a clause calling for all potatoes sold in bags to be 1½ bushels or 90 pounds in quantity.

By thus setting a standard for a bag of potatoes, the vendors of such who expose for sale bags which contain a less quantity render their potatoes liable to seizure, the police being empowered, as inspectors, to cause the weighing of any bags which they think are short.

A communication was received from the Peterborough Water Company, calling the attention of the council to a number of standpipes, which it was stated leaked badly.

On motion Mr. Jas. English was instructed to repair the pipes.

DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA.

Councillor Best brought up the matter of sending another deputation to Ottawa to interview the Government regarding an increased grant towards the completion of the Trent Valley Canal system.

The councillors were all in favour of the scheme and a motion, made by Councillors Best and Langford, was unanimously passed, authorizing the Joint Committee to act in conjunction with the Board of Trade for the purpose of arranging a deputation to Ottawa, similar to that which went to the Government two years ago.

As before, Peterborough will be the central point from which the special train will start, and representatives from all along the line of the canal system will be invited to congregate here and join the deputation.

OBITUARY.

The Late David Armstrong of Otonabee.

In the death of Mr. David Armstrong, of Otonabee, whose remains were laid at rest in the Little Lake Cemetery on Wednesday, one of the very oldest settlers in this vicinity passed away. Mr. Armstrong has been a resident of Otonabee for about 65 years, arriving in Canada a few years after the Robinson immigration of '25. He came from Sligo, Ireland, where he was born 87 years ago. He settled in Otonabee, where he has since resided, an honoured and respected resident, steadily following his calling, and successfully amassing a comfortable competency. He knew by personal experience of the hardships, privations and unremitting toil of the early settlers, and he also by experience found that patient and persevering effort brings its reward in comfort, if not in luxury, when the obstacles of nature are overcome and the howling wilderness has been converted into the smiling homestead. Mr. Armstrong was twice married. His first wife, a daughter of the late Andrew Shearer, died about forty-five years ago. His second marriage was to Miss Sarah Miller, of Douro, who passed away about a year and a half ago. Mr. Miller was a brother of the late Mrs. John English, of Peterborough, mother of Mr. James and Mr. Samuel English. He has one brother living, William, the youngest of the family. Mr. Armstrong leaves behind him four sons and three daughters. The sons are Messrs. James Armstrong, of the Sixth Line, Otonabee, David, who married a sister of Mr. John Lang, M.P., and Stewart and Simpson Armstrong, who reside on the homestead. Of the daughters, Miss Susan Armstrong also resides on the homestead, and the other daughters are Mrs. John Kerr, of Ashburnham, and Mrs. David Fife, of Otonabee. Mr. Armstrong was a Conservative in politics, but he took no active part in public matters, contenting himself with pursuing the even tenor of his way, fulfilling unostentatiously but effectively the duties of citizen, neighbour and friend, in a manner to win a high degree of respect, which was evidenced by the large concourse that followed his remains to Little Lake cemetery on Wednesday.

"CONSCIENCE MONEY."

Finds Its Way into the Coffers of the Children's Aid Society.

This morning the Ontario Bank received the following letter, which is self-explanatory:

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed you will find $5, which was found just inside the door of your bank some years ago. If you can, restore it to its owner, or if not, give it to some deserving charity. You will greatly oblige the person who feels that they should have made an effort to find the owner at the time.

To show that necessity did not suggest the retention and practical theft of the money, the finder is evidently in good circumstances, if one judges from the quality of stationery. The letter of restitution is written on expensive English vellum paper. Or perhaps the finder has put out his $5 talent to good usury and has prospered.

Mr. Parker could think of no better or more deserving charity to give the money to than the Children's Aid Society.

*And they crucified Him and parted His garments, casting lots. * * And, sitting down, they watched Him there and set up over His head His accusation: This is Jesus the King of the Jews. There were two thieves crucified with Him, one on the right and one on the left. * * * Jesus, when He had cried with a loud voice, yielded up the Ghost, and behold the veil of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake and the rocks rent, and the graves were opened and many bodies of the saints which slept arose and came out of their graves after His resurrection, and went into the holy city and appeared unto many.*

THREE HORSES DROWNED.

A Team Belonging to Thomas J. Welsh —A Cart Horse of Corry & Laverdure also Drowned.

Mr. Thos. J. Welsh lost a fine team of horses Tuesday afternoon whilst loading brick for Hastings on a barge at the locks. The wagon to which the horses were attached was backed to the edge of the locks, and were left there unwatched for a few minutes. The horses started to back, and before they could be reached had gone so far as to push the rear wheels of the wagon over the edge, when the heavy waggon drew horses and all into the water. The animals immediately sank out of sight, the water being eleven feet deep. They were not recovered until this morning.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

A horse belonging to Corry & Laverdure was drowned yesterday afternoon through being backed too near the edge of a dump on the shore of the Little Lake, the animal being drawn down the embankment into the water by the cart to which it was hitched.

A Park Street Robbery.

On Tuesday night the residence of Mr. John Delaire, Park street, was entered and the sum of $18 stolen. The thief had the still and soft tread of a cat, because he he entered the house through the kitchen window, and the family were not aware of their loss until morning. Mr. Delaire's trousers, which contained the $18, were taken from his sleeping room and even the clothing of the children were "gone through" in search of spoil. Mrs. Delaire's dress, which contained $3, was fortunately overlooked, as well as a gold watch and chain lying beside Mr. Delaire's head. Tramps are blamed for the robbery.

HOLY THURSDAY AT ST. PETER'S.

The Solemn Ceremony of Blessing the Holy Oils.

Holy Thursday was solemnly celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning. A large congregation was present. The holy oils used during the year in administering the sacraments and other solemn ceremonies, were blessed during the high mass, which was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Connor. Rt. Rev. Mons. Laurent, V. G., Lindsay, was assistant priest. The Deacons of honour were: V. Rev. Dean O'Connor of Chesterville, Diocese of Kingston, and Rev. Father Conway of Norwood; Deacon Rev. Father O'Brien of the Cathedral, Kingston; sub-deacon Rev. Father McColl, of Ennismore; master of ceremonies, Rev. Father Jos. O'Sullivan.

The priests present besides those mentioned were Rev. Father Davis, Madoc; Rev. Father McCloskey, Campbellford; Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Young's Point; Rev. Father Nolan, of Fenelon Falls, and the Cathedral clergy. The presence of the clergy of the diocese of Kingston is due to the fact that owing to the death of Archbishop Cleary, there was no ceremony of blessing the oils in Kingston, the consecration for that purpose taking place here to-day.

After the mass the Blessed Sacrament was removed to the repository in the sacristy, where it will remain till the Mass of the Presanctified on Good Friday.

The services of Good Friday will consist of the Veneration of the Cross at 9, followed by the mass of the Pre-sanctified. In the afternoon at 3, the Stations of the Cross. At seven there will also be Stations of the Cross and a sermon by Ven. Archdeacon Casey. At the evening service a relic of the true cross will be exposed for the veneration of the faithful.

On Easter Sunday there will be the usual masses, at 8, 9.15 and 10.30. The last mass will be pontifical and His Lordship will give the Papal benediction. Vespers at seven with sermon.

COUNCIL COMMENTS.

In puncturing the tire of the wheelmen by declining to make a grant to the citizens interested in bringing the Wheelmen's meet to Peterborough, the council seem to have acted up to their view of the letter of their responsibility to the citizens, but there are many who hold the view that the council has lost an opportunity of assisting in providing a holiday entertainment that will bring money to the town in sufficient amount and with a general benefit that would far over balance any grant the council may have made. It has long been a reproach to Peterborough that on public holidays there have, as a rule, been no attractions provided to keep our own citizens at home, not to speak of attracting outsiders.

The council has exercised it undoubted discretion in withholding a grant in the interests of the Meet, but it would not be amiss if they should recognise their responsibilities in regard to using their influence to provide some form of amusement or entertainment for such days as May 24th or July 1st that will tend to keep our people from going abroad and spending good money which should be spent in town.

The council, to give credit where credit is due, acted wisely in amending their market bylaw in line with the suggestions of THE EXAMINER on Saturday. It is proper to protect purchasers on the market, but it does seem a hardship to compel farmers to handle bags of potatoes twice and insist on every sack being weighed. The amended bylaw that provides that the police, as inspectors, are empowered to compel the weighing of parcels of potatoes of suspected light weight—that is under ninety pounds for a "bag"—would, it seems, serve every purpose, and will be no inconvenience except to such as are careless or dishonest in measuring their produce.

While the council in this regard is to be commended, it should be soundly rapped over the knuckles for a most important neglect. They have earned the approval of all classes of citizens for their successful raid upon the caterpillar egg bracelets in three wards of the town, but there is something like a mild rebellion in No. 1 Ward, where, so far, nothing has been done. Why is this? No. 1 Ward contributes its share to the payment of the cost of operations in the other wards, and it is flagrantly unjust that no action should be made in No. 1. Does the council think that this is right or fair? It is said that the councillor responsible for looking after this ward says that nature will look after the caterpillars. That is just the point. Nature looks after them too well, and furnishes conditions for their increase just as nature looks after the weeds that grow so liberally. It is just as rational to say that weeds should be left to nature, as to hold that nature should be allowed full swing with the caterpillar. In the matter of No. 1 Ward, the ratepayers are treated like worms, and some of them are saying that the worm will turn. What is the council thinking about that it neglects the "bannes ward?" The town clerk has received many letters from other towns, asking how we dealt with the caterpillar pest. The matter of destroying the eggs is considered important enough for other towns to grapple with, and important enough for three wards of the town. Then why is No. 1 neglected? Are the ratepayers, there, to be visited with the punishment of Herod and be "eaten of worms," without the council stretching forth a staying hand? There should be no more delay. Very soon it will be too late.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Queen v. Cronk—This case was tried before His Honour Judge Weller in the County Judge's Criminal Court this morning. The charge was that Charles G. Cronk, appropriated to his own use the sum of $63.00, the property of James Yourex, and was thereby guilty of theft as defined by the Criminal Code. The evidence showed that Cronk claimed to be a tenant of the saw mill and grist mill at Keene, while Yourex claimed that he was an employee, only paid by the day for work and labour done. A dispute having arisen, each party attempted to obtain possession of the mills. Yourex having obtained entry when Cronk was absent was in turn dispossessed by Cronk; and thereupon Cronk, acting on the advice of his solicitor, retained the sum of $63, then in his possession, which otherwise would have been paid to Yourex, claiming that damage had been sustained by him amounting to more than the sum of money to which Yourex was entitled. Criminal proceedings were then taken, as above stated. The County Judge held, after taking the evidence of Yourex only, that the matter was one for a civil court, that he could not possibly find Mr. Cronk guilty of any criminal intent in the matter; that Cronk had never concealed anything from Yourex, so far as the evidence disclosed, but had openly taken the stand that he was not indebted by reason of the conduct of the complainant. The charge was, therefore, dismissed, and Mr. Cronk was congratulated by his friends on having vindicated his character.

LASSOING A PANTHER

HOW A HUNTING PARTY IN TEXAS FOUND A QUEER PET.

A Ferocious Animal Captured In Cowboy Fashion—How a Daring Negro Got One of the Cubs—The Mother and Her Children In Captivity.

Those who conclude that there are no ferocious or dangerous wild animals in the mountains of western Texas would experience a very sudden change of sentiment if they should meet a panther face to face in some lonely canyon. The magnificent animal now chained in front of our wagons is called by some a Mexican or mountain lion and by others a panther. She is of a dull yellowish color and will weigh more than four or five ordinary leopards. She measures just 11 feet from the tip of her nose to the end of her long tail.

Although she has been in captivity only a few days she is astonishingly docile so long as she can see her two cubs that are chained under the wagons. The moment they set up a whine she springs to her feet, all her hair turns the wrong way, and while her eyes look like glowing coals of fire she gnashes her sharp white fangs and tries the strength of her chain. If it were not strong enough to hold an ox, I should prefer that there were two or three counties between us just at that particular moment. The cubs are already as gentle as lambs and as playful as kittens, and nothing pleases them better than to crawl under our blankets at night and cuddle up close to us to escape the chilly northers.

We captured her in the mountains of the Devil river in western Texas, and I doubt if a more daring feat was ever accomplished by a crowd of hunters. Game of all kinds is very abundant in this region, and the boys had tired of shooting deer, antelopes and turkeys. Several big wolves and two or three panthers had been slaughtered, and it was evident from the numerous tracks about the water holes that there were plenty more of them in the mountains. One evening the hounds struck a hot trail and ran a big panther into a cave on the side of a mountain.

That night while discussing the adventures incident to the day's hunt two daring young men, Petmaker and Black, declared that they intended to hang a noose over the mouth of the animal's den on the next day and capture her alive. Both are Texas reared boys and experienced hunters. The proposition met with unanimous approval, and all volunteered to assist in the desperate undertaking. The next day as we rode out of camp some of the boys grew bolder, and two of them, who were expert vaqueros, declared that they intended to rope the beast if they could get close enough to her. These two—young Petmaker of Menard county and George Black of Austin—rode toward the den, and the other members of the party and negro Jim, who had charge of the hounds, started to beat up the valley.

We had gone but a short distance before the dogs struck a hot trail and ran with yelps which indicated that they were close to the animal.

Petmaker and Black heard them coming and reined in their ponies on the edge of a little opening and unslung their rawhide ropes from the horns of their saddles. The big animal sprang out of the brush and stopped within 20 feet of Petmaker. The cowboy's lariat flashed through the air and landed right around the wild animal's neck.

The instant it touched her she screamed like a terror stricken woman and, leaping high in the air and gnashing her teeth, began to decrease the space between her and the daredevil at the other end of the rope. Black, who was too far away to co-operate with his comrade at first, was now on the field, and with lucky precision he hurled a second noose over the animal's head. Both wheeled their ponies, and the trained animals made a leap in opposite directions. The ropes were drawn taut, and the big monster was choked to the earth.

While she was rolling on the grass and clawing at the noose another expert with the rope galloped and caught one of her hind feet. They could now easily hold her at a safe distance from each other, and after much excitement and many rather dangerous stratagems they succeeded in dragging her to a good camping place not far away. Since at that stage of her captivity we could not move her to the wagons, we moved the wagons to her, and, putting a stout chain around her neck, we made her fast to a tree.

Some of the hounds were set baying at the cave, and one of the boys and the negro Jim went over there to call them off. An old dog ran into the den and came out yelping with a young jaguar about the size of a house cat hanging to his hide. They captured the cub, and then the negro crawled into the den and brought out another—a thing that I would not have done for a deed to Texas.

The cubs soon made friends with us and were ready to eat from our hands or crawl upon our knees in a few days. When the mother saw her children in captivity, she set up an awful roar, but when they were put down by her side she seemed to be very grateful and soon afterward made a hearty meal off a large piece of venison that was thrown to her. After a few days she seemed to become perfectly reconciled to the new order of things and is now on the lookout for something to eat. Negro Jim pats her on the back and leads her about like a lamb. The hounds have made friends with her, and nothing pleases her better than for our bird dog to play with her. She could easily throttle the largest bull on the plains and toss a man about as a cat does a mouse. We have named her Miss Vixen.—Cor. St.

THE OLDEST NEWSPAPER.

It Was Established In China In the Eighth Century.

The oldest newspaper in the world is the Tsing-Pao, or Peking News, founded in the year 710 A. D. Until quite lately it was generally supposed that the Kin Pao, a Chinese journal published in Peking for the last thousand years, was the oldest newspaper in the world. In a very able work recently published, however, Imbault Huart, the French consul at Canton, shows that this high honor belongs to the Tsing-Pao, which has been published continuously since the year 710 and is even said to have been founded some 200 years before that date, or early in the sixth century, 800 years before a newspaper was known in Europe.

The Tsing-Pao now appears as a book of 24 pages, octavo size, tied in a yellow cover by two knots of rice paper. Each page has seven columns, and each column has seven characters, or letters, which read from top to bottom. The types are made of willow wood. This is the "edition de luxe" officially recognized by the emperor, and the price of which is about 24 cents a month. There is also a popular edition, got up roughly on poor paper and printed, or rather daubed, from a plate of engraved wax. This costs 16 cents per month and is issued an hour before the other.

It is the official journal of the government—the "Times" of China. It gives all the details concerning the person of the emperor, his movements, his maladies, his remedies, the imperial decrees and the reports of the ministers, in the printing of which every error is punished with death.

It announces to all the provinces the date which has been fixed by the emperor for the people to change their summer hats for winter ones, which they are expected to do as one man. This journal is easy to read, for it appears in an English translation in Shanghai.

After the Tsing-Pao the most important paper in China is of modern date—the Chin-Pao, or Shanghai News, founded in 1872. It has a circulation of some 15,000 copies, and at the close of the Franco-Chinese war Li Hung Chang made use of it—an innovation till then unknown—to influence public opinion and demonstrate by history the rights of the Chinese over Anam.

Chinese newspapers are usually printed on yellow paper, which is changed to blue in case of mourning and red on gala days. One paper has three editions each day—on yellow paper in the morning, gray at noon and white at night—so that the sellers cannot substitute one edition for another in serving their customers. Another journal has a title which signifies "the reproduction of what it is necessary to know," all given on a couple of pages, octavo size. They readily attempt to "en-Chinese" foreign words, as, for instance, the word "telephone" is made to read "to-il foung."

The Chinese press, like many of their other institutions, has remained stationary for 1,000 years, but is now beginning to wake up and modernize itself. —San Francisco Call.

Not a Fit Maxim For Him.

"My friend," said the kindly old gentleman who likes to make acquaintances while traveling, "you should follow my example. I strive to learn something new every day."

"No," was the answer of the quiet young man. "That may do in your line of business. But if you were doing a vaudeville turn with me you'd realize that audiences seem disappointed if they don't get what they have been taught to expect."—Washington Star.

DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP.

From the Sherbrooke Gazette:

When a man faces what medical authorities tell him is certain death, and regains health and strength, he is naural v grateful to the medicine that has restored him. Such a man is Mr. James Owen, one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of Johnville, Que. Mr Owen tells his story as follows: — "On the 17th of December, 1894, I was attacked with la grippe. A week later the trouble developed into pneumonia in its worst form, and I did not leave my bed until the first of March, 1895, and then I was so weak that I was unable to walk alone. All winter my life hung in the balance. Summer came and I was still weak and feeble, though with the warm weather I gained a little strength. I had however very little power in my legs, and I could not ride a mile in a buggy owing to the pain they caused me. My lungs also troubled me and I raised a great deal of matter. I then consulted the best doctor we had in this section of the province. He told me candidly that I was past medical help. He said that my left lung was in a state of collapse, and that my right lung was also affected. This was in July, 1895. For the next three months every day seemed to draw me nearer and nearer the end. I was so pressed for breath at times that I could not walk any distance without stopping to regain it. In the month of November I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was certainly a folorn hope, and I admit I did not expect much benefit from them, but took them rather to please a friend who urged me to do so. The result is they have made a well man of me. I have not a pain about me. My breath comes as freely as it ever did, and I am strong and vigorous. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given me a new lease of life, and I am glad to let every body know it.

FACE WHITE AS CHALK.

From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont.

Some months ago Maggie, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sweeney, of John street, of this town, began to fail both in health and spirits. Her face was almost as white as chalk, her appetite very fickle, and her limbs began to swell. Notwithstanding her growing weakness she persisted in attending school, until one day her teacher advised her to go home, and not to return until she felt better. At the same time the teacher, who knew the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in such cases, advised her to take them. The advice was followed and Mrs. Sweeney told our reporter that almost from the outset there was an improvement in her daughter's condition. Her appetite became better, the colour returned to her face, and the severe headaches that had made her so miserable, vanished, and she is now feeling better than she has done for many months.

It is quite evident that this young maiden was suffering from a lack of blood, as do so many young girls who are just at a critical point in life, and it is quite as apparent that there is no other remedy the equal of Dr. William's Pink Pills in such cases. They enrich the blood, stimulate the nerves, and build up the entire system, and mothers will act prudently if they insist upon their daughters taking an occasional box We know from experience that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done great good in Orangeville and vicinity, and there is scarcely a day that our reporter does not come in contact with some one who has a good word to say for this wonderful medicine.

AN APPEAL TO THE READER.

If you have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and derived benefit from them, will you write us and let us know? If you have been disappointed, will you write us just the same? We cannot expect to cure every case. Anyone who pretends to do so is unworthy of confidence. We do business in good faith. If by experience we learn that some forms of disorder are not cured by our pills, we want to know it, so that we may refuse to sell pills for such cases. We never sell pills except when we think they will cure.

Thousands of People who are not really ill require a tonic at this season of the year. Close confinement in imperfectly ventilated houses, shops and school rooms during the winter months, makes people feel depressed, languid and "out of sorts." Unless nature is assisted in throwing off the poison that has accumulated in the system during these months people fall an easy prey to disease. A TONIC IS WHAT IS NEEDED, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pill for Pale People is the greatest tonic medicine in the world. These pills make rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves and make dull, tired, listless men, women and children, feel bright, active and strong.

BUT BE SURE YOU GET THE GENUINE, always put up in wooden boxes the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark "DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE." Sold by all dealers in medicine, but if in doubt send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

A TEACHER'S ADVICE.

Miss Aglae Caret, St. Joseph, Que., writes: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most gratifying results. I am a teacher by profession, and last winter, as a result of hard work, I became weak and run down. My appetite was very poor, and I had hardly the courage to undertake my occupation. I was advised to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and their effect was marvellous. I have never enjoyed better health than I am doing now. In recommending them to others, I feel that I am only doing a service to our common humanity."

A MINISTER'S ADVICE.

Rev. John Perry, Baptist minister, Wickham, Ont., writes: I have much pleasure in recommending your valuable medicine. I was troubled with indigestion for more than twenty years and at times suffered much. I tried many medicines during that time and found no cure until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have not only fully restored my health, but have made me feel ten years younger. I therefore advise their use to all who are run down in health, or feel old age coming on. I am now seventy-six years of age, and have been preaching for 54 years."

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM.

From the Napanee Beaver.

The life of one afflicted by rheumatism is at times almost unbearable. The sufferer is racked with pain until he thinks even death would be a relief from this painful malady. Among those who have suffered much and found relief is Mr. Samuel Sparks, a market gardener, well known in Napanee and vicinity. Mr. Sparks recently related to a reporter how he was restored to health and strength. He said: "For several years I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs. The doctor who attended me called it sciatic rheumatism, and the trouble was always worse in the spring than at any other season. In the spring of 1895 I had a severe attack, and was much worse than I had ever been before. I was not able to do work even of the lightest kind. I suffered the greatest agony, and could get no relief either sitting up or lying down. At times I was as helpless as a little child for my legs felt as though they had become paralyzed. Then the trouble seemed to settle in my bowels, and the doctors said it was consumption of the bowels and that I could not live much longer. As the doctors could do nothing for me, I determined to make another fight for life and try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I felt that even if they would give me relief, it would be a blessing. Great was my astonishment, however, when within forty-eight hours after beginning the use of the pills I found relief. I kept on taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every day growing stronger and stronger, until at last I was a new man, and again able to do as hard a day's work as any man in the township. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too much, as in my case they restored health after all other means had failed".

SCIATICA.

Have you acute darting pain—a pain almost like hot needles—in the hip, down the back of the thigh? Does it extend to the knee and perhaps sometimes to the ankle? Is the course taken by the pain tender to the touch? Cure it—it is Sciatica. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always successful in curing this trouble.

A SCENE ON THE SOO.

The King of France Took Possession of the Land Two Hundred Years Ago.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Great Lakes" by W. S. Harwood. Mr. Harwood says:

While waiting for my steamer to be carried through canal locks of the Soo, I stood one summer day near a hill on which now stands Fort Brady, overlooking the rapids of the Soo as they flow from Lake Superior down into the St. Mary's river and so on to join at last the waters of Huron. On the top of this hill, as nearly as I could decide from the topography of the country, was witnessed two centuries and a quarter ago one of the most remarkable, one of the most significant, scenes in the history of the new world. It has been brilliantly described, and I may but mention it.

On June 14, 1671, a strange body of men was assembled on this hill. It was composed of four classes—the official representatives of the king of France, the Catholic missionaries, the voyageurs and the Indians. Weeks before word had been sent out to the chiefs of 14 of the different tribes of Indians in the region to meet at the Soo on the date mentioned. An immense cross of wood was made and carried to the top of the hill overlooking the swift flowing rapids. A stout timber with an engraved plate on it was set up near the deep hole in the ground which was to hold the foot of the cross.

When all had assembled, St. Lusson, the representative of the king, lifted in one hand a clod of earth and in the other his naked sword and in the name of his most Christian majesty the king of France took possession of the land, embracing in his assumption "all the region from the north to the south sea and extending to the ocean on the west." The cross was then raised before the motley throng—the representatives of the government in their most gorgeous suits, the priests in their rich vestments, the voyageurs in their hunting garb of skins, the Indians in their most fantastic feathers and paint. As the cross assumed position the priests intoned a stately chant of the seventeenth century. Then the French exclaimed "Vive le roi!" while, as one historian puts it, "the Indians howled in concert."

The plate upon the smaller timber bore an engraved inscription denoting the king's possession of the land.

He Used Buttons.

It is amusing to people familiar with the capitol to watch strangers examine it, and nowhere are these strangers so amusing as when they are in statuary hall, where there are a dozen or more "echo" stones, each of which creates a different sort of an echo owing to the peculiarities of the acoustics created by the formation of the ceiling. Men and women, old and young, frequently afford the most amusing spectacles when the solemn guide exhibits the wonders of these echo stones. There are also two pillars, one on either side of the room, which are called the telephone columns, and a person speaking in a very low tone near one may be distinctly heard by any one standing near the opposite pillar. Yesterday a member's secretary was leaning against the pillar on the south side of the hall when he heard a voice say:

"Oh, dear, what shall I do? My skirt is falling off, and I haven't got a pin?"

The young fellow glanced around, saw no one near him, but observed two young women near the telephone pillar opposite. Instantly grasping the situation, he gruffly said in a low tone:

"Sew it on or use a hatpin."

He heard a slight scream, saw two young women look about the hall in a startled fashion, and, observing no one was near, the one in distress exclaimed:

"Did you ever?"

"No, I never!" replied the secretary as gruffly as before. "I use buttons."

This was too much for the young women so, and they precipitately fled.—Washington Times.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

THE CHARGE OF DARGAI GAP.

Bulldogs! Hark! Did your courage fail?
Bulldogs! Hark! Did your glory pale?
What of the slander that says "Decayed!"
And "gone to the dogs since the Light brigade?"
For the blood and the bone that humbled Nap,
'Twas there again, boys, in the Dargai gap.

Did ye hear the swish of the flying shot,
The roll of the drum and the rattle pot,
The music that rose clear o'er that yell
And thrilled through the ranks and stirred up hell?
Come, highland laddie, head up and step forth,
A crown of glory—cock of the north!

You cock of the north, ah, pipe away,
With both stumps gone, but you won the day!
You may lean your back against comrades now.
They'll moisten your lips and they'll kiss your brow,
For they fought like men, and a man may weep
When he lays a man to his last long sleep.

Bulldogs who sleep on the Dargai ridge,
Roll in! Quick march! And over the bridge!
The piper's ahead and the same old air
To pipe you to heaven and veterans there!
And you'll tell the bullies who humbled Nap
The glorious story of Dargai gap.

A GIRL'S REVENGE.

BY CHARLES B. LEWIS.

Nancy Jones, as everybody called her, had been brought up to the age of 20 by a widowed mother. Owing to her masculine looks and deportment all the young men gave her a wide berth. It was said she had no womanly feelings, and the idea of her ever falling in love was laughed to scorn. And yet only a few days after I saw her for the first time that very thing happened. There came to the town of Stratford as an employee of the bank a young man named Charles Fletcher, and at their very first meeting, which was a business affair, the young woman was smitten with his good looks. Fletcher was 25 years old, and, although flattered by the young woman's preference for him, was not ready to fall in love with her. Indeed, although in time he escorted her about and was a frequent visitor at her home, he denied that his intentions were serious. She, however, was determined to have Fletcher for her husband and became so jealous of him as to excite public ridicule. In time he resented her bondage and sought to break with her, and it was this action which caused the tragedy I am about to relate. When the young woman became thoroughly convinced that she had lost her lover, she insisted that he visit her upon a certain evening to have a "last talk." Fletcher had been guyed and ridiculed by his fellow employees until he hated the name of the woman. He was willing to see her once more and have it over, but not willing that any of his friends should know he was going to the house. He pretended to call elsewhere to mislead them, and when something was laughingly said next morning he gave the name of a party he had called upon the evening before. Twenty-four hours later he was under arrest for the murder of Nancy Jones, and a hundred men were searching for her body.

Fletcher's story was straight and clear, but unfortunately it served to convict him. He had gone out to Fern Castle, as the young woman had romantically named the few acres with its cottage, and had been cordially received. Miss Jones confessed freely that she loved him, but as willingly declared that since he was unable to reciprocate, they would part friends and continue to respect each other. Supper was served and while being waited upon by the domestic Miss Jones made use of several singular expressions. She announced in an abrupt manner that even if her life were threatened she was not afraid—that if she were found dead people would know who had an object in removing her, and other things of the sort. It was plain that she was talking for the benefit of the servant, and as she would offer Fletcher no explanation, he concluded that she had an attack of hysteria and was trying to throw it off. Soon after dark the domestic asked leave to go into town. The request was granted, and in the presence of Fletcher Miss Jones said to her:

"You may never see me alive again, Sarah, but if any one tries to murder me I shall fight to the last."

Such language startled the domestic and she decided not to leave the house, but the spinster laughed at her fears and bade her run along. Soon after her departure Fletcher and Miss Jones started out for a walk. It was a summer evening, and at Miss Jones' suggestion they crossed two or three fields instead of going along the paths. At the edge of a forest where they stopped to rest for a few minutes the woman suddenly uttered several shrieks and when chided by Fletcher she claimed to have stepped on a snake. They returned home by a different route, and at 10 o'clock he left her house and walked into town. They parted with a handshake and kind words, and she walked a short distance with him. The girl Sarah returned home about midnight and went to bed. When she got up in the morning, she discovered that her mistress was not in the house—in fact, her bed had not been slept in during the previous night. Thinking she might have been called away unexpectedly, the girl raised no alarm until afternoon. Then the story she told resulted in Fletcher's arrest.

At first everybody scouted the idea of murder, but in a day or two all were satisfied of it. Fletcher had lied to conceal the fact that he had gone to the house. The domestic had overheard her mistress say that her life was in danger. She evidently stood in great fear of the young man, but was determined not to call for outside help. When they came to the motive, gossip said that Fletcher had betrayed the young woman, who insisted upon marriage as a reparation. As he was not willing, he had murdered her to escape exposure and scandal. These gossips lied shamefully, but they were searching for a motive for the crime and were bound to find one.

The domestic's story was singularly corroborated. Several people had noticed the couple walking together. A farmer had heard the young woman scream for help over by the woods. A light shawl belonging to her was found in a ditch, and her handkerchief was caught on a bush near the woods. She had always kept at least $100 in the house and was possessed of considerable jewelry. Money and jewelry were found to be missing, and the contents of her boxes were tossed about. Fletcher had not been under arrest 24 hours before they had made out a fair case against him, but there were just two requisites lacking to lay him by the heels. The money and jewelry were not found upon his person, and a general search of the country for miles around had failed to secure any trace of the body of the murdered woman. The young man had left the village at 6 o'clock in the evening and walked two miles and a half. He had returned shortly before 11, as he could prove by three witnesses. Out of five hours must be taken the time to walk five miles, eat supper, etc. It was figured that he would have only about two hours in which to dispose of the body of his victim. As he was a slight man and Miss Jones rather fleshy, it was clearly impossible that he could have carried the body any distance. There was no river or any pools near at hand. The woods and every field for two miles were gone over foot by foot, but the body could not be found. Then they inspected the house and the cellar, outbuildings, haystacks, hedges and what not, but the hunt was in vain. Although it is a legal axiom that there can be no murder unless a dead body is found, Fletcher was held to the assizes as a murderer. He alone had a motive to kill Miss Jones. If he didn't kill her, what had become of her? Out of a thousand people not over five doubted the young man's guilt, and they doubted more because the body could not be found rather than that they believed in him. In the course of a fortnight 500 people entered into the search for the body, and had a dead cat been covered within three miles of Fern Castle they must have found it.

Up to the time the search was abandoned the case was in the hands of the local police. When they could make no headway, a detective from London was called down. This man was expected to accomplish great things at once, and he stirred the whole county up by finding a clew within an hour after taking hold of the case. He boldly claimed that Fletcher had conveyed the body to Stratford river and had then driven back to restore horse and wagon to the owner. Everybody fell in with the idea at once, and as a consequence the river was dragged for miles until it gave up its last snag. The body was not to be found. The detective then suggested that the victim had been burned by a fire in the woods, but that was going too far and he was discharged from the case. Fletcher was arraigned at the assizes, and according to law he should have been set at liberty, but popular feeling was so intense that his case was adjourned to give the crown more time to complete its search. A reward of $360 was offered to any one who should discover the body, and people living 15 or 20 miles from the scene went about looking into ditches and beating up the woods.

I have not mentioned that Fletcher had relatives in London who were wealthy and influential. They believed in him from the first and employed counsel for him, and by and by a first class private detective was sent down to work in his interest. People wondered what he could do, but he didn't worry over that. He started in by believing the young man's story. A photograph of Miss Jones was shown him, and he sized her up very speedily. Fletcher and the domestic agreed exactly as to the queer expressions Miss Jones had used—dragged in for the benefit of the girl. She must have been planning when she did that, and what more natural than to believe she was planning a revenge on Fletcher? She had suggested a queer walk after dark; she had shrieked out with needless energy; she had brought him home by another route. All these things counted with the detective, and all counted in Fletcher's favor.

As a first step in the actual work of unraveling the mystery the detective drove to the several towns around Stratford and in each case his business was with men who sold clothing. After a few days he found his clew. At a certain date, a week previous to the murder, a young woman of Miss Jones' description had bought a man's suit of clothes at a certain store, saying they were for her brother. It was a working suit, and now, as the detective began to ride back and forth across the country, he called at all the roadside inns and carefully looked over all the stable boys. Meanwhile Fletcher was taken sick with brain fever, and, though given the best medical attendance, he grew worse and worse and finally died. When first taken ill, he declared his innocence of the crime imputed to him, and an hour before his death, when the coming of the grim destroyer brought him a lucid interval, he [illegible]

Many a woman throws away the flower of her youth—her beauty, her amiability and her capacity for wifehood and motherhood—without realising it. There is no sadder sight than that of a young woman who has for years been bearing up bravely and silently under physical tortures that would drive a man to the mad-house.

Thousands of women suffer in this way and ask neither aid nor sympathy. They realize that they are the victims of weakness and disease of the distinctly womanly organism. They do not consult a physician because of the well-founded fear that he will insist upon disgusting "examinations" and "local treatment." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does away with all necessity for these ordeals. It cures in the privacy of the home. It restores health and strength and vigor to the delicate organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. It tones, invigorates and builds up the nerves and transforms nervous, overwrought, sickly invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. Dr. Pierce is an eminent and skillful specialist who has been for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. He will answer, without charge, all letters from ailing women. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all good dealers.

"I suffered from womb trouble for about twelve years," writes Mrs. Harry Pomeroy, of Box 258, Monona, Clayton Co., Iowa. "I doctored with six different physicians, but found only temporary relief. I then used six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am a new woman. I hope and pray that this will induce other poor sufferers to use Dr. Pierce's medicines and be cured."

Funny Incident on a Bridal Trip.

A young married couple took a late train for Washington, intending to spend their honeymoon in rambling through the corridors of the capitol, Congressional library and other public buildings. The porter was awakening passengers at an unusually early hour that morning, and long before the train reached Baltimore he had them up. The groom told his bride that he would leave his coat and hat and retire to the smoking compartment of the train. He went out and met a friend, who asked him back into another car in order that he might meet a friend of his. Soon the conductor began making his rounds and taking up tickets. The young bride referred him to the smoking apartment, where, she said, her husband would be found. A moment later the conductor returned and informed her politely that the bridegroom was not to be found. The other passengers were startled by a loud shriek.

"My husband! Oh, my husband!"

"Don't be alarmed, madam," said the conductor reassuringly. "Nothing has happened to your husband. He is probably in Baltimore. We dropped two sleepers at that point." And that was why friends of the young couple who went to the station in this city to meet them saw only the bride clinging to an overcoat and a silk hat and wailing, "This is all there is left of him!"—Washington Post.

EASTER TIDINGS.

Oh! beautiful Easter lilies
With your blossoms so pearly white;
Fair emblem of our risen Lord
Who left His home so bright:
Who left His glory tinted throne—
As a little child came down
To ransom us from sin and death;
To wear life's thorny crown.

Of Him the angels gladly sang
That night o'er Bethlehem's plain,
"Tidings of joy we bring to you,"
And still the sweet refrain,
Comes echoing down the hall's of time—
That story sweet and old;
The glorious gift of God's dear Son,
And glories yet untold.

But oh! that priceless gift was spurned,
A man of sorrows He
Did grieve for sins, but not his own,
In dark Gethsemane.
With wicked men they raised Him high,
And nailed him to the tree;
The saddest sight this world o'er saw
Was that night on Calvary.

He grew up pure as the lily fair,
Yes He 'neath the cross did sow;
And they pierced His hands with the cruel nails,
And with thorns His kingly brow.
"'Tis finished," He cried, his head He bows—
He dies, and His followers bear
Him forth to the tomb; but the seal and stone
Hath no power to imprison Him there.

For, lo! on that Easter morning
A shining one came down,
'Mid the earthquake's crash and the thunder's peal
And rolled away that stone.
With the print of the nails in His hands and feet,
With the spear mark deep in His side,
He walked forth in triumph o'er sin and death
That glorious Easter-tide.

Then sad hearts, overwhelmed with sorrow and grief,
Look up from the grave and its gloom,
To that bright home above, where our Lord did ascend—
Who hath conquered Death's sting and the tomb.

It is the earnest wish of the Board and the public generally that she may soon be restored to good health again.

THE CHURCH CONTEMPLATIVE.

Lenten Lecture on St. Chrysostom in St. John's.

Those who were present at St. John's last night enjoyed a most thoughtful and scholarly address delivered by Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield, on the subject, "The Contemplative Church—St. Chrysostom in the East."

The lecturer began by remarking that this evening their eyes were turned towards the East, whence the truth had in many forms, been given to the western world. For every great religion had taken its origin in the East and not in the west. Confucianism, Buddhism and Mohamedanism had each struggled to give expression to some truth and the intelligent inhabitants of the East were essentially different to those of the West, in that the Eastern loved to investigate and contemplate the truth, while the western mind turned to more material objects.

—The eye of the Eastern was fixed upon the heavens—the attention of the western was upon the world and what it contained. These characteristics attached themselves respectively to the two great branches of the ancient Catholic church—the Eastern and the Western.

The Eastern or orthodox branch devoted itself more to the elucidation and preservation of the truth, while the Western branch was noted for its organization and its attention to what we all want to call the more practical side of religion. Unfortunately with some people the word "practical" meant what referred to this world as contrasted with the Eternal.

The discernment and contemplation of truth had a very sacred place in practical religion. But both these aspects were united in the history of John of Antioch, afterwards called Chrysostom or the golden-mantled—the son of an officer in the Imperial Army, born A. D. 346, his mother being a devoted Christian woman. He was educated for the law but believing that it was connected with sinful practices he desired to enter a monastery, but postponed this until after the death of his mother, at her wish. After entering he then spent four years in study and devotion and two more in seclusion alone in the wilderness. After this ascetic training he was ordained by the Bishop of Antioch and became the preacher in the Cathedral, where his eloquence attracted multitudes. He was then made Archbishop of Constantinople, where he was enthroned in 398. For six years he preached in the great church of St. Sophia, vigourously denouncing every type of popular wickedness. His bold devotion to duty stirred up for him many enemies whose practices were attacked, and they secured the banishment of the great and good, but, to them, obnoxious preacher. He was first sent to Illicia, where he prosecuted missionary work. His persecutors were not, however, content, and induced the Emperor to order his removal to a yet more barbarious region on the eastern coast of the Black Sea. After much toilsome travelling his worn out frame gave way. At his desire he was borne into a church by the wayside, clad in white garments, and received the Holy Communion. In spite of his persecutions and privations the prayer on the good bishop's lips as he passed away was "glory be to God for all things, amen." The lecturer then concluded by pressing home some of the lessons from the life of the Saint.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

Graceful Remembrance of a Departing Teacher.

Miss Lucy Stevenson, who has had charge of the Third Classes in Ashburnham Public School for some years past, is severing her connection with the school, and this afternoon the teachers and pupils assembled to bid her good-bye, and to present her with a token of esteem in the form of a handsome polished oak secretary. The presentation was made by Miss Clara Craig and the following address was read by Miss May Courtney:

ASHBURNHAM, April 7th, 1898.

Miss Lucy Stevenson,

DEAR TEACHER—We, the pupils and teachers of the Ashburnham Public School, cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing to you in some way the sorrow we feel in parting with you who have been so long associated with us in our work here, and our regret that you find it necessary to sever your connection with us.

We trust, however, that though you will be absent from us, we shall not be forgotten by you, for we assure you that you will still have a place in our memories and affections.

As a slight token of the high esteem in which you are held by us, we ask you to accept this slight token of remembrance, hoping that it may serve, through many coming years, to remind you of us all.

We wish you very many happy years of life, and hope that when we have all finished our lessons in the school of life, we may spend eternity in that better school above, with the great Teacher Himself.

Signed on behalf of the pupils,

Clara Craig,
May Courtney,
Bertha Symonds,
Howard Bennett.

Miss Ethel Dawson takes Miss Stevenson's place, while Miss Florence Coveney succeeds Miss Dawson. The change will go into effect after Easter vacation.

GOOD FRIDAY SPORTS

The Canadian Wheelmen's Annual Meeting at Toronto.

MEET GOES TO PETERBORO JULY 1

Ottawa and Montreal Secure the Chief Officers—No Change in the Fees—Annual Meeting of Lacrosse and Football Players—A New B. B. League Formed—The Officers.

Toronto, April 9.—The fifteenth annual meeting of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, held yesterday, was marked by the utmost enthusiasm. The association gained in membership during the year not as much as was anticipated, but enough to indicate that the cause of cycling is a long way from being dead. Nearly 100 clubs were represented at the meeting one way or another, and the total vote was 7,016. Of course racing matters were discussed and much animus was evidenced by some of the speakers. The vote for the meet gave Peterboro the meet on July 1 by nearly 2,000 majority. Winnipeg easily secured the national meet, which will be held on Labor Day, as there was no other applicant.

President George W. Orr was in the chair, and his annual address began the proceedings.

The secretary read a letter from the Provincial Road Instructor, A. W. Campbell, commending highly the efforts of the association in the good roads agitation. He thought the issuing of circulars to separate towns regarding street paving an excellent idea, and promised his aid in preparing a bulletin on country roads.

The secretary-treasurer, Mr. Hal Donly, among other things in his report, said:

Our advancement in the matter of membership since last Good Friday has nothing like kept pace with our expectations. At the close of the Association year 1896-97 we had on our membership register 9,886 names—a figure which had only grown to 9,602 by the 15th of last month. We are in a position to say we have not retrograded numerically. There has been no falling off in that respect—but, unfortunately, your Executive Committee, last spring, felt so certain that the Association would, as a result of the Baggage bill fights, enjoy a boom in membership that we entered upon some expenditures that were needful and which we considered our expectations as to income warranted us in doing. The result has been that while numerically we can still claim to have progressed, so far as finances are concerned we are not so well off as we were 12 months ago. At that time our surplus of assets over liabilities was $555.29: now the surplus is turned into a deficit of $368.07. The secretary's report was adopted without division

The report of the Rights and Privileges Committee dealt first and at considerable length with the efforts to enforce the observance of the Act of the Ontario Legislature passed in April, 1897, through the efforts of J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., to amend the Act regulating traveling on public highways.

"It is not, however," the report stated, "perfect legislation from the cyclists' point of view. Its most serious defect is that no provision is made for the frequent case of a wheelman overtaking a vehicle, whose driver refuses to allow the former sufficient room on the traveled highway to pass; but the Act is of a distinct advantage in that any contravention of it, if duly proved by the oath of one credible witness, is punishable by a fine not exceeding $20, which may be imposed by any justice of the peace having jurisdiction within the locality where the offence has been committed. The offender is also liable in costs."

In all proceedings taken under the Act the association had been successful. At St. Catharines, Ottawa, Waterloo and Peterboro fines had been imposed for contraventions of the Act.

The court had, in accordance with the constitution, supported some of the association members who had instituted claims for damages, and in only one case had the litigation proved unsuccessful.

Mr. T. A. Beeman stated that the report of the Racing Board had to be presented before the end of the year, and had been printed in the Wheelman. In answer to the statement that less prominence should be given to racing, he thought the fact that the Racing Board had given the association $600 this year was sufficient reply.

The ballot for president and vice-president for the ensuing year was then taken and resulted as follows: For president, T. A. Beament, Ottawa, 4,084; J. D. Balfour, London, 2,072. For vice-president: L. Rubenstein, Montreal, 5,776; J. M. Dufresne, Montreal, 2,197; W. B. Campbell, Toronto, 755.

The next business was to decide where the provincial meet should be held on July 1. Only Ottawa and Peterboro were in the field, and their representatives were accordingly heard, Mr. A. N. Payne for Ottawa and Mr. J. R. Stratton for Peterboro. The ballot was then taken.

Winnipeg being the only applicant for the Dominion meet, the Prairie City delegate was called upon.

The convention adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock and receive the result of the ballot between Ottawa and Peterboro.

When the delegates reassembled the vote on the provincial meet was announced as follows: Peterboro 3,405, Ottawa 1,089. Mr. Stratton briefly thanked the delegates for their support and promised them a high time on July 1. He proposed three cheers for Ottawa.

Mr. Payne responded for Ottawa.

All of the fee amendments proposed were voted down, almost unanimously.

The Committees.

The Board of Officers met immediately after the Association adjourned, when the following committees were elected:

Membership Committee—J F Cairns, Chatham (chairman); W B Campbell, Toronto; J S Carter, Winnipeg; J M Barns, St. John, N.B.; J W Dufresne, Montreal.

THE LACROSSE PARLIAMENT.

A Good List of Officers Elected at the Annual Meeting.

Toronto, April 9.—The Canadian Lacrosse Association held the eleventh annual convention at Richmond Hall yesterday, under most favorable circumstances. There were delegates from all parts of Ontario, even as far east as Cornwall, 24 clubs being represented.

At 2.30 the delegates met in Richmond Hall to hold the annual convention and election of officers.

After the delegates had handed in their credentials, the Credential Committee's report was read by Secretary W. S. A. Hartley, as below:

It is with pleasure that I now present the eleventh annual report of your council. Your council view with gratification the increasing interest in our national game in the province. During the past season the various district championships were keenly contested, as well as the semi and final matches. Owing to the resignation of Mr. Vance, W. S. A. Hartley was appointed to fill the office, which occurrence somewhat curtails the details of this report.

The various districts were won by the following: Northwestern, Orillia; York, Markham; Northwestern, Arthur; Bruce, no competition; Quinte, Madoc; Southern, Simcoe; Royal, Streetsville; Grey, Dauntless of Shelburne; Huron, Twin City of Berlin.

The other championships were won as follows: Senior, Tecumseh, Toronto; intermediate, Dufferins of Orangeville; junior, Elms II. of Toronto.

This report was followed by that of the auditors, which showed receipts of $1,013.15, disbursements of $584.72, leaving a balance in the bank of $428.43.

The election of officers was the next order of business, and some good speeches were made by the nominators. The following were elected to look after the interests of the association for 1898:

Hon. President, J. J. Craig, Fergus (acel.); president, T. H. Lennox, Aurora (acel.); first vice-president, T. R. Glanville, Mount Forest; second vice-president, T. McMillan, Beaverton; secretary-treasurer, W. S. A. Hartley; council, E. F. Seagram, Waterloo; B. R. Kean, Orillia; W. Phalin, Arthur; W. H. Thompson, Mitchell; E. McIntyre, Grand Valley; W. H. Hall, Markham; L. King, Peterboro; J. D. Bailey, H. B. Clemes, Port Perry; A. E. Cameron, Beaverton.

Toronto was chosen as the place for the next annual meeting, although Mr. Kean asked it for Orillia.

THE WESTERN FOOTBALLERS.

The Association Meets at Berlin and and Elects Officers.

Berlin, April 9.—The Western Football Association met here yesterday. The secretary read a communication from New Zealand re the approaching visit of the British football team to that country via America.

MURDEROUS BURGLARS

Assault Mr. Joseph Levick of Wychwood and Leave Him for Dead.

Toronto, April 9.—A burglary that may terminate in the more serious crime of murder took place on Thursday night at Wychwood.

Mr. Joseph Levick and his mother reside in a rough-cast dwelling at the corner of St. Clair avenue and Bathurst street, and on Thursday night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the son left the house to fasten a back gate. Here he was met by two men, the one tall and the other somewhat shorter, who at once commenced a murderous attack upon him with the side of brick mould.

Mr. Levick was silenced by the thugs, and they then proceeded to the house and made a search for the valuables that might be within. The old lady was searched and a print bag containing $42.97 was taken from her, and, after carrying the injured man into the house, the villains decamped.

Mrs. Levick, being a cripple, could do nothing to arouse the neighbors, and it was only by her screams early yesterday morning that residents in that locality were apprised of the occurrence.

Dr. Paige of Bracondale was summoned and found the man unconscious, his head having been brutally beaten, and he was still in a comatose condition last night.

Chief Lawrence of North Toronto and County Constable Stewart were early on the scene, and are busily engaged in endeavoring to find the perpetrators of the diabolical outrage.

FIVE MORE PROTESTS.

All Were Filed by Liberals - North Toronto in the List.

Toronto, April 9.—Five more election protests were filed by Liberals on Thursday—North Toronto, South Waterloo, East Simcoe, Addington and West Victoria. The Conservatives did not file any.

The petitioner against the return of Mr. Marter in North Toronto is Henry Summers, laborer. In addition to the now somewhat hackneyed charges is one alleging that the voters' lists were not complete.

In South Waterloo, R. N. Scott, agent, Galt, petitions against the return of W. A. Kribs, whose majority was 109.

Isaac Saunders, carpenter, Orillia, is the petitioner for the voidance of A. Miscampbell's election in East Simcoe. His majority was 75.

In Addington, Mr. Reid's election, by a majority of 340, is assailed by Ed. Madigan of the Township of Camden.

Patrick O'Reilly, laborer, Lindsay, is the petitioner in the West Victoria case. Mr. Fox had a majority of 79.

These bring the total number of protests filed up to 56, of which two have lapsed. If present intentions prevail, 12 or 14 more will be filed.

Called Himself a Reporter.

Kingston, Ont., April 9.—John Ellis, alias J. W. Lewis, is under arrest here for attempting to pass a cheque for $35 and purporting to have been issued by C. M. Hays, G.T.R. manager. Ellis says he was a former Toronto reporter, but now an advertising agent.

A Toronto Dentist Killed.

Toronto, April 9.—A fatal runaway occurred yesterday morning, by which William J. Fenton, a partner in the well-known firm of College street dentists, Patterson & Fenton, lost his life. Mr. Fenton was driving with his partner's wife, Mrs. Patterson, and at Queen and Simcoe streets the horse bolted at the approach of the Toronto Railway Company's sprinkler, and started on a mad dash towards Yonge street. At Elizabeth street the wheel of the vehicle struck the kerbing and the rig upset, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Patterson had a miraculous escape, but Mr. Fenton's head struck the kerbing and he became unconscious. At 11 o'clock death relieved the injured man's sufferings.

Death was caused by a fracture of the base of the skull.

Discouraged people are numerous now—some because of lost business, others because of lost health. All may find fresh inspiration and valuable suggestions in the following:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Complication of Diseases.

I was without ambition or appetite. All strength had left me. One doctor said I had heart disease, another torpid liver, a third said it was lung trouble and another consumption, and so on. I have no doubt, symptoms of all these complaints and even that of rheumatism, judging from the stiffness and pains in my joints and legs at times, were manifest. I was unable to attend to business, was confined to my room and frequently lay in a comatose state for hours. I was so feeble, and so little encouragement was offered, that I began to wonder

Where I Would be Buried.

Finally, as a last effort to help myself, I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The effects of a few doses of the medicine seemed almost magical. The depressed feeling left me, and when one bottle had been taken, I had regained an appetite, and strength was coming back. After finishing the third bottle I was able to go about my commercial duties. I continued to improve, and to satisfy my mind that I had fully regained health, I submitted myself to a doctor for examination. He pronounced me 'sound as a dollar.' Three months later, I passed a rigid examination for insurance. I have since been in the best of health, notwithstanding my travels, and I give

A card on the outside of office door says, "Gone to lunch—be back in ten minutes," and the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach, and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten minute lunches condensed.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart burn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanently. ASKS GOD'S BLESSING.

For the Wonderful Gift of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newmarket, March 28—(Special) "May God bless the man that put Dodd's Kidney Pills within the reach of suffering humanity," was the sentiment expressed by Peter Taylor of this town, to a party of friends, to-day.

Mr. Taylor has every reason to be thankful for the great medicine. Had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills, he would not now be alive.

Kidney disease held him in bondage for years. He could find no relief. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. He was completely cured by seven boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure all kidney diseases.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Rev. A. S. Grame, who visited Toronto last week, has returned home.

Miss Jennie Kearney has returned to Mr. R. Fair's, Peterborough, for the spring season.

Mr. Will Young is going into a bicycle livery with Mr. Frank McPherson, in Peterborough.

We are sorry to state the remains of Mrs. Richard Read have not been recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, who have been living in Lakefield during the winter months, have returned to the Point again.

Miss May Fanning, of Selwyn, is the guest of Miss Maggie Young.

The roads are drying up nicely and bicycles are once more seen around the village.

The boys of the village are catching perch. They commenced to bite this week and are very nice at present.

Mr. Jas. Johnston, of the Carleton House, left on Monday last for Bobcaygeon where he will resume his position as wheelsman on the Esterion.

Mr. P. P. Young is having his steamer Majestic re-painted and she will soon be seen again gliding over the waters of our northern lakes. She will be engaged next week at towing logs from Deer Bay, after which she will take wood down to Lakefield.

The ice is all out of Clear Lake now and last week great quantities of it could be seen passing over the dam.

The water this year has not been as high as usual.

Doctor Blanchard, of Lakefield, paid a visit to the Point this week to prescribe for a couple of sick horses. Mr. Richard Anglesey had one sick horse, while Mr. J. Pollock had the other. Both animals are progressing favourably.

An entertainment will be held in Mr. Heard's Hall Easter Monday night, 11th inst., for the benefit of the English church here. A sale of fancy articles from England, Ireland and Scotland will be disposed of from five o'clock until eight, when an interesting programme will be started. The talent will be from Young's Point and Lakefield.

The water is very high, but we are pleased it is not rising.

DEATH'S HANDS PINIONED.

Kidney Deaths Grow Fewer as the World Awakes to the Glad Fact That South American Kidney Cure Never Fails.

The unsuspected presence, the insidious character and the alarming suddenness of collapse and death from kidney diseases of so many men and women in apparently good health has baffled the most eminent physicians of the day, and not until South American Kidney Cure was introduced to suffering humanity could it be truthfully said that medical science had conquered this dreadful devourer of the human race. A thousand testimonials tell of its efficiency as a never-failing kidney specific. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

JAPAN EXCITED.

They Don't Object to John Bull Occupying Wei-Hai-Wei, But They Want a Better Foothold Themselves in Asia.

London, April 7.—The Yokohama correspondent of the Times says:

"For the first time public opinion in Japan is vehemently excited. There is no general opposition to a British occupation of Wei-Hai-Wei, but there is a feeling that Japan must assert herself and secure some other foothold on the Asiatic continent. The Government is hampered by financial considerations, but will probably be obliged to yield to public pressure. Sober people and the officials generally favor a British occupation of Wei-Hai-Wei and an Anglo-Japanese entente, pourparlers for which are progressing favorably."

The Daily Mail says this morning: "We learn from an authoritative source that England and Japan are in complete accord regarding Wei-Hai-Wei, but secrecy is entailed until a complete settlement has been achieved, which it is believed will include an arrangement whereby England will advance the money to enable China to pay the indemnity in full, and thus to obtain a Japanese evacuation of Wei-Hai-Wei."

If you are ill you need a doctor in whom you have confidence.

If you need a remedy you want one that has been tested for years; not an obscure, untried thing that is urged upon you, or on which you save a few cents—that is no consideration as against health.

For wasting in children or adults, Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites has been the recognized remedy for twenty-five years.

U. S.'S FIXED RESOLVE

Is to Fight With Spain Unless Cuba Is Freed.

GOOD FRIDAY OVER WAR'S BRINK

Spain Seems to Be Equally Determined—The Final Preparations Going on Steadily—Gen. Lee and Americans Have Left Cuba—A War Draft in Cuba by Spain.

Washington, April 9.—Good Friday passed in Washington with not a ripple on the surface, either at the White House or the Capitol, to show that the United States is on the brink of war. Both Houses of Congress had adjourned until Monday, and at the Executive Mansion there was no rush of eager and excited public men, but a Sunday-quiet atmosphere. At only the War and Navy Departments were there signs of an impending conflict in the rush of immediate orders to a host of naval officers to report at once for duty on vessels to which they were assigned, and in conferences among bureau chiefs on details of war preparation. And yet the resolve was firmer than ever that unless Spain yielded to America's Cuban demands the United States by force of arms would move on Havana. It was the very recognition of the fixity of this purpose that caused the day to be in marked contrast to the excitement of all its predecessors of late.

A GRAVE SITUATION.

Hopeful Views of Peace Dissipated—Preparations for War Steadily Advancing—Last Chance to Leave Cuba.

Washington, April 9.—The Spanish-American situation is now regarded as more grave than at any time heretofore. The hopeful views of peace hertofore entertained have given way to the conviction that the issue between the United States and Spain has become well nigh irreconcilable. The preparations for all eventualities are proceeding steadily. One significant evidence in this direction developed when it was learned that the United States consul at Porto Rico was about to leave his post. It is expected that General Lee will take the boat from Havana to-day noon. Whether he will leave the vice-consul or other subordinate temperarily in charge is not made known. Considerable depends upon this, as his retirement with his entire staff would mean the complete termination of all official communication between the United States and the island, whereas the leaving a subordinate in charge would contique at least a semblance of these official relations. The determination to have the United States consul at Porto Rico leave indicates that the Government is not alone turning its attention to Cuba, but to Spain's other colony of the West Indies.

The probability that the Spanish torpedo fleet will rendezvous at Porto Rico may have contributed to the determination to withdraw the United States consul there.

Inquiry at the Foreign embassies and legations yesterday make it plain that the action of the great powers yesterday in presenting a joint note to President McKinley, urging peace, constituted all that these powers will do. There is no present purpose to take further action, or to follow up this guarded and diplomatic utterance with any suggestion of mediation or intervention. It is important at the present juncture, in that it practically eliminates the influence of the powers at Washington beyond a sentimental expression toward peace.

Last Chance to Leave Cuba.

Tampa, Fla., April 9.—The programme for the departure of General Lee from Havana has been announced as follows: The Olivette will enter Havana harbor this morning and General Lee will at once notify all Americans that this will be their last chance to leave the island under the American flag. After all are on board the steamer, including the United States consuls from the various ports of Cuba, General Lee will pull down the American flag from the Consulate, will turn over the archives to the British Consul, Gollin, and will go aboard the Olivette, which will at once sail for Key West. It is possible that one of the gunboats or cruisers at Key West will accompany the Olivette to Havana to protect the Americans as the last of them leave the city.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

GIBBONS SUPPLIED MINES

And Has No Doubt That One of Them Was Used to Destroy the Maine.

New York, April 8.—A special to the World from London quotes J. P. Gibbons as saying: "The only submarine mines which have been supplied to the Spanish Government since 1886-87 were manufactured under my own patents. I then supplied them with 56 ground mines, 25 buoyant mines, each with a charge of 500 pounds of gun cotton, and 15 electro-contact mines, exploding either on contact or by observation from shore, each containing a charge of 100 pounds of gun cotton. The mines sent to Havana would still retain full effectiveness. They will last under water for an indefinite period.

"I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that the Maine was deliberately destroyed with a 500-pound ground mine as invented and supplied by me. I am prepared to satisfy by demonstration any jury of reliable men that this is the true explanation of the destruction of the Maine."

The President Was Serious.

Washington, April 9.—The Cabinet meeting occupied a little over an hour and a half yesterday. It was mainly devoted to an informal discussion of the situation. The President's demeanor was grave throughout, and the proceedings indicated that there was no expectation on the part of the Administration that war could be averted.

Gen. Woodford's Withdrawal.

Madrid, April 9.—The statement published in London to the effect that United States Minister Woodford is to leave Madrid on Sunday is untrue. General Woodford yesterday reiterated his statement that he would not leave until directed to apply for his passports, or until they are handed to him. The Ministers at yesterday's Cabinet Council considered General Woodford's withdrawal, the collective action of the powers, the warlike preparations and, it is alleged, something else which has not yet transpired. The greatest curiosity is felt regarding this unknown subject, but rigid silence is maintained regarding it. It is supposed not to concern another note from General Woodford.

Spain at present being, according to the official point of view, a spectator and not an agent in the negotiations, it is intimated that the secret matter refers to something officially formulated by the Pope

THE MISSING LINK.

General Lee Is Expected to Make Some Startling Disclosures.

Washington, April 9.—Representative Lorimer of Illinois is authority for the statement that General Lee will make some startling disclosures before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations when he arrives here regarding the conspiracy to blow up the Maine. It was announced yesterday that General Lee would be called before the committee, but the nature of the testimony to be extracted from him was not disclosed.

"I understand that General Lee is to supply the missing link in the testimony," said he. "My information is that Captain Sigsbee is in possession of the facts, but does not feel at liberty to give them until the person who gave them to him releases him from the secrecy imposed. That person I understand is General Lee."

EVERY FIGHTING MAN

Called Out by Spain for War With the United States—Secret Orders.

New York, April 9.—A special to the World from Havana says: Spain is calling out every fighting man in Cuba for war with the United States. The order for the long-expected military draft has been issued by Captain-General Blanco after a council of war at the palace with the generals. A copy of the order has been sent to every town in Cuba.

It commands every male Spanish subject between the ages of 19 and 40 to register for immediate military duty at the office of the commandante of the district.

The utmost secrecy has been maintained in everything connected with the order. A man at the palace who is very close to the Captain-General, said to a New York World correspondent: "This order will not be much of a surprise to the inhabitants of the island. It has been talked of for a long time. The only wonder is that it was not issued long ago.

"No; the men who register will not be assigned to military duty at once. They will be given instructions in the manual of arms for an hour or so every day, but will be permitted to attend to their regular vocations the rest of the time. Should any emergency arise, however, they will at once be sent to the field or to the defence of some seaport town."

Cuban sympathizers in Havana are jubiliant over the military draft. They say it only shows to what straits Spain has been reduced. The great majority of the men who will be compelled to serve under the Spanish flag are Cubans, whose sympathies are with the insurgents.

Rushing Work on the Torpedo Boat.

New York, April 9.—A special to the World from Queenstown, Ireland, says a large body of workmen has been brought down from the Clyde to assist in repairing and fitting the damaged Spanish torpedo gunboat Audas for sea. The men are working day and night, as she cannot leave if war is declared.

The customs officers have been instructed from the Admiralty Office in London to take possession of her immediately in case of war.

Had 28 Americans on Board.

Key West, April 9.—The lighthouse tender Mangrove arrived here yesterday morning from Havana. She had 28 Americans on board.

After landing her passengers the Mangrove proceeded to her wharf, where she will be fitted with rapid fire guns.

All Quiet at Havana.

Havana, April 9.—Everything is quiet here, and the state of waiting, expectancy and doubt continues. According to outward appearances there is absolutely no change in the usual routine of life in a happy tropical city. Good Friday, with its proper observance, is more the topic in the public mind here than war or diplomacy.

From to-day on, all code telegrams from or to Cuba must be translated at the censors' office with the code books in sight.

Spain Cannot Yield.

Washington, April 9.—A prominent House Republican, who is close to the President, and who is kept advised of the situation, said at noon that the situation was unchanged.

"Do you believe Spain will yield?" he was asked.

"I do not see how she can," he replied. "The intimation that the Queen intended to take the reins in her own hands and consider everything on Wednesday almost caused the downfall of the Ministry."

U.S. Consul Leaves Santiago de Cuba.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 9.—The steamer Brookline arrived at Port Antonio yesterday from the City of Santiago de Cuba, having on board the United States consul, Mr. Pulaski F. Hyatt, the staff of the Consulate, and 25 Americans, including children.

American interests at Santiago de Cuba have been left in care of the British consul.

A Ram Goes South.

Delaware Breakwater, Del., April 9.—The Government ram Katahdin, which sailed from Philadelphia, passed out the Capes yesterday, bound south.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER,

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and fearnestly thankful for my cure.

Arrived From Dawson.

Seattle, Wash., April 9.—J. G. Courtney and D. A. Campbell of this city arrived here from Dawson City last evening on the steamer Victorian. They left Dawson March 4 and made the trip in twenty-two days. They report that Judge McGuire had reached Dawson and had opened court. Ed. Lord, the man who stole $90,000 from a saloon last fall, was sentenced to five years at hard labor.

The Victorian brought $50,000 in gold from the Treadwell mine.

SAN JOSE SCALE.

With the Burning of 40 Plum Trees It Has Been Rooted Out of Flamboro East—Hamilton News.

Hamilton, April 7.—With the burning of some 40 plum trees just across Burlington Bay last week, the inspectors say that in their belief the San Jose scale has been rooted out of East Flamboro. Curiously enough the trees that were destroyed produced so heavy a crop last summer that their limbs broke down under its weight. The diseased stock was the Japan plum and imported from New Jersey.

James Smith, the 12-year-old boy who confessed to shooting Mrs. M. Sibbald through a hole in the fence with his "air" gun, was fined $50 yesterday. His Wife's Rheumatism had Baffled the Doctors for Years—Half a Bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure Relieved and Four Bottles Cured Her.

She was treated by best medical men, and used many remedies, but relief was only temporary. Reading of the cures made by South American Rheumatic Cure we procured a bottle and tried it. Half the bottle brought great relief and four bottles completely cured her. Its effects are truly wonderful. Sold by H S Macdonald.

Miss Delaney's

Our Easter exhibit is now complete. We have been preparing for months for this important event in Millinery, and the result is before you arranged for your judgment and preference, we have no doubt as to the nature of that judgment. So far as expert knowledge, trained taste and ample resources can reach perfection our stock reaches it. The selection of our styles has been made from the masterpieces of the world's Millinery leaders. The grades, qualities and artistic excellence are the best of the best.

Of the productions of our own designers we say little, but we could say a great deal. We allow their own beautiful effects to speak for themselves. We place them beside the picked models of the world's best designers with perfect confidence and leave the rest to your judgment.

It is not in Millinery alone that we excel. We have filled all our departments with the best of Fashionable Easter gayety and seasonable goods.

ASHBURNHAM'S BIG GOOD FRIDAY BLAZE.

MR. G. WALTER GREEN'S FACTORY TOTALLY DESTROYED.

A Fierce Early Morning Fire—Building and Contents Totally Destroyed—Machinery, Stock and Much Finished Work Burned—Total loss on Building and Contents About $8,000—Total Insurance, $4,500.

The riverside was again the scene of a fierce and disastrous fire at an early hour yesterday morning. At three minutes to six an alarm was sent in by Mr. E. Round from the electric light station, for a blaze that had broken out in Mr. G. Walter Green's factory on the Ashburnham side of the river at its edge. The blaze was first noticed by Mr. Round in an annex on the northern side of the mill, formerly used as a dry-kiln, but recently for storing lumber. The fire began at the north-western angle of this building; and, a rather stiff breeze blowing from the north-west, the conditions were favourable for the rapid spread of the flames, which seized upon the inflammable wooden structure and its equally inflammable contents with destructive avidity. Though those in the vicinity were early on the spot, there was no hope of subsiding the fire even by the help of the steamer from town—as Mr. Green said, fifteen engines couldn't have saved the doomed building, which, within a quarter of an hour after the blaze was seen, was a mass of roaring flames.

Mr. Green had a rather serious experience. He was early on the scene and wished to at least save the books which were in the safe, near the door of the office; and, though the place was black with smoke he made a resolute attempt to open the safe. He crawled as closely to the floor as possible, to the safe, but was unable to open it; instead of saving the books he was fortunate in saving his life. He was partially asphyxiated by the dense and acrid smoke and if one of the employees of the factory, Mr. Thos. Bradley, had not bravely gone to the rescue, and seized him by the fast, would certainly have been added to the destruction of property. Within about forty minutes the building had shrivelled into a mass of glowing embers, the tall chimney only remaining standing. Though the steamer and the brigade could not save the building, they were useful in preventing the spread to adjacent lumber piles and buildings. But the area of danger went far beyond their power to prevent fire. The blazing cinders caught by the strong breeze were blown afar and threatened to fire the roofs of buildings as distant as the old town hall on Mark street, and almost every roof between that point and the burning building in the line of the wind was at times in more or less danger.

DESTRUCTION OF LIFE

The origin of the fire is unknown, but those earliest on the scene believe that it started from the outside. There had been no fire about the building after 4.30 on the previous afternoon, the hour when the bookkeeper retired from the office, where the only fire was.

Mr. Green's loss is pretty heavy. He places it at between $4,500 and $5,000, in stock, goods manufactured and machinery. There was about $1,600 worth of manufactured articles ready for delivery and shipment. The staff had been kept at work during the winter, in upon stock. This manufactured stock consisted of pumps, washing machines, folding sinks, cheese vats, lumbermen's supplies, such as pike poles, peevies, cant hook, handles, etc., cistern tanks, turned wood, linemen's supplies, such as insulator blocks, cross arms for telephone and other poles, etc.

Mr. Green has been very unfortunate. Since he came to Peterborough in January, 1896, he has twice had his premises destroyed by fire. At the time of the fire on Dickson's race in October, 1896, he suffered a larger loss than by the last fire, with inadequate insurance. Undiscouraged, he set to work and within three weeks he was at work again in the premises that went up in smoke yesterday morning. In this case he carried an insurance of $1,500 in the Economical of Berlin, placed with Messrs. Lindsay & Might, to cover an estimated loss of between $4,500 and $5,000.

Mr. Green is still undismayed, and will at once resume work, as he had a large number of orders that must be filled at once. He yesterday arranged for the use (temporarily at least) of Wand's planing mill. He employed about 15 persons in connection with his business, who will be thrown out of employment unless Mr. Green secures other suitable premises, which he is doing with the probability of resuming business in a short time.

The burned building, which was four-and-a-half stories high, was owned by the Dickson Co., and valued at $4 000. It was formerly occupied by the Lindsay-Seldon Furniture Co., and the Dickson Co. had a considerable quantity of furniture, worth about $500, stored in the top story. The insurance on the building is $3,000, placed by Messrs. Cox & Davis, devided in $500 policies each in the following companies:—Western, North British and Mercantile, Lancashire, Manchester, British America and Phenix, of Brooklyn.

In addition to the loss of Mr. Green and the Dickson Company, some of the employees were considerable losers. Mr. P. Begley's loss by the destruction of his turning lathe, tools and finished material amounts to at least $100, a loss similar to that he suffered in the fire on the opposite side of the river a year and a half previously. Mr. Wm. Sanderson also was a loser to a considerable amount by the destruction of his tools, and other employees also suffered by loss of tools.

Mr. Green's books, when taken from the safe, were not so much injured as to destroy the records. However all of the books were not in the safe, which was a small one. Those books left in the desk were destroyed.

Mr. C. H. Moore, town, dealer in cheese supplies, had half a dozen cheese vats in the building ready for taking out. They were protected by an insurance of $300 in the Mercantile, placed by Mr. W. H. Hill.

THE NORWOOD BURGLARY.

James McDonald Receiving a Preliminary Hearing Before Magistrate Edmison.

McDonald, the man who was placed under arrest in Havelock early Wednesday morning, on suspicion of being concerned in the Norwood post office robbery, was before County Magistrate Edmison to-day for a preliminary hearing.

Mr. J. B. Pearce, Warden of the County, was the first witnessed examined. He gave a description of the burglary, stating that a quantity of stamps and between $40 and $100 in money had been taken. During the following day he heard that some suspicious characters had been seen around Havelock and went down there accompanied by several others on the midnight train. He got off just as the train was stopping and caught the prisoner who was trying to get on. His companions escaped. On the prisoner were found a complete set of burglar's tools, a revolver and quantity of stamps and money.

The hearing is still in progress. Mr. R. E. Wood is conducting the prosecution and Mr. D. O'Connell appears for the defence.

"HE IS RISEN."

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow; and for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men. And the angel answered and said unto the woman, fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here, for

HE IS RISEN.

PETERBOROUGH GETS THE MEET.

Ottawa Turned Down by a Majority of 2,316.

IT WAS TRULY A GREAT VICTORY.

MANY CITIZENS WERE UP IN TORONTO YESTERDAY.

When the Result of the Vote Was Announced Peterborough's Many Supporters who were Present Almost Raised the Roof with their Cheers—Thousands will be Here on Dominion Day.

Peterborough was well represented at Toronto yesterday, the delegates to the Canadian Wheelmen's Association comprising many of the most prominent professional and business men of the town.

It is no news to state now that Peterborough was successful in its application for the Provincial Meet on the First of July, as it was not very many minutes after the vote was taken that word of the great victory over Ottawa was telegraphed to town.

The majority was an overwhelming one—3,405 votes to 1,089, giving Peterborough the victory by 2,316 votes.

As has been usual of late years, the greatest interest in the annual meeting is the struggle for the meet, and yesterday the enthusiasm of the two contending cities was as lively as ever. The supporters of both Peterborough and Ottawa went to Toronto and the meeting ready to fight to the death to get for their respective places the much-coveted plum. Though the former did not make as much display as the Ottawa men, yet when the scrutineers counted the votes, it was seen how well, quietly and successfully the citizens of Peterborough had worked. It was a hard blow for the Ottawa cyclists, but when defeat came they took it gracefully, and were among the first to congratulate their brothers who had carried off the treasure.

Mr. Payne, who spoke for Ottawa, began by saying that he hoped he would say nothing that would affect the sensitive feelings of those from Peterborough. (A Voice—"We have no feelings. Peterborough has fought long and fought well; we have fought short and fought just as well. Cries of "no." Mr. Payne then went on to say that this was the most important year in the C. W. A., because it was their first provincial meet which will take place on Dominion Day, and if it was a failure it meant they would be doomed for the future. In order to ensure success it should be sent to some town that had a record. The city of Ottawa wheelmen had done more for the C. W. A. than any other city in the Dominion of Canada. ("Hear, hear," and "no.") The Ottawa club had put more money in the C. W. A. treasury than any other club last year. ("No.")

Mr. Payne then went on and told in fine words the attractions of the bicycle track, the hotels, the Lover's Walk, the scenery and other features of the capital and received an attentive hearing.

As Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., came forward to present the claims of Peterborough he was very loudly cheered. He said he would not say a disrespectful word regarding Ottawa, but he felt that Peterborough, after being turned down twice and then standing so faithfully, was entitled to the meet. They were not people who said much, but what they did say they carried out. They promised a good day's sport for the first day and then the next day could be given over to excursions to all the delightful summer resorts, falls and islands in the neighbourhood. He claimed the advantage of a splendid track and said that there were enough good hotels to accomodate all that would come, and also at reasonable rates. Ottawa might possibly boast of a beautiful Lovers' Walk, but we can boast of more beautiful girls than any other town in Canada. (Applause.)

Mr. Payne replied briefly, but added nothing to his first list of attractions.

There was a wild scene when the result of the verdict was announced, Peterborough's followers fairly raising the roof with their cheers.

The meeting was a well-attended one, and one in which the greatest of interest was taken, lasting some hours longer than did the annual conclave of a year ago.

LIONEL KING ON THE C.L.A. EXECUTIVE.

OUT OF TWENTY-THREE CANDIDATES HE STOOD FIFTH ON THE LIST.

Peterborough Will now Have a Voice in the Councils of the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Messrs. Lionel King, Alf. Terrill and Walter Phelan went up to Toronto on Thursday as representatives to the Canadian Lacrosse Association's annual meeting, which was held the following day. As Mr. King was in the field for the first vice-presidency of the league an active canvass was commenced as soon as the trio of delegates struck Toronto, and as the representatives of the different clubs reached the city they were promptly interviewed and their support was solicited. From appearances it was evident that the run for the office would be a close one.

On Friday afternoon the delegates met in Richmond Hall, with President Craig in the chair. On retiring from office Mr. Craig was to the of position honorary president. Mr. Herbert Lennox, of Toronto, had no opponent for the presidency, and for the second time in the history of the Association there was no contest for the chair. Mr. Lionel King of Peterborough; Mr. T. Glanville, of Mount Forest; and Mr. W. H. Hall, of Markham, were nominated for the First Vice-Presidency in the order named.

Mr. Alf. Terrill in nominating Mr. King made a strong plea for him on the ground that the East had no representative in the Councils of the C. L. A.

Against this, Messrs. Harry O'Laughlin and J. D. Bailey, the nominators of Mr. Glanville, pointed out that he had served his time in the council, had filled the office of Second Vice with credit, and that promotion was now due him. They acknowledged the claims of the East, but expressed the opinion that Mr. King was aspiring too high in seeking the second highest office in the gift of the Association. If he had come out for any other office he would have had their cordial support.

The election resulted in Mr. Glanville being returned, Mr. King being second and Mr. Hall third.

For the Second Vice-Presidency,

MR. PETE M'MILLAN,

of Beaverton beat out Mr. Bolton Kean of Orillia, by four votes. Both are well-known in Peterborough.

Mr. W. S. A. Hartley, better known as "Old Bill," was returned to the Secretary-Treasurship over Mr. McKeown of Grangeville.

Candidates were nominated for council to the extent of over a score—twenty-three being in the field, for which ten were asken to be selected as the Executive of the Association. As an evidence of their good faith in stating their belief in the claim which the East had to recognition, the gentlemen who nominated Mr. Glanville for the vice-presidency were Mr. King's warmest supporters for the council, Mr. O'Laughlin going as far as to nominate him. The result of the election showed that Peterborough now stood fifth on the list, which was headed by popular Eddie Seagram, of Waterloo.

The fact of Mr. King's being elected to the councils gives Mr. King a voice in their decision and as the new officers all appear to have the best interests of the Association at heart the present year will doubtless see the C. L. A. prosper to a degree not attained in late years.

C. P. R.'S BIG YEAR.

Earnings Increase Despite the Rate War—Proof of Prosperity.

Montreal, April 7.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway was held yesterday and was harmonious.

The only statement of importance made by Sir William Van Horne in his speech was to the effect that the rate war had not interfered with their earnings; in fact, the increase of earnings during March was $54,1,000. He announced that there was no doubt the prosperity shown by the directors' ability to distribute a 4 per cent. dividend, and carry forward a surplus of $897,088 to the reserve after provision for all working expenses, will increase.

TAKE IT IN TIME.

Don't Let Dyspepsia Get a Grip on You.

Or if You Have Done so, Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They'll Cure you in Either Case—They are Your Only Hope.

When you are going on a railway journey you make it a point to reach the station some time before your train is due. You do not wait till the train "comes in" and then start out to try and catch it. Why should you not follow same principle with regard to taking medicine? It is foolishness to wait till disease has arrived and has fastened itself firmly in your system, before taking medicine to cure it.

In all cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Waterbrash, Foul Breath, Wind on the Stomach, Catarrh of the Stomach, and every other stomach disease caused by imperfect digestion, it is of vital importance to take it early.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all the diseases named above at any stage, even when doctors have given them up. But the cure comes much more quickly and easily, if the disease is taken in time.

There is no stomach disease—except cancer—that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure. Their action is simple but certain. They digest the food, tone and strengthen the stomach, regulate the bowels, and in short, renew the entire digestive system.

The effect of using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is like that of putting new works in a watch. If you don't believe it—test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at fifty cent a box, six boxes $2.50, or they will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A RELIABLE OFFER.

Honest Help Free to Men.

The (Peterborough Examiner) is authorized to state by Mr. D. Graham, Box 123, Hagarsville, Ont., that any man who is nervous and debilitated or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from overwork, excesses or abuse, such as nervous debility, exhausted vitality, lost vigor, unnatural drains and losses, lack of development, etc., can write to him in strict confidence and receive free of charge full instructions how to be thoroughly cured.

Mr Graham himself was for a long time a sufferer from above troubles and after trying in vain many advertised remedies, electric belts, etc., became almost entirely discouraged and hopeless. Finally he confided in an old clergyman, whose kind and honest advice enabled him to speedily obtain a perfect and permanent cure. Knowing to his own sorrow, that so many poor sufferers are being imposed upon by unscrupulous quacks, Mr. Graham considers it his duty as an honest man and a firm believer in christian sympathy and kindness, to give his fellow-men the benefit of his experience and assist them to a cure. Having nothing to sell, he asks for no money, the proud satisfaction of having done a great service to one in need, he rightly considers an ample reward for his trouble. If you write to Mr. Graham you can rely upon being cured and upon absolute secrecy as well.

Address as above, enclosing a stamp and refer to the (Peterborough Examiner). No attention however will be given to those writing out of mere curiosity, therefore state that you really need a cure.

MR. FOSTER'S ILLNESS

Prevented the Resumption of the Budget Debate.

SIR RICHARD'S KINDLINESS.

The Colored Porters' Case Thoroughly Cleared Up—Mr. Davin's Resolution to Place Agricultural Implements on the Free List—The House Adjourns Over Easter Holidays.

Ottawa, April 7.—Mr. Foster, the financial critic of the Opposition, was too unwell yesterday to reply to the budget speech of the Minister of Finance. In his absence Sir Hibbert Tupper appealed to Sir Richard Cartwright, the leader of the Government pro tem., to adjourn the debate until after the Easter vacation, an appeal which, under the circumstances, was not made in vain. Sir Richard said that he would not bargain on a matter as to which Sir Hibbert could give no undertaking, but he expressed the hope that the debate would be confined within reasonable limits. Sir Hibbert acknowledged the courtesy of the Government and readily consented to make every effort to meet their wishes in regard to the duration of the debate.

Mr. Sutherland introduced a bill to incorporate the Subsidiary Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters of Canada.

Mr. Bergeron asked: 1. Has a document concerning the Manitoba schools been presented to His Holiness the Pope, or to the Sacred Propaganda, signed Wilfrid Laurier?

2. If so, could such document be put before Parliament, and will the Government bring it down?

Sir Richard Cartwright—I am not aware of any such document having been addressed to His Holiness.

Mr. Blair, answering Sir Charles Tupper, said General Traffic Manager Harris of the I.C.R. was not independent of the general manager. He could fix rates without first obtaining the sanction of the Minister of Railways.

Mr. Campbell brought up the question of the alleged dismissal of colored porters on the I.C.R., and read a letter from L. B. Archibald, superintendent of the parlor car service, denying it.

Mr. Blair said there were more colored porters in the employ of the I.C.R. to-day than at any previous date.

Mr. Fraser condemned the attempt of the Tory press to raise race prejudices. He could testify that the colored porters of the I.C.R. were excellent employes.

Mr. Davin moved that good faith on the part of the present Government with the farmers should compel them to place agricultural implements on the free list.

Mr. Roche (Con., Marquette) supported the motion in the interest of the Northwest. Pledges made by the Government and their supporters had clearly been violated.

Mr. Craig (Con., East Durham) said the Government had not kept faith in any of their pledges, but he approved of their action regarding implements. He wanted to see the duty kept on, and he would like to see a moderate duty imposed on binder twine, so that Canadian factories could get a fair show. At present the Government had thrown open our markes to the binder twine factories of the United States.

Mr. Taylor, as a strong protectionist, supported the motion.

Mr. Richardson (Lib., Lisgar) said if the motion had been a square one for the abolition of the duty on agricultural implements he would have supported it. He did not like the motion in its present form. He moved in amendment "that the duty on agricultural implements be reduced to ten per cent." He accused Mr. Davin of having truckled to the Tory Government in this matter, and of having introduced a motion and then voted against it.

"The statement that I ever voted against a motion of my own is false," interrupted Mr. Davin.

In the course of further debate, Mr. Davin said that in the hope of the Government giving even this measure of reduction he would vote for Mr. Richardson's motion.

Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the debate.

The motion carried by 48 to 14, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper voting with Mr. Fielding, and Messrs. Richardson and Rev. Mr. Douglas (Patron) against.

The House then adjourned for the Easter holidays.

Bringing Back Dead Men.

St. John's, Nfld., April 7.—The steamer Neptune, Captain Blandford (Commodore of the sealing fleet), arrived here yesterday with 25,000 seals. Captain Blandford says that never before during an experience of over six years amid the ice floes did he encounter such a hurricane as the Neptune weathered on the night of March 21st., when 48 of the Greenland's crew perished.

The steamer Aurora, Captain Kean, which arrived last night, brought 25,000 seals. She had 25 men frost-bitten on the night of the Greenland disaster.

The Vanguard is bringing back three dead men, the Leopold two, and the Labrador two, all of whom perished on the ice floes on the night of March 21st.

WHERE IS ALFRED BEACH?

Young English Farm Hand Disappears Suddenly and Unaccountably.

Duart, Ont., April 7.—Alfred E. Beach, a young Englishman, who has been in the employ of Mr. Angus Thomson for the past year, mysteriously disappeared on Friday night, March 25, and nothing has been learned of him since. He left his employer's farm, which is one mile east of the village, early in the evening, and came into Duart to make several purchases. After visiting the bakery and ordering bread, for which he stated that he would call later on, he was seen proceeding in the direction of Muirkirk, and beyond that no trace of him can be found.

To every person with whom he has spoken on the subject, Beach has expressed himself as highly satisfied with his occupation and his place. His time was up to-day, when $50 would have been due him. His employer, who is ill, says he always found the lad trustworthy, and thinks that something must have happened to him, as he is confident that he would not leave without notice when he needed him most. Beach's disappearance is the topic of the village.

LIKE A KNIFE THRUST.

Sharp, piercing pains in the back—Unable to move without torture—As tired in the morning as at night.

No rest night or day.

Kidney trouble, of course—a bad case.

'Twould have been better if it had been attended to long before it was.

Didn't matter, though, in the end—Doan's Kidney Pills fixed it up in a jiffy.

And, by the way, did you ever hear of a case of kidney trouble that Doan's Kidney Pills wouldn't cure?

Read what the man says about it. He's a well-known Hamiltonian. You can verify his statement:

"Early last December I was laid up with sciatica, and could not leave my bed for 4 weeks. I suffered from terrible pain in the small of my back and over my kidneys and other syptoms of kidney disease.

"Changing my position in bed gave me excruciating pain. I could not rest and got but little sleep, on account of the incessant aching which afflicted me. As a matter of fact I was so weak and prostrated that I felt wretched.

"I am now thankful that I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, because they have cured me completely.

"I now rest and sleep well, have no pain or any indication or symptom of my old affliction whatever; I am as well and strong to-day as ever I was. It is a complete cure, and Doan's Pills deserve all the credit for it."

Not a Coward.

Nervous excitement is responsible for much that might pass for cowardice. The author of "A Cuban Expedition" speaks of one dreadful day when he and his comrades sat in a wet ditch and waited, concealed, while the Spaniards were so near that escape seemed almost impossible.

The discomfort of our predicament—up to the middle in mud and water, with the rain pouring down on us—was at the moment unfelt in our excitement and eagerness in watching the enemy. Little Joe Storey, who was next to me, was trembling all over. Suddenly he grasped my arm and whispered:

"Oh, what shall I do? I must scream or fire off my rifle! I can't help it!"

I, too, felt that he would do either the one or the other, and I whispered back the first thing that occurred to me.

"Storey," I said, "if you make the least noise, I'll stab you to death!"

Then I told him to keep his eyes closed and try to think of something else until he heard the first shot fired. After that he might shout as loudly as he liked. I put one arm about his neck and drew him close to me. There, trembling, he rested like a quiet child. Presently his excitement wore off, and he became used to the situation. Then he was heartily ashamed of his breakdown.

But Storey was not a coward. He was a gallant little soul in action, and only his tortured nerves were responsible for this temporary revolt.

SAVE THE MOTHERS

Dodd's Kidney Pills Their Only Safety in Female Diseases.

You have seen a flower nipped by frost, fade and die in the flush of its beauty. That is how women die when attacked by any of the diseases peculiar to their sex.

Woman's burdens are woefully heavy. Her sufferings are agonizing. Her patience is grand. Disease preys upon her. The light dies out of her eyes, her steps become slow and dragging; she loses flesh; grows sallow, listless, droops like a flower. Then she dies. Her family is left to the cold mercy of the world.

"Mother's dead!" What a piteous phrase. What sufferings have been endured before it was used. Why should mothers, wives, sisters suffer so? They need not. Dodd's Kidney Pills will quickly and thoroughly cure all cases of Female Weakness. They never fail. They give health, strength, courage: a new lease of life.

A SCENE IN SALONICA.

The Jews and Jewesses That Inhabit the Heart of the Town.

In the true ghetto, in the noisome heart of the town, where the cobbled streets run slimy and the people chaffer with the butchers for the refuse of the slaughter house and chicken block, you see the unchanged Jew of the middle ages. Be he bearded grandsire or tiny boy, he wears a long loose gabardine to his heels and the fez of his masters. If he is well to do, the garment may be fur bordered or it may be of silk, but it could not more surely be soiled and greasy if the law required it so. With marriage this survivor of the dark ages grows a beard full and thick and grizzled in the old men, wiry and black and very sparse in the younger heads of families. This is as it is in East Broadway and Chicago and Berlin, but when you look upon the wives and daughters in Salonica's ghetto you see mediæval characters who have staid in the east, but sent no representatives abroad.

These Jewesses love display and court admiration. They are much fairer than the men, milky skinned, with a pale pink flush, as if they were hothouse bred. Their clothes are gay, red, green and blue being their favorite colors, and the married women all wear decollete bodices fashioned very low in front and showing a fancy shirt of embroidery and lace, which either reveals the mold of their forms or makes startling exposures of the forms themselves. Their chests are always quite bare. This in a land where the other women expose nothing but their eyes is all the more astonishing. On their crowns the Jewish matrons wear very showy, often beautiful, headdresses, composed of a cap of red, green and yellow silk or cloth, that is carried down the back of the head in a bag that envelops their tresses. Often these bags are finished at the bottom with heavy gold braid.—"In the Wake of a War," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine.

INSANE MURDERERS.

The Question of Responsibility and Punishment For the Crime.

It may well be that a man who could not be called insane, but merely, say, an ordinary member of the criminal classes, with strong passions and feeble intellect, would in the presence of an opportunity long expected and hoped for, the consequences of which his thoughts had frequently rehearsed, be really for the moment incapable of restraining his hand. We should hang him, nevertheless, without the slightest scruple, and we should waste no compassion upon the absence of self control. It is, in fact, impossible to frame a definition of irresponsibility based upon absence of self control without including all sorts of crimes which at present are punished by the law. For years back there has been a sort of feud between the lawyers and the alienists on the subject, so that even the textbooks speak of legal insanity and medical insanity as distinct.

To take extreme cases, jurists have contended that no degree of insanity should exempt from punishment for crime unless it has reached such a point that the person is utterly unconscious of the difference between right and wrong at the time of committing the offense, while medical men have very generally held to the opinion that this is not a proper criterion, that many of the insane are fully conscious of the difference between right and wrong and that to enforce such a test means the hanging of many a lunatic. There can be no doubt that of late years the medical view has met with a wider acceptance than it used to do and that even lawyers have shown an increasing readiness to admit the doctrine of irresponsibility. But it is a very anxious question, especially in view of recent dogmas as to degeneracy, how far this doctrine is to be allowed to go.

The condition of affairs is much more serious than some people think, and it is highly necessary that those who administer the criminal law should be on their guard against any insidious establishment of immunity for the violation of its most sacred principles. In any case of murder the presumption in favor of hanging should be so strong as to leave very slender prospect of escape for any man who prior to the commission of his crime had been thought fit to be at large. If this condition cannot be secured, it will become a matter of grave necessity to take prompt steps for the incarceration of many people of evil passions who are now at liberty and to render the utterance of threats a matter to be dealt with by the alienist as well as by the magistrate.—London Hospital.

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer.

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practised in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man who will write them.

Not a dollar need be advanced—not a penny paid—till results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's appliances and remedies have been talked about and written about all over the world, till every man has heard of them.

They restore or create strength, vigor, healthy tissue and new life.

They quickly stop drains on the system that sap the energy.

They cure nervousness, despondency and all the effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork, etc.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure is impossible and age is no barrier.

This "Trial without Expense" offer is limited by the company to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C. O. D. scheme, no bogus philanthropy nor deception, no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, BUFFALO, N.Y., and refer to seeing the account of their offer in this paper.

ENDED LUMBAGO.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Creating Happiness in London.

Mr. Buffy Tells Gleefully How They Ended His Lumbago—They Positively Cure All Kidney Diseases—A Trial is Proof.

London, April 8 h—M. L. Buffy, of 236 Talbot street, is one of the few thoroughly happy men in this city. He literally fulfils the injunction to "Laugh and grow fat," and he says he doesn't know what care, worry or pain means. There is a reason for this, and it is revealed in the following letter.

"Dodd's Medicine Co., Gentlemen,—For five years I endured the agonies of Lumbago, and often during that period, have I wondered whether life were really worth living. My urinary system was much deranged, and occasioned me intense suffering. My pain was indescribable. I was continual.

"I tried every remedy recommended to me, in my endeavours to get well, and though my money kept flowing out no relief came.

"One day I heard a neighbour speak very warmly in praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I enquired regarding them and ended by buying a box. I say "ended" advisedly, for that box of Dodd's Kidney Pills ended Lumbago for me.

"M. L. BUFFY."

This, then, is why Mr. Buffy is happy. Because he was sick and is not well, because he was weak and is now strong, while he once was diseased he is now healthy.

There are thousands to-day like Mr. Buffy was some time ago. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure them. They can be strong, healthy, happy if they choose.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases. They are sold by all druggists, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

WHEAT UNSETTLED.

Chicago Fluctuated Back and Forward—Liverpool Advanced—The Sugar Tariff—The Local Prices.

Wednesday Evening, April 6.

The Chicago wheat market was affected by the unsettled political situation to-day. It is thought that war would strengthen wheat and that peace will tend to weaken prices. A bullish factor was a report of further Leiter sales abroad, but, on the other hand, Duluth was reported to be offering cargoes under the May price. All lines opened strong this morning and advanced, but before the close made a marked decline. May and December wheat closed at Monday's last figures, while the July and September futures scored a loss of ⅝c and ¼c respectively. In Liverpool wheat was very strong, May closing ½d, September and July each ¾d and December ⅝d above yesterday's last quotations. Corn was strong in Liverpool.

New Sugar Duty.

It is considered that the new sugar tariff, by imposing a disability upon the bounties European beet root product, will help the Canadian refiners as well as the West Indian grower. Sugars did not advance in Toronto to-day, but it is believed that granulated will be made ⅛c a pound and yellows about ⅛c a pound dearer to the consumer.

51 PROTESTS.

Patron Leader Haycock Contests His Opponent's Return.

Mr. Joseph Haycock has caught the protest fever, and, despite his statement to the press a fortnight ago, that he would not oppose his opponent's return, a protest was filed yesterday against the election of J. S. Gallagher in Frontenac, whose majority over the Patron leader was 260. The petitioner is Robert Sands, laborer, of the Township of Kingston. The protest was filed by Mr. Grant, of Kerr, Macdonald & Co.

The only other protest filed yesterday was one against the return of Mr. B. Aylesworth, who had a majority of 33 over Dr. Meacham in Lennox. F. G. Blair, mechanic, of Napanee, is the petitioner.

The number of protests filed now total 51, and two having fallen out, 49 are still in the race. The entries are about closed.

Spring Housecleaning.

While people are particular about having their house cleaned of the winter's accumulation of dirt, they're not always so particular about their system. "THOU ART NOT FAR FROM THE KINGDOM OF GOD."

THE SUBJECT OF REV. MR. PATTERSON'S ADDRESS

In St. Paul's Thursday Night—A Large Congregation—A Solemn and Impressive Discourse—Interesting After Meeting.

At the third of the series of evangelistic services addressed by Rev. Wm. Patterson of Toronto, held in St. Paul's church on Thursday evening there was a large congregation. The opening services, which was largely of a musical character, was conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. McMillan, of Springville.

Rev. Mr. Patterson after a brief prayer, took as his text the 34th verse of the 12th chapter of the Gospel according to St. Mark: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." This was true when Christ said it, and it might be true of some in the audience that night. There are many in the world of the lost who were at one time near the kingdom, But as far as being in the kingdom was concerned—being far away or near the kingdom made little matter. There was a great difference between the "young ruler" and Judas Iscariot, yet both were outside the kingdom. We could not think of a man that was farther from the kingdom than Paul, when he left Jerusalem breathing out threatenings and slaughters against the followers of Christ, yet when he entered Damascus he was in the kingdom. Those who, like the young ruler, were dissatisfied with their lives in relation to Christ, were near the Kingdom of God, but they were not yet within it. Pilate was cited as one that was wavering on the verge of the kingdom, but he never entered it. A man or woman who had been brought near the kingdom of God and refused to enter it was in a worse state than when far from it. Some of the worst men on the face of the earth were, the preacher believed, men on whom the spirit had worked in revival meetings and who had refused the call—the last state of that man was worse than the first. Those who would be in lowest hell would be those who had the highest privilege, who had been brought near the kingdom and did not enter it. There were reasons for those being near the kingdom not entering it. There was some besetting sin that kept them out—one sin in one and one in another that keep men away from God. There must be a choice between the cherished sin and perdition. "The gate of the kingdom was so wide that all could enter in; it was so narrow that not a single sin could pass it." People that came to the verge of the kingdom and failed to take the last step would be lost. If we are outside of Christ we are lost; if we are inside of Christ with Him between us and a broken law we are safe. "Almost" was the most bitter thought in connection with the remorse of those who had rejected Christ. The preacher earnestly urged those who were almost in the kingdom to take the last step. Let them say to Christ "I come," and He would receive them into the kingdom.

SPAIN YIELDS A POINT

Grants an Armistice in Response to Pressure.

CUBANS WILL NOT ACCEPT IT.

Cessation of Hostilities Said to Be Only for Five Days—A Condition Is That the United States Shall Cease Aiding the Insurgents—The President's Message.

Madrid, April 11.—A visit of the foreign ambassadors to Senor Gullon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, resulted in a meeting of the Cabinet, at which a decision was reached to grant an armistice to the insurgents in Cuba.

General Correa, Minister of War, after the council, which lasted two hours, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"We yielded to the pressure of the great powers, granting what we had refused to the United States."

The ambassadors, collectively, called upon Senor Gullon, requesting that Spain grant the armistice so repeatedly begged for by the Pope. The Cabinet then met, General Correa, Minister of War, and Admiral Bermejo, Minister of Marine, objecting to the granting of an armistice, on the ground that it would be disparaging to the Spanish arms. The representative of Russia, as a military power, replied that he considered it would be no disparagement. Objection was again made, on the ground that there was no guarantee that the insurgents would accept an armistice. The representatives replied that in that case an armistice would only mean a suspension of hostilities, and insisted upon Spain offering to the insurgents a last chance of submission for the sake of negotiating peace. If the insurgents continue hostilities, the Spaniards would be allowed legitimate self-defence.

The Ministry then unanimously agreed that an armistice be granted.

Only for Five Days.

London, April 11.—A special despatch from Madrid says that the ambassadors of the powers had asked Spain to grant an armistice with a view of allowing negotiations for a settlement of the whole question.

The council had a long and anxious discussion, during which Senor Sagasta went out and consulted with the Queen Regent, and it was finally decided to grant an armistice which should last five days, upon the following conditions:

That the United States should immediately cease to lend moral and material support to the Cuban insurgents; that the American squadron in the vicinity of Cuba should be withdrawn, and that the American war vessels near the Philippine Islands also should be withdrawn.

If the United States declines these conditions, it is declared that the powers will openly lend their support to Spain.

The correspondent in Madrid of a news agency here says that if the insurgents shall not have laid down their arms by the end of five days, the war will be resumed and Spain will receive the moral support of the powers.

What It Really Means.

Madrid, April 11.—Lieut.-Gen. Correa, Minister of War, discussing the armistice, said: "If, during this period, there are important submissions and the United States withdraws its ships from the neighborhood of Cuba and the Philippines, all will be well and peace will soon be reached.

"Otherwise, the Cuban war will continue and the powers will be obliged to demand that the United States maintain absolute neutrality and enforce a dissolution of the filibustering committee in New York. Armistice is not to prevent the Spanish Government continuing its military preparations and placing the Peninsula, the Canaries, the Balearic Islands and Porto Rico in a state of defence."

Officially Delivered.

Washington, April 11.—The Spanish Government, through its minister at Washington, Senor Polo y Bernabe, last night delivered an important official document to the State Department.

This document was the official notification of the granting of an armistice, and a recital of the reforms Spain had granted to Cuba. Among these is claimed local government equal to Canada's.

Cubans Are Glad.

Washington, April 11.—Mr. Quesada, the representative of the Cuban Junta in this city, said last night:

"The Cubans are glad to see their belligerency at last recognized by the Spanish Government. Cubans will not cease fighting, nor enter into any negotiations which have not for their basis the absolute independence of Cuba."

THE MESSAGE GOES JUST THE SAME.

The President Will Send It to Congress as Settled on Last Week.

Washington, April 11.—The President will send in his message to-day just the same. That message will not be changed or altered in the slightest degree. The only thing that can change or delay, they say at the White House, will be the complete and absolute backdown of Spain.

The representatives of the Cuban Government say that all talk of an armistice is folly. They say the Cubans would refuse to negotiate along armistice lines. Senor Quesada said that the Cubans had gained their liberty, or it had been in their grasp, and that they would not throw away the fruits of their years of fighting for promises from Spaniards.

"The Spaniards," he said, "have lied to us so many times that we believe nothing they say. They can trick us no more. They cannot lie to us again. We will enter into no armistice agreement."

This much can be said with perfect safety. No armistice proposition will prevent the sending in of the President's message, nor will such a plan avert the war that now threatens between the United States and Spain. Independence for Cuba and atonement for the Maine are what we are looking for. And we are going to have both.

Expects Further Postponement.

Madrid, April 11.—It is believed that the presentation of President McKinley's message to Congress will be again postponed, the Epocha thinks until Friday next.

El Correo (official) says: "While America asked for an armistice, Spain refused, but to the voice of Europe and the Pope even Spain, without dishonor, may accept the arrangement proposed in the interests of peace."

GEN. LEE LEAVES CUBA.

The United States Ceases Diplomatic Relations With Spain in the War-Troubled Isle—What It Means.

Havana, April 11.—Nothing can better show the intensely bitter feeling entertained for Americans by Spanish officials here than the deliberate snubbing of Consul-Gen. Lee when he called at the palace to pay his respects to Capt. Gen. Blanco and the Governor-General of the Island before leaving for Key West.

Consul-Gen. Lee went to the palace Saturday morning after having completed the transfer of the archives to the British Consulate and the packing up of his own effects preparatory to leaving. Gen. Lee was accompanied by Mr. Conklin, the British Consul at Havana.

The call at the palace was very brief. The presence of the American Consul-General was made known to the Governor-General, but he sent back word that he was quite too busy to receive Gen. Lee, and so the Consul-General was forced to return to the Consulate and take down the American flag that has been flying there without the questionable pleasure of saying good-bye to the Spanish Governor.

The American flag upon the Consulate building was taken down by consular employes, and at 6 o'clock in the evening General Lee and his staff, with Consuls Springer and Barker, left Havana on the lighthouse tender Fern. The wharf was crowded.

As the Fern rounded to, heading for the open sea, she passed near the Maine wreck. With one accord each man doffed his hat in salute, while silence fell on all for the space of several minutes. General Lee being on board the Fern made that boat a target for redoubled hisses, groans, catcalls and whistles from the crowds on shore. "Get out, Yankee swine!" was among the mildest expressions used.

Vice Consul Springer, who had been on the island for 30 years, waved his hand to a particularly opprobrious group, saying in tones loud enough for all to hear: "Wait, wait, my friends; we will all be back soon."

There was one pretty incident. On the Cabanas shore a British steamer was unloading at her wharf. As the Fern passed the Union Jack was dipped, while the English crew gave a hearty cheer. It is needless to say that the compliment was returned with all possible gusto.

Havana seemed dazed yesterday when the people found that General Lee was really going, and that all the Americans were going with him. The courts were besieged with eager questions as to the intention of the Americans, and when they expected a bombardment was likely to commence.

GT. BRITAIN REJOICES

Over the Decisive Defeat of the Dervishes.

OVER 2,000 OF THE ENEMY SLAIN

Has Stirred the Patriotic Pulse of the Nation—The Power of the Khalifa Is Broken and an Utter Collapse May Speedily Result—Prompt Advance on Khartoum.

London, April 11.—The New York Sun's correspondent cables to his paper as follows: "The rejoicing over the great victory in the Soudan is universal in Great Britain. The fall of Khartoum is regarded as assured, and not long to be delayed. The tardy avenging of General Gordon has stirred the patriotic pulse of the nation. It is believed that the defeat of the Dervishes is so overwhelming that a sudden collapse of the Khalifa's rule is not improbable, in which case the advance upon Khartoum will be prompt and almost unopposed."

As Weird as Tel-El-Kebir.

Atbara Camp, Nubia, April 11.—The authorities call Friday's battle the most brilliant ever fought in the Soudan, everything having been carried straight through without a hitch or check. While the position was shelled by the Maxims, Nordenfeldts and shrapnels the Dervishes hardly attempted a reply. A British officer cabled a friend: "I have been all over the Dervish position and estimate their dead at more than 2,000. The night march was as weird as that of Tel-el-Kebir. Our troops observed a funeral silence on nearing the enemy's zareba at Makheiba. No smoking was permitted. Egyptians, Soudanese and British strove to be the first in the glorious race and to be first in the attack. As usual several brigades claim the honor.

"The enemy opened with such a terrific fire that our men were dropping on all sides. It was as venomous a fusillade as troops were ever called upon to face. Mahmoud's army is practically wiped out. Four thousand of his followers have been taken prisoners, and he himself has been caught hiding in a hole under a bed. He is a tall, dignified, sensuous-looking black baggara, about 35 years old, with a shaved head. When taken he was dressed in a richly embroidered robe."

The Killed and Wounded.

Cairo, Egypt, April 11.—The British brigade in the defeat of the Dervishes Friday at Atbara and the capture of Mahmoud, the Dervish commander, and 4,000 of his followers, lost, in addition to the officers killed, cabled Saturday, ten rank and file killed and had 90 men wounded. The Egyptians lost 51 men killed and had 14 officers and 319 men wounded. The Dervishes lost about 2,000 men killed.

TWO THOUSAND COUNTED.

The Slaughter of the Dervishes Was Terrific—Rifle Pits Full of Dead.

Cairo, Egypt, April 11.—The Anglo-Egyptian forces returned to Abadar Saturday evening, and the wounded were all placed in hospital under tents. All the troops will return to their quarters on the Nile. The force of Mahmoud Pasha is completely broken up. Part of them are fleeing toward Atbara, and the others in the direction of the Nile. The thickness of the brush rendered pursuit of them by the Egyptian cavalry and horse artillery difficult. The bodies of 2,000 Dervishes, including those of the 12 important emirs, have been counted. Notable among the number of emirs who were slain is Wadboshara, formerly Emir of Dongola. It is believed that 1,000 other members of the Mahmoud's army were killed. Ten guns and a quantity of rifles were captured. Mahmoud says his army consisted of 12,000 infantry and 4,000 cavalry.

Rifle Pits Full of Dead.

Atbara Camp, April 11.—Mahmoud's zareba, rifle pits and entrenchments are literally choke full of dead, while the ground outside the zareba on the south side is covered with hundreds of bodies.

The most striking feature of the engagement was the picturesque storming of the zareba. General Hunter, himself cheering, with helmet in hand, led the Soudanese and Egyptian troops to the zareba. They lost heavily in the rush. In recognition of their signal gallantry, the Sirdar, General Sir Herbert Kitchener, provisionally promoted on the field at the close of the battle the sergeant-major of each native battalion which crossed the zareba to a subaltern rank.

Major-General Gatacre led the British brigade, and, accompanied by Private Cross of the Cameron Highlanders, was the first to reach the zareba. Private Cross bayoneted a big Dervish who was aiming pointblank at General Gatacre Piper Stewart, while leading the Cameron Highlanders, was killed, seven bullets passing through his body. Piper Mackenzie of the Seaforth Highlanders bears the marks of six bullets, but is practically unwounded. Numbers of officers, among them Col. Money of the Cameron Highlanders, had bullets through their helmets.

Urquhart's Last Words.

The last words of Captain Urquhart of the Cameron Highlanders, who was among the killed, were: "Never mind me, lads; go on."

The Sirdar after the battle said to Col. Money, referring to the slow, steady advance of the Cameron Highlanders, under the withering fire of the Dervishes: "It was one of the finest feats performed for many years. You ought to be proud of such a regiment."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE EXAMINER is glad to be able to announce that Hon. Mr. Harty's health has of late permitted him to resume charge of the Public Works Department.

THE people do not object to the liberal expenditure of money for public purposes so long as the public interest justifies the expenditure, and good value is received. What they do object to is extravagant expenditure involving boodle.

THE HON. A. S. HARDY, accompanied by Mrs. Hardy, have left Toronto for a short visit to friends in the United States. Mr. Hardy is somewhat run down owing to the excessive work of the session and during the late election, and he is required to abstain from work and take a couple of weeks' rest. During his absence Hon. Mr. Ross will act as Premier and Hon. Mr. Gibson as Attorney-General.

ONE circumstance indicates the trend of civilized sympathy in case of war between Spain and the United States. We hear of citizens of the United States leaving Spain and Cuba for safety, while there is nothing said of Spaniards leaving the United States. This augurs that in the area of higher civilization the safety of non-belligerent enemies is assured, while the lower civilization in Spain does not insure the safety of non-combatants. This view is justified by the cruelties alleged to have been practiced by the Spaniards upon their Cuban subjects, which, if approximately true, are outrages on civilization.

THE Mail and Empire of Saturday in the course of a long article accuses the Globe of day after day of "exercising its malevolent ingenuity to drive the business of the new and promising region (the Klondyke) to the United States." The Globe is very well able to defend itself, but the EXAMINER as an onlooker, who sees more of the game perhaps than either the slandered or the slanderous journal, asserts that the statement is an "exercise of malevolent ingenuity on the part of the Mail and Empire. Every unprejudiced reader knows that the Globe in this connection has done no more than point out that the action of the Senate, supported by its organs, has resulted in diverting Canadian trade into American channels. The organ feels its guilt, and raises the cry of "Stop thief" to turn aside the pursuit that public indignation is directing against the Senate and its sympathizers.

THE Monetary Times, a leading financial organ of Canada, and of no party speaks in commendatory terms of Mr. Fielding's Budget speech, thus:—The main features of the tariff will meet with the general approval of the country. The restriction of duty [preferences to Great Britain and British Colonies and possessions, is in harmony with Canadian sentiment. Canada in making the proposed movement of sympathy towards an imperial colony now in distress, will command the respect of the whole Empire. The extension of a friendly hand to the West Indies will give to the world a practical demonstration of the desire of the people of this Dominion to draw closer the bonds of Imperial unity. We trust it will lead the West Indies to adopt reciprocal action by giving some concessions to Canada by which our trade therewith will be very largely increased.

PARTISANSHIP IN THE DEPARTMENTS.

The Departments at Ottawa have been filled, of course, during the long Conservative regime since Confederation with Conservative partisans. These people have in many cases never ceased to hope and work for Tory rule. They were insane enough to imagine that one party owned the country and would always keep power. They helped turn out Mackenzie; they tried to keep out, and are now trying to turn out, Laurier. We are not merely echoing what the Globe says in an editorial of Friday last, we knew of our own knowledge the thoughful and persistent and pitiful and petty spite of the Ottawa office-holders. We wrote letters to Ministers marked personal and private which those Ministers never saw. Public servants turned aside from their high duties to prevent The Plaindealer reaching the heads of departments. A high-salaried official of a certain department in one case wrote this office three times that The Plaindealer was not "on the list," and that the Minister did not want the paper, but we knew the Minister wanted it, and we kept our temper and wrote civilly to the civil service magnate, not telling him, as we might well have done, to mind the business he was paid to do, and leave our affairs alone, but saying that Hon. Mr. —— wanted the paper, was always used to getting to, and could not sleep well without it. Of our own knowledge we say that it has been harder to get a letter to the hands of a Liberal Minister than to get one to a convict in the penitentiary.—Ridgetown Plaindealer.

PIG, PIG, PIG.

Bobcaygeon Independent.

And so the Toronto Board of Trade is to urge the Government not to make any further grants to the Trent Canal. That is the latest grunt from Hogtown. Any canal that does not run down the Don is of no use to Toronto. * * And does Toronto suppose for a moment that its urging is of the slightest consequence? A town that is played by the Grand Trunk to draw Montreal; that is played by the C. P. R. to work its game against the Grand Trunk; that is played by curbstone sharks at least twice a year; that is played for a jay for City Hall architects, street railways, contractors, et al., every day in the week. Tut, Toronto urging the Government, indeed. A Hog that drinks the soakage from its own pen, and likes it. Let it urge and grunt; its snorting may bring a little more Post Office and Custom House swill, and that is all.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Council Meeting.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Council met in town hall Friday, April 1st at 1 o'clock p m. All the members present, and minutes of meeting of March 15th confirmed. Communications were received from

Thos. Brown, asking increase of salary for 1897, and presenting an account for legal advice re collection of Cuffe's taxes.—Received and referred until the roll is returned.

Accounts were presented from Osway Carver, repairing road on 11th con, 50c; Thos. Brown, legal advice re Cuffe's taxes, $1; T. Bradburn, express charges on municipal cash book, 35c.

Moved by Messrs. May and Hunter, that the accounts of O. Carver, 50c., T. Bradburn 35c. be paid, and that the account of T. Brown be referred until next meeting. Carried.

Mr. McIntosh, chairman of committee to interview Mr. Ranney, regarding road over hill on boundary, reported having seen Mr. Ranney, who would not guarantee that the road over the hill would give the same satisfaction and be as good as the one around, as at present used.

It was moved by Messrs. Hunter and Bradburn, that the report be adopted, and the clerk is instructed to notify Messrs. Wilson and Bidgood of the result of this interview, and, that this council will take no further action in this matter.—Carried.

Mr. Fisher, representing the council of Cavan, appeared and addressed the council as to the requirements of the southern portion of the boundary so as to make it in a fit state for public traffic. Mr. Madill presented a report of the work done so far by the Joint Committee appointed to look after the improvement of the road and expend the several grants made in 1897. The report was read as follows:

To the Reeve and Council of North Monaghan:

GENTLEMEN,—I, as a member of the committee on work on the Cavan boundary, beg leave to make a report of the work done and the expense connected therewith, for the information of this council, on account of the proper officials failing to report, and a report being requested by members of said council.

Your committee met the committee from Cavan, composed of Reeve Thorndyke, Deputy Reeve Hooten, and Councillors Berry and Fisher, on June 14th, 1897, and a Joint Committee was formed, composed of Deputy-Reeve Hooten, Councillors Berry and Fisher, Reeve McIntosh and Madill. Reeve McIntosh was appointed chairman and Councillor Fisher, secretary of said committee. In order to secure the grants from the counties for the improving of said boundary it was agreed that each township would comply with the conditions of the of county councils, by each township granting the sum of $125 to be expended on said boundary.

It was also agreed that $4.00 per day be allowed North Monaghan for grader, and that each municipality pay one half price of operator and teams working on said grader. Reeve McIntosh and Councillors Fisher, Hooten and Madill were appointed a sub-committee to carry out the instructions of joint committee. The Board adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

On June 24th, 1897, joint committee met on boundary. It was agreed to sell the road around the hill to Messrs. Wilson and Bidgood for the sum of $200. It was further agreed to furnish wire for the west side of road where the snow drifts, if agreeable to both councils. A contract for a culvert near Scott's Corners, was let, culvert to be three feet wide and 12 feet long, the contractor to furnish two side logs not less than 15 in at small end and the covering to be not less than 7 in at small end. Contract was given to A Reynolds at $6.75 also the contract of covering another culvert given to A Reynolds at $4. The meeting then adjourned.

On July 2nd, 1897, the Joint Committee of Cavan and North Monaghan met on boundary, all the members being present. It was agreed to buy half an acre of gravel from Mr. Wm. Clark for the sum of $50, provided it turned out satisfactory on investigation. Messrs. Fisher and Madill were appointed to inspect gravel pit and report. On July 13th the sub-committee met on the boundary and received report that there was no gravel on Mr. Clarke's land. The committee decided to take gravel from Mr. Bothwell's pit, at 10c per square yard, providing that when pit was open sand gravel was suitable. An agreement was entered into with Mr. Bothwell for the opening of said pit forth with. Reeve Hooten and Councillor Fisher were appointed a committee to advertise for tenders for the gravel to open said pit, etc. opened [illegible] to road around the hill. The [illegible] Monaghan [illegible] consideration ex-pressed their previous views. Meeting then adjourned.

On September 21st, 1897, the sub-committee met on boundary to inspect gravel pit, and for the purpose of advertising the gravelling of certain portions of the said boundary. It was agreed to advertise the jobs to be let on September 25th, also jobs of clearing on the 12th con swamp, to be let on September 30th. Councillor Fisher was appointed to do the advertising.

On September 29th, 1897, the sub-committee met on boundary for the purpose of letting jobs of gravelling. The jobs were let to Mr J Craig to gravel certain portions of 8, 9, 10 and 11th cons, at 20c per sq yd, providing the gravel in Mr Bothwell's pit proved satisfactory. The said pit not being properly opened as yet, the jobs to be completed not later than 15th Nov, 1897. Councillors Fisher and Madill were appointed to look after the gravelling and have a culvert put in on con 8. The committee met on 8 pt 30th for the purpose of letting a job of clearing on the 15th con swamp. The job was offered, but no satisfactory bids being received it was agreed to allow the chairman of committee, Reeve McIntosh, to employ as overseer the overseer to employ men and teams to do the work, which was to commence on the next Monday, and to be under control of Mr McIntosh. Mr Craig commenced gravelling on October 5th, and reported to the committee that the gravel in Mr Bothwell's pit was not satisfactory and upon investigation your committee found this to be the case. So in order that we might get at least a portion of the road gravelled that had been graded, that the general public might escape the consequences of having to travel a graded road left without gravel, we re-let a portion on 11th concession. The gravel to be taken from Mr McIntosh's pit and a portion on the 8th concession, the gravel to be taken from J Laing's pit. The job was let to Mr J Craig at 45c per yard. Mr Craig gravelled 109 rods on the 11th concession, 4 1-2 rods on the 8th concession and 10 rods at Mr Bothwell's, for which he received the sum of $141.45. He then asked to be relieved from his contract and that Mr Laing complete it, your committee agreeing. Mr Laing gravelled 60 rods at 45c per yard, amounting on a cost of $54, and 208 yards of gravel at 7c per yard, amounting to $14 21, making a total of $68.21, which sum Mr Laing has not yet been paid.

In accordance with action of Cavan council at their November session, urging the members of joint committee of their council to push forward and complete the work on boundary, so that the public would have a passable road; and that both municipalities would be in a position to claim the grants from the respective counties, we waited upon Reeve McIntosh, discussed the matter fully and agreed that Mr. McIntosh would employ men and teams and commence gravelling at Springville and go southward, the cost of such not to exceed 45c per yd

The following is the total amount spent on boundary, and by whom paid: A Reynolds for culvert, $10.75, paid by Cavan; Jos Craig, $14.45 for gravelling, paid by Cavan; plank for culvert, $2.35, paid by Cavan; an order issued for J Thompson by Cavan, $5.38; order issued by Cavan for Wm Bothwell, $3.80; Monorief and Thompson and other help on grader, $70.79, paid by Monaghan; J Thompson, May 25, $2, paid by Monaghan; J Thompson, $3.08, paid by Monaghan; J McIntosh, for gravel, $51 80, paid by Monaghan; use of road grader, $38.60, paid by Monaghan, and Mr Jas Laing, $68.21, unpaid.

I beg to call your attention to the injustice of paying one man for material for road and refusing to pay another for the same kind of material for the same road. I refer to Mr. Laing's unpaid account.

I suggest that in the interest of the public we take into consideration the importance of taking immediate action in putting those roads that have been broken up into proper condition for traffic before any more grading is done and so far as I am concerned I protest against any grading being done, except that which can be gravelled immediately.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOS. MADILL.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and May that the report of Mr. Madill of work done by committee on Cavan boundary be received.—Carried.

A petition was presented from W. Whitfield and 45 other ratepayers, asking to have the dog tax retained, also to pass such bylaw as will permit all dogs running at large within the township to be killed.

The petition was referred to the same committee as the petition presented at the last meeting and the time for them to report was extended one month.

The several road commissioners of the township were present and received instructions as to their duty in maintaining the highways in good condition.

AWFUL AVALANCHES.

One Hundred Lives Lost at Chilcoot.

UNDER BIG MOUNTAINS OF SNOW

The Number of Victims Really Unknown —Squaw Hill the Scene of the First Disaster—Crater Lake, With Hundreds of Campers, the Scene of the Latest.

Skaguay, April 3 (via Seattle, Wash., April 11).—Fully 50 people were overtaken by the snow slide on the Chilkoot Trail to-day, and are either buried in the snow or scattered along the borders of the avalanche in a more or less injured condition. The point at which the accident occurred is some five miles above Sheep Camp. The nearest telephone station is four miles distant. The telephone wires at this point were carried away by the slide. This fact makes it difficult to obtain further particulars at this time. A blinding snow storm was raging all day upon the summit, and as a consequence many of those in the vicinity were making no attempt to travel. Thousands of people were encamped in the vicinity of the accident at the time, and were soon upon the scene, rendering such assistance as possible. Upon receipt of the news, points below Dyea telephoned up to know if assistance was required and received answer to the effect that 5,000 people were at work on the debris and were only in each other's way. Thirty-one bodies in all have been recovered.

Perhaps a Hundred Lost.

A later dispatch says: The horror on the Dyea Trail is growing in magnitude hourly. As the work of rescue proceeds it becomes more apparent that many more lives were lost than at first thought possible. It is now believed that between 50 and 100 men and women were killed by the avalanche. Many bodies will never be recovered until the summer sun melts the tons of snow and ice that now bury them from sight. Two or three thousand men are working in relays of as many as can stand side by side shoveling away the debris in search of the dead and dying. Twenty-two dead bodies have been recovered and identified, and 25 have been taken out alive. A correct list of killed, as complete as possible at the hour of writing, is as follows: Gus. Sebrath, Seattle; Frank Sprague, Seattle; Steve Stevenson, Seattle; C. H. Harrison, Seattle; W. L. Riley, Seattle; E. D. Atwood, New York; C. Beck, Sanford, Fla.; L. W. Widelin, Kansas City; Mrs. Ryan, Baltimore, Md.; John Morgan, Emporia, Kansas; F. M. Grimes, Sacramento, Cal.; Mrs. Anna Moxol, Jefferson County, Pa.; Rss. Hepgard, Baker City, Oregon; —. Atkins, Idaho; Tom Jeffart, Seattle; E. F. Miller, Vancouver; Tom Collins, Portland, Oregon; T. Lamar.

Railway Employes Missing.

Seventeen employes of the Chilcoot Railway & Tram Company, who went up to the summit on the morning of the slide to work, are missing, and it is feared that they are among the lost. It is estimated that 10,000 tons of outfits are buried under the snow and ice. There were several smaller slides before the death-dealing avalanche started.

About 2 o'clock in the morning a small slide occurred, which buried several cabins. The alarm was spread, and many people were endeavoring to work back to Sheep Camp when the big one came. The snow storm was blinding, and crowds were coming down by the aid of a rope when overtaken.

The exact location of the slide is given at two and a half miles above Sheep Camp and 100 yards above the Oregon Improvement Company's power house. Here an immense gorge rises at a very steep incline into the hills, and it was down this the avalanche came. The telephone office here has been thronged all day and night with people anxious to get some word of friends believed to have been in the disaster. Many people have gone from this city and Dyea to Sheep Camp to aid in the work of rescue. It is believed that when the full returns are in the dead will number nearer 100 than 50.

A Surveyor's Report.

J. A. Raines of Maine, who was fortunate enough to be dug out alive, says. "All of a sudden I heard a loud report, and instantly felt myself going swiftly down the hill. Looking around, I saw many others buried, some with their feet out and head buried out of sight, and others vice versa. When I struck the bottom I tried to run, but the snow caught me, and I was instantly buried beneath 30 feet of snow and rock, being on the very verge of death by suffocation when I was reached by the rescuers. I think the slide occurred about 11 a.m. I am thankful to be alive to-day. Many, I presume, were saved by taking hold of a rope for hauling freight up to the summit. By this means 40 or 50 were pulled out, battered and bruised more or less, but glad to be alive at any discount. I never want to nor expect to experience such an awful half hour again as long as I live."

Another Slide Reported.

An unverified report states that five hours later there was a third avalanche at Crater Lake, three miles and a half beyond Squaw Hill. The particulars are said to have been telephoned to Skaguay. At this point of the margin of the Crater Lake hundreds were camped, and the fatalities must have been appalling. Eight bodies were taken out in the first few hours, and the work of rescue had not well commenced. No one could tell how many or who were beneath the new mountain of snow and ice.

Revised List of the Dead.

Victoria, B.C., April 11.—The following is said to be the correct list of dead, so far as known at the sailing of the Ning Chow, on the 4th, from the avalanche near Sheep Camp, on the trail from Dyea, reported Saturday:

Thomas Cullers, Portland, Ore.; Stephen Stephenson, Seattle; Gus Lobarz, Seattle; E. B. Atwood, New York; L. Weidelm, Kansas City; D. Grimbs, Tacoma; Thomas B. Cullunder, Kirkland, Ore.; John Ottins, Idaho; Gus Seaborn, Seattle; O. F. King, Tacoma; A. Preston, Redding, Cal.; Frank Sprague, Seattle; C. P. Harrison, Seattle; W. L. Riley, Seattle; C. B. Rock, Sanford, Fla.; John H. Morgan, Emporia, Kan.; Mrs. Ryan, Baltimore; Russ Hepgardt, Baker City, Ore.; W. Carroll, San Francisco; John Merchant, Redding, Cal.; John Reidy, Kansas City, Mo.; Ed. Doran, Tacoma; Theo Glenn, Spokane; Wm. Harry Holt, Tacoma; John Ritchie, Vancouver, B.C.; A. E. England, Spokane; J. B. Pierce, Tacoma; W. T. Clark, Idaho; C. F. Smith, Tacoma; Wm. Andrew Anderson, San Francisco; Walter Chapper, New York; Tom Kinney, State of Oregon; E. P. Haines, Seattle; C. F. Shobert and partner, Seattle; W. Garner, San Francisco. Also twenty-two men of the Chilcoot Dragging & Transportation Company, inclusive of chief engineer, fireman and other officers of the company.

The avalanche, of which the above were victims, occurred at a point known as Squaw Hill.

DR. EASTWOOD'S TRIAL.

A Partial Preliminary Hearing at Whitby on Saturday—Crown Not Ready at Stouffville—Stands Till Friday.

Whitby, April 11.—When Dr. Eastwood was arraigned before Magistrate Harper Saturday on a charge of administering noxious drugs with intent to commit an abortion on Maggie Doughty of Pickering, he pleaded not guilty and elected a summary trial. Frank Denton of Toronto, assisted by G. Y. Smith of Whitby, appeared for the prisoner, and County Crown Attorney Farewell and Mr. Fitch of Stouffville conducted the case for the Crown.

Miss Doughty was the first witness called. She admitted having been attended by Dr. Eastwood, but absolutely denied that any abortion was procured or that she was ever pregnant. She had gone to Claremont with W. R. Vanstone of Pickering, who, she says, happened to be going there; had visited the doctor because she was ill as the result of a cold. Some pills were given her, and she afterwards was very ill with typhoid fever. She is a pretty girl, and gave her evidence well.

Tom Graham of Claremont testified that Eastwood had told him that an abortion had been committed upon Maggie Doughty. The conversation occurred at Stouffville, where Eastwood claimed to be to consult another doctor, as Maggie's case was serious. Graham admitted that he did not like Dr. Eastwood.

Dr. Warren of Whitby was called in by Mr. Vanstone to attend Miss Doughty. He went to the house, where he met Dr. Eastwood and Dr. Sangster. He examined the girl, and, in his opinion, she was not suffering from typhoid fever, as Dr. Eastwood claimed she was. Dr. Warren could not say whether or not there had been a miscarriage.

The case was adjourned until Friday next, Eastwood's bail being renewed, and Private Detective Slocum, who has been working up the case, held in bonds for $400 to appear and give evidence. A large number of men from Claremont were present at the trial.

The Crown Not Ready.

Stouffville, Ont., April 11.—Dr. Eastwood of Claremont was charged before Squires Sanders and Dougherty with performing a criminal operation on a girl who lived in Ringwood. The Crown not being ready, the hearing was adjourned.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills

Restore the Snap, Vim, Energy and Strength You Have Lost.

Those Who Know Speak Wisely.

GENTLEMEN:—

I think it due to you to let you know what a great boon Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have been to my daughter Maggie. Prior to taking your great remedy she had been suffering from excessive nervousness for a long time, and her nerves were in a terribly shattered condition. The action of her heart was so weak that it did not have strength to perform its functions, causing violent palpitation and smothering after retiring. Frequently, on account of this suffocating sensation, she was afraid to go to bed. Slight exertion exhausted her and caused shortness of breath. Her blood was impoverished and lost vitality and she had no appetite. She was wasting away and was very hypochondriacal, feeling dejected all the time. Last December she began taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and she improved at once. Her blood became healthy and strong, and in six weeks her impaired nervous system was restored to its normal healthy condition. Her heart responded to the healthy condition of her blood and nerves and resumed its strong and healthy functions. She now sleeps without any of the dangerous, distressing smothering and choking spells; her appetite is good, and she has gained in flesh. Healthy color has replaced pallor, and she is now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I thank you, gentlemen, for the remedy that has restored my daughter to health.

A. GUNN,
Baggagemaster G.T.R., Oshawa.

Springtime Sufferers

Gain the Ruddy Hue of Health from

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Weigh Yourself Before Taking Them.

GENTLEMEN:—

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last spring left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but unfortunately did not do so. On the contrary my blood became weaker, I daily lost strength and vitality and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseated me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of my heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I began taking the Dr. Ward Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit, it is useless to spend any more money." However, I finally made up mind; it is a forlorn hope, I can but try. If I am not benefited I will not be hurt, so I bought one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and today am a well man in consequence. My blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health. My appetite has returned. I sleep well. I have not the slightest indication of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength. I am yours, very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM WILLARD,
Night Clerk,
Grand Central Hotel, Peterboro'.

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attends the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Easter Milinery

...AT...

Miss Delaney's

Our Easter exhibit is now complete. We have been preparing for months for this important event in Millinery, and the result is before you arranged for your judgment and preference, we have no doubt as to the nature of that judgment. So far as expert knowledge, trained taste and ample resources can reach perfection our stock reaches it. The selection of our styles has been made from the masterpieces of the world's Millinery leaders. The grades, qualities and artistic excellence are the best of the best.

Of the productions of our own designers we say little, but we could say a great deal. We allow their own beautiful effects to speak for themselves. We place them beside the picked models of the world's best designers with perfect confidence and leave the rest to your judgment.

It is not in Millinery alone that we excel. We have filled all our departments with the best of Fashionable Easter gayety and seasonable goods.

Doing Well.

The ladies are helping us to make our millinery a greater success this year than ever before. We do not need to make glaring statements about our improved business. Ladies know we are doing well and working up to our full capacity. The crowded condition of our millinery parlours for the past week was evidence enough of the fact.

We are making it interesting and pleasant to lady shoppers, by having the newest and most fetching styles, telling the truth about our goods, marking everything at moderate prices, and surrounding their selling with every courtesy. The worst thing that could happen would be to not do our part well.

We are making a special display of very pretty, well made shirt waists in new muslin and print patterns, of stripes, plaids and other effects. Don't miss seeing them.

WORK TO BEGIN ON THE ELECTRIC LINE.

Lakefield Branch the First Portion Undertaken.

WORKMEN BEGIN THIS WEEK.

The Transforming of the Grand Trunk Branch to Lakefield into an Electric Line to be Commenced Immediately and Pushed Forward to Completion Before July.

Mr. D. A Starr has written a citizen stating the citizens will be interested in learning that the new company which proposes revolutizing the lake traffic by running electric lines to Chemong and Lakefield means business to such an extent that by the middle of the week scores of men will be at work transforming the present branch of the Grand Trunk to Lakefield into an electric railroad.

The hitch in coming to an agreement with the Town Council is at present caused through the fact that a bargain has not yet been struck with the local street railway for the transfer of the line, franchise, etc., but Mr. Starr is not going to let time slip by while waiting to close this part of the deal.

He proposes to put on a big force of men immediately and to have the Lakefield branch put into running order as quickly as is possible. This portion of the line will be opened before July 1st and it is within the possibilities that the Chemong branch may also be completed by that time.

Mr. Starr states that he has every confidence in the ratepayers voting in favour of the bylaw, which gives him a bonus of $1,000 a year for twenty years.

TO-DAY'S FIRE.

A Quantity of Rubbish Breaks out Into Flames—Little Damage Done.

At a quarter past one o'clock this afternoon the fire brigade was summoned to the premises in the rear of the stores occupied by Gough Bros. and C. B. Routley, when an accumulation of rubbish and old packing boxes had broken into a blaze.

The brigade experienced difficulty in locating the fire, but on entering the alleyway from Simcoe street, quickly gained control of the flames which were extinguished before much damage was done.

Although untouched by the flames the stocks of both Gough Bros. and C. B. Routley are injured to a considerable extent by the water and smoke. The windows in the rear were all broken by the intense heat created.

DEATH OF MR. R. T. HARTLEY.

His Demise Occasioned by Heart Trouble—A General Favourite in Town, he will be Greatly Missed.

Mr. Roland T. Hartly, youngest son of the late John A. Hartley, died very suddenly at the family residence, Murray street, this morning.

The deceased complained of feeling unwell about a week ago and appeared to be suffering from the effects of a heavy cold. Nothing serious, however, was apprehended and his death this morning came as a great shock to his relatives. Heart trouble is stated to have been the cause of his demise.

Mr. Hartley was a great favourite amongst a large circle of acquaintances, his unfailing good humour and obliging disposition winning for him friends in every walk in life.

Funeral from the family residence, 52 Murray street, on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m.

AN EARLY RUNAWAY.

Mr. Robert Hall's Horse Takes a Notion to Bolt.

Just as Mr. Robert Hall was about to step into his buggy in front of his door on South Water street yesterday morning, the horse suddenly bolted and ran down Sherbrooke street. It continued its career until a telegraph pole brought it to a stand for a minute. It left the rig and harness with the pole and ran on with only the bridle on it until caught some time later in the south end of the town.

Although the buggy was turned completely over it was not damaged.

FELL INTO THE CREEK.

"Rock a Bye Baby and all" Took a Cool Bath Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon a little fellow was wheeling a baby carriage along Dalhousie street, and when just at the bridge spanning the creek, made a misstep, as in an instant "down went rock-a-bye baby and all" into the water.

Fortunately a citizen who witnessed the accident was near enough to effect a rescue immediately, and neither baby or boy was hurt to any extent, although both were badly frightened.

OPERA HOUSE TOWER.

It has Been Decided to Remove it on Account of its Great Weight.

Workmen began to remove the clock tower from the Bradburn Opera House building this morning.

When the building was erected 28 years ago the tower was placed on it to accommodate the town clock, but as the clock was removed to the new town buildings six years ago, the usefulness of the tower departed and as its weight was something considerable on the building, it was decided to remove it.

GRACE CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

A Most Successful Anniversary of the Sunday School—A Unique and Pleasing Programme.

Grace Methodist church was filled to its utmost capacity Friday evening, the occasion being the second anniversary of the Sabbath school of that church which was organized two years ago. It was one of the brightest and best programmes ever presented in town. The drill with musical dumb bells by sixteen girls was very pretty and was enjoyed by all present. The dumb-bell exercises by the boys was also rendered in an excellent manner. The opening address by Miss Clarice McClennan was given in a style that would reflect credit on any one many years her senior. The primary class in their exercises also acquitted themselves well, in fact every number on the programme deserved the hearty applause which greeted it. The Secretary's report was very satisfactory and was as follows:—

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Grace church Sunday school would take this opportunity of giving its second annual report. The past year has been one of very little change with the exception of the removal of a few of our faithful teachers and officers.

Our membership at present stands as follows: In the Primary department, 54; in the Intermediate, 66; in the Bible class, 18, making a total membership of 138. Number enrolled at beginning of year, 122, showing an increase in membership of 16. Average attendance during the year, 109; No of verses recited during the year by boys, 2,837; by girls, 5,727. Total, 8 564. Average number of verses per Sunday by boys, 55; by girls, 110. Total average per Sunday, 165.

It may be worthy of mention that while the boys are greatly behind the girls in the recitation of verses, the winner of the prize for the largest number of verses recited is a boy, Harold Daly, who has recited ten verses (the limit allowed) every sunday but two during the year, making 500 out of a possible 520.

There are three prizes for the classes with the largest average attendance, and though it reflected no discredit upon the competing classes, strange to say each prize falls to the same class it did one year ago. Though sickness has somewhat interfered with our attendance, thanks to a kind Providence, death has not yet entered our ranks.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

In our Financial Statement we have very little to report. Our school is but in childhood, still remaining under the shelter of a mother's protection and care, although under another roof. We receive collections each Sabbath as a source of revenue, but these are handed over to George street, the parent school, as they are responsible for our supplies. Thirteen months have passed since our last report. During this time the collections received have amounted to $37.10, all of which, with the except on of those of the last few Sundays, have already been paid over. We also have a fund which we keep, as the child's pocket-money, to cover little expenditures of our own. The following is a statement of this account:—

Balance on hand at beginning of year	$ 45
Received from art lecture	7 00
" " last year's anniversary	12 45
Total receipts for the year	$20 10
Disbursements for year:—
Paid to Mr. Crossley for art lecture	$ 2 00
Paid for express and cartage	25
Paid for door mat	1 80
Paid for excavating basement	3 00
Paid for repairing clock	85
Total disbursements for the year	$12 90
Balance on hand March 31st	$7 20

EVANGELIST VARLEY.

His Address in St. Paul's Church Last Evening Was a Logical and Very Forcible One.

Mr. Henry Varley began his evangelistic services last evening by delivering an address in St. Paul's church.

Mr. Varley differs materially in his style from the majority of evangelists, preferring to appeal to the reasoning power of his hearers rather than to their emotions. His sermon last evening was a most powerful and logical one and dealt with the subject of "The Atonement," pointing out that although the word itself was only used once in the New Testament, still it was brought forward so prominently in the Old Testament as to make this unnecessary. The whole failure of society was based on the principle of atonement or reparation. It was inseparably associated with the law and pervaded all commercial enterprises. Why then should it not be found in the spiritual life?

A large congregation was in attendance at the service, and the speaker received the close attention which his remarkably forcible address deserved. Those present were thoroughly pleased with the nature of the service.

Mr. Varley will speak again this evening in St. Paul's church, when an open meeting of the convention of County Endeavourers will be held.

Severe Bronchitis Yields Promptly to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

I used your Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for severe attacks of Bronchitis. I got better from the time of taking the first dose. Having a family of young children, my doctor's bills have annually come to a considerable sum. I believe a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup occasionally will aid me in reducing them very materially.

"Star" Grocery Re-opened.

I have re-opened the "Star" grocery, corner of Water and Hunter streets, Peterborough, with a fresh and carefully selected stock of choice family groceries—teas, sugars, provisions and everything usually found in a well-stocked grocery. The premises is well known, having lately been occupied by W. H. Hill's insurance agency, and formerly known as the "Star" grocery, adjoining the Morgan House. As I intend to do a strictly cash business I can guarantee my customers the very best value in everything they buy. Soliciting the patronage of my friends and the public generally.—P. ROBINSON.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH THE MEET?

Now that Peterborough has secured the meet, by a majority that shows the confidence of the Wheelmen's Association in the ability of this town to put up a creditable entertainment of the visiting wheelmen on July first, that circumstance involves a corresponding responsibility upon us to maintain the credit of the town. It is for the council to consider whether it has not a responsibility in connection with upholding the good name of Peterborough and co-operating with the citizens in making the first provincial meet a success. In the past private citizens have spent considerable time and money in an attempt to secure Peterborough the advantages to be derived from having the meet held in town; and, in spite of past lack of success and of the apathy of the town council, the same and other prominent citizens and business men, recognizing the benefit that would accrue to the town from the presence of thousands of visitors on July first, went to Toronto at their own expense and used their influence for the benefit of the town. These were Messrs. R. Neill, P. Campbell, T. E. Bradburn, A. H. Stratton, G. W. Hatton, R. B. McKee, F. H. Dobbin, J. W. T. Fairweather, W. D. Parker, C. McGill, Alex. Elliot, J. R. Stratton and others. Aside from the benefits of the meet itself, which the efforts of those gentlemen have secured for the town, the fact that these live citizens have in the past kept the town to the front in their several attempts to secure the meet, constitutes an advertisement to the town of no small importance. If it is the desire of the citizens generally to maintain Peterborough in the position of prominence she now enjoys as one of the most progressive and lively towns in the country, it seems that their representatives should in some tangible way contribute their quota of influence or action to make the forthcoming meet on July 1st and 2nd a success, so far as concerns the share that Peterborough, the host for the occasion, is required to contribute. It is to be hoped that the council and citizens will take a public-spirited view and heartily co-operate in order that the good name and reputation of Peterborough, which are at stake, may be upheld, and, not only upheld but strengthened. We have the meet, and it becomes the council and citizens of all classes, to give prompt, practical consideration to the question: What are we going to do with it? When other towns make such a vigorous fight for the meet it must be that there is something good in it for the town that gets it. We should recognize this, and all classes should unite to so manage the meet as to bring profit and credit to the town. All that is need is to get to work, and to work unitedly and energetically. The public spirit of the town and of it citizens is strongly appealed to. It should not be found lacking.

GOLF.

Where'er I look, whate'er the place,
Mine eyes are stymied by thy face!

Whate'er I try to do the while,
My stroke is foozled by your smile!

Where'er I walk, I can't disguise,
My steps are bunkered by thine eyes!

Some day when thou art kind to me,
My heart is lofted gloriously.

But when, alas! I have thy frown,
'Tis topped and sinks, and sinks deep down!

Sometimes, when listening to thy mirth,
I'd try to loft the whole glad earth.

And make each mortal on it see
How sweet life's fair green is to me.

Ah, Phyllis, dear, my soul's so rapt
To think of thee, I'm handicapped!

But on my knees I beg the joy
Of being just thy caddie-boy.

Two up are we upon this day—
Let's seek the priest—with one to play;

Or, if 'tis medal play, 'twill do
Were we to make it one off two!

A POST OFFICE CLERK

Tells how La Grippe's Ravages may be Checked and Health and Strength Regained.

Mr. F. J. Brophy, employed in the money order department at the General Post Office, Montreal, Que., says he had a very severe attack of La Grippe, which left him all run down, nervous, without appetite and very weak. How many people all over Canada, who have been victims of La Grippe have been left in the same serious condition. Mr. Brophy goes on to say that often he could not sleep at night—a fact that shows how disordered his nervous system had become; but, he continues, "hearing of the good effects of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I began taking them, and much to my gratification they have braced me up, invigorated my entire system and made me feel like a new man."

That's the way Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills always act. They lay a solid foundation of good health by strengthening the heart, invigorating the nerves and enriching the blood. Anyone suffering from the serious after consequences of La Grippe, or any severe sickness, can always depend on the restorative action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to give them back old time strength and vigor. THE MARKETS.

There Was a Fair Run of Live Stock in Toronto Good Friday—The Prices.

Friday Evening, April 8.

All Canadian, British and European grain and produce markets were closed today. Owing to the anxiety of speculators over the Hispano-American difficulty, several of the United States Boards of Trade remained open for business. The feature of the Chicago market was the strength of corn, which broke away from wheat, and led the way by an advance of about an even cent. The chief influences seemed to be the prospective light receipts of corn and the reported large demand for export. Wheat was decidedly slow, but nevertheless recovered on light receipts and in sympathy with corn. The July option gained ⅝c for the day, September 1⅜c and December 1¼c. Oats and provisions closed strong, with higher tendency.

Leading Wheat Markets.

Following are the closing prices to-day at important centres:

	Cash.	May.
Chicago	$1 08	$1 05
New York	....	1 01⅝
Milwaukee, No. 1 North	1 00	....
St. Louis	0 98	0 98⅞
Toledo	0 98½	0 98
Detroit	0 94⅝	0 90¼

Toronto Live Stock.

Although a holiday, the run of live stock at the Western Cattle Market was fairly large, 30 car loads, composed of 471 cattle, 35 sheep, 10 calves and 1467 hogs.

Trade was fairly brisk, especially in the export class, and prices paid were as good, if not better, than at any time this year. The reason for this was that several boats were due to sail this coming week, shipping space was to be had at a little lower rates than usual, and dealers buying cattle to-day could ship them at once, without incurring any extra expense for feed. Therefore, prices for exporters were a little better, ranging from $3.90 to $4.40 per cwt.; export bulls, choice quality, $3.40 to $3.75; export bulls, light, at $3 to $3.25.

The trade in butchers' cattle was fair, prices about the same as on Tuesday. Choice picked lots sold at $3.90 to $4, loads of good $3.75 to $3.80, medium $3.40 to $3.55, common $3.12 to $3.37½, and inferior $2.85 to $3 per cwt.

Buffalo stockers in fair demand; prices lower at $3.30 to $3.50.

Feeders in good condition and weighing from 1000 to 1100 lbs. each sold at $3.60 to $3.75.

Milch cows sold at $25 to $40 each.

Calves scarce, only 10 offered. Prices unchanged. Good ones wanted.

Sheep, deliveries light, prices unchanged, ewes selling at $3.50 to $3.75, yearling lambs $5.25 to $5.90, bucks $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

Spring lambs sold at $3 to $6 each.

Hogs, deliveries fair, prices steady, at $4.62½ for best selections and $4.37½ for thick and light fats.

East Buffalo Live Stock.

East Buffalo, April 8.—Cattle—Receipts light, only about two cars. Fair demand for the few on offer, and all were sold at full steady to strong former prices.

Veals and Calves—Receipts about 50 head. There was an active demand for the limited offerings of good veals, and even only fair kinds sold at high prices, and the market was excited and prices dangerously high for shippers or dealers in the country to go by. Tops sold at $6.25 to $6.50; common to choice, $4 to $6.

Hogs—Receipts, 70 cars. Market slow and trade was draggy at lower prices. Good to choice Yorkers, $4.05 to $4.10; prime selected light Yorkers, $4 to $4.05; mixed packers' grades, $4.07 to $4.10; medium weights, $4.10; heavy hogs, $4.10; roughs, $3.60 to $3.70; stags, $3 to $3.25; pigs, $3.25 to $3.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 47 cars of fresh arrivals and about 10 loads held over from yesterday's trade, the bulk of which were Canadian and heavy wool stock, such as the exporters do not want. The market was fairly active and strong for good handy grades of all kinds. Native lambs, choice to extra, $5 to $5.10; fair to good, $5.00 to $5.05; culls to common, $3 to $3.50; yearlings, fair mixed to choice wethers $5 to $5.35; clipped lambs, $4.25 to $4.85; heavy do., 50 to 60 lbs., $4.50 to $4.75. Native sheep, choice to extra, 100 to 110 lbs., $4.30 to $5; good to choice mixed, 90 to 100 lbs., $4.10 to $4.25; common to fair, 80 to 90 lbs., $3.50 to $4.05; culls to common sheep, $3.50 to $4; clipped sheep, $3 to $4.30; heavy do., $3.75 to $4.25.

MAHMOUD CAPTURED.

His Dervishes Whipped by Anglo-Egyptian Forces.

OSMAN DIGNA FLED, AS USUAL.

Capt. Urquhart, of the Cameron Highlanders, Formerly Aide to Canada's Governor-General, Among the Killed—Mourning at Ottawa—Heavy Loss to the Enemy—Details of the Fight.

Cairo, April 9.—The Anglo-Egyptian forces, under the Sirdar, General Sir Herbert Kitchener, attacked the Dervish position at 7.45 yesterday and rushed Mahmoud's zareba, the center of his fortifications, without check. The attack was entirely successful and the Dervishes lost heavily.

Details of the defeat of the Dervishes show that the Anglo-Egyptian force, after a night march, arrived at dawn before the enemy's camp. When the trenches of the Dervishes had been bombarded the whole Anglo-Egyptian force made a brilliant rush for the zareba and the trenches. The Dervishes stood their ground bravely and reserved their fire until the attacking force was quite close to them.

Mahmoud, the Dervish general, was among the prisoners captured.

As the despatch was sent the Anglo-Egyptian cavalry, horse-artillery and Maxim batteries were pursuing the fugitives.

The losses of the Anglo-Egyptian force included Captain Urquhart of the Cameron Highlanders and Lieut. Gore of the Seaforth Highlanders, killed; and ten officers of the British brigade, and four British officers in the Egyptian service wounded.

Details of the Fight.

Cairo, Egypt, April 9, Atbara Camp, Nubia, April 8.—The Sirdar's force numbered 13,000 men, with 24 guns under Colonel Long and 12 Maxims. The enemy left Shendy with 19,000 men, but they suffered a good deal fom desertion.

We left yesterday's camp at six p.m., and bivouacked in the desert. We reached Mahmoud's position at 6 a.m. The enemy was evidently aware of our approach. After an hour of heavy bombardment the brigades were formed up and carried the position at the point of the bayonet, under a tremendous fire from the enemy. The zareba was torn away, but the enemy clung obstinately to the trenches and were bayoneted in them.

During the whole admirable bombardment by Col. Long not a single Dervish was visible. The cavalry was now in full pursuit and nothing could have been finer than the behavior of the troops. The Sirdar (Sir Herbert Kitchener) received a tremendous ovation after the position was taken.

Mahmoud was captured by the tenth Soudanese battalion. He was underground the whole time his men were fighting. Osman Digna fled, as usual. The prisoners say that Mahmoud's force was deserting in large numbers before the battle. The enemy's guns, baggage, animals and standards were captured. Our loss would have been much heavier if the enemy had not fired high.

OTTAWA'S SORROW.

Reminiscences of the Gallant Officer Who Fell Fighting the Dervishes.

Ottawa, April 9.—(Special.)—There is sadness to-night at Rideau Hall, for the despatches from Cairo yesterday announce that among those of the Anglo-Egyptian forces who fell in the victorious attack upon Mahmoud's zareba in the Soudan was Capt. Urquhart of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, late aide-de-camp to His Excellency the Governor-General. Captain Beauchamp Colclough Urquhart, was appointed aide-de-camp to the Governor-General of Canada on Oct. 30, 1893, but a little over a year ago left Ottawa to rejoin his regiment. He was 38 years of age, and the eldest son of B. C. Urquhart of Meldrum and Blyth, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, tall and commanding in appearance, every inch a soldier. Capt. Urquhart was a prime favorite in Ottawa. He served with the Cameron Highlanders in the Egyptian war of 1882, from the landing at Ismailia, and was present at the battle of Tel El Kebir, for which he received a medal and clasp and the Khedive's Star. He also served in the Nile Expedition in 1884-85, receiving a clasp for these services. In the operations of the Soudan frontier field force Capt. Urquhart took part during 1885-86, his regiment participating in the investment of Kosch and in the battle of Ginisa.

Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach, and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten minute lunches condensed.

New Action Against Zola.

Paris, April 9.—The officers composing the court-martial which acquitted Count Esterhazy met yesterday and decided to commence civil actions for libel against M. Emile Zola and M. Perrioux, publisher of the Aurore, who were recently sentenced to imprisonment, and who were also fined, for making charges which were not sustained, against the conduct of the court-martial. The officers also expressed the wish that the Minister of War would ask that M. Zola be expelled from the Legion of Honor.

Serious Blaze at Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 9.—A very serious fire took place here yesterday, when the large pump and planing mill factory operated by Mr. G. Walter Green was completely destroyed. The total loss will be in the neighborhood of $20,000, but the amount of insurance cannot yet be ascertained.

The Odor of the Opera.

The confirmed opera goer drew a long breath. "That would make me happy if it blew over my grave," he murmured blissfully.

The woman with him looked at him doubtfully. "What's blowing?" she asked unsympathetically.

"It's the perfume," he explained. "One always gets it when the curtain rises on the second act. The house is full by that time and the odors of the flowers and perfumes have grown heavy. The air is close and oppressive during the entr'acte, but when the curtain goes up the draft sweeps out and catches that indescribable odor and whirls it up here to the dress circle. It's not like anything else. No theater has it. It's the essence of opera flowers and laces and jewels and beauty and music. I'd recognize a whiff of it in paradise. Just ask any old chap who has been coming here for years about it. He'll know what I mean."—New York Sun.

Another Prosperous Year.

Large Increase in Surplus.

The fifty-first annual report of the Canada Life shows this old established Company to be in a most flourishing condition. The annual meeting was held yesterday. Following is a synopsis of the report:—

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

In presenting to the Shareholders their 51st Annual Report, the Directors are gratified in announcing that the Company has fairly shared in the somewhat improved condition of the business of the country, as will be seen by the Statements and Accounts now submitted. The President, Mr. A. G. Ramsay, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The Directors' Report and the usual accounts and statements have for some days been in your hands, and have now been taken as read. While the report is brief, it contains, I think, along with the various published accounts, all that is required to enable those interested in the Company to judge of its progress and success in the past year. The addition during 1897 of nearly half a million dollars to the surplus or profits fund is a large and satisfactory one, and without invidiously comparing it with the figures of any other particular Company. I may say that it is more than was attained by all the other Canadian companies combined. The new business of the year was, you will observe, of satisfactory and gratifying amount, and in excess of the previous year, and you will be pleased to know that it is of that desirable class which will result more to the profit of the Company than would a larger amount obtained at heavier expense, or from less desirable regions than the healthful climate of Canada, and the four Northern States to which we have thus far deemed it judicious to confine the operations of the Company. The existing assurances are $72,719,555 or nearly twice as much as they were 12 years ago. The death claims of the year continued of very favourable amount, and being well within what was calculated upon, that fact testifies to the care observed in the selection of the lives, and to the judicious limitation of the business to the healthful climates already alluded to.

The recent lamentable failures of some of the companies doing business on the assessment system, and the anxiety felt as to the others which are based upon the same fallacious principles lead me to point out that these occurrences are only the inevitable results, which were from the first predicted by those whose knowledge and experience enabled them to judge of what the future of companies of the kind must be. At our meeting in 1887, when concerns of the kind were making strenuous efforts to establish themselves in Canada, I alluded to the miserable failures they had been in England and in America, and I said that their "ephemeral existence indicates how useless the assessment system of assurance is as a family provision. It can only offer the uncertain hope of a cheap assurance for a few years, till the company breaks down. It cannot afford any guarantee that a definite amount of assurance will certainly be paid to a widow or children after an assurer's death, whether that occurs at an early day or a distant one, and without such a guarantee as that, which our own and other sound companies offer, life assurance must be a fraud and a delusion." I added that "I was aware that agents and managers of companies of the kind pointed to the names of prominent business and professional men who have joined them, or who act as their directors, but as some of them at all events allow their names to be employed in that way, simply because policies have been gratuitously given to them, one can judge how little weight should attach to the names of the gentlemen thus used to decoy others to join such companies." One cannot envy the feelings of the prominent gentlemen alluded to, who induced persons to take policies in companies of the kind, from which they are now driven out by their failure, or by the levy of such high payments as they are unable to meet.

As the accounts show, the year's income was within a trifle of three million dollars, and the assets of the company were increased to the very considerable amount of nearly nineteen million dollars, and yielding, after deducting liabilities of every kind, a net surplus or profit of $1,564,082 for allocation at the end of next year, along with whatever addition there may be made to it between now and that time, and as the management and other expenses by which the profits to policy-holders are very largely influenced continue to be on a more moderate percentage than that of other Canadian or American companies, the prospects for our assurers are of a favourable character.

It is anticipated that legislation will be introduced by the Government, modifying the present 4½ per cent. rate of interest prescribed by law as the basis for Life Assurance Reserves, and adopting the new mortality Tables based upon the observations and large experience of the British Insurance Companies, in course of compilation by the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, and I may say on behalf of the Board in reference to the amendment to the charter, alluded to in the Directors report of last year, that the Directors purpose to avail themselves of the occasion of that legislation to seek such amendments to the law as may meet the Board's requirements.

The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Gates, Vice-President, and unanimously carried. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the agents, officers, medical and legal advisers of the company, Mr. Adam Brown speaking in eloquent terms of their services rendered to the Company.

Mr. Leggat moved and Lieut.-Col. McLaren seconded a hearty vote of thanks to the President and Directors for their attention to the interests of the Company during the past year. Brief and interesting addresses were also made by Sir George Kirkpatrick and Sir George Burton, the latter of whom was heartily congratulated upon the recent honour conferred upon him by the Queen.

The retiring Directors, Chief Justice Sir George Burton, Col. Sir Casimer Gzowski, K.C.M.G., and Mr. N. Hamitt, were re-elected. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. A. G. Ramsay was re-elected President and Mr. F. W. Gates Vice-President.

The meeting passed off very harmoniously, every one present being gratified with the progress and continued prosperity of the Canada Life, which, as Sir George Kirkpatrick remarked, was easily leader of all Companies in the Dominion.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

THE HORSE'S SHOES.

HOW OFTEN THEY NEED REPLENISHING AND WHAT THEY COST.

Resetting Old Shoes Costs About Half as Much as New Ones—The Use of Rubber Pads—Carriage Horses' Shoes Cost More Than Those of Work Horses.

A work horse's shoes cost a good deal more than its driver's shoes do. Truck horses, delivery wagon horses and the great number of horses used for various working purposes, including many horses driven to hacks and other public carriages, are ordinarily shod once a month at a cost of $2.50, so that the work horse's shoes are likely to cost $30 a year anyway, and there may be some additional expense for sharpening and resetting.

Sharpening costs $1.50. Whether this is necessary or not depends, of course, primarily upon the weather. It may depend much upon the time of day the horse is driven. There may be seasons in which sharpening is not necessary. Not all drivers get the shoes of their horses sharpened even when the going is slippery. Such going may come about suddenly and unexpectedly, and it may be of brief duration, and then there are drivers who under ordinary circumstances take the risk of the greater cost of a broken shaft or an injured animal to save the cost of sharpening. Of work horses in general probably something more than half have their shoes sharpened when the going is slippery. There are some, however, whose shoes are almost all kept sharpened at such times, these being the horses that work at night and in the early morning before the sun has softened the ice or melted it away. These include horses driven to milk wagons, bakers' horses, and so on, how often the shoes are sharpened depending on the going.

Usually when a horse is shod he is shod all around. Sometimes there is occasion to put on a single shoe, as when a horse throws a shoe. The cost of a single new shoe is one-fourth the cost of a set—in the case of a work horse 63 cents. The charge for resetting the old shoe would be 35 cents. Resetting in general, from one shoe up, costs about one-half, or a little more than half, as much as fitting a horse with new shoes. In putting on a single shoe an old shoe would commonly be used, to make it match those remaining on. If it is not too much worn, the shoe the horse has cast would be put back if the driver picked it up. It is suitable and it fits. If it has not been picked up, then a slipper is put on from the pile in the shop, slipper being the shop name of the worn shoe taken off and thrown aside when a horse is reshod.

Horses have peculiarities in wearing their shoes, just as men do. Some wear them off more at the toe, some more at the heel, and some wear them more on one side than on the other. Horses' shoes wear off more quickly on granite pavements than they do on asphalt, and the greatly increased use of asphalt pavement has led to a correspondingly increased use of rubber pads in horses' shoes to give the horses a better foothold. Rubber pads, as well as the shoes, are fitted to the horse's foot and nailed on with the shoe. Shoes with rubber pads of this kind for work horses, cost, put on, $4 or $5 a set. They are likely to wear longer than shoes without pads, but they are commonly replaced or reset at the end of a month. The necessity for reshoeing the horse at intervals of about a month is due in a considerable degree to the natural growth of the horse's hoofs, which require trimming or other attention about once in so often. In the case of iron shoes, at the end of a month, when they are taken off, they are likely to be too much worn to go another month, and new shoes are put on. In the case of rubber pad shoes, if they are not too much worn, they are reset, and this may be done in perhaps 40 or 50 per cent of the cases. Sometimes the old shoes may be put back with new pads, sometimes the old pads with new shoes. It depends a good deal on the manner in which the horse wears them. So that while the first cost of rubber pad shoes is considerably greater than that of plain shoes the net cost is not so much greater.

The price charged for shoeing a private coach or carriage horse is $1 more than for shoeing a work horse, or $3.50, and rubber pad shoes, such as those described, for carriage horses cost $5 or $6 a set. Such horses are reshod ordinarily, like most horses, once a month, and as a rule their shoes are also reset in the middle of the month. And the shoes of private carriage horses are more commonly kept sharpened in slippery weather than are those of work horses. Women are more likely to be disturbed by the slipping of a horse than a man would be, and the carriage horses are usually more valuable than work horses, and less risk of injury is taken.

In some cases it might be that the charge for shoeing a horse, either a carriage horse or a work horse, would be according to the time required rather than by the job, as, for example, in the case of a lame horse, in shoeing which more than the usual time would be needed. Shoes are made and fitted to meet any requirement, and the cost might be, according to the amount of work and time expended, from $1 to $5 for a single shoe.—New York Sun.

A VANITY BOOK.

Personal Record Keeping Whose Interest Excuses Its Vanity.

In the beginning one's parents must be the authors, or if the parents will not then some devoted aunt may win for herself the warmest thanks in years to come. When Heart's Delight came to earth some 15 years ago, a substantial volume was bought to be her book. Into this went first the genealogy of the family on father's and mother's sides as far as there was knowledge of it. Photographs of great-great-grandparents, grandparents and parents were inserted. The wedding dress of the paternal grandmother was shown by a small piece, and the maternal side was rich with bits of the wedding dresses of mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Photographs of father and mother at the time of their marriage and when Heart's Delight was born were also added. To these were added one of the house and the room which the little maid made blessed by her coming. The announcement card went in and letters written for her welcome. Mamma wrote a description of the wonder, and papa took her photograph.

All this was for the beginning, but as months went on there was more to chronicle. Baby's ways, the coming of her first tooth, her first word and when it was spoken, when she began to creep and then to walk—all these were recorded. Into the book went, too, such treasures as the first sock, the first little shoe, a piece of her first colored dress. Everything of whatever kind that marked a beginning found a permanent place in the Vanity Book, and the story of the child's life may be read therein.

As the child developed the character of the items naturally changed. When she went to school, her early efforts supplied more material, sometimes in the shape of school work and sometimes as stories of childish temptations or griefs and joys. Heart's Delight's first letter is entered in the book.

There are so many tokens here that are treasures, more valuable as they grow older. The first invitation to a party, the first theater programme, and with this are other programmes of those things which have impressed the child. Her first party dress, of course, was shown in the book. Throughout the book are photographs of Heart's Delight herself as she grew toward girlhood and of the girls and boys who were her friends.

Long ago the bookmaking fell into the hands of the girl herself, and she adds to it all that points to the story she is making. Everything of pleasure, of special benefit in her life, is to be recalled from this book, and even now she prizes it above all her possessions. What will it be to her when she is 50? What will it be worth to her son or daughter when some one writes "Finis" to it for her? What would you not give for such a book left you by your mother or father? It would be worth more than money.

There is a great deal of pleasure to be found in making such a book for oneself, though if one begins it after childhood he loses much that went into the little one's book. It will become filled, however, with the important things of life, each making these for himself. A vanity book is one of the best things in the world to show how one's ideas of values change and how life's horizon expands. It records a life with some of those which preceded it and gave it its bent and those which accompanied and developed it. Though it may be vanity, it is yet a vanity with a lesson.—New York Sun.

A Tandem.

What woman in all the wide world would not be glad to be a tandem for two happy, healthy, prattling babies?

When Nature whispers the sweet assurance in a woman's ear that soon a little stranger will come to caress with baby fingers her cheek and neck, she makes the fondest preparations for its arrival. Everything that a woman's dainty taste can imagine is provided for the new-comer's wardrobe. Nothing is overlooked save one thing, and that one thing is the most important. Too many mothers forget that baby's strength and health, its ability to withstand the usual ailments of childhood, and its vigor and welfare, as a man or woman, are dependent upon her own health and physical condition during the period of prospective maternity. If, during that critical time, she is weak, sickly, nervous and despondent, because of troubles peculiar to her sex, these conditions are bound to have their influence upon her baby's health. Neglect of these conditions invariably means that baby will be weak, puny and peevish. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all troubles of this nature, and it will reinforce a woman's bodily and nerve strength so that she can safely undergo the trials of maternity. It gives health, strength, vigor, elasticity and endurance to the organs specially concerned in motherhood. It gives bodily and nervous hardihood to the child.

"After using fifteen bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and a few vials of your 'Pleasant Pellets,' I am entirely cured of uterine trouble. I had suffered for nearly three years," writes Mrs. F. W. Fogel, of 373 Highland Ave., Newark, N. J. "I had such terrible bearing down pains that I could hardly walk. My back and head ached, had terrible cramps in my legs, was very nervous at times, and felt miserable. With my first child I had to be chloroformed and the child was delivered with instruments. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' with my second child, and instead of suffering for two days, I was in labor only an hour and a beautiful child was born. I was able to leave my bed the fifth day. I commenced your medicine about four months before confinement. My baby is three months old now, and is a fine, big, fat baby. I am in very good health; have no more pains or aches. I would be pleased to advise any woman who suffers as I did to use your medicine."

The Apple Dumpling.

Apple dumpling day was a red letter one in my boy's calendar. When I had such a dainty bit in my bag, it seldom staid there many minutes. Although I had dispatched a hearty breakfast before starting, out would come the dumpling. "Just to have a look at it and to see if it is as big as mother generally makes them," I would say to myself. Then I would turn it about and admire its size. From handling the dainty to tasting it was a sure process. "I'll have one little bite, only a nibble," I would say.

When I had got my tooth into that dumpling, Adam with his apple wasn't in it. It was a case of once bitten soon gone. Then I would hurry on to make up for my dawdling with only the hunk of barley bread in my wallet, the joys of the dumpling behind me, and before me the day's drudgery, with perhaps a thrashing thrown in.—"Life of Joseph Arch."

Chilly.

"Poor papa!" said Ethel. "He has a dreadful cold."

"Must have caught it while sitting by himself," said Chollie, who knew how frigid the old gentleman could be when he tried.—London Tit-Bits.

The siege of Troy was mostly a myth. According to Homer's own figures, if there ever was such a man as Homer, Helen must have been at least 60 years of age when she first met Paris, and even in the heroic period of the world women of that age were a trifle passe.

Not Always.

"Remember, my boy," said Uncle James as he gave Bobby a coin, "that if you take care of the pennies the shillings will take care of themselves."

Bobby looked a trifle dubious.

"I do take care of the pennies," he replied, "but as soon as they get to be shillings pa takes care of 'em."—London Tit-Bits.

Of the two stamps first issued Washington's portrait was on the 10 cent and Franklin's on the other. Since that time the various issues of the United States stamps would furnish a unique portrait gallery, showing the faces of 48 noted Americans.

The bullet which killed Lord Nelson at Trafalgar is still preserved. It is mounted in a crystal locket and reposes in a crimson bag with gold tassels.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER,

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and fearnestly thankful for my cure.

JOYOUS EASTER CHURCH CHIMES.

Glad Services in the Churches in Recognition of the Day and Its Supreme Significance.

Easter day this year was a typical Easter day. The air was balmy and the sun shone with unclouded splendor. The world was in sympathy with the great anniversary. The birds twittered on every bough and on every side there was evidence that nature had burst the bonds of death that had held her in their frozen embrace the long winter through. And the services in the churches were in keeping with the gladness that animated the material world.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Inside St. John's was splendidly beautified with flowers. A feature of the floral decoration was the tasteful nature of the disposition of the blooms. The Chancel Guild assisted by volunteers in the congregation, stopped judiciously short of overdoing. The chancel was especially bright and cheerful, but in all parts of the church the resurrection symbolism was beautifully expressed.

The services during the day were in keeping and in their joyous character were in glad contrast to the sober solemnity of the precedent Lenten services.

There were five services during the day. Largely attended Holy Communion services were held at seven o'clock and eight o'clock and after Morning Prayer at eleven. The total number of persons communicating was over three hundred, the largest number being at the 8 o'clock celebration.

There was a very large congregation at Morning Prayer. The service was bright and cheerful and at the same time solemn and serious. The rector preached the sermon on the topic of the day. He also preached the sermon at Evensong, when a very large congregation crowded the church.

The music at both services was special and specially good. Of course the hymns, in sentiment and music, partook of the character of the day. The processional was Hymn 134—"Jesus Christ is Risen To-day —Alleluia!" and the choir and clergy entered at the church door and proceeded down the aisle to the chancel. The Te Deum was that of Dykes, in G, and the Benedictus the double chant by Martin. The anthem was Vincent's "As it Began to Dawn," the solo being taken by Hague Sawers. This anthem was repeated in the evening, when the solo was taken by Miss Lily Jackson. The chief feature of the evening music was, of course, the special Easter hymns and the Magnificat—Tozer, and the Nunc Dimittis—Vaughan. A pleasing feature of both services was the opening voluntary, the Dominion Gavotte, very finely given by Mr. Owens, organist.

In the afternoon there was a largely attended and cheerful children's service, which was addressed by Rev. E. V. Stevenson on the subject of the day. The children's offering to missions, representing Easter self denial, amounted to between $30 and $40. A number of the children also contributed to the School House fund. Among these, one touching gift was that of a former member of the Sunday school, who died a few weeks ago. Last night an envelope marked with name and inscribed "———'s last Easter offering" ($20), was found among last Sunday's collection.

The Easter offertory towards the Extension fund amounted to $[illegible].

fully decorated with cut and blooming flowers, the pretty chancel being especially beautiful. Rev. W. L. Armitage, the curate, took all the services except the children's service in the afternoon, at which the address was given by Mr. Derwyn Owen. Mr. Armitage's sermons were eloquently apt to the day. The excellent music was special, consisting, of course, of the usual joyous Easter hymns; and in the morning the Te Deum was Hopkins', and the anthem, Hall's "This is the Day the Lord Hath Made," the quartette chorus by Mrs. Good and Miss Brundrette and Messrs. Kingscote and Burrist. At Evensong the service was Bunnett's evening service and the anthem, Clare's "Hallelujah, Christ is Risen!" The solo was taken by Mrs. Layfield and the quartette by Mrs. Gilchrist and Miss Brundrett and Messrs. Kingscotte and Bygott. Miss Bullen, organist, gave especially satisfactory services.

The offerings for the day amounted to exactly $166, of which $136 was for the debt reduction fund. The donations were matting for the aisle, Mrs. D. J. Landy; and credence table by Mrs. W. B. Bamford.

EASTER DAY AT ST. LUKE'S.

All the services at St. Luke's church yesterday were very largely attended. The number of communicants was in excess of any previous year in the history of the parish, and the offertories for the day amounted to $257, more than $100 over the amount wanted to meet the requirements for the current expenses, to which is to be added $150 special Lenten offerings. The church was tastefully adorned with flowers by the Decoration Chapter of the Guild under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Spence. The pulpit and the sanctuary are worthy of special remark. The special music was well rendered by the choir, and the remainder of the service was very heartily joined in by the congregation. The sermons were delivered by the Rector, and were appropriate to the day. Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers read the lessons in the morning and Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., in the evening.

In the afternoon Rev. H. Symonds drove to St. Mark's, where there was a large congregation and many communicants.

The annual vestry meeting of St. Luke's will be held this evening, and that of St. Mark's next Thursday morning.

Next Sunday all the services will be conducted by Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield. Rev. H. Symonds will preach at Brantford and lecture there on Monday and Tuesday to the National Home Reading Union and the congregation of the church respectively.

AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

The Easter services at St. Peter's Cathedral were of a bright and cheerful character. Eight o'clock mass was celebrated by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, and the congregation was a very large one. Pontifical high mass was celebrated at 10.30 o'clock by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor. The choir under the leadership of Mr. F. W. Miller, rendered Henry Farmer's Mass in a creditable manner. During the mass his Lordship pronounced the Papal benediction. At the different morning services Ven. Archdeacon Casey referred briefly to the great festival of the resurrection and expressed the pleasure he experienced in seeing such a large number of communicants at the several services.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor sang the vesper service, and the Cathedral was crowded with a large congregation. Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan preached an eloquent sermon on the Resurrection of our Lord. The music of the choir in the evening was the best heard in years. During the vesper service Hoc Dies was excellently rendered by Miss L. Harley, and Lamblotte's Magnificat was sung in a splendid manner by the full choir, Miss M. Dunn taking the soprano solo. During benediction the music was exceptionally fine. Regina Coeli was sung by the whole choir, and was followed by a beautifully arranged O'Salutaris, Miss Hall taking the solos. The Tantum Ergo was also worthy of mention, being rendered by the choir in a very creditable manner indeed. The soprano solo in this number by Mrs. Geo. Hall was one of the features of the musical service. The decorations in the sanctuary were arranged with excellent taste, and could be seen to advantage during benediction. The offering during the day was a liberal one.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST.

Rev. Mr. Crossley conducted both services in Charlotte street church yesterday. In the morning he preached on the resurrection, its certainty, the truths which become precious because of it, and its present advantages. In the evening the subject was "Your life, what is it worth to self, and to the world.

The floral decorations were very beautiful, palms, Easter and Calla Lillies intermingled with foliages of rare beauty filled the platform and a table in front of pulpit.

The arrangement of the floral display was under the management of Mrs. Hamilton who took great pains to make it creditable. She has performed, we understand, this labor of love for many years.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Both the morning and evening anthems in St. Paul's church yesterday were exceptionally well rendered. That of the morning was Maker's "Awake, Thou that Sleepest," and in the evening Schilling's "Christ our Passover" was rendered. In the former the solos were taken by Mr. James Dawson, and in the latter by Mrs. Mein. Both voices are being trained by Mr. Warrington and show great improvement since last heard.

In the evening Miss Hansen's pleasing voice was heard to great advantage in Tosti's "Resurrexit."

MARK STREET CHURCH.

The church was beautifully and appropriately decorated with flowers, plants, etc., for Easter Sunday.

In the morning an excellent discourse on "The Resurrection of Christ" was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B. "The Resurrection of the Believer" was the topic of the evening sermon.

The E. L. service was held after the evening sermon. Mr. H. S. Armstrong took the topic, and the meeting was conducted by the President.

There are no services in the church this week, but cottage prayer meeting will be held on Friday evening, at Mr. John Wait's, corner of Lake and Sophia streets. Mr. J. Batten will conduct the meeting.

Life's Red Stream.

When the blood is pure and rich, health and vitality are carried to all parts of the body. When it is impure or watery, the seeds of disease germinate and grow. THE RIVAL NAVIES.

Comparative Strength of United States and Spanish Navies—Great Britain's Immense Sea Power.

For the purposes of comparison of the navies of the United States and Spain, we have obtained from the report of the Secretary of the Navy, for 1897, the following table:

UNITED STATES.

	Building.	Built.	Total.
Battle Ships	6	5	11
Coast defence ships	1	6	7
Armed Cruisers		2	2
First class Cruisers		3	3
2nd and 3rd "		13	13
Gunboats	9	9	18
Torpedo Gunboats
Torpedo-boat destroyers
Torpedo boats	15	3	18

SPAIN.

	Building.	Built.	Total.
Battle Ships		3	3
Coast defence ships
Armored Cruisers	4	3	7
First class Cruisers		1	1
2nd and 3rd "		7	7
Gunboats		22	22
Torpedo Gunboats	4	3	7
Torpedo-boat destroyers	1	2	3
Torpedo boats	4	19	23

How both these navies compare with the fleet of warships belonging to England may be gathered from the same report which credits England with 57 battleships, 13 coast defence ships, 16 armoured cruisers, 21 first-class cruisers, 75 2nd 3rd class cruisers, 19 gunboats, 34 torpedo gunboats, 98 torpedo-boat destroyers and 160 torpedo boats. A glance at these figures fully warrants the adoption by England of her newest watchword, "What we have, we'll hold."

MR. H. HANCOCK'S VICTORY

Over Kidney Disease' Won by the Help of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Galt, April 11.—(Special)—The greatest "speech" delivered for many years in Galt, was made recently by H. Hancock, Esq., proprietor of the fine hotel, the Iroquois. It was short and pithy and conveyed to every sufferer from kidney disease the glad news that they need suffer no longer.

Mr. Hancock's statement runs thus:—"For over a year I suffered with terrible backaches. Nothing I used gave me the least relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used only a few boxes, but to-day every vestige of pain has vanished completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only cure on earth for Kidney diseases.

IT NOW RESTS WITH CONGRESS

President McKinley Throws the Responsibility Upon It.

TO DECLARE WAR WITH SPAIN.

The Foreign Committees of Congress and the House Have the President's Message in Hand—A Carefully Prepared Message That Leaves Matters Still Unsettled—Senators' Views.

Washington, April 12.—The future relations of the United States to Spain and to Cuba now rests with Congress, the representative body of the American people. What course the elected men composing it will pursue cannot be foretold. The Foreign Committees of both Houses now have the subject in their control, and after due deliberation will report to their respective branches what they consider should be the attitude of the United States on the grave question presented. Early action by the committee is expected, but exactly when it may be looked for is not now determinable. The full responsibility of the subject was placed upon Congress when President McKinley yesterday transmitted to it a carefully prepared and anxiously awaited message relating to our negotiations with Spain as to its warfare in Cuba and drawing therefrom his personal conclusions and recommendations.

While Mr. Quay was speaking, Major Pruden, the Legislative Secretary to the President, entered the chamber bearing the long-expected message. He was recognized as soon as Mr. Quay had concluded, and when he had presented the message the Vice-President immediately laid it before the Senate.

In a stillness that was almost breathless the message was read, the reading occupying just 42 minutes. At the conclusion of the reading there was a hum of whispered conversation in the galleries, but no demonstration. Mr. Davis (Minneapolis), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, at once moved that it be referred to his committee, and Mr. Stewart, taking advantage of the opportunity, briefly addressed the Senate in favor of recognising the independence of the Cuban insurgents. Without further debate the message was referred as requested.

In the House the message was read in the presence of a vast assemblage and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs without debate. There was absolutely no demonstration either in approval or disapproval from the crowded galleries throughout, or at the conclusion of the reading, but there was a sharp burst of applause from the Republican side when, toward the close of the message, the President said the war in Cuba must cease. At the conclusion of the reading about half the Republicans applauded and several of the Democrats groaned.

THE WAR IN CUBA MUST STOP.

That Is the Burden of the Message of President McKinley on Spain's War-Scarred American Colony.

President McKinley, after reciting his duty under the Constitution to give Congress from time to time information of the state of the Union, says the present revolution in Cuba is but the successor of other similar insurrections which have occurred in Cuba against the dominion of Spain, extending over a period of nearly half a century, each of which during its progress has subjected the United States to great effort and expense. Since the present revolution began in February, 1895, this country has seen the fertile domain at our threshold ravaged by fire and sword in the course of a struggle unequalled in the history of the island and rarely paralleled as to the number of combatants and the bitterness of the contest by any revolution of modern times, where a dependent people, striving to be free, have been opposed by the power of the sovereign state. The President then shows how U. S. trade has suffered and reverts to Cleveland's offer made in April, 1896. This offer failed because Spain would not consider any plan of mediation. The war continued unabated. The resistance of the insurgents was in no wise diminished. The efforts of Spain were increased, both by the despatch of fresh levies to Cuba and by the addition to the horrors of the strife of a new and inhuman phase, happily unprecendented in the modern history of civilized Christian peoples.

"Not Civilized Warfare."

He then outlines what has been done in Cuba since he took office a year ago, and especially the results of Spain's policy of reconcentration, which, having been adopted avowedly as a war measure, in order to cut off the resources of the insurgents, worked its predestined result. "As I said in my message of last December," says the President, "it was not civilized warfare. It was extermination. The only peace it could beget was that of the wilderness and the grave."

Spain's failure to stop the rebellion claims a paragraph, and the President continues: In this state of affairs, my Administration found itself confronted with a grave problem.

The President then refers to the assassination of the Prime Minister of Spain, Senor Canovas; the consequent change of Government; the adoption of a more liberal policy towards the insurgents, and the fresh attempts made by the United States through Minister Woodford looking to an immediate and effective amelioration of the condition of the island. Continuing, he says:

Relief for the Reconcentrados.

While these negotiations were in progress the increasing destitution of the unfortunate reconcentrados and the alarming mortality among them claimed earnest attention. The success which had attended the limited measure of relief extended to the suffering American citizens among them by the judicious expenditure through the consular agencies of the money appropriated expressly for their succor by the joint resolution approved May 24, 1897, prompted the humane extension of a similar scheme of aid to the great body of sufferers. The suggestion to this end was acquiesced in by the Spanish authorities. Then follows a review of the work done by the various relief committees, headed by the Red Cross Society, and [illegible] to the revocation by Spain of General Weyler's reconcentration order.

Victory for Either Side Impossible.

Continuing, the President says: The war in Cuba is of such a nature that, short of subjugation or extermination, a final military victory for either side seems impossible. The alternative lies in the physical exhaustion of one or the other party, or perhaps of both, a condition which in effect ended the ten years war by the truce of Zanjon. The prospect of such a conclusion of the present strife is a contingency hardly to be contemplated with equanimity by the civilized world, and least of all by the United States, affected and injured as we are deeply and intimately by its very existence.

Spain's Reply.

The President then details the steps he took for the immediate termination of the war. To these overtures the reply of the Spanish Cabinet was received on the night of the 31st ult. It offers, as the means to bring about peace in Cuba, to confide the preparation thereof to the insular parliament, inasmuch as the concurrence of that body would be necessary to reach a final result, it being, however, understood that the powers reserved by the constitution to the central government are not lessened or diminished. As the Cuban Parliament does not meet until the 4th of May next, the Spanish Government would not object for its part to accept at once a suspension of hostilities if asked for by the insurgents from the general-in-chief, to whom it would pertain in such a case to determine the duration and conditions of the armistice.

With this last overture in the direction of immediate peace and its disappointing reception by Spain, the executive was brought to the end of his effort.

The Alternatives.

The President continues: In my annual message of December last I said: "Of the untried measures there remain only: Recognition of the insurgents as belligerents; recognition of the independence of Cuba; neutral intervention to end the war by imposing a rational compromise between the contestants, and intervention in favor of one or the other party. I speak not of forcible annexation, for that cannot be thought of. That, by our code of morality, would be criminal aggression."

In Favor of Intervention.

After arguing against recognition of the insurgents as belligerents, and in favor of neutral intervention,

The Maine Explosion.

Reference is then made to the blowing up of the Maine. After quoting the reports of the United States and Spanish courts of inquiry, the President says: "In any event the destruction of the Maine, by whatever exterior cause, is a patent and impressive proof of a state of things in Cuba that is intolerable. That condition is thus shown to be such that the Spanish Government cannot assure safety and security to a vessel of the American navy in the harbor of Havana on a mission of peace and rightfully there."

Asks for Power to Interfere.

The President then states that he sees no prospect of peace in Cuba, and says: In the name of humanity, in the name of civilization, in behalf of endangered American interests, which give us the right and the duty to speak and to act, the war in Cuba must stop.

In view of these facts and of these considerations, I ask the Congress to authorize and empower the President to take measures to secure a full and final termination of hostilities between the Government of Spain and the people of Cuba, and to secure in the island the establishment of a stable government, capable of maintaining order and observing its international obligations, ensuring peace and tranquility, and the security of its citizens, as well as our own, and to use the military and naval forces of the United States as may be necessary for these purposes.

The Interests of Humanity.

And in the interest of humanity and to aid in preserving the lives of the starving people of the island, I recommend that the distribution of food and supplies be continued, and that an appropriation be made out of the public treasury to supplement the charity of our citizens.

The issue is now with the Congress. It is a solemn responsibility. I have exhausted every effort to relieve the intolerable condition of affairs which is at our doors. Prepared to execute every obligation imposed upon me by the constitution and the law, I await your action.

Fearful Distress in Cuba.

Washington, D.C., April 12.—Accompanying the President's message to Congress yesterday was the consular correspondence with regard to the situation in Cuba, which was prepared in response to a resolution of enquiry, adopted by both the House and the Senate. It reveals an almost unbelievable condition of distress in Cuba.

Both Houses Adjourn.

Washington, April 12.—When the reading of the President's message had been concluded in the Senate it was at once referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and the Senate adjourned until to-day.

In the House the message was sent to the Foreign Affairs Committee without comment, and other business at once taken up.

JINGOES NOT SATISFIED.

Senators Do Not Consider That It Goes Far Enough in Recognizing Cubans.

Washington, April 12.—The President's message did not, after the first reading, receive the endorsement of a majority of the Senators, and many excused themselves from speaking about it until they could have time for careful perusal. In a general way the objections were based on the ground that it did not go far enough in recognizing the rights of the Cubans.

One of the most significant utterances on the subject of the message was that of Senator Foraker, Republican, from the President's own State, and a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations. He said: "I have no patience with the message and you can say so."

The Crew Got Scared.

Portland, Eng., April 12.—The new United States cruiser Topeka (formerly Diogenes) and the torpedo boat Somers, which were en route for the United States, put in here last night. Such a heavy sea was encountered that the Somers was almost buried, and it was deemed safer to return. About thirty of the Topeka's crew refused to sail in her, necessitating the shipping of others to fill their places.

Instantly Killed by a Train.

Essex, April 12.—A very sad accident occurred here at 7.30 yesterday morning. John Smalley, a man about forty years of age, was walking down the M.C.R. track and, when about half a mile west of this place, the eastbound mail train struck him, throwing him into the ditch and killing him instantly.

Ice Broke—Boy Drowned.

St. Michel de Bellechasse, Que., April 12.—Yesterday a boy aged 12, son of Mr. Nap Faucher, farmer, of the third range of this parish, was playing along the side of the River Boyer, when the ice suddenly gave way under his weight and he was precipitated into the water and drowned.

Pretext For Another Grab.

London, April 12.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: "The Russians contend that the disturbance between Russians and Chinese at Kin-Chou necessitates the inclusion of Kin-Chou Bay within the area leased by China to Russia."

Julia Arthur Married.

Boston, Mass., April 12.—The marriage of Benjamin P. Cheney, the well-known millionaire of this city, to Miss Julia Arthur, the Canadian actress, was announced yesterday.

Mr. Gladstone About the Same.

London, April 12.—There is not much change in the condition of Mr. Gladstone. He is not suffering so much pain, but is unable to converse cheerfully with his friends.

Cardinal Taschereau Slowly Dying.

Quebec, April 12.—Cardinal Taschereau was much feebler yesterday afternoon than in the morning, and is slowly dying, his passing away being soon expected.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An emphatic commentary on the debating ability of the Dominion Opposition is the circumstance that, owing to the illness of their one financial critic, Mr. Foster, they are compelled to ask the adjournment of the Budget debate. Can it be possible that the picture of prosperity presented by Mr. Fielding's statement has made the task of attacking it so distasteful that the ex-minister is sick over it?

The success that attends British arms against the forces of savagery is a tribute to the bravery of "Tommy Atkins" and to the sympathy of fortune with the cause of civilization and progress. The recent decisive victory against the Dervishes in the Nubian country will go far to putting an end to the war and the fall of Khartoum will follow as a matter of course. This will restore to the sovereignity of Egypt a large country, bringing it practically under British rule and all that good administration that implies. The powers, especially France, have protested strongly against the British occupation of Egypt, but the great success that has attended that occupation, the civilizing influences that have been exercised, the prosperity that has come to the country, have disarmed such objection in the eyes of the civilized world.

THE OUTLOOK.

The April Magazine Number of The Outlook has a special decorative Easter cover designed by Miss Grace Norton. It contains several illustrated features of ticular interest and of special timeliness.

In "The Naval Defences of the Nation," by Hibert F. Baldwin, a survey is made of the present condition of the United States navy, of the additions which are now being made to it, and of its effective force.

"Getting About New York," by Ernest Ingersoll, is the second in a group of articles through which The Outlook is describing, in a popular way, some of the activities of the newly consolidated city of New York.

The installment for the month of Dr. Hale's articles on "James Russell Lowell and His Friends," is even more readable than its predecessors. It takes up Lowell's early life as a man of letters, his associations and first achievements, and is throughout full of anecdote and pleasant reminiscence.

The Easter season is recognized in the April Magazine Number by an article on "Hosters and Hosters," by the Countess von Krockow; by a strong and entertaining story written by Sophie Swett, and by the usual editorial Easter talk; while the religious feeling of the season may also be said to have relation to a full page reproduction of a very beautiful "Mother and Child" picture by a Venetian artist, Roberto Ferruzzi.

In addition to articles already named there are in this number a paper by Miss Anna M. Benjamin on "The Innuit of Alaska," with special relation to the introduction of reindeer into Alaska, and educational progress there; an illustrated article by the well-known artistic photographer, Mr. Clifton Johnson, on "Child-Life in Great Britain;" a pleasant travel talk by Mr. Poultney Bigelow; another installment of Dr. Lyman Abbott's "Life and Letters of Paul;" besides the usual departments, reviews, history of the week, and other editorial departments. ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The past fine days have dried up the roads and the wheeling is in good condition at present.

Mr. C. Young is commencing his drive of logs next Monday. He is putting on a number of men to start the drive from Deer Bay, and by the time it reaches here the water will be low enough to permit the running of the saw mill.

Messrs. Howes and Gretton, the new proprietors of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, are building a cottage for sleeping rooms in connection with the hotel. The cottage will contain about ten bed rooms and a parlour, which will be a great improvement to the house.

Mr. W. J. Young is agent for the Brantford bicycle, and has a beautiful wheel in his show window.

Searching is still going on for the remains of the late Mrs. Richard Read.

A large number of people have contracted colds from the sudden change of the weather last week.

Miss Maggie Young is confined to the house with a cold.

The Young's Point school is closed for the Easter holidays, and the teacher, Mr. H. Andrews, has gone to his home in Norwood.

Mr. Thomas Hockaday is ill, and has been keeping the house the past week.

Mr. William McGregor is busy clearing up the grounds on South Beach, owned by Major Belleeis. When the undertaking is completed it will be one of the finest summer resorts in the country, being situated on that beautiful body of water, Clear Lake.

An entertainment will be held in the town hall, Lakefield, on Tuesday, the 19th inst., by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, which promises to be a very great treat in the vaudeville line. The following is the programme:

NORWOOD'S MONSTER DEMONSTRATION.

A Big Bill for Queen's Birthday.

One holiday especially dear to the hearts of all loyal Canadians is the Queen's Birthday. It is fitting that on this day all shall lay aside their daily toil and try to enjoy themselves. Most are quite willing to do this, and generally the only trouble is to decide how and where to spend the day.

This year the problem will be easily solved. All who can will spend it at Norwood, taking part in the truly magnificent celebration now being prepared by the High School for the pleasure of the general public.

A glance at the programme outlined for the day will satisfy any one that this year the High School will far surpass any previous efforts put forth in this line. Those who have never been present at one of the entertainments given by them well know that to do this they will have to put up something really grand. Those who have never been at one had better visit Norwood the next 24th of May. They will have one agreeable surprise if they do so.

One of the features of the day will be a football tournament between a number of the teams in the towns and villages near by. Suitable prizes will be given to the winning team and the second best.

Another attraction will be a football tournament to be given by the Scots of Toronto and a picked team from Norwood. The skill and prowess of the Norwood men on the football field is too well known to need any praise here. As to the Scot's, they have been in existence over thirteen years, and perhaps no team is better known throughout Ontario. Last year they tied the Riversides for the championship of Toronto City League. They are reputed to have the strongest defence of any team in the province, while their forward line is not far behind the defence. Speed, accuracy of kicking and a combination that works like clock work. They will set an awful pace for the Norwood boys, and without a doubt it will be a match well worth seeing.

Besides the two foregoing attractions there are to be a fancy bicycle parade, a programme of athletic sports, and in the evening an entertainment in the skating rink. Full details of these and all other features of the celebration will be given to the public at an early date.

What we want to do now is to call your attention to the fact that we have made up our minds to put up the best day's sports to be had in the county next Queen's Birthday. If you don't think we can do so come and try us; if you think we can of course you will come anyway. Between us we will celebrate Her Majesty's birthday in right royal style.

Brief and Decisive Opinions About Diamond Dyes.

Mrs. Chas. Hutchings, Jones' Falls, Ont., writes:

"Have used several packages of your Diamond Dyes and find them better than any other make; they never fade or crock, and are entirely satisfactory."

Mrs. John Merrits, Sandy Cove, N. S., says:

"Have used Diamond Dyes for over seven years and have found them great economy."

THE C.P.R.'s ALL LINE

Between Montreal and Ottawa Is to Be Opened in June.

Montreal, April 12.—The new Canadian Pacific air line between here and Ottawa, better known as the Montreal & Ottawa Railway, will be opened for the through passenger traffic in June. It is now practically completed to the outskirts of the capital. Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, vice president of the C.P.R., stated yesterday that all that remains to be done is to arrange for terminals. The C.P.R. does not contemplate running the transcontinental trains over it, at least not in the near future, but the road will be available at all times to relieve the congestion on the main line. This new link between Montreal and Ottawa, as Mr. Shaughnessy pointed out, is shorter by four or five miles than any existing road. The gradients and construction were designed with the object of making it a fast passenger line between the two cities.

McNicoll Goes to New York.

Mr. D. McNicoll, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left last night for New York to attend to-day's meeting of the sub-committee of the Joint Traffic Association, when steps will be taken to settle the railway passenger war. Mr. McNicol is the chairman of the sub-committee. The G.T.R. will be represented by Mr. W. E. Davis, its general passenger agent.

SPAIN TO THE CUBANS

Captain-General Blanco's Armistice Proclamation.

YIELDED TO THE POPE'S WISH.

The Contents of the Document That Raises the Strife in Cuba for a Day or Two at Least—Effect of the Proclamation to Be Forthwith—Madrid Excited.

New York, April 12.—The World publishes the following from Havana: General Blanco has received from Madrid instructions to give out the edict granting an armistice. He has asked with whom he shall carry on negotiations. When a reply is received from Sagasta he will publish the edict. Public opinion is undecided while waiting for explanations. Nevertheless, patriotism is on the increase. Volunteers while drilling yesterday morning shouted through the streets, "Viva Espana!" "Viva Cuba Espanola!"

Heavy carts go by, loaded with cannon and ammunition. War preparations go on in spite of the nearness of peace. Nevertheless, Havana promises to keep quiet to the end. Diario Marina and El Pais, in prominent editorials, attack General Lee and Captain Sigsbee for their behavior in Cuba.

Gen. Blanco's Proclamation.

Washington, April 12.—The State Department yesterday received General Blanco's proclamation ordering a cessation of hostilities in Cuba. It was cabled to the Spanish Minister here, and by him delivered to the department. The proclamation is as follows:

"His Majesty's Government, yielding to the reiterated wish expressed by his Holiness the Pope, has been pleased to decree a suspension of hostilities with the object of preparing and facilitating the restoration of peace on the Island, in virtue whereof I believe it convenient to order:

"From the day following the receipt in each locality of the present proclamation hostilities are ordered to be suspended in all the territory of the Island of Cuba.

"The details for the execution of the above article will be the object of special instructions that will be communicated to the several commanders-in-chief of the army corps for easy and prompt execution, according to the situation and circumstances of the case. (Signed) Blanco."

WILL NOT GIVE UP CUBA.

On No Account Will Spain Relinquish Suzerainty of the Island.

New York, April 12.—A despatch to the World from Vienna says: The Marquis de Hoyos, the Spanish ambassador to the Court of Vienna, said to the World correspondent: "If Washington insists upon Cuba's independence we must draw the sword and fight till the last drop of blood for the integrity of the Spanish possessions. Spain desires peace. If she has war with America all Europe will suffer. The war will extend over every sea, and first of all to Cuba. To offer a truce to Cuba would be to renounce all authority over her. Only the Cuban Colonial Assembly can decide Cuba's fate. Spain is prepared to grant the fullest autonomy, but cannot, must not, renounce suzerainty."

CARLISTS ACTIVE.

One of the Leaders Arrested Along With a Hundred Others.

Madrid, April 12.—The most important arrest politically made in connection with the demonstrations of yesterday was that of Baron Sangarren, a Carlist leader and former Deputy. It is reported that the Romeroists, Republicans and Carlists were at the bottom of the manifestation, the Carlists taking the principal part.

Over one hundred arrests were made during the disturbances. Among the persons taken into custody, in addition to Baron Sangarren, were Senor Galves, a former Deputy; General Castelvi de Bourbon and many newspaper men. The police scattered the crowds, who attempted to re-form at the Purta del Sol at midnight. Some persons were injured. The Prefect yesterday published a proclamation urging the people to be calm, and adding that the demonstrations yesterday were instigated by a political party. Complete quiet prevails here this morning, but the precautions have not been relaxed.

PORT MAHON FORTIFIED.

All Vessels Notified That Torpedoes Have Been Laid in the Harbor.

Madrid, April 12.—The naval commander of Port Mahon, capital of Minorca, one of the Balearic Islands, has issued notice that torpedoes have been laid to defend the port. No vessel will be allowed to enter before 6 o'clock in the morning. They must remain outside, awaiting instructions.

Port Mahon is a fortified town and the residence of the military Governor of the Balearic Islands. It has extensive manufactories of shoes for the Cuban trade, and is one of the best and most commodious ports in the Mediterranean.

Spanish Troops on the Move.

London, April 12.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Gibraltar says that the Spanish cruisers Cristobel Colon and Infanta Maria Theresa have left Cadiz for a destination undivulged, with six battalions, each a thousand strong. Additional troops, the despatch asserts, will leave Cadiz by the mail steamers during the next few days for Cuba.

The Pope Is Delighted.

London, April 12.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily News says that the Pope, being awakened and furnished with the news of the granting of the armistice, declared that it was one of the greatest pleasures of his latter years, and expressed a confident hope of warding off war.

Powers Will Support Spain.

London, April 12.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says: According to the ambassadors, the powers will be ready to give Spain a certain amount of support, should America maintain an attitude of hostility. The Spanish Ministers declare themselves very hopeful of a speedy pacification of Cuba.'

British Coal Carrier Chartered.

Philadelphia, April 12.—The British steamship Hempstead has been chartered to carry 2,800 tons of coal to the Cape Verd Islands, the present rendezvous of the Spanish torpedo flotilla. This circumstance is unusual, as heretofore all coal shipments to these islands have been supplied from Cardiff.

Passed the Canary Islands.

Teneriffe, Canary Islands, April 12.—The Spanish armored cruisers Cristobel Colon and Maria Teresa have passed this island, going south.

A battalion of Spanish infantry and two batteries of mountain artillery have arrived here.

Ministry Strongly Sustained.

Madrid, April 12.—The result of the Senatorial elections is that 140 Ministerialists have been elected out of 180 Senators voted for.

COMMENTS ON THE MESSAGE.

The British Press Speak Frankly on President McKinley's Deliverance—It Is Generally Commendatory.

London, April 12.—The Daily News, commenting editorially upon the President's message to Congress, says:

The message is a vigorous and able document. Undoubtedly it means war, unless Spain agrees to make final terms with the insurgents and recall her troops from Cuba. It must convince Europe that the cause for American intervention is a very strong one. President McKinley's refusal to recognise the independence of Cuba on the ground that it would nullify America's claim to interfere, is sound sense and a staggerer for the jingoes; but Spain must loyally co-operate with him if war is to be averted.

The Standard says: "The undisguised disappointment of the jingoes at the subdued and cautious tone of the message cannot fail to cheer the friends of peace. Assuming an obligation to send the message at all, one could hardly have been drafted on lines less calculated to cause superfluous offence. It is a pity, however, looking to the attitude of Spain, that President McKinley could not have further postponed the message."

The Times says: "The message is not couched in strong language, though it leads up to a policy which involves a harsh judgment, although one justified by the sentiment of the civilized world on the treatment of Cuba." After expressing a fear that Spain's offer of an armistice comes too late, the Times comments upon the "grave responsibility which President McKinley throws upon Congress." It thinks that if debate could be suspended for a week, there might be a chance of peace; and it expresses regret that President McKinley "surrendered his initiative," adding: "He was fully entitled to keep the question in his own hands and thus to have gained time, an indispensable condition of peace."

The Morning Post says: "The studious vagueness of the message except in that it plainly notifies Spain to choose between war and the abandonment of Cuba to such a future as may seem good to the United States, tells the world surprisingly little. There is not a word to suggest that Spain has in any way sinned against the United States or infringed international law. The crisis arises from the determination of the American Government to depart from Washington's precepts and to meddle in the affairs of a foreign country."

The Daily Chronicle says: "President McKinley has made many efforts for peace, but this is greater and bolder than any of them. His message calls a halt by throwing upon Congress the entire and solemn responsibility of making war. We believe, however, that the situation is not materially changed. War is still inevitable unless Spain makes concessions she has hitherto shown no disposition to make."

The Daily Graphic thinks the President's message bound to lead to war. It says:

"Spain will, of course, resist intervention and war will result. But the duty of the United States lies none the less in the path now marked out for her by the President."

The Daily Mail and the Daily Telegraph admit that the message leaves the question of immediate war undetermined, but declare the eventuality of war certain, "as it is impossible for Spain to accept the only condition which will avert war."

A SEE-SAW BATTLE.

Phillipine Insurgents Made a Capture, But Were Afterwards Repulsed.

Madrid, April 12.—Despatches from Manila say that the insurgents captured Cebu, but were expelled later by the Spanish garrison, with an insurgent loss of 500. The Spanish losses are described as insignificant.

While getting off the train it started before Mrs. Hall was off, and she fell down and had one foot taken off, and the toes of the other one. Amputation took place the same night, and there are but slight hopes of her recovery.

A Relic From the Maine.

Messrs. A. Mercer & Co. has furnished us a copy of the following interesting letter which has been forwarded to the manufacturers of the Columbia bicycle in Hartford, Conn., by Captain Sigsbee, of the United States battleship Maine, which was blown up in Havana harbour:

Washington, D.C., March 30, 1897.

The Pope Manufacturing Co., Hartford, Con.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to present to your Company my Columbia wheel, which was down in the Maine for some days, when it was sent up by a diver who was clearing away wreckage. I bought the wheel in June 1895, when I was much run down in health by confinement to official duties. The wheel changed all that and has been a friend indeed. It has been all that your Company claims in every respect. During its use, the tires were punctured once slightly, and once cut severely on a new shell road; otherwise, the wheel was in perfect order up to the time the Maine sunk. Since it now has some historical value, I trust you will accept it.

Yours very truly,

O. D. SIGSBEE,

Captain, U.S.N.

EVANGELIST VARLEY SPEAKS ON SIN

TO A LARGE CONGREGATION IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

He Likens Leprosy to a Moral Sin, Palsy to an Intellectual One and Fever to an Abnormal Disease to which all are Liable.

St. Paul's church was well filled last evening, the occasion being an open meeting of the County Christian Endeavour Union, addressed by Mr. Henry Varley, the English evangelist, who is conducting a series of meetings in town during the week.

For his text last night Mr. Varley took a portion of the 8th chapter of St. Mathew, referring to three instances of healing in which the Saviour had acted. The fifth, sixth and seventh chapters, he pointed out, dealt with the wisdom of the Almighty, while the eighth gave instances of His power, the two thoughts making a perfect sphere and showing how competent the Lord Jesus Christ is to teach.

The first case of healing in the chapter is the case of the leper, one who was afflicted with a disease of the blood. The next was that of a man sick with the palsy—a disease of the brain; and the last was that of a woman laid low with the fever—an abnormal condition but one to which

ALL ARE LIABLE.

These three sicknesses in the spiritual life would affect the moral, the intellectual, and that which came of drinking, covetousness, wine and women—aye, look out, I pray you against the last, which is the fever.

Leprosy is as sin—a terrible disease, which lays hold of the sons and daughters of men everywhere. Leprosy is a disease of the blood—so is sin.

You can see it in the pure faced girl or in the little boy telling a lie or doing some act of deceit. Don't call this childish folly.

Sin couldn't come out of a child if it wasn't in it. It was said "Thou shall call his name Jesus, because he shall save his people from their sin." Sin is therefore in all.

There is no cure for leprosy. It is a hideous and most offensive disease. None can go near those affected. It is slow but sure in its progress. It may start in the hand, the foot, the head or inside, and progress until it eats out the vitals.

Sinner! I tell you that you will grow worse and worse until you are not only separated from your fellowmen but from the living God. There is no cure. It is like leprosy. Sin cannot leave you of its own accord or by chance. It is the nature of everything as in the case of a tainted joint of meat. A sinner cannot grow better. Beware of the awful curse of sin. It will, like the leprosy, get into your being until you are like a very charnal house. Nothing can cure it but contact with the blessed Son of God.

In connection with sin women can be the grandest saviours of men, or the greatest curse we have. Sin is an eternal mother, as Joseph Cook says. She breeds. Sin reproduces itself. God does not know anything about our comparisons in sin. A self willed disobedient girl is the same to Him as a murderess, and any fair lady in this church who has envy in her heart is put by Him in the same light as the adulteress.

Sin is the abominable thing God hates. If sin is pleasant to you beware. The saddest thing I have to say of my fellowman is that we bring him face to face with his Saviour, and he does not want him.

The time will never come when you will be

UNCONSCIOUS OF SIN.

Jesus Christ saves from the power of sin, but if sin has power over you, then you are not saved. He saves from the result of sin, not from its presence. If we say we have no sin, we are deceiving ourselves and the truth is not in us, but if we confess our sins, we are cleansed from all unrighteousness.

We will now deal with the man who was sick with the palsy.

If a man's moral nature is bad his spiritual nature is worse.

Many a man will tell you that the Bible is full of contradictions. That man is palsied. I have been a student of the Bible for forty years, and I say that man is a liar and the truth is not in him. There are some passages which are beyond my comprehension, but I may say that the Bible presents few difficulties to me.

No man can give way to sumptuous living and lead a spiritual life.

Can you tell me of any girl who is fond of waltzing and who is worth ten cents as a Sunday School teacher? No. They are palsied and infirm. The girls should not wear ornaments. Beauty unadorned is adorned the most. It is a pity to gild gold. Don't go to the jeweler to

DECK YOU OUT.

Passing on we come to Christ's visit to Peter's house, where his mother lay sick of a fever.

Fever is not of the blood nor is it of the brain. It will, however, affect both. It will fire the blood and attack the brain. It is an abnormal condition. When convalescing great care is taken of a patient. The bed clothes are frequently burned to avoid contagion. Too great care cannot be taken in connection with fever at any stage.

O, young sister, beware of the common fever of insatiable love of pleasure—the terrible and inordinate love of pleasure. To have a good time seems to be the one idea of life. It is not God's idea. Love the work of home. Be a helper. Beware of the fever of the cheap novelette. Beware of the desire to read until ten and eleven at night. Beware of being

SHOWY AND SUPERFICIAL.

Beware, young man, of gambling. Beware of the fever of dice and cards and the winning of what does not belong to you. It is not in the nature of things to be able to make money quickly. Ask of the farmer, when planting his grain, if he has not to wait many, many months before the harvest. All nature protests against gambling. The gambling fever is as bad as the war fever. Beware of the fever contracted by drinking.

Of all contemptible things I know it is the contemptible issues of sin. I do thank my Lord for his protest against the fever.

Many a young girl has gone to bed simply through the fever of undisciplined social affections. Never for a moment did she think where she would end when she first gave way to the impulses of her affections. You can never tell where a fever will lead.

Having dealt with the moral evils, the intellectual evils and the evils to which all are exposed, the speaker closed with a warning against, particularly to the young, to avoid sin and look for all on high.

The usual addresses including Mr. Varley has meetings were held on Dr. Torrance on St. Peter's, Rev. A. T. Dykeman on the Methodist church, Rev. S. J. Hunter on the George street Methodist, and Rev. J. C. Patton at St. Andrew's.

The evangelist meeting will be again held in St. Paul's this evening.

T.V.C. DEPUTATION.

Arrangements Being Made for a Large Delegation to go to Ottawa and Interview the Government.

The Joint Committee of the town council, comprising Councillors Langford, Allen, McWilliams, Best, Maldrum, Dawson and the mayor, conferred last evening with a similar number of a committee of the Board of Trade, composed of Messrs. Mulholland, McBain, Fair, Dumble, Stratton, Matthews and the president of the board, Mr. Carnegie.

After a general discussion as to the progress of the Trent Valley Canal, it was decided that the municipalities along the line of the canal be communicated with by the town clerk, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, who was appointed the secretary of the committee, with a view to sending representatives to Ottawa at a date to be fixed during the first week of May, for the purpose of urging upon the Government the placing under contract of additional sections of the canal.

An animated discussion took place as to the resolutions of the half-dozen members of the Toronto Board of Trade, who passed their opinion on this important work, and a revival of the Trent Valley Canal Association was discussed.

Mr. J. R. Stratton was asked by the committee to communicate with the Minister of Railways and Canals requesting that a deputation be given a hearing before the Government on the 3rd, 4th or 5th of May. Upon a date being fixed, it is the intention of the Joint Committee to have a large deputation, composed of representatives from the various municipalities along the line of the canal, wait upon the Government and urge the completion of the work.

Among others present during the evening were Messrs. H. LeBrun, R. B. Rogers, R. Neil, Wm. White, John M. White and H. S. Macdonald.

See Grafton & Co's Bicycle Suit, unlined, sacque coat, short pants, cap to match, in all the leading patterns and colourings in tweed, ranging in price from $2.95 to $5.95. See our north window of them.

The opportunity presented by this sale will be a boon to housekeepers and others, as prices are all below regular figures.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

"The Geisha."

The Japanese musical comedy, "The Geisha," will be presented at the Bradburn opera house, next Monday night, April 18th. "The Geisha" is the greatest operatic success of the past two years. It was written by Owen Hall and Harry Greenback, with the sparkling music by Sidney Jones. The theme is as light as the songs and the score. It is the tale of a "tea house," and it appeals to the galleries as well as the parquet. One of the most fetching numbers in it is the chrysanthemum music with harp obligato in Act II. Worthy of mention is the song of "The Amorous Gold Fish," and "The Jewel of Asia," but the song that took the roof off of Daly's theatre in New York was "Jack's the Boy for Me." That song has been demanded as much as nine times in one evening at Daly's. This production is the original as produced in London and New York.

THE MOULDERS' BALL.

As Usual it Passed off Most Successfully—A Large Number Present.

The annual ball of the iron-moulders, cut was held last evening in the Opera House, which was so lavishly decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion that the hall never looked prettier or more attractive. Butcher's orchestra was in attendance and the affair passed off with the easeness which always characterizes the balls given under the auspices of the popular moulders. The committee which conducted the management with such signal success was composed of Messrs. Robert Scott, chairman; Robert Mulligan, secretary; John Robertson, treasurer; F. Turner, C. Theobald, Jas. Crowe, James Hatcher, John Wilson, Jas. E. Johnston and E. K. Ward. Supper was served at the National Hotel. Quite a large number of guests were present from adjacent towns.

Severe Bronchitis Yields Promptly to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

I used your Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for severe attacks of Bronchitis. I got better from the time of taking the first dose. Having a family of young children, my doctor's bills have annually come to a considerable sum. I believe a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup occasionally will aid me in reducing them very materially.

MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

Proposals for a New Structure—Four Designs Prepared.

At a meeting of the Joint Committee of the town and county of Peterborough, held on Saturday last, Mr. John E. Belcher, C. E., county engineer, submitted the several plans and specifications he had prepared in accordance with the instructions of the county council and the Joint Committee of the county and town, for a bridge over Mud Lake. Mr. Belcher prepared four designs, one being for a crossing at Tindle's Landing, about one mile and a half above Bridgenorth, two others being for a crossing from the Communication Road, at Fobert's, one plan suggesting a roadway embankment across the entire width of the lake, and the other a part part fill and part floating bridge, the fourth being a design to complete the already in part constructed new floating bridge at its present position. After some discussion as to the several sites, that which apparently found favour with the committee was the plan showing part embankment and part floating bridge from Fobert's at an approximate cost of $25,000, and it was resolved to apply to the Government to obtain a grant towards it.

Mr. Innes, P.L.S., also, on behalf of the township of Eanismore, submitted a plan for a bridge from Fobert's site, which was also for a part embankment and part floating.

THE POETRY OF THE FRENCH CANADIAN.

An Eloquent Address by Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan.

Those who were present at the Catholic Association rooms last evening enjoyed a literary treat of a very high order in the address of Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan on "The Poetic Character of the French Canadian."

The musical portion of the programme opened with a well executed piano solo by Miss M Butler. Miss M. Dunn contributed two sweetly sung solos, as did also Master Judge. Messrs. Ed. Graham and D. Simons introduced some clever specialties, which were greatly enjoyed. During the evening Miss M. Brennan recited a number of Dr. Drummond's poems in a creditable manner.

The address of Rev. Father O'Sullivan was an eloquent and scholarly one in every respect, and worthy of the attention which it will receive at a future date.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, in moving a vote of thanks to the reverend gentleman for the beautiful and well delivered lecture which they had just heard, felt sure that they had all enjoyed it and that it had opened up for them a new field of thought in revealing to them the French Canadian character in a true light. Dr. Drummond's poems, the speaker said, were not inferior in beauty of sentiment and expression to those of Burns or Moore, and were well worthy of the praise that the poet laureate of Lower Canada bestowed upon them. He advised all to read them. English people do not understand the French character, because the do not understand their language. It can be said in praise of the French Canadian members of the House that, as a rule, they can express themselves with ease in both languages, and it is the pride of French Canadians that the Premier of Canada speaks such beautiful English.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. R. J. Winch is in Toronto visiting friends.

Mrs. W. H. Wrighton and Miss Wrighton, McDonel street, returned from Toronto last evening.

Miss Mabel Metheral has returned to town, after spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. John Whitelaw and his daughter, Louise, of Cobourg, were in town yesterday on their way home from Lindsay.

Mr. Neil McIntyre, of Orillia, the News-Letter says, has gone to Peterborough to take a position in the Hamilton Works.

Dr. Bingham has resumed the practice of his profession in Peterborough and has opened his office three doors east of his former office on Hunter street, upstairs. The doctor has spent the last nine months in Toronto, visiting the hospitals of the city and seeing what was new in the healing art. His many friends will be pleased to see him again taking up his residence in our midst.

It will be learned with regret as well as pleasure that Mr. Wm. Manson, Manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been promoted to the management of the most important branch of the bank in Toronto. Mr Manson has been a resident of Peterborough for about eighteen years, and has always taken a deep interest in the commercial affairs of the town. While his many friends congratulate Mr. Manson upon his well deserved promotion, they will join in regretting the circumstance that removes him from the town.

EASTER VESTRY MEETINGS

HELD IN ST. JOHN'S AND ST. LUKE'S.

A Summary of the Proceedings—Election of Wardens and Officers for the Ecclesiastical Year—Interesting Matters Dealt With.

ST. JOHN'S.

The Easter vestry meeting of St. John's was held last night in the school house, with an unusually large attendance of the vestry and congregation. The rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, presided and conducted the opening devotions.

After reading and adoption of the minutes of last meeting, the rector expressed the great pleasure it gave him to see so large an attendance of the members of the congregation. He spoke of the great interests of the church to be considered at the annual vestry meeting. He would defer any report of the clerical work of the year till a future meeting, to be held a fortnight hence. After referring to the stringency of the times, which had their influence, he remarked that in spite of the discouragement incidental to such a condition, the speaker had to acknowledge with warm gratitude the splendid response made by this congregation, as well as All Saints, on Easter Day. All Saints was now firmly on its feet and doing splendid agressive work. This circumstance, which was something to be deeply grateful for, naturally threw a large responsibility in financial matters upon St. John's, and he felt sure that the congregation would be prepared to recognise the responsibility which the changed conditions entailed.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

was then presented. The receipts included $568 98 from the general offertory; $995.58, envelopes; $825.62, pew rents; $30.65 from miscellaneous sources. This made a total of $2,413 83 for home church purposes. The expenditure on this account was $2,241 13. The addition made to the School House building fund was $280 78. The Synod collections amounted to $323 56. The disbursements included $1,538 75 for salaries and $702.60 for general expenses.

In commenting on the report, Mr. Long, people's warden, pointed out that the Synod assessment had been much larger than last year, and that of the amount of money collected there was less available for local church purposes. All the bills of the year, with one or two minor exceptions, and all the interest, had been paid.

Mr. Belcher, Rector's warden, spoke warmly of the excellent work and great efforts of his co-warden, Mr. Long. He had done excellent work in keeping the finances in proper shape, and it was largely to this that the fact was due that the retiring wardens were able to leave a clean sheet, with practically all current claims paid, and with a balance of $5 to the good.

Mr. Poussette pointed out that it was a pleasant thing to see that the receipts this year for home church purposes were considerably in excess of the expenditure, $175.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

In introducing the matter of the election of officers, the Rector very warmly and heartily expressed his most grateful and earnest thanks to the church wardens of the year, for the splendid manner in which they had discharged the difficult duties of their office. He especially spoke of the great satisfaction he had felt in the wisdom of the congregation last year in appointing in his absence Mr. Belcher as Rector's church warden. He could best show his appreciation of Mr. Belcher's services by asking him to again accept the position of Rector's Warden.

Mr. Fred Foote was nominated as people's church warden, seconded by Mr. Pearse. Mr. Foote declined to be a candidate.

Mr. H. Long, nominated by Mr. Dennistoun, in declining, expressed his cordial thanks for the kindness he had received during his four years tenure of the office of church warden. He was free to acknowledge that what success had attended his efforts was due to the loyal support he had received from the congregation.

On motion of Mr. Poussette, seconded by Dr. Boucher, Mr. P. Campbell was nominated and unanimously elected people's church warden.

Mr. Belcher, in thanking the Rector for the flattering terms in which he had named him as his church warden, spoke of the arduous nature of the duties of the position, and suggested that in spite of the handsome things said about him by the Rector, he would be inclined not to accept the office if he had not been given so efficient a financial colleague as Mr. Campbell.

The following gentlemen were elected sidesmen:—Messrs. Jos. Mills, W. Hinchcliffe, H. S. Greenwood, F. Foote, Macfarlane Wilson and G. A. Smith. Messrs. Edg. Pearse and R. M. Dennistoun were appointed auditors for the year.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

The following gentlemen were appointed an Advisory Committee to act with and advise the church wardens: Dr. Boucher, Dr. Halliday and Messrs. F. Foote, H. Long, H. Rush and Edg. Pearce.

Mr. A. N. Clarke was re-appointed vestry clerk.

SCHOOL HOUSE EXTENSION.

Miss Alma McCollum, on behalf of the officials, teachers and pupils of St. John's Sunday school, presented a memorial to the Vestry, pointing out the great necessity of providing more accommodation. There were 200 pupils that had to be accommodated with a seating capacity for 180. There were no facilities for separate instruction of the infant classes. To show the bona fides of the petitioners, the offer was made to pay the interest on $300 as their share of the cost of the new or enlarged building, and they were also willing to devote the bequest of $500 of Mrs. Nicholls to the purpose of the building. The memorial was received.

Mr. Dennistoun moved, seconded by Mr. Poussette, that this Vestry appropriate the sum of $3,500 to increase the Sunday school accommodation and that the matter of ways and means be referred to the Advisory Committee, with instructions to report at the adjourned Vestry meeting.

After a spirited discussion, the motion was carried.

A PLEASING EPISODE.

A decidedly pleasant and popular conclusion of the meeting was represented by Mr. J. E. Belcher, the Rector's churchwarden, reading the following address:

To Mr. Harry Long:

DEAR SIR,—We, the undersigned members of the congregation of St. John's church of the Town of Peterborough and Diocese of Toronto, desire to express our most hearty appreciation of the faithful, unswerving and zealous manner in which you have fulfilled the duties devolving on you as the people's church warden during the past four years.

As you have expressed your intention of retiring from that honourable position, we are encouraged to hope that you will still continue to evince that warm interest in the church and its affairs you have ever shown.

As a material memento of past pleasant and

BRITAIN WOULD BE ON HAND

If a European Coalition Should Be Formed Against the United States.

London, April 11.—There is much interest here in the privateering aspect of the expected hostilities between the United States and Spain, and the exploits of the Alabamas on both sides will be eagerly followed. It is hoped that the adventures resulting will lead the United States and Spain to sign the Declaration of Paris. The general impression is that the prospective combatants, while issuing letters of marque, will respect neutral goods on their enemy's ships, and their enemy's goods on board neutral ships.

Commenting upon the situation, the Spectator says: "While the continental powers of Europe do not love the American republic, they would not be so mad as to risk a war with the whole Anglo-Saxon race, and that would be the outcome, for, if America should be attacked by a continental coalition, England would be at her side in 24 hours."

BAD FIRE AT ORILLIA.

The News-Letter Office and Canadian Workman Burned Out.

Orillia, April 11.—Fire broke out Saturday afternoon in the Orillia News-Letter and Canadian Workman printing offices, and before the blaze was extinguished the second flat, in which were the press and composing rooms, was entirely gutted. About 28,000 copies of this month's issue of the Canadian Workman had been sent out, and the presses were still working on the edition when the fire started. The fire brigade did excellent service, but notwithstanding this the loss will be several thousand dollars; insured.

Two Little Boys Burned to Death.

Halifax, N.S., April 11.—The house of Alex McDonald, farmer and millowner, at Mull River, N.S., was destroyed by fire on Good Friday night, and two little boys, aged 7 and 8, were burned to death. The father was so badly burned about the head and face while getting his children out of the house that he will probably die. A little girl, who jumped from a window, was also badly injured. The mother and six children escaped without injury.

A Million Dollar Loss.

Sacramento, Cal., April 11.—The pattern storehouse of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, a large three storey building, was entirely gutted by fire Saturday night, and the loss is anywhere from $900,000 to $1,000,000. There were at least 40,000 patterns in the building, and all were consumed. It is estimated that it will take 20 men 25 years to duplicate the patterns destroyed.

Mysterious Fire at Colborne.

Colborne, April 11.—A mysterious fire occurred here Saturday about 6 o'clock, when Mr. John L. Yeomans' livery stables, with some contents, were totally consumed. Mr. Yeomans' loss will be considerable, as he had no insurance.

Blaze at Belleville.

Belleville, April 11.—A part of the stabling at the Agricultural Grounds was destroyed by fire Saturday night. Loss, $1,200; insured in the Norwich Union for $800.

Died on the Mission Field.

Oakville, April 11.—James Hunter of this place has received a letter from T. W. Krerger, Mombasa, British East Africa, conveying the intelligence that his brother-in-law, J. S. Teol, who left Oakville in 1896 to engage in missionary work in East Africa, had died at Mombasa while awaiting a steamer to take him home.

A card on the outside of office door says, "Gone to lunch—be back in ten minutes," and the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach, and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten minute lunches condensed.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.

THE OUTRAGE AT WYCHWOOD.

Mr. Levick Has Recovered Consciousness, But Stupor Is Strong Yet.

Toronto, April 11.—The villainous outrage on Mr. Joseph Levick on Thursday night at his home at Wychwood has created much excitement in the neighborhood and surrounding districts, and Sunday scores of people visited the scene of the occurrence.

The injured man has not yet recovered from the stupor that followed from the attack, and was restless, making frequent allusion to the pains in his head. He has been unable to take but the slightest nourishment, but it is thought that with returning consciousness he will rally and pull through.

From further particulars obtained, it seems that the assailants were hidden in an outdoor closet adjoining the dwelling. A shed close by carries a large surface bespattered with blood.

County Constable Stewart said yesterday afternoon that no arrests had been made.

IS IT MURDER?

A Tragedy in Montreal That Has Caused the Arrest of Three Men.

Montreal, April 11.—A terrible tragedy occurred about 2 o'clock Sunday morning on Aylmer street, in the north of the city. John Clifford, 75 years of age, a wealthy restaurant keeper, was killed in a row by Joseph O'Meara, a well-known young Montrealer. The killing happened in a house owned by Clifford, near his own residence, and occupied by Mrs. O'Hare, widow of the late T. O'Hare, who kept a grocery store. Clifford had had a seizure put on Mrs. O'Hare's goods for money due. During the night O'Meara, who is Mrs. O'Hare's brother, proceeded to remove the goods, and Clifford attempted to stop him. A row ensued, during which O'Meara struck Clifford over the head with a bottle and killed him. O'Meara, who has been placed under arrest, is well known in sporting circles, being a prominent lacrosse player. Micheal Hubbard and Sydney Elliott have also been arrested.

Paine's Celery Compound Cures

Nervous, Weak, Sick, and Broken-down Men and Women.

Has Saved Thousands from Agony, Suffering and the Grave.

The Great Spring Medicine that Cures When All Others Fail.

Eminent Professional Men, People of Wealth, and the Ordinary People Declare that Paine's Celery Compound Has No Equal.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

DEAR SIRS:—I take this opportunity to express my gratitude for the good that I and my friends have received from your valuable discovery, Paine's Celery Compound.

For years I have suffered from constant sick headache; at times I have been so bad that I have been unable to sleep two hours a night for weeks.

I have tried many medicines and doctored a great deal, but never received a hundredth part of the value from them that I have obtained from Paine's Celery Compound. After using three bottles I can sleep well, my headaches have ceased, and I feel healthier and fresher than I have done for years.

Being one of the earliest settlers in this place, I am known to all the surrounding country. I feel it a duty to let others know about the medicine that has done me so much good. I send this testimonial without any solicitation.

Yours with gratitude,
MRS. E. WILCOX, Creemore, Ont.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

DEAR SIRS,—It is with great pleasure that I testify to the value of your great medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. For nearly two years I suffered from indigestion, kidney and liver troubles. After trying several medicines that did not effect a cure I decided to try your Compound. Before using it I was so low in health that I could not eat or sleep. I could not lie in bed owing to pain in my back; it was only by resting on elbows and knees I was enabled to obtain a slight degree of ease. Before I had fully taken one bottle of your medicine I began to improve. I have now taken in all fourteen bottles with grand results. I am a farmer and am now working every day. Anyone may refer to to me in regard to these statements, or to any of my neighbours around Sheffield, where I am well known. I am a living witness to the worth of Paine's Celery Compound.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE J. SMYE, Sheffield, Ont.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

GENTLEMEN,—No living mortal can imagine the terrible sufferings that I endured for four years, owing to liver trouble, headache and sore back. I may say that in addition to the dangerous ailments just mentioned, I was continally sick at my stomach, with a sour taste and mouth all furred and coated. I tried many patent medicines, and was under the treatment of doctors, but received no benefit. I thank God for having heard of your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. I procured a supply and used it and experienced a great change. No other medicine ever gave me such wonderful results in so short a time. I now find myself a new women, and can sleep well and enjoy my food. No soul should despair when they can procure Paine's Celery Compound, the surest and best of all medicines.

Yours truly,
MRS. J. CURRIE,

MR. GLADSTONE.

The Grand Old Man Goes for a Walk on Saturday Afternoon.

London, April 11.—Mr. Gladstone passed a good night, got up earlier than usual and went out for a walk during Saturday afternoon.

Very Sad News Indeed.

New York, April 11.—The London correspondent of the Sun says: "The latest news of the aged statesman who is slowly dying at Hawarden is sad indeed. The best medical opinion is that the disease must reach a fatal termination within seven or eight weeks. In a younger man the final stage, as the disease progresses inward toward the brain, might be insanity. This will not probably be the case with Mr. Gladstone, whose vitality will not survive that point."

Fat is absolutely necessary as an article of diet. If it is not of the right kind it may not be digested. Then the body will not get enough of it. In this event there is fat-starvation.

Scott's Emulsion supplies this needed fat, of the right kind, in the right quantity, and in the form already partly digested.

As a result all the organs and tissues take on activity.

Snow Balling.

About one young woman in ten nowadays would dare to run out bare headed and bare handed and frolic and snow ball in midwinter. They have to be muffled up like hot-house flowers before they dare venture out in severe weather, and even then would shudder at the thought of rollicking in the snow as their grandmothers did.

The trouble lies in the fact that too few women enjoy perfect health and strength of the special womanly organism. A woman who is not well and strong locally cannot enjoy good general health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. It is the most perfect and scientific remedy ever devised for the peculiar ailments of women. It restores womanly power, strength and virility. It tones and builds up the nerves which have been shattered by suffering and disease. It corrects all irregularities and derangements and stops exhausting drains. It restores weak, nervous invalids to perfect health. It is intended for this one class of disorders and is good for no other. It is the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. No other known medicine can take its place.

"I have been troubled with female weakness that my physician called catarrh of the womb," writes Miss Tean Conner, of Catfish, Clarion Co., Pa. "I doctored for it and did not get better. At last I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I got better right along and when I had taken four bottles was cured. I recommended the 'Favorite Prescription' to a friend of mine. She has been using it and thinks it is wonderful."

Constipation is a little illness that if neglected builds a big one. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe.

[illegible] CALLS.

IN [illegible]S OF NARROW ESCAPES TOLD BY RAILWAY MEN.

A Locomotive's Remarkable Jump—The Sleeping Car Passenger on a Rough Road—Trains That Left the Track and Returned Running at Full Speed.

There is no question that well authenticated cases are on record where disastrous wrecks of railroad trains have been averted by almost seeming miracles. James E. White, general superintendent of the railway mail service at Washington, relates the particulars of a remarkable jump of 28 feet made by a locomotive. As Mr. White tells the story, it was on the 1st of September, 1892, when a New York and Chicago mail train on the New York Central, which was behind time and running at a very high rate of speed, reached New Hamburg, where a 28 foot draw of a bridge was open, which open space it is claimed the engine cleared and landed safely on the main portion of the bridge, the rest of the train going down through the opening. While the engine, it is said, made the leap of 28 feet in safety, the engineer and firemen, not having time to jump, were both killed. John H. Cain, a postal clerk, was killed, and M. E. Towney, clerk in charge, was seriously injured, the other postal clerks escaping unhurt.

While none of the local railroad men knows of any locomotives that are as good jumpers as White's or that do the bounding jockey act, some of them know of miraculous and hairbreadth escapes. Carlton Paris of the old Ohio and Mississippi for many years and more recently with the B. and O. S. W. tells that he and Ed Swift a number of years ago were riding on a train over the Ohio and Big Sandy road when an accident was narrowly averted. But let Paris tell the story:

"The road was about the roughest at that time I had ever ridden over. There were only a few passengers on the train. Swift and I were in the forward coach talking to the conductor when the solitary sleeping car passenger came staggering in and said: 'Mr. Conductor, your road is so rough I can't sleep in my berth. I have been pitched out of my berth twice in the last quarter of an hour. There must be something the matter.'

"The conductor picked up his lantern and said, 'Come on, and I'll go back with you and see what's wrong.' Swift and I sat where we were talking, and very soon we saw that the bellcord was being very violently pulled and the engineer was whistling for brakes. The train finally came to a standstill, and Swift and I kept our seats and kept on talking. As, after five minutes or more, there were no signs of the train going ahead, we concluded to go back and see what was the cause of the delay.

"The conductor and trainmen were grouped about the sleeper with their lanterns, and we soon found out that the sleeper had left the track and had been running over the ties for how far we never knew. The night was pitch dark and it was raining very hard. It took the men at least three hours to get the sleeper on the rails again. The wheels were very near the end of the ties, and had the train gone 100 yards farther the sleeper would have been off the ties and over a high embankment."

Frank Martin of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas said:

"I remember of a disastrous wreck being almost miraculously averted on the Memphis and Little Rock road along about 1883. A passenger train was traveling at a high rate of speed when the engine threw a piece of rail about three feet long out of the track. This piece of rail was thrown at least 25 feet from the track. Strange as it seems, the tender, baggage car, coaches and sleepers went over this place where the rail was out and gained the rail again without one of the cars leaving the track except when the wheels went down on to the ties at one end of the broken rail, only to mount the rail again at the other end of the track. About all the inconvenience the passengers experienced was a slight shaking."

Assistant General Passenger Agent Ryan said:

"I remember two instances when the lives of engineers and firemen were saved by a seeming intervention of Providence. A number of years ago a new trestle was being put in, and false works had been erected to permit of the temporary passage of trains. The workmen had failed to put in some necessary bolts. The first train that came along was a freight. As soon as the engine struck the false work it gave way, and down went the engine. The fall was one of 50 feet, and in falling the engine made a complete revolution and alighted on the ground upon its wheels right side up, and the engineer and fireman both escaped injury, although they were probably pretty badly jarred by the fall.

"The other case I know of is that of a train running at a good speed when the engine ran into a large rock that had fallen on the track just at the mouth of a tunnel. The impact caused the tender to bend up from the rear end and form a protecting hood over the engineer and fireman in the locomotive cab, and they were uninjured. Had this not occurred, they would either have been badly injure or had their lives crushed out."

Another passenger man said yesterday:

"When I was a sleeping car conductor on the old Bee line, about 30 years ago, the train was late, and we were going along at a pretty lively gait. We were within about five miles of Indianapolis when the engine and four cars jumped the track, and we thought there would be a smash up, but before the train could be stopped every wheel was again on the rails without the least damage being done to any part of the train or any of the passengers, barring the fright we all had."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and fearnestly thankful for my cure.

BRITISH SMUGGLERS.

Caves Along the Coast Wherein Their Contraband Goods Were Stored.

A very curious feature of the coasts of England, where rocky or wild, is the trenched and banked up paths from the caves along the coast. These are noticeable in Devon and Cornwall and along the Bristol channel. That terrible sea front consists of precipitous walls of rock, with only here and there a dip, whereas brawling stream has sawed its course down to the sea, and here there is, perhaps, a sandy shore of diminutive proportions, and the rocks around are pierced in all directions with caverns. The smugglers formerly ran their goods into these caves, when the weather permitted, or the preventive men were not on the lookout. They stowed away their goods in the caves and gave notice to the farmers and gentry of the neighborhood, all of whom were provided with numerous donkeys, which were henceforth sent down to the caches, and the kegs and bales were removed under cover of the night or of storm. As an excuse for keeping droves of donkeys it was pretended that the sea sand and the kelp served as admirable dressing for the land, and no doubt so they did. The trains of asses sometimes came up laden with sacks of sand, but not infrequently with kegs of brandy.

Now a wary preventive man might watch too narrowly the proceedings of these trains of asses. Accordingly squires, yeomen and farmers alike set to work to cut deep ways in the face of the downs, along the slopes of the hills, and bank them up so that the whole caravans of laden beasts might travel up and down absolutely unseen from the sea and greatly screened from the land side. Undoubtedly the sunken ways and high banks are a great protection against the weather. So they were represented to be, and no doubt greatly were the good folks commended for their consideration for the beasts and their drivers in thus at great cost shutting them off from the violence of the gale. Nevertheless it can hardly be doubted that concealment from the eyes of the coast guard was sought by this means quite as much, if not more, than the sheltering the beasts of burden from the weather.—South African Review.

A Nervous Woman.

"I was completely run down and had a bad cough due to bronchitis. I was very nervous but since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I have more appetite and feel a great deal better. I have also used Hood's Pills and find them very excellent." Mrs. M. Garland, 675 Crawford Street, Toronto, Ont.

Hood's Pills are easy to operate. Cure indigestion, headache.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS.

Are They a Detriment to the General Commanding an Army?

Everything in a campaign depends upon the general in command, upon his coolness, resourcefulness and rapidity of glance. He may be a man who dislikes correspondents, a dislike they are certain to return, and he feels therefore as if he were perpetually watched in the gravest crises by personal enemies, a feeling which would have been fatal to Marlborough or Eugene of Savoy, the two commanders most remarkable for immovable sang froid. Everybody is not born with the advertising spirit, and there are insects which under a burning glass feel torture instead of that enjoyment of warmth which the operator maintains they ought to feel. Imagine the condition of a general like Frederick the Great, whose main business during three years of his campaigning life was to repair defeat, with 50 "correspondents" in his camp reporting every disaster, every preparation and every execution of the incompetent or the unruly!

It would be maddening to such a general to know that the distribution of blame or fame did not depend upon himself, but would be taken out of his hands by writers not under his command, who would declare that an attack like that on Speicheren, which almost cost an army corps, was "superb" because it succeeded, or that the perhaps best general in the army was habitually a little late in issuing his commands. We do most seriously believe that there are officers of the highest merit in the British army from whom the country will never obtain the best service they are capable of performing because of the multitude of reporters in the camps. That is a thought which those who are responsible for armies are bound to ponder, and, knowing as they do its truth, we do not wonder that they doubt whether to interest the readers of newspapers is an advantage sufficient to outweigh so many risks.—London Spectator.

The Law Business.

"Haven't see you lately," said the first lawyer.

"No," replied the second lawyer. "We've moved."

"Where are you now?"

"Over in the Utopia building. Our firm's got a suit of seven offices."

"Seven offices? What can you possibly do with so many?"

"Well, they don't cost much. The office building business is overdone in this city. We've got a lot of desks, and we'll fill them up with clerks from the colleges. They don't cost anything at all."

"That's so," said the first lawyer, "and they ain't worth anything."

"True again," replied the second lawyer, "but they'll make a show and impress clients."

The law and the office building businesses seem to have fallen upon strange times, this being a true report of an actual conversation.—Buffalo Express.

Chicago on St. Louis.

"It's hard to die so young," said the turkey, "but I'm thankful for one thing anyway."

"What's that?" asked the oyster.

"I'm not to be served in St. Louis," replied the turkey, "so I'll not be eaten with a knife."—Chicago News.

Stained Glass Portraits.

Stained glass portraits are a favorite fad with women who can afford them. The queen of Italy has a beautiful stained glass portrait of herself, and it is said that Alma-Tadema is now making use of the same medium in a picture of the young Duchess of Marlborough.

Lindsay In Line

Many People In That Town Being Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Word has been received from Lindsay that Doan's Kidney Pills are curing people in that town of Backache, Kidney Disease, Bladder Weakness and Urinary Troubles.

Mr. Christopher Orsell, 4 William street, Lindsay, Ont., the well known proprietor of the handsome barber shop and bathrooms, and for over twenty years a resident in Lindsay says:

"For six years I have had serious kidney and urinary troubles with a great deal of pain over my hips, in the small of my back and in my shoulders. I was sometimes so sore that I could scarcely bear to touch myself, and felt tired and worn-out nearly all the time. My sleep was disturbed and did not rest me.

"Hearing DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS highly spoken of as a good medicine for kidney disease, I thought I would try them and got a box. That box gave me so much relief that I bought two more which I have taken, with the result that I now have no pain or urinary trouble of any kind. I sleep well and feel rested, the tired feeling is all gone, and I am very much stronger. I recommend them, not only as a cure for all kidney troubles, but as an excellent tonic and invigorator."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c a box, or 2 boxes for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto.

Port Colborne, Ont., April 11.—The first indication of navigation at this port was when the schooner J. F. THE DEAF HEAR.

DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE

Working Wonders in Toronto.

Gave MRS. BINDON her hearing when Specialists failed.

About 8 years ago, Mrs. Bindon, of 11 Maitland St., Toronto, was attacked with la Grippe, which affected her hearing to such an extent that she was completely deaf. It was a serious affliction and she tried many remedies and consulted a prominent specialist on ear diseases, but derived no benefit. By a happy circumstance she was led to use Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and before she had completed 2 boxes her hearing had partially returned.

She persisted in the application of the remedy, so confident was she of ultimate cure, and by the time 12 boxes had been used her hearing was completely restored. For 3 months now she has been free from deafness, and no emancipated sufferer was ever more delighted than Mrs. Bindon. On Sunday she goes to church and enjoys the service, a thing she was unable to do before Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure gave her back her hearing.

CANADA LIFE

Assurance Company.

ANOTHER PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Large Increase in Surplus.

The fifty first annual report of the Canada Life shows this old established Company to be in a most flourishing condition. The annual meeting was held yesterday. Following is a synopsis of the report:—

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

In presenting to the Shareholders their 51st Annual Report, the Directors are gratified in announcing that the Company has fairly shared in the somewhat improved condition of the business of the country, as will be seen by the Statements and Accounts now submitted. By these it will be observed that the Company has transacted a larger business than during the previous year, and has increased its clear surplus by no less than $497,098 05.

NEW BUSINESS.

The applications for new assurances during 1897 numbered 3,066, for the sum of $6,185,898, of which, however, 266 for $881,000 were declined, the lives not appearing up to that standard which it is in the interest of the company's other assurers should be maintained, and as 191 applications for $378,300 were not carried out, the issue of the year was for $5,991,636, under 2 609 policies, exceeding 1896 by 573 policies for $706,980.

The total business in force at the close of 1897 was $72,719,555 29 of Assurances, under 33,407 policies, upon 24,469 lives.

POLICY CLAIMS.

The claims by deaths paid during 1897 amounted to $770,168 45, and Endowment policies for $128,846 92, having matured, these sums, as well as $318,481.29 for profits, $145,411.18 for surrenders, and an annuity of $400, making in all $1,363,307 84, were paid to policyholders during the year.

INCREASE IN ASSETS.

The Income receipts of the year were $2,953,272.83, and deducting therefrom all payments to policy-holders for claims by death, for profits, and for matured Endowment policies, as well as other outlay, including expenses of management, there was left the sum of $1,272,486 05, which increased the Company's Assets to $18,678 915 67.

SURPLUS.

As appears by the Abstract of Assets and Liabilities, after providing fully for the necessary reserve for all policies of the Company, and for all its other Liabilities, there is shown a Surplus of $1,564,082 05.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President, Mr. A. G. Ramsay, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The Directors' Report and the usual accounts and statements have for some days been in your hands, and have now been taken as read. While the report is brief, it contains, I think, along with the various published accounts, all that is required to enable those interested in the Company to judge of its progress and success in the past year. The addition during 1897 of nearly half a million dollars to the surplus or profits fund is a large and satisfactory one, and without invidiously comparing it with the figures of any other particular Company, I may say that it is more than was attained by all the other Canadian companies combined. The new business of the year was, you will observe, of satisfactory and gratifying amount, and in excess of the previous year, and you will be pleased to know that it is of that desirable class which will result more to the profit of the Company than would a larger amount obtained at heavier expense, or from less desirable regions than the healthful climate of Canada, and the four Northern States to which we have thus far deemed it judicious to confine the operations of the Company. The existing assurances are $72,719,555 or nearly twice as much as they were 12 years ago. The death claims of the year continued of very favourable amount, and being well within what was calculated upon, that fact testifies to the care observed in the selection of the lives, and to the judicious limitation of the business to the healthful climates already alluded to.

The recent lamentable failures of some of the companies doing business on the assessment system, and the anxiety felt as to the others which are based upon the same fallacious principles lead me to point out that these occurrences are only the inevitable results, which were from the first predicted by those whose knowledge and experience enabled them to judge of what the future of companies of the kind must be. At our meeting in 1887, when concerns of the kind were making strenuous efforts to establish themselves in Canada, I alluded to the miserable failures they had been in England and in America, and I said that their "ephemeral existence indicates how useless the assessment system of assurance is as a family provision. It can only offer the uncertain hope of a cheap assurance for a few years, till the company breaks down. It cannot afford any guarantee that a definite amount of assurance will certainly be paid to a widow or children after an assurer's death, whether that occurs at an early day or a distant one, and without such a guarantee as that, which our own and other sound companies offer, life assurance must be a fraud and a delusion." I added that "I was aware that agents and managers of companies of the kind pointed to the names of prominent business and professional men who have joined them, or who act as their directors, but as some of them at all events allow their names to be employed in that way, simply because policies have been gratuitously given to them, one can judge how little weight should attach to the names of the gentlemen thus used to decoy others to join such companies." One cannot envy the feelings of the prominent gentlemen alluded to, who induced persons to take policies in companies of the kind, from which they are now driven out by their failure, or by the levy of such high payments as they are unable to meet.

As the accounts show, the year's income was within a trifle of three million dollars, and the assets of the company were increased to the very considerable amount of nearly nineteen million dollars, and yielding, after deducting liabilities of every kind, a net surplus or profit of $1,564,082 for allocation at the end of next year, along with whatever addition there may be made to it between now and that time, and as the management and other expenses by which the profits to policy-holders are very largely influenced continue to be on a more moderate percentage than that of other Canadian or American companies, the prospects for our assurers are of a favourable character.

It is anticipated that legislation will be introduced by the Government, modifying the present 4½ per cent. rate of interest prescribed by law as the basis for Life Assurance Reserves, and adopting the new mortality Tables based upon the observations and large experience of the British Insurance Companies, in course of compilation by the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, and I may say on behalf of the Board in reference to the amendment to the charter, alluded to in the Directors report of last year, that the Directors purpose to avail themselves of the occasion of that legislation to seek such amendments to the law as may meet the Board's requirements.

The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Gates, Vice-President, and unanimously carried. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the agents, officers, medical and legal advisers of the company, Mr. Adam Brown speaking in eloquent terms of their services rendered to the Company.

Mr. Leggat moved and Lieut.-Col. McLaren seconded a hearty vote of thanks to the President and Directors for their attention to the interests of the Company during the past year. Brief and interesting addresses were also made by Sir George Kirkpatrick and Sir George Burton, the latter of whom was heartily congratulated upon the recent honour conferred upon him by the Queen.

The retiring Directors, Chief Justice Sir George Burton, Col. Sir Casimer Gzowski, K.C.M.G., and Mr. N. Leggat, were re-elected. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. A. G. Ramsay was re-elected President and Mr. F. W. Gates Vice-President.

The meeting passed off very harmoniously, every one present being gratified with the progress and continued prosperity of the Canada Life, which, as Sir George Kirkpatrick remarked, was easily leader of all Companies in the Dominion.

EASTER VESTRY MEETING.

profitable relations which have existed between yourself as the Warden of the congregation of St. John's and ourselves, we desire your acceptance of this little gift.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

J O DAVIDSON, Rector.

J E ENGLEHART, Rector's Warden.

Peterborough, Easter Monday, April 11th, 1898.

Mr. Long, in a few suitable words, very warmly acknowledged the kindly sentiments of the address and the "little gift" referred to.

This was a beautiful epergne of cut glass, and silver, and Mr. Long's well known passion for flowers was symbolized in the use to which the handsome gift is devoted. It bore the following inscription engraved on the silver pedestal:

"Presented to Harry Long, Esq., Warden of St. John's church, Peterborough, in grateful appreciation of valuable services—1894-1898."

The meeting closed in the usual way, and immediately a congregational meeting was convened for the election of lay delegates to the Synod. The following were chosen: Messrs. H. Rash and Harry Long.

The meeting adjourned for two weeks.

ST. LUKE'S.

There was a large attendance of the members of St. Luke's church at the Vestry meeting last night, including many ladies. The Rector presided, and opened the meeting with prayer. After the reading and confirmation of the minutes of the previous meeting and of a special meeting, Mr. H. T. Strickland read the financial statement, and Mr. E. A. Peck the Churchwarden's report, both of which were of an encouraging nature.

The report was received, and on motion of Mr. F. Adams, seconded by Mr. Strickland, Messrs. Quartermaine and Nesbitt were elected auditors, to report at an adjourned meeting to be held on Monday, April 25th.

Mr. H. T. Strickland having announced that he would be unable to be a candidate for the position of people's warden this year, Col. H. C. Rogers in warm terms expressed his regret that Mr. Strickland was unable to be a candidate for the wardenship. All knew how sincerely devoted to the Church he had been during it whole period of its existence. He begged to nominate one who he was sure would meet with the approval of the meeting, Mr. Frank Adams.

The nomination was seconded by Mr. Strickland, and there being no further nominations, Mr. Adams was declared people's warden for the ensuing year.

The chairman nominated Mr. E. A. Peck as Rector's warden. Both of these nominations were received with hearty applause.

Messrs. J. J. Howden and H. Nesbitt were unanimously elected assistant wardens.

The following sidesmen were elected: Messrs. H. Adams, H. Burnham, D. Curtis, H. J. Gossett, W. Manisce, C. McFadden, G. Pingley, A. Sedgwick, A. W. Spence and E. Turner.

Mr. F. J. Jamieson moved that the Finance Committee be dissolved. This was carried and a small Envelope Committee was elected.

The Rector then read his annual address. After referring to the pastoral relations existing between the congregation and himself, he proceeded to enumerate the spiritual, as the parochial work of the past year. The congregation had advanced in number of members, and in attendance at the church services. He attributed this largely to the hearty character of the services. The choir had steadily improved, and the singing was uniformly good and increasingly congregational. The various organizations of the church were all in good working order except the Boys' Brigade, which suffered from lack of a suitable meeting place. The financial report was a source of much satisfaction to him, and now that the care of current expenses was to a certain extent removed, he hoped they would give more thought to the extra parochial collections, especially the missionary funds, which were not in a very creditable condition. The Diocesan collections showed a decline from $143 in 1894 and 1896 to $104 in 1896 and $82 in 1897. He also made an appeal for the Sunday school. The needs of the Sunday school library were pressing, and a grant of $25 would be helpful.

The conclusion of the address referred to the necessity in the midst of business details, never to forget the main object for which a church exists, viz., the proclamation of Jesus Christ as the Saviour of the world from sin, and the captain of all the hosts that wage warfare against every form of evil; and to unite into one body for the realization of their brotherhood and their mutual encouragement all who are engaged in the same cause. He took a wide view of the object of Christianity, which might be defined as "the production of the perfect man in the perfect society." Hence, nothing that tends to the perfection of the individual man whether in body, soul or spirit, can be foreign to the Christian church. He did not for a moment believe that art, or literature, or knowledge or athletic sports were a substitute for the Gospel. But all these had some points of connection with the Gospel, for properly understood and used they all tended to the production of "the perfect man in the perfect society." Therefore he sought to make their church a centre of light and inspiration to high ideals of life. In the accomplishment of this end he relied upon them for their sympathy and support.

At the close of the address Mr. D. Spence, Superintendent of the Sunday school, suggested that the congregation give $50 instead of $25 to the Library.

On motion of Col. Rogers, seconded by Mr. D. Spence, it was unanimously decided that a grant of $50 for new books be made to the Sunday school library.

At this juncture Miss Maggie Calcutt handed the chairman the sum of $10 from the sale of photographs of the church, by Miss B. Armstrong, with the suggestion that it be the first installment of the grant to the Sunday school. This was received with loud applause.

Votes of thanks were adopted to the organist, the choir, the sidesmen, the sexton, the Ladies Aid and Woman's Auxiliary, and the several Chapters of the Guild, and the officers and teachers of the Sunday school, and finally to the press for their reports of matters affecting the church.

Mr. F. Adams, in a few well chosen remarks, very warmly thanked the meeting for the honour they had done him in electing him their warden.

The meeting then adjourned, and reassembling the following were nominated for lay representatives: Messrs. H. C. Rogers, E. A. Peck, F. J. Jamieson, F. Adams, H. T. Strickland, H. Nesbitt, D. Spence, A. W. Spence and G. Warde. Messrs. Rogers, Adams, Strickland, D. and A. W. Spence declined the nomination, and Messrs. Jamieson, Peck and Warde were declared lay representatives to the Synod.

The Rector said that in view of the unanimous and inspiring meeting they had just held, he would ask them all to join in chanting the doxology. He then pronounced the benediction and the meeting dispersed.

The churchwardens' report will be published in full to-morrow.

Mr. D. O'Connell Secures Judgment on a Peculiar Contention

Magistrate Dumble gave judgment this morning as regards the point raised by Mr. D. O'Connell yesterday, that as Monday was a legal holiday, the proceedings taken against a local merchant for selling tobacco to a minor were null and void.

Mr. Dumble upheld Mr. O'Connell in his contention, and dismissed the case.

A RELIABLE OFFER.

Honest Help Free to Men.

The (Peterborough Examiner) is authorized to state by Mr. D. Graham, Box 183, Hagersville, Ont., that any man who is nervous and debilitated or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from overwork, excesses or abuse, such as nervous debility, exhausted vitality, lost vigor, unnatural drains and losses, lack of development, etc., can write to him in strict confidence and receive free of charge full instructions how to be thoroughly cured.

Mr. Graham himself was for a long time a sufferer from above troubles and after trying in vain many advertised remedies, electric belts, etc., became almost entirely discouraged and hopeless. Finally he confided in an old clergyman, whose kind and honest advice enabled him to speedily obtain a perfect and permanent cure. Knowing to his own sorrow, that so many poor sufferers are being imposed upon by unscrupulous quacks, Mr. Graham considers it his duty as an honest man and a firm believer in christian sympathy and kindness, to give his fellow-men the benefit of his experience and assist them to a cure. Having nothing to sell, he asks for no money, the proud satisfaction of having done a great service to one in need, he rightly considers an ample reward for his trouble. If you write to Mr. Graham you can rely upon being cured and upon absolute secrecy as well.

Address as above, enclosing a stamp and refer to the (Peterborough Examiner). No attention however will be given to those writing out of mere curiosity, therefore state that you really need a card.

The Ladies are helping us to make our Millinery a greater success this year than ever before. We do not need to make glaring statements about our own improved business. Ladies know we are doing well and working up to our full capacity. The crowded condition of our Millinery Parlours during the first week was evidence enough of the fact.

We are making it interesting and pleasant to lady shoppers by having the Newest and most fetching styles, telling the truth about our goods, marking everything at moderate prices and surrounding their selling with every courtesy. The worst thing that could happen would be to not do our part well.

Now for Shirt Waists!

We are making a Special Display of very pretty well made Shirt Waists in New Muslin and Print Patterns, of Stripes, Plaids and other effects. Don't miss seeing them.

New Hats, Flowers, Ribbons, Vellings, Chiffon, New York Neckwear and other new Novelties coming in regularly to keep the stock strong and select.

BEFORE THE SUN SETS

President McKinley Will Be Directed to Secure

STABLE PEACE FOR CUBA BY WAR

The Republican Members of the Foreign Affairs Committee Have So Decided—In Madrid the Situation Is Considered Grave—A Very Strong Jingo Spanish Republican—Latest News.

Washington, D.C., April 13.—"The President is authorized, directed and empowered to intervene at once to restore peace on the Island of Cuba and secure to the people thereof a firm, stable and independent Government of their own, and is authorised to use the army and navy forces of the United States to secure the end."

This substantially is the resolution agreed upon by the Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House last night. The meeting was held at the residence of one of the members and did not adjourn till a very late hour.

Before finally deciding upon the wording of the resolution as given above, the committee carefully considered several other forms. Information was conveyed to the comittee, however, that a strong resolution was demanded, and several members, headed by Mr. Smith of Michigan, made the contest for the resolution that was finally agreed upon.

It is now the purpose to pass the resolution before the sun sets to-day. Debate will be limited to four or five hours. The House leaders have determined upon this course in the belief that it will strengthen both at home and abroad the position to be taken. It is said that, if necessary, a continuous sitting will be had in the Senate in order to secure final action during the legislative day of Wednesday.

Situation Considered Grave.

Madrid, April 13.—The Ministers have been in Cabinet session to examine the cabled digests of the message, all reserving their opinions except Senor Moret, Secretary of the Colonies, who has declared that the document does not shut the door on his hopes for peace.

The Bourse received the message badly. Senor Silvela, leader of the dissident Conservatives, characterizes it as "grave." Diplomatic circles generally maintain discretion, confining themselves to statements that the powers will preserve peace.

National Government and War.

Madrid, April 13.—The Republican and revolutionary El Pais prints the following headlines on its front page:

"The solution of the conflict is a national government, a military dictatorship and a war with the United States."

Its leading editorial announces that the conductors of the paper, "putting party politics to-day in the background and thinking only of the Fatherland, urge the formation of a national government, comprised of Republicans, Liberals and absolute monarchists."

The editorial denounced the Government "for meeting patriotic cries with sword cuts," and appeals to the people and the army to "save Spain from traitors."

Food For the Cubans.

Detroit, April 13.—A remarkable special freight train has just passed through here. It consisted of 22 cars of provisions donated by the people of Omaha to the suffering Cubans. This immense donation is being transported absolutely free of charge by the Missouri Pacific, the Wabash and West Shore.

ONTARIO TEACHERS.

The Association Meets in Toronto and Teachers Listen to Excellent Papers.

Toronto, April 13.—Nearly three hundred of Ontario's teachers flocked to the education Department in St. James square yesterday morning. The Ontario Teachers' Association, comprising twelve sub-sections, holds its annual meeting, commencing yesterday, and ending to-morrow. Robert W. Doan, the association's obliging secretary, thinks there will be at least two hundred more matters in town to-day. A bright programme of papers on educational subjects was listened to and thoroughly discussed.

The Evening Reception.

The Education Department was a blaze of gorgeous light shining out of each and every window in the building last night, when His Honor Sir Oliver Mowat held a reception in the amphitheatre of the Normal School.

After a general presentation to the Lieutenant-Governor, the entertainment began by an address from Hon. George W. Ross, who surpassed himself in saying pleasant things to the vast gathering before him. Mr. Ross promised to cut off the primary certificates from the list of professional standards. This statement was received with cheers.

Sir Oliver Mowat spoke briefly, and gave a hearty welcome to the teachers Afterwards a right royal time was spent.

CARDINAL TASCHEREAU DEAD.

The Esteemed Prelate of Quebec Has Crossed the Bar—Sketch of His Life and Career.

Quebec, April 13.—Cardinal Taschereau died at 6.20 p.m. yesterday.

His Eminence Elzear Alexandre Taschereau, Cardinal Priest of the Roman Catholic Church and Archbishop of Quebec, was descended from Thomas Jacques Taschereau, a gentleman who came to New France from Touraine, France, in the early part of the seventeenth century, and whose descendants have occupied some of the most prominent positions in the public, judicial and ecclesiastical life of Canada. The Cardinal's grandfather was the late Hon. Gabriel Elzear Taschereau, a man of the Lower Canada Legislature, while his father, Hon. Jean Thomas Taschereau, was a Judge of the King's Bench of the same province. His mother was Marie, daughter of Hon. Jean Antoine Panet, first Speaker of the first Assembly elected in the Province of Quebec. Both at Ste. Anne de la Beaupre, P.Q., Feb. 17, 1820, he was educated at the Quebec Seminary, after which he spent 16 months (1839-40) travelling in the United Kingdom, and in Belgium, France and Italy. On his return to Quebec, 1837, he entered the Grand Seminary, and having followed the prescribed course in theology was ordained priest in his native parish, Sept. 10, 1842. He remained in the Seminary, first as a professor and afterwards as director, 20 years, and while there compiled several educational works for the use of the students, none of which, however, have been printed. While still discharging his duties at the seminary he volunteered for service to attend the sick and dying Irish immigrants at Grosse Isle during the prevalence of the ship-fever, 1847, and was himself prostrated by the disease. In 1854 the future Cardinal

THE LATE CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

went to Rome, where, after two years, he took his degree of D.D. In 1860 he was elected Superior of the Seminary, and became ex-officio Rector of Laval University, an institution in whose interest he afterwards journeyed to Rome on two occasions, namely, in 1862 and in 1864. In 1869 he attended Archbishop Baillargeon during the sittings of the Vatican Council, as his secretary and theologian. He had previously, in 1862, been appointed a Vicar-General of the Archdiocese. The duties of his several offices he continued to discharge up to the death of his venerated predecessor in the Episcopate, October, 1870, when he was chosen as his successor. Dr. Taschereau was duly consecrated at the Basilica of Quebec by the late Most Rev. J. J. Lynch, Archbishop of Toronto, March 19, 1871, and forthwith entered upon his duties. As sixteenth Archbishop of Quebec, one of his first efforts was directed towards freeing the College at St. Anne de la Pocatiere from its financial difficulties. After seven years' labor, with the assistance of his clergy, whose zeal and generosity in this as in other matters he was always glad to acknowledge, he succeeded. Soon after his elevation His Grace went to Montreal as Apostolic Delegate to inquire into and report upon some unforeseen difficulties arising out of the erection of certain parishes in that city, and, at the end of 1872, he proceeded to Rome with a view of procuring a final settlement thereof. In the same year he founded in Quebec the Hotel-Dieu du Sacre-Coeur, a hospital which has since become a great local benefit. He also adopted measures for the reconstruction of the church at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, a shrine which for 250 years has been the Mecca of devout pilgrims seeking restoration of health. In the following year he began the construction of a seminary at Chicoutimi; in 1874 he took part in the two-hundredth anniversary of the foundation of the Episcopal See of Quebec; in 1878 and in 1878 he presided at two Provincial Councils; in 1879 he enlarged the curriculum of the College of Levis, by giving it a classical course. In 1882 and in 1884 he was again at Rome. On June 7, 1886, he was created a Cardinal Priest of the Holy Roman Church, with the title of Sainte Marie de la Victoire. His Eminence being the first native of Canada to be elevated to the Sacred College, and being a prelate personally popular and beloved by all classes, his appointment was received with great rejoicing throughout the country. He was presented with an address of congratulation from the Legislative Assembly of Quebec and the Mayor and City Council of Quebec, and was afterwards feted in that city, in Montreal, Toronto and elsewhere. He received the cha[illegible] from the Pope's hands March 17, 1887. In September, 1894, His Eminence retired from the administration of his diocese, and Mgr. Begin, his coadjutor, was appointed administrator thereof. One of his latest acts was to sign a petition, with the other archbishops and bishops of his Church in Canada, praying Parliament to disallow the Public Schools Act of Manitoba and also to redress certain grievances complained of by the Catholics of the Northwest Territories on account of the school ordinance of 1892. He is the author of "Remarques sur le memoire de l'Eveque des Trois-Rivieres sur les difficultes religieuses en Canada." (1852).

THERE ARE NOW 61 PROTESTS.

Four More Filed—East Algoma and Ottawa Seats Threatened.

Toronto, April 13.—The Conservatives filed two more election protests yesterday, one against the return of C. F. Farwell, with a majority of 224, in East Algoma, and another against the return of Alex. Lumsden, with a majority of 1,092, in Ottawa. The Liberals filed one—the other Ottawa seat, now held by C. B. Powell with a small majority.

The Conservatives filed also a counter protest for Dufferin with a view to disqualifying Dr. Barr's opponent, W. Dynes. These bring the number now filed up to 61.

Recount Appeal Judgments.

Toronto, April 13.—Mr. Justice Maclennan yesterday handed out the long-looked-for judgments in the West Elgin and South Perth election recount appeals. His decisions reversed the decisions of both the county judges, giving West Elgin to Mr. McDiarmid, the Conservative, and South Perth to Mayor Moscrip of St. Mary's, the Liberal candidate. The judgments do not affect the Government's majority. Mr. McDiarmid holds the seat by a majority of one. The judgment gives the seat to Moscrip with a majority of 10.

FROM MONTREAL.

Death of Rev. John Jenkins, D. D., in England—Capt. Campbell Died at Sea—Suicided by Shooting.

Montreal, April 13.—A cablegram was received in the city yesterday announcing the death of the Rev. John Jenkins, D. D., pastor Emeritus of St. Paul's Church (Presbyterian) of this city. The end of this venerable divine came while he was residing in West Dulwich, near London, Eng. At the time of his death he was in his 85th year.

Capt. H. Campbell, the well-known commander of the Beaver Line Steamship Lake Ontario, died at sea on April 2. A cablegram to this effect with no particulars was received at the Beaver Line office yesterday.

It is stated that the Trail Smelter, now the property of the Canadian Pacific, will be started in a few days.

Mr. George Laliberte, a well-known resident of St. Damien, Berthier Co., has committed suicide by discharging the contents of a gun into his head. The victim's wife had died recently and his mind gave way. The crime was committed in the presence of Laliberte's little girl.

The Grand Trunk office site was up yesterday in the City Council, when a good deal of hostility was shown against giving the company Victoria square. Finally the question was referred back to a committee to see if possible some other site agreeable to the company and city cannot be settled upon. It was also stipulated that exemption from taxation cannot be tolerated.

Joseph O'Meara, who was arrested with several others in connection with the mysterious death of Denis Clifford, is the only prisoner held, the others having been discharged yesterday.

He Was Bound to Die.

Kingston, Ont., April 13.—William Williams, living near Battersea, went out in a boat on Sunday, taking a big stone along. He tied a rope around his neck, threw the stone overboard and went after it. He was drowned. He was 18 years of age.

Soo Canals Are Open.

Detroit, April 13.—In the "Soo" canals both the American and Canadian locks are in readiness for the season's traffic.

A Boy Drowned in a Cistern.

Brantford, April 13.—Robbie Strong, the 6-year-old son of Rev. J. L. Strong (Evangelical Church) of Tuscarora, was drowned in a cistern yesterday afternoon. The little boy, it is supposed, was playing near the cistern and fell into it.

Mrs. Barker, alias Olive Macpherson, was arrested here yesterday, charged with having in her possession for the past two weeks a wheel belonging to a livery in Toronto.

Early Season in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, April 13.—Seeding is general in Southern Manitoba. Around [illegible], Roland, Emerson, Letellier, St. [illegible], Gretna and Hartney farmers were sowing all last week. In the Gladstone district seeding began yesterday, and the work will extend to Neepawa to-day. The Portage Plains district has been ready for several days. The season is fully a month ahead of last year.

Mayor Bennett of Lowell

Heartily Endorses This Testimonial--Hood's Sarsaparilla Triumphant in a Severe Test

The testimonials in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla are worth reading because they tell things worth telling. Just spare a few moments to read this statement below:

No man is more favorably known in and about Epping, N. H., than Mr. Joseph Stokes, the husband of the lady referred to. His word is as good as a U. S. bond, and every statement from him or his family may be most implicitly relied upon. Read this:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—For fully twenty years my mother has been seriously troubled by a sore on her nose. For some time we thought it of a cancerous nature, and it was removed three times. A physician in Boston said the sore was not a cancer, but

"A Catarrhal Sore."

It discharged and was, of course, very annoying as well as painful. Sometimes it was as large as a half dollar, and it was necessary to keep it bandaged and protected most of the time. About two years ago the sore seemed to be spreading over her face, and was larger than when the Boston physician removed it. There is no question but that its origin was in

The Scrofulous Humor

with which my mother has always been troubled. Two years ago she decided to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a faithful trial, also using, as an outward application, Hood's Olive Ointment. It was soon noticed, to the joy of the family, that the sore was diminishing in size and was becoming less troublesome. This encouraged her to continue the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took 11 bottles, and now

Her Face is Well.

The sore has entirely disappeared, leaving not a scar, but only a slight mark, which we think may in time totally disappear. It is such a comfort to her and such a joy to the rest of the family that we feel indebted more than we can express, to Hood's Sarsaparilla, that she has been cured after twenty years of suffering." MISS E. A. STOKES, Epping, N. H.

From Mr. Stokes.

"I am glad to say that the cure of my wife is exactly as stated in my daughter's letter above." JOSEPH STOKES.

Hon. J. W. Bennett,

Mayor of Lowell, takes pleasure in voluntarily adding his endorsement to the above testimonial, as follows:

"I know the parties referred to in the letters above, and endorse them as thoroughly reliable. I have known about this case for some time, and am glad this testimonial has been sent to C. I. Hood & Co." J. W. BENNETT, Lowell, Mass.

THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT AND PROSPERITY.

"In nearly every department of industry in Canada there is activity and confidence. We are not foolish enough to claim that all this has been brought about by our policy, although we are well aware that, if the results had been the reverse, the blame, justly or unjustly, would have have rested upon our shoulders. One thing we do claim, and all we claim as respects our policy, is that, so far as legislative measures may help to encourage and strengthen a people, such has been the result of the action we have taken. Against the representations of our opponents we place the record of the past year and the judgment of the Empire at large."—Hon. W. S. Fieldingg, in Budget speech.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MR. ALEX. SMITH, Liberal organizer for Ontario, is ill with pneumonia.

THE decision in the appeals against the recounts in West Elgin and South Perth have not changed the standing of the parties in the Legislature. West Elgin is given to Mr. McDiarmid, Conservative, and in South Perth the decision replaces Mr. Monteith, Conservative, by Mr. Mescript, Liberal. The result of the appeals against the recounts is that the Government gained one seat, West Huron. It is almost certain that protests will be entered in both cases.

OUR fellow citizens over-sea have of late heard much of Canada's natural wealth, wonderful resources and illimitable possibilities. They have next to learn, remarks the Montreal Witness, concerning the invigorating healthfulness of its climate, and how that conduces to longevity. As a land of centenarians Canada ought to rank high. The number of persons in this country who reach the century mark before passing over to the great majority is something phenomenal. Among the French-Canadians this is particularly remarkable, as any one who has travelled through the country parishes can testify. After all, health is the greatest of earthly blessings, and a country of which it can be truthfully said, as we can say of Canada, that it is a land of blooming health, offers the home-seeker the most precious of all material attractions.

MR. E. HANCOCK'S VICTORY

Over Kidney Disease Won by the Help of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Galt, April 11.—(Special)—The greatest "speech" delivered for many years in Galt, was made recently by H. Hancock, Esq., proprietor of the fine hotel, the Iroquois. It was short and pithy and conveyed to every sufferer from kidney disease the glad news that they need suffer no longer.

Mr. Hancock's statement runs thus:—"For over a year I suffered with terrible backaches. Nothing I used gave me the least relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used only a few boxes, but to-day every vestige of pain has vanished completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only cure on earth for Kidney diseases.

COUNTY ENDEAVOURERS WERE IN SESSION.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS PRESENTED DURING THE DAY.

Mr. Henry Varley Spoke to the Delegates in the Afternoon and Also Addressed an Open Meeting in the Evening.

At the afternoon session of the County Endeavourers on Monday, the following report from the Secretary was submitted:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In closing the work of another year of Christian Endeavour we would record our gratitude to the Giver of all good for the measure of interest, of success and of progress that has attended it.

We cannot report increase in the number of members, in the amount of money contributed to missions, nor in societies organized.

We feel that this Union has reached a period in its history where large accessions in numbers and in organization of societies can scarcely be expected. To build up Christian character, to make the work a source of strength to individual members, to help them to realize their individual responsibility before God as church members, is the main work of this Union.

The testimony of one member—now entered on her rest—should be the testimony of many. In answer to the question "What has the Christian Endeavour Society done for me?" she writes:—"The greatest thing the C. E. society has done for me is this, it has made me realize the truth of the saying that the missionary spirit is the test of true Christianity. It has given me an earnest, constant wish that I may by any means as we speak, that I may be the means of bringing others to Christ. My wish may not bear much fruit, but it is always there, and I think it is the chief characteristics of Endeavourers and comes from the help they themselves have received." Christ's principle in His work was diffusion, not concentration. Let us follow His example, and as we have freely received freely give. It was long ago predicted of the Christian Endeavour movement that it would not live to accomplish anything of real moment. This prediction does not discourage us. We are not pessimistic. Our work is His work; it is from Him, for Him, with Him, in Him; hence there can be no failure, but we must never attempt to gauge our success by apparent results.

The executive was called to meet twice during the year, in September and in March. Plans of work were discussed and methods of re-awakening interest in the societies received considerable attention. It was decided that the Vice-Presidents of the different districts be requested to ascertain the needs of each society under their supervision, and render any assistance they could.

In November, a circular prepared by the President and Mr. Martin was sent to each recorded society in the Union, exclusive of the societies in the town, asking them to co-operate with the local Union in the furnishing of a Christian Endeavour room in the Y. M. C. A. building. Out of twenty-two societies two regretted their inability to contribute, but assured the society of their sympathy in the work.

Eleven societies contributed promptly and heartily the sum of sixteen dollars. Nine societies were unresponsive.

To ensure statistical returns postal cards requesting the necessary information were sent to the societies in March. Twenty-five out of twenty-nine responded promptly. From these we learn that three societies are unable to continue their meetings, viz., Bethel E. L., Warsaw circ it.

Two societies report their inability to support county Union work, two are uncertain, three have not answered the question, and seven signified their readiness to do so.

The report shows an enrollment of six hundred and forty-nine active and three hundred and thirty-five associate members, making a total of 1,033.

Seven societies do not contribute to missions. The remaining sixteen have contributed the sum of $201.63.

To societies whose enrollment is small and who contemplate disorganization, we would gladly give a word of encouragement. The strength or weakness of a society is not estimated by numbers. We recall the saying of Dr Arnold, of Rugby, to his scholars on an memorable occasion, when some breach of discipline occurred and expulsion seemed imminent. He said: It is not necessary that this school should be composed of twenty, thirty or forty members, but it is necessary that every member be a gentleman. Applying this to our societies we say to have a good society it is not necessary to have an enrollment of twenty, thirty or forty members, but it is necessary that every member should be a bright, active, live eloquent Christian. A society composed of a few such members can accomplish more for Christ than treble the number of indifferent members,

"Sow in the morn thy seed,
At eve hold not thy hand
To doubt and fear give thou no heed,
Broadcast it o'er the land.

Thou canst not tell in vain,
Cold, heat, the moist and dry,
Shall foster and mature the grain,
For garners in the sky."

I. DUFF,
Sec. County C. E. Union.

The report was adopted.

Rev. A. C. Reeves, of Lakefield, moved a resolution of regret at the death of the late treasurer, Mr. Burgess, and a tribute to his faithfulness.

The report of Miss Roxburgh, Superintendent of the Junior Societies of the county, was then read, showing that there were six junior branches with a membership of 178; a new one had been established at Keene during the year in connection with the Presbyterian church; 20 juniors had become seniors and two had joined the church. During the year the junior societies had contributed towards missions the sum of $39.70.

The report of the Nominating Committee was then received and the following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Rev. J. G. Potter.
President—Rev. J. E. Moore.
Secretary—Bruce Anderson.
Vice-Presidents:
Peterborough—The President of the Local Union.
Lakefield—F. Stubbs.

A new society has been organized at Hiawatha with 10 active and 10 associate members. A nominating committee was appointed as follows: Rev. Mr. Reeves, Lakefield; Mr. Simpson, North Monaghan; Mr. Read Westwood; Miss McEwan, Smith; Miss Lillico, North Monaghan; Miss Bryce, Keene.

Miss Ethel Brown read a most interesting paper on "The history of Christian Endeavour in the County of Peterborough." The first branches to be established were the Mark street Methodist, St. Paul's Presbyterian, Norwood Presbyterian and Coldsprings societies. In 1893 the work had progressed to such an extent that the branches had increased to 20.

The afternoon session was closed by an address by Mr. Henry Varley, who spoke from St. Matthew xiii ch, 3 ver. In the evening Mr. Varley again addressed the delegates at an open meeting in St. Paul's church.

A HASTINGS NONOGENARIAN DIES.

John McGuire, of Percy Township, Passes Away—An Interesting Reminiscence—Senator Cox's Wood Deal.

Hastings, April 9.—There died here yesterday afternoon one of the oldest residents of the township of Percy, John McGuire, aged 94 years. For a number of years the deceased was totally blind, otherwise he was as vigourous as a man of fifty. He was born in Fermanagh County, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1842, and settled in the neighbourhood of Grafton Village, moving to Percy Township in 1856, where he resided up to his death.

A good story is told in connection with the deceased when he lived in the neighbourhood of Grafton. In those days Senator George A. Cox was endeavouring to make a living manipulating a telegraph key in the village of Colborne, and purchased a cord of wood from McGuire. Wood was not a cash article in those days or the collateral may not have been plentiful with the operator, and the wood was not then paid for. Years rolled by and the transaction was apparently forgotten by both parties, until one evening last fall, while a neighbour was reading aloud for Mr. McGuire some political news in which Senator Cox's name appeared, which recalled the wood deal of bygone years. The neighbour suggested that a letter recalling the transaction be sent to the Senator, who immediately mailed a check for $50 in full for wood account. The Senator can boast of having paid the highest price for a cord of wood of any man in Canada.

Severe Bronchitis Yields Promptly to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

I used your Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for severe attacks of Bronchitis. I got better from the time of taking the first dose. Having a family of young children, my doctor's bills have annually come to a considerable sum. I believe a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup occasionally will aid me in reducing them very materially.

EASTER CHURCH CHIMES.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

Those attending George street church received an unexpected treat Sunday evening, as it was not generally known that Miss Vina Bellegham had consented to sing. Her selection was Steven Adam's "Light of the World," to which beautiful number she did full justice. Although always the possessor of a pleasing voice Miss Bellegham has benefitted to such an extent by her training in Toronto, as to rank her with the most popular singers of the district. Having most perfect command of a fine range and with a voice as clear as a bell, Peterborough's fair young singer has in her possession a gift to be proud of indeed.

Other music during the evening was also well rendered. Miss Winters handled the solo, "Behold He Cometh," in a most capable manner, and the solo in the anthem, "O Holy Jesus," was admirably taken by Miss Clara Bellegham.

MURRAY STREET CHURCH.

On Sunday morning Rev. A. T. Dykeman delivered a timely address on the Resurrection from the text, "Come, see the place where the Lord lay." The choir gave an admirable rendition of the Easter anthem, "Christ, our Lord, is risen today."

In the evening Mrs. Hunter took the solos in the anthem, "O, Paradise," in excellent voice.

BUDGET ONCE MORE.

Mr. Foster Resumes the Debate in the House.

LEADERS SPEAK TO SLIM HOUSE

Sir Richard Cartwright Effectively Replies to the Ex-Finance Minister's Criticism of the Liberal Financial Programme—His Own Methods Exposed—Sir Charles Tupper Continues the Debate.

Ottawa, April 13.—The budget debate was continued yesterday under discouraging circumstances, inasmuch as leaders on both sides of the House were obliged to deliver their speeches to rows of empty benches and unoccupied galleries. Members from constituencies too remote from the capital to be reached during the Easter vacation were on hand to resume the duties of the session, but many of those who compose the Ontario and Quebec contingents still lingered at their homes. The Premier and Mr. Tarte, both of whom had been confined to their houses by severe colds; Mr. Dobell, who has just returned from Great Britain, and Mr. McCarthy, who has also been across the ocean, were in their places.

Mr. Foster on the Budget.

Hon. Mr. Foster rose to resume the budget debate and was greeted with Opposition applause. He expressed his acknowledgements to the Government for permitting the discussion to be adjourned until to-day. Some time he might be able to return the compliment to Mr. Fielding.

Taking up the speech of the Finance Minister, he thought it would have been wiser if Mr. Fielding had confined his congratulations to the condition of the country, and had not mooted the results of Liberal policy. He could agree with Mr. Fielding in the main as to the general condition and progress of the country. He commended the Finance Minister's action in placing the loan on the market last year at half per cent. lower than the two preceding loans.

Cognate to this question was the proposed reduction of interest on savings bank deposits. He thought it would have been well if the Government had left the rate of interest at 3 per cent.

Take the debt record of the two Governments. From 1890 to 1896 the average increase in the debt was $2,652,000 per annum; in the first year of Liberal rule $3,041,163, while the increase for eight months of the current year was $4,500,000. Take the taxation record of the two Governments. From 1892 to 1896 the customs revenue averaged $19,889,684. This year Mr. Fielding estimated it at $21,000,000, and in 1899 it would still be $21,000,000, or 1,900,000 greater than on the average from 1892 to 1896, from customs alone. Besides the amount that was to be screwed ont of the savings of the thrifty, there was to be new taxation placed on the country on the pretext of helping sister colonies in distress. The proposition was made to raise the taxation on refined sugar, and then with a great blare of trumpets to say to the West Indian colonies, we will let you in at the preferential rate.

Take the question of expenditures. From 1892 to 1896 the average expenditure on account of consolidated fund was $36,850,000, an expenditure which the Prime Minister, when he was not Prime Minister, thought could be reduced two or three million dollars, and Mr. Mills thought four millions. But how had the Premier kept his word? By expending in 1897 $1,400,000, and this year he proposed to expend $9,194,000, more than was expended in 1896.

The Minister of Finance in his budget had warned the manufacturers that the days of protection were numbered, that eternal vigilance must be the price of future protection. Surely that was the most stupid and malevolent statement a Finance Minister ever made; for its tendency was to cripple the present industries and prevent capital being embarked in new ones; and it was a threat to the manufacturers that they must be not only eternally vigilant but eternally subservient.

"I think it was my duty," said Mr. Foster in conclusion, "to call the attention of the House, and more particularly the attention of the country, that the gentlemen now in office two years and a half have implemented scarcely one pledge that they made when seated in Opposition, and they come up to this, the third year of their administration, without having carried out those pledges. On the other hand, they have not originated anything in the shape of fiscal and tariff policy that has opened to the products of Canada one single market in any part of the world."

Sir Richard Cartwright's Reply.

Sir Richard began his reply by rallying Mr. Foster upon his slip in arithmetic by alluding to the Liberal term of office as 9¼ years instead of 10 months; but doubtless the time seemed long to Mr. Foster. His was not an easy task in criticising the budget; but he (Sir Richard) did not like to see a good man struggling with adversity; he admitted that luck had favored the Liberals. He proceeded to quote figures to show that the Conservative expenditure of 1896-6 had been curtailed for party purposes, and that the Liberal expenditure had been largely attributable to Tory obligations.

Mr. Foster's estimate for 1896-97 was $38,856,000, as against Mr. Fielding's estimate for next year of $39,125,000. But in this latter amount there were three new changes for which Mr. Foster had no corresponding items. They were postal to G.T.R. $310,000, Yukon administration $293,000, I.C.R. operating expenses $560,000, or a total of $1,166,000. To make the comparison a fair one this amount should be deducted from Mr. Fielding's estimates, leaving the net amount of $37,959,000, or about $400,000 less than Mr. Foster's estimates the last year the Conservatives were in office.

In regard to the reduction of the interest on savings bank deposits, there was much to be said on both sides. He was surprised that Mr. Foster had not dealt with the matter fairly.

In 1894, when the return was brought down showing the number of depositors in the Government banks and the amounts to their credits, it appeared that two-thirds of the whole amount of the deposits was held by one-sixth of the depositors. Out of $40,000,000 then in deposit, $25,000,000 was owned by 36,000 persons, or an average of $1,000 per head. Men who could deposit $1,000 could not be regarded as specially deserving of the paternal care of the Government. The cost of working the savings bank system brought up the rate of interest to about 2 7-8 per cent., so that the Canadian depositor was not discriminated against. If Parliament desired to see the interest on farmers' mortgages lowered, or manufacturers get their loans at a lower rate, there must be a reduction in the rate of interest allowed to depositors in the Government banks.

After reviewing the trade situation, Sir Richard took up the experience of the Government with the Belgian and German treaties.

He admitted that the home authorities had decided against the Canadian contention, but he had no hesitation in saying that the Imperial authorities were wrong. But they had the power, and were, perhaps, governed by diplomatic reasons rather than good law. However, the Government and Parliament had good reason to congratulate themselves on what had been accomplished in securing the abrogation of the treaties.

Regarding the failure of the Liberal party to fulfil its pledges of retrenchment, Sir Richard showed that the late Government had made it more difficult for the present Ministers to reduce expenditures than he and his friends had supposed. He held that it would have been far better for Canada if she had maintained a revenue tariff rather than have adopted the protective policy.

Sir Charles Tupper.

Sir Charles Tupper, in reply, pointed out that in deciding to abolish the reciprocal claim of the present tariff the Government were acting in accordance with his own suggestion, and in endeavoring to improve the West India trade the Government also had his approval. He agreed, too, with the statement that Canada had entered upon a period of prosperity. Indeed, Mr. Foster had proposed it two years ago, but neither Sir Richard nor the Finance Minister had been able to point to one single instance in which that prosperity was attributable to the policy of the Government. The fact was that to the splendid crop, the enhanced prices abroad and the large mineral development were due the enhanced value of exports. And what a great advantage the Government of the day had over the Conservative Government in having an Opposition composed of men as ready to advance the progress of Canada as if they were themselves in power.

In conclusion, Sir Charles rehearsed the broken pledges made by the Liberals and held by their own showing that they had forfeited the confidence of the people.

Mr. Paterson moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned at 12.30.

A PERFECT CURE.

The Doctor's Opinion Regarding Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They Cure Dyspepsia, and all Other Stomach Diseases, by Curing Stomach and Bowels—They are the Only Cure on Earth.

They were talking about Dyspepsia. The doctor said it causes more misery than whiskey does. But he said he could cure it. He knew of one remedy—for Dyspepsia, and every other stomach trouble—that always cures. That one is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. But he knew of no other.

The lawyer agreed with the doctor, as to the misery caused by Dyspepsia. But he claimed that Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Foul Breath, Wind on the Stomach, Biliousness, Waterbrash, and Catarrh of the Stomach are responsible for equally as much torture.

"You are correct," said the doctor. "But I will wager $1,000 I can cure the worst case of any one of these diseases with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are the natural digestive. They digest the food when the worn-out, exhausted stomach fails to do so. Digest the food, and there will be no stomach disease."

"Every case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and other stomach trouble is accompanied by constipation, more or less severe. To make their cure complete, The Dodds Medicine Co. put in every box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a package of small, brown Tablets, that are simply perfection as a regulator of the bowels.

"Thus, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food perfectly, the small Tablets stimulate the bowels to healthy action, and the waste matter is carried off, instead of remaining in the stomach to poison the system. The cure is perfect."

"Where can I buy Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?" queried the lawyer.

All druggists sell them at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be sent on receipt of price, by The Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

Not So Easy.

It is not so easy to cure an obstinate cough; it won't cure itself. Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy indicated because its record shows that it always cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles.

One Lala-Liver Pill every night for thirty days makes a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS.

They Meet in Toronto, Elect Officers and Pass Resolutions.

Toronto, April 13.—The twenty-third annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was held in their offices in the McKinnon Building in this city yesterday. Mr. D. W. Karn occupied the chair and Mr. J. J. Cassidey was secretary. The latter made a verbal report, showing the condition of the association and the circumstances that surround it at the present time.

President Karn delivered an address, the more important points of which were as follows: The objects for which this association exists are worthy of the support and effort of every person engaged in manufacturing enterprises, namely:

1. To ensure by all legitimate means the aid of both public opinion and Governmental policy in favor of the development of home industry, and the promotion of Canadian manufacturing enterprises.

2. To enable those in all branches of manufacturing enterprises to act in concert as a united body whenever action in behalf of any particular industry or of the whole body is necessary.

3. To maintain Canada for Canadians.

The following gentlemen were elected officers of the Association for the ensuing year: President, John F. Ellis; first vice-president, James Kendry, M. P.; second vice-president, P. W. Ellis; treasurer, George Booth; secretary, J. J. Cassidey.

A resolution was also passed expressing the association's regret at the death of Mr. W. H. Storey of Acton, Ont., a former president of this association, and one of its most active and loyal members.

The association also reaffirmed the desirability of a Dominion Act providing for the equitable and economical distribution of insolvent estates.

THE YUKON MILITARY FORCE.

It Will Be Held in Reserve for Any Trouble That May Occur.

Ottawa, April 13.—Lieut.-Col. Evans, in command of the Yukon military expedition, will return from Winnipeg on Friday. His force will be a military reserve to be called upon in case of emergency, and will go by the river direct to Fort Selkirk headquarters, where they will erect barracks. They may be divided into detachments, but the idea of the Government is to have a strong reserve force in case of any trouble. The police will not be withdrawn.

The force is expected to muster in Ottawa on April 20th, and will leave on April 25th for Vancouver, picking up the fifteen members of the Royal Canadian Dragoons in Winnipeg.

The detachment, as already stated, will consist of the latter, 15 members of the Royal Canadian artillery, B Battery, Kingston; thirty Royal Canadian Artillery, the Garrison Battery of Quebec, and a hundred and forty Infantry from the schools of Toronto, London, St. Thomas and Fredericton.

Life's Red Stream.

IN LOVE'S TENDER KEEPING.

Hold me a little away from the world,
Dear arms, with your tenderest clinging!
The bird with its breast to the blue singeth sweet,
But the stars never answer its singing.
The cold lights but lure us to lead us astray.
The thorn's in the red of the rose of May.
Lead me to love, dear, and teach me to pray!

Hold me a little away from the world,
Dear arms, with your firm clasp and tender,
For the lights on the heights stream through desolate nights,
A tempest of tears in the splendor.
'Tis the gleam and the dream that would lead us astray.
The keen thorns have crimsoned the roses of May.
Lead me to love, dear, and teach me to pray!

A Dyspeptic's Gratitude.

Anyone who has suffered from Dyspepsia or Indigestion will know what joy it would give to be able to eat three good meals a day and not be punished for it.

Mrs. J. F. Westfall, of Trenton, Ont., was for five years a dyspeptic and thanks Burdock Blood Bitters for curing her after everything else failed. Here's her story in her own words:—

"For five years I have suffered from dyspepsia, and having tried every thing I could hear of without avail until I became almost discouraged I tried Burdock Blood Bitters at last, and I feel it my duty to let the results be known, as it may help some other poor sufferer. B. B. B. completely cured me, and my gratitude to this wonderful medicine is more than I can express."

Of the productions of our own designers we say little, but we could say a great deal. We allow their own beautiful effects to speak for themselves. We place them beside the picked models of the world's best designers with perfect confidence and leave the rest to your judgment.

It is not in Millinery alone that we excel. We have filled all our departments with the best of Fashionable Easter gayety and seasonable goods.

A Discourse on Dust.

We now understand the meaning of the primitive curse—"Dust ye are, and unto dust ye shall return." Peterborough people are realizing this now, for if breathing dust in clouds with every breath, is turning us to dust, we are undergoing the process. At no stage of the driest summer have the streets been dustier than they are now. And Noah seemed to have as much use for a street sprinkler as the Fire, Water and Light Committee has. The past day or two the dust has been and still is a beastly nuisance. We pay taxes for the purpose of having comforts and conveniences, but to accept taxes and let us suffer from dust, as the general ward of the town is doing, is something like an out rage. Give us a little sprinkle of water.

ALL SAINTS' FIRST VESTRY MEETING

LARGELY ATTENDED AND SUCCESSFUL.

Highly Favourable Financial Statement—Officials Elected—Resolutions of Thanks.

The first vestry meeting of All Saints as a practically distinct congregation, was held in the chancel basement last night. There was a large attendance, especially of the ladies of the congregation, which was especially appropriate, for it is entirely due to a few self-sacrificing ladies that the work was begun in the lower ward, which has resulted in the establishment of a beautiful church with a large and loyal congregation, and it is largely to the women of the congregation that the present stage of success has been reached.

The Rector of Peterborough presided, and after prayer by the Curate, Rev. W. L. Armitage, the Rector in the course of a few remarks referred to the pleasure it gave him and the congregation to meet for the first time in this beautiful new place of divine worship. It was another stage in the very strong advance that had been made. He referred to the great progress that had been made in the past eight years, very largely by the efforts of a few devoted women, some of whom were still spared to them. The efforts of a great many others who had worked so heartily and successfully, by God's blessing had assisted in bringing about the material results, represented by this beautiful, new and commodious basement and a beautiful church. These were pleasant things to look back upon. All Saints was now a fully established church with an effective organization, and the first meeting to elect church wardens was another stage. The Rector heartily congratulated the congregation upon their success, and upon not only the liberal offerings on Easter day, but during the whole year. Therefore, they met that night under the most cheering and encouraging auspices. The Rector then called for the which included the following principal items. The receipts were, en bloc: Sunday collections, $586.91—increase over previous year, $97.78; Synod collections, $61.76, increase $29 38; Sunday school, $72.73, increase $38 68; poor fund, $5 65, increase $2 65; other sources of revenue, $266 04, increase $19 82; collections for building fund, $555 25. The total receipts from all sources were $2 340.44, making, including balance from previous year, $356 85, the grand total of receipts, $2,697.29. The expenditures included salaries and expenses of church maintenance, $261 27; Sunday school, $60.27. The expenditure account of building fund amounted to $1,653.09. These, with other items, made a total expenditure of $2,066.09, leaving a balance of $10 60 in the bank.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Rector named Mr. R. W. McFadden as his churchwarden, and Mr. W. B. Bamford having expressed his decision to retire, Mr. Wm. Boller was selected people's church warden.

In view of Mr. Bamford's retirement, the rector presented him with a handsome church service in recognition of his very faithful and efficient services in his capacity as church warden. He had earned the gratitude of the rector himself, Mr. Armitage, and the congregation for his excellent service to the church.

The following gentlemen were appointed sidesmen:—Messrs. W. B. Bamford, A. Smeaton, T. Hooper and — Elliott.

Mr. Barton Earle was elected lay delegate to the Synod.

Miss Rubidge, who has very satisfactorily filled the position of secretary-treasurer for many years, tendered her resignation, which was regretfully accepted. Mr. Bamford in speaking to a motion of a vote of thanks to Miss Rubidge for her past services, paid a warm tribute to the great fidelity and satisfactory character of her services.

The motion was very heartily carried by a standing vote.

Votes of thanks were also passed to the auditor, Mr. G. A. Smith, to the organist, Miss Bullen, and the choir, and the sexton, Mr. Lacheur, whose salary was increased by a small amount in recognition of his faithful services.

Miss Bullen was voted a bonus of $25 a year as a recognition of her very faithful services as organist.

A vote of thanks was carried to Mr. Belcher, architect, who had given his services gratuitously in connection with the plans and superintendence of the new building, and to Mr. E. D. Evans, the contractor, who had carried out the contract in a most satisfactory manner.

A motion was adopted, appointing Messrs. Earle, Evans, McFadden and Hooper a deputation to wait upon the Fire, Water and Light Committee to urge the granting of the largely-signed petition recently presented for the placing of an electric light on the corner of Sherbrooke and Rubidge streets.

Rev. Mr. Armitage in giving a

BRIEF ACCOUNT

of the work of the year, speaking for himself, said that in all the despondency incidental to a clergyman's feeling of failure to accomplish what he had aimed at he was greatly cheered and encouraged by the help and sympathy of the rector, Rev. Mr. Stevenson, and the congregation. There had been 140 services held during the year, 57 of which had been conducted by himself. There had been held 13 early Holy Communion celebrations with an average of 16 communicants. There had been 13 mid-day celebrations with an average of 32 and the communicants on Easter Day numbered 98. The average attendance at the Sunday school was 153 and the average collection was also $1.53. Mr. Armitage paid a warm tribute to the faithful and successful work of the Women's Auxiliary and the Girls' Guilds, the choir and the churchwardens. In fact the whole congregation had harmoniously co-operated, and to their united and earnest action the gratifying progress that all were so thankful for had been accomplished. Mr. Armitage concluded his remarks by mentioning a list of gifts to the church, which had not before been collectively and publicly acknowledged:—

Mr. Shepherd, offertory plates.

Mrs. D. J. Landy, cerecss and aisle matting.

Mrs. J. G. Stevenson, two dozen church services and hymns combined.

Mrs. W. B. Bamford, credence table.

Mr. R. Fair, chancel carpet.

Mr. T. Sabine, teak-pointing interior of church, both old and new.

Mr. E. D. Evans, two cabinets for the use of Ladies' Auxiliary.

Besides, there had been presented many flowers at different times for the beautifying of the church.

Mr. F. L. Bell performed the duties of vestry clerk for the evening.

The meeting, which had been most harmonious and successful, concluded with prayers by the rector.

RIDING ON THE SIDEWALK.

J. W. Garvin Fined Two Dollars For Breaking the Law.

Justice is distributed with an even hand in Canada. The poor, the politician, the publican, the sinner, the rich and the poor are treated alike by the level sweep of the arm of Justice.

An evidence of this was given in the police court this morning, when J. W. Garvin, who entered a plea of "guilty" to a charge of riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, was fined $2 by Magistrate Dumble.

GET READY TO SNAP.

A New Feature in Y.M.C.A. Work.

Many Young Men's Christian Associations have organized camera clubs for the purpose of encouraging amateur photography among its members. These clubs have not only been of great assistance to those who delight in this art, but to the Association as well. Exhibitions of work done during the summer months are given in the building at the close of the season.

It has been decided to devote the entire third flat of the Y. M. C. A. building for the use of the Camera Club when the same is organized.

A dark room will shortly be fitted up with the necessary apparatus for the convenience of the members.

Professional photographers have given promise of hearty support to boom the club, both in favourable terms for supplies and lectures on the work.

This will be one of the many attractions at the Y. M. C. A. this summer.

A meeting of members, as well as of those interested in the formation of the club, will be held in the Y. M.C.A. parlour on Tuesday evening, April 19th, at eight o'clock. Any who wish further particulars or who wish to join and are unable to attend the organization meeting, will please advise the secretary of their intentions by postal card.

ST. LUKE'S WARDENS.

Their Annual Report Which was Presented on Monday Evening Last.

Appended is the annual report of St. Luke's church wardens which was received too late to publish in connection with the report of the vestry meeting yesterday.

To the Vestry of St. Luke's Church:

The Church Wardens beg to present the following statement of the accounts for the year just closed.

The Sunday collections for the year amounted (for the 51 Sundays) to $1,457.78, of which $393.60 represents the amount contributed by the congregation during Lent and on Easter Sunday, through the special envelopes provided for that purpose. The total amount contributed Sunday was $268.07 The average of the Sunday collections, exclusive of the special Lenten and Easter offerings is $25.68, of which the average cash is $10.31, and of envelopes $15.21. This shows an increase over the preceding year in the average amount of envelopes of $2.10 per Sunday; there is a reduction in the amount contributed in cash but there is a slight net increase per Sunday over the preceding year in the funds derived from both sources.

For the first time for some years a balance—and that a fairly substantial one—of current receipts over expenditure is in the hands of the Church Wardens, namely $119.17, and this in spite of the fact that the year was commenced with a deficit of of $101. This extremely satisfactory result is due to the very large sum contributed specially during Lent and Easter, as before mentioned; to the liberal response to the appeals made at the Harvest Festival, when $55 was contributed; to the efforts of the members of the Ladies' Aid, who realized from their tea and sale $129, and to the Men's Guild concerts, which yielded $48.

There is also in the hands of the Church Wardens the fund being collected with a view to making a payment upon the principal of the mortgage of $1,400 on the school house, the amount of which fund is now $186. There is, however, due the Church Wardens the balance carried from last year in respect of the extension of the parsonage, $113, and also a small balance in connection with the renovation of the church, of $37.

Appended to our report are a statement of ordinary receipt and expenditure, a statement of church renovation account and a statement of cash balances in hands of or due Church Wardens.

EVANGELIST VARLEY IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

ANOTHER INTERESTING MEETING HELD IN THE SERIES.

The Evangelist Speaks Again in St. Paul's To-night and on the Two Succeeding Evenings in the George Street Methodist Church.

Another large congregation assembled in St. Paul's church last evening to hear Evangelist Varley speak.

In opening his address he dwelt to some extent on the distinction in God's word between salvation of the soul, which was always from God, and the works of man, which bring their own reward.

To show that salvation was from God, the speaker quoted many passages from Scripture and referred to the case of the woman of Samaria and

THE DYING THIEF.

There never was and never would be a man saved by his own works.

Paul was a murderer, yet was saved by the grace of God.

The wages of sin are death, but the gift of God is eternal life.

If we do not receive Him the condemnation is ours. If we are saved it is not because of what we are or do.

Youth is the golden time to accept Christ. Paul is now the greatest capitalist in glory and the dying thief one of the poorest there.

So many people are building to-day of wood, hay and stubble, in place of gold, silver and precious stones.

The first were likened by the speaker to cards, theatres, dancing and worldly pleasures.

To be a child of God is no trifle, it is full of responsibility. But what are the rewards. "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give you a crown of life."

The evangelist then spoke of young men in the prime of manhood and of what it was for them to endure temptation when down beneath it.

He looked forward to the coming of the Lord. He wanted Him to come and save the world.

Young men and young women have to-day to fight against modern criticism and worldly pleasure. These are drawing many away from Christ and His service.

Thousands of Christian people are wasting their time in fighting trifles.

We should keep the body in subjection. Peter in the soldier's warm room was worse off than if he had been out in the cold because he was in the way of temptation.

Mr. Varley spoke very feelingly of those who had their names on the church roll but who were doing nothing to lead others to Christ. He then recapitulated the different rewards: There was the Crown of Life, Crown of Righteousness, Crown of Glory, Incorruptible Crown and the Crown of Rejoicing.

He claimed that he would wear the Crown of Rejoicing, having seen 25,000 souls won to Christ from His glorious teaching.

The speaker closed the meeting with a strong and fervid appeal to those who knew not the joy of salvation or the joy of serving Christ to come to Him.

Mr. Varley conducts the service in St. Paul's church again this evening, and will be in the George street church the two succeeding evenings.

SENATOR COX AND THE $50 CORD OF WOOD.

Another Evidence of the Senators' Unforgetting Consideration.

"A correspondent to the Globe, a propos of the cord wood incident and Senator Cox writes thus: I read with pleasure the story of the Hon. Senator and the $50 which he paid for an old and no doubt forgotten account of a cord of firewood. The act was like him, and as many of your readers must be interested in having good and honourable actions on the part of our fellow-citizens held up for imitation let me present another case of Mr. Cox's recognition of his moral obligation to pay debts that were not his.

Some years ago I met him in the village of Colborne, which place he was then visiting for the first time after he had left it a comparatively poor and obscure man. Fortune having smiled on him, he remembered that a dear relative of his had left some debts in the neighborhood of Colborne unpaid, and in a quiet, unostentatious manner Hon. Geo. A. Cox got accounts of the debts, which, with interest amounted to quite a respectable sum, and paid them to the utmost farthing. The writer is neither of his religious denomination nor of his circle of business connections, but one who only looks on him from afar, but it is a real pleasure to have an opportunity presented of bearing testimony to the good acts of a man whose abilities and goodness of heart do so much to adorn our common citizenship."

DOING WELL

The Ladies are helping us to make our Millinery a greater success this year than ever before. We do not need to make glaring statements about our own improved business. Ladies know we are doing well and working up to our full capacity. The crowded condition of our Millinery Parlours during the first week was evidence enough of the fact.

We are making it interesting and pleasant to lady shoppers by having the Newest and most fetching styles, telling the truth about our goods, marking everything at moderate prices and surrounding their selling with every courtesy. The worst thing that could happen would be to not do our part well.

Now for Shirt Waists!

We are making a Special Display of very pretty well made Shirt Waists in New Muslin and Print Patterns, of Stripes, Plaids and other effects. Don't miss seeing them.

THE CHILCOOT AVALANCHE.

Number of Dead Now Said to Be Seventy-Five, With a Prospect of Reaching a Hundred.

Seattle, Wash., April 12.—A least 75 lives were lost in the snowslides on the Chilcoot Pass. The number may possibly be as high as 100. Sixty-nine bodies have been recovered. The great majority of those killed were from Tacoma, Seattle and California.

IT WAS RUSSIANS AND CHINESE

That Had a Skirmish and Not Englishmen and Russians.

Pekin, April 12.—A slight conflict between Russians and Chinese has taken place at Kin-Chou.

It is believed this encounter gave rise to the report from Yokohama last night that a collision had taken place between the British and the Russians at Ta-Lien-Wan. Kin-Chou is a little way north of and near Ta-Lien-Wan.

The Chinese Distrust Russia.

Pekin, April 12.—Numerous indications are reported of a growing Chinese distrust of Russia. This feeling is shown by the recent totally unprecedented action of the students now in Pekin for their examinations for admission to their final degrees. They have memorialized the Throne, urging vigorous action against Russian aggression, and stating that all the Chinese are convinced of the enmity of Russia, while on the other hand they recognize the friendliness of England.

Conspiracy in China.

London, April 12.—A despatch to the Daily News from Shanghai says: "The existence of a formidable conspiracy in the Imperial palace at Pekin has been discovered and the lives of some of the highest people in the empire are in danger. Progressive Manchus are indignant at the virtual sale of China to Russia by the Emperor's Chinese advisers."

A card on the outside of office door says, "Gone to lunch—be back in ten minutes," and the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach, and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten minute lunches condensed.

The man who "boils" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart burn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanently. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Holland.

Holland is an abbreviation of Hollowland. It is a low, flat country on the North sea and is composed mostly of deposits from the Rhine and other rivers and of sand thrown up by the sea. Some parts of it are even lower than the sea itself, and to keep the water out strong walls called dikes, made of great stones, timber, turf and clay, have been built along the shores. The land was formerly very soft and swampy, but it has been filled up or drawn out by hundreds of pumps, which are worked either by windmills or steam engines. The water is pumped into canals, which take the place of streets, and the people go about on them in summer in little boats drawn by horses or by dogs, and in winter they travel merrily over the ice on skates, which men, women and children use with ease and grace.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE

Capt. Urquhart Remembered in Solemn Function at Ottawa.

THE VICE-REGAL MOVEMENTS.

An Expression of Deep Sympathy From Their Excellencies to Mrs. Duff, Capt. Urquhart's Only Sister—Ottawa Rifle Range Moved Eastward—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Pluck —Ottawa News.

Ottawa, April 12.—At the private chapel at Government House yesterday evening reference was made to harmony of the celebration of the Resurrection, in conjunction with the memories of the friend for whose loss they mourned, Capt. Urquhart.

It was mentioned by His Excellency that in addition to messages already cabled by Their Excellencies, there would be an opportunity for an expression of deep sympathy being sent on behalf of the household to Mrs. Duff of Hatton Castle, Capt. Urquhart's only sister.

During the service the hymn, "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er," was sung, and at the close Handel's "Dead March" was played by the organist, Their Excellencies and all present standing.

Rifle Range Moved Eastward.

Owing to a difficulty in securing the land for the Rockliffe range at what was looked upon as a proper figure the site has been moved east a short distance. The expectation of the Department is that the range will be ready for use by the first of July. The request from the local militia for the use of the Rideau range until the other site is ready has been reported against by officers of the Department, on the ground that it would endanger the lives of many families who live in the rear of the old Rideau range, so that local riflemen will not get any practice for several weeks.

Vice-Regal Movements.

Their Excellencies the Governor and the Countess of Aberdeen hope to make a brief visit to Toronto on the occasion of the Military Tournament and Home Show early next month.

The statement which recently appeared to the effect that Their Excellencies would be in Toronto for the dramatic entertainment of the 48th Highlanders was apparently due to some misapprehension, caused possibly by the fact that their patronage was promised to the affair some time ago, though without any undertaking as to being personally present, and their engagements of some standing in this city for the latter part of the week, and indeed for nearly every day of the week, will prevent their leaving Ottawa at that time.

The Countess of Aberdeen was in Toronto yesterday in connection with arrangements regarding the sending of nurses to the Klondike, but is expected back to-day.

Personal and General.

An Order in-Council has been passed appointing Captain Bloomfield Douglas, R.N.R., naval assistant to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. Mr. Dobell, who took a flying trip to England to ascertain the position of affairs in the matter of the Atlantic fast line contract, has returned. Mr. Dobell expresses his opinion that the contractors will in all probability live up to their obligations.

A report was current yesterday that the Premier's physicians have ordered him away for a rest. Sir Wilfrid thinks, however, that he can hold on for six weeks longer. It is confidently believed that prorogation will take place before Queen's Birthday.

Hon. G. F. Foster has sufficiently recovered to be able to proceed with the debate on the budget when the House meets to-day. The debate is not likely to extend over many days.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

For over a year Mr. House has waged a fierce conflict with kidney disease. The pain he endured was unspeakably severe, and he could get absolutely no relief till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now he is completely cured—of course.

Mr. House says: "I am sincere in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I am truly and earnestly thankful for my cure.

The Critics.

Flick—Call him a musician! Why, he doesn't know the difference between a nocturne and a symphony.

Flack—You don't mean it?

And they hurry to get away from one another. Each is terribly afraid that the other will ask, "By the way, what is the difference?"—Boston Transcript.

WHEAT WEAKER.

Only a Small Decrease in the Visible Supply, and Crop Outlook Is Bright —The Local Prices.

Monday Evening, April 11.

This being a holiday abroad there is little European news to hand. In Chicago, on the unsettled political situation, on the very small decrease in the visible supply of wheat, and in view of excellent growing crop weather, July wheat declined ½c, the remoter options falling off in sympathy. May remained at $1.08. Corn lost ½c, in sympathy, and provisions weakened also. Country grain receipts are small at Toronto, farmers being busy seeding.

Winter Wheat Promises Well.

Washington, D.C., April 11.—The report of the Department of Agriculture for April 1 makes the average condition of winter wheat 86, against 81.4 last April and 77.1 on April 1, 1896. The average condition of winter rye is 92.1, against 88.9 on April 1, 1897, and 82.9 on the corresponding date in 1896. There are few sections of the country from which a very satisfactory report as to the condition of winter grain has not been received. The winter over a large part of the country has been mild and dry. The lowest averages from important winter wheat States are those of Illinois and California, 75 and 62, respectively.

Visible Supply of Grain.

The usual weekly statistics regarding the quantity of wheat afloat are not to hand, this being a holiday. The visible supply of wheat decreased only 94,000 last week, as against 906,000 bushels the corresponding week of 1897. Corn decreased 2,547,000 bushels and oats increased 1,493,000 for the week. The figures are:

Wheat, bu.	30,129,000	37,706,000
Corn, bu.	40,100,000	24,967,000

SLEEPLESSNESS

DRIVING MANY MEN AND WOMEN TO USE DANGEROUS NARCOTICS.

A SIMPLE WAY OF INDUCING REFRESHING SLUMBER BY RESTORING HARMONIOUS ACTION OF THE NERVE CENTRES.

TO the thousands of people all over the land who are tossing on sleepless pillows night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves unhinged, and to whose eye sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing rest. They restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres and bring back the shattered nervous system to perfect condition. Then "nature's sweet restorer" comes and sleep is sound and peaceful as a babe's. No one need suffer the terrible agony of sleeplessness, or any derangement of the nervous system when Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can be procured.

Mr. Chas. Tighe, a well-known resident of Mount Forest, says:

"Until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Yeoman's drug store last November, I was very excitable. The slightest trouble set me trembling all over, and it would be a long time before I could calm myself. My heart often beat so fast that I felt as if I would smother, and my nervous system was so completely unstrung that I could hardly sleep at all. Some nights I got no sleep whatever, and I can assure you it is a bad state to be in, as I went to my work feeling weak and nervous.

"I have taken two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerves Pills and they have relieved every one of my troubles. My heart is all right, I sleep well and go to my work strong and refreshed. They have restored my nervous system to health and vigor, and I appreciate the remarkable good they have done me more than I can tell you."

THE SLATER SHOE

"Slater Boot Trees."

The wear and shape retention of a shoe may be doubled if, when taken off the foot, it be put on a tree the exact shape of the shoe. The leather thus regains its elasticity and fiber tension and the shoe its form. Valuable to wearers with a tendency to run over on heels. A good idea is to have two pairs of shoes alternately "treed" and worn. Each pair will thus give double service if allowed a rest-day between wear-days. Trees to fit the various shapes of Slater Shoes, at $1.00 per pair.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

OJO BLANCO.

Ojo Blanco was not a man, but a horse, and he was not afflicted with one of those distressing complaints that we read of in patent medicine testimonials, but was the victim of the dangerous and inconvenient habit of turning back handsprings. Perhaps some of the readers of this narrative will wonder why a horse may not indulge with impunity in this harmless amusement, which is encouraged and applauded in the festive boy.

Without question our faithful friend the horse should be allowed to follow his own tastes and inclinations, provided only that these do not conflict with his business engagement with his owner. This was the difficulty. Ojo Blanco did not enliven his leisure moments by turning elephantine somersaults. It was only when he was saddled and bridled and his hardworking master mounted him, preparatory to a long day's ride over the range, that he showed any inclination to execute gymnastic feats. At such times, when his master was fairly in the saddle, he rose on his hind legs and threw himself backward with a reckless disregard of his own safety and an evident desire to smash his rider. Only a man accustomed to riding wild horses and well versed in the many tricks to which they resort to unseat their riders could have the skill and agility to kick himself free from the falling horse and escape being crushed. Sam Walker had done this so many times that it was quite a mechanical action with which he freed himself from the saddle during these performances.

Ojo Blanco was a lean, long legged, Roman nosed sorrel, well past the prime of life, with a drooping head and dejected air, which deceived strangers into thinking him devoid of spirit. His name, which in plain English is White Eye, was given him because nature had bestowed on him a pair of white, expressionless eyes, with nevertheless a sinister gleam in their cold depths which to the experienced meant "Don't trifle with me; I'm dangerous."

A couple of years previous Sam Walker had purchased him from a man who declined to risk his life any longer in the exciting pastime of riding an acrobatic horse. Perhaps the fact that this man had recently taken unto himself a wife had something to do with Ojo Blanco's change of ownership, for it is a fact that men who seem to delight in reckless deeds and hair-breadth escapes become suddenly careful of their persons when they attain to the dignity of the head of a household. At any rate, the horse was offered for sale at a very low figure, and Sam Walker who was well acquainted with Ojo's pet weakness and who prided himself that no horse had ever got the best of him, did not hesitate to become his owner.

Sam was noted for his skill as a "bronco buster" in a country where cattle raising was the chief industry and good horsemen abounded, and, though he had had many a tussle with vicious horses, he had never been thrown, and under his influence even the most confirmed bucker grew manageable. It was somewhat disconcerting, therefore, to this veteran rider when his new acquisition, without resorting to any of the devices with which he was familiar, promptly rolled him in the dust and lay regarding him with a look of wicked triumph which seemed to say, "Found your match at last."

However, Sam had too much grit to be discouraged by a single defeat, and he kept on riding Ojo, acquiring great skill and grace in his manner of being thrown, and hoping that the horse would give up the habit when he found that he was always mounted again. This performance did not take place every time that Ojo was ridden, which lent the charm of uncertainty to his movements. Sometimes when mounted he would walk briskly off with an amiable, docile air which seemed to challenge any one to think ill of him, but Sam learned to distrust these moods and was always on his guard. Several of his friends urged him to shoot the horse if he did not want to fill an early grave, but Sam, in his usual reckless fashion, insisted that he was not afraid and that no living horse should conquer him.

Aside from any matter of pride, Sam got an extra $5 a month for riding his own horse, and it would be hard to find a better vaquero horse than Ojo Blanco. As Sam said, he was "too mean to die." He had wonderful endurance and did the work of two ordinary horses, and in working with cattle he showed as much sense as a man. After relieving his feelings in the morning by upsetting himself and his rider he would travel over the range all day, with no food and scarcely a pause for rest, coming home at night with the same energy with which he started out. No wonder therefore that Sam was willing to humor his failings in view of his excellent staying qualities.

Ojo Blanco never bucked. He left such undignified gymnastics to colts and horses with uncertain tempers and no brains. He felt that he was master of a specialty which had given him a wide reputation, and which, moreover, saved him the indignity of being ridden by a miscellaneous assortment of people. No one dared mount him except Sam, and as Sam always treated him with deference and respect he desired no better master.

It may be that Ojo Blanco's extraordinary behavior was due to chronic dyspepsia, for it is hard to believe that nature could have endowed any horse with the quiet and persistent malevolence that he showed. It is well known that an attack of indigestion will render the best tempered man morose and irritable, and when a horse is similarly afflicted how much larger a field there is for the circulation of anguish! Perhaps it was only after a night of restless misery, when his ration of hay had refused to be submitted to the usual operations, that Ojo Blanco regarded all men as enemies, and when the cruel cinch tightened around his troubled insides the impulse to wreak vengeance on his tormentor grew too strong to be suppressed.

At last a day came when Sam's patient spirit, grown accustomed to literally grovelling in the dirt, rebelled against such treatment and wrought the cure of Ojo Blanco's peculiar habit. There was a picnic and barbecue to which all the countryside gathered, and here appeared Sam resplendent in his best suit of clothes, a red silk handkerchief around his neck and his newly shaven face wearing a festive air. With him came Ojo Blanco, washed and groomed till his rough coat fairly shone, a brand new hair rope knotted around his neck and the silver ornaments on his bridle glistening in the sun. All the morning he had been overflowing with good humor, even omitting the customary tumble, and now he seemed to be imbued with the spirit of the occasion, for he held his head high and pranced a little so as to show off Sam's horsemanship.

The time went by with the usual talk, laughter and devotion to the inner man, and when the people had in a measure recovered from the torpor incident to a hearty picnic meal some one proposed a horse race. A dozen young fellows at once came forward, eager to show off the speed of their horses and their own skill. With them came Sam Walker, but he was greeted with shouts of derision.

"Do you think that old crowbait of yours can run?" asked one scornful youth. "He might do for a slow race, but he won't be in it with these horses."

"Never you mind," answered Sam. "Ojo can run. There isn't a horse in the country that can beat him when he's after a wild steer."

"He'll fall over with you and spoil your looks," jeered another.

"No, he won't. He never does that except in the morning when I am starting out. Go ahead and get ready. Ojo and I are right in this." And Sam took his place with a determined air that silenced the incredulous.

"Now, boys," said the starter, "each of you stand by his horse with a hand on the reins while I count three, and when I say 'Mounts' jump on and ride as fast as you can."

At the given word every man was in his saddle and off like a flash, with the exception of Sam, who found too late that he had reckoned without Ojo Blanco. As Sam leaped into the saddle Ojo stiffened himself, and as the other horses darted away he rose majestically on his hind legs and subsided over backward, rolling Sam, Sunday clothes and all, in the dusty road. For a moment Ojo lay there, grunting derisively; then he struggled to his feet and stood regarding his crestfallen master out of the corner of his glassy eye. Amid roars of laughter from the men and exclamations of dismay from the women, Sam picked himself up, swearing heartily under his breath the while and vowing to get even with that confounded horse if he broke his own neck.

All the rest of the day he was unusually abstracted, paying little attention to the unmerciful chaffing of his companions, which as a general thing he was quick to return with interest. They concluded that the public humiliation had made him morose, and so let him alone, but he was merely revolving in his mind various schemes of vengeance on Ojo Blanco.

"Boys," he said next morning, as half a dozen of them were saddling to go in search of cattle, "meet me on the bluff by the river at noon today if you want to see some fun. I'm going to break this horse of his comedness if I have to break his neck to do it."

Of course the boys were more than ready to see fun, and at the specified time they met on the bluff. At this point the bank of the river rose in a sheer wall 40 feet high, and at its foot the water was about six feet deep, but shallower on the other side. To the edge of this precipice Sam led the unsuspecting Ojo, turned him with his tail to the river and proceeded to adjust the old saddle which he had thoughtfully provided.

Ojo stood there, his eyes half closed and his mind far away, probably dreaming of home and an extra large ration of ground barley, when he was brought rudely back to earth by a vicious jerk on the cinch that surrounded his digestive apparatus. Another jerk and another, till it seemed to the startled and indignant Ojo that his precious vital organs were compressed by an iron band. Never before had his cinch been touched with other than a reverent hand, and it had always been laid gently around his form and moderately tightened. All the pride of Ojo's nature rose in rebellion at the indignity offered him, and, blind with rage and not noticing that his master had not mounted, he reared and threw himself viciously backward.

Those present say that there was a look of intense surprise on Ojo Blanco's countenance as he fell through space, and it is quite safe to surmise that he was surprised when, instead of landing comfortably on solid ground, he felt himself whizzing through the air with dizzying rapidity, his dignified form revolving like a cart wheel the while, to alight at last with a tremendous splash in a pond of very wet water.

The breathless watchers on the cliff above affirm that Ojo tried to cheat himself with the belief that all was as usual by lying motionless for a time. Now it is one thing to lie on dry land and shoot glances of defiance at your enemies and it is quite another thing to do it under six feet of water, as Ojo soon found. Snorting with wrath and dismay, he struggled to his feet and waded to the bank on the other side, where he turned and regarded his persecutors with keen reproach.

So convulsed with laughter that they could scarcely stand, they had no eyes for anything but Ojo Blanco's sorry figure as he stood with water streaming down his sides and dripping from his Roman nose. As for Sam, he felt that this moment amply repaid him for all the humiliation heaped on him in the past.

The lesson had the desired effect, for never again did Ojo Blanco turn a back handspring with his master. Sometimes the impulse seized him to throw his new haughty rider in the dust, but, recalling that sickening sensation of falling through the air and the dreadful plunge at the bottom, with a shiver of horror he would refrain.—Celia Lynn in Argonaut.

It isn't much trouble for a really healthy man to be good humored. Jollity and exhuberant health are a proverbial combination. The hearty man who is always laughing doesn't have any trouble with his digestion. It has been said that laughing makes people healthy. The truth is that health makes people laugh.

It is impossible to estimate the tremendous influence of health upon human character. A man with a headache will not be in a happy, contented frame of mind. A man who suffers from a weak stomach and an impaired digestion will sit and grumble through the best meal ever prepared. A bilious man who is not a bore, is deserving of a place in a museum. A nervous man who is not petulent and fault-finding is a curiosity. All these conditions lead to grave diseases, when the victim becomes not only disagreeable, but dependent as well. A wise wife will realize that while the old saying that a "man's heart is in his stomach," is not literally true, it is a fact that his stomach sweetens or sours his character according as it is healthy or unhealthy. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of medicines for the conditions described. It makes the weak stomach strong, the impaired digestion perfect, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and tones the nerves. It tears down half-dead, inert tissues and replaces them with the firm muscular tissues of health. It builds new and healthy nerve fibres and brain cells. It dissipates nervousness and melancholy and imparts mental elasticity and courage. It is the best of all known medicines for nervous disorders.

"Through your skillful treatment I am once more a well man," writes J. N. Arnold, Esq., of Gandy, Logan Co., Nebr. "I suffered for years and could not find relief until I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I suffered with constipation and torpidity of liver which resulted in irritation of the prostate and inflammation of the bladder. I had only taken one bottle when I found great relief. The medicine has effected a permanent cure."

The Hand of an Artist.

Among Keene's gifts he had a physical gift of inestimable value for such work as ours—namely, a splendid hand—a large, muscular, well shaped and most workmanlike hand, whose long, deft fingers could move with equal ease and certainty in all directions. I have seen it at work, and it was a pleasure to watch its acrobatic dexterity, its unerring precision of touch. It could draw with nonchalant facility parallel straight lines or curved, of just the right thickness and distance from each other—almost as regular as if they had been drawn with ruler or compass—almost, but not quite. The quiteness would have made them mechanical and robbed them of their charm of human handicraft. A cunning and obedient slave, this wonderful hand, for which no command from the head could come amiss—a slave, moreover, that had most thoroughly learned its business by long apprenticeship to one especial trade, like the head and like the eye that guided it.—George Du Maurier in Harper's Magazine.

Spring Housecleaning.

While people are particular about having their house cleaned of the winter's accumulation of dirt, they're not always so particular about their system. It needs cleaning too, and there's nothing will do it so thoroughly and effectually as Burdock Blood Bitters. Alex. Miller, Ardoch, Ont., says:—"I have taken B. B. CANADA LIFE
Assurance Company.

ANOTHER PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Large Increase in Surplus.

The fifty-first annual report of the Canada Life shows this old established Company to be in a most flourishing condition. The annual meeting was held yesterday. Following is a synopsis of the report:—

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

In presenting to the Shareholders their 51st Annual Report, the Directors are gratified in announcing that the Company has fairly shared in the somewhat improved condition of the business of the country, as will be seen by the Statements and Accounts now submitted. By these it will be observed that the Company has transacted a larger business than during the previous year, and has increased its clear surplus by no less than $497,098.05.

NEW BUSINESS.

The applications for new assurances during 1897 numbered 3,066, for the sum of $6,185,996, of which, however, 266 for $521,000 were declined, the lives not appearing up to that standard which it is in the interest of the company's other assurers should be maintained, and as 191 applications for $373,369 were not carried out, the issue of the year was for $5 291,636, under 2 609 policies, exceeding 1896 by 573 policies for $798,980.

The total business in force at the close of 1897 was $72,719,555 29 of Assurances, under 33,407 policies, upon 24,469 lives.

POLICY CLAIMS.

The claims by deaths paid during 1897 amounted to $770,168 45, and Endowment policies for $139,846 92, having matured, these same, as well as $218,481.29 for profits, $145 411.18 for surrenders, and an annuity of $400, making in all $1,263,807.84, were paid to policyholders during the year.

INCREASE IN ASSETS.

The Income receipts of the year were $2,953,272.83, and deducting therefrom all payments to policy-holders for claims by death, for profits, and for matured Endowment policies, as well as other outlay, including expenses of management, there was left the sum of $1,272,486.05, which increased the Company's Assets to $18,678 915 67.

SURPLUS.

As appears by the Abstract of Assets and Liabilities, after providing fully for the necessary reserve for all policies of the Company, and for all its other Liabilities, there is shown a Surplus of $1,564,082 05.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President, Mr. A. G. Ramsay, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The Directors' Report and the usual accounts and statements have for some days been in your hands, and have now been taken as read. While the report is brief, it contains, I think, along with the various published accounts, all that is required to enable those interested in the Company to judge of its progress and success in the past year. The addition during 1897 of nearly half a million dollars to the surplus or profits fund is a large and satisfactory one, and without invidiously comparing it with the figures of any other particular Company, I may say that it is more than was attained by all the other Canadian companies combined. The new business of the year was, you will observe, of satisfactory and gratifying amount, and in excess of the previous year, and you will be pleased to know that it is of that desirable class which will result more to the profit of the Company than would a larger amount obtained at heavier expense, or from less desirable regions than the healthful climate of Canada, and the four Northern States to which we have thus far deemed it judicious to confine the operations of the Company. The existing assurances are $72,719,555 or nearly twice as much as they were 12 years ago. The death claims of the year continued of very favourable amount, and being well within what was calculated upon, that fact testifies to the care observed in the selection of the lives, and to the judicious limitation of the business to the healthful climates already alluded to.

The recent lamentable failures of some of the companies doing business on the assessment system, and the anxiety felt as to the others which are based upon the same fallacious principles lead me to point out that these occurrences are only the inevitable results, which were from the first predicted by those whose knowledge and experience enabled them to judge of what the future of companies of the kind must be. At our meeting in 1857, when concerns of the kind were making strenuous efforts to establish themselves in Canada, I alluded to the miserable failures they had been in England and in America, and I said that their "ephemeral existence indicates how useless the assessment system of assurance is as a family provision. It can only offer the uncertain hope of a cheap assurance for a few years, till the company breaks down. It cannot afford any guarantee that a definite amount of assurance will certainly be paid to a widow or children after an assurer's death, whether that occurs at an early day or a distant one, and without such a guarantee as that, which our own and other sound companies offer, life assurance must be a fraud and a delusion." I added that "I was aware that agents and managers of companies of the kind pointed to the names of prominent business and professional men who have joined them, or who act as their directors, but as some of them at all events allow their names to be employed in that way, simply because policies have been gratuitously given to them, one can judge how little weight should attach to the names of the gentlemen thus used to decoy others to join such companies." One cannot envy the feelings of the prominent gentlemen alluded to, who induced persons to take policies in companies of the kind, from which they are now driven out by their failure, or by the levy of such high payments as they are unable to meet.

As the accounts show, the year's income was within a trifle of three million dollars, and the assets of the company were increased to the very considerable amount of nearly nineteen million dollars, and yielding, after deducting liabilities of every kind, a net surplus or profit of $1,564,082 for allocation at the end of next year, along with whatever addition there may be made to it between now and that time, and as the management and other expenses by which the profits to policy-holders are very largely influenced continue to be on a more moderate percentage than that of other Canadian or American companies, the prospects for our assurers are of a favourable character.

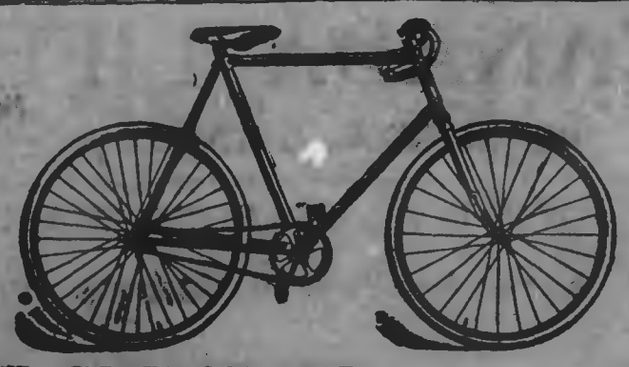
It is anticipated that legislation will be introduced by the Government, modifying the present 4½ per cent. rate of interest prescribed by law as the basis for Life Assurance Reserves, and adopting the new mortality Tables based upon the observations and large experience of the British Insurance Companies, in course of compilation by the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, and I may say on behalf of the Board in reference to the amendment to the charter, alluded to in the Directors report of last year, that the Directors purpose to avail themselves of the occasion of that legislation to seek such amendments to the law as may meet the Board's requirements.

The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Gates, Vice-President, and unanimously carried. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the agents, officers, medical and legal advisers of the company, Mr. Adam Brown speaking in eloquent terms of their services rendered to the Company.

Mr. Leggat moved and Lieut.-Col. McLaren seconded a hearty vote of thanks to the President and Directors for their attention to the interests of the Company during the past year. Brief and interesting addresses were also made by Sir George Kirkpatrick and Sir George Burton, the latter of whom was heartily congratulated upon the recent honour conferred upon him by the Queen.

The retiring Directors, Chief Justice Sir George Burton, Col. Sir Casimer Gzowski, K.C.M.G., and Mr. N. Berrill, were re-elected. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. A. G. Ramsay was re-elected President and Mr. F. W. Gates Vice-President.

The meeting passed off very harmoniously, every one present being gratified with the progress and continued prosperity of the Canada Life, which, as Sir George Kirkpatrick remarked, was easily leader of all Companies in the Dominion.



OF COURSE WE MEAN TO SELL

Bicylces

And very many of them, too, of the best kind. Our arrangements are settled for trustworthy goods and not for articles made purposly to meet a low-price market, and skinned at various points in unseen places. Every Bicycle we sell is intended to fill out our idea of reliability, speed and satisfaction in the long run. A full assortment from the well known makes "E. & D." and "Gendron," and carefully chosen stocks from other makers. To confine ourselves to one factory, would be as foolish as to limit ourselves to selling one make of hat. Whatever the price, we shall be at the lowest for really dependable goods.

"OUR SPECIAL" Bicycle is cheap enough to buy—quality of material used, manner in which it is put together, style, appearance, durability, price—these points considered, this Wheel is undoubtedly in the lead. Only $40.00 with with Dunlop Tires.

"TRENT VALLEY." In these wheels are combined all the merits that skillful workmanship and knowledge of the wheel industry can produce. There are few better Wheels at any price. You can pay more for fancy trimmings or a big name if you wish, but you can get no more satisfactory Bicycle. A good Bicycle is a good investment—$50.00, Cash.

Bicycle Supplies, Bells, Cyclometers, etc., at lowest rates.

A GALWAY FIRE.

Terence McGee's Barns Totally Destroyed, Together with all his Stock but one Horse.

Our Galway correspondent writes as follows concerning the recent fire on the premises of Mr. Terrence McGee :—

Good Friday cannot be said to have gladened the homes of all, for we regret to state that Mr. Terence McGee was awakened about two o'clock that morning by a crackling noise, and when he looked out of the window he was surprised to see the stables in one red blaze. He had no sooner got outside than he witnessed them tumble to the ground.

His entire stock of cattle, consisting of five head of horned cattle, and one team of horses were literally roasted alive, with the exception of one horse, which he let his neighbour have for a few days.

One part of the stable held all his implements and a new set of heavy sleighs, as well as a quantity of hay, which was all destroyed.

The writer having occasion to visit that locality the morning after the fire was horrified to see how the poor brutes must have suffered.

Mr. McGee is unable to give any account of how the fire occurred, as he visited the stable that evening about 9 o'clock as usual and everything was all right. He said he was outside about an hour afterwards, and it being a bright evening he saw the stable then for the last time unharmed.

There was no insurance on the building. How the fire really originated is a mystery as Mr. McGee has no enemies that would be cruel enough to perpetrate such a felonious act.

GOLD IN HARBURN.

A Correspondent States That the Quality is Very Rich.

It may yet prove, says a Haliburton correspondent, that this municipality has a Klondike of its own. About a dozen miles from here in Harburn, gold quartz of a valuable character was discovered some time ago. Various investigations were made that were considered satisfactory. The difficulty was to make a fair trial of the value of the quartz, considerable capital being required. Then a Toronto mining syndicate was formed with abundant financial means, and exploration commenced. That exploration has been continued without intermission and at no period were shrouds' hopes entertained of ultimate success. The Mining Syndicate hold an option from the Canadian Land Coy and within the next few weeks that option will probably be exercised, and the Syndicate become the owners of about ten thousand acres of mineral lands. The boom is coming.

THE PLEBISCITE.

The Government's Wish is to Obtain the Real Mind of the People.

CHARLOTTETOWN, April 3.—The following is Sir Louis Davies' letter written to Charlottetown Lodge, I.O.G.T., in an answer to questions submitted by them a short time ago :—

GENTLEMEN. — I have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of March 8th, signed as representatives of a hundred and fifty leading people of your city, in which you ask me to use my influence on the question of prohibition to have a strict question put : "Are you in favour of prohibition or not?" Secondly to have the present lists used for the plebiscite election, and thirdly to have prohibition in the Yukon district. I have received a letter in similar terms from the President of the W. C. T. U., to which I replied on similar lines to this.

The aim and object of the Government are to obtain the real mind of the people on the question of prohibition.

To do this they will take care that all side issues are left out, and as nearly as possible, the plain question put, but they think that the question as to whether the elector is in favour of total prohibition of the importation, manufacture or sale of alcoholic liquors should have as part of it the further question, as to whether he is prepared, for the imposition of such new taxation as experience might show the workings of such prohibition call for. It is obviously plain to any thinking man that if a policy is adopted which cuts off seven or eight millions of revenue, that some other policy must be adopted to recoup that amount. What that would be is not for me to say, nor is it for the electors to say. Whether it should be increased duties on tea, or coffee or other articles, or in some other way which the Government of the day might advise, it it seems to many of the strongest prohibition men most desirable that the question should be put in that form. As Mr. Moody has well said, the mere carrying of the question would be an injury to the cause unless there existed sufficient public opinion afterward to carry it into effect.

On the second question, the general opinion is that the plebiscite should be taken on the lists to be adopted under the new franchise act. It would be obviously unfair to take the vote on the present lists, which in many parts of the Dominion are two or three years old, and which precludes thousands of people from voting.

On the third question, I think you will have seen the statements already made parliament that it is the policy of the Government, so far as it is possible to do so, to apply the principles of prohibition to the Yukon.

Yours faithfully,
L. H. DAVIES.

"RANDY" M'LENNAN DYING.

Word has been received by friends in Kingston that Dr. "Randy" Macleannan, Glengarry, who left some time ago for the Klondyke is dying in British Columbia. He was unable to get any further than there when he fell a prey to galloping consumption. He was a member of Queen's team when they won the Dominion championship in Rugby, and was considered one of the best lacrosse players in Canada. He was also a splendid hockey player.

A NEW RUGBY UNION.

A few days ago, says the Kingston News, Ald. Chas. Webster, the celebrated football enthusiast, was in Brockville on business, and had a talk with the footballers of that place over matters pertaining to Rugby. The result of the conference is that Eastern Rugby Football League is practically formed, and the local teams will allow the O.R.F.U. to shift for itself. Besides Mr. Webster there were present Messrs. Buell, Ritchie, (Dr.) Webster and Stewart, of Brockville (all well known in football circles,) and a gentleman from Montreal. The Montreal man said the city clubs were tired of the Quebec Union and he was sure they would be glad to join the proposed Eastern League.

The league will be composed of teams from Montreal, Peterborough, Brockville and the Granites of Kingston, each club putting in a junior and senior team. There will be no age limit for the juniors. Mr. Webster will send a circular to the above-named cities, and a meeting will be probably held in Brockville at an early date.

Among the changes in the formation of a team and details of play, the following were suggested :—The team will be composed of 12 players instead of 15. There will be only one scrimmage man instead of three, and one of the flying wings will be dropped. This will make the game more open and faster. It will resolve itself into quick running and passing and good tackling instead of scrimmage work. The game will be less brutal under the new rules. The scrimmage-man will be allowed to throw the ball out instead of "heeling out." This will stop "fouls" being called for picking out of the "scrim." In order to keep the game from becoming too much of the American style the player must keep behind the ball or he will be offside. The reduction of the number of the number of players will make the travelling expenses lighter. A board of referees who understand the game will be appointed to represent each club, so that a home referee will take charge of the game every time. The new feature of having home referees will do away with the injustice heaped on the Eastern teams by having two men come down from Toronto to referee and umpire games at Kingston and Brockville, while, at the same time, it will be a saving of expenses. If an Intercollegiate League is formed the grab alls in Toronto, known as the Ontario Rugby Union, will become a small concern. It is about time they were shelved.

EMILY.

At the April meeting of L.O.L., No. 4, Emily, the following letter of condolence was sent to Mr. A. Henery, on account of the death of his brother on April 3rd :

OTTAWA, July 31st, 1898.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Ada Strachan, our late teacher, who is at present teaching at Silver Lake, spent her Easter holidays with her sister, Mrs. James Beatty.

Kennedy Davies & Son have started to drive their logs out of Nogie's Creek and are making good progress. Some of the logs are past the last bridge now.

Owing to the continued cold weather farmers in this locality have not made much progress, but it is expected there will be considerable seeding done this week. The land has dried off and roads are in good condition.

John O'Donnell has taken the contract of driving all the logs out of Squaw River. He commenced driving first of last week. Since the repairs were made by the Government, driving is not nearly so difficult.

DOUBLE RUDBECKIA.

(Golden Glow)

One of the most distinct and beautiful large growing hardy perennials that has been introduced in years, and one that should find a place in every garden. The plant is a strong grower of fine branching habit, bearing by the hundred, on long, graceful stems, beautiful double blossoms of the brightest golden yellow and as large as a Cactus Dahlia. Excellent for cut flowers, lasting well when cut. A plant that is easily managed, growing and blooming nicely with very little care and in almost any kind of soil. 15c.

CALLED ON TO INTERVENE.

The House of Representatives Votes for War.

POWERS GIVEN THE PRESIDENT

The House Was Almost Unanimous, Passing the Direction to the Executive by a Vote of 322 to 19—Senate Committee Bitter Against Spanish Misrule—Maine Disaster Attributed to Spain.

Washington, D.C., April 14.—The resolution of the Foreign Affairs Committee, calling upon the President to intervene at once to stop the war in Cuba, passed the House last night shortly after six o'clock by a vote of 322 ayes to 19 noes.

This is the resolution: "Resolved, that the President is hereby authorized and directed to intervene at once to stop the war in Cuba, to the end and with the purpose of securing permanent peace and order there, and establishing by the free action of the people thereof a stable and independent government of their own in the island of Cuba; and the President is hereby authorized and empowered to use the land and naval forces of the United States to execute the purpose of this resolution."

THE SENATE RESOLUTION

Calls Upon Spain to Evacuate Cuba, and the Accompanying Report Is Bitter Against That Country.

Washington, April 14.—The following is the majority resolution reported to the Senate by Senator Davis immediately upon the convening of the Senate at noon yesterday:

"Whereas, the abhorrent conditions which have existed for more than three years in the island of Cuba, so near our own borders, have shocked the moral sense of the people of the United States, and been a disgrace to Christian civilization, culminating, as they have, in the destruction of a United States battleship with two hundred and sixty-six of its officers and crew, while on a friendly visit in the harbor of Havana, and cannot longer be endured, as has been set forth by the President of the United States in his message to Congress on April 11, 1898, upon which the action of Congress was invited,

"Therefore, Resolved, first, that the people of the island of Cuba are, and of right ought to be, free and independent. Second, that it is the duty of the United States to demand, and the Government of the United States does here demand, that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba, and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters. Third, that the President of the United States be, and he hereby is, directed and empowered to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States, and to call into the actual service of the United States the militia of the several States, to such extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect."

The reading of the report occupied 47 minutes, and is regarded as a powerful, bitter arraignment of Spain.

A Minority Report.

Senator Turpie presented a minority report from the Foreign Relations Committee, as follows:

"The undersigned members of the Committee on Foreign Relations concur in the report made upon the Cuban resolutions, but we favor the immediate recognition of the Republic of Cuba as organized in that island, as a free, independent and sovereign power among the nations of the world."

It was signed by Senators Turpie, Mills, Daniel and Foraker.

To Be Decided To-day.

Mr. Hoare demanded that the resolutions lie over under the rules until to-day. The Vice-President reserved his decision on the point of order.

Senator Davis said there was no disposition to unduly press the question, though it would be pressed as rapidly as possible. The speaking would in itself be sufficient to throw the case over until to-day.

The chair decided Senator Hoare's point of order well taken.

A War in the House.

In the debate which followed, Mr. Bailey, the Democratic leader, protested against the resolution being rushed through, and out of this arose the most sensational item of the day. Mr. Bartlett (Dem., Ga.) was speaking, when Mr. Brumm (Rep., Pa.) shouted, "You are a liar!" Mr. Bartlett promptly threw a large bound copy of the Congressional Record at Mr. Brumm's head and the House was instantly in an uproar. The disgraceful scene was not quieted until several other personal encounters between members had taken place.

THE MAINE EXPLOSION.

The Foreign Affairs Committee Blames Spain for the Disaster.

Washington, April 14.—The resolutions of the Foreign Affairs Committee, as presented to the Senate by Mr. Davis, were accompanied by a voluminous report. The report contained these clauses:

It is the opinion of your committee that the destruction of the Maine was compassed either by the official act of these Spanish authorities, or was made possible by a negligence in their part so willing and gross as to be equivalent in culpability to positive criminal action.

When property and life are destroyed by an act which the exercise of due diligence by the person whose duty it is to use it could have prevented the happening of such an event, it is sufficient proof that the diligence was not employed.

The time of the explosion must have been calculated for the moment when the Maine should swing within the destructive radius of the mine.

A Significant Statement.

Washington, April 14.—Yesterday Consul-General Lee told the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations that, in his opinion, there was no room to doubt that the destruction of the Maine was due to Spanish agencies.

"Do you mean the Spanish authorities in Cuba?" he was asked by a member of the committee.

"I mean the Spanish officials," he replied, "but not General Blanco. I think some of the officials were cognizant of plans to destroy the vessel, but I do not believe that of the Captain-General."

Movements of U. S. War Vessels.

Old Point Comfort, Va., April 14.—The flying squadron sailed at two o'clock yesterday under sealed orders for the south.

Secretary Long, when shown the despatch, peremptorily refused to affirm or deny its statement or comment on it in any way, saying it was an inviolable rule not to refer to the movements of the warships.

The Navy Department has decided to buy the trans-Atlantic liners St. Paul and St. Louis.

TORONTO GIRL DEAD IN TOLEDO.

Miss Eleanor Robertson's Death Due to a Criminal Operation.

Toledo, Ohio, April 14.—After the coroner and several other physicians had yesterday made an autopsy on the body of Miss Eleanor Robertson, aged 19, late of Toronto, Ont., but for some months past employed as typewriter in this city, it was announced that the deceased had come to her death by a criminal operation. The death certificate issued by Dr. W. G. Gardiner, who attended the young woman, gave inflammation of the intestines as the cause. The dead girl's father, John Robertson, was about to take the body to Toronto when the coroner interposed. The arrest of a prominent local physician is hourly looked for. A local business man is said to have betrayed the unfortunate girl.

TEN TONS OF POWDER EXPLODED.

The Miller Powder ..orks at Sunneytown, Pa., Completely Annihilated.

Reading, Pa., April 14.—The Miller Powder Works at Sunneytown, 30 miles from here, were annihilated yesterday morning by the explosion of 20,000 pounds of black gunpowder. No lives are reported to have been lost, but every building in Sunneytown is damaged.

Englishman Drowned at Wallaceburg.

Wallaceburg, April 13.—William Childs, about 21 years of age, was drowned by falling off the barge Effort. Childs was working on the Effort, and on their trip from Detroit to this place, before leaving the Syne, coming into the creek, Childs was in the act of dipping a pail of water, when he fell into the water. Deceased was an Englishman and had only been out in this country a short time. He hailed from the vicinity of Dresden.

Dead Indian on the Track.

Brantford, Ont., April 14.—Early yesterday the body of an Indian was found on the G.T.R. tracks about two miles east of Cainsville. The body is so badly mangled that identification is next to impossible. The remains were taken to Brantford. A coroner's inquest will be held.

Spain Holds a Stiff Upper Lip to the World's Gaze.

MESSAGE AN INTERFERENCE.

The London Times Supports This View of the Spanish Cabinet—Impossible to to Yield Before the U.S. Declaration of War in Everything But the Name—Pope for Peace.

London, April 14.—The Times, commenting editorially this morning on the resolution submitted yesterday (Wednesday to Congress, says:

"They embody demands which cannot be addressed to a sovereign power without rendering negotiation and compromise impossible. Even if they do not amount in form to a declaration of war, these resolutions are accompanied by violent and offensive reports, offering gratuitous provocation to the Spanish Government and people in the eyes of the civilized world. The American case cannot but be prejudiced by the manner in which it is now presented.

"We doubt, after yesterday's scenes, whether Congress is a fit body to deal with a great national issue, or to act as the avenger of wrong. The situation is that Congress has declared for war in everything but name, although without having defined, except in the vaguest manner, the object for which it wishes to fight."

THE SPANISH CABINET

Makes a Dignified Response to Message of President McKinley—Will Maintain Its Rights.

Madrid, April 14.—The Segasta Cabinet discussed McKinley's message at a special meeting last night. An official note was thereupon issued in which it is declared that the Council is of opinion that the unwarranted and meddling attitude and interference by the United States is incompatible with the sovereignty and rights of the Spanish nation. These rights, it is declared, admit of no interference with Spain's affairs by any foreign nation. The Cabinet solemnly affirms Spain's unalterable determination to uphold the nation's rights, and awaits with calmness further developments. The Council took extraordinary measures in preparation for war. It voted large sums to complete fortifications at Porto Rico. It also prepared a decree ordering a national war subscription, and appointed a committee to present an address to the throne.

The Cabinet meeting lasted five hours and when the Ministers adjourned an official note was issued, setting forth the views of the Government.

Senor Gullon read a portion of the text of President McKinley's message. Although several paragraphs were lacking, the Cabinet, after referring to the President's previous messages, which was considered necessary in order to fill up the gaps in the present summary, decided that the paragraphs received were sufficient for the Cabinet to affirm that the Government refused to acknowledge the right of the United States to interfere in Cuba, adding: "The doctrines contained in the message are incompatible with the sovereignty and right of the nation, and are an interference in the international affairs of this country."

The official note also says: "A firm consciousness of its rights, united with the resolution to maintain them, will inspire the nation as they inspired the Government with the serenity necessary in these difficult moments to direct successfully and defend energetically the sacred interests which are the patrimony of the Spanish race."

The Minister of War, General Correa, and the Minister of Marine, Admiral Bermejo, submitted reports relating to the measures taken to complete the mobilization of all the forces of the country.

GLOOM AT MADRID.

The Dons Are Downcast at the General Aspect of Affairs.

Madrid, April 14.—The very worst impression prevailed last evening. Again the Bourse has declined. Ministers say that there is no news.

Advices received from Carthagena confirm the report that the United States consul and the United States vice consul at that port, both of whom are natives of Spain, have resigned.

Pope Again Appeals to Franz Josef.

London, April 14.—A special despatch from Rome announces that the Pope has again telegraphed Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, begging him to use his influence with the other sovereigns in behalf of peace between the United States and Spain.

Determined to Resist.

London, April 14.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing at 5 o'clock last evening, says:

Lieut.-General Correo, Minister of War, and Count Xiquena, Minister of Public Works, both told me in a conversation this afternoon that the Government was finally resolved to repel every attack, direct or indirect, on the sovereignty of Spain in Cuba. Finally, the Ministers said to me:

"Our resolution at the Cabinet Council was taken unanimously, and we shall maintain it with all the necessary energy."

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1898.

CANADA'S SAILS ARE FULL.

At no time in the history of the Dominion have the people been more united, more harmonious, and more hopeful and confident respecting the future of our country.

In the centres of manufactures, trade and commerce, there is an activity which tells of confidence in the present and in the future.

The great agricultural interests, which are the foundations of our country's prosperity, are on a better footing than for many years past.

Encouraged to produce, not only for the home markets, but for the markets of the world, our farmers everywhere are applying themselves to their work with intelligence and skill.

The ships which have come to our seaports during the past year, have been insufficient to carry the increasing volume of commerce, and the shipwrights of the world are busy constructing new vessels for this trade.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, in the Budget Speech.

If the fire-eating Senators and Congressmen of the United States, who are bellowing belligerent defiance to Spain and all creation, had to do the fighting themselves, they would not have so anxious and so tender a yearning towards Cuba's enfranchisement. War in the abstract is very nice and heroic, but those who have to do the fighting see little of the romance and all of the barbarous conditions that attend the most amiable forms of "civilized warfare."

Spain's back-down in regard to granting an armistice, increases, rather than diminishes, the chance of war. The concession of the armistice is practically a dead letter; it is acceptable neither to Cuba nor the United States. Having thus shown the white feather, Spain will be naturally the more anxious to take a firm stand to rehabilitate herself in the opinion of the world. She will have to take a more defiant attitude in order to show that she was not frightened into granting the armistice.

LATE CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

(Montreal Star.)

As there was common rejoicing among our people when the first Canadian Cardinal was invented with the authority and responsibilities of his office, there is common sorrow to-day when he lies dead after a long and beneficent career. It was ever the purpose of the dead Cardinal to, so far as he might, unite the reform forces of the community, of all races and creeds, for the accomplishment of good. His figure was a common one in his active days on the temperance platform; and he was always counted by Protestants as well as Catholics among the very strongest forces that made for reform in this country.

Men still tell, at the mention of his name, of the magnificent courage and devotion with which fifty years ago he volunteered to go down to Grosse Isle and fight the terrible "ship fever" that was raging among the Irish immigrants. His sacrifice on this occasion came very near to reaching the fatal completion he so frankly risked; for he fell sick of the fever and for a long time his life was in great peril. But he lived to perform invaluable services for Laval and the educational interests of the province, and finally to die a half century later a Prince of the Church. His place in history is secure as the first Canadian Cardinal. The honour conferred upon him when he was raised to the Cardinalate fell upon his country as well; and cannot have failed to have won us recognition in the old world we had hitherto lacked. The sorrow of his own people at his death will be great, though he had reached the ripe age of seventy-eight; and in their days of mourning they will have the sympathies of their fellow citizens of another faith.

CANADIAN EMIGRATION AND IMMIGRATION.

During the long dismal period of Conservative rule, there was a disheartening persistence in the exodus of Canadians to the United States. It is unnecessary to discuss here whether the relation between the administration and the depopulation was or was not one of cause and effect; there is no denying the fact of the coincidence.

It is just as impossible to deny that for two years past the tide of migration has been flowing back to Canada from the United States. The French people are returning from New England to Quebec, and the farmers who went from Ontario to Michigan, Wisconsin, and even Dakota and Minnesota, are flocking in very satisfactory numbers to Manitoba and the Northwest Territory. Here again there is no need to quarrel over explanations; the fact of emigration becoming an immigration is satisfactory, and Liberals can afford to let their opponents do the theorizing.

The best of the matter is that this is but the beginning of a stream of immense volume. With improved methods of farming and greater freedom of transportation for grain, the Northwest is sure, within a few years, to become the "hard wheat" granary of the civilized world. No other country can compare with it in natural resources so far as the chief of cereals is concerned. Those who are coming to us now are from the worn-out or naturally poor lands of the Western States. In all probability they will find that they have made an advantageous exchange, and that their example will be followed by thousands of others, who are just as desirous as they are of bettering their condition.

It takes no small inducement to tempt people to face such a journey as these immigrants are making from Michigan by way of Toronto, Carleton and North Bay. The Grand Trunk could carry them much more advantageously to Winnipeg, but until its passengers have some means of getting to the lands on which they desire to settle, they cannot take advantage of its shorter route and lower rate. If the Grand Trunk management is wise it will make speedy and ample preparation for the coming influx, as well as for the out-going freight.—Brantford Expositor.

YOUNG'S POINT.

Mr. J. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. English, of Norwood, were the guests of Rev. Father Fitzpatrick on Easter Sunday.

Rev. M. Fotheringham, of Toronto, is a guest of Rev. Hammond Graham.

The steamer Majestic is engaged this week towing logs from Deer Bay. She made her first trip one month earlier this spring than last season.

Do not forget the concert in Lakefield on the 19th inst., which is anticipated to be one of the best of the season, being composed of Peterborough, Lakefield and Young's Point talent. Mr. P. P. Young is offering his boat to run a free trip to Lakefield that evening, so everybody is invited to take in the trip.

The social and sale of work which was given in aid of the English church Easter Monday was a great success. Supper was served from five until seven, after which Miss Lottie Kearney and Mr. C. Young disposed of numerous fancy articles sent from England, Ireland and Scotland.

Mr. Booth occupied the chair during the evening, and with a well rendered address opened the first part of the programme which was as follows:

STONY LAKE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The ice left the lake on the 8th instant. This is a good deal sooner than usual and only for the late hard frosts it would have been out in March.

There is a lull in all kinds of farm work here just now owing to the very cold weather lately. The plough was stopped by the frost and sowing has not begun.

There will be a big rush with the farmers some of these days, for all are ready with the plough and harrow awaiting a fine, warm day.

The Drain brothers are busy digging out the cellar under a large bank barn they are going to build this summer. Mr. N. Hines, of Norwood, has the carpenter work and Mr. George Forbes, jr., will build the stone work.

The Stony Lake post office will be changed this week to the residence of John R. Miles, the new postmaster, where the public will receive every attention.

Spring Housecleaning.

While people are particular about having their house cleaned of the winter's accumulation of dirt, they're not always so particular about their system. It needs cleaning too, and there's nothing will do it so thoroughly and effectually as Burdock Blood Bitters. Alex. Miller, Ardoch, Ont., says:—"I have taken B. B. APRIL DYSPEPSIA.

Paine's Celery Compound a Prompt Banisher of this Terrible and Prevailing Evil.

Mr. McCord Used the Compound After he had Failed with all other Medicines, and was Quickly Cured.

If you are a Sufferer Try the Efficacy of the Great Medicine at Once.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

DEAR SIRS,—For over five years I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia, and have used a great variety of medicines without any benefit or good results. I was advised to use your Paine's Celery Compound, and now, having just about finished three bottles, I feel it my duty to announce to the public the great benefits I have received. For over a year I was unable to sleep at night, owing to pains in my head and stomach, and my appetite was gone. Now I can sleep well and am always ready for my meals, thanks to your Paine's Celery Compound. I cannot recommend it too highly to those suffering from dyspepsia.

Yours truly,
JAMES MCCORD, Prescott, Ont.

REDUCING BURDENS.

The Business Accomplished by the Liberal Ministry.

MR. PATERSON'S ABLE SPEECH.

By the Preferential Tariff Arrangement the Actual Reduction in the Burden of the Canadian People Will Be $3,000,000, With Increased Stimulus Given to Trade—Other Topics.

Ottawa, April 14.—The feature of yesterday's debate upon the budget was the able and convincing speech delivered by the Minister of Customs in justification of the fiscal policy of the Government. It is Mr. Paterson's official business to be acquainted in detail with the operation of the tariff. He was able to furnish the House with proof of the fact, denied by critics of the Administration, that material reductions have been effected by the tariff of 1897 in the duties upon staple commodities, and particularly upon commodities largely used by the agricultural community. The other speakers were Mr. Wallace and Dr. Macdonald.

Female Immigration.

Mr. Roche elicited the information from the Minister of the Interior that the Government has sent a Mrs. Livingstone to the Old Country in connection with a scheme to bring women servants to Canada. The Government has secured for them half-rate passages out, and the amount was being advanced by the Interior Department, to be repaid in six months.

Mr. Maclean was informed by the Minister that up to March 31, 10,858 applications for miners' certificates had been issued by the Government in Canada, and 93 only in Great Britain.

The Yukon Bank of Commerce.

The Finance Minister, replying to a question by Mr. Maclean, said the Government had not yet decided on the rate of compensation to be paid to the Canadian Bank of Commerce for transacting the Government banking business in the Yukon.

Mr. Maclean was further informed that the Minister of the Interior was still considering the question of sending geological surveyors or mining experts into the Yukon country this year.

The Fast Line Matter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made his promised statement in regard to the position of the Petersen-Tate fast Atlantic steamship contract. He said that although Mr. Petersen had met with very serious opposition and severe difficulties, he had made favorable progress. As everybody knew, he had deposited security to the amount of £10,000 and a guarantee of a similar amount subsequently. The Government had now satisfactory assurances that the necessary capital had been underwritten, a strong board organized, and believed that by July 1 the vessels would be under construction.

The Prohibition Plebiscite.

Mr. Craig (Con., Durham) said he desired to see the prohibition plebiscite bill brought down without delay, in order that ample time might be given for its consideration.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he had stated on a previous occasion that the bill would be introduced as soon as the decks were cleared. The decks were almost clear now, and when the budget debate was disposed of the bill would be immediately introduced.

When Will the Canals Be Opened?

Mr. Maclean called Mr. Blair's attention to the fact that there were vessels on Lake Ontario and Lake Erie anxious to pass through the Welland and other canals. Could the Minister give any assurance when the canal would be opened?

Mr. Blair said he could not give any positive assurance as to any particular date. Night and day gangs were at work, and the canals would be ready at the earliest possible moment. No time would be lost.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

Mr. Paterson rose to continue the budget debate. After paying his respects to Sir Charles Tupper, he proceeded to defend the tariff, claiming that in this respect the Government had carried out its pledges in reducing the burdens of the people. He complained that of tariff items which Sir Charles Tupper had criticised, he had selected half a dozen on which he (Mr. Paterson) admitted the duty had been increased. He claimed that there had been a substantial reduction in the rate on agricultural implements, ranging from 16½ to 35½ per cent., apart altogether from the preferential tariff. He read a list of 107 articles used by agriculturists, in which he claimed there had been a substantial reduction in the duties.

Mr. Davin, who had been closely following the reading of the list, pointed out that a few of the articles mentioned by Mr. Paterson came from England.

Mr. Paterson said he granted this was so, but these articles would now be able to come from England under the reduced rates. It was true that trade with England had not increased to an enormous extent this year, because the Englishman made his arrangements months ahead, but when the preferential tariff was in full force trade with the Mother Country would increase with leaps and bounds. The actual reduction would amount to $3,000,000, but it would be made up by the increased stimulus given to trade.

Kettle Valley R. R. Bill Again.

When the House resumed after recess the first hour was devoted to discussion of the Kettle Valley Railway bill, so warmly advocated by the Minister of Railways.

Mr. Tarte started the discussion, vigorously opposing the bill, which he declared was not a Government measure.

Mr. Maclean was surprised to hear Mr. Tarte repudiate what was looked upon as a Government measure.

Col. Hughes said he would support the Kettle River bill if it were built entirely within Canadian territory. He could not support it in its present shape.

Sir A. P. Caron thought it in the best interests of the country that this bill should pass.

Mr. Oliver spoke strongly in favor of the bill and against C.P.R. monopoly. He was speaking at 9 o'clock, when, under the rules, the discussion stood adjourned.

Again the Budget.

Mr. Wallace continued the budget debate, and challenged Mr. Paterson to name a pre-election promise made by Liberals that had been carried out.

Dr. Macdonald (Liberal, Huron) defended the Government policy.

Mr. Craig moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 11.30 p.m.

IN RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

Canadian Pacific Wanted a Good Deal, But Blanketing Powers Were Denied It—Other Important Bills.

Ottawa, April 14.—Mr. A. Munro Grier secured from the Railway Committee an extension of time for the Queenston Heights Bridge Company.

Nicol Kingsmill was present to advocate the granting of permission to the Calgary & Edmonton Railway Company to make connection near Macleod with the Crow's Nest line. The head office of the company is changed from Montreal to Toronto. The bill passed.

Several measures affecting British Columbia or the Yukon were reported. The Lewis River Tramway Company and Miles Canyon and White Horse Tramway Company's bills were adopted. One company will build around the rapids on the left bank of the Yukon, the other on the opposite side.

Canadian Pacific Wanted More.

A sweeping measure, introduced by the Canadian Pacific Railway, affecting British Columbia, was greatly amended. The company sought power to build branch lines in British Columbia without specifying their location.

Messrs. Morrison and Maclean strongly opposed granting this power, the former claiming it would enable the company to squeeze out an independent line, such as the Kaslo & Slocan. Judge Clark said the company thought it would be a good thing to acquire these powers. This candid plea was non-effective, and the clause was struck out.

Another clause proposed to give the Canadian Pacific power to construct a ropeway for transportation of ores and other freight, and also tramways to connect with the company's railway in British Columbia.

Mr. Morrison again raised objection to conferring blanket powers. The difficulty was got over by restricting tramways to 10 miles in length, and requiring the consent of the Governor-in-Council to be given before commencing construction, the company to give public notice of application, and deposit plans of proposed tramways with the Department of Railways. The bill was then reported.

The Bill Was Held Over.

The Nakusp & Slocan Railway (Canadian Pacific) asked for power to build branch lines, each not exceeding 30 miles long, under authority of the Governor-in-Council. Mr. Morrison opposed the bill, as it would interfere with and parallel the Kaslo & Slocan Railway, and probably lead to crushing out that line.

The bill was postponed.

EXCLUSION OF JAPANESE.

Consul Shimizu Protests Against Mr. McInnes' Bill as an Unfriendly Act.

Ottawa, April 14.—The Legislature of British Columbia has passed a Chinese and Japanese exclusion bill, and Mr. McInnes of that province has introduced a bill in the Commons, including the Japanese in the restrictions to immigration from China. The Premier yesterday laid on the table of the House a copy of the protest of the Japanese Consul against Mr. McInnes' bill. Consul Shimizu says that if the Government does not cause the measure to be withdrawn, or take action to reduce the vote in its favor Japan will regard the proceeding as an unfriendly act.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied, hoping the good feeling between the two nations will continue, but pointing out that Mr. McInnes is acting within his rights as a member of Parliament. Japanese Consul-General Nosse writes from Vancouver protesting against the British Columbia bill and asking for its disallowance.

CANADIAN BARLEY.

Inquiry as to Probable Supply for Distilling Purposes in Scotland.

Toronto, April 14.—Mr. Alex. Cowar, of Balblair, Ross-shire, Scotland, and proprietor of the oldest distillery in North Britain, was in town yesterday, and interviewed the Minister of Agriculture regarding the quality of Canadian barley, and the possibility of securing supplies large and constant enough for manufacturing purposes. The home supply has run short, and the distilleries are now dependent upon barley from the Continent of Europe. The attention of the Scotch distilleries was directed to Canada by W. G. Stuart, Dominion agent for North Scotland. Mr. Cowan says that if the right quality of barley is obtainable, a good trade may be established.

Mr. Cowan called also upon Sir Oliver Mowat. While in the city he was the guest of Mr. Alex. Fraser. He will interview Hon. Mr. Fisher at Ottawa regarding the matter.

Wants Canadian Timber.

Mr. J. F. Brown of Glasgow, Scotland, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Parry Sound. He is the manager of a large manufacturing concern, and is in search of a certain class of lumber for box-making. Their supplies have heretofore been drawn from Norway.

TOSSED BY A TRAIN.

John Porter of Puslinch Has a Broken Skull and Other Injuries.

Guelph, Ont., April 14.—John Porter of Puslinch Township, a man about 35 years of age, while driving across the G.T.R. tracks at Wyndham street crossing yesterday was struck by an incoming train. Porter was pitched in the air and received a bad cut in the head, fracturing his skull. He also received a number of bad bruises. He was taken to the hospital. The wagon was shattered, but the horses escaped uninjured.

Railroad to Teslin Lake.

Ottawa, April 14.—Information was received from British Columbia last night that the Legislature of that province yesterday voted $4,000 a mile for a railway from British Columbia to Lake Teslin. Dan Mann was informed of the fact, but declined to express any opinion about the matter, except that he expected some such action.

Cricket Club Minstrels.

Tuesday, April 26th, has been fixed as the date for the Cricket Club minstrels show in the Opera House. The choruses which have been selected are amongst the latest out, and some old-time favourites have not been forgotten. Practices will take place in Jackson's rooms on the evenings of the 18th, 19th and 22nd, and in the Opera House on Monday, April 25th. As there are only four more practices not one should be missed by those participating.

Right Up-to-date.

Talbot Bros.' cigar store and bicycle warerooms have recently undergone a wonderful improvement. The whole of the walls have been decorated with a handsome pattern of gilt and paper, the ceilings revarnished and toned up with colour effects, and the shelving and wood work freshly painted in a light oak effect. The whole premises are right up-to-date, and are perhaps the best combined tobacco store and bicycle livery in the province.

BIG CONFLAGRATION DOWN IN MILLBROOK.

IT BROKE OUT SHORTLY BEFORE ONE O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

The Grand Trunk Station, Needler's Flour Store House, and Capt. Winslow's Large Grainery Totally Destroyed—A Locomotive From Lindsay Runs Over in 30 Minutes.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Millbrook, April 14th, 1898.—Millbrook was visited with a fire this morning, which destroyed the Grand Trunk station, Mr Needler's flour store house, and the large granary owned by Mrs. James Gardiner, and occupied by Capt. C. H. Winslow.

It was about one o'clock a.m., when the fire, which seemed to originate in the grain house, occupied by Mr. Winslow, was first noticed. At this time the entire building was a mass of flames. The alarm was quickly given, but by the time the firemen got on the spot the fire had spread to the store house of Mr. Geo. Needler, in which there were stored three car loads of flour, ready for shipment, and to the lumber yard belonging to Mr. William Thexton.

The station house which was situated immediately across the railroad track from these buildings also fell a victim to the flames, and owing to the inflammable nature of the structure, all attempts to save it proved fruitless.

The efforts of the firemen were then turned toward saving the neighboring buildings, the large piles of lumber which were going like matchwood, and also the contents of the station house. All freight, office papers, furniture, in fact everything that could be moved, with the exception of the safe, was taken out.

When the station was still in a mass of flames, Station Agent Cochrane telegraphed to Lindsay for an engine to move a large number of box cars that were in danger of being consumed and it was not long until engine No. 375, in charge of Driver Sandy Laidlaw, came rolling in, having made the thirty miles in exactly thirty minutes.

The losses are about as follows:—Geo. Needler, $2,000 worth of flour, on which there is $1,000 insurance, also the building, insurance not known; C. H. Winslow, about 4,000 bushels of wheat, partly covered by insurance; W. Thexton, 500,000 feet of lumber, partly covered by insurance. The insurance on Mrs. Gardiner's grain houses, if any, is not at present known. The G. T. R. station house is a total loss.

A number of cattle that were in the cattle yards close by were liberated in time to save them from a horrible death.

The station house was rebuilt only a few years ago and was quite an up-to date one. This morning as the traveller is passing through he finds nothing but blackened ruins on either side. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it must certainly have been the work of a "firebug."

SUNDAY SKYLARKING.

Small Urchins Who Disturb the Citizens of the South Ward on Sunday Evenings.

Three boys and a little girl were in the Police Court this morning charged with being disorderly.

It seems that the residents in the neighbourhood of Park and Wescott streets have been greatly bothered all spring, on Sunday evenings, by the larks which were cut up by a crowd of young urchins, and the congregation of the Park street Baptist church has also been disturbed by the same element.

Police interference was determined upon and three boys and a girl—the largest of the crowd—were summoned to appear before the magistrate this morning.

The boys all pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined two dollars each. The girl tried to clear herself, but Officer Stewart, who had witnessed her pranks on several occasions, gave convicting evidence against her. He had warned her against such behaviour at various times.

The magistrate decided to suspend sentence against the girl and allowed her to go with a warning.

FORWARD GIRLS.

They Receive a Fright and Promise the Chief to Behave in a more Seemly Manner.

About nine o'clock on Sunday evening as Chief Rossal was passing along one of our principal streets, he saw two girls and several young men going on in a manner that attracted his attention. Crossing the street, he got behind a tree and watched them for a while. They went so far that he stepped out, put a hand on a shoulder of each of the girls and took them to the police station. Mr. Miller, Agent for the Children's Aid Society, was sent for. The girls were thoroughly frightened. After considerable talk and advice, they promised never to be seen on the streets after dark in the evening. The girls were sisters, one 13 and the other 15 years of age.

DROPPED DEAD.

Very Sudden Death of Mr. Robert Elliott, at Noon.

At noon to-day as Mr. Robert Elliott was returning home from work up George street he suddenly staggered and dropped dead just in front of the Spot Cash Grocery.

He was employed at the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co's. foundry, and a number of the other mechanics from the same place, who were just behind, picked him up and carried him into the store. Dr. McCullough, who was dining in the Grand Central Hotel, was with Mr. Elliott in a couple of minutes but it was too late for medical assistance to be of any avail.

Mr. Elliott never spoke after he fell and gave no evidence of being alive, other than a few gasps, evidently expiring almost instantly.

The cause of death is stated to have been heart failure, although the deceased was not known to have been affected in any manner or unhealthy in anyway. Whilst walking up from the foundry with Mr. David Harper he complained greatly of a pain in his chest, but did not apprehend that there was anything seriously wrong with himself.

The deceased was 37 years of age and was a son of the late Jas. F. Elliott, of Smith. He moved into town with his mother, brother and sister about a year ago, since which time he has been employed by the Peter Hamilton Co., and has been living with his mother at No. 19 Union street. The other surviving members of the family are Wm. F. Elliott, Quebec; Mrs. F. M. Thompson, Montreal; Mrs. (Rev.) F. A. Leitch, Gorham; J. J. Elliott and Miss Eva Elliott, of town.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Elliott was a most exemplary young man and a great favourite with his companions. His widowed mother and relatives will have the sympathy of the community. He was a member of L.O.L., No. 41, Emily.

ATTENDED THE CONVENTION

Of the School Trustees Held in the Normal School, Toronto.

Messrs. James Stevenson, ex-M. P., and Louis M. Hayes, delegates of the Peterborough Board of Education, attended the annual general meeting of School Trustees held at the Normal School in Toronto yesterday.

The proceedings were of a highly interesting character. The general management of schools, the engagement of teachers, modes of discovering their qualifications, and the duties of trustees generally formed the basis of discussion.

Mrs. Hoodless, of Hamilton, delivered a practical address on the subject of domestic science and asked the trustees to take into their consideration the question of instructing girls in the new duties appertaining to the home. This system, it appears, now forms part of the school curriculum in England and Germany and is being rapidly adopted throughout the United States. Mrs. Hoodless explained that the present system of education is adopted solely to mental acquirements so that girls on leaving school as a rule have no knowledge or experience whatever of the management of a household.

It was suggested that Mrs. Hoodless should be given an opportunity of placing her views before several of the School Boards throughout the province.

It was noticeable that, except in a few instances, none of the Boards had adopted the system of yearly engagement of teachers in force in Peterborough. This subject was discussed at considerable length and the rule adopted by the Peterborough Board of Education seemed to meet with considerable favour and approval, and it is likely will be generally adopted by other Boards of Education.

The semi-annual meeting of the Midland District Royal Templars was held in the Royal Templars' Hall, Bowmanville, on Good Friday. Mr. F. Ostrum of Port Hope, opened the meeting at 10 o'clock a.m.

Delegates were present from Campbellford, Millbrook, Cobourg, Port Hope, Newtonville, Newcastle and Bowmanville, who gave reports of the number of members in the councils and the work that had been done during the past six months, each council having made some progress, with the exception of Millbrook, whose standing was five less than the former report.

Considerable discussion took place concerning the Templar, the organ of the Society, on account of the rise in price to members from 25 cents to $1.00 per annum and a resolution was carried that the publisher be asked to send copies of the paper to the members at a lower rate—50 cents if possible. On motion it was decided to memorialize the Grand Council to give a rebate of three cents quarterly for each member in good standing, to be used for pushing the work of the society in the district.

The district secretary was asked to write a letter of condolence to Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, on account of the death of his mother, Mrs. R. S. Potter, of Kingston, who had been an earnest and successful worker for the temperance cause.

On motion a committee was appointed to write to members of Parliament in the district asking them to use their influence to have the Klondike free from the the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The ladies of the Methodist church invited the delegates to a 5 o'clock tea, held in the basement of the church, and the invitation was accepted. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the district in Campbellford, on Thanksgiving day. The meeting was brought to a close at 4.30 by the benediction.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Imitation Five-Cent Pieces in Circulation in the City—Local Suspicion.

The Kingston News says citizens and business men should be on the alert for counterfeit Canadian five-cent pieces. There are bushels of them in circulation and the issue only commenced a couple of days ago. The deception is so complete that unless one is watchful it is hard to discern the coin. The make is perfect, the stamp being a good representation of the genuine. The coin is made, it is thought, of a mixture of German silver and our own silver, consequently the coin is much lighter and can be detected by feeling the surface. The edge is the same as that of the genuine coin.

The most startling part of it all is that the counterfeiter is said to be a resident of Kingston. There is no doubt that a large issue has been made. More than one citizen stated to-day that he could place his hand on the counterfeiter. If the coin is being manufactured in Kingston, it is only a matter of hours until the guilty party is run down.

The police are on the track of the counterfeiter.

FUTURE PUNISHMENT.

This was the Subject of Mr. Varley's Address in St. Paul's Church Last Night.

Mr. Henry Varley spoke in St. Paul's church last evening to a large gathering. His subject was "The Future." The condition of the righteous and the sinner were illustrated by the parable of the rich man and Lazarus. The rich man's deliverance from hell was not a question depending on repentance, but it was one of inability. There was a difference between torment and torture. God would not torture those who were eternally lost, but they would torture themselves. The rich man was still an unbeliever in his lost state. He contradicted the statement of Abraham and set at naught Christ's own authority. The rich man expressed no desire for forgiveness.

Mr. Varley then spoke in an impressive manner on the justice of God, and pointed out the difference between sympathy and judgment.

The state of Lazarus was not of soul sleep; he was with the Lord as one who had been born from above. He found his place in the Kingdom of God, attended by a company of angels.

Annihilation of the soul was impossible. The rich man carried with him his memory, consciousness and sense of perception.

He was in life a New Testament Cain. His sin was one of neglect.

There was no companionship in hell. He was anxious about the salvation of his five brethren. He did not want to meet them again.

In hell he was still the servant of sin.

Mr. Varley closed with an appeal to his audience to accept Christ and not come to the lot of the rich man.

He said he had not desired in his address to be harsh, but he wanted to set before them the facts of the case through his message of warning.

Mr. Varley speaks in the George street Methodist church this evening.

DEATH OF MARGARET McCANN.

Demise of an Old Resident of Belmont Township.

Four score and twelve years was the measure of the life of Margaret McCann, who was called to the spirit land on Friday evening. The deceased spent her last days at the home of her son in Campbellford, having gone there from Belmont township, about a year ago.

She was a native of Fermanagh county, Ireland, and when a young woman of 20 years, she came with her parents to Canada. She made her home in Seymour west for a long time after her marriage, and then moved to Belmont township, where she resided continuously for twenty seven years. Her husband died about two years after they settled there. A family of nine sons and one daughter were born to them, and eight sons survive. Two of them reside in Campbellford, two in the United States, one in Belmont township, one in the township of Mara, another in the Parry Sound district, and another at Sudbury.

The remains of the deceased were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

United States Boats Must Not Employ Them.

Port Huron, Mich., April 11—Special Agent Petit, of the United States treasury department, has notified all the owners of boats at Marine City, St. Clair and Port Huron that if they engage any Canadians on any of their boats, they will be subject to a fine of $1,000. WHEAT STRONG.

It Feels the War Talk and the Reported Good Demand From Europe—The Local Prices.

Tuesday Evening, April 12.

Wheat showed considerable strength in Chicago to-day, despite the bearish influences of favorable weather and a large increase in the available supply. A strong continental demand, the war talk in the Senate, and advices to the effect that no wheat may be expected from the Pacific Coast for months counteracted any weak tendencies, and July wheat gained ⅝c for the day, May 1c, and Sept. and Dec. ½c each. The market closed strong in Liverpool. Little doing at Toronto.

The world's wheat shipments last week were: America, 2,774,000 bushels; Russia, 2,008,000 bushels; Danubian, 376,000 bushels; Argentine, 1,072,000 bushels; India, 156,000 bushels. Total, 8,890,000 bushels, against 8,351,000 last week and 3,733,000 the corresponding week of last year.

ANGLO-SAXON UNITY.

General Settlement Between Canada and the U. S.

THE PROPOSAL OF THE PREMIER

An Apparent Turn in the Tide—American Sentiment in Its Favor—A Possible Solution of the Yukon Difficulty—An Auspicious Moment for Making a Treaty of Ottawa.

Ottawa, April 13.—Unless plans now being perfected miscarry, "the treaty of Ottawa" will be one of the documents used by diplomats of the next century on this continent. During the visit of the Premier to the Motherland last year he received much advice as well as many courtesies. The most frequently urged bit of advice was to make Canada a link binding the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race together, instead of a wedge driving them apart. To Sir Wilfrid this was no new idea. Almost his first word after the formation of the Liberal Government was one of amity and a desire for cordial relations with the United States. For a time it looked as if that word had been spoken in vain. The Dingley law and renewed enforcement of the American alien labor law were the first measures with which the triumphant Republicans responded to the good wishes of Canada. The Canadian Government saw that concessions in the face of such hostile measures would be misunderstood, and that the surest way to obtain fair treatment from the United States was to show a good stiff backbone. The preferential tariff of last year was in part at least a reply to tariff hostility in the United States, and the Canadian alien labor law was another evidence that Canada was not clay in the hands of the Washington potters. The result was a decided increase of respect toward Canada on the part of the authorities at Washington. Feeling certain from the tone of English public opinion that the mother country would support all reasonable efforts to close up long-standing difficulties, the Premier and Sir Louis Davies went to Washington last autumn and suggested that negotiations be entered into not merely for the regulation of sealing in the Behring Sea but for the improvement of the trade relations, the fishery regulations and the alien labor laws of the two countries.

Washington Takes Time.

Washington was not prepared at that time to talk business upon this basis, and Sir Wilfrid decided to wait till the tide turned. The Klondike virus worked its way into the American blood, and with it came the idea, expressed vaguely at first in the press, but latterly with clearness and force, that Canada was after all a country of great possibilities, much more worthy of cultivation in the way of trade than many of the petty Central and South American States with which reciprocity treaties were suggested. Prominent journals began to quote figures to show that Canada was one of the best markets for American goods, and the President was urged to embrace the Dominion in the work of the commissioner of reciprocity. Following close upon this came the acute stage of the Spanish-American dispute and the outburst of British sympathy for the United States. The cartoonists on both sides of the Atlantic began to picture John Bull and Uncle Sam arm in arm defying the world, and good feeling like a tidal wave engulfed all petty differences.

An Auspicious Moment.

The moment is regarded by diplomats alike at London, Washington and Ottawa as most favorable for the drawing together of the Anglo-Saxon peoples. When the Cuban affair is off the President's hands it is expected he will send a message to Congress suggesting the appointment of a joint commission representing the United States and Canada through Great Britain to settle those very difficulties that his Government was not prepared to consider in bulk last year. This is a distinct step in advance, and one that will be welcomed heartily on both sides of the line. If it should be followed, as it may be, by a treaty of arbitration of all disputes between the two peoples there would be cause for deep thankfulness among men of the English race. A few days ago Sir Julian Pauncefote gave the Washington correspondent of the London Chronicle some particulars regarding the negotiations in progress, and this was cabled back and published in the United States and Canada. No new developments have taken place since that time, but it is expected that the joint commission will meet at Ottawa after the House of Commons rises, possibly in June, unless the Spanish war should take the President's entire attention in the meantime.

MR. HOUSE A WINNER.

In a Long and Stubborn Struggle at Berlin, Ontario.

Berlin, April 4th—(Special).—The recent elections and the return of the popular candidate created less interest in Berlin, than did the news that our respected fellow citizen, Mr. Andrew House, had won the contest in which he had been engaged.

SHOE HIEROGLYPHICS.

Occult Symbols That Have Been Devised to Deceive Womankind.

"People often ask me the meaning of the apparently crazy hieroglyphs and figures that are stamped on the inner side of the uppers of ready made shoes nowadays," said an F street shoe dealer. "As every shoe manufactory has a secret stamp code of its own and there is, therefore, no possibility of the general public learning more than that such codes exist, I may as well tell you that the vanity of modern mortals, and especially women, is at the bottom of these peculiar stamped characters and figures. You'd be surprised to know, for instance, how many women there are who imagine that they wear a No. 3 shoe when in reality their size is a couple of figures larger. A shoe salesman who understands his business can tell precisely the number of the shoe a woman customer wears at a glance. But as often as not a woman whose foot is a No. 5 calls for a shoe a couple of sizes smaller, and the mysterious stamped hieroglyph scheme was devised for the purpose of encouraging her in the belief that her foot is a couple of sizes smaller than it really measures in shoe leather.

"When a woman calls for a No. 3 to fit a No. 5 foot, no shoe salesman of this era who cares anything for his job is going to say, 'Madam, your foot requires a No. 5.' He simply breaks out a shoe of the style she requests that he feels confident will fit her comfortably and lets it go at that.

"A woman rarely thinks to inquire if the shoe is really of the size she asked for, for she takes it for granted that the salesman has given her what she demanded. But when a woman does ask, for instance, 'This is a No. 3, is it?' it's the salesman's business to unblushingly reply, 'Yes'm, it's a No. 3.' The woman customer might examine the hieroglyphs inside the uppers for a week without finding out any different, and even if she had the key to the puzzle it would only make her feel bad; so what would be the use?"—Washington Star.

ADVERTISING IN THE EXAMINER PAYS

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

OFFICIAL PAUL PRYS.

POSTAL SNEAK THIEVES OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT.

Delicate Methods Employed by Them In Opening Letters—With a Little Patience They Overcome Gum, Sealing Wax or Metal Fastener.

The incident which occurred in the French chamber concerning the violation of the secrecy of a letter addressed to M. Delcasse by a high official of the ministry of marine has stirred the public, which is surprised that such proceedings take place under the third republic. Created in 1880, the cabinet noir was a permanent office under Louis Philippe and Napoleon III, who used and abused it in order to learn the political secrets of their opponents. It was generally believed by the public that the office had long been suppressed by the present government. But after the incident mentioned those who still believe in the secrecy of the post, of the telegraph or of the telephone exhibit an incredible credulity which is extremely rare at this fin de siecle. Those who are so imprudent as to write their inmost thoughts concerning any politician in power will be wise no longer to imagine that a letter which arrives at its destination apparently unopened has not been read by a third party. As is well known, it is also easy for an official to learn the secrets of the telephone by applying his ear to the receivers at the central office, and by so doing to intercept phrases which are both instructive and amusing. It now appears that the postoffice officials also give themselves up to the delicate pleasure of satisfying their curiosity.

They employ 20 different methods in order to assuage their professional inquisitiveness. If an envelope is closed in the ordinary manner by a thin layer of gum, they have the choice of two systems—when the paper is tough and strong they slip with great precaution a very thin but not cutting blade between the two gummed parts, and with a little practice they are soon able to separate the paper without any tear; when the envelope is thin and brittle they open it by the primitive and homely means of steam. These proceedings are extremely simple, and the correspondence of many masters and mistresses has often been slyly treated in the same way by an inquisitive domestic. This industry requires very little skill, and the only capital necessary is a small amount of patience. The more suspicious individuals fasten their letters with sealing wax and imagine that they are consequently perfectly safe from any surreptitious attack. The officials of the cabinet noir, however, are not so easily defeated. By judiciously bending and twisting the part of the paper surrounding the seal they gradually detach the latter, which finally remains unbroken in their hands with a very thin layer of paper adhering to it. After examining the contents of the letter they replace the seal intact at the exact place which it previously occupied, and both the sender and receiver of the letter remain in blissful ignorance of their manœuvers.

Other correspondents, even more suspicious, are not satisfied with gum and wax, but supplement them by a small metal fastener, which is guaranteed by its inventor to render any tampering with a letter impossible. This, although its efficacy is far from that promised by the stationers, certainly complicates the work of the intruding official. He rises to the circumstance, however, and after carefully removing the stamp and making a cross cut on the square from which it has been removed he introduces a small steel instrument with a special hook at the extremity. This hook grips a corner of the letter, and by carefully twisting the sheet round the stem of the instrument it can be finally extracted without any apparent injury. If by chance the note paper is refractory and cannot be twisted owing to its stoutness, the operator cuts the entire length of one side of the envelope. The contents are easily obtained in this manner, but the reclosing of the envelope requires much delicacy of workmanship and is, in fact, almost worthy of an artist. About a millimeter of each of the cut edges is carefully folded inward, gummed and pressed together until dry. This phase of the work, although rather difficult to a novice, is soon acquired by practice.

There are many other tricks employed, some of which speak volumes for human ingenuity. It sometimes happens, nevertheless, that a letter baffles all the skill and experience of the entire department. In that case their means are rough and ready—they suppress it altogether. The exterior appearance of the letter addressed to M. Delcasse betrayed the work of the Cabinet Noir. This proves not lack of skill of those intrusted with such an important but underhand duty, but simply negligence.—London Globe.

The Critic Answered.

An acute critic calls attention to what he styles an inelegance in a leading article of The Pilot. It is that in which the following sentence occurs: "And Paul said, 'But I was born so.'" We are sorry it is inelegant, but it must stand as it is, for it happens to be the exact words of the New Testament, chapter xxii, verse 28, of the Acts of the Apostles. The Pilot never tries to improve upon the language of holy writ. Some afternoon when we have reformed all the wrongs in the world and pointed out all the faults of all our neighbors for their reformation we may sit down and revise the New Testament, but it will not be this year nor next year. Somewhere along about 1998 we shall inaugurate these important reforms.—Boston Pilot.

MR. H. HANCOCK'S VICTORY

Over Kidney Disease Won by the Help of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Galt, April 11.—(Special)—The greatest "speech" delivered for many years in Galt, was made recently by H. Hancock, Esq., proprietor of the fine hotel, the Iroquois. It was short and pithy and conveyed to every sufferer from kidney disease the glad news that they need suffer no longer.

Mr. Hancock's statement runs thus:—"For over a year I suffered with terrible backaches. Nothing I used gave me the least relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used only a few boxes, but to day every vestige of pain has vanished completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only cure on earth for Kidney diseases.

The Man From Jersey Lowers His Record For Train Catching.

His countenance suffused with satisfaction and his walk expressing triumph, the man from Jersey made his matutinal descent upon the metropolis. Without waiting for questions he began the paean of his joy.

Nineteen and a quarter minutes from the arms of Morpheus, through ablutions, vestiture, nutrition, conjugal admonition and a half mile of geography to the confines of a car, and there you are. CARFIELD'S STRUGGLES.

How He Burned the Midnight Oil When at Williams College.

Garfield was said to be only one of a very few who kept up their literary studies while in Washington. He never did so well but it seemed he could easily do better. He always gave the impression that he had much more power than he used. As Trevelyan said of his parliamentary hero, Garfield succeeded because all the world could not have kept him in the background, and because, once in front, he played his part with an intrepidity and a commanding ease that were but the outward symptoms of the immense reserve of energy on which it was in his power to draw.

"When I was a freshman in Williams college," said Garfield, "I looked out one night and saw in the window of my only competitor for first place in mathematics a light twinkling a few minutes longer than I was wont to keep mine burning. I then and there determined to invest a little more time in preparation for the next day's recitation. I did so and passed above my rival. I smile today at the old rivalry, but I am thankful for the way my attention was called to the value of a little margin of time well employed. I have since learned that it is just such a margin, whether of time or attention or earnestness or power, that wins in every battle, great or small."—Success.

Prototype of the Du Maurier Girl.

On the mantelpiece in my studio at home there stands a certain lady. She is but lightly clad, and what simple garment she wears is not in the fashion of our day. How well I know her! Almost thoroughly by this time, for she has been the silent companion of my work for 30 years. She has lost both her arms and one of her feet, which I deplore, and also the tip of her nose, but that has been made good.

She is only three feet high or thereabouts and quite 2,000 years old or more, but she is ever young—and a very giantess in beauty, for she is a reduction in plaster of the famous statue of the Louvre.

They call her the Venus of Milo or Melos. It is a calumny, a libel. She is no Venus except in good looks, and if she errs at all it is on the side of austerity. She is not only "pectineus," but "virtue" incarnate (if one can be incarnate in marble) from the crown of her lovely head to the sole of her remaining foot—a very beautiful foot, though by no means a small one—it has never worn a high heel shoe.—George du Maurier in Harper's Magazine.

"Oh, see here! Come and look at Dickinson's manuscripts!" were the first words that fell upon my receptive ears. Dickinson! Such is fame! The speech fell from the lips of a middle aged lady comfortable in appearance, admirably dressed. "Dickens — Dickens," proclaimed her spouse rather sharply. "Didn't I say Dickins? Well, I meant Dickins." Then she went on: "Fancy him making all those corrections—such a famous writer. Why, I always thought it was so easy, John."—London News.

A RELIABLE OFFER.

Honest Help Free to Men.

The (Peterborough Examiner) is authorized to state by Mr. D. Graham, Box 133, Hagersville, Ont., that any man who is nervous and debilitated or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from overwork, excesses or abuse, such as nervous debility, exhausted vitality, lost vigor, unnatural drains and losses, lack of development, etc., can write to him in strict confidence and receive free of charge full instructions how to be thoroughly cured.

Mr. Graham himself was for a long time a sufferer from above troubles and after trying in vain many advertised remedies, electric belts, etc., became almost entirely discouraged and hopeless. Finally he confided in an old clergyman, whose kind and honest advice enabled him to speedily obtain a perfect and permanent cure. Knowing to his own sorrow, that so many poor sufferers are being imposed upon by unscrupulous quacks, Mr. Graham considers it his duty as an honest man and a firm believer in christian sympathy and kindness, to give his fellow-men the benefit of his experience and assist them to a cure. Having nothing to sell, he asks for no money, the proud satisfaction of having done a great service to one in need, he rightly considers an ample reward for his trouble. If you write to Mr. Graham you can rely upon being cured and upon absolute secrecy as well.

Address as above, enclosing a stamp and refer to the (Peterborough Examiner). No attention however will be given to those writing out of mere curiosity, therefore state that you really need a cure.

The Antiquity of the Thimble.

Somebody wrote: "To the Dutch the ladies of all nations are indebted for the invention of the thimble. The Dutch achieved this great invention about the year 1690."

How can this stupid error have arisen? The thimble is probably prehistoric. Thimbles in some form or other must have been used by the women who executed the rich embroideries of the mediæval time. The late Professor J. E. Thorold Rogers, in his "History of Agriculture and Prices In England," mentions, under the year 1464, one dozen thimbles which cost 4 shillings. What is, however, more to the purpose, they are frequently alluded to by our old dramatists. Here are two examples from the greatest of them.

In "The Taming of the Shrew" Grumio says:

"I commanded the sleeves should be cut out and sewed up again, and that I'll prove upon thee, though thy little finger be armed in a thimble."—IV, 3, 149.

In the early days of the civil war between Charles I and the parliament, when the citizens of London were called on to send in their plate to be coined into money, the royalist jesters made fun of the puritan dames who were said to have given even their silver thimbles to the cause.—Notes and Queries.

20 YEARS OF BONDAGE

Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills Loose the Shackles of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

In summing up the causes of human misery it will be found that by far the greatest sources of disease originate in derangement of the Stomach and Bowels. People will abuse their stomachs and neglect the calls of nature till they bring on themselves her vengeance. To get back to nature's paths, to have the Stomach and Bowels once more fulfilling their function properly, to clear the system of all the results and consequences of poisons accumulating and circulating in the Blood is the work of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Thos. Miller, Lucknow, Ont., says that he was afflicted with Stomach Trouble and Constipation for about 20 years, during which time he tried almost everything he heard of, but to no purpose. Mr. H. Day, the popular druggist, sent him a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The first dose he took did him good, and they have proved so effectual in his case that he recommends them to all those afflicted as he was.

These Pills may be had of all Dealers at 25 CENTS A BOX.

The applications for new assurances during 1897 numbered 3,093, for the sum of $6,185,993, of which, however, 206 for $521,000 were declined, the lives not appearing up to that standard which it is in the interest of the company's other assurers should be maintained, and as 191 applications for $373,300 were not carried out, the issue of the year was for $5,291,636, under 2 609 policies, exceeding 1896 by 573 policies for $798,980.

The total business in force at the close of 1897 was $72,719,555 29 of Assurances, under 33,407 policies, upon 24,409 lives.

POLICY CLAIMS.

The claims by deaths paid during 1897 amounted to $770,168 45, and Endowment policies for $128,846 93, having matured, these sums, as well as $318,481.39 for profits, $145,411.18 for surrenders, and an annuity of $400, making in all $1,263,907.84, were paid to policyholders during the year.

INCREASE IN ASSETS.

The Income receipts of the year were $2,953,272.83, and deducting therefrom all payments to policy-holders for claims by death, for profits, and for matured Endowment policies, as well as other outlay, including expenses of management, there was left the sum of $1,272,486.08, which increased the Company's Assets to $18 678 915 67.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President, Mr. A. G. Ramsay, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The Directors' Report and the usual accounts and statements have for some days been in your hands, and have now been taken as read. While the report is brief, it contains, I think, along with the various published accounts, all that is required to enable those interested in the Company to judge of its progress and success in the past year. The addition during 1897 of nearly half a million dollars to the surplus or profits fund is a large and satisfactory one, and without invidiously comparing it with the figures of any other particular Company, I may say that it is more than was attained by all the other Canadian companies combined. The new business of the year was, you will observe, of satisfactory and gratifying amount, and in excess of the previous year, and you will be pleased to know that it is of that desirable class which will result more to the profit of the Company than would a larger amount obtained at heavier expense, or from less desirable regions than the healthful climate of Canada, and the four Northern States to which we have thus far deemed it judicious to confine the operations of the Company. The existing assurances are $72,719,555 or nearly twice as much as they were 12 years ago. The death claims of the year continued of very favourable amount, and being well within what was calculated upon, that fact testifies to the care observed in the selection of the lives, and to the judicious limitation of the business to the healthful climates already alluded to.

The recent lamentable failures of some of the companies doing business on the assessment system, and the anxiety felt as to the others which are based upon the same fallacious principles lead me to point out that these occurrences are only the inevitable results, which were from the first predicted by those whose knowledge and experience enabled them to judge of what the future of companies of the kind must be. At our meeting in 1887, when concerns of the kind were making strenuous efforts to establish themselves in Canada, I alluded to the miserable failures they had been in England and in America, and I said that their "ephemeral existence indicates how useless the assessment system of assurance is as a family provision. It can only offer the uncertain hope of a cheap assurance for a few years, till the company breaks down. It cannot afford any guarantee that a definite amount of assurance will certainly be paid to a widow or children after an assurer's death, whether that occurs at an early day or a distant one, and without such a guarantee as that, which our own and other sound companies offer, life assurance must be a fraud and a delusion." I added that "I was aware that agents and managers of companies of the kind pointed to the names of prominent business and professional men who have joined them, or who act as their directors, but as some of them at all events allow their names to be employed in that way, simply because policies have been gratuitously given to them, one can judge how little weight should attach to the names of the gentlemen thus used to decoy others to join such companies." One cannot envy the feelings of the prominent gentlemen alluded to, who induced persons to take policies in companies of the kind, from which they are now driven out by their failure, or by the levy of such high payments as they are unable to meet.

As the accounts show, the year's income was within a trifle of three million dollars, and the assets of the company were increased to the very considerable amount of nearly nineteen million dollars, and yielding, after deducting liabilities of every kind, a net surplus or profit of $1,564,082 for allocation at the end of next year, along with whatever addition there may be made to it between now and that time, and as the management and other expenses by which the profits to policy-holders are very largely influenced continue to be on a more moderate percentage than that of other Canadian or American companies, the prospects for our assurers are of a favourable character.

It is anticipated that legislation will be introduced by the Government, modifying the present 4½ per cent. rate of interest prescribed by law as the basis for Life Assurance Reserves, and adopting the new mortality Tables based upon the observations and large experience of the British Insurance Companies, in course of compilation by the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, and I may say on behalf of the Board in reference to the amendment to the charter, alluded to in the Directors report of last year, that the Directors purpose to avail themselves of the occasion of that legislation to seek such amendments to the law as may meet the Board's requirements.

The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Gates, Vice-President, and unanimously carried. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the agents, officers, medical and legal advisers of the company, Mr. Adam Brown speaking in eloquent terms of their services rendered to the Company.

Mr. Leggat moved and Lieut.-Col. McLaren seconded a hearty vote of thanks to the President and Directors for their attention to the interests of the Company during the past year. Brief and interesting addresses were also made by Sir George Kirkpatrick and Sir George Barton, the latter of whom was heartily congratulated upon the recent honour conferred upon him by the Queen.

The retiring Directors, Chief Justice Sir George Burton, Col. Sir Casimer Gzowski, K.C.M.G., and Mr. R. Marriat, were re-elected. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. A. G. Ramsay was re-elected President and Mr. F. W. Gates Vice-President.

The meeting passed off very harmoniously, every one present being gratified with the progress and continued prosperity of the Canada Life, which, as Sir George Kirkpatrick remarked, was easily leader of all Companies in the Dominion.

PETERBOROUGH AND TORONTO.

CONDITION OF THE EGG TRADE.

Seventh Annual Egg Circular Issued by D Gunn, Brothers & Company. Toronto.

The importance of the egg trade is not sufficiently appreciated. American statisticians place the total value of eggs produced in the United States in excess of that of dairy products, cotton, wheat, the mineral output or other staple industries of the country. The same may be said of Canada, although the industry is here carried on without the detailed publicity which characterizes other branches of the trade. As an article of food, especially for working people, the use of eggs could with advantage be extended. No other product can be as inexpensively and quickly prepared for the table, while few table products are capable of being served in such a variety of ways, and none offer more nourishment to the consumer.

The inhabitants of the British Isles appreciate more than any other people the value of eggs as food. In addition to the enormous consumption of domestic laid eggs, $15,000,000 is spent each year for foreign supplies. France, Belgium and Denmark contribute more than two-thirds of this supply, and moneys received in the trade represent a great deal to the farmers and peasants of those countries. Although the consumption of eggs in Canada is capable of vast expansion, there will always be, as there is to-day, a surplus available for exportation. In competing for the egg trade of the United Kingdom, it has always to be borne in mind that scrupulous care and pains must be exercised if the trade is to succeed. A fast steamship service and cold storage carrying facilities will do much to offset the advantage which continental producers have over Canadians. But something more is required to win a good place for Canadian eggs in British markets, viz., the unanimous co-operation of producers, merchants and exporters in marketing the eggs in the best possible condition.

It is the little things that often make or unmake great industries. We do not intend to offer any advice as to the best breeds of poultry, further than to say that farmers do not, as a rule, look after their poultry with that intelligence and care that is bestowed on other live stock of the farm. Experts tell us that by selecting only the best layers for breeders, and mating to suitable pure-breds, the average egg production of whole flocks has in a few years been raised from 120 to 180 eggs per annum. In addition the size of the eggs have been increased, a very important item, as in the export trade it is essential that the eggs should average one and one-half pounds per dozen. When it is taken into account that competent authorities place the average yield of hens for the season in the province of Ontario at less than 100 eggs, it will be readily seen how much is to be gained by paying more attention to the hennery. In this connection it is interesting to note that on March 18th, when a committee was in session considering a bill to amend the Weights and Measures Act, Mr. McMillan, of Huron, gave notice that when the bill came up again he would move in amendment that eggs be sold by weight, and that the standard weight of a dozen of eggs be one and one-half pounds. It is expected that the bill will soon come up again for consideration.

The loss in the value of eggs in Toronto and other markets through careless handling is each year considerable. The slightest crack renders the egg valueless for pickling or cold storage purposes, and when sold as "checks" or cracked eggs, from two to three cents per dozen less than the standard prices must be accepted. Collected from the nests in a haphazard way and carried to market over rough roads in an ordinary basket, there is usually considerable breakage before the eggs reach the store, where they run the chance of further loss by the handling of the merchant or his assistants. Loss in this way is inevitable so long as proper egg carriers are not used. These egg cases can be purchased at a very nominal figure, say twenty-five cents for thirty-dozen cases, and by careful usage will last for years.

"Keep the eggs clean," is the advice which every merchant would impress upon the owners of poultry. An abundance of fresh straw in the hen house is not a heavy expense, and it is essential to a profitable market. If in spite of care the eggs should become dirty, then by no means wash them, as this process removes a glutinous covering from the shell, and impairs their keeping qualities.

We do not pretend to be able to prophesy as to the course of the egg trade in Great Britain. It, however, does not require any prophetic gift to make a forecast of large receipts and comparatively low values the season through. The prospects are that in the British Isles the production of eggs will be larger than ever, while in addition to the usual supplies from France, Belgium and Denmark, a phenomenal movement of eggs from new sources in Russia is predicted. Although these eggs are inferior to those of Canada, and cannot be shipped to Great Britain under as advantageous conditions, they must be counted as entering into competion with our product, and will, beyond doubt, have an adverse effect upon market values. Last year, it will be remembered, the Americans made a somewhat spirited bid for the export trade, and it is estimated that they sent more than a million dozen eggs to Great Britain. This year it is reasonable to expect very large shipments from the United States, as last year's operations were in the nature of an experiment Egg dealers in that country have suffered serious losses for a number of seasons by the cold storage of eggs, and now prefer to divert a portion of their stock to British markets.

Neither the Provincial nor the Dominion Governments have provided statistics as to the production of eggs in Canada, and it is impossible to compare, with accuracy, the present situation with that of past years. Our government agricultural officials might render great assistance to the trade if they would turn the present organization for the collection of farm statistics to secure more complete and better classified returns as to poultry and products. Our own observations lead us to believe that there will be material increase in the output of eggs this year, and offerings are now much larger than at the same date in previous years.

What are the lessons to be drawn from the experience of past seasons and the prospects of the present season? In addition to care, intelligence and promptness in marketing on the part of producers and merchants, eggs should be purchased at a reasonable basis of prices. In the large centres of production in the United States dealers are now paying seven cents per dozen for eggs, and count on purchasing the bulk of their supplies at six cents per dozen. The low price of corn in the Western States has enabled poultry men to feed it with good results. The interests of producers and merchants in Canada will be best conserved by an absence of exaggerated values at the opening of the season, which must lead later in the summer to a reaction and consequent demoralization of the markets.

The following table will show the prices of eggs at New York and Toronto at the end of March, during the past eight years: Toronto, 1891, 16c; 1892, 14c; 1893, 17c; 1894, 16c; 1895, 15c; 1896, 16c; 1897, 11c; 1898, 10c; New York, 1891, 24 1-2c; 1892, 14 1-2c; 1893, 18c; 1894, 14 1-2c; 1895, 13c; 1896, 11 1-2c; 1897, 10 1 2c; 1898, 10c.
